Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act requires the Company's directors and executive officers, and persons who own more than ten percent (10%) of a registered class of the Company's equity securities ("10% Stockholders"), to file with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") initial reports of ownership and reports of changes in ownership of common stock and other equity securities of the Company. Officers, directors and 10% Stockholders are required by Commission regulation to furnish the Company with copies of all Section 16(a) forms they file.

Based solely on the Company's review of the copies of such reports received by the Company, the Company believes that for the fiscal year 2002, all Section 16(a) filing requirements applicable to its officers, directors and 10% Stockholders were complied with other than that of Alexander G. Minella, a beneficial owner of more than 10% of common stock, who failed to file a Form 3 relating to his holdings in the Company and a Form 4 for three separate transactions that were not reported on a timely basis.

Board Meetings and Committees; Management Matters

The Board of Directors held three meetings during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002. Each director attended at least 75% of the Board and Committee meetings of which he was a member during such time as he served as a director. From time to time, the members of the Board of Directors act by unanimous written consent pursuant to the laws of the State of Nevada. No fees are paid to directors for attendance at meetings of the Board.

On April 17, 2001, the Board of Directors established an Audit Committee composed of John Scagnelli and Wesly Minella. The Audit Committee members are independent directors as defined by the National Association of Securities Dealers' listing standards, as applicable and as may be modified or supplemented. The Audit Committee reviews with the Company's auditors the audited financial statements of the Company and any other audit-related issues and reviews with the Company's management the unaudited quarterly numbers during the year. The Audit Committee is governed by a written charter approved by the Board of Directors. During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002, the Audit Committee held two meetings.

The Audit Committee has reviewed and discussed the audited financial statements with management. The Audit Committee has also discussed with the independent auditors the matters required to be discussed by SAS61 (Codification of Statements on Auditing Standards, AV ss.380) and has received the written disclosures and the letter from the independent accountants required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Standards Discussions with Audit Committees) and has discussed with the independent accountant the independent accountant's independence.

The Audit Committee has recommended to the Board of Directors that the audited financial statements be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-KSB for the year ended December 31, 2002, for filing with the Commission.

Report on Executive Compensation

The Board of Directors determines the compensation of the Chief Executive Officer and President and sets policies for and reviews with the Chief Executive Officer and President the compensation awarded to the other principal executives, if any. The compensation policies utilized by the Board of Directors are intended to enable the Company to attract, retain and motivate executive officers to meet Company goals using appropriate combinations of base salary and incentive compensation in the form of stock options. Generally, compensation decisions are based on contractual commitments, if any, as well as corporate performance, the level of individual responsibility of the particular executive and individual performance. Mr. Craig Gironda resigned as Chief Executive Officer and President and as a Director on December 26, 2002. On December 27, 2002, the Company's Board of Directors appointed Mr. Patrick Freeman to the positions previously held by Mr. Gironda. During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002, the Company's executive officers were Craig Gironda and Patrick Freeman.

Salaries. Base salaries for the Company's executive officers are determined initially by evaluating the responsibilities of the position held and the experience of the individual, and by reference to the competitive marketplace for management talent, including a comparison of base salaries for comparable positions at comparable companies within the Company's industry.

Edgar Filing: CORDIA CORP - Form DEF 14A

The Company believes that its salaries are below average as compared to its competitors. Annual salary adjustments are determined by evaluating the competitive marketplace, the performance of the Company, the performance of the executive, particularly with respect to the ability to manage the growth of the Company, the length of the executive's service to the Company and any increased responsibilities assumed by the executive.

Stock Incentives. Stock incentives may be granted, subject to the adoption of the Plan by the stockholders, by the Board of Directors, in their sole discretion, to officers and employees of the Company to reward outstanding performance during the prior fiscal year and as an incentive to continued outstanding performance in future years. In evaluating the performance of officers and employees other than the Chief Executive Officer and President, the Board of Directors consults with the Chief Executive Officer and President and others in management, as applicable. In an effort to attract and retain highly qualified officers and employees, stock incentives may also be granted by the Board of Directors, at its sole discretion, to newly-hired officers and employees as an inducement to accept employment with the Company.

Compensation of Chief Executive Officer and President. Craig Gironda assumed the duties of Chief Executive Officer and President of the Company in December 2000. In an effort to provide Mr. Gironda with incentives to grow the business of the Company and to further align the compensation of Mr. Gironda with the interests of stockholders, on January 5, 2001, the Board of Directors granted Mr. Gironda incentive stock options to purchase 66,000 shares of Common Stock at an exercise price of $7.50 per share (after giving effect to the five-for-one reverse stock split of the Common Stock in June 2002). These stock options expired upon Mr. Gironda's resignation from the Company in December 2002.

