PRELIMINARY PROXY STATEMENT -- SUBJECT TO COMPLETION (JULY 9, 2001)

[MP3.COM LOGO]

To the stockholders of MP3.com:

You are cordially invited to attend a special meeting of stockholders of MP3.com, Inc. to be held on [], 2001 at [] a.m. local time at MP3.com's corporate headquarters located at 4790 Eastgate Mall, San Diego, California 92121-1970.

At the special meeting, you will be asked to vote on the adoption of a merger agreement for a merger with Vivendi Universal, S.A., under which MP3.com will merge with and into a wholly owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal.

Under the merger agreement, in exchange for each of your shares of MP3.com common stock, you may elect to receive (1) $5.00 in cash, or (2) a number of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares (in the form of American Depositary Shares) having a value of $5.00, subject to proration as described below. Vivendi Universal ordinary shares (in the form of American Depositary Shares) trade on the New York Stock Exchange under the trading symbol "V", and closed at $60.23 per share on July 2, 2001.

In connection with the merger, you may not receive all of your merger consideration in the form that you elect. The merger agreement provides that the percentage of shares of MP3.com common stock that will be converted into Vivendi Universal ordinary shares is fixed at 50% and the percentage of shares of MP3.com common stock that will be converted into cash is also fixed at 50%. Therefore, the MP3.com stockholders' elections, including yours, may be adjusted on a pro rata basis so that, in the aggregate, 50% of the MP3.com common stock is converted into the right to receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares and 50% of the MP3.com common stock is converted into the right to receive cash.

After careful consideration, MP3.com's board of directors has unanimously approved the merger agreement and the merger and determined that the merger agreement and the merger are advisable, fair to and in the best interests of, MP3.com and its stockholders. The board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote FOR the proposal to adopt the merger agreement at the special meeting.

The attached notice of special meeting and proxy statement/prospectus explain the proposed merger and provide specific information concerning the special meeting. Please read these materials carefully. IN PARTICULAR, YOU SHOULD CAREFULLY CONSIDER THE DISCUSSION IN THE SECTION ENTITLED "RISK FACTORS" BEGINNING ON PAGE 19 OF THE PROXY STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS.

MP3.com is a Delaware corporation. Under Delaware law, the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting is required to adopt the merger agreement. MP3.com stockholders owning more than 50% of the MP3.com common stock as of [], 2001 have agreed to vote all of their shares in favor of the proposal to adopt the merger agreement. As a result, adoption of the merger agreement by the MP3.com stockholders at the special meeting is assured.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Your vote is very important regardless of the number of shares you own. To vote your shares, you may use the enclosed proxy card, grant a proxy online or by telephone or attend the special meeting in person. Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please complete, sign and promptly return the enclosed proxy card or grant a proxy online or by telephone to assure that your shares will be voted at the special meeting. Failure to return a properly executed proxy card, grant a proxy online or by telephone or vote at the special meeting will have the same effect as a vote against adoption of the merger agreement.

Sincerely,

Michael L. Robertson
Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Directors

NEITHER THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION NOR ANY STATE SECURITIES REGULATOR HAS APPROVED OR DISAPPROVED OF THE MERGER DESCRIBED IN THIS PROXY STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS OR THE SECURITIES TO BE ISSUED IN CONNECTION WITH THE MERGER, OR DETERMINED IF THIS PROXY STATEMENT/ PROSPECTUS IS ACCURATE OR COMPLETE. This proxy statement/prospectus is dated [], 2001 and is first being mailed to stockholders of MP3.com on or about [], 2001.

Those of you who do not vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement have the right to demand appraisal of your shares of MP3.com common stock and to receive payment in cash for the fair value of your shares as determined by the Delaware Chancery Court. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER

The following are some questions that you, as a stockholder of MP3.com, may have and answers to those questions. These questions and answers may not address all questions that may be important to you as a holder of MP3.com common stock. We urge you to read carefully the remainder of this proxy statement/prospectus because the information in this section is not complete and additional important information is contained in the remainder of this proxy statement/prospectus, the annexes to this proxy statement/prospectus and the documents referred to or incorporated by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: WHY AM I RECEIVING THIS DOCUMENT AND PROXY CARD?

A: You are receiving this document and proxy card because you own shares of MP3.com common stock. MP3.com has entered into a merger agreement with Vivendi

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Universal pursuant to which Vivendi Universal will acquire MP3.com. This document describes a proposal to adopt the merger agreement. This document also gives you information about MP3.com and Vivendi Universal and other background information so that you can make an informed investment decision, as Vivendi Universal is offering its ordinary shares as part of the merger consideration.

Q: WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO MP3.COM AS A RESULT OF THE MERGER?

Q: WHY ARE VIVENDI UNIVERSAL AND MP3.COM PROPOSING THE MERGER?

A: The merger is expected to strongly reinforce Vivendi Universal and MP3.com's digital efforts in the strategic areas of online music, subscriptions, branding, technology and content.

Q: WHAT WILL I RECEIVE IN THE MERGER?

A: You will have an opportunity to make a choice about what you prefer to receive in the merger. For each share of MP3.com common stock you own, you will have the right to elect to receive either:

- $5.00 in cash; or
- a number of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares (in the form of American Depositary Shares, or ADSs) having a value of $5.00.

You will not, however, be assured of receiving either all Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or all cash, notwithstanding your choice, as explained below.

Q: WILL I RECEIVE THE FORM OF PAYMENT THAT I CHOOSE?

A: Not necessarily. The merger agreement provides that the percentage of shares of MP3.com common stock that will be converted into Vivendi Universal ordinary shares is fixed at 50% and the percentage of shares of MP3.com common stock that will be converted into cash is also fixed at 50%. Therefore, the MP3.com stockholders' elections, including yours, may be adjusted on a pro rata basis so that, in the aggregate, 50% of the MP3.com common stock is converted into the right to receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares and 50% of the MP3.com common stock is converted into the right to receive cash.

For example, if holders of 75% of the shares of MP3.com common stock have chosen to receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares and holders of 25% of the shares of MP3.com common stock have chosen to receive cash, then:

- if you chose to receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares, you would receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares in exchange for two-thirds of your shares of MP3.com common stock and cash in exchange for one-third of your shares of MP3.com common stock; and

- if you chose to receive cash, you would receive cash in exchange for all of your shares of MP3.com common stock.

On the other hand, if holders of 75% of the shares of MP3.com common stock have chosen to receive cash and holders of 25% of the shares of MP3.com common stock have chosen to receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares, then:

- if you chose to receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares, you would receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares in exchange for all of your shares of MP3.com common stock; and

- if you chose to receive cash, you would receive cash in exchange for two-thirds of your shares of MP3.com common stock and Vivendi Universal ordinary shares in exchange for one-third of your shares of MP3.com common stock.

If holders of 100% of the shares of MP3.com common stock have chosen to receive all cash, then each holder would receive cash in exchange for 50% of that holder's shares of MP3.com common stock and Vivendi Universal ordinary shares in exchange for 50% of that holder's shares of MP3.com common stock. The result would be the same if holders of 100% of the shares of MP3.com common stock have chosen to receive all Vivendi Universal ordinary shares.

Q: WHAT IS AN AMERICAN DEPOSITARY SHARE?

A: An American Depositary Share is an ownership interest in the securities of a non-U.S. company deposited at a custodian bank. In the case of Vivendi Universal, each ADS will represent the right to receive one Vivendi Universal ordinary share. ADSs are represented by American Depositary Receipts, or ADRs. ADRs are issued in book-entry form or in the form of physical certificates. It is expected that you will receive Vivendi Universal ADSs evidenced by ADRs held in book-entry form. You will not receive a physical certificate evidencing your Vivendi Universal ADSs unless you specifically request one. For a description of the ADSs, see "Description of Vivendi Universal ADSs" on page 72.

Q: HOW DO I ELECT THE FORM OF PAYMENT I PREFER?

A: If your shares are held in registered form, you will receive in a separate mailing an election form and letter of transmittal, each of which you should read carefully. You must return your completed and executed election form, as described in the instructions contained in the election form and letter of transmittal, to elect the form of merger consideration that you prefer to receive.

IN ORDER TO BE CONSIDERED VALID, YOUR ELECTION FORM MUST BE RECEIVED BY THE EXCHANGE AGENT BY 5:00 P.M., NEW YORK CITY TIME, ON [], 2001, WHICH IS THE BUSINESS DAY IMMEDIATELY PRECEDING THE SPECIAL MEETING.

If your MP3.com shares are held in a brokerage or other custodial account, you will receive instructions from the entity where your shares are held advising you of the procedures for making your election and delivering your shares.

Q: CAN I MAKE ONE ELECTION FOR SOME OF MY SHARES AND ANOTHER ELECTION FOR THE REST?

A: Yes. You may elect to receive a combination of cash and Vivendi Universal ordinary shares.

Q: WHAT IF I FAIL TO MAKE AN ELECTION?

A: If you make no election, you will be deemed to have elected to receive cash.

Q: HOW SHOULD I SEND IN MY STOCK CERTIFICATES?

A: If your shares are held in registered form and you make an election of consideration by returning a completed election form, you must send in your MP3.com common stock certificates with your completed election form and letter of transmittal to the exchange agent. If you do not make an election, then you must keep your stock certificates until after the closing, when you will receive a letter of transmittal describing how you may exchange your certificates for merger consideration. DO NOT SEND YOUR STOCK CERTIFICATES OR ELECTION FORM WITH YOUR PROXY CARD. If your shares are held in a brokerage or other custodial account, you will receive instructions from the entity where your shares are held, advising you of the procedures for making your election and delivering your shares.

Q: WHEN IS THE MERGER EXPECTED TO BE COMPLETED?

A: We expect to complete the merger in the third quarter of 2001. Because the merger is subject to stockholder and governmental approvals, as well as other conditions, we cannot predict the exact timing of its completion.

Q: HOW CAN I VOTE?

A: After you have carefully read this document, indicate on your proxy card how you want to vote. Sign, date and mail the proxy card in the enclosed prepaid return envelope as soon as possible, so that your shares may be represented and voted at the special meeting. You may also grant a proxy online or by telephone according to the instructions on the proxy card.

When you cast your vote using the proxy card or by submitting your proxy online or by telephone, you also appoint Robin Richards, Paul Ouyang and Blake Bilstad as your representatives, or proxies, at the special meeting. They will vote your shares at the meeting as you have instructed them on the proxy card or when submitting your proxy online or by telephone. Accordingly, if you send in your proxy card or submit your proxy online or by telephone, your shares will be voted whether or not you attend the special meeting.

The board of directors of MP3.com knows of no other business to be presented at the special meeting. If any matters other than the adoption of the merger agreement are properly presented for consideration at the special meeting, your proxies will vote, or otherwise act, on your behalf in accordance with their judgment on such matters.

Q: WHO CAN VOTE?

A: Holders of record of MP3.com common stock as of the close of business on the record date, which is [], 2001, are entitled to vote at the special meeting. Beneficial owners as of the record date whose shares are held in an account at a brokerage firm or bank will receive instructions from their broker or bank describing how to vote their shares.

Q: HOW DOES THE MP3.COM BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMEND THAT I VOTE?

A: The MP3.com board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote "FOR" the adoption of the merger agreement.

Q: CAN I CHANGE MY VOTE AFTER I HAVE MAILED MY SIGNED PROXY CARD?

A: Yes. You can change your vote at any time before your proxy is voted. To do so, send a written notice stating that you would like to revoke your proxy, or send a later dated, signed proxy card to MP3.com's Secretary at 4790 Eastgate Mall, San Diego, CA 92121-1970, or revoke your proxy online or by telephone before the special meeting. If you are a holder of record you may attend the special meeting in person and vote. Merely attending the special meeting, without voting in person, will not revoke any proxy previously delivered by you. For a description of voting procedures, see "The Special Meeting -- Proxies; Revocation; Solicitation" beginning on page 26.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Q: WHAT DOES IT MEAN IF I GET MORE THAN ONE PROXY CARD?

A: It means you have multiple accounts at the transfer agent and/or with brokers. Please sign and return all proxy cards or grant a proxy online or by telephone to ensure that all your shares are voted.

Q: WHAT IF I DO NOT VOTE?

A: If you do not submit a proxy or instruct your broker to vote your shares, and you do not vote in person at the special meeting, the effect will be the same as if you voted "AGAINST" the adoption of the merger agreement. If you submit a proxy without specifying the manner in which you would like your shares to be voted, your shares will be voted "FOR" adoption of the merger agreement.

If your shares are held in street name, your broker will leave your shares unvoted unless you provide instructions on how to vote. You should follow the directions provided by your broker regarding how to instruct your broker to vote your shares. This ensures that your shares will be voted at the special meeting.

An abstention or share not voted because your broker lacks the authority to vote that share will have the same effect as a vote "AGAINST" adoption of the merger agreement.

Q: WHO SHOULD I CALL WITH QUESTIONS?

A: If you have further questions, you may contact:

Investor Relations
MP3.com, Inc.
4790 Eastgate Mall
San Diego, CA 92121-1970
Telephone: (858) 623-7222
E-mail: investor@mp3.com

Q: WHAT STOCKHOLDER APPROVAL IS NEEDED?

A: Approval requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of common stock of MP3.com. Holders of more than 50% of MP3.com's outstanding shares as of [], 2001 have agreed to vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement. As a result, adoption of the merger agreement by the MP3.com stockholders at the special meeting is assured. The shareholders of Vivendi Universal are not required to vote on the merger.

Q: IF THE MERGER IS COMPLETED, WILL MY VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADSS BE "LISTED" FOR TRADING?

A: We expect that your Vivendi Universal ADSs will be listed on the New York Stock Exchange under the trading symbol "V".

RECENT EVENTS

On June 1, 2001, Vivendi Universal announced that it had agreed to acquire all of the outstanding shares of Houghton Mifflin Company, a leading educational publisher in the United States, pursuant to a cash tender offer at $60 per share. The board of directors of both companies unanimously approved the transaction. As a result of the transaction, Vivendi Universal expects to strengthen its core content businesses by gaining a worldwide leadership position in education. The transaction is subject to regulatory approvals and other customary conditions.

THE SPECIAL MEETING (PAGE 26)

GENERAL (PAGE 26)

MP3.com will hold a special meeting of stockholders on [], 2001, at [] a.m., local time, at which you will be asked to adopt the merger agreement.

RECORD DATE; STOCK ENTITLED TO VOTE; QUORUM (PAGE 26)

Each share of MP3.com common stock outstanding as of [], 2001 entitles its holder to one vote on any matter to be considered at the special meeting. The presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock is required for a quorum for the transaction of business at the special meeting.

PROXIES; REVOCATION; SOLICITATION (PAGE 26)

If you vote your shares of MP3.com common stock by signing a proxy, your shares will be voted at the special meeting as you indicate on your proxy card. If no instructions are indicated on your signed proxy card, your shares of MP3.com common stock will be voted "FOR" adoption of the merger agreement. If you grant a proxy online or by telephone, your shares will be voted at the special meeting as you instruct. If your shares are held in street name, you should follow the directions provided by your broker regarding how to instruct your broker to vote your shares. An abstention, unreturned proxy or share not voted because your broker lacks the authority to vote that share will have the same effect as a vote "AGAINST" adoption of the merger agreement.

You may revoke your proxy at any time before the vote at the special meeting by submitting a written revocation to the Secretary of MP3.com at 4790 Eastgate Mall, San Diego, CA 92121-1970, or by submitting a new proxy, in either case, dated after the date of the proxy that is being revoked. In addition, a proxy may be revoked by voting in person at the special meeting. Simply

REQUIRED VOTE (PAGE 28)

The affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting is necessary for the adoption of the merger agreement. Vivendi Universal has entered into a stockholder agreement with MP3.com stockholders who together beneficially own and have voting control of more than 50% of the shares of MP3.com common stock outstanding as of [], 2001. Under the stockholder agreement, these stockholders have agreed to vote all their shares of MP3.com common stock in favor of adoption of the merger agreement. As a result, adoption of the merger agreement by the MP3.com stockholders at the special meeting is assured.

As of July 2, 2001, the directors and executive officers of MP3.com beneficially owned, in the aggregate, 37,079,960 shares of MP3.com common stock, or approximately 53% of the shares of MP3.com common stock outstanding on that date.

THE MERGER (PAGE 29)

A copy of the merger agreement (including the modification agreement) is attached as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus. We encourage you to read the merger agreement because it is the principal document governing the merger.

FORM OF MERGER AND CONSIDERATION TO BE RECEIVED IN THE MERGER (PAGES 44 AND 45)

In the merger, MP3.com will merge with and into Metronome Acquisition Sub, a wholly owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal. Under the merger agreement, MP3.com stockholders will have the right to elect to receive either $5.00 in cash or a number of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares (in the form of Vivendi Universal ADSs) having a value of $5.00 for each share of MP3.com common stock that they hold. The overall percentage of shares of MP3.com common stock that will be converted into Vivendi Universal ordinary shares is fixed at 50% and the percentage of shares of MP3.com common stock that will be converted into cash is also fixed at 50%. Therefore, the elections of all the holders of MP3.com common stock, including yours, may be adjusted on a pro rata basis so that, in the aggregate, 50% of the shares are converted into the right to receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares and 50% of the shares are converted into the right to receive cash.

APPRAISAL RIGHTS (PAGE 48)

Under Section 262 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, if you do not vote your outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock in favor of adoption of the merger agreement, you will be entitled to dissent and elect to have the "fair value" of your shares, exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger, together with a fair rate of interest, if any, judicially determined by the Delaware Court of Chancery and paid to you in cash. The complete text of Section 262 is attached as Annex D.

If you consider seeking appraisal, you should be aware that the fair value of your shares as determined under Section 262 could be more than, the same as or less than the $5.00 per share payment (in cash or Vivendi Universal ordinary shares) you would be entitled to elect to receive under the merger agreement if you did not seek appraisal of your shares.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE MP3.COM BOARD OF DIRECTORS (PAGE 34)

The MP3.com board of directors has unanimously approved the merger agreement and the merger and determined that the merger agreement and the merger are advisable, fair to and in the best interests of, MP3.com and its stockholders. The board of directors unanimously recommends that MP3.com stockholders vote "FOR" the proposal to adopt the merger agreement at the special meeting.

CONDITIONS TO CONSUMMATION OF THE MERGER (PAGE 58)

Vivendi Universal and MP3.com are obligated to complete the merger only if several conditions are satisfied or waived. These conditions include:

- obtaining the approval of the stockholders of MP3.com for the adoption of the merger agreement;
- the applicable waiting period having expired or been terminated under United States antitrust laws and obtaining all required approvals under foreign antitrust laws;
- no governmental authority enacting or issuing any statute, rule, injunction or other order which legally restrains or otherwise prohibits the consummation of the merger;
- the registration statement on Form F-4, of which this document is a part, becoming effective and remaining effective;
- the New York Stock Exchange approving the listing of the Vivendi Universal ADSs to be issued in connection with the merger;
- the representations and warranties of Vivendi Universal and MP3.com being true and correct (subject to specified qualifications as to materiality and material adverse effects) as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the date of closing;
- Vivendi Universal and MP3.com performing in all material respects all of their respective obligations required by the merger agreement at or prior to the closing date; and
- Vivendi Universal and MP3.com having received tax opinions from their respective U.S. tax advisors.

TERMINATION (PAGE 59)

The merger agreement may be terminated and the merger may be abandoned at any time before the effective time of the merger:

- by the mutual consent of Vivendi Universal and MP3.com;
- by Vivendi Universal or by MP3.com, in the event of an uncured breach by the other party of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement contained in the merger agreement if the breach would cause the specified conditions to the merger not to be satisfied;
- by Vivendi Universal or by MP3.com, if they do not complete the merger on or before November 30, 2001;
- by Vivendi Universal or by MP3.com, if any legal restraint to the merger is in effect and has become final and unappealable; or
- by Vivendi Universal or by MP3.com, if MP3.com's stockholders fail to approve the merger at the special meeting.

THE STOCKHOLDER AGREEMENT (PAGE 61)

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Vivendi Universal has entered into a stockholder agreement with several MP3.com stockholders, including Michael Robertson (Chairman and CEO), Robin Richards (President and a director) and Sequoia Capital. Pursuant to the stockholder agreement, those stockholders have agreed to vote shares representing more than 50% of the outstanding MP3.com common stock as of [], 2001 in favor of the merger and against any action that could impede the merger. As a result, adoption of the merger agreement by the MP3.com stockholders at the special meeting is assured. A copy of the stockholder agreement is attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Annex B.

INTERESTS OF CERTAIN PERSONS IN THE MERGER (PAGE 40)

When you consider the recommendation of the MP3.com board of directors that you vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement, you should keep in mind that a number of officers and members of the MP3.com board have interests in the merger that are in addition to your interests as a stockholder. Their additional interests arise primarily in connection with their continued employment following the consummation of the merger and the compensation they will receive in connection with that employment.

REGULATORY MATTERS (PAGE 47)

Transactions such as the merger are reviewed by the United States Department of Justice and the United States Federal Trade Commission to determine whether they comply with applicable antitrust laws. Under the provisions of the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended, and the related rules and regulations, the merger may not be completed until applicable waiting period requirements have been satisfied. Vivendi Universal and MP3.com each filed notification reports with the Department of Justice and Federal Trade Commission under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act on June 12, 2001. If early termination is not granted and a request for additional information by the relevant antitrust authorities is not made, the waiting period will expire at midnight on July 12, 2001.

TAXATION (PAGE 63)

The merger is expected to qualify as a "reorganization" under U.S. federal income tax laws. As a result, U.S. holders of MP3.com common stock generally will not recognize any gain or loss under U.S. federal income tax laws with respect to Vivendi Universal ADSs received in exchange for their shares of MP3.com common stock and will recognize gain (but not loss) only to the extent of any cash received. However, a U.S. stockholder that receives only cash in the merger will recognize gain (or loss) to the extent that the cash received exceeds (or is less than) its tax basis in the surrendered shares of MP3.com common stock. Cash received for fractional Vivendi Universal ADSs is treated separately as though the stockholder had first received the fractional Vivendi Universal ADS and then exchanged the deemed-received fractional Vivendi Universal ADS for cash.

ACCOUNTING TREATMENT (PAGE 47)

Vivendi Universal prepares its financial statements using French generally accepted accounting principles, or GAAP. In accordance with the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Vivendi Universal intends to account for the merger using the "purchase" method of accounting for business combinations under French GAAP. When it reconciles its financial statements to U.S. GAAP, it also will account for the arrangement using the "purchase" method of accounting for business combinations. This means that Vivendi Universal will record the excess of the purchase price of MP3.com over the fair value of MP3.com's identifiable assets, including intangible assets and liabilities, as "goodwill".

EXPENSES (PAGE 59)

Each of Vivendi Universal and MP3.com will bear all expenses it incurs in connection with the merger, except that Vivendi Universal and MP3.com will share equally the expenses of filing with the SEC the registration statement of which this proxy statement/prospectus is a part and the printing and mailing of this proxy statement/prospectus.

COMPARISON OF SHAREHOLDER RIGHTS (PAGE 80)

As a result of the merger, your shares of MP3.com common stock may be converted into the right to receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares, in the form of Vivendi Universal ADSs. Because MP3.com is a corporation organized under the laws of Delaware and Vivendi Universal is a societe anonyme organized under the laws of The Republic of France, there are differences between the rights of MP3.com stockholders and the rights of holders of Vivendi Universal ADSs and ordinary shares. For a discussion of

Vivendi Universal is a French societe anonyme. Many of Vivendi Universal's directors and executive officers, including the persons who signed the registration statement on Form F-4, of which this document is a part, and some of the experts named in this document, are resident outside the United States, and a substantial portion of Vivendi Universal's assets and all or a substantial portion of the assets of such persons are located outside the United States. As a result, it may be difficult for you to effect service of process within the United States upon such persons to enforce against them judgments of the courts of the United States predicated upon, among other things, the civil liability provisions of the federal securities laws of the United States. In addition, it may be difficult for you to enforce, in original actions brought in courts in jurisdictions located outside the United States, among other things, civil liabilities predicated upon such securities laws.

OPINION OF MP3.COM'S FINANCIAL ADVISOR (PAGE 34)

MP3.com's financial advisor, Credit Suisse First Boston Corporation, has delivered a written opinion to the MP3.com board of directors as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the consideration provided for in the merger. A copy of the full text of Credit Suisse First Boston's written opinion, dated May 20, 2001, is attached to this document as Annex C. We encourage you to read this opinion carefully in its entirety for a description of the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken. CREDIT SUISSE FIRST BOSTON'S OPINION IS ADDRESSED TO THE MP3.COM BOARD OF DIRECTORS AND DOES NOT CONSTITUTE A RECOMMENDATION TO ANY STOCKHOLDER AS TO ANY MATTER RELATING TO THE MERGER.

COMPARATIVE STOCK PRICES AND DIVIDENDS (PAGE 66)

The table below presents the New York Stock Exchange closing market price for Vivendi Universal ADSs, as reported on the New York Stock Exchange Composite Transaction Tape under the symbol "V", and the last reported sale price of the MP3.com common stock, as reported on the Nasdaq National Market under the symbol

"MPPP". These prices are presented on two dates:

- May 18, 2001, the last trading day before the public announcement of the signing of the merger agreement; and
- July 5, 2001, the latest practicable date before the printing of this document.

The exchange ratio, meaning the number of Vivendi Universal ADSs you will receive for each share of MP3.com common stock, will be the quotient of $5.00 divided by the average per share closing price of Vivendi Universal ADSs for the five trading days ending the trading day before the special meeting. Based on the $5.00 per share merger consideration (in cash or Vivendi Universal ADSs), the merger consideration represents a premium of approximately 66% over the closing price per share of MP3.com common stock on May 18, 2001.

- (1) Assuming, for purposes of calculating the exchange ratio, that the average per share closing price of Vivendi Universal ADSs for the five trading days ending the trading day before the special meeting equals the share price of Vivendi Universal ADSs set forth in the column headed "Vivendi Universal ADS Share Price".

CURRENCIES AND EXCHANGE RATES

Under the provisions of the Treaty on European Union negotiated at Maastricht in 1991 and signed by the then 12 member states of the European Union in early 1992, a European Monetary Union, known as EMU, was implemented on January 1, 1999 and a single European currency, known as the euro ("Euro", "euro" or E), was introduced. The following 12 member states participate in EMU and have adopted the euro as their national currency: Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Portugal and Spain. The legal rate of conversion between the French franc and the euro was fixed on December 31, 1998 at E1.00 = FF6.55957, and Vivendi Universal has translated French francs into euros at that rate. For your convenience, this document contains translations of French franc and euro amounts in U.S. dollars. In this proxy statement/prospectus, unless otherwise indicated, all amounts are expressed in U.S. dollars ("dollars", "U.S. dollars", "$", USD or US$).

The following table shows the U.S. dollar/euro exchange rate for 1999 through 2001 based on the noon buying rate expressed in dollars per euro and the French franc/U.S. dollar exchange rate for 1996 through 1998 based on the noon buying rate expressed in French francs per dollar. The "noon buying rate" is the rate in New York City for cable transfers in foreign currencies as certified for customs purposes by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. For information regarding the effect of currency fluctuations on Vivendi Universal's results of operations, see "Vivendi Universal -- Operating and Financial Review and Prospects", page 148.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in Vivendi Universal ordinary shares involves a number of risks, some of which are related to the merger and some of which are inherent in an investment in Vivendi Universal. You should carefully consider the following information about these risks, together with the other information in this proxy statement/prospectus, in considering the proposed merger between Vivendi Universal and MP3.com and your election to receive cash and/or Vivendi Universal ADSs in the proposed merger.

RISKS RELATED TO THE MERGER

THE INTEGRATION OF MP3.COM INTO VIVENDI UNIVERSAL MAY BE DIFFICULT AND EXPENSIVE TO ACHIEVE AND MAY NOT RESULT IN THE BENEFITS THAT WE CURRENTLY ANTICIPATE.

The merger will present challenges to Vivendi Universal's management, including the integration of MP3.com's operations and personnel. In addition, it may present special risks, including possible unanticipated liabilities, unanticipated costs, diversion of management attention and loss of personnel.

Vivendi Universal may not be able to integrate successfully or manage profitably the operations it will acquire in the merger. Following the merger, Vivendi Universal may not achieve the revenue or profitability increases or cost savings currently anticipated to arise from the merger. If Vivendi Universal's management is not able to implement a business plan that effectively integrates MP3.com's operations, the anticipated benefits of the merger may not be

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS OF MP3.COM MAY HAVE INTERESTS IN THE MERGER THAT ARE DIFFERENT FROM THOSE OF MP3.COM'S STOCKHOLDERS.

A number of officers and directors of MP3.com who recommend that you vote in favor of the merger agreement have employment or severance agreements or benefit arrangements that provide them with interests in the merger that may be different from yours. The receipt of compensation or other benefits in connection with the merger (including the acceleration of vesting of stock options), or the continuation of indemnification arrangements for current directors following completion of the merger, may influence these persons in making their recommendation that you vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement. See "The Merger -- Interests of Certain Persons in the Merger".

YOU MAY NOT RECEIVE THE FORM OF MERGER CONSIDERATION THAT YOU ELECT.

In connection with the merger, you may not receive all of your merger consideration in the form that you elect. The merger agreement provides that the percentage of shares of MP3.com common stock that will be converted into Vivendi Universal ordinary shares is fixed at 50% and the percentage of shares of MP3.com common stock that will be converted into cash is also fixed at 50%. Therefore, the MP3.com stockholders' elections, including yours, may be adjusted on a pro rata basis so that, in the aggregate, 50% of the MP3.com common stock is converted into the right to receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares and 50% of the MP3.com common stock is converted into the right to receive cash.

THE PRICE OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADSS AT THE CLOSING OF THE MERGER MAY VARY FROM THE FIVE-DAY AVERAGE PRICE USED TO DETERMINE THE EXCHANGE RATIO FOR THE MERGER.

The price of Vivendi Universal ADSs may vary as a result of changes in the business, operations or prospects of Vivendi Universal, general market and economic conditions and other factors. The number of shares of Vivendi Universal ADSs issued in the merger will be calculated based on an exchange ratio equal to $5.00 divided by the average per share closing price of Vivendi Universal ADSs on the New York Stock Exchange for the five consecutive trading days ending on the trading day immediately preceding the date of the special meeting. The market value of the Vivendi Universal ADSs on the date on which the merger is completed may be different than the five-day average price of Vivendi Universal ADSs used in determining the exchange ratio. As a result, the market value of the Vivendi Universal ADSs you receive pursuant to the merger may be more or less than the $5.00 value assumed in calculating the exchange ratio.

RISKS RELATED TO AN INVESTMENT IN VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADSS

THE PRICES OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADSS MAY BE ADVERSELY AFFECTED BY FACTORS DIFFERENT FROM THOSE AFFECTING THE PRICES OF MP3.COM'S SHARES.

Upon completion of the merger, some MP3.com stockholders will become holders of Vivendi Universal ADSs. Vivendi Universal will operate in numerous markets and industries that differ from the markets and industries in which MP3.com has historically operated. In addition, Vivendi Universal will face foreign currency risks that are different from those faced by MP3.com. Vivendi Universal's results of operations and the market prices of its shares may be adversely affected by factors different from those that affect the results of operations of MP3.com prior to the merger.

VIVENDI UNIVERSAL MAY SUFFER REDUCED PROFITS OR LOSSES AS A RESULT OF

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

INTENSE COMPETITION.

Most of the industries in which Vivendi Universal operates are highly competitive and require substantial human and capital resources. Many other companies serve each of the markets in which Vivendi Universal competes. From time to time, its competitors may reduce their prices in an effort to expand market share. Competitors also may introduce new technology or services or improve the quality of their service. Vivendi Universal may lose business if it is unable to match the prices, technologies or service quality offered by its competitors.

In addition, content and integration of content with communications access are increasingly important parts of the communications business and are key elements of Vivendi Universal's strategy. In accordance with that strategy, Vivendi Universal's communications business relies on some important third-party content. There is no assurance that the desired rights to content will be available on commercially reasonable terms, and as the communications business becomes more competitive, the cost of obtaining this third-party content could increase. Any of these competitive effects could have an adverse effect on Vivendi Universal's business and financial performance.

VIVENDI UNIVERSAL MAY NOT BE ABLE TO RETAIN OR OBTAIN REQUIRED LICENSES, PERMITS, APPROVALS AND CONSENTS.

Vivendi Universal needs to obtain a variety of permits and approvals from regulatory authorities to conduct and expand its businesses. The process for obtaining these permits and approvals is often lengthy, complex and unpredictable. Moreover, the cost of obtaining permits and approvals may be prohibitive. If Vivendi Universal is unable to obtain the permits and approvals it needs to expand its businesses at a reasonable cost and in a timely manner, in particular, licenses to provide telecommunications services, its ability to achieve its strategic objectives could be impaired. In addition, the regulatory environment in which Vivendi Universal's businesses operate is complex and subject to change, and adverse changes in that environment could also impose costs on, or limit the revenue of, Vivendi Universal.

DEMAND FOR VIVENDI UNIVERSAL'S INTEGRATED COMMUNICATIONS AND ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT SERVICES MAY BE LESS THAN VIVENDI UNIVERSAL EXPECTS.

Vivendi Universal believes that important factors driving its growth in the next several years will be increased demand for (1) integrated communications and content services that are accessible through a variety of communications devices and (2) large-scale, integrated environmental management services. Although Vivendi Universal expects markets for both types of services to develop rapidly, its expectations may not be realized. If either market does not grow or does not grow as quickly as it expects, Vivendi Universal's profitability and the return it earns on many of its investments may suffer.

THE INTEGRATION OF THE SEAGRAM COMPANY LTD.'S AND CANAL PLUS S.A.'S TRANSFERRED BUSINESSES INTO VIVENDI UNIVERSAL MAY BE DIFFICULT AND EXPENSIVE TO ACHIEVE AND MAY NOT RESULT IN THE BENEFITS CURRENTLY ANTICIPATED.

Vivendi Universal may not be able to integrate successfully or manage profitably the operations acquired in the merger transactions between Vivendi, The Seagram Company Ltd. and Canal Plus S.A. Vivendi Universal may not achieve the revenue or profitability increases or cost savings currently anticipated to arise from the merger transactions. The merger transactions, while expected to be accretive to earnings in future periods, may fail to be accretive or may become accretive later than expected. To realize the anticipated benefits of the merger transactions, Vivendi Universal's management must implement a business plan that will effectively combine operations that are diverse geographically and in terms of the products and services they offer, as well as in management, compensation and business culture. If Vivendi Universal's management is not able to implement a business plan that effectively integrates its acquired operations, the anticipated benefits of the merger transactions may not be realized.

VIVENDI UNIVERSAL MAY HAVE DIFFICULTY ENFORCING ITS INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS.

The decreasing cost of electronic equipment and related technology has made it easier to create unauthorized versions of audio and audiovisual products such as compact discs, videotapes and DVDs. A substantial portion of Vivendi Universal's revenue comes from the sale of audio and audiovisual products potentially subject to unauthorized copying. Similarly, advances in Internet technology have increasingly made it possible for computer users to share audio and audiovisual information without the permission of the copyright owners and without paying royalties to holders of applicable intellectual property or other rights. Intellectual property rights to information that is potentially subject to widespread, uncompensated dissemination on the Internet represents a substantial portion of Vivendi Universal's market value. If Vivendi Universal fails to obtain appropriate relief through the judicial process or the complete enforcement of judicial decisions issued in its favor, or if it fails to develop effective means of protecting its intellectual property or entertainment-related products and services, its results of operations and financial position may suffer.

VIVENDI UNIVERSAL MAY NOT BE ABLE TO MEET ANTICIPATED CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTAIN TRANSACTIONS.

Vivendi Universal routinely engages in projects that may require it to seek substantial amounts of funds through various forms of financing. Its ability to arrange financing for projects and the cost of capital depend on numerous factors, including general economic and capital market conditions, availability of credit from banks and other financial institutions, investor confidence in Vivendi Universal's businesses, success of current projects, perceived quality of new projects and tax and securities laws that are conducive to raising capital. In addition, Vivendi Universal's future operations are expected to be financed in part by a portion of the proceeds it expects to receive from the sale of the Spirits and Wine business (described below under "Vivendi Universal -- Information on the Company -- Spirits and Wine"). While Vivendi Universal and certain of its subsidiaries have entered into a contract for the sale of the Spirits and Wine business, that contract is subject to customary closing conditions, including receipt of regulatory approvals. If the conditions for the sale of the Spirits and Wine business are not satisfied, Vivendi Universal may need to pursue alternative transactions and may have to seek alternative forms of financing. Vivendi Universal may forego attractive business opportunities and lose market share if it cannot secure financing on satisfactory terms.

VIVENDI UNIVERSAL'S CONTENT ASSETS IN TV, MOTION PICTURES AND MUSIC MAY NOT BE COMMERCIALY SUCCESSFUL.

Vivendi Universal expects a significant amount of its revenue to come from the production and distribution of content offerings such as feature films, television series and records. The success of content offerings depends primarily upon their acceptance by the public, which is difficult to predict. The commercial success of a film, series or record depends on the quality and acceptance of competing offerings released into the marketplace at or near the same time, the availability of alternative forms of entertainment and leisure time activities, general economic conditions and other tangible and intangible factors, all of which can change quickly. Because Vivendi Universal expects the popularity of its content offerings to be a significant factor driving the growth of its communication services, its failure to produce films, series and records with broad consumer appeal could materially harm its business and prospects for growth.

CURRENCY EXCHANGE RATE FLUCTUATIONS MAY NEGATIVELY AFFECT VIVENDI UNIVERSAL'S FINANCIAL RESULTS, THE MARKET VALUE OF THE VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADSS AND THE VALUE OF DIVIDENDS RECEIVED BY HOLDERS OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADSS.

