Item 1.01 Entry into a Definitive Material Agreement

On March 31, 2012, Nanophase Technologies Corporation ( NTC ) entered into a Trademark Ownership Assignment Agreement (the Trademark Assignment ) with CIK NanoTek Corporation ( CIK ), pursuant to which NTC assigned the Japanese trademark for NanoTek to CIK for $5,000.

In addition, on March 31, 2012, NTC and CIK entered into a Memorandum on the Payment of Royalty (the Royalty Memorandum ), with respect to the royalty payments due in 2012 and 2013 under the license agreement, dated as of December 30, 1997, as amended, and sublicense agreement, dated as of April 1, 2009, between the parties (together, the License Agreements ). Under the Royalty Memorandum, the parties agreed that CIK would pay NTC $279,000 by the end of April 2012 as payment for the $300,000 minimum royalty due under the License Agreements in April 2013, which represents a 7% discount for early payment.

The other terms of the License Agreements, which continue in effect until April 1, 2013, and a Subsequent Agreement between the parties that will take effect on April 1, 2013 upon the scheduled termination of the License Agreements (the Subsequent Agreement ), were unaffected by the parties entering the Royalty Memorandum. Under the existing License Agreements, CIK currently pays NTC a royalty in exchange for an exclusive technology license and certain territorial benefits. The Subsequent Agreement will permit CIK to produce, use and sell nanocrystalline materials on a non-exclusive, royalty-free basis and will permit both CIK and NTC to sell those materials without territorial restrictions. The Subsequent Agreement will provide flexibility to both NTC and CIK to compete in the marketplace and further allow the companies to work together prospectively as and to the extent both parties deem mutually beneficial.

The foregoing description of the Trademark Assignment and the Royalty Memorandum does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Trademark Assignment and the Royalty Memorandum, which are filed as Exhibits 10.1 and 10.2 hereto, are incorporated herein by reference and constitute a part of this report.
