CALCULATION OF REGISTRATION FEE

Title of Each Class of Securities to be Registered	Amount to be Registered(1)	Proposed Maximum Offering Price Per Share	Proposed Maximum Aggregate Offering Price(2)	Amount of Registration Fee(3)(4)
Common Shares, without par value	4,236,985	Not applicable	$740,052,966	$85,773

- (1) Represents the incremental maximum number of Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC) common shares estimated to be deliverable upon completion of the merger described herein and is calculated as the difference of (a) the sum of (i) 79,765,444 shares of common stock, without par value per share, of PrivateBancorp, Inc. (PrivateBancorp) outstanding as of March 31, 2017 (excluding the restricted shares described below); (ii) 19,436 shares of common stock of PrivateBancorp expected to be issued prior to the completion of the merger; (iii) 2,139,237 shares of PrivateBancorp to be issued to holders of options of PrivateBancorp that are exercisable prior to the completion of the merger, in each case multiplied by 0.4176 which is the exchange ratio under the amended merger agreement and (iv) 255,214 shares of PrivateBancorp to be issued to holders of PrivateBancorp restricted stock awards prior to the completion of the merger multiplied by 0.6929 which is the equity award exchange ratio under the amended merger agreement, less (b) 30,151,364, which represents the estimated maximum number of CIBC common shares to be deliverable upon completion of the merger as filed in a registration statement on Form F-4 on August 15, 2016 (File No. 333-213147).
- (2) Estimated solely for purposes of calculating the registration fee required by Section 6(b) of the Securities Act, and calculated pursuant to Rules 457(f) and 457(c) under the Securities Act. Pursuant to Rule 457(f) under the Securities Act, the proposed maximum aggregate offering price of the CIBC common shares was calculated in accordance with Rule 457(c) under the Securities Act based upon the market value of the PrivateBancorp common stock to be cancelled and exchanged for the CIBC common shares in connection with the proposed merger as follows: the difference between (a) the product of (i) $59.35, the average of the high and low prices for the PrivateBancorp common stock reported on NASDAQ on March 31, 2017, and (ii) 82,179,331, which is the estimated maximum number of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock that would be outstanding upon consummation of the merger (which corresponds to the estimated maximum number of CIBC common shares estimated to be deliverable upon consummation of the merger), less (b) $1,982,563,631, which is the estimated maximum amount of cash consideration to be paid by CIBC in exchange for PrivateBancorp common stock upon consummation of the merger (which corresponds to the estimated maximum number of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock described above), less (c) $2,154,726,698, which represents the proposed maximum aggregate offering price as filed in a registration statement on Form F-4 on August 15, 2016 (File No. 333-213147) also relating to common shares of CIBC to be issued in the merger.
- (3) Determined in accordance with Section 6(b) of the Securities Act at a rate equal to $115.90 per $1,000,000 of the proposed maximum aggregate offering price or 0.0001159 multiplied by the proposed maximum aggregate offering price.
- (4) A registration fee of $216,981 was previously paid with CIBC's registration statement on Form F-4 filed on August 15, 2016 (File No. 333-213147). Pursuant to Rule 429 under the Securities Act, the proxy statement/prospectus herein also relates to common shares registered on CIBC's registration

THE REGISTRANT HEREBY AMENDS THIS REGISTRATION STATEMENT ON SUCH DATE OR DATES AS MAY BE NECESSARY TO DELAY ITS EFFECTIVE DATE UNTIL THE REGISTRANT SHALL FILE A FURTHER AMENDMENT WHICH SPECIFICALLY STATES THAT THIS REGISTRATION STATEMENT SHALL THEREAFTER BECOME EFFECTIVE IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTION 8(a) OF THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933 (THE "SECURITIES ACT"), AS AMENDED, OR UNTIL THE REGISTRATION STATEMENT SHALL BECOME EFFECTIVE ON SUCH DATE AS THE COMMISSION, ACTING PURSUANT TO SECTION 8(a), MAY DETERMINE.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This registration statement includes the first supplement (the "supplement") to the proxy statement/prospectus of PrivateBancorp, Inc. ("PrivateBancorp") and Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce ("CIBC") dated October 31, 2016, that was first mailed on or about November 2, 2016 to PrivateBancorp stockholders who were record holders as of October 28, 2016 (the "proxy statement/prospectus"). The supplement amends and supplements the proxy statement/prospectus. The proxy statement/prospectus is included in this registration statement immediately following the supplement. The supplement will be mailed, on or after the date that this post-effective amendment to the registration statement becomes effective, to each of the PrivateBancorp stockholders who appear on the stockholders' register as of the date of the mailing.

Table of Contents

The information contained in this proxy statement/prospectus is not complete and may be changed. A registration statement relating to these securities has been filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These securities may not be sold nor may offers to buy be accepted prior to the time the registration statement becomes effective. This proxy statement/prospectus is not an offer to sell these securities, and is not soliciting an offer to buy these securities, nor shall there be any sale of these securities, in any jurisdiction where such offer, solicitation or sale is not permitted or would be unlawful prior to registration or qualification under the securities laws of any such jurisdiction.

Subject to Completion Preliminary Prospectus, dated April 5, 2017

MERGER PROPOSED YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT

Dear Stockholder of PrivateBancorp, Inc.:

You are cordially invited to attend a special meeting of the stockholders of PrivateBancorp, Inc. ("PrivateBancorp"), to consider and vote upon the matters set forth in the accompanying notice of special meeting of stockholders. On or about November 2, 2016, we mailed a proxy statement/prospectus related to a special meeting of PrivateBancorp stockholders that was originally scheduled for December 8, 2016 to consider and vote on the proposal to adopt the Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "original merger agreement"), dated as of June 29, 2016, by and between PrivateBancorp, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce ("CIBC") and CIBC Holdco Inc. ("Holdco"), and the other proposals described in the proxy statement.

CIBC, PrivateBancorp and Holdco amended the merger agreement on March 30, 2017 by entering into Amendment No. 1 thereto (the original merger agreement, together with Amendment No. 1 thereto and as such amended agreement may be further amended from time to time, the "amended merger agreement") to, among other things, increase the per share merger consideration from (i) $18.80 in cash and (ii) 0.3657 common shares of CIBC to (i) $24.20 in cash and (ii) 0.4176 common shares of CIBC.

On December 7, 2016, PrivateBancorp announced that it had postponed the special meeting to consider and vote on the original merger agreement in view of the significant changes to trading and economic market conditions to give PrivateBancorp's stockholders additional time to consider the value and long-term strategic benefits of the transaction. On March 30, 2017, the parties entered into Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement. The special meeting to consider and vote on the amended merger agreement will now be held on May [•], 2017 at [•], at [•] local time. The new record date for stockholders entitled to vote at the special meeting is March 31, 2017.

Under the terms of the amended merger agreement, PrivateBancorp will merge with and into Holdco (the "merger"), with Holdco surviving the merger as a wholly owned subsidiary of CIBC. Following the merger, The PrivateBank and Trust Company ("PrivateBank"), PrivateBancorp's banking subsidiary, will be headquartered in Chicago and PrivateBank and Holdco will constitute the primary banking, lending and wealth management platform of CIBC in the U.S. PrivateBancorp is sending this document to ask its common stockholders to vote in favor of the adoption of the amended merger agreement.

If the merger is completed, you will become entitled to receive for each share of PrivateBancorp common stock owned by you (i) $24.20 in cash and (ii) 0.4176 common shares of CIBC (which we collectively refer to as the "merger consideration").

The following table shows the implied value of the merger consideration that would be received by PrivateBancorp stockholders in exchange for each share of PrivateBancorp common stock if the per share trading price of CIBC was $87.92, which was the closing price of CIBC common shares on the New York Stock Exchange, which we refer to as the "NYSE," on March 29, 2017, the last trading day before public announcement of the amendment to the merger, and if the per share price of CIBC was $[•], which was the closing share price of CIBC common shares on the NYSE on April [•], 2017, the latest practicable date before the mailing of this supplement. The exchange ratio of 0.4176 is fixed.

	Price of CIBC common shares on NYSE	Exchange Ratio	Cash Consideration per PVTB share of common stock	Total Consideration per PVTB share of common stock
March 29, 2017	$ 87.92	0.4176	$ 24.20	$ 60.92
April [•], 2017	$ [•]	0.4176	$ 24.20	$ [•]

Based on the number of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock outstanding on March 31, 2017, and the number of shares of restricted PrivateBancorp common stock to be replaced in connection with the merger, we expect that the payment of the stock portion of the merger consideration will require CIBC to issue approximately 33.5 million CIBC common shares in connection with the merger. In addition, based on the number of issued and outstanding CIBC common shares and shares of PrivateBancorp common stock as of March 31, 2017, and based on the exchange ratio of 0.4176, holders of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock as of immediately prior to the closing of the merger will hold, in the aggregate, approximately 7.7% of the issued and outstanding CIBC common shares immediately upon the completion of the merger. Based on the foregoing, the aggregate merger consideration payable to PrivateBancorp stockholders, if the closing occurs, is currently expected to have a value of approximately $4.9 billion.

The market prices of both CIBC common shares and shares of PrivateBancorp common stock will fluctuate before the completion of the merger, and the market price of CIBC common shares may also fluctuate between the completion of the merger and the time you receive any CIBC common shares. Because the exchange ratio is fixed, the value of the merger consideration constituting common shares of CIBC will fluctuate from the date hereof until you receive the CIBC common shares. You should obtain current stock price quotations for CIBC common shares and PrivateBancorp common stock before you vote. CIBC common shares are quoted on the NYSE and the Toronto Stock Exchange ("TSX") under the symbol "CM." PrivateBancorp common stock is quoted on the NASDAQ Stock Market LLC ("NASDAQ") under the symbol "PVTB."

The merger cannot be completed unless PrivateBancorp common stockholders holding at least a majority of the shares outstanding as of the close of business on March 31, 2017, the record date for the special meeting, vote in favor of the adoption of the amended merger agreement at the special meeting.

YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT, REGARDLESS OF THE NUMBER OF SHARES OF PRIVATEBANCORP COMMON STOCK YOU OWN. TO ENSURE YOUR REPRESENTATION AT THE SPECIAL MEETING, PLEASE TAKE TIME TO VOTE BY FOLLOWING THE INSTRUCTIONS CONTAINED IN THIS PROXY STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS AND ON YOUR PROXY CARD. PLEASE VOTE PROMPTLY WHETHER OR NOT YOU EXPECT TO ATTEND THE SPECIAL MEETING. SUBMITTING A PROXY NOW WILL NOT PREVENT YOU FROM BEING ABLE TO VOTE IN PERSON AT THE SPECIAL MEETING.

PRIVATEBANCORP'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT PRIVATEBANCORP COMMON STOCKHOLDERS VOTE "FOR" THE PROPOSAL TO ADOPT THE AMENDED MERGER AGREEMENT AND "FOR" THE OTHER MATTERS TO BE CONSIDERED AT THE SPECIAL MEETING.

The accompanying supplement and the proxy statement/prospectus describe the special meeting of PrivateBancorp common stockholders, the merger, the documents relating to the merger and other related matters. Please read carefully the entire supplement and the proxy statement/prospectus, including the section entitled "Risk Factors" beginning on page 17 of the proxy statement/prospectus, as supplemented by the section titled "Risk Factors" beginning on page [•] of this supplement, and the appendices and documents incorporated by reference.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF COMMON STOCKHOLDERS TO BE HELD ON MAY [•], 2017

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a special meeting of common stockholders of PrivateBancorp, Inc. will be held on May [•], 2017, at [•] local time, at [•], to consider and vote upon the following matters:

1. a proposal to adopt the agreement and plan of merger (the "original merger agreement"), dated as of June 29, 2016, as amended by Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement on March 30, 2017, as it may be further amended from time to time (the "amended merger agreement"), by and among PrivateBancorp, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce and CIBC Holdco Inc. (the "amended merger agreement proposal");
2. a proposal to approve, by advisory (non-binding) vote, certain compensation that may be paid or become payable to PrivateBancorp's named executive officers in connection with the merger (the "merger-related compensation proposal"); and
3. a proposal for adjournment of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to adopt the amended merger agreement (the "adjournment proposal").

These proposals and the special meeting are described in further detail in the accompanying supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus, which you should read carefully together with the proxy statement/prospectus and in their entirety before you vote, including the appendices and documents incorporated by reference. A copy of the amended merger agreement is attached as Appendix A to the accompanying supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus.

The record date for the special meeting has been set as March 31, 2017. Only PrivateBancorp common stockholders of record as of the close of business on such record date are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting or any adjournments and postponements thereof.

Approval of the amended merger agreement proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of PrivateBancorp common stock entitled to vote thereon. Approval of the merger-related compensation proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock present in person or represented by proxy and entitled to vote thereon; however, such vote is advisory (non-binding) only. Approval of the adjournment proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock present in person or represented by proxy and entitled to vote thereon, whether or not a quorum is present.

PRIVATEBANCORP'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED AND APPROVED THE AMENDED MERGER AGREEMENT, THE MERGER AND THE OTHER TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED THEREBY, AND DETERMINED THAT THE AMENDED MERGER AGREEMENT, THE MERGER AND THE OTHER TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED THEREBY ARE ADVISABLE, FAIR TO AND IN THE BEST INTERESTS OF PRIVATEBANCORP AND ITS STOCKHOLDERS. PRIVATEBANCORP'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT PRIVATEBANCORP COMMON STOCKHOLDERS VOTE "FOR" THE AMENDED MERGER AGREEMENT PROPOSAL, "FOR" THE MERGER-RELATED COMPENSATION PROPOSAL AND "FOR" THE ADJOURNMENT PROPOSAL.

YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT, REGARDLESS OF THE NUMBER OF SHARES OF PRIVATEBANCORP COMMON STOCK THAT YOU OWN. WE CANNOT COMPLETE THE MERGER UNLESS PRIVATEBANCORP'S COMMON STOCKHOLDERS ADOPT THE AMENDED MERGER AGREEMENT.

Even if you plan to attend the special meeting in person, PrivateBancorp requests that you complete, sign, date and return, as promptly as possible, the enclosed proxy card in the accompanying prepaid reply envelope or submit your proxy by telephone or Internet prior to the special meeting to ensure that your shares of PrivateBancorp common stock will be represented at the special meeting if you are unable to attend. If you hold your shares in "street name" through a bank, brokerage firm or other nominee, you should follow the procedures provided by your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee to vote your shares. If you fail to submit a proxy or to attend the special meeting in person or do not provide your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee with instructions as to how to vote your shares, as applicable, your shares of PrivateBancorp common stock will not be counted for purposes of determining whether a quorum is present at the special meeting and will have the same effect as a vote "AGAINST" the approval of the amended merger agreement proposal.

A copy of our definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016 is being mailed along with this supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus to stockholders who have not previously been mailed a copy.

If you have any questions regarding the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus, you may contact PrivateBancorp's proxy solicitors, Innisfree M&A Incorporated, by calling toll-free at (888) 750-5834, or Alliance Advisors, LLC, by calling toll-free at 855-976-3324.

By order of the Board of Directors,

Jennifer R. Evans
General Counsel and Secretary

INTRODUCTION

This supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus is being sent to you following the postponement of the PrivateBancorp special meeting that was originally scheduled for December 8, 2016. The special meeting, at which PrivateBancorp stockholders will be asked to consider and vote on a proposal to adopt the amended merger agreement and the other proposals described herein, is now scheduled to occur on May [•], 2017. Except as updated or otherwise revised in this supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus, the information provided in the definitive proxy statement, which was previously mailed to our stockholders on or about November 2, 2016, continues to apply. This supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus and the appendices hereto should be read in conjunction with the definitive proxy statement dated October 31, 2016, and the appendices thereto, each of which should be read in its entirety. To the extent information in this supplement or the appendices hereto differs from, updates or conflicts with information contained in the definitive proxy statement/prospectus or the appendices thereto, the information in this supplement is the more current information. A copy of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus is being mailed along with this supplement to stockholders who have not previously received a copy. If you need another copy of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus or this supplement, you may obtain it free of charge from the Company by directing your request to PrivateBancorp, Inc., 120 South LaSalle Street, Chicago, Illinois 60603, Attention: Investor Relations or to Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Commerce Court, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, M5L 1A2, Attention: Corporate Secretary. The definitive proxy statement/prospectus may also be found on the Internet at <http://www.sec.gov>. See "Where You Can Find Additional Information" beginning on page [•] of this supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus. Capitalized terms and certain other terms used but not defined in this supplement have the meanings given to such terms in the definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016. Unless the context otherwise requires, from and after the date of this supplement, all references to the "proxy statement/prospectus" in this supplement are to the definitive proxy statement/prospectus as supplemented by this document.

UPDATE TO QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER AND THE SPECIAL MEETING

The following are some questions that you may have regarding the merger and the special meeting, and brief answers to those questions. We urge you to read carefully the remainder of this document and, if you have not already done so, the definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016 and the documents referred to or incorporated by reference therein, because the information in this section does not provide all the information that might be important to you in determining how to vote. Additional important information is also contained in the documents incorporated by reference into the proxy statement/prospectus. See "Where You Can Find More Information" beginning on page [•] and "Where You Can Find More Information Incorporation of Certain Documents by Reference" beginning on page [•].

References in this proxy statement/prospectus to "PrivateBancorp" refer to PrivateBancorp, Inc., a Delaware corporation, and, unless the context otherwise requires, to its affiliates (which does not include CIBC). References in this supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus to "CIBC" refer to Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, a Schedule I Bank under the Bank Act (Canada), and, unless the context otherwise requires, to its affiliates (which does not include PrivateBancorp).

The following information supplements and, where applicable, replaces the corresponding questions and answers under the heading "Questions and Answers About the Merger and the Special Meeting" beginning on page iv of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

Q: Why am I receiving this supplement and a new proxy card?

A: This supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus is being sent to you following the postponement of the PrivateBancorp special meeting that was originally scheduled for December 8, 2016. The special meeting, at which PrivateBancorp stockholders will be asked to consider and vote on a proposal to adopt the amended merger agreement and the other proposals described herein, is now scheduled to occur on May [•], 2017. This supplement provides important additional information about the merger and updates the proxy statement/prospectus. You are receiving this supplement and a new proxy card in connection with the proposal to adopt the amended merger agreement and the other matters to be voted on at the special meeting.

Q: What should I do if I already voted using the proxy card sent in the proxy statement/prospectus that was mailed on or around November 2, 2016?

A: If you previously submitted a proxy for the special meeting of stockholders originally scheduled for December 8, 2016, which proxy has not subsequently been revoked, and are a holder of record on March 31, 2017, PrivateBancorp intends to vote such proxy at the rescheduled special meeting of stockholders on May [•], 2017, as directed by the previously submitted proxy by you. Accordingly, if you have already submitted a proxy, you do not need to take any action unless you want to change or revoke your proxy.

However, if you have acquired shares after the original record date, and those shares are held by a bank, broker or other nominee to whom you did not previously issue voting instructions with respect to the special meeting, those newly acquired shares will not be voted unless you follow the instructions on your voting card or otherwise provided by your broker, bank or other nominee for submitting a proxy with respect to those newly acquired shares. Moreover, if you held shares in "street name" through a bank or broker on the original record date, but have acquired shares after the original record date, and you are the stockholder of record of those newly acquired shares, then, whether or not you previously gave a voting instruction with respect to the shares that you held on the original record date, those newly acquired shares will not be voted unless you give a proxy with respect to those shares by completing, signing, dating and returning the enclosed proxy card, by following the instructions on the enclosed proxy card for Internet or telephone submissions or you attend the special meeting and vote in person. If you want to change or revoke your proxy, you need to submit a new proxy card, transmit additional voting instructions by telephone or through the Internet, or attend the applicable special meeting and vote in person. Otherwise, you will be considered to have voted on the proposals as indicated in the proxy card you previously provided and the proxies identified in the proxy card will vote your shares as indicated in that previously submitted proxy card. If you are a registered holder and you wish to change or revoke your proxy, please complete, sign, date and mail a new proxy card or submit a new proxy by telephone or through the Internet. If your shares are held in "street name" by your broker, bank or other holder of record to determine whether you may submit a proxy by telephone or on the Internet and follow the instructions on the card or other information provided by the record holder.

Q: What is the merger and the amended merger agreement?

A: CIBC, PrivateBancorp and CIBC Holdco Inc. ("Holdco") have entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of June 29, 2016, as amended by Amendment No. 1 to Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of March 30, 2017 ("Amendment No. 1"), collectively referred to as the "amended merger agreement," pursuant to which CIBC has agreed to acquire PrivateBancorp upon certain terms and conditions. A copy of Amendment No. 1 is attached as Appendix A to this supplement and a copy of the original merger agreement is attached as Appendix A to the proxy statement/prospectus. Under the terms of the amended merger agreement, PrivateBancorp will merge with and into Holdco, a direct wholly-owned U.S. subsidiary of CIBC, with Holdco continuing as the surviving entity, which transaction is referred to as the "merger." Following the merger, The PrivateBank and Trust Company ("PrivateBank" or the "Bank"), PrivateBancorp's banking subsidiary, will be headquartered in Chicago and PrivateBank and Holdco will constitute the primary banking, lending and wealth management platform of CIBC in the U.S. The completion of the merger is subject to a number of conditions described in more detail in this document, including approval by the PrivateBancorp common stockholders.

