Consolidated Financial Results

April 1, 2013 – September 30, 2013

October 30, 2013

In preparing its consolidated financial information, ORIX Corporation and its subsidiaries have complied with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

These documents may contain forward-looking statements about expected future events and financial results that involve risks and uncertainties. Such statements are based on our current expectations and are subject to uncertainties and risks that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, those described under "Risk Factors" in the Company's annual report on Form 20-F filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

The Company believes that it will be considered a "passive foreign investment company" for United States Federal income tax purposes in the year to which these consolidated financial results relate and for the foreseeable future by reason of the composition of its assets and the nature of its income. A U.S. holder of the shares or ADSs of the Company is therefore subject to special rules generally intended to eliminate any benefits from the deferral of U.S. Federal income tax that a holder could derive from investing in a foreign corporation that does not distribute all of its earnings on a current basis. Investors should consult their tax advisors with respect to such rules, which are summarized in the Company's annual report.

Economic Environment

Although the global economy continues to carry downside risks such as decelerating growth in emerging countries and lingering uncertainties in European sovereign debt issues, the risk of another serious global financial crisis is receding, with signs of improvement in the United States economy.

In the United States, although there is concern regarding the effect of increasing home loan interest rates on the housing market, private consumption has been firm on the back of increased wages and employment levels, and income and consumption in the retail sector are beginning to create a self-sustained healthy economic cycle. Meanwhile, although the feared tapering of Quantitative Easing Program (QE3) has been suspended for the time being, once again fiscal issues such as the U.S. debt-ceiling crisis are gaining attention.

In Asia's emerging economies, the Chinese economy is at a standstill due to policies restricting investment and India also continues to experience slower growth. In the ASEAN region, although the economic growth rate is beginning to decelerate as the economic slowdown gathers momentum, at the moment in many countries we are seeing higher market share prices and currency appreciation as a result of a delay in tapering Quantitative Easing Programs in the U.S.

In Japan, although a rapid depreciation of the yen and rise in market share prices that continued from the beginning of the year has subsided for the moment, we expect ongoing recovery in the domestic economy due to monetary easing by the Bank of Japan and various economic measures. Moving forward, against a background of improving Japanese domestic company results brought about by the depreciation of yen and increased public investment, we anticipate an increase in private consumption and improvement in the domestic employment environment. Further, following Tokyo's selection to host the 2020 Summer Olympics, there is anticipation of long term investment in Tokyo's infrastructure and increased private investment.

Overview of Business Performance (April 1, 2013 to September 30, 2013)

Edgar Filing: ORIX CORP - Form 6-K

Total Revenues for the six-month period ended September 30, 2013 (hereinafter the second consolidated period) increased 21% to ¥614,131 million compared to ¥508,534 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year. In addition to an increase in revenues from asset management and servicing due to the acquisition of asset management company Robeco Groep N.V. (hereinafter Robeco), operating lease revenues increased due to growth in auto leasing in Japan and aircraft leasing overseas, as did other operating revenues due to contributions from companies acquired after March 31, 2012, growth in the environment and energy-related business, and an increase in commission income compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year. On the other hand, real estate sales decreased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to a decrease in the number of condominium units delivered.

Table of Contents

Total Expenses increased 17% to ¥506,735 million compared to ¥431,498 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year. In addition to an increase in expenses from asset management and servicing in line with the acquisition of Robeco, costs of operating leases and other operating expenses increased in line with an expansion in revenues from operating leases and other operations, and selling, general and administrative expenses increased mainly due to corporate acquisitions made after March 31, 2012. Meanwhile, interest expense decreased due to a decrease in the average balance of borrowing; costs of real estate sales decreased due to a decrease in the number of condominium units delivered; and write-downs of securities decreased mainly due to a decrease in write-downs recorded for non-marketable securities compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Equity in net income of affiliates increased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year mainly due to an increase in profits from domestic joint real-estate ventures.

As a result of the foregoing, income before income taxes and discontinued operations for the second consolidated period increased 41% to ¥123,575 million compared to ¥87,433 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year, and net income attributable to ORIX Corporation shareholders increased 34% to ¥80,408 million compared to ¥59,840 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment Information

Segment profits for the second consolidated period increased 32% to ¥125,526 million compared to ¥95,222 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

In line with the acquisition of Robeco, goodwill and other intangible assets have been allocated to the relevant segments from the second consolidated period. The segment information for the previous periods has been reclassified to reflect this change.

Segment information for the second consolidated period is as follows:

Corporate Financial Services Segment

This segment is involved in lending, leasing and fee business.

During the second consolidated period, improved revenues have not been limited to companies in the manufacturing industry but have extended to include large domestic companies across different industries. Also, small and medium-sized enterprises are showing signs of recovery in performance as a result of growing domestic demand including increased public investment.

Segment assets remained flat at ¥895,137 million compared to the end of the previous fiscal year primarily due to a decrease in installment loans, despite an increase in the balance of investment in direct financing leases.

Installment loan revenues have decreased in line with a decrease in the average loan balance. On the other hand, segment revenues only decreased 1% to ¥35,646 million compared to ¥36,135 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year due to solid direct financing lease revenues as a result of an increase in the average investment balance.