Vivendi Universal will hold assets and liabilities, earn income and pay expenses of its subsidiaries in a variety of currencies. Because its financial statements will be presented in euros, Vivendi Universal must translate its assets, liabilities, income and expenses in currencies other than the euro into euros at then-applicable exchange rates when it prepares its financial statements. Consequently, increases and decreases in the value of the euro will affect the value of these items in its financial statements, even if their value has not changed in their original currency. In this regard, an increase in the value of the euro may result in a decline in the reported value, in euros, of Vivendi Universal's interests held in other currencies. To the extent this has a negative effect on its financial condition as presented in its financial statements, it could cause the price of its shares to decline. In addition, when Vivendi Universal pays dividends to holders of Vivendi Universal ADSs, those dividends will be converted from euros to U.S. dollars. As a result, changes in currency exchange rates could affect the value of dividends that holders of Vivendi Universal ADSs receive.

VIVENDI UNIVERSAL'S BUSINESS OPERATIONS IN SOME COUNTRIES MAY BE SUBJECT TO ADDITIONAL RISKS.

Vivendi Universal conducts business in markets around the world. The risks associated with conducting business in some countries outside of Western Europe, the United States and Canada can include slower payment of invoices, nationalization of businesses, social, political and economic instability, increased currency exchange risk and currency repatriation restrictions, among other risks. Vivendi Universal may not be able to insure or hedge against these risks. Furthermore, financing may not be available in countries with less than investment grade sovereign credit ratings. As a result, it may be difficult to create or maintain profit-making operations in developing markets.

VIVENDI UNIVERSAL MAY NOT BE SUCCESSFUL IN DEVELOPING NEW TECHNOLOGIES OR INTRODUCING NEW PRODUCTS AND SERVICES.

Many of the industries in which Vivendi Universal operates are subject to rapid and significant changes in technology and are characterized by the frequent introduction of new products and services. Pursuit of necessary technological advances may require substantial investments of time and resources and may not succeed in developing marketable technologies. Furthermore, Vivendi Universal may not be able to identify and develop new product and service opportunities in a timely manner. Finally, technological advances may render Vivendi Universal's existing products obsolete, forcing it to write off investments made in those products and services and to make substantial new investments.

THE MARKET PRICE OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADSS MAY BE SUBJECT TO THE VOLATILITY GENERALLY ASSOCIATED WITH INTERNET AND TECHNOLOGY COMPANY SHARES.

The market for shares of Internet and technology companies has, over the past year, experienced extreme price and volume volatility that has often been unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of those companies. Because the value of Vivendi Universal will be based in part on its Internet and other high-technology operations, the price of its shares may be subject to similar volatility.

PROVISIONS IN MANY OF THE ENVIRONMENTAL CONTRACTS OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL'S SUBSIDIARY, VIVENDI ENVIRONNEMENT, MAY CREATE SIGNIFICANT RESTRICTIONS OR OBLIGATIONS ON ITS BUSINESS OR ALLOW ITS CUSTOMERS TO MODIFY OR TERMINATE THOSE CONTRACTS.

Contracts with governmental authorities make up a significant percentage of the revenue of Vivendi Universal's 63% effectively owned subsidiary, Vivendi Environnement. Vivendi Environnement is subject to various statutes and regulations that apply to companies contracting with the government that differ from laws governing private contracts. In civil law countries such as France, for instance, government contracts often allow the applicable governmental authority to modify or terminate the contract unilaterally in certain circumstances. Although Vivendi Environnement is generally entitled to full indemnification in the event of a unilateral modification or termination of a contract by a governmental authority, such modifications or terminations could reduce its revenue and profits if full indemnification is not available.

VIVENDI UNIVERSAL MAY INCUR ENVIRONMENTAL LIABILITY IN CONNECTION WITH PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE OPERATIONS.

Each of Vivendi Universal's businesses, primarily in the case of Vivendi Environnement, is subject to extensive and increasingly stringent environmental laws and regulations. In some circumstances, Vivendi Universal could be required to pay fines or damages under these environmental laws and regulations even if it exercises due care in conducting its operations, it complies with all applicable laws and regulations, and the quantity of pollutant is very small.

In addition, courts or regulatory authorities may require Vivendi Universal or Vivendi Environnement to undertake investigatory and/or remedial activities, curtail operations or close facilities temporarily or permanently in connection with applicable environmental laws and regulations. Vivendi Universal or Vivendi Environnement could also become subject to claims for personal injury or property damage. Being required to take these actions, or to pay environmental damages, could substantially impair Vivendi Universal's or Vivendi Environnement's business or affect their ability to obtain new business.

THE ABILITY OF HOLDERS OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADSS TO INFLUENCE THE GOVERNANCE OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL MAY BE LIMITED.

Holders of Vivendi Universal's ADSs may not have the same ability to influence corporate governance with respect to the company as shareholders in some U.S. companies would. For example, the depositary may not receive voting materials in time to ensure that holders of Vivendi Universal's ADSs can instruct the depositary to vote their shares. In addition, the depositary's liability to holders of Vivendi Universal's ADSs for failing to carry out voting instructions or for the manner of carrying out voting instructions is limited by the depositary agreement.

JUDGMENTS OF U.S. COURTS MAY NOT BE ENFORCEABLE AGAINST VIVENDI UNIVERSAL.

Judgments of U.S. courts, including those predicated on the civil liability provisions of the federal securities laws of the United States, may not be enforceable in French courts. As a result, shareholders who obtain a judgment against Vivendi Universal in the United States may not be able to require it to pay the amount of the judgment. See "Enforceability of Civil Liabilities Against Foreign Persons" on page 25.

SOME PROVISIONS OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL'S STATUTS COULD HAVE ANTI-TAKEOVER EFFECTS.

Vivendi Universal's statuts (its organizational documents) contain provisions that are intended to impede the accumulation of its shares by third parties seeking to gain a measure of control of Vivendi Universal. For example, in the case where a quorum of less than 60% is present at a shareholders' meeting, the statuts adjust the rights of each shareholder that owns in excess of 2% of Vivendi Universal's voting power through the application of a formula pursuant to which the voting power of each such shareholder will be equal to that which it would possess if 100% of Vivendi Universal's shareholders were present or represented at the shareholders' meeting at which the vote takes place. In addition, the statuts provide that any person or group that fails to notify Vivendi Universal within 15 days of acquiring or disposing of at least 0.5% or any multiple of 0.5% of its shares may be deprived of voting rights for those shares in excess of the unreported fraction. For descriptions of other provisions of French law and Vivendi Universal's statuts that may have anti-takeover effects, see "Description of Vivendi Universal Ordinary Shares -- Anti-Takeover Effects" on page 70 and "Comparison of Shareholder Rights -- Anti-Takeover Provisions" on page 87.

PRE-EMPTIVE RIGHTS MAY NOT BE AVAILABLE FOR U.S. PERSONS.

Under French law, shareholders have pre-emptive rights to subscribe for cash issuances of new shares or other securities giving rights to acquire additional shares on a pro rata basis. U.S. holders of Vivendi Universal shares may not be able to exercise pre-emptive rights for its shares unless a registration statement under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, is effective with respect to such rights or an exemption from the registration requirements imposed by the Securities Act is available. Vivendi Universal may, from time to time, issue new shares or other securities giving rights to acquire additional shares at a time when no registration statement is in effect and no Securities Act exemption is available. If so, U.S. holders of its shares will be unable to exercise their pre-emptive rights.

VIVENDI UNIVERSAL IS EXEMPT FROM CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS UNDER THE EXCHANGE ACT.

As a "foreign private issuer", for the purposes of the U.S. federal securities laws, Vivendi Universal is exempt from rules under the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, that impose certain disclosure and procedural requirements in connection with proxy solicitations under Section 14 of the Exchange Act. In addition, Vivendi Universal's officers, directors and principal shareholders are exempt from the reporting and "short-swing" profit recovery provisions of Section 16 of the Exchange Act and the rules thereunder with respect to their purchase and sale of Vivendi Universal shares. Moreover, Vivendi Universal will not be required to file periodic reports and financial statements with the SEC as frequently or as promptly as U.S. companies whose securities are registered under the Exchange Act, nor will it be required to comply with Regulation FD, which restricts the selective disclosure of material information. Accordingly, there may be less information concerning Vivendi

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Universal publicly available than there is for those U.S. companies.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT CONCERNING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

The SEC encourages companies to disclose forward-looking information so that investors can better understand a company's future prospects and make informed investment decisions. This proxy statement/ prospectus contains "forward-looking statements". These statements may include statements regarding the period following completion of the merger.

Words such as "anticipate", "estimate", "expects", "projects", "intends", "plans", "believes", "will" and words and terms of similar substance used in connection with any discussion of future operating or financial performance of Vivendi Universal or MP3.com or the merger, identify forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements are management's present expectations of future events and are subject to a number of factors and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements. The risks related to the businesses of Vivendi Universal and MP3.com and the risks relating to the merger discussed under "Risk Factors", among others, could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in, or otherwise projected or implied by, the forward-looking statements. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on the forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus. Vivendi Universal and MP3.com are not under any obligation, and expressly disclaim any obligation, to update or alter any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

All subsequent forward-looking statements attributable to Vivendi Universal or MP3.com, or any person acting on their behalf, are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements contained or referred to in this section.

ENFORCEABILITY OF CIVIL LIABILITIES AGAINST FOREIGN PERSONS

Vivendi Universal is a corporation organized under the laws of France. Some of Vivendi Universal's directors and officers are citizens or residents of countries other than the United States. Substantial portions of Vivendi Universal's assets are located outside the United States. Accordingly, it may be difficult for investors:

- to obtain jurisdiction over Vivendi Universal or its directors or officers in courts in the United States in actions predicated on the civil liability provisions of the U.S. federal securities laws;
- to enforce against Vivendi Universal or its directors or officers judgments obtained in such actions;
- to obtain judgments against Vivendi Universal or its directors or officers in original actions in non-U.S. courts predicated solely upon the U.S. federal securities laws; or
- to enforce against Vivendi Universal or its directors or officers in non-U.S. courts judgments of courts in the United States predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the U.S. federal securities laws.

Actions brought in France for enforcement of judgments of U.S. courts rendered against French persons, including directors and officers of Vivendi Universal, would require those persons to waive their right to be sued in France under Article 15 of the French Civil Code. In addition, actions in the United States under the U.S. federal securities laws could be affected under certain circumstances by the French law of July 16, 1980, which may preclude or restrict the obtaining of evidence in France or from French persons in connection with those actions.

The MP3.com board of directors is not currently aware of any other business to be brought before the special meeting. If, however, other matters are properly brought before the special meeting or there is a proposal for an adjournment or postponement of the special meeting, the individuals appointed as proxies will have discretionary authority to vote the shares represented by duly executed proxies in accordance with their discretion and judgment.

The solicitation of proxies will occur primarily by mail but may include telephone or oral communications by regular employees of MP3.com, acting without special compensation. MP3.com also will request that persons and entities holding shares that are registered in their own names or in the names of their nominees but that are beneficially owned by others send proxy materials to, and obtain proxies from, those beneficial owners. All expenses involved in the solicitation of proxies will be paid by MP3.com and will include reimbursement of brokerage firms and others for expenses in forwarding proxy solicitation material to the beneficial owners of shares of MP3.com common stock.

REQUIRED VOTE

The affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting is necessary for the adoption of the merger agreement.

As of July 2, 2001, the directors and executive officers of MP3.com beneficially owned, in the aggregate, 37,079,960 shares of MP3.com common stock, or approximately 53% of the shares of MP3.com common stock outstanding on that date. Michael Robertson and Robin Richards, along with Sequoia Capital, have each entered into a stockholder agreement with Vivendi Universal, described under "The Stockholder Agreement", obligating themselves to vote "FOR" adoption of the merger agreement. These stockholders together beneficially own and have voting control of more than 50% of the shares of MP3.com common stock outstanding as of [], 2001. So long as these stockholders vote to adopt the merger agreement, as required by the stockholder agreement, adoption of the merger agreement by the MP3.com stockholders at the special meeting is assured.

ADJOURNMENTS OR POSTPONEMENTS

Although it is not expected, the special meeting may be adjourned or postponed for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies. The special meeting may be adjourned either by the chairman of the meeting or by the vote of a majority of the shares casting votes. Any signed proxies received by MP3.com will be voted in favor of an adjournment or postponement in these circumstances unless the shares represented by the proxy are to be voted against the proposal to adopt the merger agreement. Any adjournment or postponement of the special meeting for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies will allow MP3.com stockholders who have already sent in their proxies to revoke them at any time before they are used.

THE MERGER

The discussion in this proxy statement/prospectus of the merger and the principal terms of the merger agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the merger agreement (including the modification agreement), a copy of which is attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A and is incorporated by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus.

BACKGROUND OF THE MERGER

Philippe Germond, Chairman & Chief Executive Officer of Vivendi Universal's Telecoms and Internet business divisions, routinely meets with executives of other music, Internet and media companies to discuss developments in the industry.

During the fall of 2000 through February 2001, representatives of Vivendi Universal, including Mr. Germond and representatives of MP3.com, including Michael Robertson, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of MP3.com, and Robin Richards, President and a director of MP3.com, discussed from time to time ways in which the companies could cooperate, including by means of a potential business combination.

On January 25, 2001, at a meeting of the MP3.com board of directors, the board first considered the possibility of a business combination transaction for MP3.com. Mr. Richards led the board in discussions regarding potential acquisition partners of MP3.com and various strategic approaches to a business combination for the board to consider. The board discussed the potential benefits of a variety of strategic alternatives and weighed those potential benefits against the risk of any resulting disruptions to MP3.com's business.

In late January 2001, representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston, MP3.com's financial advisor, met with MP3.com to discuss strategic alternatives for MP3.com.

In late February and early March 2001, Mr. Richards and Paul Ouyang, Chief Financial Officer of MP3.com, held telephonic meetings with representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston to discuss potential merger partners of MP3.com and various potential strategic approaches that MP3.com might consider.

On February 27, 2001, Mr. Richards and Mr. Germond met in New York to discuss a potential business combination between MP3.com and Vivendi Universal.

On March 1, 2001, Mr. Richards and Mr. Ouyang held a telephonic meeting with representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston to discuss Mr. Richards' meeting with Mr. Germond in New York and the possibility of a transaction with Vivendi Universal.

On March 9, 2001, MP3.com and its legal counsel, Latham & Watkins, received a legal due diligence request from Cravath, Swaine & Moore, Vivendi Universal's legal counsel.

On March 12, 2001, Mr. Richards, Mr. Ouyang and other members of MP3.com's management team met with representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston at MP3.com's offices in Los Angeles, California to discuss a potential business combination between MP3.com and Vivendi Universal.

On March 14, 2001, MP3.com and Vivendi Universal executed a confidentiality agreement in anticipation of Vivendi Universal's due diligence review of MP3.com.

During the period from March 12, 2001 to March 21, 2001, the management of MP3.com and representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston continued their discussions regarding a potential business combination between MP3.com and Vivendi Universal. During this time, Credit Suisse First Boston, at the direction of MP3.com's board, engaged in discussions with Goldman Sachs, Vivendi

Universal's financial advisor, regarding preliminary terms of a potential transaction.

On March 21, 2001, representatives of Vivendi Universal, Goldman Sachs and Credit Suisse First Boston attended a meeting at Goldman Sachs' offices in Los Angeles, California, at which Mr. Richards, Mr. Ouyang, Steve Sheiner, Executive Vice President, Sales and Marketing of MP3.com, and other members of MP3.com's management team made a presentation on MP3.com's business, operations and financial condition.

Beginning March 23, 2001, representatives of Vivendi Universal conducted technical due diligence at MP3.com's headquarters in San Diego, California.

The board then engaged in a full discussion regarding a potential business combination between MP3.com and Vivendi Universal.

On April 3, 2001, Mr. Richards, Mr. Ouyang and representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston met with Mr. Germond, Gerard Ries, Vice President, Development, Telecom and Internet of Vivendi Universal, other representatives of Vivendi Universal, and representatives of Goldman Sachs in New York to discuss the potential benefits of a business combination. Vivendi Universal and MP3.com did not reach an agreement on terms at such meeting and discussions were suspended. During the following week, Mr. Richards and Mr. Germond reinitiated discussions regarding the proposed transaction.

During the first two weeks of April 2001, at the direction of the MP3.com board and the Vivendi Universal board, respectively, Credit Suisse First Boston and Goldman Sachs engaged in numerous discussions relating to the terms of the potential transaction, including the form and amount of consideration to be received by MP3.com's stockholders.

From April 17, 2001 to April 18, 2001, Mr. Richards, Mr. Sheiner and representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston attended meetings with Mr. Germond and Mr. Ries in Paris to discuss the proposed terms of a business combination between MP3.com and Vivendi Universal.

The parties continued to engage in discussions regarding the proposed terms of the transaction, including the proposed form and amount of consideration and Vivendi Universal's requirements that some of MP3.com's stockholders enter into a stockholder agreement and some of MP3.com's officers enter into employment agreements with Vivendi Universal, in each case at the time of signing the merger agreement.

On April 20, 2001, at a meeting of the MP3.com board, representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston discussed with the board the proposed terms of a business combination between MP3.com and Vivendi Universal, including a proposed price of $5.00 per share of MP3.com common stock. Latham & Watkins reviewed and commented on the duties of the board of directors with respect to a potential transaction. Latham & Watkins then recommended that a committee of directors who were not being asked to sign a stockholder agreement be formed to evaluate the transaction with the assistance of separate legal counsel. The board appointed a special committee to evaluate the proposed transaction, consisting of Thomas A. Heymann, Lawrence F. Probst III and Justice Howard B. Wiener.

At the end of April 2001, Vivendi Universal and its legal and financial advisors and MP3.com and its legal and financial advisors met at the offices of Latham & Watkins in San Diego, California to conduct business and legal due diligence of MP3.com.

Following this due diligence, on April 27, 2001, Vivendi Universal's legal advisors delivered preliminary drafts of a merger agreement and stockholder agreement to MP3.com and its legal advisors.

The special committee discussed MP3.com's alternatives to the proposed transaction, including its future as an independent entity. The special committee also discussed the nature and extent of the stockholder agreement required by Vivendi Universal in connection with the proposed transaction. At the conclusion of its initial meeting, the special committee concurred that MP3.com management should continue its negotiations with Vivendi Universal.

Also on May 3, 2001, Mr. Richards and representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston met with Mr. Germond, Mr. Ries, Mr. Borgia and representatives of Vivendi Universal's legal and financial advisors in New York to discuss economic terms of the proposed merger agreement, stockholder agreement and various employment agreements.

On May 19, 2001, the special committee of the MP3.com board met telephonically with representatives of Richards, Layton & Finger, Latham & Watkins and Credit Suisse First Boston. The special committee reviewed drafts of the merger agreement and stockholder agreement in substantially final forms and Latham & Watkins summarized the changes that had been negotiated since the previous meeting of the special committee. Credit Suisse First Boston updated its financial analysis and informed the special committee that it was prepared to provide to the board an opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration. Representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston also responded to questions raised by members of the special committee. Following the presentation, the special committee engaged in a full discussion of the terms of the proposed merger. The special committee concluded that the merger agreement was fair to MP3.com's stockholders and that the proposed acquisition was in the best interests of MP3.com and its stockholders. Accordingly, the special committee voted to recommend that the board approve the merger agreement and related agreements.

Immediately following the special committee meeting on May 19, 2001, the MP3.com board held a special telephonic meeting with MP3.com's legal and financial advisors to discuss the status of final negotiations with Vivendi Universal. Latham & Watkins summarized the terms of the merger agreement and related agreements and responded to questions from members of the MP3.com board about the terms of those agreements. In addition, Credit Suisse First Boston updated its financial analysis and rendered to the board an oral opinion, which opinion was confirmed by delivery of a written opinion dated May 20, 2001, to the effect that, as of the date of the opinion and based on and subject to the matters described in the opinion, the merger consideration was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of MP3.com common stock. Representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston also responded to questions raised by members of the MP3.com board regarding its analysis and opinion. Following the presentation, the MP3.com board engaged in a full discussion of the terms of the proposed merger and the financial analysis and opinion of Credit Suisse First Boston. The special committee delivered its recommendation to the board that the board approve the merger, the merger agreement and the stockholder agreement. The MP3.com board concluded that the merger agreement was fair to MP3.com's stockholders and that the proposed merger was advisable and in the best interests of MP3.com and its stockholders. Accordingly, the MP3.com board unanimously approved the merger, the merger agreement and the stockholder agreement and authorized management to proceed with the execution of the merger documents.

On May 20, 2001, Vivendi Universal, Metronome Acquisition Sub and MP3.com executed the definitive merger agreement, and the required stockholders and employees of MP3.com executed the stockholder agreement and employment agreements, as applicable, with Vivendi Universal.

Also on May 20, 2001, Vivendi Universal and MP3.com issued a joint press release announcing the execution of the merger agreement and related documents.

REASONS FOR THE MERGER

The MP3.com board has unanimously approved the merger agreement and the merger and determined that the merger agreement and the merger are advisable, fair to, and in the best interests of, MP3.com and its stockholders. The MP3.com board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote "FOR" the proposal to adopt the merger agreement at the special meeting.

The MP3.com board consulted with MP3.com's management, as well as its legal counsel, independent accountants and financial advisors in reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement and the merger. Among the factors considered by MP3.com's board in its deliberations were the following:

- MP3.com's stockholders will have the opportunity to benefit from the potential appreciation in the value of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares;
- MP3.com's management's view of the financial condition, results of operations, assets, liabilities, businesses and prospects of Vivendi Universal and MP3.com after giving effect to the merger;
- the effect of the merger on MP3.com's ability to broaden its customer base, facilitate expansion and make possible economies of scale which would enhance the ability of MP3.com to penetrate its market;
- current industry, economic and market conditions, including the potential for further consolidation within MP3.com's industry and the fact that stockholder value may be maximized by selling MP3.com to a larger, better capitalized company;
- historical market prices and trading information with respect to Vivendi Universal shares and MP3.com common stock;

- the merger consideration represented an approximate 66% premium over the closing price per share of MP3.com's common stock on May 18, 2001, the last trading day before the public announcement of the signing of the merger agreement;
- MP3.com's pending litigation and the effect of the merger on the ability of MP3.com to resolve pending litigation matters while continuing to focus on the growth of its business;
- the likelihood of an alternative transaction and MP3.com's prospects if it were to continue as an independent company;
- the terms and conditions of the merger agreement, including the closing conditions, the stockholder agreement and the expected tax-free treatment to MP3.com's stockholders to the extent they receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares;

- the financial presentation, including the opinion of Credit Suisse First Boston as to the fairness from a financial point of view of the merger consideration to be received by the holders of MP3.com common stock, as described more fully below under the caption "Opinion of MP3.com's Financial Advisor"; and
- the ability of the MP3.com board to enter into discussions with another party in response to an unsolicited superior offer to the merger if the MP3.com board believes in good faith, after consultation with its legal counsel, that such action is required in order to comply with its fiduciary obligations.

MP3.com's board also identified and considered some potentially negative factors in its deliberations concerning the merger, including:

- the loss of control over future operations of MP3.com after the merger;
- the impact of the loss of MP3.com's status as an independent company on MP3.com's stockholders, employees and customers;
- the risk that the potential benefits sought in the merger might not be fully realized;
- the possibility that the merger might not be completed and the potential adverse effects of the public announcement of the merger on:
 - MP3.com's ability to attract and retain key employees;
 - the progress of some of MP3.com's strategic initiatives; and
 - MP3.com's overall competitive position;
- the risk that, despite the efforts of Vivendi Universal and MP3.com, key technical, sales and management personnel might not remain employees of Vivendi Universal following the completion of the merger;
- the restrictions on MP3.com imposed by the merger agreement and the potential business opportunities that might be foregone due to these restrictions or the pendency of the merger generally;
- the fact that some officers and directors of MP3.com have interests in the merger that may conflict with the interests of MP3.com stockholders; and
- the transaction costs expected to be incurred in connection with the merger and the other risks described under the heading "Risk Factors -- Risks Related to the Merger" beginning on page 19.

In light of the factors described above, the MP3.com board determined that the value and benefits available to MP3.com stockholders from the merger exceeded the potential value and benefits they might realize from MP3.com continuing as an independent company.

The foregoing discussion of the information and factors considered by the MP3.com board is not intended to be exhaustive but is believed to include all material factors considered by MP3.com's board. In view of the complexity and wide variety of information and factors, both positive and negative, considered by the MP3.com board, it did not find it practical to quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative or specific weights to the factors considered. In addition, the MP3.com board did not attach any relative or specific weights to the factors considered, or any aspect of any particular factor, but, rather, conducted an overall analysis of the factors described above, including discussions with MP3.com's management and legal and financial advisors. In considering the factors described above, individual members of the MP3.com board may have given different weight to different factors. The MP3.com board considered all these factors as a whole and believed the factors supported its determination to approve the merger agreement and the merger and recommend to the stockholders of MP3.com that they approve the merger agreement and the merger.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE MP3.COM BOARD OF DIRECTORS

At the special meeting, the holders of MP3.com common stock will be asked to vote upon a proposal to adopt the merger agreement and to transact any other business that properly comes before the special meeting or any adjournment or postponement of the special meeting. The MP3.com board of directors has unanimously approved the merger agreement and the merger and determined that the merger agreement and the merger are advisable, fair to and in the best interests of, MP3.com and its stockholders. The MP3.com board of directors unanimously recommends that the MP3.com stockholders vote "FOR" the proposal to adopt the merger agreement at the special meeting.

OPINION OF MP3.COM'S FINANCIAL ADVISOR

Credit Suisse First Boston has acted as MP3.com's exclusive financial advisor in connection with the merger. MP3.com selected Credit Suisse First Boston based on Credit Suisse First Boston's experience, expertise and reputation. Credit Suisse First Boston is an internationally recognized investment banking firm and is regularly engaged in the valuation of businesses and securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, leveraged buyouts, negotiated underwritings, competitive biddings, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements and valuations for corporate and other purposes.

In connection with Credit Suisse First Boston's engagement, MP3.com requested that Credit Suisse First Boston evaluate the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the holders of MP3.com common stock of the consideration provided for in the merger. On May 19, 2001, at a meeting of the MP3.com board of directors held to evaluate the merger, Credit Suisse First Boston rendered to the MP3.com board of directors an oral opinion, which opinion was confirmed by delivery of a written opinion dated May 20, 2001, the date of the merger agreement, to the effect that, as of that date and based on and subject to the matters described in its opinion, the consideration provided for in the merger was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of MP3.com common stock.

THE SUMMARY OF CREDIT SUISSE FIRST BOSTON'S OPINION IN THIS DOCUMENT IS QUALIFIED IN ITS ENTIRETY BY REFERENCE TO THE FULL TEXT OF THE OPINION.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

In arriving at its opinion, Credit Suisse First Boston reviewed the merger agreement and related documents as well as publicly available business and financial information relating to MP3.com and Vivendi Universal. Credit Suisse First Boston also reviewed other information relating to MP3.com and Vivendi Universal provided to or discussed with Credit Suisse First Boston by MP3.com and Vivendi Universal, including publicly available financial forecasts for MP3.com and Vivendi Universal, and met with the managements of MP3.com and Vivendi Universal to discuss the businesses and prospects of MP3.com and Vivendi Universal. Credit Suisse First Boston also considered financial and stock market data of MP3.com and Vivendi Universal, and compared those data with similar data for other publicly held companies in businesses similar to MP3.com and Vivendi Universal and considered, to the extent publicly available, the financial terms of other business combinations and transactions that have been announced or effected. Credit Suisse First Boston also considered other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations and financial, economic and market criteria that it deemed relevant, including the potential impact on MP3.com of pending and future copyright infringement litigation and related claims.

In connection with its review, Credit Suisse First Boston did not assume any responsibility for independent verification of any of the information that was provided to or otherwise reviewed by it and relied on that information being complete and accurate in all material respects. With respect to the publicly available financial forecasts for MP3.com and Vivendi Universal referred to above, Credit Suisse First Boston reviewed and discussed the forecasts with the managements of MP3.com and Vivendi Universal and was advised, and assumed, that the forecasts represent reasonable estimates and judgments as to the future financial performance of MP3.com and Vivendi Universal. Credit Suisse First Boston also assumed, with MP3.com's consent, that the merger would be treated as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes. In addition, Credit Suisse First Boston was not requested to make, and did not make, an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets or liabilities, contingent or otherwise, of MP3.com or Vivendi Universal, and Credit Suisse First Boston was not furnished with any evaluations or appraisals.

Credit Suisse First Boston's opinion was necessarily based on information available to it, and financial, economic, market and other conditions as they existed and could be evaluated, on the date of Credit Suisse First Boston's opinion. Credit Suisse First Boston's opinion did not address the relative merits of the merger as compared to other business strategies that might have been available to MP3.com or the underlying business decision of MP3.com to proceed with the merger. Credit Suisse First Boston did not express any opinion as to what the value of Vivendi Universal ADSs actually would be when issued in the merger or the prices at which Vivendi Universal ADSs or Vivendi Universal ordinary shares would trade at any time. Although Credit Suisse First Boston evaluated the consideration in the merger from a financial point of view, Credit Suisse First Boston was not requested to, and did not, recommend the specific consideration payable in the merger, which consideration was determined between MP3.com and Vivendi Universal. In connection with its engagement, Credit Suisse First Boston was not requested to, and did not, solicit third party indications of interest in the possible acquisition of all or any part of MP3.com. No other limitations were imposed on Credit Suisse First Boston with respect to the investigations made or procedures followed in rendering its opinion.

In preparing its opinion to the MP3.com board of directors, Credit Suisse First Boston performed a variety of financial and comparative analyses, including those described below. The summary of Credit Suisse First Boston's analyses described below is not a complete description of the analyses underlying Credit Suisse First Boston's opinion. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances and, therefore, a fairness opinion is not readily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. In arriving at its opinion, Credit Suisse First Boston made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor that it considered. Accordingly, Credit Suisse First Boston believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and factors or focusing on information presented in tabular format, without considering all analyses and factors or the narrative description of the analyses, could create a misleading or incomplete view of the processes underlying its analyses and opinion.

In its analyses, Credit Suisse First Boston considered industry performance, regulatory, general business, economic, market and financial conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of MP3.com and Vivendi Universal. No company, transaction or business used in Credit Suisse

First Boston's analyses as a comparison is identical to MP3.com and Vivendi Universal or the proposed merger, and an evaluation of the results of those analyses is not entirely mathematical. Rather, the analyses involve complex considerations and judgments concerning financial and operating characteristics and other factors that could affect the acquisition, public trading or other values of the companies, business segments or transactions analyzed. The estimates contained in Credit Suisse First Boston's analyses and the ranges of valuations resulting from any particular analysis are not necessarily indicative of actual values or predictive of future results or values, which may be significantly more or less favorable than those suggested by the analyses. In addition, analyses relating to the value of businesses or securities do not necessarily purport to be appraisals or to reflect the prices at which businesses or securities actually may be sold. Accordingly, Credit Suisse First Boston's analyses and estimates are inherently subject to substantial uncertainty.

Credit Suisse First Boston's opinion and financial analyses were only one of many factors considered by the MP3.com board of directors in its evaluation of the proposed merger and should not be viewed as determinative of the views of the MP3.com board of directors or management with respect to the merger or the consideration provided for in the merger.

The following is a summary of the material financial analyses underlying Credit Suisse First Boston's opinion delivered to the MP3.com board of directors in connection with the merger. THE FINANCIAL ANALYSES SUMMARIZED BELOW INCLUDE INFORMATION PRESENTED IN TABULAR FORMAT. IN ORDER TO FULLY UNDERSTAND CREDIT SUISSE FIRST BOSTON'S FINANCIAL ANALYSES, THE TABLES MUST BE READ TOGETHER WITH THE TEXT OF EACH SUMMARY. THE TABLES ALONE DO NOT CONSTITUTE A COMPLETE DESCRIPTION OF THE FINANCIAL ANALYSES. CONSIDERING THE DATA IN THE TABLES BELOW WITHOUT CONSIDERING THE FULL NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION OF THE FINANCIAL ANALYSES, INCLUDING THE METHODOLOGIES AND ASSUMPTIONS UNDERLYING THE ANALYSES, COULD CREATE A MISLEADING OR INCOMPLETE VIEW OF CREDIT SUISSE FIRST BOSTON'S FINANCIAL ANALYSES.

INTERESTS OF CERTAIN PERSONS IN THE MERGER

In considering the recommendation of the MP3.com board of directors that MP3.com stockholders vote to adopt the merger agreement, MP3.com stockholders should be aware that a number of officers and directors of MP3.com have interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, the interests of MP3.com stockholders generally. Employment Agreements

Two-Year Employment Agreements. In contemplation of the merger, MP3.com and Vivendi Universal entered into employment agreements dated May 20, 2001, with each of Greg Kostello, Derrick Oien and Steve Sheiner. During the term of the agreements, the surviving corporation will employ Mr. Kostello as its Executive Vice President of Engineering, Mr. Oien as its Chief Operating Officer and Mr. Sheiner as its Executive Vice President of Sales & Marketing. During the term of the agreements, the surviving corporation will pay Mr. Kostello, Mr. Oien and Mr. Sheiner an annual base salary of $242,000, $231,000 and $308,000, respectively, for the first year of the term and $266,200, $254,100 and $338,800, respectively, for the second year of the term. During the term of the agreements, the executives will be eligible to receive an annual bonus as determined by the surviving corporation, based on performance criteria mutually agreed to by the executives and the surviving corporation, in an amount that may range from 0% -- 200% of a target bonus of $215,000, $100,000 and $275,000 for Mr. Kostello, Mr. Oien and Mr. Sheiner, respectively. The actual amount of the bonus payable to the executive will be determined by the surviving corporation in its sole discretion. In no event, however, will the actual bonus for the first year of the employment agreements' term be less than $107,500, $50,000 and $137,500 for Mr. Kostello, Mr. Oien and Mr. Sheiner, respectively. The actual bonus amount will be determined as soon as practicable following the expiration of each of the first and second years of the term of the employment agreements and will be paid in cash promptly thereafter.

During the term of the agreements, the executives will be entitled to participate in the pension and welfare plans and programs, including the 401(k) and health insurance plans, generally made available by the surviving corporation for its employees.

Subject to the approval of the Vivendi Universal Compensation Committee, at the effective time of the merger, Mr. Kostello, Mr. Oien and Mr. Sheiner each will be granted options to purchase 15,000 ordinary shares of Vivendi Universal, which shares will be issued in the form of ADSs representing Vivendi Universal ordinary shares. each of the first and second anniversaries of the effective date of the merger, subject to the executive's continued employment with the surviving corporation and continued compliance with the terms of his employment agreement.

If the surviving corporation terminates the executive's employment without "cause" or the executive terminates his employment for "good reason", as such terms are defined in the employment agreements, the executive will be entitled to receive:

- a lump sum cash severance payment equal to the sum of:
 - an amount equal to the remaining portion of the executive's annual base salary that would have been paid to the executive had he remained employed through the end of the agreement's two-year scheduled term, or, if greater, an amount equal to 25% of the executive's annual base salary in effect at the time of termination;

Each employment agreement contains restrictive covenants pertaining to confidentiality, nonsolicitation and noncompetition. The nonsolicitation provision remains applicable through the one-year anniversary of the executive's termination of employment. The noncompetition provision remains applicable through the second anniversary of the completion of the merger. The employment agreements also require each executive to assign any rights he may have in inventions and intellectual property acquired with respect to the business.

Form of One-Year Employment Agreements. In the merger agreement, Vivendi Universal agreed that, if it offers a one-year written employment agreement to any employee of MP3.com or the surviving corporation, it will enter into such agreement in a form previously agreed to by Vivendi Universal and MP3.com. Any employment agreement so entered into becomes effective only upon the consummation of the merger.

The form of employment agreement has a scheduled term of one year following the date of the merger. During the term of the agreement, the surviving corporation will agree to employ the employee in a position and at an annual base salary to be determined by the parties. The surviving corporation may, in its discretion, provide for the employee's participation in an annual bonus plan during the term of the employment agreement, and Vivendi Universal may, in its sole discretion, provide for the employee's participation in Vivendi Universal's stock option plan during the term of the employment agreement. During the term of the agreement, the employee will be entitled to participate in the pension and welfare plans and programs, including the 401(k) and health insurance plans, generally made available by the surviving corporation for its employees.

the end of the agreement's scheduled term, or, if greater, an amount equal to 25% of the employee's base salary in effect at the time of termination;

- full vesting and immediate exercisability of all the employee's options to purchase Vivendi Universal ordinary shares received pursuant to the merger agreement upon the rollover of the employee's prior options to purchase shares of MP3.com common stock, but only to the extent provided by the terms of such prior options or the relevant MP3.com stock option plan; and
- reimbursement for any required COBRA premiums in respect of the employee's continued health plan coverage during the first six months following the employee's termination or until the employee obtains comparable employer-provided health coverage, if earlier.

The form of employment agreement also requires the employee to assign any rights he or she may have in inventions and intellectual property acquired with respect to the business.

These agreements will be entered into for the purpose of retaining the services of Mr. Ouyang and Mr. Richards in assisting with the transition of MP3.com into the surviving corporation following the consummation of the merger.

The surviving corporation will also pay Mr. Ouyang a retention and non-compete payment of $2,480,000, with 50% of that amount payable at the completion of the merger and 50% payable at the expiration of the agreement's six-month term. If, during the term of the agreement, the surviving corporation terminates Mr. Ouyang's employment without cause, his right to receive the retention and non-compete payment will be accelerated. Mr. Ouyang will be entitled to receive, for one year following his termination of employment, continued coverage under the surviving corporation's health insurance plans. Mr. Ouyang will be subject to a noncompetition obligation during the period of time in which he is employed by the surviving corporation and for one year following his termination of employment. Mr. Ouyang will also waive his rights to receive any payments under any other plans or agreements that provide for any "gross-up" payments in respect of taxes.