Q: What is the per share merger consideration in the amended merger agreement?

A: Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement provides for an increase in the per share merger consideration to be paid to PrivateBancorp stockholders from (i) 0.3657 common shares of CIBC and (ii) $18.80 in cash, to (i) 0.4176 common shares of CIBC and (ii) $24.20 in cash.

The value of the merger consideration constituting common shares of CIBC described in clause (i) will depend on the market price of CIBC common shares at the time you receive the CIBC common shares (following completion of the merger). For a discussion of the treatment of awards outstanding under PrivateBancorp's equity incentive plans as of the effective time, see "The Merger Agreement Treatment of PrivateBancorp Equity Awards" beginning on page 106 of the proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: What am I being asked to vote on at the special meeting as a holder of PrivateBancorp common stock?

A: PrivateBancorp common stockholders are being asked to adopt the amended merger agreement and the transactions it contemplates, including the merger, which is referred to as the "amended merger agreement proposal."

PrivateBancorp common stockholders also are being asked to approve (i) a proposal to approve, by advisory (non-binding) vote, certain compensation that may be paid or become payable to PrivateBancorp's named executive officers in connection with the merger, referred to as the "merger-related compensation proposal," and (ii) adjournment of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes to approve the amended merger agreement proposal, which is referred to as the "adjournment proposal."

Q:
How does PrivateBancorp's board of directors recommend that I vote on the three proposals?

A:
PrivateBancorp's board of directors unanimously recommends that common stockholders vote "FOR" the amended merger agreement proposal, "FOR" the merger-related compensation proposal and "FOR" the adjournment proposal.

Q:
What is the value of the per share merger consideration?

A:
If the merger is completed, you will become entitled to receive for each share of PrivateBancorp common stock owned by you, (i) $24.20 in cash and (ii) 0.4176 common shares of CIBC, which we collectively refer to as the "merger consideration."

The following table shows the implied value of the merger consideration that would be received by PrivateBancorp stockholders in exchange for each share of PrivateBancorp stock if the per share trading price of CIBC was $87.92, which was the closing price of CIBC common shares on the New York Stock Exchange, which we refer to as the "NYSE," on March 29, 2017, the last trading day before public announcement of the Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement, and if the per share trading price of CIBC was $[•], which was the closing price of CIBC common shares on the NYSE on April [•], 2017, the latest practicable date before the mailing of this supplement. The exchange ratio of 0.4176 is fixed.

	Price of CIBC common shares on NYSE	Exchange Ratio	Cash Consideration per PVTB share of common stock	Total Consideration per PVTB share of common stock
March 29, 2017	$ 87.92	0.4176	$ 24.20	$ 60.92
April [•], 2017	$ [•]	0.4176	$ 24.20	$ [•]

Q:
When is the merger expected to be completed?

A:
We expect the merger will be completed when all of the conditions to completion contained in the amended merger agreement are satisfied or waived, including the approval of the amended merger agreement proposal at the special meeting and receipt of required regulatory approvals. CIBC currently expects the merger will be completed during the second calendar quarter of 2017. However, because fulfillment of some of the conditions to completion of the merger, such as the receipt of required regulatory approvals, are not entirely within our control, we cannot predict the actual timing or provide any assurances as to when or if the merger will occur. See the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Conditions to the Merger" beginning on page 117 of the proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

Q:
What happens if the merger is not completed?

A:
If the merger is not completed, holders of PrivateBancorp common stock will not receive any consideration for their shares in connection with the merger. Instead, PrivateBancorp will remain an independent public company and its common stock will continue to be listed and traded on The NASDAQ Stock Market, referred to as the "NASDAQ."

Q:
When and where is the special meeting being held?

A:
The special meeting will be held at [•], on May [•], 2017 at [•] local time.

Q: Who can vote at the special meeting?

A: Holders of PrivateBancorp common stock, including holders of PrivateBancorp restricted stock awards, as of the close of business on March 31, 2017, referred to as the "record date," are entitled to vote at the special meeting. Beneficial owners of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock as of the record date should receive instructions from their bank, brokerage firm or other nominee describing how to vote their shares.

Q: What is the quorum requirement for the special meeting?

A: The presence, in person or represented by proxy, at the special meeting of holders of a majority of the aggregate voting power of the issued and outstanding shares of PrivateBancorp common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting will constitute a quorum. All shares of PrivateBancorp common stock that are present in person or represented by proxy, including abstentions and broker non-votes, will be treated as present for purposes of determining the presence or absence of a quorum for all matters voted on at the special meeting.

Q: What vote is required to approve each proposal at the special meeting?

A: Approval of the amended merger agreement proposal requires the affirmative vote by holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of PrivateBancorp common stock entitled to vote thereon. Approval of the merger-related compensation proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting and entitled to vote thereon. Approval of the adjournment proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock present in person or represented by proxy and entitled to vote thereon, whether or not a quorum is present.

Q: What do I need to do now?

A: After carefully reading and considering the information contained in this supplement and the proxy statement/prospectus, please vote your shares as soon as possible so that your shares will be represented at the special meeting. Please follow the instructions set forth on the proxy card or if your shares are held in the name of your broker, bank or other nominee, on the voting instruction provided by the record holder.

Q: How do I vote?

A: If you are a PrivateBancorp common stockholder of record as of the record date, you may vote in person at the special meeting or submit a proxy by the Internet, telephone or mail as follows:

	For registered holders: (Shares are registered in your name with our transfer agent, Computershare)	For participants in the PrivateBancorp, Inc. Savings, Retirement & Employee Stock Ownership Plan ("KSOP"):	For beneficial owners: (Shares are held in a stock brokerage account or on your behalf by a bank or other holder of record)
Electronically via the Internet:	www.envisionreports.com/PVTB*	www.envisionreports.com/PVTB*	www.proxyvote.com(1)
By telephone:	1-800-652-VOTE(8683)*	1-800-652-VOTE(8683)*	1-800-454-VOTE(8683)(1)
By mail:	Use the enclosed proxy card	Use the enclosed voting direction card	Use the voting instruction form provided by your broker
Voting deadline:	1:00 a.m., Central time, on [●], 2017	1:00 a.m., Central time, on [●], 2017	Refer to directions received from your broker

If your broker does not use the ProxyVote service, refer to the instructions received from your broker for how vote.

Table of Contents

Q: What does it mean if I get more than one proxy card with this supplement?

A: It means you have multiple accounts at the transfer agent and/or with brokers. Please sign and return all proxy cards or vote all your shares online or by telephone to ensure that all your shares are voted.

Q: If my shares of PrivateBancorp common stock are held in "street name" by my bank, broker or other nominee, will my bank, broker or other nominee vote my shares for me?

A: Only if you instruct your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee how to vote your shares of PrivateBancorp common stock. If you do not instruct your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee, they will not be able to vote your shares. Please check with your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee and follow the voting procedures they provide.

If your broker, bank or other nominee does not receive voting instructions from you, they will not have the authority to vote your shares. Under such circumstance, a "broker non-vote" would arise. Broker non-votes, if any, will not be considered present at the special meeting for purposes of determining whether a quorum is present at the special meeting, will have the same effect as a vote "AGAINST" the proposal to adopt the amended merger agreement and, assuming a quorum is present, will have no effect on the advisory (non-binding) proposal on executive compensation payable to the PrivateBancorp's named executive officers in connection with the merger or the adjournment proposal. Thus, for shares of common stock held in "street name," only shares of common stock affirmatively voted "FOR" the proposal to adopt the amended merger agreement will be counted as a vote in favor of such proposal.

Q: What happens if I submit my proxy or voting instruction card without indicating how to vote?

A: If you sign and return your proxy or voting instruction card without indicating how to vote on any particular proposal, your shares of PrivateBancorp common stock represented by your proxy will be voted as recommended by PrivateBancorp's board of directors with respect to that proposal.

Q: What happens if I abstain from voting or do not vote at all?

A: For purposes of the special meeting, an abstention occurs when a stockholder attends the special meeting in person and does not vote or returns a proxy with an "abstain" vote. If you respond with an "abstain" vote on any of the proposals to be considered at the special meeting, your proxy will have the same effect as a vote cast "AGAINST" the amended merger agreement proposal, the merger-related compensation proposal and the adjournment proposal.

If you fail to vote or fail to instruct your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee how to vote on the proposals to be considered at the special meeting, it will have the same effect as a vote cast "AGAINST" the approval of the amended merger agreement proposal, and, assuming a quorum is present, will have no effect on the merger-related compensation proposal or the adjournment proposal.

Q: May I change my vote after I have submitted a proxy?

A: Yes. If you have not voted through your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee, there are four ways you can change your vote after you have submitted your proxy (whether by mail, telephone or the Internet):

by sending a notice of revocation to PrivateBancorp, Inc., Attn: Corporate Secretary, 120 South LaSalle Street, Chicago, Illinois 60603 stating that you would like to revoke your proxy; by logging onto the Internet website specified on your proxy card in the same manner you would to submit your proxy electronically or by calling the telephone number specified on your proxy card, in each case if you are eligible to do so and following the instructions on the proxy card;

by sending a completed proxy card bearing a later date than your original proxy card; or by attending the special meeting and voting in person.

If you choose either of the first two methods, you must take the described action no later than the beginning of the special meeting. If you choose to send a completed proxy card bearing a later date than your original proxy card, the new proxy card must be received before the beginning of the special meeting.

If you have instructed a bank, brokerage firm or other nominee to vote your shares of PrivateBancorp stock, you must follow the directions you receive from your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee in order to change or revoke your vote.

If you are an employee participant that holds your shares of PrivateBancorp stock through the PrivateBancorp, Inc. Savings, Retirement and Employee Stock Ownership Plan ("KSOP"), you must follow the directions you receive from the trustee of such KSOP in order to change or revoke your vote.

Q:
If I want to attend the special meeting, what do I do?

A:
You should come to [•], on May [•], 2017 at [•] local time for the meeting. If you hold your shares of PrivateBancorp common stock in "street name," you will need to bring proof of ownership (by means of a recent brokerage statement or letter from your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee) to be admitted to the special meeting. Stockholders of record as of the record date can vote in person at the special meeting. If your shares of PrivateBancorp common stock are held in "street name," then you are not the stockholder of record and you must ask your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee how you can vote at the special meeting.

Q:
Do I have appraisal rights in connection with the merger?

A:
Holders of PrivateBancorp common stock are entitled to dissenters' rights of appraisal in connection with the merger under Section 262 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, which is sometimes referred to as "Delaware law," provided they satisfy the special criteria and conditions set forth in Section 262 of Delaware law. More information regarding these appraisal rights are described in this document, and the provisions of Delaware law that grant appraisal rights and govern such procedures are attached as Appendix D to this document. You should read these provisions carefully and in their entirety. A detailed description of the appraisal rights available to holders of PrivateBancorp common stock and procedures required to exercise statutory appraisal rights is included in the section entitled "The Merger Dissenters' Rights of Appraisal for Holders of PrivateBancorp Common Stock" beginning on page 99 of the proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

Q:
Should I send in my stock certificates now?

A:
No. PrivateBancorp stockholders SHOULD NOT send in any stock certificates now. If the merger is approved, transmittal materials with instructions for their completion will be provided to PrivateBancorp stockholders under separate cover and the stock certificates should be sent at that time.

Q: What will happen to PrivateBancorp and the PrivateBank as a result of the merger?

A: If the merger is completed, PrivateBancorp will be merged with and into Holdco, a direct wholly-owned subsidiary of CIBC, with Holdco surviving the merger. As a result of the merger, PrivateBancorp will no longer be a publicly held company. Following the merger, PrivateBancorp common stock will be delisted from the NASDAQ and deregistered under the Exchange Act.

Following the merger, the PrivateBank, PrivateBancorp's banking subsidiary, will be headquartered in Chicago and the PrivateBank and Holdco will constitute the primary banking, lending and wealth management platform of CIBC in the U.S.

Q: Will my CIBC common shares acquired in the merger receive a dividend?

A: After the closing of the merger, as a holder of CIBC common shares, you will become entitled to receive the same dividends on CIBC common shares that all other holders of CIBC common shares will receive for any dividend record date that occurs after the merger is completed.

Former PrivateBancorp common stockholders who hold PrivateBancorp stock certificates or book entry shares will not be entitled to be paid dividends with a record date after the closing of the merger otherwise payable on the CIBC common shares into which their shares of PrivateBancorp common stock are exchangeable until they surrender their PrivateBancorp stock certificates or book entry shares according to the instructions provided to them, at which point they will receive any dividends, without interest thereon, with a record date after the closing of the merger and otherwise payable on the CIBC common shares for which their shares of PrivateBancorp common stock were exchanged.

Any such payment of dividends by CIBC would require approval by the CIBC board of directors and the board may change its dividend policy at any time. See "Comparative Per Share Market Price and Dividend Information" beginning on page 16 for a comparison of the historical dividend practices of the two companies.

Q: Who can help answer my additional questions about the special meeting or the merger?

A: If you have questions about the special meeting or the merger, you should contact PrivateBancorp's proxy solicitors, Innisfree M&A Incorporated, by calling toll-free at 888-750-5834, or Alliance Advisors, LLC, by calling toll-free at 855-976-3324.

UPDATE TO THE SUMMARY

This update to the summary highlights selected information from this supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus and may not contain all the information that is important to you. You should carefully read this entire document, including the appendices and the other documents to which this document refers you, and, if you have not already done so, the definitive proxy statement dated October 31, 2016 and the documents referred to or incorporated by reference therein for a more complete understanding of the matters to be considered at the special meeting. In addition, we incorporate by reference into this document important business and financial information about CIBC and PrivateBancorp. You may obtain the information incorporated by reference into this document without charge by following the instructions in the section entitled "Where You Can Find More Information" beginning on page [•]. Where applicable, each item in this summary includes a page reference directing you to a more complete description of that item.

The following information supplements and, where applicable, replaces the corresponding information under the heading "Summary" beginning on page 1 of the proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

Merger Consideration and Amendment No. 1 to the Merger Agreement (pages [•] and [•]) Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement provides for an increase in the per share merger consideration to be paid to PrivateBancorp stockholders. Upon completion of the merger, each share of PrivateBancorp common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will be converted into the right to receive (i) $24.20 in cash and (ii) 0.4176 common shares of CIBC (collectively, the "merger consideration"). This represents an increase of $5.40 in cash and 0.0519 common shares of CIBC per share of PrivateBancorp common stock.

The value of the merger consideration constituting common shares of CIBC described in clause (i) will depend on the market price of CIBC common shares at the time you receive the CIBC common shares (following completion of the merger). For a discussion of the treatment of awards outstanding under PrivateBancorp's equity incentive plans as of the effective time, see "The Merger Agreement Treatment of PrivateBancorp Equity Awards" beginning on page 106 of the proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

PrivateBancorp's Board of Directors Unanimously Recommends that You Vote "FOR" the Amended Merger Agreement Proposal, "FOR" the Merger-Related Compensation Proposal and "FOR" the Adjournment Proposal (page [•]) PrivateBancorp's board of directors determined that the merger, the amended merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the amended merger agreement are advisable and in the best interests of PrivateBancorp and its stockholders, and has unanimously adopted and approved the amended merger agreement. For the factors considered by PrivateBancorp's board of directors in reaching its decision to adopt and approve the amended merger agreement, see the section entitled "The Merger PrivateBancorp's Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of the PrivateBancorp Board of Directors" beginning on page [•]. PrivateBancorp's board of directors unanimously recommends that PrivateBancorp common stockholders vote "FOR" the approval of the amended merger agreement proposal, "FOR" the merger-related compensation proposal and "FOR" the adjournment proposal.

Comparative Per Share Market Price and Dividend Information (page [•]) The following table presents the last reported closing sale price per share of CIBC common shares on the TSX and the NYSE and of PrivateBancorp common stock on the NASDAQ on (a) March 29, 2017, the last trading day prior to the public announcement by CIBC and PrivateBancorp of the transaction and execution of the amended merger agreement, and (b) April [•], 2017, the last trading day for which this information could be calculated prior to the date of this supplement. The table also shows the estimated implied value of the per share merger consideration for each share of PrivateBancorp Opinion of Goldman, Sachs & Co. (page [•] and Appendix B) At the March 29, 2017 meeting of the board of directors of PrivateBancorp held to evaluate Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement, Goldman, Sachs & Co., which we refer to as Goldman Sachs, rendered to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp its oral opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, to the effect that, as of March 30, 2017, the date of its written opinion, and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions set forth in Goldman Sachs' written opinion, the merger consideration to be paid to the holders (other than CIBC and its affiliates) of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock pursuant to the amended merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view to such holders.

The full text of the written opinion of Goldman Sachs, dated March 30, 2017, which sets forth assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered, qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken in connection with the opinion, is attached to this supplement as Appendix B. The summary of the Goldman Sachs opinion contained in this supplement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of Goldman Sachs' written opinion. Goldman Sachs' advisory services and opinion were provided for the information and assistance of the PrivateBancorp board of directors in connection with its consideration of the merger and Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement and the opinion does not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of PrivateBancorp common stock should vote with respect to the proposed transaction or any other matter.

For further information, see "The Merger Opinions of PrivateBancorp's Financial Advisors Opinion of Goldman Sachs" beginning on page [•].

Opinion of Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P. (page [•] and Appendix C) At the March 29, 2017 meeting of the board of directors of PrivateBancorp held to evaluate Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement, Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P., which we refer to as Sandler, rendered to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp its oral opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, to the effect that, as of March 29, 2017, the date of its written opinion, and based upon and subject to the factors set forth in Sandler's written opinion, the merger consideration was fair to the holders of PrivateBancorp common stock from a financial point of view. The full text of Sandler's opinion, dated March 29, 2017, is attached as Appendix C to this supplement. The opinion outlines the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by Sandler in rendering its opinion. The description of the opinion set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion.

Holders of PrivateBancorp common stock are urged to read the entire opinion carefully in connection with their consideration of the proposed merger.

Sandler's opinion speaks only as of March 29, 2017, the date of the opinion. The opinion was directed to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp in connection with its consideration of the amended merger agreement and the proposed merger and is directed only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration to the holders of PrivateBancorp common stock.

Table of Contents

Sandler's opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any holder of PrivateBancorp common stock as to how such holder of PrivateBancorp common stock should vote at any meeting of stockholders called to consider and vote upon the adoption of the amended merger agreement and approval of the merger. It does not address the underlying business decision of PrivateBancorp to engage in the merger, the form or structure of the merger or other transactions contemplated in the amended merger agreement, the relative merits of the merger as compared to any other alternative business strategies that might exist for PrivateBancorp or the effect of any other transaction in which PrivateBancorp might engage, or the fairness of the merger to any other class of securities, creditor or other constituency of PrivateBancorp. Sandler also did not express any opinion as to the fairness of the amount or nature of the compensation to be received in the merger or other transactions contemplated by the amended merger agreement by any PrivateBancorp or CIBC officer, director, or employee, or any class of such persons, if any, relative to the merger consideration to be received by any other stockholder of PrivateBancorp.

For further information, see "The Merger Opinions of PrivateBancorp's Financial Advisors Opinion of Sandler" beginning on page [•].

The Special Meeting (page [•]) The special meeting will be held at [•], on May [•], 2017 at [•], local time. At the special meeting, stockholders will be asked to approve the amended merger agreement proposal, the merger-related compensation proposal and the adjournment proposal.

PrivateBancorp's board of directors has set the close of business on March 31, 2017 as the record date for determining the holders of PrivateBancorp common stock entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the special meeting. You are entitled to receive notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting if you owned shares of PrivateBancorp common stock as of the close of business on the record date. You will have one vote on all matters properly coming before the special meeting for each share of PrivateBancorp common stock that you owned as of the close of business on the record date.

The approval of the amended merger agreement proposal requires the affirmative vote by holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of PrivateBancorp common stock entitled to vote thereon. Failures to vote, abstentions and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote "AGAINST" the approval of the amended merger agreement.

On the record date, there were 80,022,968 shares of PrivateBancorp common stock outstanding and entitled to vote, held by 373 holders of record. As of the record date, the directors and executive officers of PrivateBancorp and their affiliates beneficially owned and were entitled to vote approximately 1,113,498 shares of PrivateBancorp common stock representing approximately 1.39% of the shares of PrivateBancorp common stock outstanding on that date.

No CIBC Shareholder Approval

CIBC shareholders are not required to approve the amended merger agreement or the issuance of CIBC common shares in connection with the merger.

