Update- to 30 September 2005

30 September 2005

National Grid close period trading update for the six months ended 30 September 2005

National Grid plc (the "Group") is today issuing its trading update prior to entering its close period and the announcement of its interim results on Thursday 17 November 2005. These will be the first set of results the Group will report under International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). Also today, the Group is issuing comparative unaudited IFRS results for the period ending 30 September 2004, a summary of which is below.

The Group's operating performance is expected to be good. It has been driven by continued underlying volume growth in the US, favourable results from UK capacity auctions, a continued focus on efficiencies and a full period contribution from Crown Castle UK. The operating performance, together with positive weather effects, is expected to offset a significant under recovery of higher commodity costs in the US, which will be recovered in future periods, and a period-on-period weakening of the US dollar. For these reasons, operating profit* is expected to be in-line with last year. Profit before tax* is expected to be ahead of last year due to lower interest expense this year.

The effective tax rate on profit before tax* is anticipated to be around 32%. As a result, earnings* are expected to be similar to the same period last year. Earnings per share* for the period are expected to be ahead of the same period last year, having benefited from the share consolidation which occurred on 1 August 2005. The seasonally more significant second half will fully reflect this consolidation.

After IFRS transition adjustments, excluding certain mark-to-market effects in the period, net debt is expected to be around £11 billion. This reflects the receipt of £5.8 billion upon completion of the Group's UK gas network sales on 1 June 2005, the £2 billion return of value to shareholders in August 2005, the increase in capital investment and normal seasonal factors.

* References are to continuing underlying results. Underlying results exclude exceptional items and certain mark-to-market re-measurements.

 The number of ordinary shares in issue has decreased by 12%, from 3.1 billion at 31 March 2005 to 2.7 billion at 30 September 2005 as a result of the share consolidation.

Note:

As previously reported, the adoption of IFRS will lead to greater volatility on both underlying and statutory reported earnings due to the effects IFRS has on the accounting treatment of US regulatory assets as compared with UK GAAP and the adoption of International Accounting Standard 39: Financial Instruments, Recognition and Measurement, which the Group adopted with effect from 1 April 2005. While this may cause the reported results for any given period to be more volatile than those reported under UK GAAP, this change in treatment does not impact the performance of the Group or its current or future cash flows.

Cautionary statement

This announcement contains certain statements that are neither reported financial results nor other historical information. These statements are forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Because these forward-looking statements are subject to assumptions, risks and uncertainties, actual future results may differ materially from those expressed in or implied by such statements. Many of these assumptions, risks and uncertainties relate to factors that are beyond National Grid's ability to control or estimate precisely, such as delays in obtaining, or adverse conditions contained in, regulatory approvals, competition and industry restructuring, changes in economic conditions, currency fluctuations, changes in interest and tax rates, changes in energy market prices, changes in historical weather patterns, changes in laws, regulations or regulatory policies, developments in legal or public policy doctrines, the impact of changes to accounting standards, technological developments, the failure to retain key management, the availability of new acquisition opportunities or the timing and success of future acquisition opportunities. Other factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in this announcement include the ability to continue to integrate the US and UK businesses acquired by or merged with National Grid, the failure for any reason to achieve reductions in costs or to achieve operational efficiencies, unseasonable weather impacting on demand for electricity and gas, the behaviour of UK electricity market participants on system balancing, the timing of amendments in prices to shippers in the UK gas market, the performance of National Grid's pension schemes and the regulatory treatment of pension costs, the impact of the separation and sale by National Grid of four of its UK gas distribution networks and any adverse consequences arising from outages on or otherwise affecting energy networks owned and/or operated by National Grid.

For a more detailed description of these assumptions, risks and uncertainties, together with any other risk factors, please see National Grid's filings with the US Securities and Exchange Commission (and in particular the "Risk Factors" and "Operating and Financial Review" sections in its most recent annual report on Form 20-F). Recipients are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this presentation. National Grid does not undertake any obligation to release publicly any revisions to these forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this announcement.