Robin Richards. The term sheet for the proposed agreement with Mr. Richards provides for an initial term of six months from the date of the merger. Thereafter, the term of the agreement will be, at the surviving corporation's sole discretion, on a month-to-month basis. The surviving corporation will pay Mr. Richards compensation in an amount of $400,000 for the initial six-month term and thereafter in an amount mutually agreed to between the parties. The surviving corporation will also pay Mr. Richards a retention and non-compete payment of $5,520,000, with 50% of that amount payable at the completion of the merger and 50% payable at the expiration of the agreement's initial term. If, during the term of the agreement, the surviving corporation terminates Mr. Richards's employment without cause, his right to receive the retention and non-compete payment will be accelerated. Mr. Richards will also be entitled to receive, for one year following his termination of employment, continued coverage under the surviving corporation's health insurance plans. Mr. Richards will be subject to a noncompetition obligation during the period of time in which he is employed by MP3.com and for one year following his termination of employment. Mr. Richards will waive his rights to receive any payments under any other plans or agreements that provide for any "gross-up" payments in respect of taxes. The surviving corporation will also continue to employ Mr. Richards's current secretary for the initial six-month term at her salary in effect immediately prior to the completion of the merger.

Repurchase Agreements

MP3.com previously permitted certain executives to exercise options in MP3.com common shares prior to the options' scheduled exercise date. At the time of such early exercise, MP3.com entered into agreements with those executives which provide MP3.com with a right to repurchase, in certain events, those MP3.com common shares acquired by the executive pursuant to such early exercise with respect to which, as of such event, MP3.com's repurchase right has not lapsed. Upon the completion of the merger, repurchase agreements with Josh Beck, Greg Flores, Paul Ouyang and Robin Richards will terminate and MP3.com's repurchase right with respect to MP3.com common shares covered by such agreements will expire.

Under the repurchase agreements with Mr. Ouyang and Mr. Richards, a change of control of MP3.com will generally result in the accelerated expiration of MP3.com's repurchase right. Under those repurchase agreements, MP3.com's repurchase right will not expire, however, to the extent necessary to avoid any accelerated lapsing of the repurchase right from being treated as an "excess parachute payment" under Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code. In connection with the merger, MP3.com agreed to amend the repurchase agreements with Mr. Ouyang and Mr. Richards by removing such limitation on the expiration of MP3.com's repurchase right, and as a result Mr. Ouyang and Mr. Richards will receive full, accelerated lapsing of MP3.com's repurchase right under the agreements with respect to shares still subject to the repurchase right at the effective time of the merger.

Option Agreement

In connection with the merger, Paul Ouyang entered into an agreement with MP3.com and Vivendi Universal under which Mr. Ouyang agreed (1) not to exercise the option granted to him by Michael Robertson to purchase from Mr. Robertson 500,000 MP3.com common shares and (2) not to sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of that option to another person or entity, in each case, prior to the record date for the special meeting.

Retention Pool

The merger agreement provides for the establishment of a cash retention pool of up to $13,000,000. Employees of MP3.com on the effective date of the merger, other than Mr. Robertson, Mr. Richards and Mr. Ouyang, will be eligible to receive payment from the retention pool. Payments from the retention pool will be made in a lump sum within three days of the effective time of the merger, other than with respect to Mr. Kostello, Mr. Oien and Mr. Sheiner, who will each receive 50% of their retention payment within three days of the effective time of the merger and, if still employed by the surviving corporation, 25% of their retention payment on each of the first and second anniversaries of the effective time of the merger.

Stock Options

Under the merger agreement, each option to acquire MP3.com common shares that is outstanding at the effective time of the merger will remain outstanding and be assumed by Vivendi Universal. Each option to acquire MP3.com common shares will be amended and converted into an option to acquire, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable under such option, the number of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares (rounded down to the nearest whole share) equal to the product of the number of MP3.com common shares subject to the option immediately prior to the effective time of the merger multiplied by the "exchange ratio", and the exercise price per Vivendi Universal ordinary share will be an amount equal to the exercise price per MP3.com common share otherwise purchasable pursuant to the option immediately prior to the effective time of the merger divided by the "exchange ratio". The "exchange ratio" is obtained by dividing $5.00 by the average per share closing price of Vivendi Universal ADSs on the New York Stock Exchange for the five consecutive trading days ending on the trading day immediately preceding the date of the special meeting.

Under the terms of outstanding stock option agreements issued under MP3.com's stock option plans, if there is a change in control (as defined in the stock option plans) and, within one month prior to, or

18 months after, the date of the change in control, the option holder is involuntarily terminated other than for death, disability or cause (as defined in the option agreement), or if the option holder terminates his or her employment due to a constructive termination (as defined in the option agreement), then outstanding options will become fully vested and immediately exercisable.

Vivendi Universal and MP3.com have agreed that unvested, in-the-money options held by some of MP3.com's executives, including Mr. Richards, Mr. Ouyang, Mr. Kostello, Mr. Oien and Mr. Sheiner, will become fully vested and exercisable immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, and that those executives may elect the portion of the shares subject to such options desired to be converted into cash and the portion of such shares desired to be converted into Vivendi Universal ordinary shares at the effective time of the merger, all in accordance with the procedures generally applicable to other MP3.com stockholders; provided, that the executive unconditionally exercises such options effective immediately prior to the effective time of the merger.

Indemnification; Directors' and Officers' Insurance

The merger agreement provides that all rights to indemnification for acts and omissions occurring at or before the effective time of the merger existing in favor of the current and former directors and officers of MP3.com and its subsidiaries as provided in their respective articles of organization or by-laws, and any existing indemnification agreements with MP3.com the existence of which do not breach the merger agreement will be assumed by the surviving corporation in the merger and that Vivendi Universal will cause these provisions to continue in full force and effect in accordance with their terms. The merger agreement also provides that for six years after the completion of the merger, Vivendi Universal will either maintain the directors' and officers' liability insurance policy in effect as of the date of the merger agreement for acts or omissions occurring at or before the effective time of the merger covering those persons who were, as of the date of the merger agreement, covered by that policy, or otherwise provide coverage for such people, on terms no less favorable than those in effect on the date of the merger agreement, provided that in either case Vivendi Universal will not be obligated to pay aggregate premiums in excess of 200% of the last annual premium paid by MP3.com, which was $1,937,400. If 200% of such premium, or $3,874,800, would be exceeded, Vivendi Universal will obtain a policy with the greatest coverage available for a cost not exceeding $3,874,800.

FORM OF MERGER

Subject to the terms and conditions of the merger agreement and in accordance with Delaware law, upon completion of the merger, MP3.com will be merged with and into Metronome Acquisition Sub, a wholly owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal formed for purposes of the merger and a party to the merger agreement, or, upon the election of Vivendi Universal, another wholly owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal. The acquisition subsidiary will survive the merger as a wholly owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal.

EFFECTIVE TIME OF THE MERGER

The merger will become effective upon the filing of the certificate of merger by Vivendi Universal and MP3.com with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware or such later time agreed upon by Vivendi Universal and MP3.com and specified in the certificate of merger.

CONSIDERATION TO BE RECEIVED IN THE MERGER

Upon completion of the merger, each share of MP3.com common stock, except for treasury stock and stock held by Vivendi Universal, the acquisition subsidiary and stockholders who perfect their appraisal rights, will be converted into the right to receive, at the election of the stockholder, one of the following:

- $5.00 in cash; or
- a number of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares (in the form of Vivendi Universal ADSs) equal to the "exchange ratio".

The Vivendi Universal ordinary shares are expected to come from Vivendi Universal treasury stock. The "exchange ratio" will be equal to $5.00 divided by the average per share closing price of Vivendi Universal ADSs on the New York Stock Exchange for the five consecutive trading days ending on the trading day immediately preceding the date of the special meeting. The market value of the Vivendi Universal ADSs on the date on which the merger is completed may be different than the five trading-day average price of Vivendi Universal ADSs used in determining the exchange ratio. As a result, the market value of the Vivendi Universal ADSs you receive pursuant to the merger may be more or less than the $5.00 value assumed in calculating the exchange ratio.

The merger has been structured, and adjustments to MP3.com stockholder elections will be made, so that immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, the percentage of shares of MP3.com common stock that will be converted into Vivendi Universal ordinary shares is fixed at 50% and the percentage of shares of MP3.com common stock that will be converted into cash is also fixed at 50%. The proration mechanism is discussed below under "-- Election Procedure; Proration". The conversion of each share of MP3.com common stock (other than those held by stockholders who perfect their appraisal rights) into the right to receive $5.00 in cash or Vivendi Universal ADSs will occur automatically upon completion of the merger. After the merger, each certificate that previously represented shares of MP3.com common stock will represent only the right to receive the merger consideration (or, in the case of shares subject to appraisal rights, the right to receive the amount in cash determined under Delaware law), including cash for any fractional shares of Vivendi Universal ADSs. All shares of MP3.com common stock to be so converted shall, by virtue of the merger and without any action on the part of the holders thereof, cease to be outstanding, be canceled and cease to exist.

ELECTION PROCEDURE; PRORATION

Vivendi Universal is mailing you a form of election. MP3.com stockholders should use the form of election to elect whether to receive cash or Vivendi Universal ordinary shares as consideration in connection with the merger. For an election to be properly made, the form of election must be received by the exchange agent by 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on [], 2001, which is the business day immediately preceding the special meeting, and it must be accompanied by the stock certificates to which such election form relates. If no form of election is received, the stockholder will be deemed to have elected to receive cash consideration.

A form of election may be revoked by written notice to the exchange agent prior to the due date of the election form or after such time if the exchange agent is legally required to permit revocations and the merger is not yet effective. If an election form is revoked, the stock certificates to which such election form relates will be returned promptly. The determination of the exchange agent is binding as to whether an election has been properly made or revoked.

If holders of more than 50% of the outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock elect to receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares, the exchange agent will allocate, pro rata to the holders making this election in accordance with the number of shares of MP3.com common stock that they hold, a sufficient number of shares of MP3.com common stock to be converted into $5.00 per share instead of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares so that the number of shares of MP3.com common stock that the holders initially elected to convert into Vivendi Universal ordinary shares less the number of shares of MP3.com common stock so designated to be converted instead into cash equals 50% of the outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock immediately prior to the time the merger becomes effective.

If holders of less than 50% of the outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock elect to receive Vivendi Universal ordinary shares, the exchange agent will allocate, pro rata to the holders making cash elections in accordance with the number of shares of MP3.com common stock that they hold, a sufficient number of shares of MP3.com common stock to be converted into Vivendi Universal ordinary shares instead of cash so that the number of shares of MP3.com common stock that the holders initially elected to convert into Vivendi Universal ordinary shares plus the number of shares of MP3.com common stock so designated to be converted instead into Vivendi Universal ordinary shares equals 50% of the outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock immediately prior to the time the merger becomes effective.

EXCHANGE PROCEDURES

As of the effective time of the merger, Vivendi Universal will provide, or cause the surviving corporation in the merger to provide, to the depositary the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares in the form of Vivendi Universal ADSs. The depositary will deposit with the exchange agent, for the benefit of the MP3.com stockholders, receipts issued in accordance with Vivendi Universal's deposit agreement evidencing the Vivendi Universal ADSs issuable in connection with the merger. In addition, Vivendi Universal will take all steps necessary to enable and cause the surviving corporation in the merger to provide to the exchange agent cash necessary to pay for the shares of MP3.com common stock converted into the right to receive cash. For a summary of the terms of the deposit agreement, see "Description of Vivendi Universal ADSs" beginning on page 72.

If your shares are held in registered form and you make an election of consideration by returning the completed election form, you must send in your MP3.com common stock certificates with your completed election form and letter of transmittal to the exchange agent. If you do not make an election, then you must keep your stock certificates until after the closing, when you will receive a letter of transmittal describing how you may exchange your certificates for merger consideration. Upon surrender of a stock certificate for cancellation to the exchange agent, together with a letter of transmittal, duly completed and validly executed, and such other documents reasonably required by the exchange agent, an MP3.com stockholder will receive a receipt evidencing that number of Vivendi Universal ADSs and/or cash that the stockholder is entitled to receive in connection with the merger.

MP3.COM STOCKHOLDERS SHOULD NOT RETURN STOCK CERTIFICATES WITH THE ENCLOSED PROXY CARD.

Holders of certificates previously representing MP3.com common stock will not be paid the merger consideration or dividends or distributions on the Vivendi Universal ADSs which they are entitled to receive pursuant to the merger with a record date after the merger, and will not be paid cash for any fractional shares of Vivendi Universal ADSs, until their certificates are surrendered to the exchange agent for exchange. When their certificates are surrendered, any unpaid dividends and any cash instead of fractional shares will be paid without interest.

In the event of a transfer of ownership of MP3.com common stock that is not registered in the transfer records of MP3.com, the cash portion of the merger consideration, including any cash payable instead of fractional shares, may be paid, and a certificate representing the proper number of shares of Vivendi Universal ADSs may be issued, to a person other than the person in whose name the surrendered certificate is registered if:

- the surrendered certificate is properly endorsed or otherwise is in proper form for transfer; and
- the person requesting such payment and issuance pays any transfer or other taxes required by reason of the payment of cash and the issuance of Vivendi Universal ADSs to a person other than the registered holder of the surrendered certificate, or establishes to the satisfaction of Vivendi Universal that such taxes have been paid or are not applicable.

The merger consideration paid and issued upon surrender for exchange of shares of MP3.com common stock, including any dividends or distributions or any cash paid instead of any fractional shares or upon exercise of appraisal rights, will be deemed to have been paid and issued in full satisfaction of all rights pertaining to those shares of MP3.com common stock formerly represented by such certificates. No dividend or distribution with respect to Vivendi Universal ordinary shares shall relate to such fractional share interests and such fractional share interests shall not entitle or enable the owner thereof to vote or to any rights of a stockholder of Vivendi Universal.

No certificates or scrip representing, or receipts evidencing, fractional Vivendi Universal ADSs will be issued to any MP3.com stockholder upon surrender of certificates previously representing MP3.com common stock. Each MP3.com stockholder who would otherwise have been entitled to receive a fraction of Vivendi Universal ADSs will be entitled to receive an amount in cash equal to the product obtained by multiplying the fractional share interest to which the holder would otherwise be entitled by the average of the closing price of Vivendi Universal ADSs on the New York Stock Exchange for the five consecutive trading days ending on the trading day immediately preceding the special meeting.

ACCOUNTING TREATMENT

Vivendi Universal prepares its financial statements using French generally accepted accounting principles, or GAAP. In accordance with the rules and regulations of the SEC, Vivendi Universal intends to account for the merger using the "purchase" method of accounting for business combinations under French GAAP. When it reconciles its financial statements to U.S. GAAP, it also will account for the arrangement using the "purchase" method of accounting for business combinations, which means that MP3.com will be treated as a separate entity for periods prior to the completion of the merger and, thereafter, as a wholly owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal. In addition, this means that Vivendi Universal will record the excess of the purchase price of MP3.com over the fair value of MP3.com's identifiable assets, including intangible assets and liabilities, as "goodwill".

REGULATORY MATTERS

The merger is subject to the expiration or termination of the applicable waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act of 1976. On June 12, 2001, Vivendi Universal and MP3.com each filed a Notification and Report Form with the Antitrust Division and the Federal Trade Commission and requested an early termination of the required waiting period. If early termination is not granted and a request for additional information by the relevant antitrust authorities is not made, the waiting period will expire at midnight on July 12, 2001. At any time before or after the completion of the merger, the Antitrust Division, the Federal Trade Commission or others could take action under the antitrust laws with respect to the merger, including seeking to enjoin the completion of the merger, to rescind the merger or to approve the merger conditionally upon the divestiture of substantial assets of Vivendi Universal or MP3.com. A challenge to the merger on antitrust grounds could be made and, if such a challenge is made, it could be successful.

The antitrust and competition laws of some foreign jurisdictions may require (or, in some instances, provide for on a voluntary basis) notification of certain transactions and the observance of pre-consummation waiting periods. Vivendi Universal and MP3.com will make any such required filings (and, if deemed in Vivendi Universal's and MP3.com's interests, any such voluntary filings) with the appropriate antitrust and competition authorities as promptly as practicable.

The merger agreement requires each of Vivendi Universal and MP3.com to use reasonable efforts to take all actions and cooperate with the other party in obtaining all necessary waivers, consents and approvals from governmental entities and the making of all necessary registrations and filings with governmental entities in connection with the merger. However, Vivendi Universal is not required to agree to divest any assets or any of its or MP3.com's businesses, or to cease to conduct business or operations in any jurisdiction in which it or MP3.com conducts business or operations as of the date of the merger agreement.

It is possible that any of the governmental entities with which filings are made may seek various regulatory concessions. There can be no assurance that:

- Vivendi Universal or MP3.com will be able to satisfy or comply with such conditions; or
- compliance or non-compliance will not have adverse consequences for Vivendi Universal after completion of the merger.

RESALE OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADSs

Vivendi Universal ADSs you receive pursuant to the merger will not be subject to any restrictions on transfer arising under the Securities Act, except for shares issued to any MP3.com stockholder who may be deemed to be an "affiliate" of Vivendi Universal or MP3.com for purposes of Rule 145 under the Securities Act. Pursuant to the merger agreement, MP3.com will deliver to Vivendi Universal a list of those persons who are affiliates of MP3.com. It is expected that each such affiliate will agree not to transfer any shares of Vivendi Universal ADSs received pursuant to the merger except in compliance with the resale provisions of Rule 144 or 145 under the Securities Act or as otherwise permitted under the Securities Act. The merger agreement requires MP3.com to use reasonable efforts to cause its affiliates who elect to receive Vivendi Universal ADSs to deliver affiliate letter agreements prior to the completion of the merger. This proxy statement/prospectus does not cover resales of Vivendi Universal ADSs received by any person upon completion of the merger, and no person is authorized to make any use of this proxy statement/prospectus in connection with any resale.

STOCK EXCHANGE MATTERS

It is a condition to the completion of the merger that the Vivendi Universal ADSs issuable to MP3.com stockholders pursuant to the merger be approved for listing on the New York Stock Exchange, subject to official notice of issuance.

If the merger is completed, MP3.com common stock will be delisted from the Nasdaq National Market and will be deregistered under the Exchange Act.

APPRAISAL RIGHTS

When the merger is completed, MP3.com stockholders who did not vote in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement and who complied with the procedures prescribed in Section 262 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware will be entitled to a judicial appraisal of the fair value of their shares, exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger, and to receive payment of the fair value of their shares in cash, together with a judicially determined fair rate of interest. The following is a brief summary of the statutory procedures that must be followed by an MP3.com stockholder in order to perfect his or her appraisal rights under Delaware law.

THE FOLLOWING DISCUSSION IS NOT A COMPLETE STATEMENT OF THE DELAWARE LAW PERTAINING TO APPRAISAL RIGHTS AND IS QUALIFIED IN ITS ENTIRETY BY THE FULL TEXT OF SECTION 262 OF THE GENERAL CORPORATION LAW OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE WHICH IS ATTACHED TO THIS PROXY STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS AS ANNEX D. BECAUSE OF THE COMPLEXITY OF SECTION 262 AND THE NEED TO STRICTLY COMPLY WITH VARIOUS TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS, YOU SHOULD READ ANNEX D IN ITS ENTIRETY. A PERSON HAVING A BENEFICIAL INTEREST IN SHARES OF MP3.COM COMMON STOCK HELD OF RECORD IN THE NAME OF ANOTHER PERSON, SUCH AS A BROKER OR NOMINEE, MUST ACT PROMPTLY TO CAUSE THE RECORD HOLDER TO FOLLOW THE STEPS SUMMARIZED BELOW PROPERLY AND IN A TIMELY MANNER TO PERFECT APPRAISAL RIGHTS.

Under Section 262, where a merger is to be submitted for approval at a meeting of stockholders, as in the case of the adoption of the merger agreement by MP3.com stockholders, the corporation, not less than 20 days prior to the meeting, must notify each of its stockholders entitled to appraisal rights that such appraisal rights are available and include in such notice a copy of Section 262. THIS PROXY STATEMENT/ PROSPECTUS SHALL CONSTITUTE SUCH NOTICE.

A holder of shares of MP3.com common stock wishing to exercise such holder's appraisal rights:

- must deliver to MP3.com, before the vote on the adoption of the merger agreement at the special meeting, a written demand for the appraisal of his or her shares; and
- must not vote in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement.

In order not to vote in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement, a stockholder must either:

- not return a proxy card, not grant a proxy via the telephone or Internet and not vote in person in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement;
- return a proxy card with the "AGAINST" or "ABSTAIN" box checked;
- vote in person against the adoption of the merger agreement; or
- register in person an abstention from the proposal to adopt the merger agreement.

ALL WRITTEN DEMANDS FOR APPRAISAL PURSUANT TO SECTION 262 SHOULD BE SENT OR DELIVERED TO MP3.COM AT 4790 EASTGATE MALL, SAN DIEGO, CA 92121-1970, ATTENTION: SECRETARY.

A holder of shares of MP3.com common stock wishing to exercise such holder's appraisal rights must hold of record such shares on the date the written demand for appraisal is made and must continue to hold such shares of record through the effective time of the merger. A vote against the adoption of the merger agreement will not in and of itself constitute a written demand for appraisal satisfying the requirements of Section 262. The demand must reasonably inform MP3.com of the identity of the holder as well as the intention of the holder to demand an appraisal of the "fair value" of the shares held by such holder. A stockholder's failure to make the written demand prior to the taking of the vote on the adoption of the merger agreement at the special meeting of

MP3.com stockholders will constitute a waiver of appraisal rights.

Only a holder of record of shares of MP3.com common stock is entitled to assert appraisal rights for the shares of MP3.com common stock registered in that holder's name. A demand for appraisal in respect of shares of MP3.com common stock should be executed by or on behalf of the holder of record, fully and correctly, as such holder's name appears on such holder's stock certificates, and must state that such person intends thereby to demand appraisal of such holder's shares of MP3.com common stock in connection with the merger. If the shares of MP3.com common stock are owned of record in a fiduciary capacity, such as by a trustee, guardian or custodian, execution of the demand should be made in that capacity, and if the shares of MP3.com common stock are owned of record by more than one person, as in a joint tenancy or tenancy in common, the demand should be executed by or on behalf of all joint owners. An authorized agent, including one for two or more joint owners, may execute a demand for appraisal on behalf of a holder of record; however, the agent must identify the record owner or owners and expressly disclose the fact that in executing the demand, the agent is agent for such owner or owners. A record holder such as a broker who holds shares of MP3.com common stock as nominee for several beneficial owners may exercise appraisal rights with respect to the shares of MP3.com common stock held for one or more beneficial owners while not exercising such rights with respect to the shares of MP3.com common stock held for other beneficial owners. In such case, however, the written demand should set forth the number of shares of MP3.com common stock as to which appraisal is sought, and where no number of shares of MP3.com common stock is expressly mentioned, the demand will be presumed to cover all shares of MP3.com common stock held in the name of the record owner. Stockholders who hold their shares of MP3.com common stock in brokerage accounts or other nominee forms and who wish to exercise appraisal rights are urged to consult with their brokers to determine the appropriate procedures for the making of a demand for appraisal by such a nominee.

Within ten days after the effective time of the merger, the surviving corporation must notify each holder of MP3.com common stock who has complied with Section 262 and who has not voted in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement of the date that the merger has become effective. Within 120 days after the effective time of the merger, the surviving corporation or any holder of MP3.com common stock who has complied with Section 262 and is entitled to appraisal rights under Section 262 may file a petition in the Delaware Court of Chancery demanding a determination of the fair value of such holder's shares of MP3.com common stock. The surviving corporation is under no obligation to and has no present intention to file such a petition. Accordingly, it is the obligation of the holders of MP3.com common stock to initiate all necessary action to perfect their appraisal rights in respect of their shares of MP3.com common stock within the time prescribed in Section 262.

Within 120 days after the effective time of the merger, any holder of MP3.com common stock who has complied with the requirements for exercise of appraisal rights will be entitled, upon written request, to receive from the surviving corporation a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares not voted in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement and with respect to which demands for appraisal have been received and the aggregate number of holders of such shares. Such statement must be mailed within ten days after a written request for the statement has been received by the surviving corporation or within ten days after the expiration of the period for delivery of demands for appraisal, whichever is later.

If a petition for an appraisal is timely filed by a holder of shares of MP3.com common stock and a copy of the petition is served upon the surviving corporation, the surviving corporation will then be obligated within 20 days to file with the Delaware Register in Chancery a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all stockholders who have demanded an appraisal of their shares and with whom agreements as to the value of their shares have not been reached. After notice to such stockholders as required by the court, the Delaware Court of Chancery is empowered to conduct a hearing on such petition to determine those stockholders who have complied with Section 262 and who have become entitled to appraisal rights under Section 262. The Delaware Court of Chancery may require the holders of shares of MP3.com common stock who demanded payment for their shares to submit their stock certificates to the Delaware Register in Chancery for notation on the certificate of the pendency of the appraisal proceeding. If any stockholder fails to comply with such direction, the Delaware Court of Chancery may dismiss the proceedings as to such stockholder.

After determining the holders of MP3.com common stock entitled to appraisal, the Delaware Court of Chancery will appraise the "fair value" of their shares of MP3.com common stock, exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger, together with a fair rate of interest, if any, to be paid upon the amount determined to be the fair value. Holders of MP3.com common stock considering seeking appraisal should be aware that the fair value of their shares of MP3.com common stock as so determined could be more than, the same as or less than the consideration they would receive pursuant to the merger if they did not seek appraisal of their shares of MP3.com common stock and that investment banking opinions as to fairness from a financial point of view are not necessarily opinions as to fair value under Section 262. The Delaware Supreme Court has stated that proof of value by any techniques or methods which are generally considered acceptable in the financial community and otherwise admissible in court should be considered in the appraisal proceedings. In addition, Delaware courts have decided that the statutory appraisal remedy, depending on factual circumstances, may or may not be a dissenter's exclusive remedy. The Delaware Court of Chancery will also determine the amount of interest, if any, to be paid upon the amounts to be received by persons whose shares of MP3.com common stock have been appraised. The costs of the action may be determined by the court and taxed upon the parties as the court deems equitable. The court may also order that all or a portion of the expenses incurred by any stockholder in connection with an appraisal, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees and the fees and expenses of experts utilized in the appraisal proceeding, be charged pro rata against the value of all the shares entitled to be appraised.

Any holder of shares of MP3.com common stock who has duly demanded an appraisal in compliance with Section 262 will not, after the effective time of the merger, be entitled to vote the shares of MP3.com common stock subject to such demand for any purpose or be entitled to the payment of dividends or other distributions on those shares of MP3.com common stock (except dividends or other distributions payable to holders of record of MP3.com common stock as of a record date prior to the effective time of the merger).

If any stockholder who demands appraisal of such holder's shares of MP3.com common stock under Section 262 fails to perfect, or effectively withdraws or loses, such holder's right to appraisal, the shares of MP3.com common stock of such stockholder will be deemed to have been converted at the effective time of the merger into the right to receive the merger consideration. A stockholder will fail to perfect, or effectively lose or withdraw, such holder's right to appraisal if no petition for appraisal is filed within 120 days after the effective time of the merger, or if the stockholder delivers to the surviving corporation a written withdrawal of such holder's demand for appraisal and an acceptance of the merger, except that any such attempt to withdraw made more than 60 days after the effective time of the merger will require the written approval of the surviving corporation and, once a petition for appraisal is filed, the appraisal proceeding may not be dismissed as to any holder absent court approval.

FAILURE TO FOLLOW THE STEPS REQUIRED BY SECTION 262 OF THE GENERAL CORPORATION LAW OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE FOR PERFECTING APPRAISAL RIGHTS MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF SUCH RIGHTS.

THE MERGER AGREEMENT

We urge you to read the full text of the merger agreement.

The merger agreement contains representations and warranties relating to:

- organization, standing, corporate power and authority and other corporate matters concerning MP3.com and its subsidiaries, Vivendi Universal and Metronome Acquisition Sub;
- the subsidiaries of MP3.com;
- the capital structure of MP3.com;

NO SOLICITATION OF ACQUISITION PROPOSALS

The merger agreement contains detailed provisions prohibiting MP3.com from seeking an alternative transaction. Under these "no solicitation" provisions, MP3.com has agreed that neither it nor its subsidiaries will, and that it will not authorize or permit any of its or its subsidiaries' directors, officers, employees, investment bankers, attorneys, accountants or other advisors or representatives to, directly or indirectly:

- solicit, initiate or encourage, or take any other action intended to, or which could reasonably be expected to, facilitate any inquiries or the making of any proposal that constitutes, or could reasonably be expected to, lead to a "takeover proposal", as defined below; or
- enter into, continue or otherwise participate in any discussions or negotiations regarding, or furnish to any person any information with respect to, or otherwise cooperate in any way with, a takeover proposal.

However, the merger agreement does not prevent the MP3.com board of directors from participating in discussions or negotiations with any person making an unsolicited bona fide written takeover proposal that the MP3.com board determines in good faith (after consulting with outside counsel and a financial advisor) constitutes or is reasonably likely to lead to a "superior proposal", as defined below, if the board determines in good faith (after consultation with outside counsel) that it is required to do so in order to comply with its fiduciary duties. Even in such a case, MP3.com is required to notify Vivendi Universal before participating in any discussions or negotiations and keep Vivendi Universal fully informed of their status.

"Takeover proposal" means any inquiry, proposal or offer from any person relating to any direct or indirect acquisition or purchase of 20% or more of the assets of MP3.com and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or 20% or more of any class or series of equity securities of MP3.com or any of its subsidiaries, any tender offer or exchange offer that if consummated would result in any person beneficially owning 20% or more of any class or series of equity securities of MP3.com or any of its subsidiaries, or any merger, consolidation, share exchange, business combination, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction involving MP3.com or any of its subsidiaries pursuant to which any person (or its shareholders) would beneficially own 20% or more of any class or series of equity securities of MP3.com (or any resulting parent or surviving entity), other than the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

"Superior proposal" means any offer not solicited by MP3.com made by a third party to consummate a tender offer, exchange offer, merger, consolidation, share exchange or similar transaction which would result in such third party (or its shareholders) owning, directly or indirectly, 50% or more of the shares of MP3.com common stock then outstanding (or of the surviving entity in a merger) or 50% or more of the assets of MP3.com and its subsidiaries and otherwise on terms which the MP3.com board determines in good faith (following receipt of the advice of a financial advisor of nationally recognized reputation) to be more favorable to the MP3.com stockholders from a financial point of view than the merger.

The merger agreement further provides that neither MP3.com, the MP3.com board nor any committee of the MP3.com board may:

- withdraw or modify, or propose to withdraw or modify, in a manner adverse to Vivendi Universal, the approval or recommendation by the board or committee of the merger agreement or the merger, except to the extent that the board determines in good faith (after consultation with outside counsel) that it is required to do so in order to comply with its fiduciary duties;

- approve or recommend, or propose to approve or recommend, any takeover proposal; or

- approve or recommend, or propose to approve or recommend, or execute or enter into any letter of intent, memorandum of understanding, agreement in principle, acquisition agreement, merger agreement, option agreement, joint venture agreement, partnership agreement or other similar agreement or propose or agree to do any of the foregoing constituting or related to, or which is intended to or could reasonably be expected to lead to, any takeover proposal.

STOCK OPTIONS AND OTHER EMPLOYEE BENEFIT MATTERS

Employee Benefit Matters

Employees of MP3.com and its subsidiaries who continue their employment after the effective time of the merger will continue to be provided through December 31, 2002, with employee benefits that are substantially comparable in the aggregate to the employee benefits provided to those employees immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, provided that:

- neither Vivendi Universal nor the surviving corporation will have any obligation to issue, or adopt any plans or arrangements providing for the issuance of, shares of capital stock, warrants, options, stock appreciation rights or other rights in respect of any shares of capital stock of any entity or any securities convertible or exchangeable into such shares pursuant to any such plans or arrangements; and
- no plans or arrangements of MP3.com or any of its subsidiaries providing for such issuance of equity-based awards will be taken into account in determining whether employee benefits are substantially comparable in the aggregate.

Vivendi Universal will not be prevented from:

- terminating the employment of any individual who was an employee of MP3.com and its subsidiaries immediately prior to the effective time of the merger;
- making any change in the employee benefits available to any such employee; or
- amending or terminating any particular benefit plan or agreement of MP3.com and its subsidiaries to the extent permitted by the terms of such plan or agreement as in effect immediately prior to the effective time of the merger.

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, employees of MP3.com and its subsidiaries who continue their employment after the effective time of the merger will be given credit under each employee benefit plan, program, policy or arrangement of Vivendi Universal or any of its affiliates in which those employees are eligible to participate for all service with MP3.com or any predecessor employer (to the extent such credit was given by MP3.com) for purposes of eligibility, vesting, severance and vacation entitlement.

The merger agreement provides that MP3.com will not permit the commencement of any offerings under its employee stock purchase plan that would commence on a date following the date of the merger agreement. With respect to any offering under the employee stock purchase plan that is in effect immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, each participant's accumulated payroll deductions will be used to purchase MP3.com common shares immediately prior to the effective time of the merger in accordance with the terms of the employee stock purchase plan. The employee stock purchase plan will be terminated at the effective time of the merger.

Vivendi Universal and MP3.com have agreed that unvested, in-the-money options held by some of MP3.com's executives, including Mr. Richards, Mr. Ouyang, Mr. Kostello, Mr. Oien and Mr. Sheiner, will become fully vested and exercisable immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, and that those executives may elect the portion of the shares subject to such options desired to be converted into cash and the portion of such shares desired to be converted into Vivendi Universal ordinary shares at the effective time of the merger, all in accordance with the procedures generally applicable to other MP3.com stockholders; provided, that the executive unconditionally exercises such options effective immediately prior to the effective time of the merger.

The merger agreement provides for the establishment of a cash retention pool of up to $13,000,000. Employees of MP3.com on the effective date of the merger, other than Mr. Robertson, Mr. Richards and Mr. Ouyang, will be eligible to receive payment from the retention pool. Payments from the retention pool will be made in a lump sum within three days of the effective time of the merger, other than with respect to Mr. Kostello, Mr. Oien and Mr. Sheiner, who will each receive 50% of their retention payment within three days of the effective time of the merger and, if still employed by the surviving corporation, 25% of their retention payment on each of the first and second anniversaries of the effective time of the merger.

Vivendi Universal also agreed that, if it offers a one-year written employment agreement to any employee of MP3.com or the surviving corporation, the employment agreement will be in the form previously agreed to by Vivendi Universal and MP3.com (as described in "Interests of Certain Persons in the Merger -- Employment Agreements -- Form of One-Year Employment Agreements" on page 41).

Conversion of Stock Options

Under the merger agreement, each option to acquire MP3.com common stock that is outstanding at the effective time of the merger will remain outstanding and be assumed by Vivendi Universal. Each option to acquire MP3.com common stock will be amended and converted into an option to acquire, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable under such option, the number of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares (rounded down to the nearest whole share) equal to the product of:

- the number of MP3.com common shares subject to the option immediately prior to the effective time of the merger; and
- the "exchange ratio", at an exercise price per Vivendi Universal ordinary share equal to the exercise price per MP3.com common share otherwise purchasable pursuant to the option immediately prior to the effective time of the merger divided by the "exchange ratio". The "exchange ratio" is obtained by dividing $5.00 by the average per share closing price of Vivendi Universal ADSs on the New York Stock Exchange for the five consecutive trading days ending on the trading day immediately preceding the date of the special meeting.

Under the terms of outstanding stock option agreements issued under MP3.com's stock option plans, if there is a change in control (as defined in the stock option plans) and, within one month prior to or 18 months after the date of the change in control, the option holder is involuntarily terminated other than for death, disability or cause (as defined in the option agreement), or if the option holder terminates his or her employment due to a constructive termination (as defined in the option agreement), then outstanding options will become fully vested and immediately exercisable.

Indemnification; Directors' and Officers' Insurance

The merger agreement provides that all rights to indemnification for acts and omissions occurring at or before the effective time of the merger existing in favor of the current and former directors and officers of MP3.com and its subsidiaries as provided in their respective articles of organization or by-laws, and any existing indemnification agreements with MP3.com the existence of which do not breach the merger agreement will be assumed by the surviving corporation in the merger and that Vivendi Universal will cause these provisions to continue in full force and effect in accordance with their terms. The merger agreement also provides that for six years after the completion of the merger, Vivendi Universal will either maintain the directors' and officers' liability insurance policy in effect as of the date of the merger agreement for acts or omissions occurring at or before the effective time of the merger covering those persons who were, as of the date of the merger agreement, covered by that policy, or otherwise provide coverage for such people, on terms no less favorable than those in effect on the date of the merger agreement, provided that in either case Vivendi Universal will not be obligated to pay aggregate premiums in excess of 200% of the last annual premium paid by MP3.com, which was $1,937,400. If 200% of such premium, or $3,874,800, would be exceeded, Vivendi Universal will obtain a policy with the greatest coverage available for a cost not exceeding $3,874,800.

ADDITIONAL COVENANTS

The merger agreement also contains other covenants by Vivendi Universal and MP3.com, including a covenant to use reasonable efforts to take all actions and to do all things necessary, proper or advisable to consummate the merger in the most expeditious manner practicable.

CONDITIONS TO CONSUMMATION OF THE MERGER

Each party's obligation to complete the merger is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the following conditions before completion of the merger:

- the adoption of the merger agreement by holders of a majority of all outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock;
- the approval for listing on the New York Stock Exchange, subject to official notice of issuance, of the shares of Vivendi Universal ADSs issuable to MP3.com stockholders and optionholders pursuant to the merger agreement;
- the expiration or termination of any waiting period applicable to the merger under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976 or any similar law;

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

- the effectiveness of, and the absence of any restraining order, injunction or other court order or decree or other legal restraint or prohibition in effect preventing completion of the merger; and
- the absence of any stop order or proceeding seeking a stop order with respect to, the registration statement on Form F-4 of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part.