Termination Fee

If the amended merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances, including circumstances involving alternative acquisition proposals and a change in recommendation of PrivateBancorp's board of directors, PrivateBancorp may be required to pay to CIBC a termination fee equal to $198,000,000 (the "Termination Fee"). The Termination Fee could discourage other companies from seeking to acquire or merge with PrivateBancorp. For more information see "The Merger Agreement Effect of Termination and Termination Fee" beginning on page 118 of the proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

Table of Contents

Litigation Related to the Merger (page [•]) Following the original announcement of the Company's proposed merger with CIBC in June 2016, three putative class actions were filed on behalf of PrivateBancorp stockholders in the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois: Solak v. Richman, et al., No. 2016-CH-08949; Parshall v. PrivateBancorp, Inc., et al., No. 2016-CH-09135; and Griffin v. PrivateBancorp, Inc., et al., No. 2016-CH-09435. On October 7, 2016, Plaintiffs filed a Consolidated Amended Class Action Complaint on behalf of a putative class of PrivateBancorp's shareholders (the "Action"), alleging among other things that PrivateBancorp's directors had failed to disclose material information regarding the merger in the proxy statement/prospectus and that PrivateBancorp and CIBC aided and abetted the same.

The plaintiffs in the Action agreed in principle not to pursue the Action as a result of the inclusion of certain additional disclosures (the "Supplemental Disclosures") in the proxy statement/prospectus contained in the registration statement filed by CIBC on October 31, 2016. On March 6, 2017, the parties executed a stipulation of settlement (the "Settlement Agreement"), and on March 7, 2017 the plaintiffs dismissed the Action. Pursuant to the Settlement Agreement, the three plaintiffs agreed to voluntarily dismiss the Action, without affecting the claims of the putative class, with leave to reinstate the Action if the merger is not consummated on or before June 29, 2017. Defendants in turn agreed to settle plaintiffs' demand for a mootness fee for $185,000, but only upon consummation of the merger. If the merger is not consummated on or before June 29, 2017 and the Action is reinstated, the Settlement Agreement will be null and void, and plaintiffs may apply to the court for a mootness fee award, which defendants may oppose, in whole or in part. PrivateBancorp and CIBC agreed to settle Plaintiffs' demand for a mootness fee award solely to avoid the costs of further litigation. PrivateBancorp continues to believe the complaints are without merit, there are substantial legal and factual defenses to the claims asserted, and that proxy statement/prospectus contained in the registration statement first filed by CIBC on August 15, 2016 disclosed all material information prior to the inclusion of the Supplemental Disclosures.

SELECTED HISTORICAL CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL DATA OF CIBC

The following information replaces the section entitled "Selected Historical Consolidated Financial Data of CIBC" beginning on page 11 of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

Set forth below is selected historical financial information of CIBC prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, referred to as "IFRS," for the fiscal years ended October 31, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015 and 2016, except as otherwise indicated. The information as at and for each of the years in the five-year period ended October 31, 2016 has been derived from the audited consolidated financial statements of CIBC, the notes thereto, and the related Management's Discussion and Analysis, as filed with the SEC. Also set forth below is selected historical financial information of CIBC as at or for the three months ended January 31, 2016 and January 31, 2017, certain of which has been derived from the unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements of CIBC and the notes thereto as furnished to the SEC. The results of operations for the three months ended January 31, 2017 are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations for the full year or any other interim period.

You should read this information in conjunction with (i) CIBC's audited consolidated financial statements, the notes thereto, and the related Management's Discussion and Analysis, included in CIBC's Annual Report on Form 40-F for the fiscal year ended October 31, 2016 and (ii) CIBC's unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements, the notes thereto, and the related Management's Discussion and Analysis included in exhibits to CIBC's Form 6-K furnished to the SEC

UNAUDITED COMPARATIVE PER COMMON SHARE DATA

The following information replaces the section entitled "Unaudited Per Share Common Share Data" beginning on page 14 of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

The following tables present, as at the dates and for the periods indicated, selected historical unaudited and pro forma unaudited consolidated per share financial information for CIBC common shares and PrivateBancorp common stock. This information should be read in conjunction with, and the information is qualified in its entirety by, the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes of CIBC and PrivateBancorp incorporated into this proxy statement/prospectus by reference. See the section entitled "Where You Can Find More Information."

The following pro forma information has been prepared in accordance with the rules and regulations of the SEC and accordingly includes the effects of purchase accounting. The pro forma information, although helpful in illustrating the financial characteristics of the combined company under one set of assumptions, does not reflect the benefits of expected cost savings, the impact of restructuring and merger-related costs, opportunities to earn additional revenue, or other factors that may result from the merger and, accordingly, the information does not attempt to predict or suggest future results. The pro forma information does reflect incremental financing expenses that are the direct result of the merger. This information is presented for illustrative purposes only. You should not rely on the pro forma combined or equivalent pro forma amounts as they are not necessarily indicative of the operating results or financial position that would have occurred if the merger had been completed as of the dates indicated, nor are they indicative of the future operating results or financial position of the combined company.

The following tables assume the issuance of 33,492,567 CIBC common shares in connection with the merger, which is the expected number of shares issuable by CIBC in connection with the merger assuming the merger closed on December 31, 2016 and is based on the number of outstanding shares of PrivateBancorp common stock at that time. CIBC common shares are valued at the closing stock price on March 29, 2017. As discussed in this proxy statement/prospectus, the actual number of CIBC common shares issuable in the merger will be adjusted based on the number of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock outstanding at the completion of the merger. The pro forma data in the tables assumes that the merger occurred on November 1, 2015 for income statement purposes and on October 31, 2016 and January 31, 2017 for balance sheet purposes, and that the merger is accounted for as a business combination.

- (1) Earnings per share have been translated into U.S. dollars based on the average of the Bank of Canada average monthly noon exchange rates for the periods indicated.
- (2) The pro forma combined diluted earnings per share for the year ended October 31, 2016 assumes the issuance of 1,003,360 additional CIBC common shares. The pro forma combined diluted earnings per share for the three months ended January 31, 2017 assumes the issuance of 1,087,267 additional CIBC common shares. These adjustments relate to PrivateBancorp's stock options outstanding at the time of the merger that will be replaced with CIBC equity-based awards that will be ultimately settled with CIBC common shares. These adjustments exclude other PrivateBancorp equity-based awards that will be replaced by CIBC equity-based awards that settle in cash. The adjustments are based on the number of awards outstanding on December 31, 2016, valued at the CIBC closing stock price on March 29, 2017.
- (3) Dividends per share have been translated into U.S. dollars based on the Bank of Canada noon exchange rate on each dividend record date. Pro forma combined dividends per common share are based solely on dividends of CIBC.
- (4) Book value per common share has been translated into U.S. dollars based on the Bank of Canada noon exchange rate at the end of the period.

With respect to the table above, the CIBC pro forma combined amounts were calculated by combining (i) the CIBC historical amounts as at or for the year ended October 31, 2016 and the three months ended January 31, 2017 (prepared in accordance with IFRS) with (ii) the PrivateBancorp historical amounts (originally prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP), adjusted for significant differences between U.S. GAAP and IFRS, as at or for the year ended December 31, 2016 and the three months ended December 31, 2016, respectively. For purposes of calculating the pro forma combined amounts, the PrivateBancorp historical amounts have been further adjusted (on an IFRS basis) for estimated purchase accounting adjustments to be recorded in connection with the acquisition (consisting of fair value adjustments for assets acquired and liabilities assumed and adjustments for other intangible assets established, and the resulting amortization of these adjustments over appropriate periods), and other adjustments that are directly attributable to the transaction and expected to have a continuing impact on CIBC's pro forma combined financial results.

The equivalent pro forma per share information for PrivateBancorp in the following table was obtained by multiplying the above per share pro forma amounts for CIBC by 0.4176, which is the number of CIBC common shares that PrivateBancorp stockholders who receive share consideration in the merger will receive for each share of PrivateBancorp common stock, assuming that the merger was completed on December 31, 2016 and valued at the CIBC closing stock price on March 29, 2017. Because CIBC and PrivateBancorp have different fiscal years, the equivalent pro forma data for the year ended December 31, 2016 has been compared with CIBC's fiscal year ended October 31, 2016. The PrivateBancorp historical data in the following table is presented in U.S. GAAP.

Table of Contents

The following table presents the last reported closing sale price per share of CIBC common shares on the TSX and the NYSE and of PrivateBancorp common stock on the NASDAQ on (a) March 29, 2017, the last full trading day prior to the public announcement by CIBC and PrivateBancorp of the transaction and execution of the amended merger agreement, and (b) April [•], 2017, the last full trading day for which this information could be calculated prior to the date of this supplement. The table also shows the estimated implied value of the per share merger consideration for each share of PrivateBancorp common stock on the relevant date. The implied value of the per share merger consideration represents the sum of $24.20, the cash portion of the per share merger consideration, plus the stock portion of the per share merger consideration, based upon the product of the exchange ratio of 0.4176 and the closing price of CIBC common shares on the NYSE as of the applicable date.

PrivateBancorp stockholders will not receive the merger consideration until the merger is completed, which may be a substantial period of time after the special meeting. There can be no assurance as to the trading prices of CIBC common shares at the time of the closing of the merger. The market prices of CIBC common shares and PrivateBancorp common stock and the Canadian dollar/U.S. dollar exchange rate are likely to fluctuate prior to consummation of the merger and cannot be predicted. We urge you to obtain current market quotations for both CIBC common shares and PrivateBancorp common stock and the Canadian dollar/U.S. dollar exchange rate.

The table below sets forth the dividends declared per CIBC common share and the dividends declared per share of PrivateBancorp common stock for the fiscal years ended 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015 and 2016. CIBC's fiscal year end is October 31 and PrivateBancorp's fiscal year end is December 31.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

From time to time, CIBC and/or PrivateBancorp make written or oral forward-looking statements within the meaning of certain securities laws, including the "safe harbor" provisions of the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 and any applicable Canadian securities legislation. This proxy statement/prospectus, including information incorporated by reference into this document, may contain forward-looking statements, including, for example, but not limited to, statements about management expectations, strategic objectives, growth opportunities, business prospects, regulatory proceedings, transaction synergies and other benefits of the merger, and other similar matters. Forward-looking statements are not statements of historical facts and represent only CIBC's and/or PrivateBancorp's beliefs regarding future performance, which is inherently uncertain. Forward-looking statements are typically identified by words such as "believe," "expect," "foresee," "forecast," "anticipate," "intend," "estimate," "goal," "plan," and "project" and similar expressions of future or conditional verbs such as "will," "may," "should," "could" or "would."

By their very nature, forward-looking statements require us to make assumptions and are subject to inherent risks and uncertainties that give rise to the possibility that CIBC's and/or PrivateBancorp's predictions, forecasts, projections, expectations or conclusions will not prove to be accurate, that CIBC's and/or PrivateBancorp's assumptions may not be correct and that CIBC's and/or PrivateBancorp's objectives, strategic goals and priorities will not be achieved. We caution readers not to place undue reliance on these statements as a number of important factors could cause actual results to differ materially from the expectations expressed in such forward-looking statements. These factors include, but are not limited to, the possibility that the merger does not close when expected or at all because required regulatory, stockholder or other approvals are not received or other conditions to the closing are not satisfied on a timely basis or at all; that CIBC and PrivateBancorp may be required to modify the terms and conditions of the amended merger agreement to achieve regulatory or stockholder approval, or that the anticipated benefits of the merger are not realized as a result of such things as the strength of the economy and competitive factors in the areas where PrivateBancorp does business; general business and economic conditions in Canada, the United States and other countries in which CIBC or PrivateBancorp conduct business; the impact of the movement of the Canadian dollar relative to other currencies, particularly the U.S. dollar, British pound and Euro; the effects of changes in government monetary and other policies; the effects of competition in the markets in which we operate; the impact of changes in the laws and regulations regulating financial services and enforcement thereof (including broker-dealer, banking, insurance and securities); judicial or regulatory judgments and legal proceedings; CIBC's ability to complete the acquisition of PrivateBancorp and integrate it with CIBC successfully; the risk that expected synergies and benefits of the merger will not be realized within the expected time frame or at all; the risk of attrition of financial consultants and of assets under management, increased operating costs, customer loss, employee loss and business disruption following the merger; reputational risks; the outcome of various litigation and proceedings to which PrivateBancorp and/or CIBC is a party and the adequacy of reserves maintained therefor; and other factors that may affect future results of CIBC and PrivateBancorp, including changes in trade policies, timely development and introduction of new products and services, changes in tax laws, and technological and regulatory changes.

We caution that the foregoing list of important factors is not exhaustive and other factors could also adversely affect the completion of the merger and the future results of CIBC or PrivateBancorp. The forward-looking statements speak only as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, in the case of forward-looking statements contained in this proxy statement/prospectus, or the dates of the documents incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus, in the case of forward-looking statements made in those incorporated documents. When relying on our forward-looking statements to make decisions with respect to us, investors and others should carefully consider the foregoing factors and other uncertainties and potential events. Except as required by applicable law or regulation, CIBC and PrivateBancorp do not undertake to update any forward-looking statement, whether written or oral, to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this proxy statement/prospectus or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.

For additional information about factors that could cause CIBC's and PrivateBancorp's results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements, please see the section entitled "Risk Factors" as well as in the reports that CIBC and PrivateBancorp have filed with the SEC, described under the section entitled "Where You Can Find More Information," including CIBC's 2016 Annual Report on Form 40-F ("2016 Annual Report") and its Q1 2017 Report of Foreign Private Issuer on Form 6-K ("Q1 2017 Report") and PrivateBancorp's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2016 and each of PrivateBancorp's subsequently filed Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q which are available at the SEC's Internet site (www.sec.gov). CIBC's material general economic assumptions underlying certain of the forward-looking statements in this prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein are set out in its 2016 Annual Report under the heading "Financial performance overview Outlook for calendar year 2017" and under the heading "Management of risk" as updated by the "A Note About Forward-Looking Statements" section in its Q1 2017 Report.

All subsequent written or oral forward-looking statements concerning the merger or other matters addressed in this proxy statement/prospectus and attributable to CIBC, PrivateBancorp or any person acting on their behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements contained or referred to in this section.

RISK FACTORS

The following information replaces the information provided under the subsections with the headings "The merger agreement contains provisions that may discourage other companies from trying to acquire PrivateBancorp for greater merger consideration" and "Litigation relating to the merger could require us to incur significant costs and suffer management distraction, as well as delay and/or enjoin the merger" under the heading "Risk Factors" beginning on page 21 of the proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016. You are, nevertheless, encouraged to read all the information under the heading "Risk Factors" of the proxy statement/prospectus.

The amended merger agreement contains provisions that may discourage other companies from trying to acquire PrivateBancorp for greater merger consideration.

The amended merger agreement contains provisions that may discourage a third party from submitting an acquisition proposal to PrivateBancorp that might result in greater value to PrivateBancorp's common stockholders than the merger, or may cause a potential competing acquirer proposing to pay a lower per share price to acquire PrivateBancorp than it might otherwise have proposed to pay. These provisions include a general prohibition on PrivateBancorp from soliciting or, subject to certain exceptions relating to the exercise of fiduciary duties by the PrivateBancorp board of directors, entering into discussions with any third party regarding, any acquisition proposal or offers for competing transactions and a right of CIBC to be informed of any superior acquisition proposal. In addition, PrivateBancorp may be required to pay CIBC a termination fee of $198,000,000 in certain circumstances involving acquisition proposals for competing transactions. See the sections entitled "The Merger Agreement Termination" and "The Merger Agreement Effect of Termination and Termination Fee."

Litigation relating to the merger could require us to incur significant costs and suffer management distraction, as well as delay and/or enjoin the merger.

Following the announcement of the Company's proposed merger with CIBC, three putative class actions were filed on behalf of PrivateBancorp stockholders in the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois: Solak v. Richman, et al., No. 2016-CH-08949; Parshall v. PrivateBancorp, Inc., et al., No. 2016-CH-09135; and Griffin v. PrivateBancorp, Inc., et al., No. 2016-CH-09435. On October 7, 2016, Plaintiffs filed a Consolidated Amended Class Action Complaint on behalf of a putative class of PrivateBancorp's shareholders (the "Action"), alleging among other things that PrivateBancorp's directors had failed to disclose material information regarding the merger in the proxy statement/prospectus and that PrivateBancorp and CIBC aided and abetted the same.

The plaintiffs in the Action agreed in principle not to pursue the Action as a result of the inclusion of certain additional disclosures (the "Supplemental Disclosures") in the proxy statement/prospectus contained in the registration statement filed by CIBC on October 31, 2016. On March 6, 2017, the parties executed a stipulation of settlement (the "Settlement Agreement"), and on March 7, 2017 the plaintiffs dismissed the Action. Pursuant to the Settlement Agreement, the three plaintiffs agreed to voluntarily dismiss the Action, without affecting the claims of the putative class, with leave to reinstate the Action if the merger is not consummated on or before June 29, 2017. Defendants in turn agreed to settle plaintiffs' demand for a mootness fee for $185,000, but only upon consummation of the merger. If the merger is not consummated on or before June 29, 2017 and the Action is reinstated, the Settlement Agreement will be null and void, and plaintiffs may apply to the court for a mootness fee award, which defendants may oppose, in whole or in part. PrivateBancorp and CIBC agreed to settle Plaintiffs' demand for a mootness fee award solely to avoid the costs of further litigation. PrivateBancorp continues to believe the complaints are without merit, there are substantial legal and factual defenses to the claims asserted, and that proxy statement/prospectus contained in the registration statement first filed by CIBC on August 15, 2016 disclosed all material information prior to the inclusion of the Supplemental Disclosures.

THE MERGER

The following discussion contains material information about the merger and certain terms of the amended merger agreement. You should also read in its entirety the section entitled "The Merger Agreement" in the proxy statement/prospectus for a discussion of additional material information about the terms of the amended merger agreement. The discussion is subject to, and qualified in its entirety by reference to, the Amendment No. 1, a copy of which is attached as Appendix A and incorporated herein by reference, and the original merger agreement, a copy of which is attached to the proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix A and incorporated therein by reference. We urge you to read carefully this supplement and the entire proxy statement/prospectus, including the amended merger agreement, for a more complete understanding of the merger.

The following information replaces or supplements the information under the heading "The Merger" beginning on page 37 of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

Terms of the Merger

Merger Consideration

Under the terms and subject to the conditions of the amended merger agreement, at the effective time of the merger, each share of PrivateBancorp common stock, without par value, will be converted into the right to receive without interest (i) 0.4176 common shares of CIBC and (ii) $24.20 in cash (the consideration described in clauses (i) and (ii), collectively, the "merger consideration"). The value of the merger consideration constituting common shares of CIBC described in clause (i) will depend on the market price of CIBC common shares at the time you receive the CIBC common shares (following completion of the merger). For a discussion of the treatment of awards outstanding under PrivateBancorp's equity incentive plans as of the effective time, see "The Merger Agreement Treatment of PrivateBancorp Equity Awards" beginning on page 106 of the proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

Background of the Merger

The section of The Merger titled "Background of the Merger" beginning on page 38 of the proxy statement/prospectus describes the background of the transaction up to and including October 31, 2016. The discussion below supplements that description up to and including the date of this supplement.

On or around November 2, 2016, PrivateBancorp mailed the proxy statement/prospectus to PrivateBancorp stockholders and began soliciting proxies with respect to the original merger agreement and the merger. Subsequent to such mailing, the equity markets in the United States traded up significantly over a short period of time, including in particular the market for U. S. bank stocks. Over the period from the close of trading on November 8, 2016, the date of the U.S. presidential election, to the close of trading on November 25, 2016, the Russell 2000 Index increased 12.7%. Indices tracking the stocks of publicly traded bank holding companies significantly outperformed the broader market during that same period, with the KBW Nasdaq Bank Index ("KRX"), for example, increasing 20.4%. The outperformance by the KRX was influenced, in part, by changes in market interest rates, particularly on the shorter-end of the interest rate curve, expectations for accelerated timing of possible future increases in the fed funds rate by the Federal Reserve, expectations of corporate tax reform, and expectations of regulatory reform applicable to the financial sector. These stock market developments resulted in a number of PrivateBancorp stockholders communicating publicly through open letters to stockholders and directly to PrivateBancorp management that they would not be likely to support the transaction with CIBC on the then-current terms.

During the weeks leading to the stockholder meeting scheduled for December 8, 2016, representatives of PrivateBancorp management and the board and its proxy solicitor engaged with PrivateBancorp stockholders to seek support of the proposed merger, including both longer-term investors as well as shorter-term stockholders who had acquired shares of PrivateBancorp common stock subsequent to the initial announcement of the merger in June 2016. On November 30, one of the major proxy advisory firms issued a report recommending that PrivateBancorp stockholders vote against the adoption of the merger agreement. In the subsequent days, two other proxy advisory firms that had previously recommended voting in favor revoked their favorable recommendations and instead recommended that PrivateBancorp stockholders vote against the adoption of the merger agreement. Representatives of PrivateBancorp's management team and advisors had regular discussions with representatives of CIBC's management and advisors regarding these developments and ongoing communications with stockholders, and PrivateBancorp's management provided updates to the PrivateBancorp board of directors.

During the morning of December 6, 2016, Mr. Richman telephoned Mr. Dodig to discuss the status of voting proxies submitted and communications with PrivateBancorp stockholders in advance of the upcoming special meeting. Mr. Richman and Mr. Dodig also discussed the fact that, following the negative recommendations of the proxy advisory firms, PrivateBancorp's stock price had begun trading above the implied value of the per share merger consideration based on the then-current trading price of CIBC common shares. Mr. Richman indicated that, absent a change to the terms of the transaction, the PrivateBancorp board intended to evaluate postponing the stockholder meeting, consistent with the terms of the merger agreement, to allow the PrivateBancorp stockholders additional time to consider the value and long-term strategic benefits of the transaction in light of current trading and economic conditions.