Board of Directors Interlocks and Insider Participation in Compensation Decisions

No such interlocks existed or such decisions were made during fiscal year 2002.

Certain Relationships and Related Transactions

The Company believes that all purchases from or transactions with affiliated parties were on terms and at prices substantially similar to those available from unaffiliated third parties.

During the last three years, the Company has borrowed an aggregate of approximately $366,000 from Geils Ventures LLC, a stockholder of the Company. Such loans bore interest at a rate of 12% per annum and were payable on demand. During 2001, the Company repaid approximately $311,000 of loans payable to Geils Ventures LLC and related accrued interest of $26,000 in exchange for eLEC Communications Corp. common stock having a fair market value of approximately $101,000. At December 31, 2002, the Company had repaid all loans payable to Geils Ventures LLC.

On March 3, 2003, the Company sold its equity interests in its subsidiary, Insurance Solutions Group, Inc. ("ISG"), to West Lane Group, Inc., a company owned by the then-current management of ISG, for a purchase price of $750,000 represented by a promissory note in that amount, which note has a term of two years, bears interest at the rate of 6% per annum and is secured by 700,000 shares of the Company's common stock owned by West Lane. The Company also entered into a licensing agreement with ISG whereby ISG purchased an unlimited license to certain software owned the Company. Pursuant to the license agreement, ISG paid the Company $100,000 on execution of the license agreement, and has agreed to pay an additional $6,000 per month (including interest) for a period of 25 months.

AMENDMENT OF THE 2001 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN

(Proxy Item 2)

Adoption of the 2001 Equity Incentive Plan

On January 5, 2001, the Board of Directors adopted the 2001 Equity Incentive Plan ("the Plan"), which reserved 5,000,000 shares of Common Stock for issuance thereunder. On May 25, 2001, the Company's stockholders adopted the plan.

The purpose of the Plan is to enable the Company to compete successfully in attracting, motivating and retaining directors and key employees with outstanding abilities by making it possible for them to purchase shares of Common Stock on terms that will give them a more direct and continuing interest in the future success of the Company's business. The Plan is intended to provide a method whereby directors and key employees and others who are making and are expected to continue to make substantial contributions to the successful growth and development of the Company may be offered additional incentives to advance the interest of the Company and its stockholders. The Company anticipates the potential number of eligible participants in the Plan to be approximately 25. The Board believes that the Plan increases the Company's flexibility in furthering such purposes.

Proposed Amendment of the Plan

The Board proposes to increase the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock by reserving an additional 1,000,000 shares for issuance under the Plan.

Terms of the Plan

The Plan provides for the grant of incentive stock options ("ISO"), as defined in Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), non-qualified stock options, tandem stock appreciation rights and stock appreciation rights exercisable in conjunction with stock options. The purchase price of shares of Common Stock covered by an ISO must be at least 100% of the fair market value of such shares of Common Stock on the date the option is granted and, for all options is payable in either cash or shares of Common Stock, or any combination thereof. No ISO will be granted to any employee who immediately after the grant would own more than 10% of the total combined voting power or value of all classes of capital stock of the Company, or any subsidiary of the Company, unless the option price is at least 110% of the fair market value of the shares of Common Stock subject to the option, and the option on the date of grant shall expire not later than five years from the date the option is granted. In addition, the aggregate fair market value of the shares of Common Stock, determined at the date of grant, with respect to which ISOs are exercisable for the first time by an optionee during any calendar year, shall not exceed $100,000. No ISO may be granted under the Plan to any director who is not an employee of the Company.

Administration of the Plan

The Plan is administered by the Board of Directors of the Company. The Board will have full authority, in its sole discretion, to interpret the Plan, to establish from time to time regulations for the administration of the Plan and to determine the directors and key employees to whom options will be granted and the terms of the options. The term "employees," as defined under the Plan, encompasses employees, including officers, regularly employed on a salary basis by the Company or any subsidiary of the Company. The Board may delegate all or part of its authority to administer the Plan to a committee appointed by the Board and consisting of not less than two members thereof. No director may serve as a member of such committee unless such director is a "disinterested person" within the meaning of Rule 16(b)(3) ("Rule 16(b)(3)") under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "1934 Act").

Exercise of Options and Rights

Under the Plan, an option or stock appreciation right may be exercised in such installments as are specified in the terms of its grant, but not sooner than one year from the date of its grant, unless otherwise provided at the time of its grant. Each option or stock appreciation right shall expire ten years after the date granted (or five years in the case of an ISO granted to any person who owns more than 10% of the Company's voting stock).

Tandem stock appreciation rights and stock appreciation rights granted in conjunction with options may be exercised only to the extent, during the period and on the conditions that their related options are exercisable and may not be exercised after the expiration or termination of their related options.