In addition, the obligation of each party to complete the merger is further subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the following additional conditions:

- the representations and warranties of the other party (except those representations and warranties of MP3.com specifically dealt with below) set forth in the merger agreement disregarding all qualifications and exceptions relating to materiality or material adverse effect, being true and correct as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date as though made as of the closing date, except to the extent the representations and warranties expressly relate to a specific date, in which case on that date, and except to the extent that the facts or matters as to which the representations and warranties are not so true and correct, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and could not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the other party;
- the other party having performed in all material respects all obligations required to be performed by it under the merger agreement at or prior to the closing date; and
- having received from its U.S. tax advisor on the closing date an opinion stating that the merger will qualify for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a "reorganization" within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

In addition, Vivendi Universal's and the acquisition subsidiary's obligation to complete the merger is further subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the following conditions:

- the representations and warranties of MP3.com regarding litigation being true and correct in all material respects as of the date of the merger agreement; and
- the representations and warranties of MP3.com regarding the capital structure of MP3.com being true and correct as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date, except to the extent such representations and warranties expressly speak as of an earlier date, in which case as of the earlier date.

The merger agreement provides that a "material adverse effect" means, when used in reference to MP3.com or Vivendi Universal, any change, development, effect, event, condition, occurrence or state of facts that is materially adverse to the business, assets or results of operations or financial condition of such party and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole. However, there will be no material adverse effect to the extent that any state of facts, change, development, event, effect, condition or occurrence relates to:

- the economy or securities markets in general;
- the industries in which Vivendi Universal or MP3.com operate in general and not having a disproportionate effect on such party relative to most industry participants;

- the announcement or existence of the merger agreement;
- any claim, suit, action, proceeding or other litigation in respect of copyright infringement matters instituted or threatened against MP3.com following the announcement of the merger agreement;
- any settlement or judgment with respect to litigation matters appearing on MP3.com's disclosure schedule; or
- the failure by MP3.com to meet or exceed any third party or internal revenue, earnings or other financial estimates or projections, in and of itself.

TERMINATION

The merger agreement may be terminated at any time prior to completion of the merger, even if the merger agreement has been adopted by MP3.com stockholders:

- by mutual written consent of Vivendi Universal and MP3.com;
- by either Vivendi Universal or MP3.com, if the merger has not been completed by November 30, 2001; provided that a party cannot terminate for this reason if such party's failure to perform any of its obligations under the merger agreement caused the delay;
- by either Vivendi Universal or MP3.com, if there exists a final and nonappealable restraining order, injunction or other court order or decree or other legal restraint or prohibition preventing completion of the merger, provided that the party seeking to terminate shall have used reasonable efforts to prevent and remove the restraint;
- by either Vivendi Universal or MP3.com, if MP3.com stockholders do not adopt the merger agreement at the special meeting; or
- by either Vivendi Universal or MP3.com, if the other party has breached in any material respect any of its representations, warranties or covenants or other agreements contained in the merger agreement, which breach would result in a failure of a condition to the merger and cannot or has not been cured within 30 calendar days of notice.

EXPENSES

The merger agreement provides that all fees and expenses incurred in connection with the merger agreement, the merger, the stockholder agreement and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement and the stockholder agreement will be paid by the party incurring those fees or expenses, except that expenses incurred in connection with the filing, printing and mailing of this proxy statement/ prospectus and the registration statement on Form F-4, of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part, will be shared equally by Vivendi Universal and MP3.com.

AMENDMENT AND WAIVER

The merger agreement provides that at any time prior to the completion of the merger the parties may amend the merger agreement by an instrument in writing signed by each party. In addition, the

- waive compliance by the other parties with any of the agreements or conditions contained in the merger agreement.

However, after any required stockholder approval has been obtained, no amendment or waiver may be made which by law requires further approval or adoption by the stockholders without such further approval or adoption. Under Section 251(d) of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, no amendment to the merger agreement made after the adoption of the merger agreement by stockholders of a corporation may, without further approval by the stockholders, alter or change the merger consideration to be received by those stockholders, alter or change any term of the certificate of incorporation of the surviving corporation, or alter or change any terms and conditions of the merger agreement if the alteration or change would adversely affect the holders of any class or series of stock of the corporation.

62

TAXATION

The following discussion sets forth the material United States federal income and French tax consequences of the merger generally applicable to holders of MP3.com common stock who participate in the merger. The following discussion assumes that holders of MP3.com common stock hold their MP3.com common stock as capital assets. This discussion does not address the tax consequences to holders of MP3.com stock in particular circumstances, such as tax-exempt entities, certain insurance companies, broker-dealers, traders in securities that elect to mark to market, holders liable for alternative minimum tax, holders that hold MP3.com stock as part of a straddle or a hedging or conversion transaction or holders whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar, or a non-U.S. holder (as defined below). This discussion also does not apply to holders who acquired their MP3.com common stock pursuant to the exercise of employee stock options or otherwise as compensation or through a tax-qualified retirement plan. This discussion is based on the tax laws of France and the United States, including the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), published rulings and court decisions, as in effect on the date of this document, as well as the Convention Between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the French Republic, all of which are subject to change or change in interpretation, possibly with retroactive effect.

For purposes of this discussion, a "U.S. holder" is any beneficial owner of MP3.com common stock that is:

- a citizen or resident of the United States;
- a corporation or other entity taxable as a corporation created or organized under the laws of the United States or any political subdivision of the United States;
- an estate the income of which is subject to United States federal income tax without regard to its source; or
- a trust if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more United States persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust.

For purposes of this discussion, an "eligible MP3.com stockholder" is a U.S. holder of MP3.com common stock that will not be a "five percent transferee stockholder" as defined in United States Treasury Regulation Section 1.367(a)-3(c)(5)(ii) or who enters into a five-year gain recognition agreement in the form provided in United States Treasury Regulation Section 1.367(a)-8(b). A five percent transferee stockholder is a person that holds MP3.com common stock and that will hold, immediately after the merger, directly or indirectly through attribution, at least five percent of the outstanding shares of Vivendi Universal capital stock by vote or by value.

The discussion does not address any aspects of United States taxation of the merger other than federal income taxation or any aspects of French taxation of the merger other than income and capital taxation. Certain material United States federal income tax and French tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of Vivendi Universal ADSs are discussed in "Vivendi Universal -- Taxation." Holders of MP3.com common stock are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding the United States federal, state and local and the French and other tax consequences of the merger and of owning and disposing of MP3.com common stock and Vivendi Universal ADSs.

THE MERGER -- FRENCH TAXATION

A U.S. holder that is not a resident of France will not be subject to French tax on its transfer of MP3.com common stock in the merger, provided such U.S. holder does not have a permanent establishment or a fixed base in France to which the MP3.com common stock may be attributed.

THE MERGER -- UNITED STATES FEDERAL INCOME TAXATION

It is a condition to the obligation of Vivendi Universal to consummate the merger that Vivendi Universal receive an opinion from its counsel, Cravath, Swaine & Moore, and it is a condition to the obligation of MP3.com to consummate the merger that MP3.com receive an opinion from its tax advisors, Ernst & Young LLP, that the merger will be treated as a "reorganization" within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code.

The issuance of such opinions is conditioned, among other things, on the receipt by Cravath, Swaine & Moore and Ernst & Young LLP of representation letters, delivered on the date of the closing of the merger, from each of Vivendi Universal and MP3.com, in each case, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Cravath, Swaine & Moore and Ernst & Young LLP. Such opinions are not binding on the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) or the courts, and no assurance can be given that the IRS will not challenge the tax treatment of the merger. No ruling has been or will be sought from the IRS with regard to any of the tax consequences of the merger.

The following discussion assumes that the merger will be consummated as described in the merger agreement and this proxy statement/prospectus, that MP3.com will comply with the reporting requirements set forth in United States Treasury Regulation Section 1.367(a)-3(c)(6), and that the merger will be treated as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code.

Eligible MP3.com Stockholders Who Receive Only Vivendi Universal ADSs

An eligible MP3.com stockholder that receives only Vivendi Universal ADSs in the merger will not recognize gain or loss with respect to the receipt of Vivendi Universal ADSs, except in respect of cash received in lieu of a fractional share, as described below. Such stockholder's aggregate tax basis in the Vivendi Universal ADSs received in the merger will be the same as its aggregate tax basis in the surrendered MP3.com common stock. An eligible MP3.com stockholder will include in its holding period of the Vivendi Universal ADSs its holding period of the surrendered MP3.com common stock.

Eligible MP3.com Stockholders Who Receive Only Cash

An eligible MP3.com stockholder that receives only cash in the merger will generally recognize gain to the extent the amount of cash received in the merger exceeds such stockholder's tax basis in MP3.com common stock, or loss to the extent such stockholder's tax basis in MP3.com common stock exceeds the amount of cash received in exchange for MP3.com common stock.

Eligible MP3.com Stockholders Who Receive Vivendi Universal ADSs and Cash

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

An eligible MP3.com stockholder that receives both Vivendi Universal ADSs and cash in the merger, without regard to any cash received in lieu of a fractional Vivendi Universal ADS, will recognize any gain (but not loss) realized but only to the extent of cash received in the merger. An eligible MP3.com stockholder who owns different blocks of MP3.com common stock, each with a different tax basis, must compute gain or loss separately for each block of such stock. Any loss realized on one block of MP3.com common stock may not be netted against gain realized on another block of such stock. Such stockholder's aggregate tax basis in the Vivendi Universal ADSs received in the merger will be the same as its aggregate tax basis in the surrendered MP3.com common stock, decreased by the amount of cash received in the merger and increased by the amount of gain recognized in the merger. An eligible MP3.com stockholder will include in its holding period of the Vivendi Universal ADSs its holding period of the surrendered MP3.com common stock. Cash received in lieu of a fractional Vivendi Universal ADS is treated separately, as discussed below.

Cash Received in Lieu of Fractional Vivendi Universal ADSs

An eligible MP3.com stockholder that receives cash in lieu of a fractional Vivendi Universal ADS will be treated as first having received a fractional Vivendi Universal ADS and then having exchanged the fractional Vivendi Universal ADS for cash in a redemption by Vivendi Universal. An eligible MP3.com stockholder will generally recognize gain (or loss) to the extent the cash received in lieu of a fractional Vivendi Universal ADS exceeds (or is less than) the ratable portion of its tax basis in the surrendered MP3.com common stock that is allocated to the deemed-received fractional Vivendi Universal ADS taking into account the adjustment in the tax basis, if any, resulting from the receipt of cash other than for fractional Vivendi Universal ADSs, as described above.

Character of Gain or Loss

Generally, gain or loss recognized with respect to MP3.com common stock surrendered in the merger will be capital gain or loss. Capital gain of a noncorporate U.S. holder will generally be subject to United States federal income tax at a maximum rate of 20% where the MP3.com common stock was held for more than one year. The deduction of any capital loss is subject to limitations. The gain or loss will generally be income or loss from sources within the United States for foreign tax credit limitation purposes.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

In general, gain with respect to cash received in the merger by a U.S. paying agent or other U.S. intermediary will be reported to the IRS and to you as may be required under applicable United States Treasury Regulations. Backup withholding at a maximum rate of 31% will apply to these payments if you fail to provide an accurate taxpayer identification number or fail to report all interest and dividends required to be shown on your federal income tax return. Some persons, such as corporations, are not subject to backup withholding. Depending on the type of person you are, you may qualify for exemption from backup withholding provided you comply with the procedure for obtaining the exemption.

DESCRIPTION OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ORDINARY SHARES

GENERAL

As of June 28, 2001, there were 1,085,675,856 Vivendi Universal authorized and outstanding ordinary shares. Vivendi Universal's statuts provide that ordinary shares may be held in registered or bearer form, at the option of the shareholder, as discussed under "Form, Holding and Transfer".

OWNERSHIP OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ORDINARY SHARES BY NON-FRENCH PERSONS

The French commercial code currently does not limit the right of non-residents of France or non-French persons to own and vote ordinary shares of French companies. However, non-residents of France must file an administrative notice with French authorities in connection with the acquisition of a controlling interest in a French company. Under existing administrative rulings, ownership of 20% or more of a company's share capital or voting rights is regarded as a controlling interest, but a lower percentage might be held to be a controlling interest in certain circumstances depending upon factors such as:

- the acquiring party's intentions;
- the acquiring party's ability to elect directors; and
- financial reliance by the French company on the acquiring party.

VOTING, DIVIDEND AND LIQUIDATION RIGHTS

Voting Rights

In general, each Vivendi Universal ordinary share will carry the right to cast one vote in shareholder elections. However, Vivendi Universal's statuts will adjust the voting rights of shareholders who own in excess of 2% of the total voting power of Vivendi Universal through the application of a formula designed to limit the voting power of those shareholders to that which they would possess if 100% of the shareholders were present at the meeting at which the vote in question takes place.

Dividend Rights

Vivendi Universal may pay dividends only out of its "distributable profits", plus any amounts held in its reserve that the shareholders decide to make available for distribution. These amounts may not include amounts specifically required to be held in reserve by law or the statuts. Distributable profits consist of the unconsolidated net profit generated in each fiscal year, as increased or reduced by any profit or loss carried forward from prior years, less any contributions to the reserve accounts made pursuant to law or the statuts.

Legal Reserve. The French commercial code provides that French societe anonymes such as Vivendi Universal must allocate 5% of their unconsolidated statutory net profit each year to their legal reserve fund before dividends may be paid with respect to that year. Funds must be allocated until the amount in the legal reserve is equal to 10% of the aggregate nominal value of the issued and outstanding share capital. The legal reserve of any company subject to this requirement may be distributed to shareholders only upon liquidation of the company.

Approval of Dividends. Under the French commercial code, a company's board of directors may propose a dividend for approval by the shareholders at the annual general meeting of shareholders. If a company has earned distributable profits since the end of the preceding fiscal year, as reflected in an interim income statement certified by its auditors, its board of directors may distribute interim dividends to the extent of the distributable profits for the period covered by the interim income statement. The board of directors exercises this authority subject to French law and regulations and may do so without obtaining shareholder approval, unless the distribution is of shares. Vivendi Universal generally does not, and it does not anticipate that it will, pay interim dividends.

Distribution of Dividends. Dividends will be distributed to shareholders pro rata in accordance with the nominal value of ordinary shares held. In the case of interim dividends, distributions will be payable to shareholders on the date of the management board meeting at which the distribution of interim dividends is approved. The actual dividend payment date will be decided by the shareholders in an ordinary general meeting (or by the board of directors in the absence of such a decision by the shareholders).

Timing of Payment. Under the French commercial code, Vivendi Universal must pay any dividends approved by the board of directors or shareholders within nine months of the end of its fiscal year unless otherwise authorized by court order. Dividends on shares that are not claimed within five years of the date of declared payment revert to the French State.

Liquidation Rights

If Vivendi Universal is liquidated, any assets remaining after payment of its debts, liquidation expenses and all of its remaining obligations will be distributed first to repay in full the nominal value of its ordinary shares. Any surplus will be distributed pro rata among shareholders in proportion to the nominal value of their shareholdings.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

PREFERENTIAL SUBSCRIPTION RIGHTS

Under the French commercial code, if Vivendi Universal issues additional shares, or any equity securities or other specific kinds of additional securities carrying a right, directly or indirectly, to purchase equity securities issued by Vivendi Universal for cash, current shareholders will have preferential subscription rights to these securities on a pro rata basis. These preferential rights will require Vivendi Universal to give priority treatment to those shareholders over other persons wishing to subscribe for the securities. The rights entitle the individual or entity that holds them to subscribe to an issue of any securities that may increase the share capital of Vivendi Universal by means of a cash payment or a set-off of cash debts. Preferential subscription rights are transferable during the subscription period relating to a particular offering. These rights may also be listed on the Paris Bourse.

A two-thirds majority of the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares entitled to vote at an extraordinary general meeting may vote to waive preferential subscription rights with respect to any particular offering. French law requires a company's board of directors and independent auditors to present reports that specifically address any proposal to waive preferential subscription rights. In the event of a waiver, the issue of securities must be completed within the period prescribed by law. The shareholders may also decide at an extraordinary general meeting to give the existing shareholders a non-transferable priority right to subscribe for the new securities during a limited period of time. Shareholders may also waive their own preferential subscription rights with respect to any particular offering.

FORM, HOLDING AND TRANSFER

Form of Shares

Vivendi Universal's statuts provide that the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares may be held in registered or bearer form. In accordance with French securities law, shareholders' ownership rights, whether in registered or bearer form, are represented by book entries instead of share certificates.

Holding of Shares

Vivendi Universal maintains a share account with Sicovam for all Vivendi Universal ordinary shares in registered form, which is administered by BNP Paribas. In addition, Vivendi Universal maintains separate accounts in the name of each shareholder either directly, or, at a shareholder's request, through the shareholder's accredited intermediary (for example, a French broker, bank or financial institution registered as such). Each shareholder account shows the name of the holder and the number of shares held and, in the case of shares held through an accredited intermediary, shows that they are so held. BNP

Paribas, as a matter of course, issues confirmations to each registered shareholder as to shares registered in the shareholder's account, but these confirmations are not documents of title.

Vivendi Universal ordinary shares held in bearer form are held on the shareholder's behalf in an account maintained by an accredited intermediary and are recorded in an account that the accredited intermediary maintains with Sicovam, as no other company is authorized to act as central depository. That account is separate from Vivendi Universal's share account for pure registered Vivendi Universal ordinary shares with Sicovam. Each accredited intermediary maintains a record of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares held through it and issues physical certificates of registration representing Vivendi Universal ordinary shares held in bearer form for the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares that it holds. Vivendi Universal ordinary shares held in bearer form may be transferred only through accredited intermediaries and Sicovam. Vivendi Universal may ask Sicovam for the identity of the holders of its ordinary shares or other securities granting immediate or future voting rights, held in bearer form, with the number of shares or other securities so held.

Transfer of Shares

Vivendi Universal's statuts do not contain any restrictions on the transfer of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares. Registered Vivendi Universal ordinary shares must be converted into bearer form before being transferred on the Paris Bourse and, accordingly, must be recorded in an account maintained by an accredited intermediary. A shareholder may initiate a transfer by giving instructions to the relevant accredited intermediary. For dealings on the Paris Bourse, a tax assessed on the price at which the securities are traded, or impôt sur les opérations de bourse, is payable at the rate of 0.3% on transactions of up to E152,449.02 and at a rate of 0.15% for larger trades. This tax is subject to a rebate of E22.87 per transaction and a maximum assessment of E609.80 per transaction. Nonresidents of France are not required to pay this tax. In addition, a fee or commission is payable to the broker involved in the transaction, regardless of whether the transaction occurs in France. No registration duty is normally payable in France, unless a transfer instrument has been executed in France.

ANTI-TAKEOVER EFFECTS

The French commercial code provides that any individual or entity, acting alone or in concert with others, that becomes the owner, directly or indirectly, of more than 5%, 10%, 20%, 33 1/3%, 50% or 66 2/3% of the outstanding shares or voting rights of a listed company in France, such as Vivendi Universal, or that increases or decreases its shareholding or voting rights above or below any of those percentages, must notify Vivendi Universal within 15 calendar days of the date it crosses such thresholds of the number of shares it holds and their voting rights. The individual or entity must also notify the Conseil des Marchés Financiers (CMF) within five trading days of the date it crosses these thresholds.

French law and COB regulations impose additional reporting requirements on persons who acquire more than 10% or 20% of the outstanding shares or voting rights of a listed company. These persons must file a report with the company, the COB and the CMF within fifteen days of the date they cross the threshold. In the report, the acquiror must specify its intentions for the following 12-month period, including whether or not it intends to continue its purchases, to acquire control of the company in question or to nominate candidates for the board of directors. The CMF makes the notice public. The acquiror must also publish a press release stating its intentions in a financial newspaper of national circulation in France. The acquiror may amend its stated intentions, provided that it does so on the basis of significant changes in its own situation or that of its shareholders. Upon any change of intention, it must file a new report.

Under CMF regulations, and subject to limited exemptions granted by the CMF, any person or persons acting in concert that own in excess of 33 1/3% of the share capital or voting rights of a French listed company must initiate a public tender offer for the balance of the share capital of such company.

To permit holders to give the required notice, Vivendi Universal is required to publish in the BALO no later than 15 calendar days after the annual ordinary general meeting of shareholders information with respect to the total number of voting rights outstanding as of the date of such meeting. In addition, if the number of outstanding voting rights changes by 5% or more between two annual ordinary general meetings, Vivendi Universal is required to publish in the BALO, within 15 calendar days of such change, the number of voting rights outstanding and provide the CMF with written notice of such information. The CMF publishes the total number of voting rights so notified by all listed companies in a weekly notice (avis), noting the date each such number was last updated.

If any person fails to comply with the legal notification requirement, the shares or voting rights in excess of the relevant threshold will be deprived of voting rights for all shareholders' meetings until the end of a two-year period following the date on which their owner complies with the notification requirements. In addition, any shareholder who fails to comply with these requirements may have all or part of its voting rights suspended for up to five years by the Commercial Court at the request of the chairman, any shareholder or the COB, and may be subject to a E18,293.88 fine.

DESCRIPTION OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADSS

AMERICAN DEPOSITARY SHARES

As of June 28, 2001, there were 122,321,258 Vivendi Universal authorized and outstanding ADSs. The depositary will issue the Vivendi Universal ADSs, which will be evidenced by Vivendi Universal ADRs. Vivendi Universal ordinary shares can be deposited with BNP Paribas, Societe Generale or Credit Lyonnais, as custodian, pursuant to the deposit agreement dated as of April 19, 1995, as amended and restated as of September 11, 2000, and as amended and restated as of December 8, 2000, among Vivendi Universal, The Bank of New York, as depositary, and you as a Vivendi Universal ADR holder. Each Vivendi Universal ADS will represent one Vivendi Universal ordinary share. Each Vivendi Universal ADS also will represent any securities, cash or other property deposited with the depositary but not distributed by it directly to you.

The depositary's corporate trust office is located at 101 Barclay Street, New York, NY 10286. Its principal executive office is located at One Wall Street, New York, NY 10286.

You may hold Vivendi Universal ADSs either directly or indirectly through your broker or other financial institution. If you hold Vivendi Universal ADSs directly, by having an ADS registered in your name on the books of the depositary, you will be a Vivendi Universal ADR holder. Except as otherwise indicated, this description assumes you hold your Vivendi Universal ADSs directly. If you hold the Vivendi Universal ADSs through your broker or financial institution, you will be required to rely on the procedures of that broker or financial institution to assert the rights of a Vivendi Universal ADR holder described in this section. You should consult with your broker or financial institution to find out what those procedures are.

Because the depositary actually will hold the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares, you will be required to rely on it to exercise the rights of a shareholder on your behalf. The obligations of the depositary and its agents are set out in the deposit agreement. The deposit agreement and the Vivendi Universal ADRs are governed by New York law.

The following is a summary of the material terms of the deposit agreement. For more complete information, you should read the entire deposit agreement and the form of Vivendi Universal ADR, which contains the terms of your Vivendi

Universal ADSs. Copies of these documents are exhibits to the Form F-6 Registration Statement relating to the ADSs. A copy of the deposit agreement also will be on file with the depositary and the custodian and will be open for inspection by Vivendi Universal ADS holders during business hours.

SHARE DIVIDENDS AND OTHER DISTRIBUTIONS

Vivendi Universal may make various types of distributions with respect to its securities. The depositary has agreed to pay to you the cash dividends or other distributions it or the custodian receives on Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or other deposited securities, after deducting its fees and expenses. You will receive these distributions in proportion to the number of underlying Vivendi Universal ordinary shares your Vivendi Universal ADSs represent.

- Cash. The depositary will promptly convert any cash dividend or other cash distribution Vivendi Universal pays on the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares into U.S. dollars, if it can do so. If the depositary cannot convert the currency, the deposit agreement allows the depositary to distribute the distribution in the foreign currency, or hold the foreign currency it cannot convert for the account of the Vivendi Universal ADR holders who have not been paid. It will not invest the foreign currency and it will not be liable for interest.

Before making a distribution, any withholding taxes that will be required to be paid under applicable law will be deducted. The depositary will distribute only whole U.S. dollars and cents and will round fractional cents to the nearest whole cent. IF EXCHANGE RATES FLUCTUATE DURING A TIME WHEN THE

DEPOSITARY CANNOT CONVERT THE FOREIGN CURRENCY, YOU MAY LOSE SOME OR ALL OF THE VALUE OF THE DISTRIBUTION.

- Shares. The depositary will distribute new Vivendi Universal ADRs evidencing any Vivendi Universal ordinary shares Vivendi Universal distributes as a dividend or free distribution. The depositary will distribute only whole Vivendi Universal ADRs. It will sell shares that would require it to issue a fractional Vivendi Universal ADR and distribute the net proceeds in the same way it does with cash. If additional Vivendi Universal ADRs are not distributed, the existing Vivendi Universal ADSs will also represent the new Vivendi Universal ordinary shares.
- Rights to receive additional shares. If Vivendi Universal offers its shareholders any rights to subscribe for additional shares or any other rights, the depositary will make these rights available to you if it can do so. If the depositary makes rights available to you, upon instruction from you, it will exercise the rights and purchase the shares on your behalf. The depositary will then deposit the shares and issue Vivendi Universal ADRs to you. It will exercise rights only if you pay it the exercise price and any other charges the rights require you to pay. If the depositary cannot make such rights available to you, it will dispose of such rights on your behalf and make the net proceeds available to you, unless the depositary cannot dispose of such rights, in which case the rights will be allowed to lapse.
- Other Distributions. The depositary will send to you anything else Vivendi Universal distributes on deposited securities, after deduction or upon payment of any fees and expenses of the depositary or any taxes or other governmental charges.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Before the depositary distributes any ADRs, rights or other property to holders of Vivendi Universal ADSs, Vivendi Universal must instruct it to do so and provide reasonably satisfactory evidence that it is legal to do so. Vivendi Universal has agreed with the holders of ADRs to take all actions necessary (including providing the required instructions and evidence to the depositary) to cause the distribution to you of all shares, rights and anything else distributed to the holders of the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares to the same extent and in the same form as any distributions made to the holders of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares, except that you will receive Vivendi Universal ADRs upon any distribution of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares and you will receive distributions of cash to the extent provided above. Vivendi Universal has agreed with the holders of ADRs to register the Vivendi Universal ADRs, shares, rights or other securities to be distributed under applicable laws, if required thereunder, and to take all other actions necessary to permit those distributions to be made. Vivendi Universal has agreed with the holders of ADRs that it will not make any distributions to the holders of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares, or offer to the holders of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares any rights to subscribe for additional shares or other securities, unless the distribution or offer will also be made substantially contemporaneously to the holders of the Vivendi Universal ADSs and any rights can be exercised by you on substantially the same terms as rights offered to holders of ordinary shares as required by the provisions described above.

There can be no assurance that the depositary will be able to convert any currency at a specified exchange rate, or that such conversion can occur within a specified time period.

DEPOSIT, WITHDRAWAL AND CANCELTION

The depositary will issue Vivendi Universal ADSs if you or your broker deposits Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or evidence of rights to receive shares with the custodian. In the case of Vivendi Universal ADSs issuable in the merger, the depositary will issue the ADSs following deposit by Vivendi Universal with the custodian of the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares underlying those ADSs.

Vivendi Universal ordinary shares deposited in the future with the custodian will be required to be accompanied by certain documents, including instruments showing that those shares have been properly transferred or endorsed to the person on whose behalf the deposit is being made.

The custodian will hold all deposited Vivendi Universal ordinary shares for the account of the depositary. The custodian will also hold any additional securities, property and cash received on or in substitution for the deposited Vivendi Universal ordinary shares and not distributed as provided in the deposit agreement. The deposited Vivendi Universal ordinary shares and any such additional items are referred to as "deposited securities".

Upon each deposit of shares, receipt of related delivery documentation and compliance with the other provisions of the deposit agreement, including the payment of the fees and expenses and any charges of the depositary and any taxes such as stamp taxes or stock transfer taxes or other fees or charges owing, the depositary will issue Vivendi Universal ADRs in the name of the person entitled to them evidencing the number of Vivendi Universal ADSs to which that person is entitled. Certificated Vivendi Universal ADRs will be delivered at the depositary's corporate trust office to the persons you request.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

When you turn in your Vivendi Universal ADSs at the depositary's corporate trust office, the depositary will, upon payment of certain applicable fees and expenses, charges and taxes, and upon receipt of proper instructions, deliver the underlying Vivendi Universal ordinary shares to an account designated by you and maintained by Vivendi Universal, in the case of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares in registered form, or transfer the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares to an account of an accredited financial institution on your behalf, in the case of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares in bearer form. The Vivendi Universal ordinary shares underlying the ADSs issued in connection with the merger will be in bearer form.

The depositary may close the transfer books, at any time or from time to time, when deemed advisable by it in connection with the performance of its duties. However, when it does so, Vivendi Universal ADR holders retain the right to cancel their ADRs and withdraw the underlying deposited securities at any time subject only to:

- temporary delays caused by the closing of the transfer books of the depositary or Vivendi Universal or the deposit of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares in connection with voting at a shareholders' meeting, or the payment of dividends (it is not aware of any statutory or regulatory limit to the length of time during which Vivendi Universal or the depositary can close its respective transfer books in connection with these activities; however, as indicated, we expect that any delay in canceling ADRs and withdrawing the underlying Vivendi Universal ordinary shares to be temporary);
- the payment of fees, taxes and similar charges; or
- compliance with any laws or governmental regulations relating to ADRs or to the withdrawal of underlying deposited securities.

The right of Vivendi Universal ADS holders to withdraw underlying deposited securities may not be limited by any other provision of the deposit agreement.

VOTING RIGHTS

In general, each Vivendi Universal ADS carries the right to cast one vote on matters on which holders of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares may vote. However, in the case where a quorum of less than 60% is present at a shareholders' meeting, Vivendi Universal's statuts adjust the voting rights of shareholders who own (within the meaning of the statuts and Article L 233-9 of the French commercial code to which those statuts refer) in excess of 2% of the total voting power of Vivendi Universal through the application of a formula designed to limit the voting power of those shareholders to that which they would possess if 100% of the shareholders were present at the meeting at which the vote in question takes place. If you hold ADSs directly or indirectly through a broker or financial institution, this formula will not be applicable to you if you represent when you vote that you do not own in excess of 2% of the total voting power of Vivendi Universal (within the meaning of the statuts and Article L 233-9 of the French commercial code to which those statuts refer). If you own more than 2% (within the meaning of the statuts and Article L 233-9 of the French commercial code to which those statuts refer), you will need to contact the depositary in order to vote; the depositary will forward to Vivendi Universal the information necessary to allow you to vote. The voting instructions that will be furnished to you will explain these procedures.

If you are a Vivendi Universal ADS holder, the depositary will provide you with voting instructions upon its receipt of notice of the meeting, and you may instruct the depositary how to exercise the voting rights for the Vivendi

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Universal ordinary shares underlying your Vivendi Universal ADSs. Upon receipt of notice of any meeting of holders of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or other deposited securities sent by Vivendi Universal, the depositary will mail, at Vivendi Universal's expense, the notice to the Vivendi Universal ADR holders as soon as practicable. The notice will contain an English version of the notice received from Vivendi Universal and an English translation of any materials provided to Vivendi Universal ordinary shareholders, or in some cases, English equivalents of those materials, and will describe how you, on or before a certain date, may instruct the depositary to exercise the voting rights for the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares underlying your Vivendi Universal ADSs, including a statement as to how Vivendi Universal ordinary shares for which the depositary receives incomplete voting instructions will be voted. For instructions to be valid, the depositary will be required to receive them on or before the date specified. The depositary will vote or have its agents vote the shares or other deposited securities as you instruct and only as you instruct. The depositary will not itself exercise any voting discretion.

Vivendi Universal has agreed to deliver voting materials to the depositary sufficiently in advance of the meeting to enable the depositary to deliver voting materials to you, such that you will have sufficient time to give the depositary voting instructions. If you hold Vivendi Universal ADSs through a broker, dealer or other intermediary, however, Vivendi Universal cannot guarantee that your intermediary will send you voting materials in time for you to exercise your voting rights. The depositary will not charge Vivendi Universal ADS holders for submitting voting instructions as ADS holders to the depositary in connection with shareholders' meetings.

RECORD DATES

The depositary will fix the dates for determining which of the Vivendi Universal ADS holders will be entitled:

- to receive a cash dividend or other distribution;
- to give instructions for the exercise of voting rights at a meeting of holders of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or other deposited securities; and
- to give instructions for granting approvals for proposed amendments to the deposit agreement;

all subject to the provisions of the deposit agreement.

REPORTS AND OTHER COMMUNICATIONS

The depositary will deliver to all holders of Vivendi Universal ADSs English translations of all notices and any other communications and reports, including proxy materials, delivered to the holders of the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or, in some cases, English equivalents of those documents. In addition, Vivendi Universal will notify the depositary, and the depositary will notify the Vivendi Universal ADS holders, of any meeting of Vivendi Universal's shareholders or Vivendi Universal ADS holders, or of any adjourned meeting, provided that the depositary receives notice of such meeting from Vivendi Universal. The depositary will make available for inspection, at its corporate trust office, English translations of all communications and reports that Vivendi Universal makes available for inspection by holders of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or, in some cases, English equivalents of those documents. Vivendi Universal has agreed to provide the depositary sufficient copies of all documents required to be delivered or made available to permit the depositary to satisfy these obligations.

The depositary will also make available for inspection at its corporate trust office books, including the list of holders of receipts, for the registration and transfer of receipts by the Vivendi Universal ADS holders, provided that the inspection is not for the purpose of communicating with Vivendi Universal ADS holders in the interest of a business or object other than Vivendi Universal's business or is for a matter related to the deposit agreement or the Vivendi Universal ADSs.

FEES AND EXPENSES

Vivendi Universal ADS holders may be charged a fee for each issuance of Vivendi Universal ADSs, including issuances resulting from distributions of shares, rights and other property, and for each surrender of Vivendi Universal ADSs, including if the deposit agreement terminates. The fee in each case shall not be in excess of U.S.$5.00 for each 100 Vivendi Universal ADSs (or any portion thereof) issued or surrendered. Vivendi Universal ADS holders or persons depositing shares may also be charged for the following expenses:

- stock transfer and other taxes and governmental charges;
- cable, telex and facsimile transmission and delivery charges;
- transfer or registration fees for the registration or transfer of deposited securities on any applicable register in connection with the deposit or withdrawal of deposited securities;
- expenses of the depositary in connection with the conversion of foreign currency into U.S. dollars; and
- a fee not in excess of U.S.$0.02 per Vivendi Universal ADS (or portion thereof) for any cash distribution, except for distributions of cash dividends.

Vivendi Universal will pay all other charges and expenses of the depositary, including all fees and expenses related to the issuance of ADSs in the merger, and any agent of the depositary (except the custodian) pursuant to agreements entered into from time to time by Vivendi Universal and the depositary. The fees described above may be amended from time to time.

PAYMENT OF TAXES

You will be required to pay any tax or other governmental charge payable by the custodian or the depositary on any Vivendi Universal ADS or ADR, deposited security or distribution. If you owe any tax or other governmental charge, the depositary may deduct the amount of that tax or charge from any cash distribution or sell deposited securities and deduct the amount owing from the net proceeds of such sale. In either case, you will remain liable for any shortfall. Additionally, if any tax or governmental charge is unpaid, the depositary may refuse to effect any transfer of a Vivendi Universal ADS or withdrawal of deposited securities (except under limited circumstances mandated by securities regulations) until such payment is made. If the depositary sells the deposited securities, it will, if appropriate, reduce the number of Vivendi Universal ADRs to reflect the sale and pay to you any proceeds, or send to you any property, remaining after it has paid the taxes. The depositary will use reasonable efforts to assist eligible U.S. residents who request assistance, in recovering amounts to which they may be entitled under some provisions of French law relating to the payment of dividends, including excess withholding and amounts in respect of the avoir fiscal. See "Vivendi Universal -- Taxation".

RECLASSIFICATIONS, RECAPITALIZATIONS AND MERGERS

If Vivendi Universal takes certain actions that affect the deposited securities, including (1) any change in nominal value or par value, split-up, consolidation or other reclassification of deposited securities or (2) any recapitalization, reorganization, merger, consolidation, liquidation or sale of Vivendi Universal's assets, then the shares or other securities received by the depositary will become deposited securities. Any cash received by the depositary will be distributed to the extent described above. Each Vivendi Universal ADR will automatically represent its equal share of cash (until distributed) or the new deposited securities, unless additional Vivendi Universal ADRs are distributed pursuant to the following sentence. The depositary may execute and deliver additional Vivendi Universal ADRs, as in the case of a distribution of ordinary shares, or ask you to surrender your outstanding Vivendi Universal ADRs in order to provide you with new Vivendi Universal ADRs specifically describing the new deposited securities.

AMENDMENT AND TERMINATION

In general, Vivendi Universal may agree with the depositary to amend the deposit agreement and the Vivendi Universal ADSs without your consent. However, holders of a majority of the Vivendi Universal ADSs must approve in writing any amendment that materially and adversely affects their rights or, with respect to specified provisions of the deposit agreement, any amendment that is adverse to them. Notwithstanding the foregoing, ADS holders do not have the right to approve:

- amendments that are necessary to comply with any applicable laws or regulations, Vivendi Universal's statuts or the rules and regulations of the stock exchange on which the ADSs are listed;
- amendments to increase the fees or charges that the depositary may charge to you; and
- amendments to change the number of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares that are represented by each ADS.

In situations where no approval is required, Vivendi Universal ADS holders must be given at least 30 days notice of any amendment that imposes or increases any fees or charges (except for taxes and other charges or registration fees, cable, telex or facsimile transmission costs, delivery costs or other such expenses), or affects any substantial existing right of Vivendi Universal ADS holders. If a Vivendi Universal ADS holder continues to hold Vivendi Universal ADSs after being so notified, such holder will be deemed to have agreed to such amendment. Notwithstanding the foregoing, an amendment can become effective before notice is given if necessary to ensure compliance with a new law, rule or regulation.

No amendment will impair your right to surrender your Vivendi Universal ADSs and receive the underlying securities, except in order to comply with an applicable law.

The depositary will terminate the deposit agreement if Vivendi Universal asks it to do so. Vivendi Universal can only do so if the deposited securities are listed on the NYSE or the Nasdaq National Market prior to that termination. The depositary may also terminate the deposit agreement if the depositary has told Vivendi Universal that it would like to resign and Vivendi Universal has not appointed a new depositary bank within 90 days. In that event, Vivendi Universal will use its reasonable best efforts to either:

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

- enter into a successor depositary agreement having terms no less favorable to the holders of Vivendi Universal ADSs than the previous depositary agreement; or
- cause the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or other deposited securities (which will be distributed to ADS holders upon surrender of their ADSs) to be listed on the NYSE or the Nasdaq National Market.