During the evening of December 6, 2016, the special strategic opportunities committee comprised of three independent PrivateBancorp directors, which we refer to as the special committee, met to discuss the latest developments relating to the PrivateBancorp special meeting. Representatives of PrivateBancorp management, Goldman Sachs and Wachtell Lipton participated in the meeting. Mr. Richman updated the special committee regarding the recent communications with stockholders and his conversations earlier that day with Mr. Dodig and reported that, based on communications with PrivateBancorp stockholders and the voting proxies that had been submitted to date, it was not expected that the proposal to adopt the original merger agreement would be approved at the December 8 meeting without a change to the current terms.

After extensive discussion with PrivateBancorp management and representatives of Goldman Sachs and Wachtell Lipton, and taking into account informal discussions with other independent members of the PrivateBancorp board over the past several days regarding the strategic rationale for the combination with CIBC, it was the consensus of the special committee that the transaction continued to offer significant long-term value for both companies and that the transaction was in the best interests of PrivateBancorp and its stockholders. The special committee then unanimously determined that, in light of prevailing market conditions, the changing expectations about market interest rates and the pace of potential future actions of the Federal Reserve, potential corporate tax reform, and potential regulatory reform applicable to the financial sector that had each significantly impacted bank stock trading valuations and the indications of PrivateBancorp stockholders regarding their support for the transaction on the current terms, it would be in the best interests of PrivateBancorp and its stockholders to postpone the PrivateBancorp special meeting until sometime in 2017 to allow PrivateBancorp stockholders additional time to consider the value and long-term strategic benefits of the transaction beyond the short-term market volatility that had arisen in the weeks following the U.S. presidential election.

On the morning of December 7, 2016, PrivateBancorp issued a press release stating that the PrivateBancorp special meeting originally scheduled for December 8, 2016 had been postponed. The press release noted that a new record date for the meeting was expected to be set in the first calendar quarter of 2017, and that the new record date, as well as the new date, time and location for the special meeting, would be announced at a future date. Shortly thereafter, CIBC issued a press release noting that the PrivateBancorp special meeting had been postponed and indicating that it remained committed to the transaction with PrivateBancorp on the agreed terms.

Throughout December, January and early February, representatives of PrivateBancorp's management, Goldman Sachs and Wachtell Lipton engaged in frequent discussions regarding the proposed merger and market developments. In late January and early February, the PrivateBancorp board of directors met multiple times, which meetings included representatives of Goldman Sachs and Wachtell Lipton. At these meetings, the board, management and advisors discussed generally the status of the CIBC transaction and market and industry developments. In late January, PrivateBancorp's board directed management to engage Innisfree M&A Incorporated, which we refer to as Innisfree, a proxy solicitation firm with significant experience in complex merger transactions, to conduct additional stockholder outreach regarding the views of the PrivateBancorp's stockholders relative to the proposed transaction.

At the meeting of the PrivateBancorp board of directors in early February, representatives of Goldman Sachs provided an overview of the current banking industry landscape including factors driving bank stock prices following the U.S. presidential election, recent U.S. bank merger activity and the impact of recent political and market developments on the outlook for the U.S. banking industry. The board also reviewed with management PrivateBancorp's updated 2017 annual plan and three-year financial projections, which reflected assumptions incorporating current market conditions and expectations for future interest rate increases as well as the company's actual fourth quarter 2016 results. The Board discussed the company's standalone growth prospects, strategic risks and potential challenges to the forecasts, the sensitivity of earnings projections to interest rate movements and credit loss assumptions, and the risk profile of PrivateBancorp's concentrated loan and deposit portfolios. The board also received updated information regarding stockholder views relative to the proposed transaction based on the outreach conducted by Innisfree and management reported on its ongoing work with CIBC with respect to regulatory approval and integration planning matters related to the transaction.

On the evening of February 23, 2017, Mr. Richman met with Mr. Dodig and Mr. Capatides at CIBC's offices in Toronto to discuss timing for rescheduling the stockholder meeting as well as information regarding the views of PrivateBancorp's stockholders on the proposed merger as expressed to PrivateBancorp's advisors and proxy solicitor. Mr. Dodig indicated to Mr. Richman that CIBC acknowledged that market expectations for U.S. banks had changed significantly over the past few months and would act reasonably with respect to considering a potential change to the terms of the transaction to address current stockholder expectations, and remained committed to obtaining the approval of PrivateBancorp's stockholders and completing the proposed merger. Mr. Dodig and Mr. Richman discussed the possibility of PrivateBancorp setting a record date for the special meeting that would allow the rescheduled meeting to be held in late April or early May.

On February 24, 2017, the special committee met to discuss Mr. Richman's conversation with Mr. Dodig and Mr. Capatides the previous evening. Representatives of PrivateBancorp management, Goldman Sachs and Wachtell Lipton attended the meeting. After Mr. Richman provided an overview of his conversation with Messrs. Dodig and Capatides, the special committee engaged in extensive discussions with management and the advisors present at the meeting. Based on this discussion, it was the consensus of the committee that in order for it to be advisable for PrivateBancorp to make any public announcement regarding the timing of a new record date or a rescheduled special meeting, CIBC should indicate to PrivateBancorp a specific timeframe in which it would intend to provide an update regarding potential revised terms of the transaction and the current status of CIBC's pending regulatory applications. The special committee directed representatives of Goldman Sachs and Wachtell Lipton to deliver this message to representatives of J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, CIBC's financial advisor, which we refer to as J.P. Morgan, and Mayer Brown, respectively. Following the meeting, the PrivateBancorp board was informed of the special committee discussions.

During the week of February 27, 2017, representatives of PrivateBancorp and CIBC and their respective advisors held discussions regarding potential timing in the event that CIBC would propose any changes to the terms of the transaction. As part of these discussions, CIBC indicated that it would expect to provide any update in the coming weeks.

On March 3, 2017, the special committee, based on this indication from CIBC and after receiving information from CIBC regarding the current status of CIBC's pending regulatory applications, unanimously determined to establish the close of business on March 31, 2017 as the record date for the special meeting. On the morning of March 6, 2017, PrivateBancorp issued a press release indicating the record date and that PrivateBancorp at that time expected the special meeting to be scheduled for on or around May 4, 2017.

On March 17, 2017, Mr. Dodig contacted Mr. Richman to propose an increase to the merger consideration with an implied value of $59.00 per share based on the closing price of CIBC common shares the previous day, consisting of $23.60 in cash and 0.3999 CIBC common shares per share of PrivateBancorp common stock. Mr. Dodig noted to Mr. Richman that CIBC remained committed to the merger with PrivateBancorp. Shortly thereafter, Mr. Dodig sent Mr. Richman a written proposal, which included a proposed form of amendment to the merger agreement reflecting, among other things, the proposed increase to the merger consideration that had been communicated by Mr. Dodig. The written proposal also reiterated CIBC's view regarding the strategic benefits of the proposed combination to PrivateBancorp, in particular the benefits of becoming part of a larger, financially strong North American organization consistent with PrivateBancorp's strategic priorities to diversify PrivateBancorp's overall funding base to continue supporting loan growth over the long term.

On March 18, 2017, the special committee met to discuss the proposal received from CIBC the previous day. Representatives of PrivateBancorp management, Goldman Sachs and Wachtell Lipton attended the meeting. Mr. Richman began the meeting by summarizing his conversation with Mr. Dodig and the terms of the new proposal, a copy of which was provided to the members of the committee prior to the meeting. The special committee also reviewed materials prepared by Goldman Sachs summarizing the financial aspects of the proposal, a financial comparison of selected peer companies and the financial terms of recent comparable U.S. bank merger transactions. Representatives of PrivateBancorp management noted that, based on discussions with PrivateBancorp stockholders over the prior several months by both management and the company's proxy solicitor, the proposed merger consideration with a value of $59.00 per share would likely not result in stockholder approval being obtained. The special committee discussed the importance of any proposed increase in the merger consideration reflecting the changed market conditions and PrivateBancorp's enhanced outlook as illustrated by the revised three-year projections reviewed at the board's early February meeting, and the need to address current stockholder expectations regarding the merger consideration to obtain the required stockholder vote. At the conclusion of the meeting, the special committee directed the representatives of Goldman Sachs to communicate to J.P. Morgan that CIBC's proposal was unlikely to garner sufficient stockholder support and to attempt to secure a revised proposal from CIBC with a value in excess of $60 per share. Following the meeting, Goldman Sachs communicated to J.P. Morgan that CIBC's March 17 proposal was deemed inadequate. The PrivateBancorp board was kept apprised of these developments by the special committee and had access to the materials reviewed by the special committee.

Mr. Dodig contacted Mr. Richman on March 24, 2017. U.S. bank stock prices had declined significantly over the preceding week. For example, between March 16 and March 24, the KRX had dropped approximately 6%. During their phone conversation, Messrs. Dodig and Richman discussed generally the proposed merger consideration offered by CIBC on March 17, but Mr. Dodig and Mr. Richman ended the conversation without any tentative agreement on revised merger consideration.

On March 28, 2017, Mr. Dodig contacted Mr. Richman again. Mr. Dodig noted that despite the recent decline in U.S. bank stock prices since March 16, CIBC was prepared to increase the merger consideration to an implied value of $60.50 per share based on the closing price of CIBC common shares the previous day, consisting of $24.20 in cash and 0.4176 CIBC common shares per share of PrivateBancorp common stock. Mr. Dodig noted that the proposed increase reflected the same mix in the form of the merger consideration of approximately 40% cash and 60% stock as was agreed at the time the original merger agreement was executed in June 2016. He further noted that the revised proposal had been approved by the CIBC board of directors. Mr. Dodig indicated that although CIBC continued to recognize the long-term strategic benefits of the transaction, CIBC and its board did not intend to offer any further increase to the merger consideration. Mr. Richman indicated that he would present the increased offer to the PrivateBancorp board of directors for discussion.

On March 29, 2017, the PrivateBancorp board held a special meeting, attended by PrivateBancorp management and representatives of Goldman Sachs, Sandler, who had been engaged by the board to render an independent fairness opinion, and Wachtell Lipton. Mr. Richman and the members of the special committee began the meeting by summarizing for the board the recent communications with CIBC and the terms of the revised proposal communicated by Mr. Dodig the previous day. The board discussed extensively the terms of the proposed amended merger agreement and the transaction with CIBC and asked questions of management and the advisors. The board noted during the course of discussion that based on the closing price of CIBC common shares the previous day, the revised proposal represented a significant increase of approximately $800 million, or 20%, to the implied value of the merger consideration as compared to the merger consideration provided for in the original merger agreement. The board also discussed with PrivateBancorp's management and financial advisors the implied value of CIBC's revised proposal relative to other recent comparable transactions and PrivateBancorp's long-term outlook in light of recent market developments and economic events, including the updated financial projections and outlook discussed by the board with PrivateBancorp management at its meetings in January and early February. The board noted that no alternative acquisition proposals had been received by PrivateBancorp since the date of the original merger agreement. As part of this discussion, representatives of Innisfree reviewed with the board the current composition of PrivateBancorp's stockholder base and the feedback received in discussions by management and the proxy solicitor with PrivateBancorp stockholders over the prior several weeks.

At this point in the meeting, representatives of Goldman Sachs and Sandler then reviewed with the board their respective financial analyses of the revised merger consideration pursuant to the amendment to the merger agreement, as more fully described below under the heading " Opinions of PrivateBancorp's Financial Advisors," and each of the firms rendered to the PrivateBancorp board of directors its respective oral opinion (subsequently confirmed in writing) that, as of the date of their respective opinions and based on and subject to various assumptions, matters considered and limitations described in the opinion, the merger consideration to be paid to the holders of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock pursuant to the merger agreement (as amended) was fair, from a financial point of view, to those holders. Wachtell Lipton then reviewed for the board of directors the terms of the amendment and the original merger agreement with CIBC. A current summary of the draft of the amendment to the merger agreement was circulated to each member of the board prior to the meeting. After further discussion, and in light of the board's review and consideration of the factors described under " PrivateBancorp's Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of the PrivateBancorp Board of Directors", and the terms of the transaction with PrivateBancorp relative to the potential benefits, risks and uncertainties involved with not amending the merger agreement, the board unanimously determined that the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement (as amended) were advisable and in the best interests of PrivateBancorp and its stockholders, and the board unanimously approved and adopted the merger and determined to recommend that PrivateBancorp common stockholders approve and adopt the merger agreement (as amended). The PrivateBancorp board then directed management and the advisors to finalize the form of the proposed amendment to the merger agreement on the terms discussed at the meeting.

During the morning of March 30, 2017, the parties entered into the amendment to the merger agreement and issued a press release publicly announcing entry into the amendment.

PrivateBancorp's Reasons for the Merger; Board Recommendation of the PrivateBancorp Board of Directors

The following information replaces the information under the heading "The Merger PrivateBancorp's Reasons for the Merger; Board Recommendation of the PrivateBancorp Board of Directors" beginning on page 45 of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

After careful consideration, and in consultation with PrivateBancorp's management and external financial and legal advisors, the PrivateBancorp board unanimously determined that the amended merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the amended merger agreement were advisable, fair to and in the best interests of PrivateBancorp and its stockholders and approved and adopted the amended merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the amended merger agreement. Accordingly, the PrivateBancorp board unanimously recommends that its common stockholders approve and adopt the amended merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the amended merger agreement.

The PrivateBancorp board considered a number of factors in determining to approve the amended merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the amended merger agreement, including the following material factors:

the implied value of the merger consideration of $60.92 as of March 29, 2017 (the day of the board meeting at which the board approved the amendment to the merger agreement) represented an increase of approximately 20% compared to the value of the merger consideration provided for in the original merger agreement, and was 2.7 times PrivateBancorp's tangible book value per share as of December 31, 2016;

the financial presentations of PrivateBancorp's financial advisors, Goldman Sachs and Sandler, to the PrivateBancorp board on March 29, 2017, and the separate oral opinions of each such financial advisor delivered to the PrivateBancorp board on March 29, 2017, which opinions were subsequently confirmed in writing as of March 29, 2017, in the case of Sandler, and March 30, 2017, in the case of Goldman Sachs, that as of such date and based on and subject to certain assumptions, procedures, qualifications and limitations, the merger consideration was fair, from a financial point of view, to PrivateBancorp's common stockholders, as further described under "The Merger Opinions of PrivateBancorp's Financial Advisors;"

the PrivateBancorp board's familiarity with and understanding of PrivateBancorp's business, results of operations, asset quality, financial and market position, business risks, strategic challenges and its expectations concerning PrivateBancorp's future earnings and prospects;

the belief that the merger would accelerate the accomplishment of a variety of key elements of PrivateBancorp's strategic priorities, promoting both continuity and growth, providing an ongoing source of diversified, stable funding, diversifying its balance sheet and revenue, mitigating risks associated with operating a concentrated business model on a stand-alone basis and enabling PrivateBancorp's team to maintain and even strengthen PrivateBancorp's value proposition by drawing upon the combined company's compatible competencies, talented employees and combined resources;

the PrivateBancorp board's familiarity with and understanding of the current and prospective banking environment in which each of PrivateBancorp and CIBC operate, including foreign, domestic and local economic conditions, the interest rate environment, the competitive and regulatory environments for financial institutions generally, and the likely effect of these factors on PrivateBancorp both with and without the merger;

the relative valuations of PrivateBancorp common stock and CIBC common shares and the potential for PrivateBancorp's stockholders, as future CIBC shareholders, to benefit to the extent of their interest in the combined company from the synergies of the merger, in particular, enhanced revenue opportunities, and the anticipated pro forma impact of the merger discussed with the PrivateBancorp board, and the expectation that the merger will be accretive to CIBC's adjusted earnings per share within three years of the closing date;

the view that the shared core values of PrivateBancorp and CIBC, including both companies' prudent risk culture, strong commitment to client service, focus on building solid client relationships, and complementary business fit in the United States make the proposed combination a compelling strategic opportunity and would contribute to the likelihood of successful integration and operation of the combined company post-closing, as well as the view that the combined strength of CIBC's and PrivateBancorp's management teams would benefit PrivateBancorp common stockholders as future CIBC shareholders;

the PrivateBancorp board's evaluation, with the assistance of financial advisors, of strategic alternatives available to PrivateBancorp for maximizing value over the long term and the potential risks, rewards and uncertainties associated with such alternatives, and the PrivateBancorp board's belief when approving the original merger agreement that the proposed merger with CIBC was the best option available to PrivateBancorp common stockholders and its continued belief that the proposed merger is in the best interests of stockholders;

the cash component of the merger consideration offers PrivateBancorp common stockholders the opportunity to realize cash for the value of their shares with immediate certainty of value and mitigates some of the risk of the value of the merger consideration decreasing prior to closing as a result of a decline in the trading price of CIBC common shares;

the stock component of the merger consideration offers PrivateBancorp common stockholders the opportunity to participate in the future growth and opportunities of the combined company, and the expected tax treatment of the merger as a "reorganization" for U.S. federal income tax purposes, such that receipt of share consideration will generally be tax-free to PrivateBancorp's common stockholders to the extent realized gains exceed the cash consideration received (including cash in lieu of fractional shares), as further described under "The Merger Material United States Federal Income Tax Consequences" in the proxy statement/prospectus;

the significantly higher current dividend yield of CIBC common shares relative to PrivateBancorp common stock;

CIBC's commitment that at the effective time of the merger, PrivateBank will be headquartered in Chicago, Illinois, and Holdco and PrivateBank will constitute the primary banking, lending and wealth management platform of CIBC in the United States;

the results of the reverse due diligence conducted by PrivateBancorp and its advisors on CIBC during the negotiation of the transaction of the original merger agreement and Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement and PrivateBancorp's knowledge of CIBC's management team, business, results of operations, financial and market position and future earnings and prospects;

the historical trading prices, volumes and performance of each of PrivateBancorp's common stock and CIBC's common shares, and both companies' trading multiples of earnings and tangible book value relative to historical levels;

the regulatory and other approvals required in connection with the merger, and the expectation that such approvals could be received in a reasonably timely manner and without the imposition of unacceptable conditions;

the terms and conditions of the amended merger agreement and the course of negotiations of the amended merger agreement (see "The Merger Terms of the Merger" in the proxy statement/prospectus), the ability of the PrivateBancorp board, under certain circumstances, to change its recommendation to PrivateBancorp stockholders regarding the merger (see "The Merger Agreement Covenants and Agreements" in the proxy statement/prospectus), the conditions to closing (see "The Merger Agreement Conditions to the Merger" in the proxy statement/prospectus), the ability of PrivateBancorp to terminate the merger agreement under certain circumstances (see "The Merger Agreement Termination" in the proxy statement/prospectus), the possibility that PrivateBancorp would be required to pay a termination fee under certain circumstances, as well as the PrivateBancorp board's belief that the termination fee is not likely to significantly deter another party from making a superior acquisition proposal (see "The Merger Agreement Effect of Termination and Termination Fee" in the proxy statement/prospectus) and that PrivateBancorp's common stockholders will have an opportunity to vote on the merger and that their approval is a condition to completion of the merger (see "The Merger Agreement Conditions to the Merger" in the proxy statement/prospectus), and the terms of the merger agreement that restrict PrivateBancorp's ability to solicit alternative transactions (see "The Merger Agreement Covenants and Agreements" in the proxy statement/prospectus);

the risk that the merger may not be consummated or that the closing may be unduly delayed, including as a result of factors outside either party's control;

the potential risk of diverting management attention and resources from the operation of PrivateBancorp's business to the merger, and the possibility of employee attrition and the transactions contemplated in the amended merger agreement intended to mitigate this risk;

adverse effects on client and business relationships as a result of the announcement and pendency of the merger;

the potential risks and costs associated with successfully integrating elements of PrivateBancorp's business, operations and workforce with those of CIBC, including the risk of not realizing all of the anticipated benefits of the merger or not realizing them in the expected timeframe; and the other risks described under the sections entitled "Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements."

In considering the recommendation of the PrivateBancorp board, you should be aware that certain directors and officers of PrivateBancorp may have interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, interests of stockholders of PrivateBancorp generally and may create potential conflicts of interest. The PrivateBancorp board was aware of these interests and considered them when evaluating and negotiating the original merger agreement and the amended merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the amended merger agreement, and in recommending to PrivateBancorp's common stockholders that they vote in favor of the merger agreement proposal. See "The Merger Interests of PrivateBancorp Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger."

This discussion of the information and factors considered by the PrivateBancorp board includes the material factors considered by the PrivateBancorp board, but it is not intended to be exhaustive and may not include all the factors considered by the PrivateBancorp board. In view of the wide variety of factors considered, and the complexity of these matters, the PrivateBancorp board did not quantify or assign any relative or specific weights to the various factors that it considered in reaching its determination to adopt and approve the amended merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the amended merger agreement. Rather, the PrivateBancorp board viewed its recommendation as being based on the totality of the information presented to and factors considered by it, including discussions with, and questioning of, PrivateBancorp's management and its financial and legal advisors. In addition, individual members of the PrivateBancorp board may have given differing weights to different factors. It should be noted that this explanation of the reasoning of the PrivateBancorp board and certain information presented in this section is forward-looking in nature and, therefore, that information should be read in light of the factors discussed in the section entitled "Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements."