Options and stock appreciation rights are not transferable by the option holder otherwise than by will or the laws of descent and distribution and are exercisable during the option holder's lifetime only by such person.

If an option holder ceases to be continuously employed by the Company or any of its subsidiaries for any reason other than death or for cause, such holder may exercise the option and/or any stock appreciation rights at any time within three months after such termination (provided it shall not have first expired by its own terms), but only to the extent that such holder was entitled to do so at the date employment terminated. If an option holder dies while employed by the Company or within a period of three months after termination of employment for any reason other than cause, the option and/or any stock appreciation right may be exercised at any time within one year after the date of such death (provided it shall not have first expired by its own terms), but only to the extent the decedent was entitled to do so at the date of death. If an option holder's employment is terminated for cause as determined by the Board, the option and/or any stock appreciation right terminates concurrently with the termination of such employment.

Amendment of the Plan

The Board of Directors may alter, amend or terminate the Plan at any time with respect to shares of Common Stock not subject at such time to options or stock appreciation rights, but such amendments shall not adversely affect the rights of any person under any option or stock appreciation right theretofore granted without such person's consent. The Board may not, without the approval of the shareholders of the Company, increase the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock to be issued pursuant to options or stock appreciation rights granted (except as permitted by the Plan); decrease the minimum option price; increase the maximum amount a holder of a stock appreciation right may receive upon its exercise; extend the option period with respect to any option or stock appreciation right; permit the granting of options or stock appreciation rights to anyone other than as provided in the Plan; or provide for the administration of the Plan by the Board of Directors or a committee appointed by the Board unless such administration meets the requirements for exemption provided by Rule 16b-3.

Federal Income Tax Consequences

The Company has been advised that ISOs, non-qualified stock options and stock

appreciation rights granted under the Plan are subject to the following Federal income tax treatment:

Incentive Stock Options. An employee will recognize no taxable income and no deduction is available to the Company upon either the grant or exercise of an ISO.

In general, if Common Stock acquired upon the exercise of an ISO is subsequently sold, the realized gain or loss, if any, will be measured by the difference between the exercise price of the option and the amount realized on the sale. Any such gain or loss on the sale will generally be treated as long-term capital gain or loss if the holding period requirements have been satisfied. The holding period requirements will be satisfied if the shares are not sold within two years of the date of grant of the option pursuant to which such shares were transferred or within the one-year period beginning on the day of the transfer of such shares pursuant to the exercise of the option.

If Common Stock acquired upon the exercise of an ISO is subsequently sold and the holding period requirements noted above are not satisfied (a "disqualifying disposition"), the employee will recognize ordinary income for the year in which the disqualifying disposition occurs in an amount equal to the excess of the fair market value of such Common Stock on the date the option was exercised (or, if lower, the amount realized on the sale) over the exercise price of the option. Any additional gain recognized on the sale will be a capital gain, and will be long-term or short-term depending upon whether the sale occurs more than one year after the date of exercise. The amount recognized by the employee as ordinary income will be treated as compensation and the Company will receive a corresponding deduction. The Company may be required to withhold additional taxes from the wages of the employee with respect to the amount of ordinary income taxable to the employee.

The excess of the fair market value of the Common Stock acquired by exercise of an ISO (determined on the date of exercise) over the exercise price is in effect an item of tax preference, which must be taken into account for purposes of calculating the "alternative minimum tax" of Section 55 of the Code. If a disqualifying disposition is made of such Common Stock, however, during the same year acquired, there will be no tax preference item for alternative minimum tax purposes.

Non-qualified Stock Options and Stock Appreciation Rights. Non-qualified stock options granted under the Plan do not result in any income to the optionee at the time of grant or any tax deduction to the Company at that time. Except as stated below with respect to officers, upon exercise of a non-qualified option, the excess of the fair market value of the Common Stock acquired (determined at the time of exercise) over its cost to the optionee (i) is taxable to the optionee as ordinary income and (ii) is deductible by the Company, subject to general rules relating to the reasonableness of compensation; and the optionee's tax basis for the shares is the fair market value at the time of exercise.

Gain or loss recognized upon disposition of shares acquired pursuant to the exercise of a non-qualified option will generally be reportable as short or long-term gain or loss depending on the length of time the shares were held by the optionee as of the date of disposition.

The exercise of a stock appreciation right by an employee results in taxable compensation to such employee in the amount of the cash received plus an amount equal to the fair market value (determined at the time of exercise) of any shares received.

The Company believes that compensation received by participants on the exercise of nonqualified stock options or the disposition of shares acquired upon the exercise of ISOs will be considered performance-based compensation and thus not subject to the $1,000,000 limit of Section 162(m) of the Code.