The depositary will be required to notify you at least 90 days before termination.

After termination, the depositary and its agents will be required only to collect dividends and other distributions on the deposited securities and deliver ordinary shares and other deposited securities upon cancellation of Vivendi Universal ADSs. After one year from the date of termination, the depositary may sell any remaining deposited securities by public or private sale. After that, the depositary will hold the proceeds of the sale, as well as any other cash it is holding under the deposit agreement, for the pro rata benefit of the Vivendi Universal ADS holders that have not surrendered their Vivendi Universal ADSs. It will not invest the money and will have no liability for interest. The depositary's only obligations will be to account for the proceeds of the sale and other cash. After termination Vivendi Universal's only obligations under the deposit agreement will be with respect to indemnification and to pay certain amounts to the depositary.

LIMITATIONS ON OBLIGATIONS AND LIABILITY TO VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADS HOLDERS

The deposit agreement expressly limits the obligations and liability of the depositary and its agents. Neither the depositary nor any of its agents will be liable if it:

- is prevented from or hindered in performing any obligation by circumstances beyond its control, including, without limitation, requirements of law, rule, regulation, the terms of the deposited securities and acts of God;
- exercises or fails to exercise discretion under the deposit agreement;
- performs its obligations without negligence or bad faith;
- takes any action or fails to take any action based on advice or information provided by legal counsel, accountants, any person presenting Vivendi Universal ordinary shares for deposit, any holder or any other qualified person; or
- relies on any documents it believes in good faith to be genuine and to have been properly executed.

The deposit agreement limits Vivendi Universal's liability and obligations, and those of Vivendi Universal's agents, in the same way.

Neither the depositary nor Vivendi Universal, nor their respective agents, will be obligated to appear in, prosecute or defend any action, suit or other proceeding in respect of any deposited securities or the ADSs that in the opinion of Vivendi Universal or the depositary, respectively, may lead it to incur expense or liability, unless indemnity satisfactory to it against all expenses (including fees and disbursements of counsel) and liability is furnished as often as it requires.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

The depositary will not be responsible for a failure to carry out instructions to vote the deposited securities (provided it performs its obligations in good faith), the matter on which any vote is cast or the effect of the vote.

The depositary may own and deal in any class of Vivendi Universal securities.

DISCLOSURE OF INTEREST IN VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ADSS

Vivendi Universal may from time to time request Vivendi Universal ADS holders to provide information as to the capacity in which the holders own or owned Vivendi Universal ADSs and regarding the identity of any other persons then or previously interested in the Vivendi Universal ADSs as to the nature of such interest and various other matters. The depositary will use reasonable efforts to comply with written instructions received from Vivendi Universal requesting that the depositary forward any such requests to the Vivendi Universal ADS holders and to forward to Vivendi Universal any responses to such requests received by the depositary.

Each Vivendi Universal ADS holder will be required to comply with Vivendi Universal's statuts, as they may be amended from time to time, and French law, if applicable, with respect to the disclosure requirements regarding ownership of Vivendi Universal's shares, all as if such ADSs were, for this purpose, the Vivendi Universal ordinary shares represented thereby. For a description of provisions of French law and Vivendi Universal's statuts that impose disclosure obligations, see "Description of Vivendi Universal Ordinary Shares -- Anti-Takeover Effects", and "Comparison of Shareholder Rights -- Anti-Takeover Provisions". In order to facilitate compliance with those requirements, Vivendi Universal ADS holders will be required to deliver any required information to the depositary and Vivendi Universal. Vivendi Universal will, as soon as practicable, forward the information, if applicable, to the CMF or other French authorities.

REQUIREMENTS FOR DEPOSITARY ACTIONS

Before the depositary will issue or register transfer of an ADR, make a distribution on an ADR, or make a withdrawal of shares, the depositary may require:

- payment of stock transfer or other taxes or other governmental charges and transfer or registration fees charged by third parties for the transfer of any shares or other deposited securities;
- production of satisfactory proof of the identity and genuineness of any signature or other information it deems necessary; and
- compliance with regulations it may establish, from time to time, consistent with the deposit agreement, including presentation of transfer documents.

The depositary may refuse to deliver, transfer, or register transfers of Vivendi Universal ADRs generally when the books of the depositary or Vivendi Universal are closed, or at any time if the depositary deems it advisable to do so.

You will have the right to cancel your Vivendi Universal ADSs and withdraw the underlying Vivendi Universal ordinary shares at any time except in circumstances in which the depositary may restrict the withdrawal of deposited securities. See "--- Deposit, Withdrawal and Cancellation".

PRE-RELEASE OF ADRS

In certain circumstances, subject to the provisions of the deposit agreement, the depositary may issue Vivendi Universal ADRs before deposit of the underlying Vivendi Universal ordinary shares. This is called a pre-release of the Vivendi Universal ADRs. The depositary may also deliver Vivendi Universal ordinary shares upon cancellation of pre-released Vivendi Universal ADRs (even if the Vivendi Universal ADRs are canceled before the pre-release transaction has been closed out). A pre-release is closed out as soon as the underlying Vivendi Universal ordinary shares are delivered to the depositary. The depositary may receive Vivendi Universal ADRs instead of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares to close out a pre-release. The depositary may pre-release Vivendi Universal ADRs only under the following conditions:

- before or at the time of the pre-release, the party to whom the pre-release is being made must:
 - represent to the depositary in writing that it or its customer owns the shares or Vivendi Universal ADRs to be deposited;
 - assign all beneficial ownership of the shares or Vivendi Universal ADRs to the depositary; and
 - agree to not take any action with respect to the shares or Vivendi Universal ADRs that is inconsistent with the transfer of beneficial ownership;
- the pre-release must be fully collateralized with cash or other collateral that the depositary considers appropriate; and
- the depositary must be able to close out the pre-release on not more than five business days' notice.

In addition, the depositary will limit the number of Vivendi Universal ADRs that may be outstanding at any time as a result of pre-release, although the depositary may disregard the limit from time to time, if it deems it appropriate to do so.

COMPARISON OF SHAREHOLDER RIGHTS

The rights of MP3.com stockholders are governed by the General Corporate Law of the State of Delaware, which we refer to as "Delaware law", and the provisions of MP3.com's amended and restated certificate of incorporation (charter) and amended and restated by-laws. The rights of Vivendi Universal shareholders are governed by the French commercial code and by the provisions of Vivendi Universal's statuts. The following is a summary of the material differences between the rights of MP3.com stockholders and Vivendi Universal shareholders. These differences arise from differences between Delaware law and the French commercial code and between MP3.com's charter and by-laws and the statuts of Vivendi Universal. Upon completion of the merger, the rights of MP3.com stockholders who become holders of Vivendi Universal ADSs will be governed by the French commercial code and Vivendi Universal's statuts. For more complete information, you should read MP3.com's charter and by-laws and the Vivendi Universal statuts, as well as Delaware law and the French commercial code.

MP3.com's charter and by-laws may be obtained without charge by following the instructions in the section entitled "Where You Can Find More Information" on page 184. You should refer to "Description of Vivendi Universal ADSs" for a description of the Vivendi Universal ADSs and a discussion of the ways in which the rights of holders of Vivendi Universal ADSs may differ from those of holders of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares.

SIZE AND QUALIFICATION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

MP3.com

Under Delaware law, the charter document or by-laws of a corporation may specify the number of directors.

The MP3.com board has six members. MP3.com's charter and by-laws provide that the number of directors will be set by the board of directors. The MP3.com by-laws provide that the directors will be divided into three classes, designated as Class I, Class II and Class III, respectively. At each annual meeting of stockholders, directors are elected for a full term of three years to succeed the directors of the class whose terms expire at such annual meeting.

Vivendi Universal

Vivendi Universal's statuts provide that the board of directors shall have:

- not less than three nor more than 20 members, each of whom shall be elected by the shareholders at an ordinary shareholders' meeting, provided that the maximum number of board members will be reduced to 19 as of January 1, 2002 and will be reduced to 18 as of January 1, 2003; and
- subject to certain conditions, one additional director who represents the employee-shareholders of the company and its affiliates.

Vivendi Universal's statuts provide that a director must own at least 750 shares of the company for as long as he or she serves as a director.

Vivendi Universal's statuts fix the term of reappointment of directors at four years. However, Vivendi Universal's statuts provide that no more than one-fifth of the directors may be 70 or older. No individual director may be over 75.

The chairman of Vivendi Universal's board of directors is elected by the directors and must be a natural person. The chairman serves for the term determined by the board when the chairman is elected. Vivendi Universal's statuts also provide for a vice chairman, who may be elected by the board of directors upon proposal of the chairman.

REMOVAL OF DIRECTORS AND VACANCIES

MP3.com

Pursuant to MP3.com's charter, any director or the entire Board may be removed, with or without cause, by a majority of the shares then entitled to vote at an election of directors.

The MP3.com by-laws provide that subject to applicable law and the rights of the holders of any series of preferred stock, and unless the board otherwise determines, vacancies from any cause, including removal, and newly created directorships resulting from an increase in the number of directors may be filled only by a majority vote of the remaining directors then in office, although less than a quorum. Any director elected in accordance with the preceding sentence shall hold office for the remainder of the full term of the director for which the vacancy was created or occurred and until such director's successor shall have been elected and qualified. A vacancy in the board shall be deemed to exist in the case of the death, removal or resignation of any director.

If at the time of filling any vacancy or any newly created directorship, the directors then in office shall constitute less than a majority of the whole board (as constituted immediately prior to any such increase), the Delaware Court of Chancery may, upon application of any stockholder or stockholders holding at least 10% of the total number of the shares at the time outstanding having the right to vote for such directors, summarily order an election to be held to fill any such vacancies or newly created directorships, or to replace the directors chosen by the directors then in office as aforesaid, which election shall be governed by Section 211 of the Delaware law.

Vivendi Universal

The members of the board of directors of Vivendi Universal may be removed prior to the expiration of their terms by a majority vote of the company's shareholders. Under the French commercial code, removal of members of the board of directors will not subject the company to liability unless the removed director shows that his or her removal was done in an injurious or vexatious manner.

As required by the French commercial code, in the case of a vacancy resulting from the resignation or death of a member of the board of directors, the remaining members may fill the vacancy by appointing a new member of the board, subject to ratification by the shareholders at the next ordinary general meeting. The employee-shareholders representative on the board of directors loses his or her office in the case of a termination of his or her employment agreement or, as the case may be, if he or she ceases to be a shareholder. The vacancy of the employee-shareholder representative may be filled by the board of directors subject to ratification by the shareholders.

SHAREHOLDER NOMINATIONS AND PROPOSALS

MP3.com

The MP3.com by-laws provide that nominations of persons for election to the board and the proposal of business to be considered by the stockholders may be made at any annual meeting of the stockholders only:

- pursuant to MP3.com's notice of meetings;
- by or at the direction of the board; or
- by any stockholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting who complies with the notice procedures described below.

For nominations or other business to be properly brought before the annual meeting, a stockholder must deliver to the corporate secretary of MP3.com at the principal executive officers of MP3.com a written notice of the nomination or proposal not less than 90 days nor more than 120 days prior to the first anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting. If the annual meeting is to be held more than 30 days prior to or after this anniversary date, notice must be so delivered not earlier than the close of business on the 120th day prior to such annual meeting and not later than the close of business on the later of the 90th day prior to such annual meeting or the 10th day following the day on which public announcement of the date of such meeting is first made.

The MP3.com by-laws further provide that any such notice by a stockholder must set forth:

- all information relating to each nominee required to be disclosed in a solicitation for proxies pursuant to the Exchange Act (including such person's written consent to being named in the proxy statement as a nominee and to serving as a director if elected);
- a brief description of any other business desired to be brought before a meeting, the reasons for conducting such business at the meeting and any material interest in such business of such stockholder and the beneficial owner, if any, on whose behalf the proposal is made; and
- the stockholder's name and address as it appears on MP3.com's books, the class and number of shares beneficially owned by such stockholder and a representation that such stockholder or beneficial owner intends to deliver a proxy statement and form of proxy to holders of, in the case of the proposal, at least the percentage of the corporation's voting shares required under applicable law to carry the proposal or, in the case of a nomination or nominations, a sufficient number of holders of the corporation's voting shares to elect such nominee or nominees.

In the event that the number of directors to be elected to the board is increased and there is no public announcement naming all of the nominees for director or specifying the size of the increased board made by MP3.com at least 100 days prior to the first anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting, a stockholder's notice required hereunder shall also be considered timely, but only with respect to nominees for any new positions created by such increase, if it shall be delivered to the corporate secretary at the principal executive offices of MP3.com not later than the close of business on the 10th day following the day on which such public announcement is first made by MP3.com.

In order to include information with respect to a stockholder proposal in the proxy statement and form of proxy for a stockholder's meeting, stockholders must provide notice as required by the regulations promulgated under the Exchange Act.

Vivendi Universal

Under the French commercial code, shareholders can nominate individuals for election to a company's board of directors at an ordinary general shareholders' meeting if the election of directors is part of the agenda for the shareholders' meeting. However, under the French commercial code, shareholders cannot elect a new director at an ordinary general shareholders' meeting if the agenda for the meeting does not include the election of directors, unless such nomination is necessary to fill a vacancy due to the previous removal of a director. In any case, the nomination must contain the name, age, professional references and professional activity of the nominee for the past five years, if any, the occupation within the Company, as well as the number of the company's shares owned by such candidate, if any. This information must be made available to shareholders by the company's board of directors no less than 15 days before the meeting. If the agenda for the shareholder's meeting includes the election of members of the board of directors, any shareholder may nominate a candidate for election to the board at the shareholders' meeting, even if the shareholder has not followed established nomination procedures.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Under the French commercial code, shareholders representing, individually or collectively, a specified percentage (which in any event will be no more than 5%) of a company's capital may request that a resolution they propose for adoption at a shareholder meeting be included in the agenda. This request must be made within 10 days of the publication of the initial notice of the shareholders' meeting in the BALO and may specify the reasons for the resolution. Properly submitted requests will be considered at the meeting. The French commercial code requires a company's board of directors to respond at the meeting to any questions submitted in writing by any shareholder.

SHAREHOLDERS' MEETINGS AND QUORUM

MP3.com

The MP3.com by-laws provide that annual meetings of stockholders shall be held on the date and time fixed by the board in the notice of such meeting, and that special meetings of the stockholders may be called only by the Chairman of the Board, the Chief Executive Officer or a majority of the directors (regardless of vacancies). The board determines the time and place of such special meetings.

The MP3.com by-laws provide that written notice of the date, time, place and purposes of each meeting of the stockholders must be mailed not less than ten days nor more than 60 days before the date of such meeting to each stockholder entitled to vote at such meeting. The by-laws also provide that special meetings shall be held not less than 35 nor more than 120 days after the date of the receipt of the proper request for such a meeting. Upon determination of the time and place of the meeting, the officer receiving the request shall cause notice to be given to the stockholders entitled to vote as outlined above. If the notice is not given within 100 days after the receipt of the request, the person or persons properly requesting the meeting may set the time and place of the meeting and give the notice.

The MP3.com by-laws provide that, except as otherwise provided by applicable law, at each meeting of the stockholders the presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote at such meeting shall constitute a quorum for such meeting.

Vivendi Universal

Three types of shareholders' meetings exist under the French commercial code: ordinary, extraordinary and special. As required by the French commercial code, Vivendi Universal is required to hold an ordinary shareholders' meeting within six months of the end of the company's fiscal year to receive the board of directors' annual report and the statutory auditor's reports on the operations of, and the financial statements for, the company for the past fiscal year. An annual ordinary general meeting of the shareholders may also be held in order to, among other things, ratify transactions between the company and any member of its board of directors or any managing director, if any.

All shareholders' meetings are held pursuant to an initial notice published in the BALO, the French official gazette, at least 30 days before the meeting takes place. This legal requirement applies to any company listed on the Paris Bourse. An additional notice of the meeting must be published in the BALO and in a newspaper authorized to publish legal announcements at least 15 days prior to the meeting or at least six days prior to the resumption of any meeting adjourned for lack of quorum. The same notice must be sent to each registered shareholder and to the auditors of the company. If you will be a Vivendi Universal ADS holder, you will receive an English translation of these notices.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

In the event the board of directors fails to publish such notice or call a required meeting, a meeting may be convened by the company's statutory auditor or a court-appointed agent. A court may be requested to appoint an agent by:

- one or more shareholders holding in the aggregate at least 5% of the company's capital, in the case of a general meeting, or 5% of a specific category of shares, in the case of a special meeting;
- the Employee Committee in cases of emergency;
- any interested party in cases of emergency;
- so long as the company remains listed on the Paris Bourse, certain duly qualified associations of shareholders who have held their shares in registered form for at least two years and who together hold at least 2% of the voting rights of the Company; or
- in a bankruptcy, the liquidator or court appointed agent may also call a shareholders' meeting in some instances.

Shareholders holding more than 50% of share capital or voting rights may also convene a shareholders' meeting after a public offer or a sale of a controlling stake of the share capital.

A quorum for an ordinary general shareholders' meeting consists of holders of shares constituting at least one-fourth of the voting power of the company's outstanding shares entitled to vote at the ordinary meeting taking place. If no quorum exists, no quorum is required with respect to the meeting that takes place with the same agenda following an adjournment. A quorum for an extraordinary shareholders' meeting consists of the holders of shares constituting at least one-third of the voting power of the company's outstanding shares entitled to vote at the extraordinary meeting. If no quorum exists, the required quorum at the meeting following an adjournment is at least one-fourth of the voting power of the company's outstanding shares entitled to vote at the extraordinary meeting.

A quorum for a special shareholders' meeting consists of the holders of shares constituting one half of the voting power of the company's outstanding shares entitled to vote at the special meeting. If no quorum exists, the required quorum is at least one-fourth of the voting power of outstanding shares entitled to vote at the special meeting following an adjournment. A majority of the votes cast is required to approve actions taken at an ordinary shareholders' meeting and a two-thirds majority is required to approve actions taken at an extraordinary shareholders' meeting or a special shareholders' meeting, except that unanimity is required to increase liabilities of shareholders.

According to Vivendi Universal's statuts, the number of voting rights held by each shareholder at a general meeting shall be equal to the number of the voting rights attached to the shares owned by that holder, except that the voting rights of shareholders who own in excess of 2% of the total voting power of the company are adjusted to that which they would possess if 100% of the shareholders were present or represented at the meeting at which the vote in question takes place. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this limitation does not apply if a quorum equal or superior to 60% exists at a general meeting.

APPROVAL OF EXTRAORDINARY ACTIONS

MP3.com

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Under Delaware law, fundamental corporate transactions (such as mergers, sales of all or substantially all of the corporation's assets and dissolutions) require the approval of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote. Under the MP3.com charter and by-laws, amendments to the by-laws and certain provisions of the certificate of incorporation require the approval of 66 2/3% of all outstanding shares.

Vivendi Universal

Under the French commercial code, the fundamental transactions that require the approval of at least two-thirds of the votes cast include:

- amendments to the statuts;
- transfers of the company's registered office to a non-neighboring department;
- increases or decreases of the company's registered capital;
- eliminations of shareholders' pre-emptive rights with respect to any transactions that either immediately or with the passage of time would result in an increase in the registered capital;
- authorizations of employee stock option and/or purchase plans; and
- authorizations of mergers, spin-offs, dissolutions and dispositions of all or substantially all of the company's assets if the disposition would entail a modification of the company's corporate purpose.

In addition, the transformation of a corporation into another type of legal entity requires, depending on the type of entity the company seeks to become, a unanimous vote, a three-fourths majority vote or a two-thirds majority vote of votes cast.

SHAREHOLDER ACTION BY WRITTEN CONSENT

MP3.com

Under the MP3.com by-laws, no action of stockholders may be taken by written consent.

Vivendi Universal

The French commercial code does not permit shareholders to act by written consent outside a general shareholders' meeting.

PAYMENT OF DIVIDENDS

MP3.com

Delaware law generally permits dividends to be paid out of any surplus, defined as the excess of the net assets of the corporation over the amount determined to be the capital of the corporation by the board of directors, which cannot be less than the aggregate par value of all issued shares of capital stock. Delaware law also permits a dividend to be paid out of the net profits of the current or the preceding fiscal year, or both, unless net assets are less than the capital represented by any outstanding preferred shares.

Vivendi Universal

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Net income in each fiscal year, after deductions for depreciation and provisions, as increased or reduced, as the case may be, for profit or loss carried forward from prior years, less any contributions to legal reserves, constitutes the distributable profits (benefice distribuable) available for distribution to the shareholders of a French company as dividends, subject to requirements of French law and the company's statuts.

Under the French commercial code, a company is required to allocate five percent of its net profits in each fiscal year to a legal fund until the amount in such reserve is equal to 10% of the nominal amount of the outstanding share capital. The legal reserve is distributable only upon the liquidation of the company.

Except in the case of a decrease in share capital, no distribution may be made to shareholders if as a result of such distribution, the shareholders' equity would fall below the amount of the share capital increased by those reserves that may not be distributed according to applicable legal provisions or the company's statuts. The amount of dividends is fixed at the general shareholders' meeting at which the annual accounts are approved, following the recommendation of the board of directors. The methods of payment of dividends are determined by the general shareholders' meeting or by the board of directors in the absence of a decision by the shareholders.

If the company has earned a profit since the end of the preceding fiscal year, as shown on an interim balance sheet certified by the company's auditors, the board of directors has the authority, subject to the French commercial code and regulations, to distribute interim dividends to the extent of such profit prior to the approval of the annual financial statements by the shareholders.

PREFERENTIAL SUBSCRIPTION RIGHTS

MP3.com

Under Delaware law, stockholders have no pre-emptive rights to subscribe for additional issues of stock or for any security convertible into such stock unless, and except to the extent that, such rights are expressly provided for in the certificate of incorporation. The MP3.com charter does not provide for pre-emptive rights.

Vivendi Universal

Under the French commercial code, if a corporation issues shares or other securities that carry a right, directly or indirectly, to purchase equity securities issued by the corporation for cash, current shareholders have preferential rights to purchase those securities on a pro rata basis. Those rights entitle the individual or entity that holds them to subscribe for an issue of any securities that may increase the corporation's share capital for consideration consisting of a cash payment or a set-off of cash debts. Preferential subscription rights are transferable during the subscription period relating to a particular offering. The rights are listed on the Paris Bourse for the same period.

A two-thirds majority of the votes cast at an extraordinary general meeting may vote to waive preferential subscription rights with respect to any particular offering. French law requires a company's board of directors and independent auditors to present reports that specifically address any proposal to waive preferential subscription rights. In the event of a waiver, the issue of securities must be completed within the period prescribed by law. The shareholders may also decide at an extraordinary general meeting to give the existing shareholders a non-transferable priority right to subscribe for the new securities during a limited period of time. Shareholders may also waive their own preferential subscription rights with respect to any particular offering.

APPRAISAL RIGHTS

MP3.com

Delaware law provides for appraisal rights on the part of the stockholders of a corporation only in the case of specified mergers or consolidations. Moreover, unless the certificate of incorporation so provides, Delaware law does not provide for appraisal rights in connection with sales or transfers of all or substantially all of a corporation's assets, amendments to a corporation's certificate of incorporation or a merger or consolidation for stock listed on a national securities exchange or designated as a national market system security on The Nasdaq Stock Market or held of record by more than 2,000 stockholders, unless the agreement of merger or consolidation requires the holders of the stock to receive, in exchange for their shares, any property other than shares of stock of the surviving corporation, shares of stock of any other corporation listed on a national securities exchange or designated as a national market system security on The Nasdaq Stock Market or held of record by more than 2,000 holders, cash instead of fractional shares or any combination of the foregoing. MP3.com's charter does not provide for appraisal rights in these circumstances.

In addition, Delaware law denies appraisal rights to the stockholders of the surviving corporation in a merger if the merger did not require the approval of the stockholders of the surviving corporation. See "-- Approval of Extraordinary Actions".

Vivendi Universal

The French commercial code does not provide for appraisal rights. However, under the French commercial code, the stock exchange authorities may require a controlling shareholder (as defined under French law) of a listed company to launch a compulsory tender offer for the company's shares in certain instances, such as when the controlling shareholder decides to merge the company with another company, to change fundamentally the activities of the company or to discontinue dividends.

DUTIES OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

MP3.com

Delaware law provides that the board of directors of a corporation has the ultimate responsibility for managing the corporation's business and affairs. In discharging this function, directors of Delaware corporations owe fiduciary duties of care and loyalty to the corporations for which they serve as directors. Directors of Delaware corporations also owe fiduciary duties of care and loyalty to stockholders. Delaware courts have held that the directors of a Delaware corporation are required to exercise an informed business judgment in the performance of their duties. An informed business judgment means that the directors have informed themselves of all material information reasonably available to them.

A director of a Delaware corporation, in the performance of such director's duties, is fully protected in relying, in good faith, upon the records of the corporation and upon such information, opinions, reports or statements presented to the corporation by any of the corporation's officers or employees, or committees of the board of directors, or by any other person as to matters the director reasonably believes are within such other person's professional or expert competence and who has been selected with reasonable care by or on behalf of the corporation.

Delaware law does not contain any statutory provision permitting the board of directors, committees of the board and individual directors, when discharging the duties of their respective positions, to consider the interests of any constituencies other than the corporation or its stockholders. It is unclear under the current state of development of the Delaware law the extent to which the board of directors, committees of the board and individual directors of a Delaware corporation may, in considering what is in the corporation's best interests or the effects of any action on the corporation, take into account the interests of any constituency other than the stockholders of the corporation. In addition, the duty of the board of directors, committees of the board and individual directors of a Delaware corporation may be enforced directly by the corporation or may be enforced by a stockholder, as such, by an action in the right of the corporation, or may, in certain circumstances, be enforced directly by a stockholder or by any other person or group.

Vivendi Universal

Vivendi Universal's statuts provide that the board of directors is vested with the fullest powers to act in any circumstance on the company's behalf, within the scope of the company's purpose and subject to those powers expressly attributed by the law to shareholders' meetings or to the chairman of the board of directors. In accordance with the amendments of the French Commercial Code dated May 16, 2001, Vivendi Universal's statuts may be amended in order to provide that the board of directors determines the main orientations given in the activities of the Company.

Vivendi Universal's statuts provide that the chairman of the board of directors also serves as its president. Vivendi Universal's statuts further provide that the chairman/president is vested with the power to act in any circumstance on the company's behalf and to represent the company with respect to third parties, within the scope of the company's corporate purpose and subject to those powers expressly attributed by the French commercial code to shareholders' meetings or to the board of directors.

Vivendi Universal's directors owe a duty of loyalty and care to the company. Members of Vivendi Universal's board of directors are held accountable, either individually or jointly, as applicable, to the company or to third parties for breaches of statutory or regulatory provisions applicable to public limited companies, for violations of the company's statuts and for mismanagement.

ANTI-TAKEOVER PROVISIONS

MP3.com

MP3.com is subject to the provisions of Delaware law described below regarding business combinations with interested stockholders because there is no opt-out provision in its charter with respect to these provisions.

Section 203 of the Delaware law applies to a broad range of business combinations between a Delaware corporation and an interested stockholder. The Delaware law definition of "business combination" includes mergers, sales of assets, issuance of voting stock and certain other transactions. An "interested stockholder" is defined as any person who owns, directly or indirectly, 15% or more of the outstanding voting stock of a corporation.

Section 203 prohibits a corporation from engaging in a business combination with an interested stockholder for a period of three years following the time that the stockholder became an interested stockholder, unless:

- before the stockholder became an interested stockholder, the board of directors approved the business combination or the transaction that resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder;
- upon completion of the transaction which resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, such stockholder owned at least 85% of the voting stock outstanding when the transaction began other than shares held by directors who are also officers and other than shares held by certain employee stock plans; or
- the board of directors approved the business combination after the stockholder became an interested stockholder and the business combination was approved at a meeting by at least two-thirds of the outstanding voting stock not owned by such stockholder.

Vivendi Universal

Under applicable French stock exchange regulations, when a natural person or a legal entity, acting alone or in concert, comes to hold, directly or indirectly, more than one-third of the securities or more than one-third of the voting rights of a listed company, that person or legal entity is obliged to make a tender offer for all the capital stock of the company and all other securities convertible into, or exchangeable or otherwise exercisable for, the capital stock or voting rights of the company. The offer must be on terms and conditions that are acceptable to the CMF and must remain open for 25 trading days.

The same provisions apply to any natural person or legal entity acting alone or in concert:

- that holds directly or indirectly between one-third and one-half of the securities or the voting rights of a company and that, in less than twelve consecutive months, increases the number of securities or voting rights it holds by at least 2% of all the securities or voting rights of the company; or
- where more than one-third of the capital or voting rights of a listed company is held by another company and constitutes an essential part of the other company's assets and where:
 - a person acquires "control" (as defined under the French commercial code) of the other company; or
 - a group of persons acting in concert holds more than 50% of the capital or of the voting rights of the other company, without any of those persons having control individually.

French stock exchange regulations provide certain exemptions to the obligation to make a mandatory offer that may be allowed by the CMF.

Under French stock market regulations, a shareholder who comes to hold, alone or in concert with others, at least 95% of the voting rights of a listed company may initiate a withdrawal offer (offre publique de retrait) to acquire the shares of the remaining shareholders and, subject to the initiator having decided to do so at the time of the launch of the offer, the withdrawal offer may be followed by a mandatory "squeeze out" (retrait obligatoire) of the remaining minority shareholders. The majority shareholder may also reserve its right to initiate a squeeze out until the withdrawal offer has been completed. In the case of a majority shareholder that holds 95% of the company's voting rights, any holder of voting equity securities that does not belong to the majority group can also apply to the CMF to require the majority shareholder or group to file a withdrawal offer, and consequently to offer to acquire the shares of the minority. In that instance, the consideration to be given to the minority under the squeeze out cannot be lower than the withdrawal offer (and may be required to be higher if any event that would be of influence to the value of the company's securities occurs after the withdrawal offer is declared receivable by the CMF). The consideration offered must, in addition, be appraised by an independent expert.

Vivendi Universal's statuts contain provisions that could diminish the likelihood that a potential acquiror will gain control of the company. In particular, under Vivendi Universal's statuts:

- the voting rights of shareholders who own in excess of 2% of the total voting power of the company are adjusted to that which they would possess if 100% of the shareholders were present or represented at the meeting at which the vote in question takes place, if a quorum of less than 60% is present at a shareholders' meeting; and
- any person or group that fails to notify the company within 15 days of acquiring or disposing of 0.5% or any multiple of 0.5% of the company's shares, voting rights or securities convertible into shares may be deprived of voting rights for those shares in excess of the unreported fraction.

Holders of Vivendi Universal ADSs must also comply with these disclosure requirements. These holders are also subject to having their voting rights reduced in the event of noncompliance to the same extent as holders of ordinary shares.

SHAREHOLDER SUITS

MP3.com

Under Delaware law, a stockholder may bring a derivative action on behalf of the corporation to enforce the rights of the corporation. An individual also may commence a class action suit on his or her own behalf and other similarly situated stockholders where the requirements for maintaining a class action under Delaware law have been met. A person may institute and maintain such a suit only if such person was a stockholder at the time of the transaction which is the subject of the suit or his or her stock thereafter devolved upon him or her by operation of law. Additionally, under Delaware case law, the plaintiff generally must be a stockholder not only at the time of the transaction which is the subject of the suit, but also through the duration of the derivative suit. Delaware law also requires that the derivative plaintiff make a demand on the directors of the corporation to assert the corporate claim before the suit may be prosecuted by the derivative plaintiff, unless such demand would be futile.

Vivendi Universal

The French commercial code allows a single shareholder, irrespective of the percentage of share capital he or she owns, or a group of shareholders owning a specified percentage of the share capital, to initiate a corporation action (action sociale) against one or more directors. The purpose of such an action is to repair the prejudice suffered by the corporation.

INSPECTION OF BOOKS AND RECORDS

MP3.com

Under Delaware law, every stockholder, upon proper written demand stating the purpose, may inspect the corporate books and records as long as the inspection is for a "proper purpose" and during normal business hours. A "proper purpose" is any purpose reasonably related to the interest of the inspecting person as a stockholder.

Vivendi Universal

Under the French commercial code, shareholders or their proxies may examine a number of corporate records relating to the previous three fiscal years, including:

- inventory lists;
- consolidated financial statements, if any;
- reports of the board of directors and the statutory auditors;
- proposed resolutions;

- information relating to directoral candidates;
- the total overall compensation paid to the corporation's ten highest-paid employees;
- the total amount of charitable deductions made by the corporation;
- minutes of shareholders' meetings;
- the list of attendees at shareholders' meetings;
- the corporation's statuts; and
- a list of the corporation's directors and statutory auditors.

Shareholders may consult the documents listed above at any time at the company's registered office. Shareholders also have the right to make one copy of the documents that are available for consultation.

Shareholders have additional inspection rights prior to a shareholders' meeting. Along with their proxy cards, shareholders receive a form that they can fill out and return to the registered office to request documents. Prior to a shareholders' meeting, shareholders have the right to receive information, including:

- the agenda for the meeting;
- a table showing results of operations for the previous five years;
- the report of the board of directors that will be presented at the meeting;
- a summary of the company's financial situation over the previous fiscal

- year;
- the statutory auditors' reports;
- the proposed resolutions to be presented at the meeting;
- the names of the directors and officers;
- a proxy card and a form for voting by mail; and
- a form for requesting documents for later meetings.

After publication of the notice of the meeting but before the meeting occurs, shareholders or their proxies may inspect, at the company's registered office, any of the documents described above. During this period, shareholders may always consult the list of the corporation's shareholders, which must be finalized by the company 16 days before the meeting.

TRANSACTIONS WITH INTERESTED DIRECTORS

MP3.com

Delaware law generally permits transactions involving a Delaware corporation and an interested director of that corporation if:

- the material facts as to the director's relationship or interest are disclosed and a majority of disinterested directors consent;
- the material facts are disclosed as to the director's relationship or interest and holders of a majority of shares entitled to vote thereon consent; or
- the transaction is fair to the corporation at the time it is authorized by the board of directors, a committee of the board of directors or the stockholders.

Vivendi Universal

Under the French commercial code, any transaction directly or indirectly between a company and a member of its board of directors and/or its managing directors or one of its shareholders holding more than 5% of the total voting power of the Company (or, if such shareholder is a legal entity, the entity's parent), if any, that cannot be reasonably considered in the ordinary course of business of the company and is not at arm's-length, is subject to the board of directors' prior consent. Any such transaction concluded without the prior consent of the board of directors can be nullified if it causes prejudice to the company. The interested member of the board of directors or managing director can be held liable on this basis. The statutory auditor must be informed of the transaction within one month following its conclusion and must prepare a report to be submitted to the shareholders for approval at their next meeting. In the event the transaction is not ratified by the shareholders at a shareholders' meeting, it will remain enforceable by third parties against the company, but the company may in turn hold the interested member of the board of directors and, in some circumstances, the other members of the board of directors, liable for any damages it may suffer as a result. In addition, the transaction may be canceled if it is fraudulent. Moreover, certain transactions between a corporation and a member of its board of directors who is a natural person and/or its managing directors, if any, are prohibited under the French commercial code.

DIRECTOR LIABILITY AND INDEMNIFICATION

MP3.com

The MP3.com by-laws require indemnification of its directors and officers to the fullest extent permitted under Delaware or any other applicable law, and permit indemnification of its employees and agents as set forth in Delaware law or any other applicable law. Delaware law permits a corporation to indemnify any person involved in a third party action by reason of his agreeing to serve, serving or formerly serving as an officer or director of the corporation, against expenses, judgments, fines and settlement amounts paid in such third party action (and against expenses incurred in any derivative action), if such person acted in good faith and reasonably believed that his actions were in, or not opposed to, the best interests of the corporation and, with respect to any criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was unlawful. Furthermore, Delaware law provides that a corporation may advance expenses incurred by officers and directors in defending any action upon receipt of an undertaking by the person to repay the amount advanced if it is ultimately determined that such person is not entitled to indemnification. In general, no indemnification for expenses in derivative actions is permitted under Delaware law where the person has been adjudged liable to the corporation, unless a court finds him entitled to such indemnification. If, however, the person has been successful in defending a third party or derivative action, indemnification for expenses incurred is mandatory under Delaware law. Under Delaware law, the statutory provisions for indemnification are nonexclusive with respect to any other rights, such as contractual rights, to which a person seeking indemnification may be entitled. Delaware law does not expressly permit such contractual or other rights to provide for indemnification against judgments and settlements paid in a derivative action.

Vivendi Universal

The French commercial code provides that any clause of a corporation's statutes that conditions legal proceedings against the members of its board of directors on the prior approval or on the authorization of the general shareholders' meeting or which provides in advance for the waiver of such proceedings is void. The French commercial code also provides that a resolution adopted at a general shareholders' meeting cannot cause the extinction of an action brought against the members of the board of directors for damages due to breach of duty in their official capacity.

MP3.COM

Description of MP3.com's Business

MP3.com has created a unique and robust technology infrastructure designed to facilitate the storage, management, promotion, and delivery of digital music. As the Internet's premier Music Service Provider (MSP), MP3.com is dedicated to providing consumers access to music when they want it, where they want it, using any web-enabled device. MP3.com's web site hosts what it believes is the largest collection of digital music available on the Internet, with more than one million songs and audio files posted from over 150,000 digital artists and record labels. Dedicated to growing the digital music space, MP3.com's products and services include on-demand Subscription Music Channels, an innovative Business Music Services program, a Radio Services program and others. Additionally, through MP3.com's MSP technology initiative and Music InterOperating System, MP3.com is partnering with a variety of forward-looking businesses to expand its digital music strategy.

