Section 1. Registrant's Business and Operations

Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On September 17, 2012, Dole Food Company, Inc. ( Dole or the Company ), entered into an Acquisition Agreement (the Acquisition Agreement ) with ITOCHU Corporation, a Japanese kabushiki kaisha ( ITOCHU ), pursuant to which the Company has agreed to sell to ITOCHU Dole's worldwide packaged foods business and Asia fresh business for $1.685 billion in cash on a cash-free, debt-free basis (the Sale Transaction ). ITOCHU will acquire these businesses through the acquisition from the Company or one of its subsidiaries of all the outstanding equity interests of (1) a subsidiary to be formed in connection with the transaction which will hold the Company's Asia fresh business and the non-U.S. portions of its worldwide packaged foods business, and (2) a subsidiary of the Company holding the U.S. portions of the worldwide packaged foods business.

The Acquisition Agreement has been unanimously approved by the Board of Directors of the Company (the Board ), and the Board of Directors of ITOCHU, and the Board has resolved to recommend that the stockholders of the Company vote in favor of the Sale Transaction as contemplated by the Acquisition Agreement. The Sale Transaction is expected to close by December 31, 2012; however, there can be no assurance that the transaction will be completed at all or, if completed, when it will be completed.

The Sale Transaction is subject to various closing conditions, including that all waiting or similar periods under applicable antitrust laws have expired or terminated, that all other material approvals and consents of any governmental authorities required to consummate the Sale Transaction have been obtained, and that the Company's stockholders have approved the Sale Transaction. The Acquisition Agreement also includes customary termination provisions providing each party the right to terminate the agreement under certain circumstances, including if Dole receives a superior acquisition proposal. The Company is required to pay ITOCHU a break-up fee of $50.4 million in connection with certain specified terminations.

ITOCHU has imported Dole fresh produce into Japan from the Philippines for over 50 years. The present Dole Japan, Ltd. was incorporated in 1982, and in 1984 it and ITOCHU formalized their business relationship by entering into a series of fruit purchase agreements and a service agreement. Pursuant to these arrangements, ITOCHU is the exclusive import agent for Dole fruit in Japan and also distributes the product, invoices and collects from Dole's customers, and acts as a guarantor of payment from these customers. These agreements have been renewed annually and are currently in force. ITOCHU also acts as a sales agent in Japan for certain packaged food products produced by Dole. In 1998, Dole Japan, ITOCHU and other companies entered into a Joint Venture Agreement for the establishment of K.I. Fresh Access, which conducts business as a nationwide wholesaler of fresh fruits and vegetables throughout Japan.

In connection with the execution of the Acquisition Agreement, Mr. David H. Murdock, the Company's Chairman, executed a voting agreement pursuant to which he agreed to, among other things, vote all of the shares of the Company's common stock beneficially owned by him in favor of the Sale Transaction and against any competing transaction, subject to the right of the Company to terminate the Acquisition Agreement under certain conditions. Mr. Murdock beneficially owned approximately 63.7% of the issued and outstanding common stock of the Company as of September 17, 2012.

In connection with the closing of the Sale Transaction, the Company has agreed to enter into certain ancillary agreements, including a trademark rights agreement (providing for, among other things, the use and ownership of certain intellectual property rights, including exclusive rights to the DOLE® brand in connection with fresh products in Asia, Australia and New Zealand, and packaged products worldwide, following the closing of the Sale Transaction, and, for a period of two years following the closing of the Sale Transaction, restricting our ability to grow, ripen, procure, distribute or sell fresh bananas or pineapples in Asia and process, distribute or sell processed pineapple worldwide), a transition services agreement (regarding the provision of certain services by the Company to ITOCHU for a transition period following the closing of the Sale Transaction), a supply agreement (providing a mechanism for the parties to purchase certain specified products from one another following the closing of the Sale Transaction), an occupancy agreement (providing for the continued use of certain office space in the Company's corporate headquarters by employees of the businesses to be sold), a ship usage agreement (providing for the continued operation and use by the businesses to be sold following the closing of the Sale Transaction of certain ships owned by the Company), and a patent license agreement (with respect to the use of certain patents following the closing of the Sale Transaction).

The foregoing description of the Acquisition Agreement is not intended to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by the complete text of the Acquisition Agreement, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit 2.1 to this current report on Form 8-K and incorporated herein by reference.