For the reasons set forth above, the PrivateBancorp board of directors unanimously recommends that the PrivateBancorp common stockholders vote "FOR" the merger agreement proposal.

Opinions of PrivateBancorp's Financial Advisors

Opinion of Goldman Sachs

At a meeting of the PrivateBancorp board of directors held to evaluate the amendment to the merger agreement, Goldman Sachs rendered to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp its oral opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, to the effect that, as of March 30, 2017, the date of its written opinion, and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions set forth in Goldman Sachs' written opinion, the merger consideration consisting of $24.20 in cash and 0.4176 CIBC common shares to be paid to the holders (other than CIBC and its affiliates) of the shares of PrivateBancorp common stock pursuant to the amended merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view to such holders.

The full text of the written opinion of Goldman Sachs, dated March 30, 2017, which sets forth assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered, qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken in connection with the opinion, is attached to this supplement as Appendix B. The summary of the Goldman Sachs opinion contained in this supplement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of Goldman Sachs' written opinion. Goldman Sachs' advisory services and opinion were provided for the information and assistance of the board of directors of PrivateBancorp in connection with its consideration of the merger and the opinion does not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of PrivateBancorp common stock should vote with respect to the proposed transaction or any other matter.

In connection with rendering the opinion described above and performing its related financial analyses, Goldman Sachs reviewed, among other things:

the amended merger agreement;

annual reports to stockholders and Annual Reports on Form 10-K of PrivateBancorp for the five fiscal years ended December 31, 2016 and annual reports to shareholders and Annual Reports on Form 40-F of CIBC for the five fiscal years ended October 31, 2016; certain interim reports to stockholders and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q of PrivateBancorp and certain interim reports to shareholders of CIBC;

certain other communications from PrivateBancorp to its stockholders and from CIBC to its shareholders; certain publicly available research analyst reports for PrivateBancorp and CIBC; and certain updated internal financial analyses and forecasts for PrivateBancorp on a stand-alone basis prepared by its management, which we refer to as "PrivateBancorp Financial Forecasts," certain financial analyses and forecasts for CIBC on a stand-alone basis reflecting CIBC management's publicly disclosed guidance as extrapolated by management of PrivateBancorp, which we refer to as the "CIBC Forecasts," and certain financial analyses and forecasts for combined PrivateBancorp and CIBC provided by PrivateBancorp and comprised of the PrivateBancorp Financial Forecasts, the CIBC Forecasts and the Adjustments/Synergies (as defined below), which we refer to as the "CIBC Pro-Forma Forecasts," in each case as approved for Goldman Sachs' use by PrivateBancorp, which we refer to, collectively, as the Forecasts, including certain adjustments and operating synergies and other adjustments anticipated by the management of PrivateBancorp to result from the proposed transaction, as approved for Goldman Sachs' use by PrivateBancorp, which we refer to as the "Adjustments/Synergies."

Goldman Sachs also held discussions with members of the senior management of PrivateBancorp regarding their assessment of the past and current business operations, financial condition and future prospects of PrivateBancorp and CIBC and the strategic rationale for, and the potential benefits of, the proposed transaction; and with members of the senior management of CIBC regarding their assessment of the past and current business operations, financial condition and future prospects of CIBC and the strategic rationale for, and the potential benefits of, the proposed transaction; reviewed the reported price and trading activity for PrivateBancorp common stock and CIBC common shares; compared certain financial and stock market information for PrivateBancorp and CIBC with similar information for certain other companies the securities of which are publicly traded; reviewed the financial terms of certain recent business combinations in the banking industry; and performed such other studies and analyses, and considered such other factors, as Goldman Sachs deemed appropriate.

For purposes of rendering its opinion, Goldman Sachs, with the consent of the PrivateBancorp board of directors, relied upon and assumed the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial, legal, regulatory, tax, accounting and other information provided to, discussed with or reviewed by, Goldman Sachs, without assuming any responsibility for independent verification thereof. In that regard, Goldman Sachs assumed with the consent of the board of directors of PrivateBancorp that the Forecasts, including the Adjustments/Synergies, have been reasonably prepared and reflect the best currently available estimates and judgments of the management of PrivateBancorp. Goldman Sachs did not review individual credit files or make an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets and liabilities (including any contingent, derivative or other off-balance-sheet assets and liabilities) of PrivateBancorp or CIBC or any of their respective subsidiaries and Goldman Sachs was not furnished with any such evaluation or appraisal. Goldman Sachs is not an expert in the evaluation of loan and lease portfolios for purposes of assessing the adequacy of the allowances and marks for losses with respect thereto and, accordingly, Goldman Sachs assumed that such allowances and marks are in the aggregate adequate to cover such losses. Goldman Sachs assumed that all governmental, regulatory or other consents and approvals necessary for the consummation of the proposed transaction will be obtained without any adverse effect on PrivateBancorp or CIBC or on the expected benefits of the proposed transaction in any way meaningful to Goldman Sachs' analysis. Goldman Sachs assumed that the proposed transaction will be completed on the terms set forth in the amended merger agreement, without the waiver or modification of any term or condition the effect of which would be in any way meaningful to its analysis.

Goldman Sachs' opinion does not address the underlying business decision of PrivateBancorp to engage in the proposed transaction, or the relative merits of the proposed transaction as compared to any strategic alternatives that may be available to PrivateBancorp; nor does it address any legal, regulatory, tax or accounting matters. Goldman Sachs was not requested to solicit, and did not solicit, interest from other parties with respect to an acquisition of, or other business combination with, PrivateBancorp or any other alternative transaction. Goldman Sachs' opinion addresses only the fairness from a financial point of view to the holders (other than CIBC and its affiliates) of PrivateBancorp common stock, as of March 30, 2017, of the merger consideration to be paid to such holders pursuant to the amended merger agreement. Goldman Sachs did not express any view on, and its opinion does not address, any other term or aspect of the amended merger agreement, or the proposed transaction or any term or aspect of any other agreement or instrument contemplated by the amended merger agreement or entered into or amended in connection with the proposed transaction, including, the fairness of the proposed transaction to, or any consideration received in connection therewith by, the holders of any other class of securities, creditors, or other constituencies of PrivateBancorp; nor as to the fairness of the amount or nature of any compensation to be paid or payable to any of the officers, directors or employees of PrivateBancorp, or class of such persons, in connection with the proposed transaction, whether relative to the merger consideration to be paid to the holders (other than CIBC and its affiliates) of PrivateBancorp common stock pursuant to the amended merger agreement or otherwise. Goldman Sachs did not express any opinion as to the prices at which the CIBC common shares will trade at any time or as to the impact of the proposed transaction on the solvency or viability of PrivateBancorp or CIBC or the ability of PrivateBancorp or CIBC to pay their respective obligations when they come due. Goldman Sachs' opinion was necessarily based on economic, monetary, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to Goldman Sachs as of March 30, 2017, and Goldman Sachs assumed no responsibility for updating, revising or reaffirming its opinion based on circumstances, developments or events occurring after March 30, 2017. Goldman Sachs' advisory services and its opinion were provided for the information and assistance of the board of directors of PrivateBancorp in connection with its consideration of the proposed transaction and the opinion does not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock should vote with respect to the proposed transaction or any other matter. Goldman Sachs' opinion was approved by a fairness committee of Goldman Sachs.

The following is a summary of the material financial analyses presented by Goldman Sachs to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp in connection with rendering the opinion described above. The following summary, however, does not purport to be a complete description of the financial analyses performed by Goldman Sachs, nor does the order of analyses described represent relative importance or weight given to those analyses by Goldman Sachs. Some of the summaries of the financial analyses include information presented in tabular format. The tables must be read together with the full text of each summary and are alone not a complete description of Goldman Sachs' financial analyses. Except as otherwise noted, the following quantitative information, to the extent that it is based on market data, is based on market data as it existed on or before March 27, 2017, and is not necessarily indicative of current market conditions.

Analysis of Implied Deal Premia and Multiples

Goldman Sachs calculated and compared certain premia and multiples using the closing price for shares of PrivateBancorp common stock on March 27, 2017, and the implied value of the merger consideration. For purposes of its analysis, Goldman Sachs used an implied value for the merger consideration of $60.50, which reflects the sum of (1) the exchange ratio of 0.4176 multiplied by $86.93, the closing price for the CIBC common shares on the New York Stock Exchange on March 27, 2017, and (2) the $24.20 per share of cash merger consideration.

In addition, Goldman Sachs calculated and compared certain premia and multiples using the terms of the original merger agreement, without giving effect to the amendment, which we refer to as the June 29 transaction, using the closing price for shares of PrivateBancorp common stock on March 27, 2017 and on June 28, 2016, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the June 29 transaction, to calculate the implied value of the merger consideration using the terms of the June 29 transaction. For purposes of its analysis, Goldman Sachs used an implied value for the merger consideration as of March 27, 2017 using the terms of the June 29 transaction of $50.59, which reflects the sum of (1) the exchange ratio of 0.3657 multiplied by $86.93, the closing price for the CIBC common shares on the New York Stock Exchange on March 27, 2017, and (2) the $18.80 per share of cash merger consideration; and an implied value for the merger consideration as of June 29, 2016 using the terms of the June 29 transaction of $47.00, which reflects the sum of (1) the exchange ratio of 0.3657 multiplied by $77.11, the closing price for the CIBC common shares on the New York Stock Exchange on June 28, 2016, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the June 29 transaction, and (2) the $18.80 per share of cash merger consideration.

Goldman Sachs calculated and/or compared the following:

the closing share price for PrivateBancorp common stock on March 27, 2017, as compared to (i) the average trading price of the shares of PrivateBancorp common stock over the 90-day time period ended March 27, 2017, (ii) the all-time high closing price of the shares of PrivateBancorp common stock and (iii) the closing price for PrivateBancorp common stock on June 28, 2016, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the June 29 transaction;

the implied premia represented by the implied value of the merger consideration and the implied value of the merger consideration using the terms of the June 29 transaction relative to (i) the closing share price for PrivateBancorp common stock on March 27, 2017, (ii) the average trading price of the shares of PrivateBancorp common stock over the 90-day time period ended March 27, 2017, (iii) the all-time high closing price of the shares of PrivateBancorp common stock and (iv) the closing price for PrivateBancorp common stock on June 28, 2016, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the June 29 transaction;

the closing share price for PrivateBancorp common stock on March 27, 2017, as a multiple of the estimated earnings per share, or "EPS," for 2017 and 2018 for PrivateBancorp, calculated using both the EPS estimates for PrivateBancorp reflected in the PrivateBancorp Financial Forecasts and the median EPS estimates for PrivateBancorp published by Institutional Broker Estimate System, or "IBES", as of March 27, 2017;

the $60.50 per share implied value of the merger consideration, the $50.59 per share implied value of the merger consideration using the terms of the June 29 transaction as of March 27, 2017, and the $47.00 per share implied value of the merger consideration using the terms of the June 29 transaction as of June 29, 2016 as a multiple of the price to estimated EPS for 2017 and 2018 for PrivateBancorp, calculated using both the EPS estimates for the PrivateBancorp reflected in PrivateBancorp Financial Forecasts and the median EPS estimates for PrivateBancorp published by IBES as of March 27, 2017;

the closing share price for PrivateBancorp common stock on March 27, 2017 as a multiple of the stated book value per share, or "SBV per share," and the tangible book value per share, or "TBV per share," for PrivateBancorp, in each case as of December 31, 2016, using TBV per share and SBV per share information provided by management of PrivateBancorp; and the $60.50 per share implied value of the merger consideration, the $50.59 per share implied value of the merger consideration using the terms of the June 29 transaction as of March 27, 2017, and the $47.00 per share implied value of the merger consideration using the terms of the June 29 transaction as of June 29, 2016 as a multiple of the SBV per share and TBV per share as of December 31, 2016.

Selected Companies Analyses for PrivateBancorp on a Stand-alone Basis

Goldman Sachs reviewed and compared certain financial information for PrivateBancorp to corresponding financial information and public market multiples for selected publicly traded companies in the banking industry.

Goldman Sachs calculated and compared with respect to PrivateBancorp and each of the selected companies its price per share as of March 27, 2017:

as a multiple of estimated EPS for the next twelve month, or the "NTM period" on a time weighted basis, ended December 31, 2017, as a multiple of estimated EPS for calendar year 2017 and as a multiple of estimated EPS for calendar year 2018;

as a multiple of its SBV per share and TBV per share as of its most recently completed fiscal quarter for which SBV per share and TBV per share information was publicly available as of March 27, 2017; and the excess of price per share over tangible book value per share divided by core deposits per share (calculated exclusive of time deposits with balances in excess of $100,000), or "Core Deposit Premium".

For purposes of its calculations, Goldman Sachs used NTM period, 2017 and 2018 EPS estimates for PrivateBancorp and the selected companies reflecting the most recent median EPS estimates for such companies published by IBES as of March 27, 2017. For PrivateBancorp, Goldman Sachs also used the NTM period, 2017 and 2018 EPS estimates reflected in the PrivateBancorp Financial Forecasts. Goldman Sachs used SBV per share and TBV per share information for PrivateBancorp and for the selected companies as publicly disclosed.

applying a discount rate of 12.75%, reflecting an estimate of PrivateBancorp's cost of equity on a stand-alone basis, derived by application of the Capital Asset Pricing Model, which incorporates certain company-specific inputs, including a beta for the company, as well as certain financial metrics for the United States markets generally, Goldman Sachs discounted to present value as of December 31, 2016, both the theoretical future values per share it derived and the estimated dividends to be paid per share of PrivateBancorp common stock through the end of the applicable year as reflected in the PrivateBancorp Financial Forecasts to yield illustrative present values per share of common stock of PrivateBancorp on a stand-alone basis ranging from $44.76 to $51.30.

Illustrative Discounted Dividend Analyses for PrivateBancorp on a Stand-Alone Basis

Using PrivateBancorp Financial Forecasts, Goldman Sachs performed an illustrative discounted dividend analyses on PrivateBancorp, on a stand-alone basis, to derive a range of illustrative present values per share of PrivateBancorp common stock on a stand-alone basis.

Using discount rates ranging from 11.75% to 13.75%, reflecting estimates of the cost of equity for PrivateBancorp on a stand-alone basis, derived by application of the Capital Asset Pricing Model, which incorporates certain company-specific inputs, including a beta for the company, as well as certain financial metrics for the United States markets generally, Goldman Sachs derived a range of illustrative equity values for PrivateBancorp on a stand-alone basis by discounting to present value as of December 31, 2016, (a) the estimated dividends to be paid by PrivateBancorp to PrivateBancorp's stockholders and the estimated cash infusion to be made into PrivateBancorp over the period beginning December 31, 2016 through the year ending December 31, 2021, based on the PrivateBancorp Financial Forecasts and PrivateBancorp maintaining a common equity tier 1 ratio, or "CET1 Ratio," ranging from 9.0% to 10.0%, and (b) a range of illustrative terminal values for PrivateBancorp on a stand-alone basis as of December 31, 2021, calculated by applying illustrative price to EPS multiples ranging from 15.5x to 17.0x to the estimate of PrivateBancorp's EPS for the year ending December 31, 2022, reflected in the PrivateBancorp Financial Forecasts. Goldman Sachs then divided the range of illustrative equity values it derived for PrivateBancorp by the total number of fully diluted shares of PrivateBancorp common stock outstanding as provided by PrivateBancorp management to derive illustrative present values per share of common stock of PrivateBancorp on a stand-alone basis ranging from $47.14 to $55.61.

Company Stand-Alone Regression Analysis

Goldman Sachs performed a regression analysis using the price/TBV per share multiples for the selected companies calculated by Goldman Sachs as summarized under " Selected Companies Analyses for PrivateBancorp on a Stand-alone Basis" above compared to the estimated 2017 return on average tangible common equity, or the "2017E ROATCE," for the selected companies using the median estimates for such companies published by IBES as of March 27, 2017, to derive a regression line reflecting a range of Price/TBV per share multiples at a range of 2017E ROATCEs for the selected companies. The 2017E ROATCE for PrivateBancorp on a stand-alone basis, as reflected in the PrivateBancorp Financial Forecasts corresponded to a Price/TBV per share multiple of 2.3x on the regression line. By applying Price/TBV per share multiples ranging from 2.2x to 2.5x, reflecting Price/TBV per share multiples ranging plus or minus one standard deviation from the 2.3x Price/TBV per share multiple on the regression line, to TBV per share as of December 31, 2016 for PrivateBancorp, as provided by PrivateBancorp management, Goldman Sachs derived implied values per share of common stock of PrivateBancorp on a stand-alone basis ranging from $49.17 to $57.77.

Selected Transactions Analysis

Goldman Sachs reviewed and compared certain publicly available information relating to selected acquisition transactions announced since 2013 in which the target company had an asset value of $5 billion or more and involving target companies in the banking and thrift industry.

Goldman Sachs calculated and compared with respect to each of the selected transactions and the proposed transaction:

the implied premia represented by the implied value of the consideration per target company share paid in the applicable transaction relative to the last undisturbed closing share price for the target company prior to the announcement of the applicable transaction, or "One-Day Offer Premia";

the implied value of the consideration per target company share paid in the applicable transaction as a multiple of the target company's estimated EPS for its first full fiscal year after the announcement of the applicable transaction, or "Consideration/FY + 1 EPS";

the implied value of the consideration per target company share paid in the applicable transaction as a multiple of the target company's Consideration/FY + 1 EPS, as adjusted to include buyer's publicly disclosed fully phased-in announced synergies as a percentage of non-interest expense of the target, assuming a 35% tax rate, or "Consideration/Synergy Adjusted FY + 1 EPS";

the implied value of the consideration per target company share paid in the applicable transaction as a multiple of SBV per share, or the "Consideration/SBV per share," and as a multiple of TBV per share, or "Consideration/TBV per share," of the target company as of the last full fiscal quarter prior to the announcement of the applicable transaction; and the implied value of the consideration per target company share paid in the applicable transaction over tangible book value per share as a percentage of core deposits per share (calculated exclusive of time deposits with balances in excess of $100,000) of the target company as of the last full fiscal quarter prior to the announcement of the applicable transaction.

For purposes of its calculations, Goldman Sachs used estimates for EPS for each target company's first full fiscal year after the announcement of the applicable transaction reflecting the most recent median estimates for such company published by SNL Financial prior to the announcement of the applicable transaction, and Goldman Sachs used SBV per share, TBV per share and core deposit figures publicly disclosed for each target company for the last quarter end prior to the announcement of the applicable transaction. In performing its calculations with respect to PrivateBancorp and the proposed transaction, Goldman used the closing share price for PrivateBancorp common stock as of March 27, 2017, the 2017 EPS estimate reflected in the PrivateBancorp Financial Forecasts and the most recent median 2017 EPS estimate for PrivateBancorp published by IBES as of March 27, 2017 and the SBV per share, TBV per share and core deposit per share information for PrivateBancorp as provided by PrivateBancorp management.

Although none of the target companies in the selected transactions are directly comparable to PrivateBancorp and none of the selected transactions are directly comparable to the proposed transaction, the selected transactions were chosen because the target companies were publicly traded companies with operations that for purposes of analysis may be considered similar to certain operations of PrivateBancorp, and as such, for purposes of the analysis, the selected transactions may be considered similar to the proposed transaction.

CIBC Selected Companies Analyses

Goldman Sachs reviewed and compared certain financial information for CIBC to corresponding financial information and public market multiples for selected publicly traded companies in the Canadian banking industry.

Goldman Sachs calculated and compared with respect to CIBC and each of the selected companies its closing price per share as of March 27, 2017, on the New York Stock Exchange (except National Bank of Canada, for which the closing share price on the Toronto Stock Exchange was used a translated into US dollars at C$/US$ rate of 0.747):

as a multiple of estimated cash EPS for the next twelve months, or the "NTM period" on a time weighted basis, as a multiple of estimated cash EPS for fiscal year 2017 and as a multiple of estimated cash EPS for fiscal year 2018; and as a multiple of its SBV per share and TBV per share as of its most recently completed fiscal quarter for which SBV per share and TBV per share information was publicly available as of March 27, 2017.

For purposes of its calculations, Goldman Sachs used NTM period, fiscal year 2017 and fiscal year 2018 cash EPS estimates for the selected companies and CIBC reflecting the most recent median EPS estimates for such companies published by IBES as of March 27, 2017. Goldman Sachs used SBV per share and TBV per share information for the selected companies and CIBC as publicly disclosed.

Illustrative Present Value of Future Stock Price Analyses for CIBC on Stand-Alone and Pro-Forma Bases

Goldman Sachs performed an illustrative analysis of the implied present value of the future value per share of CIBC common shares on a stand-alone basis and on a pro-forma basis giving effect to the proposed transaction.