MP3.com devoted much of 2000 and the first half of 2001 to enhancing and improving the MP3.com web site and its technology infrastructure. In January 2000, MP3.com unveiled its upgraded My.MP3 service, a unique and robust service designed to facilitate the storage, management, promotion and delivery of digital music, and to enable users to listen to their music when they want, where they want by accessing any web-enabled device. The My.MP3 service allows users to create online music lockers where they can store, organize and manage their favorite songs from music posted by digital artists on the MP3.com web site, and receive personalized music services. In addition, with the introduction of the Beam-It(TM) and Instant Listening(TM) features of the My.MP3 service in January 2000, MP3.com began providing consumers the ability to access, add to and manage their existing music CD collections online without having to encode and store tracks themselves. Under this system, once MP3.com was able to determine that a consumer purchased a CD (through the Instant Listening feature), or was already in possession of a CD (through the proprietary Beam-It software), MP3.com made music from that CD available in the consumer's music locker.

During the first quarter of 2000, several major recording and publishing companies led by the Recording Industry Association of America and the Harry Fox Agency, Inc. commenced separate lawsuits against MP3.com alleging that the inclusion of their respective content in the My.MP3 service infringed their copyrights. In May 2000, pending resolution of these legal proceedings, MP3.com began limiting consumers' use of the My.MP3 service so they could only access and manage the music that was posted on the MP3.com web site by artists. Following several legal battles, MP3.com entered into license agreements with BMG Entertainment, Time Warner, Inc., EMI Recorded Music, Sony Music, and Universal Music Group covering the use of their master recordings in the My.MP3 service. MP3.com also entered into a license agreement with the Harry Fox Agency, Inc. covering certain uses of musical compositions in the My.MP3 service. In December 2000, MP3.com again began to allow consumers to place music from their existing music CD collections in their My.MP3 music lockers. In this current format, My.MP3 is offered as both a free and premium subscription-based service.

MP3.com believes it has developed core competencies and created a technology infrastructure system that will enable it to provide a wide variety of data management and infrastructure services to other businesses. Through MP3.com's ongoing efforts to develop, maintain and improve the MP3.com web site, MP3.com has amassed a significant amount of expertise in data storage, delivery and management; server-side security; and royalty tracking and payment systems. MP3.com has also created a technology infrastructure system that stores, manages, tracks and provides statistical analyses on a real-time basis for digital data for over 150,000 artists and more than 14.5 million registered users. In March 2001, MP3.com's technology infrastructure system managed an average of over 5.5 terabytes of data each day.

Leveraging these core competencies and MP3.com's backbone technology infrastructure system, MP3.com has developed a number of unique products and services designed to further its primary mission to help grow the digital music space. These products and services include the first-ever, on-demand Internet subscription music channels, innovative business music services, a syndicated radio program, a music promotions business, and business-to-business content management and marketing services. MP3.com intends to continue working to develop innovative products and services that leverage its core competencies and build upon this powerful and robust backbone technology infrastructure system.

In order to maintain MP3.com's leadership position in the digital music industry, MP3.com intends to leverage its technology and strategic partnerships with leading web sites, broadband application developers, device manufacturers, record labels, software and hardware developers, wireless carriers, retailers and connectivity providers to (1) give consumers worldwide access to their music, whenever they want it, wherever they want it, on any web-enabled device or application; (2) provide artists with the greatest potential for promotion and distribution of their music; and (3) expand the potential commercial applications of MP3.com's technology.

MP3.com generates revenue from advertising, infrastructure products, merchandising products, subscription products, music licensing products and business music services. For the quarters ended March 31, 2001 and 2000, 92.0% and 83.4%, respectively, of MP3.com's revenues were from advertising.

MP3.com was incorporated in March 1998. During 1998, MP3.com's operations consisted largely of developing the infrastructure necessary to download and stream music from the Internet. Although MP3.com has experienced a slight drop in headcount during the first quarter of 2001, since the beginning of 1999 MP3.com's growth has been dramatic. The number of employees increased from eight on December 31, 1998 to 274 on December 31, 1999 to 308 on December 31, 2000 and decreased to 303 on March 31, 2001. In March 2001, MP3.com added over 200 artists and over 1,300 new song and audio files on average each day, which is an increase from over 100 artists and over 1,000 new song and audio files that were added on average each day in March 2000. During March 2001, visitors to MP3.com's web site viewed over 165 million web pages and listened to or downloaded over 59 million songs, which is an increase from March 2000 when visitors viewed over 142 million web pages and listened to or downloaded over 27.7 million songs.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Attention: President. When used in the business description that follows, "Vivendi Universal" refers to the company on a consolidated basis, or to its direct and indirect subsidiaries, as applicable. Unless otherwise indicated, all references to Vivendi Universal's competitive position made in this document are in terms of revenue generated.

Vivendi Universal is the surviving entity of the merger transactions among Vivendi, S.A. (or Vivendi), The Seagram Company Ltd. (or Seagram) and Canal Plus S.A. (or Canal Plus) which were completed on December 8, 2000.

The Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger included the following:

- The merger of Vivendi into its wholly owned subsidiary, Vivendi Universal. Prior to the Vivendi/ Seagram/Canal Plus merger, the entity now known as Vivendi Universal functioned as a non-operating holding company;
- Vivendi Universal's acquisition of all of the businesses of Canal Plus not subject to a French law that prohibits any person from owning more than 49% of a French television broadcaster. Accordingly, Canal Plus's French premium pay television channel was retained by Canal Plus. Public Canal Plus shareholders retained their 51% interest in Canal Plus and Vivendi Universal now holds the remaining 49%. The businesses that Vivendi Universal acquired from Canal Plus are now operated collectively as Groupe Canal S.A. (referred to herein as CANAL+); and
- Vivendi Universal's combination, through its subsidiaries, with Seagram in accordance with a plan of arrangement under Canadian law.

Vivendi, S.A.

Prior to the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger, Vivendi was one of Europe's largest companies. In May 1998, Vivendi's shareholders approved its name change from Compagnie Generale des Eaux to "Vivendi" to reflect the expansion of its core businesses in communications and environmental management services as well as the increasingly international scope of its business. At that time, Vivendi renamed its major water subsidiary Compagnie Generale des Eaux. In 1999, Vivendi contributed or sold its direct and indirect interests in Compagnie Generale des Eaux, Connex, Onyx, FCC, Dalkia and United States Filter Corporation (or US Filter) to Vivendi Environnement. These transactions, along with the consolidation of all of its water businesses into Vivendi Water, were designed to focus each of its environmental operations on the goal of maintaining its position as the world's leading provider of environmental management services. In July 2000 Vivendi issued approximately 37% of the share capital of Vivendi Environnement in a public offering in Europe and a private placement in the United States.

At the time of the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger, Vivendi's businesses were focused primarily on two core areas: communications and environmental management services. Its communications business operated a number of leading and integrated businesses in the telecommunications, multimedia and publishing, pay television and Internet industries. Its environment business, operated primarily through its subsidiary Vivendi Environnement, included world-class water, waste management, transportation and energy services operations. Each of these businesses now forms part of Vivendi Universal.

The Seagram Company Ltd.

Prior to the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger, Seagram operated in four

business segments:

- Music, through Universal Music Group, the world's largest recorded music company, which developed, acquired, produced, marketed and distributed recorded music globally, produced, sold and distributed music videos globally, and engaged in music publishing;
- Filmed Entertainment, primarily through Universal Pictures, produced and distributed motion picture, television and home video productions worldwide, owned and operated a number of international television channels, and licensed merchandising and filmed property rights;
- Recreation and Other, which owned and operated theme parks, entertainment complexes and specialty retail stores in the U.S. and elsewhere; and
- Spirits and Wine, which produced, marketed and distributed distilled spirits, wines, coolers, beers and mixers in more than 190 countries and territories worldwide. Vivendi Universal has entered into an agreement to sell the Spirits and Wine business.

Each of these businesses now forms a part of Vivendi Universal.

Canal Plus S.A.

Prior to the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger, Canal Plus was Europe's leading pay television company with approximately 14 million subscribers in 11 countries at the end of 1999. Forty percent of Canal Plus's subscribers were enrolled in digital television services at the end of 1999. Canal Plus also produced more than 25 theme channels for cable and satellite television distribution in 14 countries and was a European leader in film and television production, distribution and rights management, with Europe's second largest film rights library based on number of titles. In addition, Canal Plus was Europe's leading supplier of software technologies that enabled network operators to deliver secure interactive services over digital television networks. Each of these businesses now forms a part of Vivendi Universal.

As a result of the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger, Vivendi Universal is one of the world's leading media and communications companies, with assets that include the world's largest recorded music company, one of the largest motion picture studios and film libraries in the world and leading businesses in the global telecommunications, television, theme park, publishing and Internet industries. Vivendi Universal believes that it will become a fully integrated global media and communications company capable of providing a diverse array of entertainment and information over wired and wireless access devices using cable, Internet, satellite and broadcast networks.

STRATEGY

Vivendi Universal's overall goal is to take advantage of the strong internal and external growth opportunities available in the areas of its core operations -- Media and Communications, and Environmental Services. Vivendi Universal intends to capitalize on its strengths in communications by providing high value-added content and services through a variety of access media: Internet, PC, television, mobile telephony and print. In Environmental Services, Vivendi Universal plans to expand each of its business segments -- waste, water, energy services and transportation -- through internal growth and acquisitions of existing operations, and to coordinate the operations of these businesses to meet what it believes to be a growing demand for customized, comprehensive packages of environmental management services on a worldwide basis.

MEDIA COMMUNICATIONS SERVICES

Music

Vivendi Universal's music business is operated through Universal Music Group, the largest recorded music business in the world, which develops, acquires, manufactures, markets and distributes recorded music through a network of subsidiaries, joint ventures and licensees in 63 countries. Universal Music Group also manufactures, sells and distributes music video products, licenses music copyrights, publishes music and owns mail order music/video clubs throughout the world.

In 2000, Vivendi Universal held the number one market position in North America, Europe and Latin America. Vivendi Universal is the market leader in 75% of the countries in which it operates. In 2000, 67 albums reached worldwide sales in excess of one million units and five albums sold over five million units.

Vivendi Universal has the largest music catalogue in the world and holds the leading position in jazz and classical music, with its classical music sales representing 40% of worldwide classical music sales for the industry. Vivendi Universal's labels include:

- popular labels such as Barclay, Interscope Geffen A&M, Island Def Jam Music Group, MCA Nashville, MCA Records, Mercury Nashville, Mercury Records, Motor Music, Motown, Polydor, and Universal Records;
- leading classical labels such as Decca, Deutsche Grammophone and Philips; and
- leading jazz labels such as Verve, GRP, and Impulse! Records.

Artists

The success of a music company depends to a significant degree on its ability to sign and retain artists that will appeal to popular tastes over a period of time. Vivendi Universal believes that the scope and diversity of its popular music labels, repertoire and catalogues allow it to respond to shifts in audience tastes. The United States and the United Kingdom continue to be the source of approximately 60% of international popular repertoire. Including the United States and the United Kingdom, sales of locally-signed artists in their home territories represent 70% of worldwide recorded music sales. Increasingly, certain national acts, such as Andrea Bocelli from Italy, Aqua from Denmark and Modjo from France, are attracting a wider international audience. Vivendi Universal's leading local market position in almost every major region provides a critical competitive advantage.

Artists who are currently under contract with Vivendi Universal, directly or through third parties, for one or more important territories include, among others:

Bryan Adams, Aqua, A*Teens, Erykah Badu, Cecilia Bartoli, Bee Gees, George Benson, Mary J. Blige, Blink 182, Andrea Bocelli, Bon Jovi, Boyzone, Jacky Cheung, Sheryl Crow, DMX, Dr. Dre, Eminem, ERA, Mylene Farmer, Lara Fabian, Masaharu Fukuyama, Luis Fonsi, Johnny Hallyday, Herbie Hancock, Enrique Iglesias, Al Jarreau, Jay-Z, Elton John, Ronan Keating, B.B. King, Diana Krall, Lighthouse Family, Limp Bizkit, Live, Los Tucanes de Tijuana, Reba McEntire, Brian McKnight, Metallica (outside North America), Modjo, 98 Degrees, No Doubt, Padre Marcelo Rossi, Anne-Sophie Mutter, Florent Pagny, Luciano Pavarotti, Rammstein, Andre Rieu, Rosana, Paulina Rubio, David Sanborn, Sandy & Junior, S Club 7, Shaggy, Spitz, Sisqo, Sting, George Strait, Tarkan, Texas, Shania Twain, Caetano Veloso, The Wallflowers, Stevie Wonder, and U2.

In addition to recently released recordings, Vivendi Universal also markets and sells recordings from its library of prior releases. Sales from this library account for a significant and stable part of its recorded music revenue each year. Vivendi Universal owns the largest catalogue of recorded music in the world, with performers from the United States, the United Kingdom and around the world, such as:

ABBA, Louis Armstrong, Chuck Berry, James Brown, Eric Clapton, Patsy Cline, John Coltrane, Count Basie, Bill Evans, Ella Fitzgerald, The Four Tops, Marvin Gaye, Jimi Hendrix, Billie Holiday, Buddy Holly, The Jackson Five, Antonio Carlos Jobim, Herbert von Karajan, Bob Marley, Nirvana, The Police, Smokey Robinson, Diana Ross & The Supremes, Rod Stewart, Caetano Veloso, Muddy Waters, Hank Williams and The Who.

Artist Contracts, Production, Marketing and Distribution

Vivendi Universal seeks to contract with its popular artists on an exclusive basis for the marketing of their recordings (both audio and audio-visual) in return for a percentage royalty on the wholesale or retail selling price of the recording. Vivendi Universal generally seeks to obtain rights on a worldwide basis, although certain of its artists have licensed rights for certain countries or regions to other record companies. While exclusive classical artist contracts are common, and can extend over a long period, many classical artists and orchestral contracts are short in duration and refer only to specific recordings.

Established artists command higher advances and royalties. Therefore, it is not unusual for a recording company to renegotiate contract terms with a successful artist.

A contract either provides for the artist to deliver completed recordings to Vivendi Universal or for Universal Music Group to undertake the recording with the artist. For artists without a recording history, Vivendi Universal is often involved in selecting producers, recording studios, additional musicians, and songs to be recorded, and Vivendi Universal may supervise the output of recording sessions. For established artists, Vivendi Universal is usually less involved in the recording process.

Marketing involves advertising and otherwise gaining exposure for its recordings and artists through magazines, radio, television, Internet, other media and point-of-sale material. Public performances are also considered an important element in the marketing process, and Vivendi Universal provides financing for concert tours by certain artists. Television marketing of both specially compiled products and new albums is becoming increasingly important. Marketing is carried out on a territory-by-territory basis, although global priorities and strategies for certain artists are set centrally.

Vivendi Universal employs sales representatives who obtain orders from wholesalers and retailers. In all major territories except Japan and Brazil Vivendi Universal has its own distribution services for the storage and delivery of finished product to wholesalers and retailers. In certain territories it has entered into distribution joint ventures with other record companies.

Vivendi Universal also sells music product directly to the consumer, principally through two direct mail club organizations: Britannia Music in the United Kingdom and D.I.A.L. in France.

E-Commerce and Electronic Delivery

Vivendi Universal is at the forefront of the development of new methods to distribute, market, sell, program, and syndicate music and music-related programming by exploiting the potential of new technological platforms. The Internet now permits consumers to sample music on the Web, order it, receive it (physically, and/or electronically), pay for it, and even store it so that it can be accessed anywhere. It also allows consumers to customize their radio stations in order to create their own distinctive programming. In fiscal 2000, Vivendi Universal launched its music download business, and it became the first major music company to offer viewers a slate of customizable premium music programs designed exclusively for high-speed broadband access.

Vivendi Universal believes that emerging technologies will be strategically important to the future of the music business. Evolving technology will allow current customers to sample and purchase music in a variety of new ways and will expose potential consumers to new music. Through a variety of independent initiatives and strategic alliances, Vivendi Universal continues to invest resources in the technology and electronic commerce areas that will allow the music business to be conducted over the Internet, cellular networks, cable and satellite. Its investments and initiatives include Bluematter(TM), DataPlay, InterTrust, Jimmy and Doug's Farmclub.com, GetMusic as well as pressplay (formerly known as Duet), its joint venture with Sony Music Entertainment to develop and launch an on-demand subscription-based music service. The joint venture pressplay has entered into an alliance with Yahoo! Inc. to present and market the pressplay subscription service which is expected to launch in the U.S. in the summer of 2001. Vivendi Universal has recently purchased EMusic.com Inc. and entered into an agreement to purchase MP3.com, Inc. See "Recent Developments" below.

Music Publishing

Music publishing involves the acquisition of rights to, and licensing of, musical compositions (as compared to recordings). Vivendi Universal enters into agreements with composers and authors of musical compositions for the purpose of licensing the compositions for use in sound recordings, films, videos and by way of live performances and broadcasting. In addition, Vivendi Universal licenses compositions for use in printed sheet music and song folios. Vivendi Universal also licenses and acquires catalogues of musical compositions from third parties such as other music publishers and composers and authors who have retained or re-acquired rights. In August 2000, Vivendi Universal purchased Rondor Music International, Inc., a major independent music publishing company, and Forerunner Music Catalogue, a classic contemporary country music catalogue.

Vivendi Universal is one of the world's largest music publishers. Its publishing catalogue includes more than 800,000 titles that it owns or controls, including songs such as : "I Wanna Hold Your Hand", "Candle in the Wind", "I Will Survive", and "Sittin' on the Dock of the Bay". Among the artists and songwriters represented are ABBA, George Brassens, Bon Jovi, Eddy Mitchell, Andre Rieu, Shania Twain, Andrew Lloyd Weber and U2; composers represented include Leonard Bernstein, Elton John, Bernie Taupin and Henry Mancini.

Manufacturing and Other Facilities

In connection with its music entertainment activities, Vivendi Universal owns manufacturing facilities in the United States, Germany and the United Kingdom and office buildings and warehouse facilities in various countries. In addition to its wholly owned facilities, it also owns a manufacturing facility in the United States through a joint venture. Where Vivendi Universal does not own property, it leases warehouses and office space.

Recent Developments

On April 6, 2001, Vivendi Universal entered into an agreement to acquire all the outstanding shares of EMusic.com Inc. pursuant to a cash tender offer at $.57 per share. EMusic sells music downloads, both individually and via subscription, and operates a family of music-oriented Web sites, including Rollingstone.com, EMusic.com and DownBeat.com. The acquisition was completed on June 14, 2001.

On May 20, 2001, Vivendi Universal entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger with MP3.com, Inc., the Internet's premier music service provider, pursuant to which it will acquire MP3.com, Inc. for $372 million in a combined cash and stock transaction. The acquisition is subject to customary closing conditions, including regulatory approval.

Motion Picture and Television Production and Distribution

Production, Marketing and Distribution. Through CANAL+, Universal Studios, Inc., and StudioCanal (a majority owned subsidiary of CANAL+), Vivendi Universal is one of the leading film production studios in Europe and the United States. Vivendi Universal produces feature-length motion pictures intended for initial theatrical exhibition, videocassette and DVD distribution and television programming. Major motion pictures produced over the past several years include Erin Brockovich, Gladiator, Dr. Seuss'

How the Grinch Stole Christmas, The Boy's Room, The Mummy, The Mummy Returns, Billy Elliot, U-571, Meet the Parents and Notting Hill. In addition, Vivendi Universal produces animated and live action children's and family programming for networks, basic cable and local television stations as well as home video.

The production/distribution cycle represents the period of time from acquisition of a property through distribution. The length of the cycle varies depending upon such factors as type of product and release pattern. Production generally includes four steps: acquisition of story rights, pre-production, principal photography and post-production. Production activities for theatrical films produced by Universal Pictures (a division of Universal City Studios, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Universal Studios) are generally based at Universal City, California, or on location. The production facilities in Universal City are also leased to third parties. Some motion pictures and television products are produced, in whole or in part, at other locations both inside and outside the United States and Europe.

The arrangements under which Vivendi Universal produces, distributes and owns motion pictures vary widely. Other parties may participate in varying degrees in revenue or other contractually defined amounts. Vivendi Universal generally controls worldwide distribution or specified rights with respect to its motion pictures. Pursuant to contractual arrangements, Vivendi Universal distributes for, or services distribution for, third parties.

Generally, Vivendi Universal distributes motion pictures in the theatrical, home video and pay television markets. It then makes motion pictures available for broadcast on free television and basic cable distribution throughout the world. The theatrical license agreements with theater operators are on a theater-by-theater, picture-by-picture basis, and fees under these agreements are generally a percentage of the theater's receipts with, in some instances, a minimum guaranteed amount.

Universal Studios, through wholly owned subsidiaries, distributes its theatrical product in the United States and Canada to motion picture theaters. Its theatrical distribution throughout the rest of the world is primarily conducted through United International Pictures, or UIP, which is equally owned by Universal Studios International B.V., an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Universal Studios, or USIBV, and Paramount Pictures International. Television distribution of its approximately 24,000 episode library in the United States is handled by USANi LLC, a subsidiary of USA Networks, Inc., and throughout the rest of the world primarily by USIBV. USIBV licenses television products produced by USANi LLC in international markets. Videocassettes and DVDs are distributed in the United States and Canada by wholly owned subsidiaries of Universal Studios. Outside the United States and Canada, its videocassettes are primarily distributed by Universal Pictures International B.V., an operating unit of Universal Studios, while DVDs are primarily distributed by Columbia/Tri-Star Home Video under a short term sub-distribution arrangement that ends in 2002. Some DVD rights revert to Universal Studios before then.

StudioCanal distributes its theatrical products throughout Europe. StudioCanal has a pan European network in theater distribution with a presence in Spain with Sogepaq, in Germany with Tobis-StudioCanal, in France with BAC Distribution (and its subsidiary Mars Distribution), in the United Kingdom with Pathe UK, in Holland with FU Works and in Italy with RAI Cinema. StudioCanal distributes its motion pictures in the home video, free and pay television markets using both its own sales force and third party distributors. StudioCanal also distributes newly released home video and DVD products in France through Universal Pictures Video. Outside France, StudioCanal contracts with video distribution partners.

Film Rights Management. Vivendi Universal sells television rights to feature films in its extensive library of 8,600 titles, the second largest catalogue in the world. StudioCanal has a filmed entertainment library of 5,000 movies of a variety of genres, broken down evenly among French, European and American productions. Some of the titles in the StudioCanal library include Terminator 2, La Grande Vadrouille, Basic Instinct, Total Recall, La Grande Illusion, The Graduate and This Is Spinal Tap. Universal Studios controls rights to films in its extensive library of approximately 3,600 titles. These rights include recent films such as The Mummy Returns, Bridget Jones's Diary, Hannibal, Gladiator and Erin Brockovich, and many Oscar-winning library titles, including To Kill A Mockingbird and Schindler's List. Universal Studios' television library includes Columbo, Magnum PI, Murder She Wrote, Miami Vice, Rockford Files, Knight Rider, Incredible Hulk, Quantum Leap and Quincy.

Telecommunications

Vivendi Universal provides a broad range of telecommunications services, including mobile and fixed telephony, Internet access and data services transmission.

Through Cegetel Group, a company in which Vivendi Universal holds a 44% interest, it is the leading private operator of fixed and mobile telephony in France. Through its wholly owned subsidiary, Vivendi Telecom International, or VTI, Vivendi Universal develops telecommunications activities outside France.

Cegetel Group

Vivendi Universal founded Cegetel Group in 1996. The original name of the company, Cegetel, was changed to Cegetel Group on March 31, 2001. Vivendi Universal currently owns 44% of Cegetel Group's outstanding equity: 9% of the shares directly and 35% of the shares indirectly through its 70% ownership interest in Compagnie Transatlantique de Telecommunications, or Transtel, which owns 50% plus one of Cegetel Group's shares. SBC International, Inc., or SBCI, and SBCI International-Societe de Radiotelephonie Cellulaire, Inc., or SBCI-SEC, together own the remaining 30% of Transtel.

Vivendi Universal appoints five of Cegetel Group's nine directors. In addition to SBCI and SBCI-SRC, which together hold a 15% interest in Cegetel Group through Transtel, Vivendi Universal's current partners in Cegetel Group are British Telecom, or BT, which has a 26% stake in the company, and Mannesmann, a wholly owned subsidiary of Vodafone, which owns 15%. Vivendi Universal describes below the shareholders' agreement that governs its participation in Cegetel Group. See "Shareholders' Agreement" below in this subsection.

In late 2000, Cegetel Group began restructuring its organization to prepare for anticipated radical changes in the telecommunications market, such as high-speed transmission via fixed lines (ADSL technology) and mobile lines (GPRS and UMTS), deregulation and access to local traffic through the unbundling of the local loop and more widespread use of mobile phones. On January 1, 2001, two new business divisions -- "Fixed Telephony" and "Mobile Telephony" -- were formed to replace the "professional and consumer" and "business" divisions. The "Network and Information Systems" division was retained. Cegetel Group divides its activities into the following divisions:

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Fixed Telephony Division and Internet Services.

- Cegetel 7. During 2000, Cegetel Group offered long distance and international fixed telephone service through Cegetel 7, a company 80% owned by Cegetel Group and 20% by Telecom Development, or TD, a company that is, in turn, owned 49.9% by Cegetel Group and 50.1% by Societe Nationale des Chemins de Fer Francais, or SNCF, the state-owned French railway company.
- Cegetel Entreprises. During 2000, Cegetel Group operated its business marketing division through Cegetel Entreprises, a company with the same ownership structure as Cegetel 7. Cegetel Entreprises offers business customers a variety of services, including:
 - wireless and fixed telephony, along with management tools such as call limitation services, consumption reports and grouped bills;
 - data transmission;
 - Internet access, website hosting services, development of e-commerce sites and intranet management; and
 - local telephony access through fiber optic loops.

On March 31, 2001, Cegetel 7 was merged with Cegetel Entreprises and renamed "Cegetel", a company 80% owned by Cegetel Group and 20% by TD.

Cegetel must pay substantial interconnection fees to France Telecom in order to provide local telephone service. To avoid these fees, Cegetel has built 19 fiber optic local loops in dense business districts in cities such as Paris, Lille, Lyon and Marseille. Additionally, in 2000, in preparation for the unbundling of telecommunications services in 2001 and 2002, Cegetel conducted pilot projects in Monaco and Paris to provide high speed Internet Access via the traditional telephone network (Asymmetric Digital Subscriber Line).

The backbone of all Cegetel Group telecommunications services is TD's long-distance telecommunications network. TD owns, operates and maintains an entirely digital telecommunications network throughout France, consisting of 18,000 kilometers of high capacity fiber optic cables. The TD Network is now connected to more than 300 local France Telecom switches located throughout France, versus 176 at the end of 1999, and to the various Cegetel Group networks (mobile telecommunications, data network, and fiber optic local loops).

Mobile Telephony Division. Cegetel Group offers mobile telephone services through its 80% owned subsidiary SFR (the remaining 20% of which is owned by Vodafone). SFR, an innovator in the French telecommunications market, provides the latest mobile offerings, the most recent being WAP services. SFR customers can use their mobile handsets outside France via roaming agreements with local operators in more than 100 countries.

SFR operates a dense, high-quality mobile telecommunications network based on the Global System for Mobile Communications, or GSM -- the digital standard currently dominant in Europe. This network is capable of providing service to 97% of the French population and carries 20 million minutes of mobile telephone traffic a day. In addition, since December 2000, SFR has been operating telecommunications on its General Packet Radio System, or GPRS network, which permits greater bandwidth communications. This technology is expected to increase the speed of SFR's network by a factor of ten by end of 2001.

Network and Information Systems Division. Cegetel Group's communication networks (GPRS) are operated through its Network and Information Systems Division.

Shareholders' Agreement. The governance of Cegetel Group is subject to a shareholders' agreement to which Vivendi Universal is a party, along with BT, Mannesmann (Vodafone Group), SBCI and Transtel. Among other things, the shareholders' agreement provides that:

- None of the Cegetel Group shareholders can conduct telecommunications business in France or its overseas departments and territories other than through Cegetel Group. This provision does not apply to the operation of Internet websites.
- Cegetel Group's board of directors has nine members, five of whom are nominated by Vivendi Universal, two by BT, one by Mannesmann and one by SBCI. The board of directors of Transtel has six members, four of whom are nominated by Vivendi Universal and two by SBCI.
- Cegetel Group can take certain actions only if representatives of each of the Cegetel Group shareholders consent. These actions include:
 - making any change in the scope of its business;
 - changing any provision of its by-laws or amending any shareholders' agreement between it, on the one hand, and any of the Cegetel Group shareholders or Vodafone, on the other hand; and
 - except in limited cases, increasing its share capital with a waiver of preferential subscription rights or merging or dividing Cegetel Group or selling Cegetel Group shares to the public.
- Subject to some exceptions, representatives of BT must also consent to any transaction that would result in a shareholder other than Transtel or Vivendi Universal obtaining a greater interest in Cegetel Group than that held by BT.
- If all of BT, Mannesmann and Transtel dissent, Vivendi Universal cannot cause Cegetel Group to:
 - create or acquire shares in any entity in which Cegetel Group or companies it controls hold less than 100% of the shares and voting rights; or
 - subject to some exceptions, acquire, dispose of, lease or loan a material amount of assets or significantly reduce or cease any material business operation.
- The Cegetel Group shareholders' agreement contains a number of limitations on the transfer of Cegetel Group shares.

Vivendi Telecom International

In addition to Vivendi Universal's investment in Cegetel Group, it has also invested in a number of telecommunications companies outside of France through VTI. These companies have a total of 4.7 million clients of which 3.9 million are for mobile telephone activity.

Spain. Vivendi Universal is a major shareholder in Xfera, a consortium which obtained a 30 year Universal Mobile Telecommunications Standard, or UMTS, license.

Recent Developments

In March 2001, Cegetel Group finalized the terms of the disposition of its interest in AOL CompuServe France, in which it owned a 55% interest with CANAL+ (66% of the stake being owned by Cegetel and 34% by CANAL+), pursuant to an agreement under which the companies will exchange their stake in the AOL France joint venture for junior preferred shares in AOL Europe. The agreement provides that AOL Time Warner will be able either to redeem the preferred shares with cash, or to exchange them for publicly traded AOL Europe common stock or AOL Time Warner stock by April 2003.

On January 31, 2001, SFR applied for a third generation mobile UMTS license. This license will permit SFR to provide mobile broadband and Internet services to its customers.

On May 31, 2001, the Autorite de Regulation des Telecommunications, or ART, the French regulator, decided that SFR could be awarded a UMTS license by the French government.

In the course of the partial privatization of Maroc Telecom, Vivendi Universal has been designated strategic partner to purchase 35% of the national telecommunication operator in Morocco for 2.3 million euros. The closing took place in February 2001 and Vivendi Telecom International now holds a stake of 35% of Maroc Telecom. As a leader in telecommunication in Morocco, Maroc Telecom operates 1.4 million fixed lines and owns 2.6 million GSM clients.

Universal Music Competitors are mainly the following major record companies: EMI, Bertelsmann Music Group, Warner Music Group, Sony Music Entertainment. Universal Music also faces the competition from independents such as Zomba. Following a pattern established in the United States, European retailers have begun to consolidate, and in Europe increasing quantities of product is being sold through multinational retailers and buying groups and other discount chains. This has increased competition for shelf space among the recorded music companies. The recorded music business continues to be adversely affected by counterfeiting, piracy and parallel imports, primarily in Eastern Europe, Asia and Latin America, and may be adversely affected by the ability to download quality sound reproductions from the Internet without authorization. As part of its response to these developments, Vivendi Universal, through its subsidiary Universal Music Group, allied with Sony Music Entertainment to create a 50/50 joint venture named pressplay (formerly known as Duet). The joint venture pressplay will develop and implement an on-demand music subscription service that will offer customers a broad range of online music while respecting artists' rights.

TV & Film

As a diversified entertainment company involved in all aspects of the film and television industry, Vivendi Universal offers movie audiences around the world a wide array of films, and provides its customers and subscribers the very best in sports and film programming on all media (movie theaters, TV, PC, fixed and cellular telephones).

CANAL+. CANAL+ is a leader in the production of pay television channels, both stand-alone branded channels and theme channels, despite intense competition in all of these markets. The success of CANAL+ along with theme channels produced by other U.S. major studios, including MTV and Fox Kids, indicates that this market will remain highly competitive.

The European multichannel sector is relatively new, and penetration rates continue to rise significantly. The potential for growth has attracted significant competitors to the French market, including Television Par Satellite (which is owned by TF1, M6, France 2, France 3, France Telecom and Suez). In Spain, CANAL+ (through Sogecable) competes with Telefonica's subsidiary Via Digital, Quiero -- the DTT offer -- and various cable operators. Competitors in Italy include News Corporation through its investment in Stream. In addition, the introduction of digital distribution methods, including cable and satellite, has enabled new entrants to the sector to compete vigorously. Generally, competition is country-by-country due to national differences in viewer preferences.

StudioCanal. StudioCanal is a key European player in production and distribution of feature films and television programming. Primary competitors in this market are the U.S. major studios and local production companies and distributors.

Universal Studios Group. There are eight major competitors in the U.S. and several independents that compete aggressively against each other in all aspects of the production, acquisition and distribution of motion pictures internationally. These companies include Universal Pictures, The Walt Disney Company, Warner Bros., DreamWorks SKG, Paramount Pictures Corporation, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, Inc., Twentieth-Century Fox Film Corporation and Sony (through Columbia/Tri-Star and Sony Pictures). The majors and independents compete against each other for product, talent and revenue from all distribution markets including theatrical, home video/DVD, pay television, video-on-demand, pay-per-view, free television, basic cable television and developing new media for the distribution of film and television content. Given the rapidly changing marketplace for consumer tastes, year-to-year market share in the U.S. and non-U.S. territories varies widely by film and distribution markets. Outside of the U.S. and Canada, Universal Studios distributes its feature films theatrically through UIP, a joint venture between USIBV and Paramount Pictures International, and competes with other distributors in the international theatrical distribution markets. In the year 2000, Universal Pictures ranked number 2 in U.S. theatrical market share.

Through its Recreation Group, Universal Studios is a leader in themed entertainment. Universal Studios competes aggressively against other major theme park operators including The Walt Disney Company, Anheuser Busch Companies, Paramount Parks (owned by Viacom), Six Flags Theme Parks, Inc. and Cedar Fair, L.P., and is third both in the U.S. and internationally (behind Disney and Six Flags) in annual attendance.

Telecommunications

The consumer telecommunications industry in France is currently very competitive. Vivendi Universal competes in this industry primarily through SFR, an 80% owned subsidiary of Cegetel Group. As of March 31, 2001, SFR had 10.6 million mobile customers, giving it a 33.9% share of the French mobile market measured by volume. SFR's competitors include Orange (France Telecom), which had a market share of 48.2% in March 2001, and Bouygues Telecom, which had a 17.9% share. Cegetel 7 had 2.5 million customer lines at the end of 2000, which Vivendi Universal estimates to represent approximately 6.9% of the French long distance and international telephony market. Cegetel's primary competitor in the long distance and international telephony market is France Telecom, which enjoys significant advantages as a result of its historical position as the dominant provider of telecommunications services in France, including a near monopoly on a local traffic. To overcome this situation and be in a position to offer broadband access and related services to business customers, Cegetel has developed a strategy of installing fiber optic and of providing ADSL services through a beatstream access agreement with the French incumbent operator; ADSL services will also be provided by local loop unbundling (full access and shared access). The French business telecommunications sector is highly competitive as well.

Publishing

Vivendi Universal faces a number of strong competitors across the range of its publishing and interactive multimedia activities in France, in Europe as a whole and worldwide. Bertelsmann is its biggest single competitor, as it is, like Vivendi Universal, present in a wide variety of publishing and multimedia markets around the world. Vivendi Universal's business and professional division also faces strong competition from Reed Elsevier and Wolters Kluwer. With regard to Vivendi Universal's scientific and trade activities, its primary competitors are The Thomson Corporation and Harcourt Brace. In the educational, reference, general literature and multimedia sectors, Vivendi Universal competes principally with Hachette, Pearson and Harcourt Brace.

Internet

The market for web-based services is rapidly evolving and highly competitive. A number of U.S. market participants such as Yahoo! and AOL have succeeded in establishing a strong European presence. Vivendi Universal believes the principal competitive factors in the European market are customer base, brand recognition, performance, ease of use, value-added services, functionality, features and customer service. Additional competitors include France Telecom's Wanadoo and other Internet software, content, service and technology companies, telecommunications companies, cable companies and equipment/technology suppliers.

Research and Development

Research and development in technology plays a critical role in developing Vivendi Universal's Media and Communications businesses. Mass media and communications are constantly changing and one must be at the cutting edge of new technologies to satisfy consumers and remain competitive. Vivendi Universal's research, development and innovation, or RDI, strategy targets two main objectives: better performance and lower prices of its products, and the multiple-access distribution of digitized content.

Vivendi Universal's technologies may be divided into two core categories:

- Network technologies. Network technologies include all of the hardware and software resources used to interconnect content consumers, producers and distributors, such as terminals, telecommunications networks and processing and storage servers.
- Information system technologies. Information system technologies provide its content creators, publishers and distributors with the means to interact with consumers.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Vivendi Universal's current principal RDI projects in the various Media and Communications business lines include the following:

Content development and publishing

Music. Development of enhanced CD players that allow users to read song lyrics and provide information about artists -- the "content reference offering management and architecture" project, or Croma, for music organization and delivery.

TV & Film. The creation of complementary content and services specifically for DVD format films.

Publishing. Online delivery of increasingly interactive and networked games, and the development of e-books and e-school bag.

Interfaces

The design and choice of WAP and multi-device interfaces (for example, television, Internet, CD and DVD) that will allow Vivendi Universal's content and services to be accessed on a broad range of computers, mobile phones, PDAs, televisions and other terminals.

Digital production and distribution

Digital encoding and multimedia formatting and structuring of content, including: Croma and "content authoring and rendering audio format" (Caraf) projects, Audio Advanced Coding (AAC) digital encoding and DVD as a music medium; and image-compression technologies on DVD, audiovisual catalogue encoding and delivery, and digital cinema.

