APPLEBEE'S AND WEIGHT WATCHERS ANNOUNCE PLANS TO CO-DEVELOP NEW MENU

JULY 25, 2003 - Applebee's International, Inc. (Nasdaq: APPB), operators of Applebee's Neighborhood Grill & Bar restaurants, the world's largest casual dining concept, and Weight Watchers International, Inc. (NYSE: WTW), the leader in providing healthy and effective weight management services, have entered into an exclusive and comprehensive license agreement. The keystone of this agreement will be a Weight Watchers branded section of the Applebee's menu.

"Although you can eat any food on the Weight Watchers program, we know it is still often difficult for weight conscious consumers to find healthy and satisfying food choices when and where they need them. Applebee's is a terrific partner to develop these selections in a casual dining restaurant setting," said Linda Huett, President and CEO of Weight Watchers International, Inc.

Applebee's and Weight Watchers will develop a number of new, exclusive items for the Applebee's menu, including appetizers, entrees and desserts. Following testing in select markets later this year, these new items will be offered next year in all Applebee's Neighborhood Grill & Bar restaurants in the United States and Canada - more than 1,500 locations. The companies will work together to inform weight conscious consumers about the new menu.

"At Applebee's, we are committed to choice. We want to provide our guests with menu selections as diverse as they are delicious," said Lloyd L. Hill, Chairman and CEO of Applebee's International, Inc. "Teaming with Weight Watchers is a great way for us to provide our guests with healthy, great-tasting choices."