Goldman Sachs derived a range of theoretical future values per share for CIBC common shares on a stand-alone basis as of October 31, 2017, 2018 and 2019, by applying illustrative price to EPS multiples of 10.5x and 11.5x to the estimates of CIBC's cash EPS for the fiscal years ending October 31, 2018, 2019 and 2020, respectively, reflected in the CIBC Forecasts. By applying a discount rate of 9.0%, reflecting an estimate of CIBC's cost of equity on a stand-alone basis, derived by application of the Capital Asset Pricing Model, which incorporates certain company-specific inputs, including a beta for the company, as well as certain financial metrics for the United States and, in the case of CIBC, Canadian markets generally, Goldman Sachs discounted to present value as of January 31, 2017 both the theoretical future values per share it derived for CIBC on a stand-alone basis and the estimated dividends to be paid per CIBC common share on a stand-alone basis through the end of the applicable year as reflected in the CIBC Forecasts to yield illustrative present values per CIBC common share on a stand-alone basis ranging from $85.79 to $95.38.

Goldman Sachs also derived a range of theoretical future values per share for CIBC common shares on a pro-forma basis (giving effect to the proposed transaction) as of October 31, 2017, 2018 and 2019, by applying illustrative price to cash EPS multiples of 11.0x and 12.0x to the estimates of CIBC's cash EPS for the fiscal years ending October 31, 2018, 2019 and 2020, respectively, reflected in the CIBC Pro-Forma Forecasts. By applying a discount rate of 9.25%, reflecting an estimate of CIBC's cost of equity on a pro-forma basis, derived by application of the Capital Asset Pricing Model, which incorporates certain company-specific inputs, including a beta for the company, as well as certain financial metrics for the United States and, in the case of CIBC on a pro-forma basis, Canadian markets generally. Goldman Sachs discounted to present value as of January 31, 2017 both the theoretical future values per share it derived for CIBC on a pro-forma basis and the estimated dividends to be paid per CIBC common share on a pro-forma basis through the end of the applicable year as reflected in the CIBC Pro-Forma Forecasts to yield illustrative present values per common share of CIBC on a pro-forma basis ranging from $88.93 to $98.81.

Goldman Sachs multiplied this range of illustrative present values per CIBC common share on a pro-forma basis by an illustrative transaction exchange ratio of 0.4176 and added to the result $24.20, the per share cash merger consideration, to derive a range of illustrative present values for the merger consideration of $61.34 to $65.46 per share of common stock of PrivateBancorp.

Illustrative Discounted Dividend Analyses for CIBC on Stand-Alone and Pro-Forma Bases

Using the CIBC Forecasts, Goldman Sachs performed illustrative discounted dividend analyses on CIBC on stand-alone and pro-forma bases to derive ranges of illustrative present values per share of CIBC common shares on stand-alone and pro-forma bases.

Using discount rates ranging from 8.0% to 10.0%, reflecting estimates of the cost of equity for CIBC on a stand-alone basis, derived by application of the Capital Asset Pricing Model, which incorporates certain company-specific inputs, including a beta for the company, as well as certain financial metrics for the United States and, in the case of CIBC, Canadian markets generally, Goldman Sachs derived a range of illustrative equity values for CIBC on a stand-alone basis by discounting to present value as of January 31, 2017, (a) the estimated dividends to be paid by CIBC to its shareholders over the period beginning February 1, 2017, through the end of CIBC's fiscal year ending October 31, 2021, as reflected in the CIBC Forecasts and assuming CIBC maintaining Tier 1 Leverage ratios ranging from 3.5% to 4.5%, and (b) a range of illustrative terminal values for CIBC on a stand-alone basis as of October 31, 2021, calculated by applying illustrative price to cash EPS multiples ranging from 10.5x to 11.5x to the estimate of CIBC's cash EPS for its fiscal year ending October 31, 2022, reflected in the CIBC Forecasts. Goldman Sachs then divided the range of illustrative equity values it derived for CIBC on a stand-alone basis by the total number of fully diluted CIBC common shares outstanding as provided by PrivateBancorp management, to derive illustrative present values per common share of CIBC on a stand-alone basis ranging from $94.78 to $113.65.

Using discount rates ranging from 8.25% to 10.25%, reflecting estimates of the cost of equity for CIBC on a pro-forma basis (giving effect to the proposed transaction), derived by application of the Capital Asset Pricing Model, which incorporates certain company-specific inputs, including a beta for the company, as well as certain financial metrics for the United States and, in the case of CIBC on a pro-forma basis, Canadian markets generally, Goldman Sachs derived a range of illustrative equity values for CIBC on a pro-forma basis by discounting to present value as of January 31, 2017, (a) the estimated dividends to be paid by CIBC to the CIBC shareholders and the estimated cash infusion to be made into CIBC over the period beginning February 1, 2017, through the end of CIBC's fiscal year ending October 31, 2021, as well as the dividends and estimated cash infusions that would be made into PrivateBancorp as reflected in the CIBC Forecasts for the period until closing of the proposed transaction (assumed, for illustrative purposes to occur in the third quarter of CIBC's fiscal year ended October 31, 2017) and the CIBC Pro-Forma Forecasts for the periods thereafter and on CIBC maintaining Tier 1 Leverage ratios ranging from 3.5% to 4.5%, and (b) a range of illustrative terminal values for CIBC on a pro-forma basis as of October 31, 2021, calculated by applying illustrative price to cash EPS multiples ranging from 11.0x to 12.0x to the estimate of CIBC's cash EPS for its fiscal year ending October 31, 2022, reflected in the CIBC Pro-Forma Forecasts. Goldman Sachs then divided the range of illustrative equity values it derived for CIBC on a pro-forma basis by the total number of fully diluted CIBC common shares outstanding, increased by the number of CIBC common shares anticipated to be issued in the proposed transaction, as provided by PrivateBancorp management, to derive illustrative present values per common share of CIBC on a pro-forma basis ranging from $95.55 to $113.63.

Goldman Sachs multiplied this range of illustrative present values per common share of CIBC on a pro-forma basis by an illustrative transaction exchange ratio of 0.4176 and added to the result $24.20, the per share cash merger consideration, to derive a range of illustrative present values for the merger consideration of $64.10 to $71.65 per share of PrivateBancorp common stock.

Regression Analysis for CIBC

Goldman Sachs performed a regression analysis using the price/TBV per share multiples for the selected companies calculated by Goldman Sachs as summarized under " CIBC Selected Companies Analyses for PrivateBancorp on a Stand-alone Basis" above compared to the estimated fiscal year 2018 return on average tangible common equity, or the "FY 2018E ROATCE," for the selected companies using the median estimates for such companies published by IBES as of March 27, 2017, to derive a regression line reflecting a range of Price/TBV per share multiples at a range of FY 2018E ROATCEs for the selected companies. The FY 2018E ROATCE for CIBC on a stand-alone basis, as reflected in the CIBC Forecasts yielded a regression implied price per common share of CIBC of $97.25. The FY 2018E ROATCE for CIBC on a pro-forma basis as reflected in the CIBC Pro-Forma Forecasts yielded a regression implied price per common share of CIBC of $100.16 as of closing of the proposed transaction (assumed for illustrative purposes to occur in the third quarter of CIBC's fiscal year ended October 31, 2017) corresponding to a Price/TBV per share multiple of 2.7x on the regression line. Goldman Sachs applied illustrative Price/TBV per share multiples ranging from plus or minus one standard deviation from the 2.7x Price/TBV per share multiple on the regression line, to TBV per share of CIBC on a pro-forma basis as of closing of the proposed transaction as reflected in the CIBC Pro-Forma Forecasts and discounted the result to present value as of January 31, 2017, using a discount rate of 9.25%, reflecting an estimate of CIBC's cost of equity on a pro-forma basis, derived by application of the Capital Asset Pricing Model, which incorporates certain company-specific inputs, including a beta for the company, as well as certain financial metrics for the United States and, in the case of CIBC on a pro-forma basis, Canadian markets generally, to derive regression implied present values per common share of CIBC on a pro-forma basis ranging from $90.54 to $103.76.

Goldman Sachs multiplied this range of regression implied present values per common share of CIBC on a pro-forma basis by an illustrative transaction exchange ratio of 0.4176 and added to the result $24.20, the per share cash merger consideration, to derive a range of illustrative implied present values for the merger consideration of $62.01 to $67.53 per share of PrivateBancorp common stock.

In addition, Goldman Sachs applied illustrative Price/TBV per share multiples ranging from plus or minus one standard deviation from the 2.7x Price/TBV per share multiple taking into account a 10.7% constant discount to the regression line, to TBV per share of CIBC on a pro-forma basis as of closing of the proposed transaction as reflected in the CIBC Pro-Forma Forecasts and discounted the result to present value as of January 31, 2017, using a discount rate of 9.25%, reflecting an estimate of CIBC's cost of equity on a pro-forma basis, derived by application of the Capital Asset Pricing Model, which incorporates certain company-specific inputs, including a beta for the company, as well as certain financial metrics for the United States and, in the case of CIBC on a pro-forma basis, Canadian markets generally, to derive regression implied present values per common share of CIBC on a pro-forma basis ranging from $80.90 to $92.70.

Goldman Sachs multiplied this range of regression implied present values per common share of CIBC on a pro-forma basis by an illustrative transaction exchange ratio of 0.4176 and added to the result $24.20, the per share cash merger consideration, to derive a range of illustrative implied present values for the merger consideration of $57.98 to $62.91 per share of PrivateBancorp common stock.

General

The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. Selecting portions of the analyses or of the summary set forth above, without considering the analyses as a whole, could create an incomplete view of the processes underlying Goldman Sachs' opinion. In arriving at its fairness determination, Goldman Sachs considered the results of all of its analyses and did not attribute any particular weight to any factor or analysis considered by it. Rather, Goldman Sachs made its determination as to fairness on the basis of its experience and professional judgment after considering the results of all of its analyses. No company or transaction used in the above analyses as a comparison is directly comparable to PrivateBancorp or CIBC or the proposed transaction.

Goldman Sachs prepared these analyses for purposes of providing its opinion to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp that, as of March 30, 2017, the date of its written opinion, and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions set forth in Goldman Sachs' written opinion, the merger consideration to be paid to the holders (other than CIBC and its affiliates) of the shares of PrivateBancorp common stock pursuant to the amended merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view to such holders. These analyses do not purport to be appraisals nor do they necessarily reflect the prices at which businesses or securities actually may be sold. Analyses based upon projections of future results are not necessarily indicative of actual future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by these analyses. Because these analyses are inherently subject to uncertainty, being based upon numerous factors or events beyond the control of the parties or their respective advisors, none of PrivateBancorp, Goldman Sachs or any other person assumes responsibility if future results are materially different from those forecasted.

The merger consideration to be paid to the holders of the shares of PrivateBancorp common stock pursuant to the amended merger agreement was determined through arm's-length negotiations between PrivateBancorp and CIBC and was approved by the board of directors of PrivateBancorp. Goldman Sachs provided advice to PrivateBancorp during these negotiations. Goldman Sachs did not, however, recommend any specific amount of consideration to PrivateBancorp or that any specific amount of consideration constituted the only appropriate consideration for the proposed merger.

As described above, Goldman Sachs' opinion was one of many factors taken into consideration by the board of directors of PrivateBancorp in considering the proposed transaction. The foregoing summary does not purport to be a complete description of the analyses performed by Goldman Sachs in connection with the delivery of its fairness opinion to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the written opinion of Goldman Sachs attached as Appendix B to this supplement.

Goldman Sachs and its affiliates are engaged in advisory, underwriting and financing, principal investing, sales and trading, research, investment management and other financial and non-financial activities and services for various persons and entities. Goldman Sachs and its affiliates and employees, and funds or other entities they manage or in which they invest or have other economic interests or with which they co-invest, may at any time purchase, sell, hold or vote long or short positions and investments in securities, derivatives, loans, commodities, currencies, credit default swaps and other financial instruments of PrivateBancorp, CIBC and any of their respective affiliates and third parties, or any currency or commodity that may be involved in the transaction contemplated by the amended merger agreement. Goldman Sachs acted as financial advisor to PrivateBancorp in connection with, and participated in certain of the negotiations leading to, the proposed transaction. Goldman Sachs has provided certain financial advisory and/or underwriting services to PrivateBancorp and/or its affiliates from time to time. In addition, Goldman Sachs has provided certain financial advisory and/or underwriting services to CIBC and/or its affiliates from time to time for which its Investment Banking Division has received, and may receive compensation, which compensation, during the two year period ended March 30, 2017, the date of execution of the amendment to the merger agreement, was less than $25,000. Goldman Sachs may also in the future provide financial advisory and/or underwriting services to PrivateBancorp, CIBC and their respective affiliates for which its investment banking division may receive compensation.

PrivateBancorp selected Goldman Sachs as its financial advisor because it is an internationally recognized investment banking firm that has substantial experience in transactions similar to the proposed transaction. Pursuant to an engagement letter between PrivateBancorp and Goldman Sachs, PrivateBancorp has agreed to pay Goldman Sachs a transaction fee that is estimated, based on information that is available as of the date of announcement, of approximately $39.5 million, $5.0 million of which was paid at the announcement of the proposed transaction, and the remainder of which is contingent upon consummation of the proposed transaction. In addition, PrivateBancorp agreed to reimburse Goldman Sachs for certain of its expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees and disbursements, and to indemnify Goldman Sachs and related persons against various liabilities, including certain liabilities under the federal securities laws. During the two year period ended March 30, 2017, the date of the execution of the amendment to the merger agreement, the Investment Banking Division of Goldman Sachs has not been engaged by PrivateBancorp or its affiliates to provide financial advisory or underwriting services for which Goldman Sachs has received compensation.

Opinion of Sandler

On June 21, 2016, the board of directors of PrivateBancorp retained Sandler to prepare and render to the board, in connection with its consideration of the initially proposed merger, an opinion as to whether the merger consideration was fair to the holders of PrivateBancorp common stock from a financial point of view. On March 23, 2017, the board of directors of PrivateBancorp retained Sandler to prepare and render to the board, in connection with its consideration of the proposed amended merger, an opinion as to whether the merger consideration was fair to the holders of PrivateBancorp common stock from a financial point of view.

PrivateBancorp selected Sandler because Sandler is a nationally recognized investment banking firm whose principal business specialty is financial institutions. In the ordinary course of its investment banking business, Sandler is regularly engaged in the valuation of financial institutions and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions and other corporate transactions.

At the meeting of the board of directors of PrivateBancorp held to evaluate the proposed amended merger, Sandler rendered to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp its oral opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, to the effect that, as of March 29, 2017, the date of its written opinion, and based upon and subject to the factors set forth in Sandler's written opinion, the merger consideration consisting of $24.20 in cash and 0.4176 common shares of CIBC was fair to the holders of PrivateBancorp common stock from a financial point of view. The full text of Sandler's opinion, dated March 29, 2017, is attached as Appendix C to this supplement. The opinion outlines the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by Sandler in rendering its opinion. The description of the opinion set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion. Holders of PrivateBancorp common stock are urged to read the entire opinion carefully in connection with their consideration of the proposed merger.

Sandler's opinion speaks only as of March 29, 2017, the date of the opinion. The opinion was directed to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp in connection with its consideration of the amended merger agreement and the proposed merger and is directed only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration to the holders of PrivateBancorp common stock. Sandler's opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any holder of PrivateBancorp common stock as to how such holder of PrivateBancorp common stock should vote at any meeting of stockholders called to consider and vote upon the adoption of the amended merger agreement and approval of the merger. It does not address the underlying business decision of PrivateBancorp to engage in the merger, the form or structure of the merger or other transactions contemplated in the amended merger agreement, the relative merits of the merger as compared to any other alternative business strategies that might exist for PrivateBancorp or the effect of any other transaction in which PrivateBancorp might engage, or the fairness of the merger to any other class of securities, creditor or other constituency of PrivateBancorp. Sandler also did not express any opinion as to the fairness of the amount or nature of the compensation to be received in the merger or other transactions contemplated by the amended merger agreement by any PrivateBancorp or CIBC officer, director, or employee, or any class of such persons, if any, relative to the merger consideration to be received by any other stockholder of PrivateBancorp. Sandler's opinion was approved by Sandler's fairness opinion committee.

In connection with rendering its opinion, Sandler reviewed and considered, among other things:

the June 29 merger agreement, as well as a draft amendment, dated as of March 17, 2017, including certain adjustments to the terms of the amendment, as provided by and discussed with the senior management of PrivateBancorp;

certain publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of PrivateBancorp that Sandler deemed relevant;

certain publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of CIBC that Sandler deemed relevant;

such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations and financial, economic and market criteria as Sandler considered relevant.

Sandler also discussed with certain members of the senior management of PrivateBancorp the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of PrivateBancorp and held similar discussions with certain members of senior management of CIBC regarding publicly available information pertaining to the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of CIBC.

In performing its review, Sandler relied upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information that was available to and reviewed by Sandler from public sources, that was provided to Sandler by PrivateBancorp or CIBC or their respective representatives, or that was otherwise reviewed by Sandler and Sandler assumed such accuracy and completeness for purposes of rendering its opinion, without any independent verification or investigation. Sandler further relied on the assurances of the respective managements of PrivateBancorp and CIBC that they were not aware of any facts or circumstances that would make any of such information inaccurate or misleading. Sandler was not asked to undertake, and did not undertake, an independent verification of any of such information and Sandler did not assume any responsibility or liability for the accuracy or completeness thereof. Sandler did not make an independent evaluation or perform an appraisal of the specific assets, the collateral securing assets or the liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of PrivateBancorp or CIBC, or any of their respective subsidiaries, and Sandler was not furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals. Sandler did not render any opinion or evaluation on the collectability of any assets or the future performance of any loans of PrivateBancorp or CIBC or any of their respective subsidiaries. Sandler did not make an independent evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses of PrivateBancorp or CIBC, or the combined entity after the merger, and did not review any individual credit files relating to PrivateBancorp or CIBC or any of their respective subsidiaries. Sandler assumed, with PrivateBancorp's consent, that the respective allowances for loan losses for both PrivateBancorp and CIBC were adequate to cover such losses and will be adequate on a pro forma basis for the combined entity.

In preparing its analyses, Sandler used internal financial projections for PrivateBancorp for the years ending December 31, 2017 through December 31, 2022, as prepared and provided by the senior management of PrivateBancorp. In addition, in preparing its analyses Sandler used internal financial projections for CIBC for the fiscal years ending October 31, 2017 through October 31, 2022, as provided by the senior management of PrivateBancorp. Sandler also received and used in its pro forma analyses certain assumptions relating to transaction expenses, purchase accounting adjustments, a core deposit intangible asset and cost savings, as provided by the senior management of PrivateBancorp. With respect to the foregoing information, the management of PrivateBancorp confirmed to Sandler that such information reflected the best currently available projections, estimates and judgment of senior management of the future financial performance of PrivateBancorp and CIBC, as applicable, and Sandler assumed that such performance would be achieved. Sandler expressed no opinion as to such projections, estimates or judgments, or the assumptions on which they are based. Sandler also assumed that there has been no material change in PrivateBancorp's or CIBC's assets, financial condition, results of operations, business or prospects since the date of the most recent financial statements made available to Sandler. Sandler assumed in all respects material to its analysis that PrivateBancorp and CIBC will remain as going concerns for all periods relevant to its analyses.

Sandler also assumed, with PrivateBancorp's consent, that (i) each of the parties to the amended merger agreement will comply in all material respects with all material terms and conditions of the amended merger agreement and all related agreements, that all of the representations and warranties contained in such agreements are true and correct in all material respects, that the parties to such agreements will perform in all material respects all of the covenants and other obligations required to be performed by such party under such agreements and that the conditions precedent in such agreements are not and will not be waived, (ii) in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory or third party approvals, consents and releases with respect to the proposed merger, no delay, limitation, restriction or condition will be imposed that would have an adverse effect on PrivateBancorp, CIBC or the benefits contemplated by the merger or any related transaction, and (iii) the proposed merger and any related transaction will be consummated in accordance with the terms of the amended merger agreement without any waiver, modification or amendment of any material term, condition or agreement thereof and in compliance with all applicable laws and other requirements. Sandler expressed no opinion as to any of the legal, accounting or tax matters relating to the proposed merger or any other transactions contemplated in connection therewith.

Sandler's analyses and opinion are necessarily based on financial, economic, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to Sandler as of, March 29, 2017, the date of its opinion. Events occurring after such date could materially affect Sandler's opinion. Sandler has not undertaken to update, revise, reaffirm or withdraw its opinion or otherwise comment upon events occurring after the date of its opinion. Sandler expressed no opinion as to the trading values of PrivateBancorp common stock or CIBC common shares at any time or what the value of CIBC common shares would be once it is actually received by the holders of PrivateBancorp common stock.

In rendering its opinion, Sandler performed a variety of financial analyses. The summary below is not a complete description of all the analyses underlying Sandler's opinion or the presentation made by Sandler to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp, but is a summary of the material analyses performed and presented by Sandler. The summary includes information presented in tabular format. In order to fully understand the financial analyses, these tables must be read together with the accompanying text. The tables alone do not constitute a complete description of the financial analyses. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process involving subjective judgments as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances. The process, therefore, is not necessarily susceptible to a partial analysis or summary description. Sandler believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of the factors and analyses to be considered without considering all factors and analyses, or attempting to ascribe relative weights to some or all such factors and analyses, could create an incomplete view of the evaluation process underlying its opinion. Also, no company included in Sandler's comparative analyses described below is identical to PrivateBancorp or CIBC and no transaction is identical to the proposed merger. Accordingly, an analysis of comparable companies or transactions involves complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics of the companies and other factors that could affect the public trading values or merger transaction values, as the case may be, of PrivateBancorp and CIBC and the companies to which they were compared. In arriving at its opinion, Sandler did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor that it considered. Rather, Sandler made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor. Sandler did not form an opinion as to whether any individual analysis or factor (positive or negative) considered in isolation supported or failed to support its opinion; rather, Sandler made its determination as to the fairness of the merger consideration to the holders of PrivateBancorp common stock on the basis of its experience and professional judgment after considering the results of all its analyses taken as a whole.