Segment profits decreased 8% to ¥10,824 million compared to ¥11,753 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year due to segment expenses remaining flat compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year and a decrease in equity in net income of affiliates.

Maintenance Leasing Segment

This segment consists of automobile and rental operations. The automobile operations are comprised of automobile leasing, rentals and car sharing. The rental operations are comprised of leasing and rental of precision measuring and IT-related equipment.

The manufacturing activities of Japanese companies are showing signs of recovery. Large companies are making upward revision of their capital expenditure plans and there are signs that private investment activities that had been halted for a period of time are beginning to be resumed. In such an environment, revenues have remained stable due to our ability to provide customers with high value-added services that meet corporate customers' capital expenditure and cost reduction needs.

Table of Contents

Segment revenues continued to progress steadily due to an increase in operating lease revenues, increasing 8% to ¥126,863 million compared to ¥117,403 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year. Segment expenses increased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to an increase in the costs of operating leases in line with increased investment in operating leases.

As a result of the foregoing, segment profits increased 19% to ¥21,135 million compared to ¥17,772 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets increased 6% compared to the end of the previous fiscal year to ¥634,662 million due to increases in both investment in operating leases and investment in direct financing leases.

Real Estate Segment

This segment consists of real estate development, rental and financing, facility operation, REIT asset management, and real estate investment advisory services.

The office building market in Japan continues to show signs of recovery with the vacancy rate falling below its peak and rent levels appearing to have bottomed out. In addition, the J-REIT market is showing improvement due to an increase in land prices in Japan's three largest cities for the first time in five years, a decrease in long term interest rates and anticipation of a rise in real estate prices as a result of Tokyo being selected to host the 2020 Summer Olympics.

Segment revenues decreased 8% to ¥99,300 million compared to ¥108,044 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year due to a decrease in real estate sales resulting from a decrease in the number of condominiums units delivered despite an increase in revenues from facilities operation.

Segment expenses decreased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to decreases in costs of real estate sales and write-downs of securities despite an increase in write-downs of long-lived assets.

In addition to the foregoing, due to an increase in equity in net income of affiliates and recognition of gains from sales of real estate joint ventures, segment profits increased 194% to ¥8,769 million compared to ¥2,982 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets decreased 8% compared to the end of the previous fiscal year to ¥1,045,505 million due to sales of rental properties, as well as decreases in installment loans and investment securities.

Investment and Operation Segment

This segment consists of environment and energy-related business, loan servicing, and principal investment.

In the environment and energy-related business in Japan, there has been ongoing active investment in power generation business projects such as mega-solar. In addition, investment targets are expanding beyond solar power projects to include wind and geothermal power generation projects. Meanwhile, in Japan, recovery in the stock market is gaining momentum with an increase in the number of initial public offerings for the third consecutive year of which many companies are exceeding their public offering price.

Segment revenues increased 60% to ¥78,683 million compared to ¥49,228 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year due to an increase in gains on sales of investment securities and revenue contributions from consolidated subsidiaries acquired after March 31, 2012, despite a decrease in installment loan revenues due to absence of revenues from large collections in the loan servicing business recorded during the first consolidated fiscal period of the previous fiscal year.

Similarly, segment expenses increased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to increases in expenses attributable to aforementioned consolidated subsidiaries acquired after September 30, 2012.

As a result of the foregoing, segment profits increased 35% to ¥22,215 million compared to ¥16,408 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets decreased 2% compared to the end of the previous fiscal year to ¥434,230 million due to a decrease in investment in securities and installment loans despite an increase in investment in affiliates.

Table of Contents

Retail Segment

This segment consists of life insurance operations, banking business and card loan business.

Segment revenues increased 16% to ¥103,474 million compared to ¥88,940 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year due to an increase in installment loan revenues, steady growth in insurance premium income as a result of an increase in the number of policies in force in the life insurance business and an increase in insurance-related investment income.

Segment expenses increased due to an increase in selling, general and administrative expenses as well as an increase in insurance related costs.

As a result of the foregoing, segment profits increased 20% to ¥28,379 million compared to ¥23,647 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets increased 3% compared with the end of the previous fiscal year to ¥2,056,642 million due to increases in investment in securities and installment loans despite a decrease in investment in affiliates.

Overseas Business Segment

This segment consists of leasing, lending, investment in bonds, investment banking, and ship- and aircraft-related operations in the United States, Asia, Oceania and Europe. In addition, asset management operations have been added to this segment as a major business following the acquisition of Robeco.

In the United States, a moderate recovery is continuing while private consumption and the residential markets remained steady. In Asia, although the growth rate is beginning to decelerate as the economic slowdown gathers momentum, at the moment in many countries we are seeing higher market share prices and currency appreciation as a result of a delay in tapering Quantitative Easing Program in the U.S.

Segment revenues increased 62% to ¥151,364 million compared to ¥93,287 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year due to an increase in revenues from asset management in line with the acquisition of Robeco, an increase in direct financing lease revenues in Asia and an increase in aircraft operating lease revenues.