Digital distribution and rights management, including: Blue Matter project for distributing protected music over the Internet; image watermarking technologies; CANAL+ Technologies' encryption and decryption technology; Cegetel and CANAL+ smart-card protection technologies; active participation in the Secure Distribution of Music Initiative (SDMI) in collaboration with major record labels and multimedia device manufacturers; super-distribution project for tracking copyright payments when purchasers redistribute purchased content themselves, as well as setting up and testing of a rights payment clearing house.

Distribution

Physical distribution and logistics, including: mobile networks (setting up high-bandwidth GPRS networks and preparing and deploying UMTS networks), cable, fibre-optic, satellite and new media (for example, mini CD-dataplay, e-books and memory cards); information systems, such as supply chain management, Enterprise Resources Planning (ERP) and workflow; and terminals, such as mobile telephones, set-top boxes, televisions, PDA's and computers.

Commercial aspects, including: customer relationship management; payment systems, such as e-wallet (Magex) and secure Cegetel and CANAL+ payment systems; relationship marketing and data mining; and activation and delivery of interfaces used to provide content to end-users. WAP site, Web site access, CANAL+ interface to access programs and services.

Regulation

Music

The recorded music, music publishing, manufacturing and distribution businesses comprising the Universal Music Group are subject to applicable national statutes, common law and regulations in each territory in which it operates including, without limitation, copyright, trademark, patent, antitrust, taxation, corporate law and governance, employment, environmental and health and safety laws and regulations.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

In addition, many governmental agencies exercise some degree of oversight and, at times, may initiate investigations and enforcement proceedings with regard to industry practices. In the U.S. these agencies include, without limitation, the United States Department of Justice, the Federal Trade Commission, the Environmental Protection Agency, or EPA, and the Occupational Health and Safety Administration, and in the various states they include the Attorney General and other labor, health and safety agencies. In other territories where the Universal Music Group operates equivalent agencies cover some or all of the same areas.

In the European Union, Universal Music Group is subject to additional pan-territorial regulatory controls, in particular relating to merger control and antitrust regulation.

In a few limited areas, a consent decree or undertaking further regulates the operation of the Universal Music Group. Specifically, in the United States, certain companies in the Universal Music Group entered into a Consent Agreement in 2000 with the Federal Trade Commission wherein they agreed for seven years that they will not make the receipt of any co-operative advertising funds for their pre-recorded music product contingent on the price or price level at which such product is advertised or promoted.

The Universal Music Group is subject to an undertaking given to the European Commission arising out of Vivendi's purchase of Seagram, which, for a limited period, requires that the Universal Music Group shall not discriminate in favor of Vizzavi (a joint venture between Vivendi Universal and Vodafone) in the supply of music for downloading and streaming online in the European Economic Area. An undertaking given in connection with Vivendi's purchase of Seagram to the Canadian Department of Heritage also requires the Universal Music Group to continue its investments in Canada's domestic music industry. Continuing compliance with the consent decree and undertakings mentioned above do not have a material effect on the business of the Universal Music Group.

TV & Film

Audiovisual and Pay Television. The communications industry in Europe is regulated by various national statutes, regulations and orders, often administered by national agencies such as the Conseil Supérieur de l'Audiovisuel, or CSA, in France. These agencies usually grant renewable broadcast licenses for specific terms. In France, CANAL+ holds a pay-television broadcast license for over-the-air, satellite and cable broadcasts. The CSA recently renewed this license for a five-year period starting in January 2001. CANAL+ operates its activities in Spain, Italy, Belgium, Poland, and Scandinavia in accordance with the domestic regulations of those countries.

Because CANAL+ holds a French broadcast license, it is subject to French audiovisual laws which mandate that (1) no more than 49% of its equity may be held by any one person and (2) 60% of the films it broadcasts in France must be European in origin and 40% must be French language films. CANAL+ invests 20% of total prior-year revenue in the acquisition of film broadcasting rights, including 9% of prior-year revenue for French language films and 3% for other European films. Regulations in Belgium, Spain and Poland also require specified levels of European and national content.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

The European Community has adopted a variety of Directives that address television without frontier, intellectual property, advertisement, e-commerce, mail order and telemarketing. Vivendi Universal does not believe that the transposition of any of these Directives into French law has had a negative impact on its business.

Film Production and Distribution. In the United States, the motion picture production and distribution businesses are not regulated due to protections given to expressive works under the United States Constitution. There are, however, many federal, state and local statutes and regulations that are integral to the business and under which the businesses operate including, without limitation, the copyright, trademark, antitrust, discrimination and environmental, health and safety laws and regulations. In addition, many federal and state agencies exercise some degree of oversight and, at times, may initiate investigations and enforcement proceedings with regard to industry practices. These agencies include, without limitation, the United States Department of Justice, the Federal Trade Commission, the Department of Labor, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, the EPA and the Occupational Health and Safety Administration and, in the State of California, the Attorney General, the Department of Toxic Substances and the California Division of Industrial Relations. In a few limited areas, a consent decree and undertakings further regulate the operations of Universal Studios. In the United States, the motion picture distribution and exhibition industries are regulated by the consent decree in U.S. v. Paramount Pictures, Inc. This consent decree, affirmed in 1950, prohibits certain conduct by film distributors, including price fixing and product tying, and requires film distributors to license product on a film-by-film and theater-by-theater basis.

In the European Union, Universal Studios is regulated by an undertaking in the pay television area which, for a limited period of time, will regulate certain business with CANAL+. Additionally, it is regulated in the film distribution area through an undertaking given by UIP, the joint venture through which Universal Studios distributes its feature films theatrically outside of the United States and Canada. An undertaking with the Canadian Department of Heritage also regulates certain operations of Universal Studios Canada Ltd. Continuing compliance with the laws, regulations, consent decree and undertakings mentioned in this paragraph do not have a material effect on the business of Universal Studios.

Theme Parks. Universal Studios operates theme parks around the world in accordance with applicable health, safety and environmental standards. In the State of California, recent legislation (effective January 2001) and implementing regulations, currently under development, will regulate the manner in which the Company records and reports certain incidents which occur on permanent amusement rides which result in the death or serious injury of a guest. It is not anticipated that the full implementation of these new requirements will have a material effect on the business of Universal Studios.

Telecommunications

The French telecommunications market was largely deregulated in July 1996 under the Loi de Reglementation des Telecommunications, or LRT, and its supplemental legislation (known as decrets d'application). The LRT is a "transposition" of European Community directives regarding deregulation into French law. It does not, however, currently provide companies like Cegetel and/or SFR equal access to local telephone loops.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

The National Regulatory Authority is the regulatory authority with jurisdiction over the telecommunications industry in France. It is responsible, among other things, for issuing recommendations to the government regarding interconnection conditions and applications for telecommunications licenses, settling conflicts in the interconnection domain and allocating frequency bandwidth and telephone numbers.

Through SFR, TD and Cegetel, Cegetel Group holds national and global licenses (such as public network and voice telephony and fixed and mobile telephony services). Each license carries certain obligations. The terms of its long-distance license, for example, requires TD to make investments in network infrastructure. Similarly, SFR's license obligates it to provide nationwide coverage.

Third generation mobile UMTS licenses have been awarded by most European governments. On May 31, 2001, the ART decided that SFR could be awarded a UMTS license by the French government for 32.5 billion francs, barring a drop in the price decided by the French government.

Except for the way by which the unbundling of the local loop will be effectively provided by the incumbent French government, Vivendi Universal is not aware of any other material legislative or regulatory development that is likely to have a material effect on its telecommunications business.

Seasonality

Because of the nature of its operations and worldwide presence, Vivendi Universal's business is typically not subject to material seasonal variations.

Raw Materials

As for Vivendi Universal's music and film businesses, it purchases raw materials on a worldwide basis from numerous suppliers. It seeks to accumulate and maintain appropriate inventory levels, qualify new suppliers, and develop production processes that maximize its efficient use of raw materials. Vivendi Universal undertakes to secure strategic materials through medium-term and long-term contracts and it has not experienced difficulties in obtaining sufficient amounts of raw materials in recent years. It does not anticipate such difficulties in the future. The base raw material of many of its products is oil, and as such, the price of its raw materials is subject to major fluctuations in the price of oil. Such fluctuations in the price of its raw materials, however, does not materially affect the overall cost of its products. As for its publishing business, Vivendi Universal Publishing is mainly a publisher of books, magazines and CD-ROM. In all markets where Vivendi Universal Publishing operates, it obtains its supply of paper from local suppliers. The market for paper is global and subject to well-known cycles of volatility. Vivendi Universal Publishing does not anticipate that the globalization of its raw material suppliers will significantly impact its businesses.

ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES

General

Vivendi Universal effectively owns 63% of the share capital of Vivendi Environnement. Vivendi Environnement is divided into four major divisions, each with its own brand identity and area of specialty. Vivendi Water, which is comprised primarily of Compagnie Generale des Eaux, Vivendi Water Systems, and US Filter, specializes in water and wastewater treatment and systems operation;

Onyx specializes in waste management; Dalkia specializes in energy services (excluding the sale, production and trading of electricity); and Connex specializes in transportation services. Vivendi Environnement also owns 49% of the holding company that controls FCC and thus jointly manages Spain's leading environmental services company.

Traditionally, in the environmental management services industry, services have been provided in an uncoordinated manner, each by a different entity. A provider of energy services, for example, would not also offer water treatment or waste disposal services, nor would it integrate its services with those of a customer's other environmental service providers. Public authorities and industrial companies, moreover, have typically met many of their own environmental needs without looking to private firms that specialize in these areas. This situation has changed fundamentally in recent years, however, as private firms increasingly provide a wide range of integrated environmental management services to both public and private customers. In addition, as industrial companies have continued to expand their operations internationally, their need for an environmental management services provider with global reach has grown as well. Vivendi Environnement is leading an emerging trend toward the creation of comprehensive packages of large-scale, customized, integrated environmental management services to governmental and commercial clients.

Vivendi Environnement offers a wide variety of environmental services to public authorities and industrial, commercial and residential customers around the world. It is the leading global provider of these services, defined collectively as environmental management services. In an increasingly global, competitive, and deregulated marketplace, Vivendi Environnement is one of the few companies that can meet the needs of customers looking for a single provider to manage all of their environmental services. Vivendi Environnement offers tailored solutions, innovative, integrated packages customized to meet the needs of its customers, most often in the form of long-term contracts. Vivendi Environnement has been successfully anticipating new trends in a market that has changed significantly over the past 10 years. Greater awareness of human impact has led to stricter environmental standards. Both emerging and developed nations are being forced to deal with the consequences of urbanization in a context of limited public spending. Industrial customers are outsourcing their environmental services functions in order to focus on their core businesses.

Environmental Strategy

Vivendi Environnement's strategy is to use its broad range of services and extensive experience to capitalize on increased demand for reliable, integrated and global environmental management services. The major elements of this strategy are to:

- LEVERAGE ITS EXPERTISE, LEADING MARKET POSITIONS AND STRONG FINANCIAL POSITION TO DELIVER STRONG INTERNAL GROWTH.

Providing environmental services has been the core business of Vivendi and then Vivendi Environnement for nearly 150 years. It has demonstrated technological, financial and management expertise and routinely enjoys success in bidding for contracts with industrial companies and public authorities. It also has a track record of using its technological and management expertise to deliver high quality service while reducing costs and intends to use its broad range of expertise and experience to take advantage of the increasing demand for privatized and out-sourced environmental management services.

- DEVELOP UNIQUE, INTEGRATED, MULTI-SERVICE OFFERINGS.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Vivendi Environnement intends to integrate its environmental operations to meet increasing demand for comprehensive environmental management services. Vivendi Environnement expects that industrial companies will increasingly seek a single "one-stop" environmental management services provider that coordinates the performance of many of their non-core activities.

- ACHIEVE AND MAINTAIN BEST-IN-CLASS PERFORMANCE IN EACH OF ITS BUSINESS SEGMENTS BY INVESTING IN TECHNOLOGY AND PERSONNEL.

The projects Vivendi Environnement undertakes require extensive technical know-how and excellent management capabilities. Vivendi Environnement invests heavily in both technology and personnel to ensure that it delivers the highest quality environmental services possible. Its goal is to achieve and maintain best-in-class service across its business segments.

- SEIZE OPPORTUNITIES ARISING FROM ITS WORLDWIDE REACH.

Because Vivendi Environnement's operations span the globe, it can offer multinational industrial customers uniform service quality and centralized environmental services management. It is one of the only environmental services companies with the ability to offer services on a worldwide basis. Its world-wide presence also allows it to quickly seize opportunities to enter fast-growing markets for environmental management services in countries outside of Western Europe and North America. The extensive experience it has acquired in dealing with a wide variety of legal and political environments facilitates its entry into those countries.

- FOCUS ON HIGH VALUE-ADDED ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES.

Vivendi Environnement intends to focus on providing high value-added environmental services and to limit its exposure to low-margin commodity supply businesses. This focus will also enable Vivendi Environnement better to take advantage of its core strength: its ability to provide creative, customized, integrated environmental services to clients with large, geographically diverse and complex operations.

- MAKE OPPORTUNISTIC ACQUISITIONS TO EXPAND ITS SERVICE OFFERINGS AND GEOGRAPHIC REACH.

Vivendi Environnement intends to acquire environment-related companies when the opportunity to do so on favorable terms arises. The purpose of these acquisitions will be to expand the portfolio of services it can offer clients and to extend its geographic reach. Vivendi Environnement believes that successful acquisitions in key areas will significantly enhance its ability to provide high value-added services in growing markets.

Environmental Services Business Segments

Vivendi Environnement is the world's leading provider of environmental management services in terms of revenue. It believes that it offers a more comprehensive array of environmental services than any other company in the world. Vivendi Environnement has the expertise, for example, to supply water to, and recycle the water used in, a customer's facility, collect, sort and treat waste generated in the facility, heat and cool it, optimize the industrial processes used in it and maintain it, all in an integrated service package designed to address the customer's unique circumstances. Vivendi Environnement can provide these services to a customer in any combination it desires. Vivendi Environnement can provide a similarly broad range of services, including transportation network management, to public authorities.

Water

Vivendi Environnement, through its wholly owned subsidiary, Vivendi Water, is the world's leading provider of outsourced and privatized water and waste water treatment services and systems. Vivendi Water's three main subsidiaries are Compagnie Generale des Eaux, which is the leading water and waste water services company in Europe and has operations worldwide, US Filter, North America's leading water services and equipment company, and Vivendi Water Systems, a leading designer and provider of water systems.

Municipal and Industrial Outsourcing. The focus of Vivendi Water's water business is on the management and operation of water and waste water treatment and distribution systems for public authorities and industrial companies. Vivendi Water provides integrated services that cover the entire water cycle, from collection from natural sources and treatment to storage and distribution. Its activities include the design, construction, operation and maintenance of large-scale, customized potable water plants, waste water treatment and re-use plants, desalination facilities, potable water distribution networks and waste water collection pipelines, as well as the provision of water purification-related services to end users. Vivendi Water's design and construction services are provided by its water treatment systems and equipment operations.

Vivendi Water and its predecessor have provided outsourced water services in Europe for more than 150 years and uses its experience to capitalize on the worldwide trend towards privatization of municipal water and waste water services. In the public sector, Vivendi Water concentrates on non-regulated outsourcing markets -- markets which better allow it to take advantage of its expertise in improving the efficiency of water systems.

Through US Filter, Vivendi Water is also well positioned to meet industrial firms' rapidly growing demand for outsourced water services. It is leveraging that position to grow its industrial outsourcing business in North America, Europe and the Asia/Pacific region. For example, Vivendi Water recently entered into contracts with General Motors pursuant to which it, together with Trigen and Cinergy, will design, build and operate facilities that will provide electricity, water, waste water and compressed air for several General Motors factories in the United States over a fifteen-year period.

Water Treatment Systems and Equipment. Through US Filter and Vivendi Water Systems, Vivendi Water is the world's leading designer and manufacturer of water and waste water treatment equipment and systems for public authorities and private companies. It treats ground water, surface water and waste water using a wide range of separation processes and technologies and engineers customized systems to reduce or eliminate water impurities. Its recycle/re-use systems provide industrial customers with the ability to circulate treated water back into plant processes, thereby reducing water usage, operating costs and environmental damage.

Vivendi Water also designs, engineers, manufactures, installs, operates and manages standardized and semi-standardized water equipment and systems designed to treat water for particular industrial uses. The large number of installations Vivendi Water constructs and operates gives it a competitive advantage in terms of costs, performance and reliability, especially for services to private firms. For example, many manufacturing processes -- particularly those used in the food and beverage, pharmaceutical, microelectronics, paper, chemical processing and oil/petrochemical industries -- require treated water to improve product quality and reduce equipment degradation. Vivendi Water uses a broad range of physical, biological and chemical treatment technologies that can be combined and configured to treat water to a customer's individual specifications.

Through Sade and Bonna Sabla, subsidiaries of Generale des Eaux, Vivendi Water also constructs and repairs urban water distribution networks in France and around the world.

Bottled Water and Household Filtration Products. Through US Filter, Vivendi Water provides consumers in North America and Europe bottled water under the "Culligan" brand. Vivendi Water offers the same consumers a variety of point-of-entry and point-of-use water treatment products such as water softening, conditioning and filtration equipment. Vivendi Water purifies drinking water at over 140 company owned, franchised or licensed bottling locations and sells that water through over 720 independent and company-owned dealerships in the United States.

Vivendi Water provides water services and products to three types of customers: municipalities, industrial firms and consumers. Municipalities, primarily in Europe, accounted for 72% of its 2000 water revenue (E9.1 billion). Vivendi Water's significant contracts include ones to provide water-related services in Paris, Berlin, Lyon, Marseille, Budapest, Bucharest and Adelaide, Australia. In 2000, it won 35 new contracts with public authorities in France. It also won some of the largest contracts awarded in North America in 2000, including one, expected to generate $150 million in revenue over 15 years, to design, build and manage a water treatment plant in Tampa, Florida, and another, expected to generate $220 million over 20 years, to operate the first privatized wastewater treatment plant in Chicago. Vivendi Water also had 220 contracts with public authorities renewed in 2000, primarily in France.

Vivendi Water has approximately 40,000 industrial clients. Its major industrial clients include General Motors, Conoco, Hyundai and Danone. About two-thirds of its consumer customers are in North America, and the remainder are in Europe and Latin America.

Transactions and Developments. In August 2000, Vivendi Environnement sold the Kinetics Group, a subsidiary of US Filter, to a group of investors for a price of E0.5 billion, and used the proceeds of the sale to reduce its indebtedness. Vivendi Environnement has won a number of major contracts since the beginning of 2001, including one to design and build a chemical treatment unit and a sludge treatment unit for Millennium, a leading chemicals company. It has also won significant contracts to provide outsourced water services in Prague and Tangiers, Morocco.

Waste Management

Through Onyx and its participation in FCC, Vivendi Environnement is a global waste management leader -- the number one in Europe and the third largest in the world. Vivendi Environnement provides waste management services to 70 million people with operations in 35 countries on five continents. It has waste management contracts with approximately 4,000 municipalities and 250,000 industrial clients worldwide, the latter representing about 60% of its waste revenue. Its principal markets are Europe and North America. It also provides waste management services in the Asia/Pacific region and in Latin America. It conducts its waste operations in Latin America through Proactiva Medio Ambiente, a 50/50 joint venture with FCC.

Onyx is the only global operator present in all the major waste treatment segments -- solid, liquid, and hazardous waste, a unique multi-segment approach that enables Onyx to offer solutions tailored to each customer's specific needs. Onyx's core business consists of the collection, processing and disposal of municipal, commercial and industrial waste. Its waste activities fall into two broad categories: waste collection and related services and waste disposal and treatment.

Waste Collection and Related Services.

- Collection and Transfer. Vivendi Environnement collects waste from residences and communal depositories and from industrial sites. It transports this waste to transfer stations, recycling and treatment centers or directly to disposal sites. Solid waste consolidated at transfer stations is usually compacted for transport to disposal sites.

- Recycling. Recycling generally involves the collection of paper, cardboard, glass, plastic, wooden and metal waste that customers either separate into different containers or commingle with other recyclable materials. Onyx recycles approximately 4.8 million metric tons of solid waste each year. It owns 151 sorting and recycling units. It sells recyclable material to intermediaries or directly to industrial clients. Sorting and recycling are becoming larger components of the environmental management services provided to industrial companies. It is a European leader in recycling waste paper and cardboard and has substantial waste paper recycling operations in the United States as well.
- Commercial and Industrial Cleaning. Vivendi Environnement conducts its commercial and industrial cleaning operations primarily under the brand "Renosol". It cleans, among other things, offices, train stations, subways, airports, museums and shopping centers. It also cleans industrial sites, primarily auto manufacturing and food processing plants, offering specialized services such as high-pressured cleaning, clean-room cleaning and tank cleaning.
- Liquid Waste Management. Vivendi Environnement's liquid waste management operation focuses principally on pumping and transporting liquid effluent associated with water treatment sewage networks and oil residues to treatment centers.
- Street Cleaning. Vivendi Environnement provides mechanized street cleaning services for public authorities, including authorities in London, Paris, Madrid, Buenos Aires and Madras, India.

Waste Disposal and Treatment.

- Non-Hazardous Solid Waste. Onyx disposes of non-hazardous solid waste by depositing it in landfills, by incinerating it at incineration plants or through composting.
- Landfill Disposal. Onyx disposes of non-hazardous solid waste in 119 different landfills. It has developed expertise in waste treatment methods that minimize emission of liquid or gaseous pollutants, allowing it to manage landfills under strict environmental regulations. At some landfills, Onyx recycles biogas by converting it into energy. It primarily relies on landfill disposal for industrial solid waste. For municipal waste, it uses landfill disposal, incineration and composting.

- Waste-to-Energy and Incineration. Onyx uses the 83 waste-to-energy and incineration plants it operates to incinerate waste, the majority of which is municipal waste. At its waste-to-energy plants, it uses the heat created by incinerating waste to generate energy. It sells this energy principally to district thermal networks or electricity providers. It often uses incineration as its primary method of waste disposal in densely populated areas where landfill space is scarce.
- Composting. Onyx composts waste at its 62 composting production units. It then sells a portion of the composted waste for use as fertilizer.
- Hazardous Waste. Onyx also treats hazardous waste. Eighty percent of its business in this category comes from the chemical, petrochemical and metallurgy industries, primarily in the United States, France and the United Kingdom. Onyx collects hazardous waste from customers and transports it, usually in specially constructed containers, tankers or semi-trailers, and treats it at one of 23 treatment facilities. Onyx's principal methods for treating hazardous waste are: incineration for organic liquid waste, solvents, salted water and sludge; solvent recycling; stabilization of residues followed by disposal in specially-designed landfills; and physical-chemical treatment for inorganic liquid waste.

Contracts with industrial customers accounted for approximately 60% of Onyx's 2000 waste revenue. Onyx provides integrated waste management services which can include solid, liquid and hazardous waste management to companies including Ford, General Motors, Renault, Michelin, Rhodia, Motorola and

Intel. It also designs, builds and operates integrated solid waste disposal, treatment and recycling systems for governmental authorities.

Throughout the world, Onyx's multi-segment abilities are a significant asset when dealing with local authorities seeking a service provider with expertise in construction, operation, and management to ensure quality public service in household waste collection and treatment. Since the beginning of 2000, Onyx has won a number of major contracts with governmental authorities around the world including contracts to provide waste services in central Singapore, Alexandria, Egypt, Fort Myers, Florida and Tai-Tung, Taiwan. In France, it won a contract in Saumur to construct and operate, for a 20-year period, a waste-to-energy plant. In addition, it won contracts to provide waste collection and sorting services in four of Paris' twenty districts.

Transactions and Developments. In 2000, Onyx continued its development in the United States with the acquisition of landfills, transfer stations and hauling routes from Allied Waste and the remaining 49% of Waste Management's interests in their joint venture for hazardous waste and industrial services. It also purchased from Waste Management waste operations in Mexico and Brazil, and waste operating licenses in Hong Kong where it has now a leading position.

Energy

Through Dalkia, Vivendi Environnement is a leading energy management services provider in the rapidly growing European energy services market. Dalkia provides energy management services in 26 countries. It also offers a wide range of industrial utilities and facilities management services. Demand for outsourced industrial utilities and facilities management, almost non-existent ten years ago, has grown significantly.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Formerly focused mainly on French local authorities, Dalkia's customer base is now balanced between public and private-sector customers. Dalkia is becoming increasingly international in scope. Dalkia's primary markets are France, UK, and Central and Eastern Europe. Dalkia provides the following services:

Energy management. Energy management consists of operating heating and cooling systems to provide comfortable living and working environments and redesigning and operating existing energy systems to maximize their efficiency. Dalkia manages some 55,000 heating systems in France and 10,000 elsewhere in Europe. It provides integrated energy services, including in most cases system construction and improvement, energy supply, system management and maintenance, to about 40,000 public, industrial, commercial and residential customers.

Dalkia is also Europe's leading operator of large urban district heating and cooling systems. Dalkia does not ordinarily own the systems it operates. In most cases, public authorities own the systems but delegate to Dalkia the responsibility of building, managing, maintaining and repairing them. The systems Dalkia operates heat and cool a wide variety of public and private facilities, including schools, hospitals, office buildings and residences. Dalkia currently manages more than 250 district heating and cooling systems in Europe, mainly in France, the United Kingdom, Germany, and Central and Eastern Europe. In France, it operates 186 district heating and cooling systems, that is about half of those in existence. It is expanding rapidly in Central Europe. Throughout Central and Eastern Europe, it has set up a number of energy services companies, in many cases in cooperation with the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Dalkia offers innovative multi-energy and remote management solutions to ensure cost-effectiveness, reliability and environmental protection. When practicable, it uses alternative energy sources such as geothermal energy, biomass (organic material), heat recovered from household waste incineration, process heat (heat produced by industrial processes) and thermal energy produced by cogeneration projects.

Dalkia has become a European leader in cogeneration (the simultaneous production of electricity and heat) and on-site power production. It offers decentralized energy production, cogeneration, local mini-generation, and renewable power generation using the heat and electricity produced by biomass or gas emissions from household waste. Dalkia leads the French market in cogeneration with a market share of approximately 25% at the end of 2000. When the agreement with EDF (see "-- Transactions and Developments" above) is fully implemented, it expects its market share to rise approximately 40%.

Industrial Utilities. Dalkia is a leading provider of industrial utilities services in France and the United Kingdom. It supplies complete, customized services, integrating facilities construction, steam and compressed air production and distribution, and site maintenance and modernization and has also developed recognized expertise in the analysis of industrial processes, productivity improvement and preventive maintenance.

Facilities Management. In a further response to the increasing popularity of outsourcing, Dalkia has recently added facilities management to its portfolio of services. The support services it offers range from electrical and mechanical equipment maintenance to secretarial services.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Dalkia provides energy services to both public and private customers. Its public customers include authorities in suburban Paris, Lyon, Nice, Ostrava in the Czech Republic and Bratislava in the Slovak Republic. Its industrial customers include international groups such as Eurolysine (Ajinomoto group), Michelin, Renault, Smurfit, Solvay and Unilever. Dalkia facilities management customers include public institutions like the European Parliament and private firms like Alstom, Bull and Phillips. The primary market for its energy services is Europe. Latin America is potentially an important market for its facilities management business, as is the Asia/Pacific region for its heating system activities.

Transactions and Developments. In December 2000, Vivendi Environnement entered into an agreement with Electricite de France, or EDF, pursuant to which Dalkia has begun to consolidate its energy operations with those of EDF. As European energy markets continue to deregulate, Vivendi Environnement and EDF believe that their customers increasingly demand comprehensive energy solutions that combine power generation and energy services. Together Vivendi Environnement and EDF can provide such integrated services, mainly to large industrial firms. The partnership with EDF will allow Vivendi Environnement to offer public and private-sector customers innovative, comprehensive solutions drawing on the two companies' complementary expertise.

Pursuant to Vivendi Environnement's agreement with EDF, EDF acquired in December 2000 and January 2001 a 28% stake in Dalkia Holding, Dalkia's direct parent, in exchange for approximately E850 million. In early 2001, EDF acquired an additional 6% interest in exchange for contributing one of its subsidiaries to Dalkia Holding. In addition, Dalkia Holding purchased certain energy services operations of EDF for E103 million, and EDF purchased interests in two Dalkia Holding subsidiaries for a total of E627 million. As the deregulation process continues and limits on EDF's ability to provide energy services are further removed, Vivendi Environnement has agreed that EDF's stake in Dalkia Holding will eventually rise to 50%.

Vivendi Environnement believes that the EDF agreement will give Dalkia the resources it needs to become the European leader in energy and technical services and gives it an improved set of assets with which to meet its customers' needs, notably in industry, and thus gives the company a significant lead over the competition.

In May 2001, Onyx and Dalkia won a 30-year contract to provide sanitation, recycling and energy services for the city of Sheffield in the United Kingdom. The contract is expected to generate total revenue of E2 billion.

Transportation

Through Connex, Vivendi Environnement is a leading European private operator of local and regional passenger transportation services. With 40,000 employees serving over 4,000 communities worldwide, Connex and its subsidiaries transport over one billion passengers per year by rail and by road. Connex provides integrated transportation solutions involving bus, train, maritime, tram and other networks. It expanded to new markets, for example in Spain, and reinforced its inter-city and road transportation activities by acquiring a significant portion of Via GTI's operations and assets.

Connex operates road and rail passenger transportation networks under contract with national, regional and local transit authorities. The public authority with which it contracts generally owns the infrastructure it uses; the authority also typically establishes schedules, routes and fare structures for the networks that Connex operates and manages. The fares Connex charges passengers on transportation networks are usually insufficient to cover its costs; consequently, the public authority typically provides Connex a guaranteed minimum payment or pays a subsidy. Connex seeks to increase profitability by reducing its operating costs and increasing traffic through improvements in system speed and reliability, service customization and vehicle comfort and safety. It also tries to reduce costs by rationalizing previously government-run operations.

Urban Transportation. Connex operates a number of "right-of-way" transit systems, which are systems in which vehicles travel on dedicated lines separated from ordinary automobile traffic, and provides integrated transportation products and services in urban areas. Connex is responsible for driving, inspecting, cleaning and providing security on the vehicles it operates, marketing, providing customer service, and maintaining, cleaning and providing security in the stations on its networks. Its urban transportation services fall into three broad categories: right-of-way system operation, alternative services and integrated services.

- Right-of-Way System Operation. Connex operates tram and light rail lines in cities including Stockholm, Sydney and Rouen and Saint-Etienne in France. Connex also operates a frequent-service bus system in Bogota, Colombia and is developing innovative "tram-on-tires" system in Nancy, France that combines the flexibility of buses with the high speed of trams.
- Bus Networks. Connex also operates a number of bus networks that are not part of right-of-way systems. It is the exclusive bus operator in cities including Nice, Bordeaux, Nancy and Toulon, as well as 40 other cities in France, and operates lines in cities including London, Stockholm, Frankfurt and Warsaw.
- Alternative Services. In a number of cities, Connex provides innovative, non-traditional transportation services in situations where conventional services would be inefficient. For example, it provides transportation-on-demand services such as "Creabus", a minibus tracked by a global positioning system (GPS) that replaces large buses during off-peak hours, and systems that use small electric cars to serve urban areas that are otherwise restricted to pedestrians.
- Integrated Services. In many cities, Connex provides combinations of bus, tram, metro and train services on an integrated basis using unified ticketing systems. In Stockholm, for instance, it operates a metro, three tram lines and 20% of the bus network, all as part of a single system. In other cities, Connex provides unimodal services that are integrated into a system served by multiple operators. Connex provides such integrated services in areas including suburban Paris, London, Sydney and Dusseldorf.

Regional Transportation. Connex provides regional transportation services through the operation of road and rail networks. As with urban transportation services, it is responsible for operating, maintaining and providing security on the vehicles and stations it uses in regional networks, as well as for ticket sales and customer service.

Connex's most significant rail networks are in the United Kingdom, Germany, France and Australia. In the United Kingdom, it operates regional rail networks serving the London suburbs and southern England through its subsidiaries Connex South Central (under a contract that expires in May 2003) and Connex South Eastern (under a contract that expires in October 2011). In 2000, its subsidiary Connex Transport UK participated in the tender for the renewal and extension of the franchise for the network operated by Connex South Central. Connex Transport UK was short-listed, but was not awarded the contract. Connex Transport UK is currently preparing offers for a number of other contracts in the United Kingdom that are expected to be up for tender in the near future. In regional road transportation, Connex operates networks including France, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Belgium and the Czech Republic.

Freight. Connex is also beginning to develop rail freight operations, primarily in France and Germany. It intends to expand these operations significantly in order to leverage its industrial client base for other environmental services and to implement Vivendi Universal's strategy of providing a comprehensive array of such services to industrial customers. Connex provides rail freight services primarily through the following three activities:

- Regional Freight Networks. Connex operates a number of regional freight trains for customers including the French national railroad, SNCF.
- Management of Private Branch Lines. Connex manages branch lines for customers in the automobile, petrochemical and refining industries that have plants connected to a national rail network. Facilities served include the Eisenach Opel plant in Thuringia, Germany, the Bitterfeld chemical complex in Saxony-Anhalt, Germany and approximately 40 industrial sites in France.
- Multimodal Transportation. In 2000, Connex began providing "multimodal" shipping services, for example, shipment of freight in containers that can be carried by either trains or trucks. Daily multimodal service between Paris and Milan began in October 2000, following the acquisition of an interest in multimodal operator TAB. Service between Stuttgart and Mannheim, Germany began in February, 2001.

In France, governmental authorities typically own the buses used on urban networks and lease them to Connex under the applicable operating contract. However, Connex usually owns the motorcoaches used on regional road networks. In the other countries in which it operates, Connex typically owns the buses and motorcoaches used in both urban and regional road networks. With regard to rail networks, Connex usually rents, rather than owns, the trains it uses.

The vast majority of Connex transportation customers are the national, regional and local public authorities responsible for providing public transit services. Connex operates 26 rail networks, 236 road networks, 20 integrated networks and four tram systems that carry, in the aggregate, more than one billion passengers a year.

Transactions and Developments. In 2000, Connex purchased from Via GTI Group, a leader in transportation in France, operations holding a number of contracts in inter-urban transportation in France, Spain and Germany. This acquisition provided it with additional revenue of E236 million in 2000. It also sold its interest in the Barraqueiro Group, a Portuguese passenger transportation company, to its co-shareholder, Barraqueiro SGPS, for E50 million.

Vivendi Environnement has agreed to sell its operations associated with the Connex South Central contract to Govia for 30 million British pounds and to withdraw from the contract (which was scheduled to expire in May 2003). This sale, which is subject to regulatory approval, would reduce Vivendi Environnement's revenue, as it currently generates revenue of E500 million per year from the contract. Vivendi Environnement agreed to the sale because it believes its capital and the efforts of its management will be better employed in connection with projects with which it expects to have a long-term involvement. Moreover, it is possible that its capital expenditure requirements will rise modestly in 2001, as there is a trend among some governmental authorities toward requiring private operators to make some investments upon the commencement of a new contract.

FCC

FCC, a public company listed on the Madrid Stock Exchange, is one of Spain's largest companies. Its market capitalization was E3.376 billion as of June 26, 2001. FCC operates in a number of different environmental and construction-related industries. In October 1998, to exploit the growing demand for integrated environmental management services, Vivendi Universal acquired a 49% interest in the holding company that owns 56.5% of FCC. In December 1999, Vivendi Universal transferred its interest in this holding company to Vivendi Environnement. Another shareholder owns the remaining 51% of the holding company.

126

FCC's main activities are:

- construction, which represented 46% of its overall 2000 revenue;
- waste and water services, which represented 31% of its 2000 revenue; and
- cement production, which represented 15% of its 2000 revenue.

FCC also manufactures urban fixtures, manages car parks, provides airport handling and vehicle inspection services, buys and sells real estate and, through its approximately 80% holding in Grucysca, participates in the industrial logistics and other services sectors. On July 2000, as part of its international expansion, Vivendi Environnement consolidated most of its water and waste treatment businesses with FCC's operations in Latin America and the Caribbean in Proactiva.

FCC's services include:

Waste and Water Services. FCC is the leading waste management company and the second largest water and waste water treatment company in Spain, where it conducts the bulk of its operations. FCC collects, processes and disposes of household waste, providing the public authorities responsible for waste collection and disposal a full range of waste management services. FCC provides waste management services to approximately 1,500 municipalities and 21 million people in Spain. It also supplies drinking water to 6 million people in Spain and treats waste water for 9 million.

FCC's water and waste water treatment activities cover the full cycle of water treatment, including water treatment and distribution. In 1999, FCC acquired Vivendi Water's Spanish operations, doubling its market share in this sector.

Construction. FCC is one of the five leading construction companies in Spain. FCC's projects include the construction of roads, high-speed railway lines, airports, offices, commercial centers and residential homes.

Cement Production. FCC produces cement through its 49% interest in Portland Valderrivas which controls Cementos Portland, Spain's second-largest cement maker. It began to expand internationally with its 1999 acquisition of Giant Cement in the United States. FCC's cement production is now approximately 80% in Spain and 20% in the United States.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Under the terms of an option agreement dated October 6, 1998 between Vivendi Universal and the other shareholder in the holding company through which Vivendi Environnement holds its stake in FCC, the other shareholder has an option, exercisable between April 18, 2000 and October 6, 2008, to sell Vivendi Universal its 51% interest in the holding company. The agreement also provides for mutual rights of first refusal on any transfers of shares in the holding company to a third party. Additionally, the other shareholder has a call on the shares of the holding company through which Vivendi Environnement owns its interest in FCC that becomes exercisable in the event Vivendi Universal ceases to hold a majority of the capital of Vivendi Environnement.

FCC is focusing on developing its core businesses in order to boost its market share, particularly in services, which are not cyclical, for which FCC has recognized references and capabilities. At the same time, FCC has been making targeted investments in opportunities offering new technologies. In conjunction with Vivendi Telecom International, Vivendi Universal's wholly owned subsidiary, FCC owns 31.28% of Xfera Moviles, which has been awarded a UMTS mobile phone licence in Spain.

In 2000, Proactiva, which provides 29 million people with waste services and 16 million with their entire water cycle, won a contract to manage Bogota's waste storage centre. It will also manage water systems for Catamarca, Argentina for the next 30 years.