In performing its analyses, Sandler also made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, business and economic conditions and various other matters, many of which cannot be predicted and are beyond the control of PrivateBancorp, CIBC, and Sandler. The analyses performed by Sandler are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results, both of which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by such analyses. Sandler prepared its analyses solely for purposes of rendering its opinion and provided such analyses to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp at its March 29, 2017 meeting. Estimates on the values of companies do not purport to be appraisals or necessarily reflect the prices at which companies or their securities may actually be sold. Such estimates are inherently subject to uncertainty and actual values may be materially different.

Table of Contents

Accordingly, Sandler's analyses do not necessarily reflect the value of PrivateBancorp common stock or the prices at which PrivateBancorp or CIBC common shares may be sold at any time. The analyses of Sandler and its opinion were among a number of factors taken into consideration by the board of directors of PrivateBancorp in making its determination to approve the amended merger agreement and the analyses described below should not be viewed as determinative of the decision of the board of directors of PrivateBancorp or senior management with respect to the fairness of the merger.

Summary of Proposed Merger Consideration and Implied Transaction Metrics

Sandler reviewed the financial terms of the proposed merger. Pursuant to the terms of the amended merger agreement, upon the effective time of the merger, each share of PrivateBancorp common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time, other than certain shares as specified in the amended merger agreement, will be converted into the right to receive, without interest, merger consideration consisting of 0.4176 CIBC common shares and $24.20 in cash. For purposes of this analysis, Sandler utilized a transaction value (inclusive of the value of consideration to holders of in-the-money options, restricted stock awards, restricted stock units and performance stock units, in each case that were expected by PrivateBancorp management to be vested upon closing of the proposed merger) of approximately $4.95 billion⁽¹⁾, or a transaction price per share of approximately $60.50. Based upon financial information for PrivateBancorp as of December 31, 2016 or for the twelve months ended December 31, 2016, or LTM, (unless otherwise indicated), Sandler calculated the following implied transaction metrics.

Transaction Price / LTM Earnings Per Share	23.5x
Transaction Price / Median Analyst 2017E Earnings Per Share	20.5x
Transaction Price / Median Analyst 2018E Earnings Per Share	18.0x

Sandler used publicly available information to perform a similar analysis for CIBC by comparing selected financial information for CIBC and a group of financial institutions selected by Sandler. The CIBC peer group consisted of nine United States and Canadian banks with assets between $150.0 billion and $1.0 trillion, excluding The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation, State Street Corporation and Capital One Finance Corporation.

The analysis compared publicly available financial information for CIBC with corresponding data for the CIBC peer group as a whole, and for Canadian peers as of or for the twelve months ended January 31, 2017 or the most recent quarter available (except as indicated in note 1 below), with pricing data as of March 27, 2017. The tables below set forth the data for CIBC and the names and certain data, including certain high, low, mean, and median data for the CIBC peer group, and for the Canadian peers. Certain financial data prepared by Sandler, as referenced in the table presented below, may not correspond to the data presented in CIBC's historical financial statements, as a result of the different periods, assumptions and methods used by Sander to compute the financial data presented.

Analysis of Selected Merger Transactions

Sandler reviewed a group of selected merger and acquisition transactions. The group consisted of ten nationwide bank and thrift transactions announced between November 8, 2016 and March 27, 2017 with over $300 million in reported deal value, or the Precedent Transactions.

Using the latest publicly available information prior to the announcement of the relevant transaction, Sandler reviewed the following quantitative transaction metrics: transaction price to last twelve months earnings per share, transaction price to estimated earnings per share for the year in which the relevant transaction was announced, transaction price to book value per share, transaction price to tangible book value per share, tangible book premium to core deposits, and 1-day market premium. Sandler compared the indicated transaction metrics for the proposed merger, based on an aggregate transaction value of approximately $4.95 billion, or a transaction price per share of approximately $60.50, resulting from the closing price of CIBC common shares on March 27, 2017 of $86.93, to the high, low, mean and median metrics of the Precedent Transactions.

Net Present Value Analyses

Sandler performed an analysis that estimated the net present value per share of PrivateBancorp common stock using internal projections for PrivateBancorp on a stand-alone basis for the years ending December 31, 2017 through December 31, 2022, as provided by the management of PrivateBancorp. To approximate the terminal value of PrivateBancorp common stock at December 31, 2022, Sandler applied price to 2022 earnings multiples ranging from 14.0x to 24.0x and multiples of December 31, 2022 tangible book value ranging from 200% to 275%. The terminal values were then discounted to present values using different discount rates ranging from 8.5% to 11.5%, which were chosen to reflect different assumptions regarding required rates of return of holders or prospective buyers of PrivateBancorp common stock and which were derived by application of the Capital Asset Pricing Model, which incorporates certain company-specific inputs, including a beta for the company, as well as certain financial metrics for the United States markets generally. As illustrated in the following tables, the analysis indicated an imputed range of values per share of PrivateBancorp common stock on a stand-alone basis of $36.81 to $71.59 when applying multiples of earnings and $45.10 to $71.52 when applying multiples of tangible book value.

Edgar Filing: CANADIAN IMPERIAL BANK OF COMMERCE /CAN/ - Form POS AM

Sandler also considered and discussed with the board of directors of PrivateBancorp how this analysis would be affected by changes in the underlying assumptions, including variations with respect to earnings per share. To illustrate this impact, Sandler performed a similar analysis, assuming PrivateBancorp's earnings per share varied from 15% above estimates to 15% below estimates. This analysis resulted in the following range of per share values for PrivateBancorp common stock, applying the price to 2022 earnings multiples range of 14.0x to 24.0x referred to above and a discount rate of 10.1%.

Sandler also considered and discussed with the board of directors of PrivateBancorp how this analysis would be affected by changes in the underlying assumptions, including variations with respect to earnings per share. To illustrate this impact, Sandler performed a similar analysis assuming CIBC's earnings per share varied from 15% above estimates to 15% below estimates. This analysis resulted in the following range of per share values for CIBC common shares, applying the price to 2022 earnings multiples range of 10.0x to 15.0x referred to above and a discount rate of 8.0%.

In connection with its analyses, Sandler considered and discussed with the board of directors of PrivateBancorp how the present value analyses would be affected by changes in the underlying assumptions. Sandler noted that the net present value analysis is a widely used valuation methodology, but the results of such methodology are highly dependent upon the numerous assumptions that must be made, and the results thereof are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results.

Pro Forma Merger Analysis

Sandler analyzed certain potential pro forma effects of the merger, based on the following assumptions: (i) the merger closes on July 31, 2017 and (ii) the merger consideration has a per share value of $60.50. Sandler also utilized the following: (a) internal financial projections of PrivateBancorp as provided by PrivateBancorp management, (b) financial projections for CIBC, as provided by PrivateBancorp management, (c) purchase accounting adjustments prepared and provided by PrivateBancorp management of (i) a gross credit mark of $198 million, or 1.3% of gross loans as of December 31, 2016, (ii) accumulated other comprehensive income adjustment on PrivateBancorp's portfolio of $2.7 million, amortized over 4.5 years, and (iii) a core deposit intangible asset created at 1.5% of core deposits, or $15.4 billion, amortized over 7 years using sum-of-the-years digits method; (d) cost savings projections as provided by PrivateBancorp management; (e) estimated pre-tax one-time transaction costs and expenses as provided PrivateBancorp management; and (f) an annual pre-tax opportunity cost of cash as provided by PrivateBancorp management. The analysis indicated that the merger could be:

accretive to CIBC's estimated adjusted earnings per share in the fiscal year ended October 31, 2017, dilutive to CIBC's estimated adjusted earnings per share (excluding one-time transaction costs and expenses) in the fiscal years ended October 31, 2018 through 2019 and accretive to CIBC's estimated adjusted earnings per share in the fiscal years ended October 31, 2020 through 2022;

accretive to CIBC's estimated cash earnings per share (excluding one-time transaction costs and expenses) in the fiscal year ended October 31, 2017, dilutive to CIBC's estimated cash earnings per share (excluding one-time transaction costs and expenses) in the fiscal year ended October 31, 2018, and accretive to CIBC's estimated cash earnings per share (excluding one-time transaction costs and expenses) in the fiscal years ended October 31, 2019 through 2022; and dilutive to estimated tangible book value per CIBC common share at closing and in the fiscal years ended October 31, 2017 through 2022.

In connection with this analysis, Sandler considered and discussed with the board of directors of PrivateBancorp how the analysis would be affected by changes in the underlying assumptions, including the impact of final purchase accounting adjustments determined at the closing of the merger, and noted that the actual results achieved by the combined company may vary from projected results and the variations may be material.

Sandler's Relationship

Sandler was retained by the PrivateBancorp board of directors to prepare and render to the board of directors of PrivateBancorp, in connection with its consideration of the proposed merger, an opinion as to whether the merger consideration was fair to the holders of PrivateBancorp's common stock from a financial point of view. Sandler received a $1.0 million fee from PrivateBancorp as a result of rendering its opinion in connection with the initially proposed merger, which became payable on June 29, 2016. Sandler also received a $750,000 fee from PrivateBancorp as a result of rendering its opinion in connection with the proposed amendment, which became payable on March 29, 2017. In addition, Sandler O'Neill Mortgage Finance L.P. ("SOMF"), an affiliate of Sandler, acted as introducing broker to a subsidiary of Company, The PrivateBank and Trust Company ("PrivateBank"), in connection with the sale of loans by PrivateBank for which PrivateBank paid SOMF a fee of $36,784 in August 2016. PrivateBancorp has also agreed to indemnify Sandler against certain liabilities arising out of Sandler's engagement and to reimburse Sandler for certain of its out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with Sandler's engagement.

In the ordinary course of its business as a broker-dealer, Sandler may purchase securities from or sell securities to PrivateBancorp, CIBC or their respective affiliates. Sandler may also actively trade the securities of PrivateBancorp or CIBC for its own account and for the accounts of its customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities.

Projected Financial Information

In connection with PrivateBancorp's regular strategic planning process and with the merger, PrivateBancorp's management prepared financial projections of revenue, net income and EPS for fiscal years 2017 through 2022 (such projections, the "projections"). These projections were provided to PrivateBancorp's board of directors and Goldman Sachs and Sandler, in connection with their respective analyses of the merger. PrivateBancorp does not as a matter of course make public long-term projections as to future revenues, earnings or other results due to, among other reasons, the uncertainty of the underlying assumptions and estimates. A summary of the projections is included below to give PrivateBancorp's stockholders access to certain nonpublic information provided to Goldman Sachs and Sandler for purposes of their respective financial analyses summarized above under "Opinions of PrivateBancorp's Financial Advisors." The inclusion of the projections should not be regarded as an indication that PrivateBancorp or its board of directors, Goldman Sachs, Sandler or any other recipient of this information considered, or now considers, it to be an assurance of the achievement of future results.

PrivateBancorp advised the recipients of the projections that its internal financial forecasts upon which the projections were based are subjective in many respects. The projections reflect numerous assumptions with respect to company performance, industry performance, general business, economic, market and financial conditions and other matters, many of which are difficult to predict, subject to significant economic and competitive uncertainties and beyond PrivateBancorp's control. As a result, there can be no assurance that the projections will be realized or that actual results will not be significantly higher or lower than projected.

The projections were not prepared with a view toward public disclosure or toward compliance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), published guidelines of the SEC or the guidelines established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for preparation and presentation of prospective financial information. The prospective financial information included in this proxy statement (including the projections) has been prepared by, and is the responsibility of, PrivateBancorp's management. Ernst & Young LLP ("E&Y"), PrivateBancorp's independent registered public accounting firm, has neither examined, compiled nor performed any procedures with respect to the accompanying prospective financial information (including the projections), and accordingly, E&Y does not express an opinion or any other form of assurance with respect thereto. The E&Y report incorporated by reference in this proxy statement relates to PrivateBancorp's historical financial information. It does not extend to the prospective financial information contained herein and should not be read to do so.

Projections of this type are based on estimates and assumptions that are inherently subject to factors such as company performance, industry performance, general business, economic, regulatory, market and financial conditions, as well as changes to the business, financial condition or results of operations of PrivateBancorp, including the factors described under "Cautionary Statement Concerning Forward-Looking Statements," which factors may cause the projections or the underlying assumptions to be inaccurate. In addition, the projections are based on certain assumptions regarding PrivateBancorp's ongoing business activities. Since the projections cover multiple years, such information by its nature becomes less reliable with each successive year.

The projections are based in part on the Fed Funds forward curve as of March 16, 2017.

Readers of this proxy statement are cautioned not to place undue reliance on the projections set forth above. No one has made or makes any representation to any stockholder regarding the information included in the projections.

For the foregoing reasons, as well as the basis and assumptions on which the projections were compiled, the inclusion of specific portions of the projections in this proxy statement should not be regarded as an indication that such projections will be an accurate prediction of future events, and they should not be relied on as such. Except as required by applicable securities laws, PrivateBancorp does not intend to update or otherwise revise the projections or the specific portions presented to reflect circumstances existing after the date when made or to reflect the occurrence of future events, even in the event that any or all of the assumptions are shown to be in error. In addition, the projections have not been updated or revised to reflect information or results after the date the projections were prepared or as of date of this proxy statement.

PrivateBancorp stockholders are urged to review PrivateBancorp's most recent SEC filings for a description of its results of operations and financial condition, including "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" in PrivateBancorp's Annual Report on Form 10-K that is incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. Please see the section entitled "Where You Can Find More Information."

Certain Unaudited Prospective Financial Information of CIBC

Neither CIBC nor PrivateBancorp, as a matter of course, makes public projections as to future earnings or other results due to, among other reasons, the uncertainty of the underlying assumptions and estimates. In connection with the proposed transaction, however, PrivateBancorp prepared and provided to Goldman Sachs and Sandler certain unaudited prospective financial analyses and forecasts with respect to CIBC on a stand-alone basis reflecting a consensus of equity analysts' estimates for 2017 and 2018, as extrapolated by management of PrivateBancorp for periods thereafter. That information is included below in this proxy statement/prospectus. Goldman Sachs and Sandler reviewed this unaudited prospective financial information in connection with preparing their analyses of the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration to PrivateBancorp's stockholders, as described above under "The Merger Opinions of PrivateBancorp's Financial Advisors." The unaudited prospective information set forth below was prepared by PrivateBancorp for PrivateBancorp's internal use and is subjective in many respects. This information was not prepared by CIBC or with any involvement on the part of CIBC. The inclusion of this information in this proxy statement/prospectus should not be regarded as an indication that any of CIBC, PrivateBancorp, Goldman Sachs or Sandler, their respective representatives or any other recipient of this information considered, or now considers, it to be predictive of actual future results, or that it should be construed as financial guidance, and it should not be relied on as such.

While presented with numeric specificity, the unaudited prospective financial information below reflects certain estimates and assumptions made by PrivateBancorp with respect to CIBC's business, all of which are difficult to predict and many of which are beyond CIBC's control. This unaudited prospective financial information includes assumptions as to certain macroeconomic conditions, such as future growth rates and interest rate variations, that are subject to change and subjective judgment, and thus is susceptible to multiple interpretations. CIBC was not involved in the preparation of the unaudited prospective financial information and gives no assurance that such information or the underlying estimates and assumptions will be realized. CIBC and PrivateBancorp do not intend to, and each disclaims any obligation to, make publicly available any update or other revisions regarding the unaudited prospective financial information to correct any information or assumptions with which CIBC does not agree, or to update such information to reflect circumstances arising after its preparation or to reflect changes in general economic or industry conditions. Importantly, neither the unaudited prospective financial information with respect to CIBC nor the consensus of equity analysts' estimates for 2017 and 2018 used by PrivateBancorp in preparing that information, contemplated completion of the proposed transaction. Accordingly, the unaudited prospective financial information does not give effect to the merger, including the impact of negotiating or executing the merger agreement, the expenses that may be incurred in connection with consummating the merger, the potential synergies that may be achieved by the combined company as a result of the merger or the effect of any business or strategic decisions or actions which would likely have been taken if the merger agreement had not been executed, but which were instead altered, accelerated, postponed or not taken in anticipation of the merger.

Actual results will differ from those set forth below, and the differences may be material. Important factors that may affect actual results and cause the unaudited prospective financial information to be inaccurate include, but are not limited to, risks and uncertainties relating to CIBC's business, industry performance, general business and economic conditions, customer requirements, competition and adverse changes in applicable laws, regulations or rules. For other factors that could cause actual results to differ, please see the sections entitled "Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements" in the proxy statement/prospectus and this supplement and in CIBC's Annual Report on Form 40-K filed for the fiscal year ended October 31, 2016, as filed December 1, 2016, and the other reports filed by CIBC with the SEC.

The unaudited prospective financial information does not take into account any circumstances or events occurring after the date it was prepared. There can be no assurance that, had the unaudited prospective financial information been prepared as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, similar estimates and assumptions would be used. In addition, since the unaudited prospective financial information covers multiple years, such information by its nature becomes less predictive with each successive year.

None of CIBC, PrivateBancorp, Goldman Sachs or Sandler, or their respective affiliates, officers, directors, advisors or other representatives has made, makes or is authorized in the future to make any representation to any shareholder of CIBC or PrivateBancorp or other person regarding CIBC's ultimate performance compared to the information contained in the unaudited prospective financial information or that the forecasted results will be achieved. The summary of the unaudited prospective financial information included below is being provided solely because it was made available to the financial advisors to the PrivateBancorp board of directors in connection with the merger.

The following table presents prospective financial analyses and forecasts with respect to CIBC on a stand-alone basis reflecting a consensus of equity analysts' estimates for 2017 and 2018, as extrapolated by management of PrivateBancorp for periods thereafter.

The unaudited prospective financial information was not prepared with a view toward public disclosure, nor was it prepared with a view toward compliance with GAAP, IFRS, published guidelines of the SEC or the guidelines established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for preparation and presentation of prospective financial information. Neither CIBC's independent registered public accounting firm, nor any other independent accountants, have examined, compiled, nor performed any procedures with respect to the unaudited prospective financial information, (including the projections) contained herein, and accordingly, neither E&Y or any other firm expresses an opinion or any other form of assurance with respect to such information or its achievability. The E&Y report incorporated by reference in this proxy statement relates to CIBC's historical financial information. It does not extend to the unaudited prospective financial information contained herein and should not be read to do so.

In light of the foregoing, and considering that PrivateBancorp's special meeting will be held after the unaudited prospective financial information was prepared, as well as the uncertainties inherent in any forecasted information, PrivateBancorp and CIBC stockholders are cautioned not to place unwarranted reliance on such information, and CIBC and PrivateBancorp urge all PrivateBancorp and CIBC stockholders to review CIBC's most recent SEC filings for a description of CIBC's reported financial results. See section titled "Where You Can Find More Information."

CIBC's Reasons for the Merger

On June 28, 2016, the CIBC board of directors approved the original merger agreement and authorized certain executive officers to sign and deliver the original merger agreement on CIBC's behalf. Further, on March 22, 2017, the CIBC board of directors approved Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement and authorized certain executive officers to sign and deliver Amendment No. 1 on CIBC's behalf. In the course of making its decision to approve the amended merger agreement, the CIBC board of directors consulted with CIBC's management and internal legal counsel, as well as its financial advisors, CIBC World Markets Inc. and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, and considered a number of factors.

Table of Contents

CIBC has been seeking opportunities to expand its existing U.S. commercial and private banking businesses as part of its overall strategy of creating a financially strong, technologically innovative, and relationship-oriented bank, while also providing important business, geographic and earnings diversification for CIBC. Combined with CIBC's existing U.S. capital markets, corporate banking and wealth management franchise, CIBC's management believes that the merger will create a strong platform to serve all of the combined enterprises' client needs throughout North America as well as add the capability of accepting deposits in the United States. In addition, CIBC's management believes that CIBC's financial strength, broad suite of products and services, and scalable technology platform will help accelerate PrivateBancorp's growth profile in an important segment of the U.S. banking market.

Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger

The following information replaces the section entitled "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger" beginning on page 80 of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

In considering the recommendation of PrivateBancorp's board of directors that you vote to approve the amended merger agreement proposal, you should be aware that some of PrivateBancorp's directors and executive officers have economic interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, those of PrivateBancorp's stockholders generally. PrivateBancorp's board of directors was aware of these interests and considered them, among other matters, in reaching its decisions to (i) approve the amended merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby and (ii) recommend that the stockholders of PrivateBancorp approve the amended merger agreement proposal. The transactions contemplated by the amended merger agreement will constitute a "change in control" for purposes of the PrivateBancorp employment agreements and compensation and benefit plans described below.