Segment expenses increased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to an increase in costs of operating leases in addition to an increase in expenses from asset management and selling, general and administrative expenses in line with the acquisition of Robeco.

As a result of the foregoing, segment profits increased 51% to ¥34,204 million compared to ¥22,660 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets increased 28% to ¥1,682,603 million compared to the end of the previous fiscal year due to recognition of goodwill and other intangible assets in line with the acquisition of Robeco, increased investment in operating leases such as aircraft, increased investment in direct financing leases in Asia and increased investment in affiliates.

Shareholders' Equity Per Share	(yen)	1,345.63	1,380.37	34.74	3%

Note 1: Shareholders' Equity refers to ORIX Corporation Shareholders' Equity based on US-GAAP. Shareholders' Equity Per Share is calculated using total ORIX Corporation Shareholders' Equity.

Note 2: On April 1, 2013, the Company implemented a 10-for-1 stock split of common stock held by shareholders registered on the Company's register of shareholders as of March 31, 2013. The number of issued shares has been adjusted retrospectively to reflect the stock split for the previous period presented.

Note 3: Goodwill and other intangible assets acquired in the business combination have been recognized as segment assets beginning in the second consolidated fiscal period. Segment assets for the previous fiscal year have been reclassified as a result of this change.

Total assets remained flat compared to the end of the previous fiscal year at ¥8,429,989 million. Investment in direct financing leases increased due to robust new transactions in Japan and the Asian region. Investment in operating leases increased primarily due to strong auto leasing in Japan and aircraft leasing overseas. Investment in affiliates increased primarily due to new investment overseas. Other assets increased primarily due to the recognition of goodwill and other intangible assets from the acquisition of Robeco. On the other hand, cash and cash equivalents decreased, as did installment loans due to increased collections. Segment assets increased 6% compared to March 31, 2013 to ¥6,748,779 million.

The balance of interest bearing liabilities is managed at an appropriate level with consideration to conditions of assets and liquidity on-hand as well as the domestic and overseas financial environment. As a result, long-term and short-term debt decreased compared to March 31, 2013.

Shareholders' equity increased 7% compared to March 31, 2013 to ¥1,759,626 million due to a decrease in treasury stock, at cost for the disposal of treasury shares to pay part of the consideration for the acquisition of the Robeco shares, an increase in common stock and additional paid-in capital as a result of execution of rights on convertible bonds, and an increase in retained earnings.

(3) Qualitative Information Regarding Targets for Consolidated Financial ResultsFinancial Highlights for the Fiscal Year Ending March 31, 2014

Due to solid performance by five business segments during the second consolidated period, ORIX expects net income attributable to ORIX Corporation shareholders to exceed the initial target of ¥135,000 million (up 20.6% year on year) for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2014 by ¥10,000 million.

The Corporate Financial Services segment aims to further expand its customer base and increase small-sized quality assets by strengthening cooperation with the Group companies. At the same time, the segment aims to accelerate the Finance + Services strategy through the expansion of fee revenues by providing products and services that meet the customers' energy and environment related demands.

The Maintenance Leasing segment aims to capture demand in growth areas in the rental business and increase new business volume and expand high value-added services in the auto business. In addition, this segment expects continued stable profits by continuing to promote operation streamlining and enhancing cost control.

Edgar Filing: ORIX CORP - Form 6-K

The Real Estate segment aims to enhance its stable profit base by expanding fee business through the promotion of its real estate operating business and asset management business while continuing to turnover assets and reduce its asset balance.

The Investment and Operation segment aims to grow profits through the expansion of its environment and energy business, promotion of principal investments both in Japan and overseas, and pursuit of revenue opportunities by capitalizing on servicer expertise.

Table of Contents

The Retail segment aims to grow profits by increasing card loan balances via the consolidated management of ORIX Bank and ORIX Credit, enhancing the agency network in the life insurance business, and increasing sales of first sector products, in addition to the third sector products in the life insurance business.

The Overseas Business segment aims to grow profits through enhancement of its fee business in the United States and expansion of its leasing asset balance in Asia. In addition, through the acquisition of Robeco, it aims to raise the level of the Group's service related revenues and expand its global business platform.

Note 1: The Company evaluates the performance of segments based on income before income taxes and discontinued operations, adjusted for results of discontinued operations, net income attributable to the noncontrolling interests and net income attributable to the redeemable noncontrolling interests before applicable tax effect. Tax expenses are not included in segment profits.

Note 2: For certain VIEs used for securitization which are consolidated in accordance with ASC 810-10 (Consolidations), for which the VIE's assets can be used only to settle related obligations of those VIEs and the creditors (or beneficial interest holders) do not have recourse to other assets of the Company or its subsidiaries, segment assets are measured based on the amount of the Company and its subsidiaries' net investments in the VIEs, which is different from the amount of total assets of the VIEs, and accordingly, segment revenues are also measured at a net amount representing the revenues earned on the net investments in the VIEs.

Note 3: From the second consolidated fiscal period, goodwill and other intangible assets recognized as a result of business combination have been included in segment assets. As a result of the foregoing, we have reclassified the segment information for the previous second consolidated period and the previous fiscal year.
