Richmond, Va., February 29, 2008 Circuit City Stores, Inc. today confirmed receipt of two proposals from shareholder Wattles Capital Management, LLC. In one proposal, Wattles Capital Management, which holds only approximately 6.5 percent of the outstanding shares of the company's common stock, proposes to replace the entire Circuit City 12-member board of directors with its own nominees. Circuit City's board of directors will review carefully the shareholder's proposals and the qualifications of the nominees in accordance with its fiduciary duties, mindful that the proposal would give the shareholder absolute control of the entire board, which would be disproportionate to its relative ownership of the company's shares. The members of Circuit City's board are experienced, committed to increasing shareholder value, and vital to the successful implementation of the company's turnaround plan.