Certain Assumptions

Except as otherwise specifically noted, for purposes of quantifying the potential payments and benefits described in this section, the following assumptions were used:

The relevant price per share of PrivateBancorp common stock is $59.30, which is the average closing price per share of PrivateBancorp's common stock as quoted on the NASDAQ over the three business day period beginning on and including March 30, 2017, the date of the first public announcement of Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement;

The effective time is April 4, 2017, which is the assumed date of the closing of the merger solely for purposes of the disclosure in this section; and

Each executive officer of PrivateBancorp is terminated by PrivateBancorp without "cause" or resigns for "good reason" (as such terms are defined in the relevant PrivateBancorp plans and agreements), in either case immediately following the assumed effective time of April 4, 2017.

The description included below, including quantification of potential payments and benefits, does not take into account certain compensation actions that PrivateBancorp is permitted to take prior to the completion of the merger, as described in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Covenants and Agreements Conduct of Businesses Prior to the Completion of the Merger" beginning on page 109 of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

Table of Contents

Equity Compensation

Treatment of Stock Options

At the effective time, each PrivateBancorp option that is outstanding and unexercised immediately prior to the effective time shall be converted automatically into an option to purchase CIBC shares on the terms specified in the amended merger agreement (including that such CIBC option will have the same vesting terms as the corresponding PrivateBancorp option). Each converted, unvested PrivateBancorp option will vest in full upon the holder's termination without cause or resignation for good reason at any time after the effective time of the merger.

Treatment of Restricted Stock Units

At the effective time, each PrivateBancorp restricted stock unit award that is outstanding immediately prior to the effective time shall (i) if unvested, be converted automatically into a cash-settled CIBC restricted stock unit award on the terms specified in the amended merger agreement (including that such CIBC restricted stock unit award shall have the same vesting terms as the corresponding PrivateBancorp restricted stock unit award), and (ii) if vested (including all restricted stock units held by non-employee directors, whether vested or unvested as of the date of the original merger agreement, which shall be vested and settled within 10 days after the effective time), be cancelled and converted automatically into the right to receive a cash payment equivalent in value to the merger consideration, as determined in accordance with the amended merger agreement, in respect of each share underlying such award plus a cash payment equal to accumulated but unpaid dividend equivalents; provided, that any such vested award that does not provide for settlement upon a change in control shall instead be converted pursuant to clause (i) above. Each converted PrivateBancorp restricted stock unit award will vest in full upon the holder's termination without cause or resignation for good reason at any time after the effective time of the merger.

Treatment of Performance Share Units

At the effective time, each PrivateBancorp performance share unit award that is outstanding immediately prior to the effective time shall (i) if unvested, be converted automatically into a CIBC cash-settled restricted stock unit award on the terms specified in the amended merger agreement (including that such CIBC restricted stock unit award will have the same time-based vesting terms as the corresponding PrivateBancorp performance share unit award and shall not be subject to performance-based vesting conditions), and (ii) if vested, be cancelled and converted automatically into the right to receive a cash payment equivalent in value to the merger consideration, as determined in accordance with the amended merger agreement, in respect of each share underlying such award plus a cash payment equal to accumulated but unpaid dividend equivalents; provided, that any such vested award that does not provide for settlement upon a change in control shall instead be converted pursuant to clause (i) above. For purposes of the foregoing, the number of shares of PrivateBancorp common stock underlying each unvested performance share unit award shall be determined by assuming that the applicable performance goals are achieved at the maximum level. Each vested performance share unit award outstanding as of the date of this supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus has been earned at the maximum level. Each converted PrivateBancorp performance share unit award will vest in full upon the holder's termination without cause or resignation for good reason at any time after the effective time of the merger.

Treatment of Deferred Stock Units

At the effective time, each stock unit credited to an account that is deemed invested in PrivateBancorp common stock as of immediately prior to the effective time under PrivateBancorp's deferred compensation plan shall be converted automatically into a deemed investment in CIBC common shares. Such deemed investment in CIBC common shares will be cash-settled based on a valuation methodology specified in the amended merger agreement and at the time or times set forth in the original deferral elections made by participants.

See the section entitled "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Quantification of Potential Payments and Benefits to PrivateBancorp's Named Executive Officers in Connection with the Merger" beginning on page [•] of this supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus for an estimate of the value of the unvested equity awards held by each of PrivateBancorp's named executive officers that would become vested upon a qualifying termination following the effective time. Based on the assumptions described above under "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Certain Assumptions", (i) the estimated aggregate value of the unvested equity awards held by PrivateBancorp's four executive officers who are not named executive officers that would become vested upon a qualifying termination immediately following the effective time is $6,615,606 and (ii) the estimated aggregate value of the PrivateBancorp restricted stock unit awards held by PrivateBancorp's ten non-employee directors that would become vested at the effective time is $180,865. In addition, PrivateBancorp expects to grant an annual restricted stock unit award with a grant date fair value of $50,000 to each non-employee director in the ordinary course on May 1, 2017, and each such award would be treated at the effective time in the same manner as other outstanding restricted stock unit awards held by non-employee directors. For more information on equity holdings of PrivateBancorp non-employee directors and executive officers, see the table entitled "Beneficial Ownership of PrivateBancorp Common Stock" on page [•] of this supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus.

Employment and Retention Agreements

Larry D. Richman

Concurrently with the execution of the original merger agreement, Mr. Richman entered into a new employment agreement with CIBC, which will become effective, and supersede his existing employment agreement with PrivateBank and PrivateBancorp, upon the closing of the merger. The description of Mr. Richman's employment agreements included in the section entitled "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Employment and Retention Agreements Larry D. Richman" beginning on page 82 of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016 is incorporated by reference herein, except that the estimate of Mr. Richman's cash severance payment under his existing employment agreement (calculated assuming the qualifying termination occurred on the date of the amended merger agreement and excluding prorated bonus) is hereby updated, based on the assumptions described above under "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Certain Assumptions," to $8,640,000.

Employment Agreements with Named Executive Officers other than Mr. Richman

Each named executive officer other than Mr. Richman is also party to an existing employment agreement with PrivateBank. Under the existing agreements, upon a termination of the officer's employment without "cause" or for "good reason" during the period beginning six months prior to, and ending on the second anniversary of, a change in control, the officer would be entitled to the following payments and benefits, subject to the execution and effectiveness of a general release of claims: (i) cash severance in an amount equal to 200% of the sum of (a) base salary, plus (b) the greater of (x) the prior year's actual bonus and (y) the average of the sum of the bonus amounts earned with respect to the three calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year of termination, (ii) 24 months of group health plan coverage at the active employee rate; (iii) outplacement services for 12 months; and (iv) a prorated bonus based on the prior year's actual bonus and the portion of the year of termination during which the officer was employed.

Table of Contents

Each existing agreement includes a modified gross-up provision providing that the officer will be entitled to a full gross-up if the payments and benefits to the officer in connection with a change in control would be subject to an excise tax by reason of Sections 4999 and 280G of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code and exceed the threshold level for application of such tax by more than 10%; if such excess equals or is less than 10%, the payments will instead be reduced below the threshold.

The existing agreements also include an indefinite confidentiality covenant and non-competition and non-solicitation covenants that apply during employment and for one year following termination of employment.

See the section entitled "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Quantification of Potential Payments and Benefits to PrivateBancorp's Named Executive Officers in Connection with the Merger" beginning on page [•] of this supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus for an estimate of the value of the severance benefits payable to PrivateBancorp's named executive officers upon a qualifying termination following the effective time.

Employment Agreements with Other Executive Officers

The four executive officers who are not named executive officers are party to existing employment agreements with PrivateBank, the terms of which are the same in all material respects as the terms of the existing employment agreements with the named executive officers (other than Mr. Richman) as described above, except that (i) the cash severance percentage is 250% for one of the officers and 150% for the other three officers and (ii) the number of months of group health plan coverage at the active employee rate is 24 for two of the officers and 18 for the other two officers.

Two of the existing agreements provide that if the payments and benefits to the officer under the agreement in connection with a change in control would be subject to an excise tax by reason of Sections 4999 and 280G of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code then such payments and benefits will be reduced to one dollar below the threshold level for application of the tax, unless such reduced amount is less than the net amount of such payments and benefits after payment of the excise tax, in which case no reduction will be made. The other existing agreements include the same modified gross-up provision described above with respect to named executive officers other than Mr. Richman.

The existing agreements also include an indefinite confidentiality covenant and non-competition and non-solicitation covenants that apply during employment and for one year following termination of employment.

Based on the assumptions described above under "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Certain Assumptions", the estimated aggregate cash severance (including prorated bonus) payable to PrivateBancorp's four executive officers who are not named executive officers upon a qualifying termination following the effective time is $7,011,556.

Retention and Integration Arrangements with PrivateBancorp Executive Officers

Messrs. Killips, Hague, Lubin and Ms. Case (our named executive officers, other than Mr. Richman) have each been granted a retention award in the amount of $1,200,000, $1,000,000, $1,000,000 and $900,000, respectively, from the retention pool established by PrivateBancorp and CIBC in connection with the merger. In addition, the four executive officers who are not named executive officers have been granted retention awards in the aggregate amount of $3,575,000. Each retention award is in the form of 25% cash and 75% cash-settled CIBC restricted stock units. The cash portion of each award vests, subject to continued employment, through the date that is three months following the closing date and the restricted stock unit portion of the award vests, subject to continued employment, with respect to one-third of the units, on the date that is nine months following the closing date and, with respect to the remaining two-thirds of the units, on the date that is eighteen months following the closing date, or, with respect to both parts of the award, upon a termination of employment without cause or for good reason or due to death or disability on or after the closing date and prior to the scheduled vesting date.

As part of our annual compensation decisions made in first quarter 2017, our Compensation Committee granted special long-term equity awards to certain of our executive officers in recognition of the fact that they have been required to take on substantial incremental workloads related to the merger and our integration planning efforts, that will continue through the completion of the merger and post-closing transition, and are in addition to the ordinary course duties and responsibilities of their respective positions. Mr. Richman and Mr. Killips received restricted stock unit awards relating to 6,972 and 4,358 shares of PrivateBancorp common stock, respectively, and three executive officers who are not named executive officers were granted restricted stock unit awards relating to 9,588 shares of PrivateBancorp common stock in the aggregate. Each equity award is in the form of Company restricted stock units that vest, subject to continued employment, with respect to one-half of the units on each of March 1, 2018 and March 1, 2019, or upon a termination of employment without cause or for good reason following a change in control, or due to death, disability or qualified retirement prior to the scheduled vesting dates. In connection with the merger, such awards will be treated as described above in the section entitled "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Equity Compensation Treatment of Restricted Stock Units".

Indemnification and Insurance

Pursuant to the terms of the amended merger agreement, PrivateBancorp directors, officers and employees will be entitled to certain ongoing indemnification and coverage under directors' and officers' liability insurance policies following the merger. Such indemnification and insurance coverage is further described in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Covenants and Agreements Indemnification and Directors' and Officers' Insurance" beginning on page 115 of the definitive proxy statement/ prospectus filed on October 31, 2016.

Quantification of Potential Payments and Benefits to PrivateBancorp's Named Executive Officers in Connection with the Merger

The information set forth in the table below is being provided in order to comply with Item 402(t) of the SEC's Regulation S-K, which requires disclosure of information about certain compensation for each "named executive officer" of PrivateBancorp that is based on, or otherwise relates to, the merger ("merger-related compensation"). As described under the caption "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger" above, Mr. Richman has entered into a new employment arrangement with CIBC that will become effective upon the closing of the merger. The merger-related compensation described below is based on the named executive officers' existing employment agreements with PrivateBancorp and/or PrivateBank, existing PrivateBancorp equity award plans and agreements, retention agreements entered into with named executive officers other than Mr. Richman in connection with the merger and the amended merger agreement. It does not include amounts payable to Mr. Richman under the new employment agreement with CIBC following the closing of the merger (including (i) post-closing salary, annual incentive compensation, and other compensation and benefits to be provided under Mr. Richman's new employment agreement with CIBC, and (ii) severance payable to Mr. Richman upon a qualifying termination pursuant to his new employment agreement with CIBC). For additional details regarding the terms of the payments and benefits that Mr. Richman will be entitled to receive under his new employment arrangement with CIBC, as well as terms of the payments and benefits described below, see the discussion under the caption "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger" above.

The amounts shown in the table below are estimates based on multiple assumptions that may or may not actually occur or be accurate on the relevant date, including the assumptions described below and in the footnotes to the table, and do not reflect certain compensation actions that may occur before completion of the merger, including certain compensation actions that PrivateBancorp is permitted to take prior to the completion of the merger, as described in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Covenants and Agreements Conduct of Businesses Prior to the Completion of the Merger" beginning on page 109 of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus filed on October 31, 2016. For purposes of calculating such amounts, the following assumptions were used:

The relevant price per share of PrivateBancorp common stock is $59.30, which is the average closing price per share of PrivateBancorp's common stock as quoted on the NASDAQ over the three business day period beginning on and including March 30, 2017, the date of the first public announcement of Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement;

The effective time is April 4, 2017, which is the assumed date of the closing of the merger solely for purposes of the disclosure in this section; and

Each executive officer of PrivateBancorp is terminated by PrivateBancorp without "cause" or resigns for "good reason" (as such terms are defined in the relevant PrivateBancorp plans and agreements), in either case immediately following the assumed effective time of April 4, 2017.

Cash. Consists of (a) cash severance in an amount equal to 200% (300% for Mr. Richman) of the sum of (i) base salary, plus (ii) greater of (x) the prior year's actual bonus and (y) average of the sum of the bonus amounts earned with respect to the three calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year of termination, and (b) a prorated bonus based on the prior year's actual bonus and the portion of the year of termination during which the officer was employed. All such amounts are "double trigger" and payable only upon a termination without cause or resignation for good reason (in the case of Mr. Richman, including resignation for any reason during the ninety-day period following the first anniversary of the effective time) during the period beginning six months prior to, and ending on the second anniversary of, the effective time. The estimated amount of such payments is shown in the following table:

Named Executive Officer	Severance ($)	Prorated Bonus ($)	Total ($)
Larry D. Richman	8,640,000	476,438	9,116,438
Kevin M. Killips	2,560,000	180,274	2,740,274

Karen B. Case	2,188,000	152,975	2,340,975

Equity. Consists of unvested stock options, unvested restricted stock units and unvested performance stock units that are converted into unvested Parent awards at the effective time. All such awards are "double trigger" and would vest upon a termination of employment without cause or for good reason at any time following the effective time. The amounts reflected in the table exclude the estimated value of PrivateBancorp equity awards held by named executive officers who are retirement eligible as of the assumed date of closing of April 4, 2017 ($5,555,075, $1,534,751, $1,076,449, $1,194,969 and $1,019,382 for Messrs. Richman, Killips, Hague, Lubin and Ms. Case, respectively) that would vest upon retirement in the ordinary course and independent of the acquisition, pursuant to the terms of such awards as in effect on the grant date. For further details regarding the treatment of PrivateBancorp equity awards in connection with the merger, see "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Equity Compensation." The estimated value of such awards is shown in the following table:

Named Executive Officer	Stock Options ($)	Restricted Stock Units ($)	Performance Share Units ($)	Total ($)
Larry D. Richman	730,428	475,719	6,048,837	7,254,984
Kevin M. Killips	176,642	111,008	1,545,832	1,833,482
Bruce R. Hague	142,686	90,082	1,240,675	1,473,443
Bruce S. Lubin	157,840	99,408	1,377,183	1,634,431
Karen B. Case	130,541	82,317	1,136,781	1,349,639

Benefits. Consists of (a) 24 months (36, in the case of Mr. Richman) of group medical coverage at the active employee rate; and (b) outplacement services for 12 months (24 months in the case of Mr. Richman). All such benefits are "double trigger" and are provided only on a termination without cause or resignation for good reason (in the case of Mr. Richman, including resignation for any reason during the ninety-day period following the first anniversary of the effective time) during the period beginning six months prior to, and ending on the second anniversary of, the effective time. The estimated value of the group medical coverage and outplacement services is shown in the following table:

Named Executive Officer	Group Health Coverage ($)	Outplacement Services ($)	Total ($)
Larry D. Richman	30,168	30,000	60,168
Kevin M. Killips	10,214	25,000	35,214
Bruce R. Hague	20,112	25,000	45,112

Tax Reimbursements. Includes the estimated amount of the gross-up payment due, if any, for the excise tax imposed on the payments and benefits to each named executive officer in connection with a change in control by reason of Sections 4999 and 280G of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code.

(5)

Retention Awards. Includes the value of retention awards granted from the retention pool established by PrivateBancorp in connection with the merger. Such awards have "double trigger" vesting and would vest upon a termination of employment without cause or for good reason or due to death or disability on or after the closing date and prior to the scheduled vesting date. For further details regarding the retention awards, see "Interests of PrivateBancorp's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Employment and Retention Agreements Retention and Integration Arrangements with PrivateBancorp Executive Officers."

Litigation Related to the Merger

Following the original announcement of the Company's proposed merger with CIBC in June 2016, three putative class actions were filed on behalf of PrivateBancorp stockholders in the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois: Solak v. Richman, et al., No. 2016-CH-08949; Parshall v. PrivateBancorp, Inc., et al., No. 2016-CH-09135; and Griffin v. PrivateBancorp, Inc., et al., No. 2016-CH-09435. On October 7, 2016, Plaintiffs filed a Consolidated Amended Class Action Complaint on behalf of a putative class of PrivateBancorp's shareholders (the "Action"), alleging among other things that PrivateBancorp's directors had failed to disclose material information regarding the merger in the proxy statement/prospectus and that PrivateBancorp and CIBC aided and abetted the same.

Table of Contents

The plaintiffs in the Action agreed in principle not to pursue the Action as a result of the inclusion of the Supplemental Disclosures in the proxy statement/prospectus contained in the registration statement filed by CIBC on October 31, 2016. On March 6, 2017, the parties executed the Settlement Agreement, and on March 7, 2017 the plaintiffs dismissed the Action. Pursuant to the Settlement Agreement, the three plaintiffs agreed to voluntarily dismiss the Action, without affecting the claims of the putative class, with leave to reinstate the Action if the merger is not consummated on or before June 29, 2017. Defendants in turn agreed to settle plaintiffs' demand for a mootness fee for $185,000, but only upon consummation of the merger. If the merger is not consummated on or before June 29, 2017 and the Action is reinstated, the Settlement Agreement will be null and void, and plaintiffs may apply to the court for a mootness fee award, which defendants may oppose, in whole or in part. PrivateBancorp and CIBC agreed to settle Plaintiffs' demand for a mootness fee award solely to avoid the costs of further litigation. PrivateBancorp continues to believe the complaints are without merit, there are substantial legal and factual defenses to the claims asserted, and that proxy statement/prospectus contained in the registration statement first filed by CIBC on August 15, 2016 disclosed all material information prior to the inclusion of the Supplemental Disclosures.

Dissenters' Rights of Appraisal for Holders of PrivateBancorp Common Stock

On June 16, 2016, Delaware enacted House Bill No. 371, which resulted in certain amendments to Section 262 of the Delaware General Corporate Law (the "DGCL"), among other things, affecting the appraisal rights available to dissenting shareholders in merger transactions. Such amendments apply to merger transactions consummated pursuant to merger agreements entered into on or after August 1, 2016. Because the original merger agreement by and between PrivateBancorp, CIBC and Holdco was entered into on June 29, 2016, but was materially amended after August 1, 2016, we have included Section 262 of the DGCL as in effect for merger agreements entered into prior to August 1, 2016 as Appendix D-1 to this supplement, and Section 262 as in effect for merger agreements entered into on or after August 1, 2016, as Appendix D-2 to this supplement.

AMENDMENT NO. 1 TO THE MERGER AGREEMENT

The following is a summary of the material provisions of Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement, a copy of which is attached to this proxy supplement as Appendix A, and which we incorporate by reference into this supplement herein. This summary may not contain all of the information about Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement that is important to you. We encourage you to read carefully the original merger agreement, as amended by Amendment No. 1, in its entirety, as the rights and obligations of the parties thereto are governed by the express terms of the amended merger agreement and not by this summary or any other information contained in this supplement to the proxy statement/prospectus. Terms used, but not defined herein, shall have the meaning set forth in the original merger agreement.

The following information supplements the information under the heading "The Merger Agreement" beginning on page 105 of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

Amendment No. 1 to the original merger agreement provides for an increase to the per share merger consideration to be paid to PrivateBancorp stockholders from (i) 0.3657 common shares of CIBC and (ii) $18.80 in cash, to (i) 0.4176 common shares of CIBC and (ii) $24.20 in cash.

The value of the merger consideration constituting common shares of CIBC described in clause (i) will depend on the market price of CIBC common shares at the time you receive the CIBC common shares (following completion of the merger). For a discussion of the treatment of awards outstanding under PrivateBancorp's equity incentive plans as of the effective time, see "The Merger Agreement Treatment of PrivateBancorp Equity Awards" beginning on page 106 of the proxy statement/prospectus dated October 31, 2016.

The original merger agreement provided that a termination fee of $150 million would be payable by PrivateBancorp to CIBC upon termination of the Merger Agreement under certain specified circumstances. Amendment No. 1 revises the amount of the termination fee to be $198 million.
