On May 10, 2013, MasterCard Incorporated sent the following text of an email to employees in connection with its solicitation of proxies for its 2013 Annual Meeting of Stockholders:

As an employee who has received shares of MasterCard's Class A common stock through the company's stock plan, you likely have either recently received (or will soon receive) from Morgan Stanley, as your broker, a notice of internet availability of proxy materials (or, if previously requested, actual paper copies of the proxy materials) for our upcoming 2013 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, to be held on June 18, 2013.

Unless you had previously requested paper copies of the proxy materials, the mailing you receive will be in a relatively small and thin envelope which says "Vote" on the outside and will have the name "Morgan Stanley" showing through the window. The outside of the envelope will not indicate that it is related to your MasterCard shares.

Your vote is very important. We encourage you to follow the instructions on the notice to review our proxy statement, which was publicly filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on April 25, 2013. You may vote your shares by phone or internet by following the instructions on the notice (or, if you received paper copies of the proxy materials, on your voting form). Several of the proposals to be considered at the annual meeting are deemed to be "non-routine" and therefore require you to provide specific voting instructions in order for your vote to be counted for these proposals (including the election of each of our directors and an advisory vote on our executive compensation).

Please do not hesitate to contact either me (via email at _____ or by phone at _____) or Craig Brown, SEC Counsel and Assistant Corporate Secretary (via email at _____ or by phone at _____), should you have any questions.

If you have already received your notice (or voting form) with respect to shares which are held at Morgan Stanley but inadvertently misplaced or discarded it, you may call Robert Peretti of Morgan Stanley at _____ with a voting instruction or to obtain the necessary information to view the proxy materials and vote. If you have any additional questions regarding how to vote your shares, please feel free to contact our proxy solicitor, Georgeson Inc., at (866) 541-3547.

Thanks in advance for your assistance. We appreciate you taking the time to review the proxy materials, consider the matters included and vote.

Bart S. Goldstein
