Semtech Elects Three New Members to Board of Directors

CAMARILLO, Calif., December 5, 2002 -- Semtech Corp. (Nasdaq: SMTC), a leading supplier of analog and mixed-signal semiconductors for communications, portable devices, computers, and industrial equipment, today announced that Glen Antle, James Lindstrom, and John Piotrowski have been elected to the company's board of directors.

"Expanding the board to include Glen Antle, James Lindstrom, and John Piotrowski significantly strengthens and diversifies Semtech's directorship as we focus on our vision for the future," stated John D. "Jack" Poe, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Semtech. "These business veterans bring a breadth of expertise in technology and leadership that should provide valuable insight into the company's growth and development initiatives."

About the New Directors

Glen M. Antle, whose career in engineering and electronic design automation (EDA) spans 40 years, currently serves on the board of directors for several other technology companies. He was chairman of the board at Quickturn Design Systems until it was acquired by Cadence Design Systems in 1999. Prior to that, Mr. Antle held the positions of chairman of the board and chief executive officer at PiE Design Systems, which merged with Quickturn in 1993. Mr. Antle was co-founder of ECAD, which merged with SDA Systems in 1988, and became Cadence Design Systems, Inc.

James T. Lindstrom holds the position of chief financial officer at AmmoCore

Edgar Filing: SEMTECH CORP - Form 8-K

Technology, Inc., a design implementation solutions provider for the rapid delivery of complex deep sub-micron system ICs. Prior to joining AmmoCore, Mr. Lindstrom was vice president of finance and administration and chief financial officer at Silicon Perspective Corp., where he was instrumental in the company's merger with Cadence Design Systems. He has more than 25 years of financial management experience in the EDA and fabless semiconductor industries.

Gen. John L. Piotrowski, USAF (Ret.) serves as director on other corporate boards, consultant for several aerospace corporations and member of the Defense Science Board. He also serves as senior advisor for the Air Force Research Lab, Joint National Integration Facility, the Ground Based Mid-Course Ballistic Missile Defense Program Manager, and the Missile Defense Agency. General Piotrowski is a seasoned administrator and resource manager with extensive experience in strategic planning, policy formulation, resource allocation and logistics.

Glen Antle, James Lindstrom, and John Piotrowski join other Semtech board members: Jack Poe, chairman of the board and Semtech's CEO; Rock Hankin, vice chairman of the board and senior partner at Hankin & Co.; James Burra, CEO of Endural Division, Hoover Group, Inc.; and James Schraith, former vice president at Quantum Corporation.