Competition

General

Most markets for environmental services are very competitive and are characterized by technological and regulatory change and experienced competitors. Competition in each of the markets Vivendi Environnement serves is primarily on the basis of the quality of the products and services provided, reliability, customer service, financial strength, technology, price, reputation and experience in providing services, adapting to changing legal and regulatory environments, and managing employees accustomed to working for public sector entities or non-outsourced divisions of commercial enterprises. In each of the markets in which Vivendi Environnement operates, its competitive strengths are its high level of technological and technical expertise, its financial position, its geographical reach and its experience in providing environmental management services, managing privatized and outsourced employees and meeting regulatory requirements.

With regard to integrated, large-scale environmental management services in particular, Vivendi Environnement's competitors include Suez and RWE and its primary competitive strength is its demonstrated ability to provide innovative, integrated environmental services that are tailored specifically to the needs of individual clients and offered on a global basis. Vivendi Environnement anticipates that other enterprises that compete with it in individual environmental sectors will, in the coming years, seek to expand their activities to become integrated environmental management services providers.

Water

Vivendi Water is the world's leading private provider of water services to municipalities and industrial firms, its principal competitors being Suez (through its water business Ondeo), RWE (through its UK subsidiary Thames Water), Anglian Water, Severn Trent and Saur. It has leading positions in the European and North American markets, and a strong basis for growth in Latin America and the Asia/ Pacific region, especially Australia and China. Vivendi

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Water is a leading competitor in the rapidly growing industrial outsourcing market. It also has a leading position in the highly fragmented water equipment market.

Waste Management

Vivendi Environnement's waste management operations are carried out mainly in Europe, where it is the market leader in the collection and disposal of household, commercial, industrial and hazardous waste. Its main pan-European competitor is Suez. It ranks among the top providers of household, commercial and industrial waste management services in the United Kingdom, along with Suez, Biffa, Cleanaway and Shanks. Onyx has strong market positions in Norway, Ireland, Switzerland and Portugal. It has also expanded its presence in Israel, where it now has a leading position and is the only provider of a full range of services.

Vivendi Environnement has taken significant steps toward establishing its competitive position in North America through the acquisition in 1999 of Superior Services, Inc., which provides household and industrial waste collection and disposal services to customers in 12 states, and through Onyx Environmental Services and Onyx Industrial Services, which provide hazardous waste and industrial services, respectively, in the United States and Canada. Vivendi Environnement's major competitors in the United States include Waste Management, Allied Waste, Republic Services and Safety Kleen.

Vivendi Environnement's Latin American operations are concentrated in Brazil, Venezuela, Mexico, Colombia, Argentina and Chile, where its primary competition is from a variety of local companies and SITA (a subsidiary of Suez). It plans to expand its activities in Latin America through Proactiva. Vivendi Environnement is among the market leaders in the Asia/Pacific region where its main competitors are various local companies, Cleanaway and Suez.

Energy Services

Vivendi Environnement's traditional competitor in district thermal management is Suez through its subsidiary Elyo. It increasingly faces competition from large European gas and electricity companies such as RWE, E.on, Texas Utilities and Power Gen, especially for large district heating contracts in Eastern and Central Europe. Its competitors in cogeneration consist primarily of large utilities companies such as RWE, E.on, Texas Utilities, Endesa, National Power and Power Gen. It competes primarily with large firms such as Honeywell and Johnson Control for facilities management business.

Transportation

Vivendi Environnement has a 20% share of the privately run passenger transportation market in France, 17% of the privately run rail market in the United Kingdom, and 22% of the privately run passenger road transportation market in Scandinavia.

Most privately operated passenger transportation companies serve a limited geographic area. Vivendi Environnement's major competitors are those companies that, like it, provide passenger transportation services in a number of different countries. Its competitors include Stagecoach, its principal European competitor, National Express, First Group, Arriva and Go Ahead in the United Kingdom and Kedis and Transdev in France. It anticipates that new competitors may seek to enter the market, including civil engineering companies, rolling stock manufacturers and government-owned operators seeking to expand into contiguous regions.

FCC

FCC is the leading private provider of waste management services in Spain, with a share of the overall market (the public and privatized markets combined) for waste management services of approximately 43% and a share of privatized market of approximately 70%. Its primary competitor in this market is Cespa. After Aguas de Barcelona, FCC is the leading private operator in the water and waste water treatment market in Spain, with a market share of 15%.

The cement production sector in Spain is relatively concentrated. FCC is the only major Spanish competitor, with approximately 17% of the Spanish market. Its main competitors are Spanish branches of multinational cement manufacturers such as Cemex, Holderbank and Lafarge.

The construction market in Spain has recently undergone a process of consolidation. Five major competitors, one of which is FCC, have emerged. With numerous small companies and a number of larger international companies vying for business, however, the market remains competitive.

Research and Development

Research and development is a critical component of Vivendi Environnement's ongoing effort to provide its customers with cost-effective and environmentally sound products and services. Vivendi Environnement has 11 research facilities throughout the world, staffed by a total of 500 scientists and other researchers.

In order to provide its customers with the highest quality drinking water, as well as with cost-effective water treatment solutions, Vivendi Environnement conducts research on water treatment and distribution primarily at its laboratories in Paris, Lyon and Rennes in France, Watford in Great Britain, Adelaide in Australia, Berlin in Germany, Rothschild in Wisconsin, and in situ at its different water treatment plants throughout the world. In 1999, it set up new water research centers in Australia and North America. In 2000, in cooperation with a number of German universities and Berliner Wasser Betriebe, it established a "competence center" in Berlin that is designed to develop international research and technical support programs. Through Anjou Recherche, approximately 350 researchers are involved in water-related research projects. Current areas of research include membrane filtration, sea water desalination and disinfection of municipal waste water. Vivendi Environnement's researchers have developed the technology necessary for large-scale nanofiltration, a purification method that uses membranes with microscopic holes to remove impurities from water (at its Mery sur Oise water treatment plant near Paris) and submerged membrane filtration, a method using underwater purification filters (in the Ajaccio region of Corsica). As a result of this technology, Vivendi Environnement has been able to produce potable water from low quality sources.

Vivendi Environnement conducts a significant part of its waste management and treatment research and development through its Centre de Recherches pour l'Environnement, l'Energie et les Dechets, or CREED, research and testing center in Limay, France. With 65 engineers and researchers, and affiliated centers in the United Kingdom and Taiwan, CREED conducts approximately sixty research programs geared towards developing services for industrial firms and municipalities. Current areas of research include the development of new uses for recycled products, advanced sorting and recycling processes for municipal waste, improved techniques for treating land contaminated by heavy metals and other pollutants, new methods of detecting, measuring and removing dioxins and other pollutants released by incineration plants, more efficient waste-to-energy processes and the exploitation of energy created during effluent treatment and recycling processes. It has been awarded more than 60 patents as a result of its waste-related research.

Vivendi Environnement conducts its research and development efforts in energy at CREED as well. Its researchers work primarily to find ways of limiting the emission of greenhouse gases through the use of alternative energy sources such as fuel cells and wind-powered and photovoltaic generators. Other research projects in this area include the development of low-power cogeneration systems to heat public buildings and advanced heat storage systems.

Vivendi Environnement's research and development in passenger transportation includes the development of traffic management systems and new forms of local transportation to improve passenger service, GPS technology and real-time information transmission to improve transportation efficiency and security and new techniques to reduce vehicle emissions. Approximately 20 people are involved in its research efforts in the transportation services field.

Vivendi Environnement conducts a number of research efforts in cooperation with research centers and institutions of higher learning in France and elsewhere. In France, it has worked with the Pasteur Institute in Paris, the Ecole des Ponts et Chaussees, the Compiègne University of Technology, the Ecole Polytechnique, the Ecole Supérieure des Travaux Publics and the National Centre for Space Studies in areas such as recycling, dioxin analysis and treatment and waste combustibility. Partners outside France include Georgia Tech, the EPA, the Swiss federal water institute, the Australian Water Quality Centre, the Helsinki University of Art and Design, the Hong Kong Science and Technology University, Tsinghua University in China, the Asian Institute of Technology in Thailand and Berliner Wasser Betriebe in Berlin.

Regulation

Vivendi Environnement's businesses are subject to extensive, evolving and increasingly stringent environmental regulations in developing countries as well as in Western Europe and North America.

Water

The water and waste water treatment industries are highly sensitive to governmental regulation. In Europe and the United States, governments have enacted significant environmental laws at the national and local level in response to public concern over the environment. The quality of drinking water and the treatment of waste water are increasingly subject to regulation in developing countries as well, both in urban and rural areas.

The quality of water for human consumption is strictly regulated at the European Union level by the Directive on Drinking Water. The collection, treatment and discharge of urban as well as industrial waste water is governed by the Directive on Urban Waste Water. Public authorities also impose strict regulations upon industrial waste water that enters collection systems and the waste water and sludge from urban waste water treatment plants.

France has numerous laws and regulations concerning water pollution, as well as numerous governmental authorities involved in the enforcement of those laws and regulations. Certain discharges, disposals, and other actions with a potentially negative impact on the quality of surface or underground water sources require authorization or notification. For instance, public authorities must be notified of any facility that pumps underground water in amounts that exceed specified volumes. French law prohibits or restricts release of certain substances in water. Individuals and companies are subject to civil and criminal penalties under these laws and regulations.

In the United States, the primary federal laws affecting the provision of water and waste water treatment services are the Water Pollution Control Act of 1972, the Safe Drinking Water Act of 1974 and the regulations promulgated pursuant thereto by the EPA. These laws and regulations establish standards for drinking water and liquid discharges. Each U.S. state has the right to establish criteria and standards stricter than those established by the EPA and a number of states have done so.

Waste Management

In France, ministerial orders establish standards for disposal sites for household, industrial and hazardous waste. These orders govern, among other things, site selection and the design, construction and testing of disposal sites. Administrative officers can impose strict standards with regard to waste disposed of at a site. Hazardous waste is subject to strict monitoring at all stages of the disposal process.

At the European Union level, the framework for waste management regulation is provided by Directives that establish overall regulatory goals of waste prevention, collection, recycling and re-use. European Union member states must prohibit the uncontrolled discarding, discharge and disposal of waste. Entities that store or dump waste for another party must obtain an authorization from the competent authority that prescribes the types and quantities of waste to be treated, the general technical requirements to be satisfied and the precautions to be taken. Regulatory authorities frequently check compliance with those requirements. Additionally, specific European Union Directives govern the operation of landfill sites, the collection and disposal of hazardous waste, and the operation of municipal waste-incineration plants.

In numerous countries, waste treatment and disposal facilities are subject to laws that require Onyx to obtain permits to operate most of its facilities from municipal and regional authorities. The permitting process requires Onyx to complete environmental impact studies and risk assessments with respect to the relevant facility. Landfill operators must provide specific financial guarantees (which typically take the form of bank guarantees) that cover the monitoring and remediation of the site during, and up to 30 years after, its operation. Operators must comply with standards for landfills. Incineration plants are subject to rules that limit the emission of pollutants.

Vivendi Environnement's U.K. waste management operations and facilities are subject to the Environmental Protection Act of 1990, which requires local authorities to transfer their waste disposal operations either to a specialized waste disposal entity owned by the local authority or to a private contractor, and the Environment Act of 1995, which addresses pollution control, land waste and nuisances.

The major statutes governing Vivendi Environnement's waste management activities in the United States include the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, the Clean Water Act, the Toxic Substances Control Act, the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liabilities Act of 1980, as amended (also known as "Superfund"), and the Clean Air Act, all of which are administered either by the EPA or state agencies to which the EPA delegates enforcement powers. Each state in which Vivendi Environnement operates also has its own laws and regulations governing the generation, collection and disposal of waste, including, in most cases, the design, operation, maintenance, closure and post closure maintenance of landfills and other solid and hazardous waste management facilities. In order to develop and operate a landfill, transfer station, hazardous waste treatment/storage facility or other solid waste facility, Vivendi Environnement must typically undergo several difficult governmental review processes and obtain one or more permits that may not ultimately be issued.

In view of the fact that the waste management business is subject to risks of liability for property damage and personal injury caused by pollution and other hazards, Vivendi Environnement carries insurance policies covering what it believes to be the most important casualty risks. However, Vivendi Universal cannot provide assurance that the coverage provided by these policies will be sufficient to cover any liability to which Vivendi Environnement may be subject. See "Risk Factors" beginning on page 19.

Energy Services

Vivendi Environnement's energy-related activities in Europe (primarily the generation and delivery of thermal energy and independent power generation) are subject to an EU Directive that establishes emission limits for sulphur dioxide, nitrogen oxides and dust and regulates the construction of combustion plants.

The European Commission is considering an amendment to this Directive that, if adopted, would impose emission thresholds twice as strict as those currently in effect. The new thresholds would apply to all new installations put into operation after a date that is to be determined. Other existing Directives require the implementation of national emission ceilings for certain atmospheric pollutants such as sulphur dioxide, nitrogen oxide, volatile organic compounds and ammonia.

The use of gas and other combustible material in France is subject in some instances to a domestic natural gas tax. Energy produced by a cogeneration facility is exempt from this tax for a period of five years after the facility begins operations. The law providing for this exemption was renewed in 1999; any cogeneration plant Vivendi Environnement builds before 2004 will therefore be eligible for the exemption.

Transportation

Vivendi Environnement's transportation service activities are subject to a number of EU Directives that limit emissions from petrol and diesel engines and requires Vivendi Environnement to obtain certain permits. One Directive sets forth guidelines for the laws of the member states with respect to the emissions of gas pollutants from diesel engines used in vehicles. Another sets forth guidelines for the laws of the member states with respect to emissions of gas and particulate pollutants from internal combustion engines installed in mobile equipment other than road vehicle.

Contracts

General

The vast majority of Vivendi Environnement's contracts to provide individual environmental services are medium and long-term agreements with municipal and industrial clients. These contracts vary widely in terms of size, duration and the degree of responsibility and/or risk they impose. Some require to provide specific services on a one-time basis in exchange for a set fee; others give broad responsibility for the implementation of large, long-term projects. Some require to make substantial capital expenditures, in which case Vivendi Environnement generally bears considerable risks. Some of these contracts provide mechanisms through which particular risks -- for example, the risk that passengers on a transportation network will fall to an uneconomic level -- will be shared by the counterparty. Others provide for renegotiation of terms in the event of a material change in circumstances. The duration of a contract, which tends to increase with the level of responsibility and risk Vivendi Environnement assumes, is generally based on the time needed to depreciate the investment made, set in place an efficient organization and achieve the expected improvements in the service provided.

Contracts with governmental authorities

Vivendi Environnement has a number of contracts with governmental authorities, particularly in France. Contracts with governmental authorities often differ in a number of respects from contracts with private parties, especially in civil law countries. Governmental contracts for essential community services such as water supply, waste water treatment and household waste treatment typically obligate the private operator to provide a service to a given population, often on an exclusive basis, in accordance with operating conditions, including fees, that are defined by the governmental authority. The private operator also has a contractual relationship with services users, such as members of the public, but that relationship is defined by contractual terms established by the governmental authority.

There are number of features common to French governmental contracts, including provisions that (1) entitle the governmental authority to modify or terminate the contract unilaterally if the public interest so requires (in case of termination or modification, the governmental authority must fully compensate the private operator), (2) allow, in long-term contracts, periodic review to ensure the contract remains fair for both sides, and (3) grant the governmental authority the right to supervise how the public service is provided.

In Europe, most of the contracts with governmental authorities can be awarded only after a competitive bidding, where the selection criteria generally are price, investments candidates offer to make, candidate's experience and ability to provide high quality service while complying with applicable regulatory standards, and the candidates' ability to adapt to new regulatory standards.

Seasonality

Because of the nature of its operations and its worldwide presence, Vivendi Environnement's business is typically not subject to seasonal variations.

Raw Materials

Vivendi Environnement purchases raw materials on a worldwide basis from numerous suppliers. It seeks to accumulate and maintain a reserve inventory of raw materials and supplies, qualify new suppliers, and develop production processes in its own facilities. Vivendi Environnement undertakes to secure strategic materials through medium-term and long-term contracts and has not experienced difficulties in obtaining sufficient amounts of raw materials and supplies in recent years. It anticipates that it will be able to do so in the future. For example, the price of fuel has, in recent years, exhibited considerable volatility. Significant increases in fuel prices are possible in the future as a result of increased demand, greater coordination among oil-producing nations and other factors. Vivendi Environnement's operations historically have not been, and are not expected to be in the future, materially affected by changes in the price or availability of fuel or other raw materials, as its contracts typically contain provisions designed to compensate it for increases in the cost of providing its services.

Marketing Channels

Vivendi Environnement markets its products and services primarily to take advantage of its strong brands and reputation, and it offers a comprehensive range of environmental services to existing clients. It analyzes the environmental services needs of prospective and existing industrial and commercial customers and demonstrates to them how its services could improve the efficiency of their operations. The marketing efforts Vivendi Environnement directs toward public authorities come primarily in the form of bids it submits for contracts to provide public services. For more information regarding marketing channels used by each of Vivendi Environnement's business segments, see "Environmental Services Business Segments".

OTHER BUSINESSES

Real Estate

As part of its strategy of focusing on its core Media and Communications and Environmental Services businesses, Vivendi Universal has decided to withdraw from the real estate business. In order to facilitate this withdrawal, Vivendi Universal restructured Compagnie Generale d'Immobilier et de Services, or CGIS, its wholly owned real estate subsidiary, into two principal groups of companies: Nexity and Vivendi Valorisation. In July 2000, Vivendi Universal sold 100% of Nexity.

Vivendi Valorisation holds its remaining property assets, which include land and land development rights, commercial property (owned and leased) and loans extended to finance commercial property sales. Vivendi Universal holds these assets on its balance sheet at their current market value. The majority of these assets are associated with its past involvement in long-term residential and commercial property development projects. Given the complexity and the long-term nature of Vivendi Universal's contractual obligations in these projects, these assets cannot easily be sold. Vivendi Universal intends to divest these assets as and when opportunities arise. Nexity will manage the assets of Vivendi Valorisation pending their sale, pursuant to a services agreement.

Paris St.-Germain Club

Since 1991, CANAL+ has managed the Paris Saint-Germain (PSG) club, a leading French soccer club with over 30,000 season ticket holders. In 1997, CANAL+ acquired Geneva's Servette soccer team. CANAL+ believes that direct involvement in club management enables it quickly to identify and exploit emerging trends in sports rights management.

Retail Stores and Development of Entertainment Software

Universal Studios is involved in other businesses including the operation of retail gift stores and the development of entertainment software. It owns Spencer Gifts, Inc. which operates through three groups of stores: Spencer, DAPY and Glow gift shops. Spencer, DAPY and Glow sell novelties, electronics, accessories, books and trend driven products. In connection with the activities of Spencer Gifts, Inc., Universal Studios owns a building in New Jersey and leases approximately 715 stores in various cities in the U.S., Canada and the U.K. and a warehouse in North Carolina. The Spencer, DAPY and Glow stores compete with numerous retail firms of various sizes throughout the U.S., Canada and the U.K., including department and specialty niche-oriented gift stores.

Universal Studios owns approximately 27% of SEGA GameWorks L.L.C., which designs, develops and operates location-based entertainment centers. SEGA GameWorks currently owns and operates twelve such centers throughout the United States.

Universal Studios New Media, Inc. develops entertainment software including the Crash Bandicoot and Spyro game series, is responsible for the development and maintenance of Universal Studios' websites and manages its minority interest in Interplay Entertainment Corp., an entertainment software developer.

Spirits and Wine

In connection with the business combination of Vivendi, Seagram and Canal Plus, Vivendi Universal acquired Seagram's spirits and wine business. Seagram's spirits and wine business has global responsibility for all production, brand management and marketing, sales and distribution of Seagram beverage alcohol brands throughout more than 190 countries and territories. The portfolio includes Chivas Regal, Royal Salute and The Glenlivet Scotch Whiskies, Crown Royal and Seagram's V.O. Canadian Whiskies, Captain Morgan Rum, Seagram's 7 Crown American Blended Whiskey, Don Julio Tequila, Martell Cognacs, Seagram's Extra Dry Gin and Sterling Vineyards Wines. In December 2000, Vivendi Universal entered into an agreement with Diageo plc and Pernod Ricard S.A. to sell its spirits and wine business for $8.15 billion, an amount that is expected to result in approximate after-tax proceeds of $7.7 billion. See "Operating and Financial Review and Prospects -- Significant Transactions".

Production

Seagram's spirits and wine business operates distilleries and bottling facilities in 18 countries in North America, Latin America, Europe and Asia. Seagram's spirits aggregate daily distillation capacity approximates 253,000 U.S. proof gallons and aggregate daily bottling capacity approximates 275,000 standard cases. Seagram maintains large inventories of aging spirits in warehousing facilities located primarily in Canada, France, the United Kingdom and the United States. Such inventories aggregated approximately 500 million U.S. proof gallons at December 31, 2000. Additionally, Seagram's bulk wine inventory aggregated approximately 25 million wine gallons as of June 2001.

Seagram purchases commodity raw materials, such as molasses and base wine for German sparkling wines on the open market at prices determined by market conditions. Grains (corn, rye and malt) are sourced from a variety of channels, including annual contracts with a number of third-party providers. Seagram also participates in the bulk supply market as a buyer and seller of malt and grain spirits. Seagram's wines and cognacs are produced primarily from grapes grown by others. Cognac grapes are purchased based on a multi-year contract with flexibility for wines and new distillates. Grapes are, from time to time, adversely affected by weather and other forces, which occasionally limit production. Rolling contracts to secure a continued supply of oak casks also exist. Seagram acquires substantially all of its American white oak barrels (used for the storage of whisky during the aging period) from one supplier in the United States. Key packaging components such as glassware are purchased based on long-term agreements with strategic suppliers. Other packaging components are generally based on annual contracts with key suppliers. Fluctuations in the prices of these commodities have not had a material effect upon operating results. Seagram believes that its relationships with its various suppliers are good.

Marketing and Distribution

Spirits and wine has developed sales and distribution networks appropriate for each of its markets, including affiliate and joint venture distribution operations in 38 countries and territories and third-party distribution arrangements in other key markets.

In the United States, Seagram generally sells spirits, wines, coolers, beers and other low-alcohol beverages to two categories of customers. In 32 states and the District of Columbia, sales are made to approximately 335 wholesale distributors who also purchase and market other brands of distilled spirits, wines, coolers, beers and other low-alcohol beverages. In 18 "control" states (where the state of government engages in distribution), sales are made to state and local liquor boards and commissions; in certain of these states, sales of wines, coolers, beers and other low-alcohol beverages are also made to approximately 275 wholesale distributors. In Canada, sales are made exclusively to ten provincial and three territorial government liquor boards and commissions.

In addition to the United States and Canada, Seagram's affiliates and joint ventures are located in: Argentina, Belgium, Brazil, Chile, the People's Republic of China, Colombia, Costa Rica, the Czech Republic, the Dominican Republic, France, Germany, Greece, Hong Kong, Hungary, India, Israel, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Mexico, the Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Singapore, the Slovak Republic, South Africa, South Korea, Spain, Switzerland, Thailand, Turkey, the Ukraine, the United Kingdom, Uruguay and Venezuela. A significant portion of spirits and wine revenue comes from sales outside of North America. In addition to economic and currency risks, Seagram's foreign operations involve risks including governmental regulation, embargoes, expropriation, export controls, burdensome taxes, government price restraints and exchange controls.

Competition

The spirits and wine industry is highly competitive. Due to ongoing formation of multinational retailers and buying groups in Europe, all marketers in the industry have confronted severe pricing pressure across Europe. This has been heightened as a result of Wal-Mart's acquisitions in Germany and the United Kingdom. Euro-based multinational retailers and buying groups have also expanded into certain markets in Asia and Latin America. Additionally, the expansion of non-traditional distribution channels, e.g. eBusiness, has added a new dimension to the global marketplace. Diageo plc, which resulted from the merger of two of the largest spirits and wine companies, Grand Metropolitan plc and Guinness plc, continues to be the largest global player. However, the spirits and wine industry has continued to evolve through mergers and the formation of alliances, e.g. Maxxium, and with the reemergence of strong local and regional brand owners.

Seagram continues to address these competitive challenges by investing in brand equity building behind Seagram's core brands in key established and development markets. Seagram uses magazine, newspaper and outdoor advertising, as well as interactive marketing, to maintain and improve its brands' market position. Seagram also utilizes radio and television advertising, although the use of such advertising in connection with the sale of beverage alcohol is restricted by law or commercial practice in certain countries, including the U.S.

Regulation and Taxes

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Seagram's beverage alcohol business is subject to strict governmental regulation covering virtually every aspect of operations, including production, marketing, pricing, labeling, packaging and advertising. In the U.S., Seagram must file or publish prices for its beverage alcohol products in some states as much as three months before they go into effect.

In the U.S., Canada and many other countries, beverage alcohol products are subject to substantial excise taxes or custom duties and additional taxation by governmental subdivisions.

Interest in Dupont

At December 31, 2000, Seagram owned approximately 16.4 million shares of common stock of E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Company which had a market value of approximately $719 million as of such date.

PROPERTY, PLANTS AND EQUIPMENT

In connection with its music entertainment activities, Vivendi Universal owns manufacturing facilities in the United States, Germany and the United Kingdom and office buildings and warehouse facilities in various countries. In addition to its wholly owned facilities, Vivendi Universal also owns a manufacturing facility in the United States. Where it does not own property, it leases warehouses and office space around the world.

Universal Studios owns, develops and manages commercial buildings with approximately 3.3 million rentable square feet of office space in Universal City, including Universal Studios CityWalk, an integrated retail/entertainment complex that offers shopping, cinemas and entertainment; the 10 Universal City Plaza office building, which is occupied by Universal Studios or leased to outside tenants; and the Sheraton-Universal Hotel.

Vivendi Universal owns or has interests in hotels and other property and equipment in connection with its theme parks businesses as further described under "Business Overview -- TV & Film -- Recreation".

In connection with its environmental services businesses, Vivendi Environnement generally conducts its water, energy services and transportation operations at premises owned by its customers; as a result, Vivendi Environnement does not own any significant physical properties in connection with those operations. With regard to its waste management services, Vivendi Environnement owns or operates approximately 120 sorting, recycling and transfer facilities (not including waste paper facilities), 119 solid waste landfill sites and 83 incineration and waste-to-energy transformation facilities worldwide.

Vivendi Environnement is currently in the process of renovating a building located at 36-38 avenue Kleber, 75116, Paris, France for use as its headquarters building. Vivendi Environnement will lease the building for approximately E10.4 million per year. It expects to spend an additional E9 to 10 million renovating the building. The renovations are expected to be complete by May 2002. Vivendi Environnement will occupy approximately 15,000 square meters of the building, using it for offices for members of its management and senior managers of its principal subsidiaries.

Vivendi Universal has various commitments for the purchase of property, plant and equipment, materials, supplies and items of investment related to the ordinary conduct of business.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Vivendi Universal currently owns a significant number of patents in France, the United States and in various countries worldwide. Although Vivendi Universal believes that the patents associated with its various operations are of value, it does not consider any of them to be essential to its business.

Trademarks, copyrights and brand recognition are important to Vivendi Universal's businesses, particularly the Music, Publishing, TV & Film, Telecoms and Internet segments as well as trademarks related to the spirits and wine business. Vivendi Universal has registered its trademarks and copyrights with appropriate governmental authorities, and it believes that there is significant value associated with them. It is Vivendi Universal's practice to defend vigorously its intellectual property interests against infringement by third parties. With respect to trademarks in the waste management business, Vivendi Environnement arranged for protection of the "ONYX" trademark (the word and logo) in many countries around the world and has signed trademark licenses with a number of its subsidiaries.

INSURANCE

Each of Vivendi Universal's segments (Music, TV & Film, Publishing, Telecoms, Internet, and Environmental Services) are afforded protection by various types of property damage, business loss and civil liability insurance programs. These insurance programs are structured to address risks specific to each business segment and comply with legal regulations, requirements of customer contracts, public authorities and institutions providing financing. In addition to the insurance programs maintained for each business segment, Vivendi Universal maintains civil liability insurance programs of $400 million which provide protection for all segments.

Vivendi Universal also has directors and officers liability insurance that provides $200 million of protection for its officers and directors.

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICIES

While Vivendi Universal's operations and many of its products, services and technologies are aimed at protecting the environment, its activities impact the environment in negative ways as well. To minimize this impact, Vivendi Universal has undertaken to enhance the environmental performance of all its business sectors by implementing an environmental protection action plan. The first phase of the plan, for the period between 2000 and 2005, focuses on the following goals:

- Reducing direct carbon dioxide emissions of its world wide operations;
- Using water resources properly by increasing control over water losses,

creating improved waste water treatment systems and improving the average output rates of water distribution networks;

- Improving waste management techniques through recovery of biogas, improved treatment of leachates in landfill sites, the development of new recycling processes and improved treatment of incinerator plant emissions;
- Reducing visual impacts of Vivendi Universal's operations on the natural environment;
- Increasing the research and development budget for environmental services;
- Improving environmental management by increasing the number of employees certified under ISO 14001 and increasing spending on vocational training; and
- Developing and implementing of a global environmental management system to track and manage environmental impacts of its global operations.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

In the ordinary course of its business, Vivendi Universal and its subsidiaries and affiliates are, from time to time, named as a defendant in various legal proceedings. Vivendi Universal maintains comprehensive liability insurance and believes that its coverage is sufficient to ensure that it is adequately protected from any material financial loss as a result of any legal claims made against Vivendi Universal.

BT filed a request for arbitration against Vivendi Universal with the International Court of Arbitration on March 8, 2000, alleging, among other things, that Vivendi Universal breached the Cegetel shareholders' agreement by agreeing with Vodafone to establish a joint venture to develop and market Vizzavi. On November 9, 2000, the court issued a ruling rejecting that claim. The court also ruled, however, that if BT proves that the creation of Vizzavi harmed SFR, BT will be entitled, in its capacity as indirect shareholder of SFR, to compensation from Vivendi Universal. Vivendi Universal believes that there was no such harm and is vigorously defending the claim BT is pursuing upon that ground before the court.

On June 21, 2000, the French competition commission opened an investigation into the state of competition in drinking water and waste water treatment markets in France. On February 27, 2001, Compagnie Generale des Eaux was served with a complaint alleging that it had illicitly cooperated with its competitors in the course of bidding for certain water services contracts. In particular, the complaint alleged that, in order unlawfully to limit competition, Compagnie Generale des Eaux declined to bid for contracts that were also subject to bids by joint ventures Compagnie Generale des Eaux had formed with other water companies. Compagnie Generale des Eaux intends to respond to the complaint by explaining, on a case-by-case basis, its lawful reasons for declining to bid for the contracts in question. At this time, it is impossible to predict what financial penalties, if any, will be imposed in connection with this proceeding.

In December 1999, Vivendi entered into an investment agreement with Elektrim SA by which it acquired 49% of Elektrim Telekomunikacja Sp. Zoo, or Telco. Telco in turn holds 51% of PTC and 100% of Bresnam following the transfer of these stakes to Telco by Elektrim. In October 1999, Deutsche Telecom, or DT, commenced arbitration proceedings in Vienna alleging that Elektrim's purchase on August 26, 1999 of 13.9% of the PTC shares from four minority PTC shareholders

(which gave it a 51% controlling interest in PTC) violated the PTC shares that were part of those shares transferred to Elektrim on August 26, 1999. DT is seeking (1) a declaration that the transfer to Elektrim on August 26, 1999 was ineffective; (2) alternatively, an order requiring the transfer of 3.126% of PTC shares to DT; and/or (3) damages in an amount of $135 million. Under the terms of the investment agreement, Vivendi Universal may be liable for the first $100 million of any damages awarded against Elektrim. The hearing date for the arbitration has been set down for November 5, 2001.

CANAL+ is involved in two proceedings before the French competition commission in the field of film broadcasting rights. The first one was initiated by the French authorities in order to control that CANAL+ fully complied with the order pronounced against them in 1999 regarding pay-per-view rights. The second one was introduced by competitors alleging that CANAL+ and its pay per view subsidiary Kiosque restrict competition by acquiring film broadcasting rights on an exclusive basis.

On February 4, 1999, the Antitrust Division of the United States Department of Justice issued a civil investigative demand to Universal Studios, Inc. as well as to a number of other motion picture film distributors and exhibitors as part of a civil investigation into compliance with the consent decrees entered in U.S. v. Paramount Pictures, et al. and various other practices in the motion picture distribution and exhibition industry. The civil investigative demand required the distributors and exhibitors to provide documents and other information to the Antitrust Division. The scope of the investigation and the extent, if any, to which it may relate to Universal is not known at this time. Universal responded to the government's demand in February 2000. The Antitrust Division has taken no further action in this matter.

On December 15, 1999, an action was filed in the Superior Court for the County of Los Angeles entitled KirchMedia GmbH & Co. KGaA v. Universal Studios, Inc. and Universal Studios International B.V., case No. BC 221645. The plaintiff is a German company that entered into several agreements with Universal in 1996 involving the licensing of film and television programming. The agreements also required the plaintiff to allocate to Universal two channels on its German pay television service. Plaintiff alleges that it is entitled to terminate its agreements with Universal on the ground that certain decisions by European regulatory authorities have materially impaired its business and constitute events of "force majeure". Plaintiff also alleges that Universal has breached its obligations under the parties' licensing agreements by allegedly failing to provide plaintiff with the quality and/or quantity of film and television programming anticipated by plaintiff. Plaintiff asserted claims for declaratory relief, breach of contract, breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, and breach of fiduciary duty. Plaintiff sought an order requiring the return of all monies paid by plaintiff under the parties agreements, as well as purported damages in excess of $500,000,000. Plaintiff also sought punitive damages on its breach of fiduciary duty claims. On February 3, 2000, Universal filed a cross-complaint in this action alleging that KirchMedia had breached certain of its obligations under the parties' Channel Carriage Agreement and that certain entities related to KirchMedia were obligated to indemnify Universal for all damages sustained as a result of KirchMedia's breach of that agreement. On August 11, 2000, the Court granted Universal's motion for judgment on the pleadings on the ground that plaintiff's complaint did not state facts sufficient to constitute a claim. KirchMedia later filed an amended complaint, which Universal moved to dismiss. The Court granted Universal's motion to dismiss and KirchMedia's complaint has now been dismissed in its entirety. Universal has amended its cross-complaint to seek payments that KirchMedia has failed to make.

In July 1999, a small video retailer located in San Antonio, Texas, filed a lawsuit in the federal district court in San Antonio, entitled Cleveland, et al. v. Viacom, et al., Civil Action No. SA-99-CA-0783-EP, in the United States District Court for the Western District of Texas, San Antonio Division. The action alleges that the home video divisions of the major movie studios, including Universal Studios Home Video, Inc., have conspired with one another and with Blockbuster Inc., a video rental retailer, and with Viacom, Inc., in violation of the federal antitrust laws. The action was filed on behalf of a proposed class of all "independent" video retailers that compete with Blockbuster. Since its original filing, the complaint has gone through several substantive changes, including the substitution of new proposed class representatives, and the addition of claims arising under California law. The core allegation, however, has remained the same: plaintiffs allege that the studios have entered direct revenue sharing agreements with Blockbuster that include terms that are unavailable to independent video retailers, and that give Blockbuster an unfair competitive advantage. Plaintiffs seek monetary and injunctive relief. Plaintiffs filed a motion asking that the court certify the proposed class. Universal and the other defendants opposed the motion, arguing that the case is not amenable to class treatment. The Court denied plaintiffs' motion for class certification and the case is now proceeding as an individual, not a class, action.

Some of the same plaintiffs in the Texas case, along with others, filed, on January 31, 2001, a similar case in California, entitled Merchant, et al. v. Redstone, et al., a purported class action complaint, Case No. BC244270 in the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Los Angeles. This action makes essentially the same claims as are made in the Texas action, but seeks relief solely under California state law. Defendants have not yet responded to the complaint.

In June 2001, the European Commission served an Article 11 letter on each of the major motion picture distributors, including Universal Studios, Inc. The request for information is based upon complaints from consumers regarding DVD prices. As a result of these complaints, the Commission is undertaking an industry-wide assessment of pricing policies for DVDs. Universal Studios has not yet responded to the request.

On May 30, 1995, a purported retailer class action was filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California, entitled Digital Distribution Inc. d/b/a Compact Disc Warehouse v. CEMA Distribution, Sony Music Entertainment, Inc., Warner Electra Atlantic Corporation, Universal Music & Video Distribution, Inc. (formerly known as UNI Distribution Corp.), Bertelsmann Music Group, Inc. and PolyGram Group Distribution, Inc., No. 95-3596 JSL. The plaintiffs brought the action on behalf of direct purchasers of compact discs alleging that defendants, including Universal Music & Video Distribution, Inc. (formerly known as UNI Distribution Corp.), and Polygram Group Distribution, Inc., violated the federal and/or state antitrust laws and unfair competition laws by engaging in a conspiracy to fix prices of compact discs, and seek an injunction and treble damages. The defendants' motion to dismiss the amended complaint was granted and the action was dismissed, with prejudice, on January 9, 1996. Plaintiffs filed a notice of appeal on February 12, 1996. By an order filed July 3, 1997, the Ninth Circuit reversed the District Court and remanded the action. Upon reinstatement of this litigation by the Ninth Circuit, a number of related actions were filed, which all arise out of the same claims and subject matter. These related actions are captioned: Chandu Dani d/b/a Compact Disc Warehouse and Record Revolution, et al., v. EMI Music Distribution (formerly known as CEMA Distribution), Sony Music

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Entertainment, Inc.; Warner Elektra Atlantic Corporation, Universal Music & Video Distribution, Inc. (formerly known as UNI Distribution Corp.), Bertelsmann Music Group, Inc., and Polygram Group Distribution, Inc., No. CV 97-7226 (JSL), filed on September 30, 1997 in the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California; Third Street Jazz and Rock Holding Corporation, et al., v. EMI Music Distribution (formerly known as CEMA Distribution), Sony Music Entertainment, Inc., Warner Elektra Atlantic Corporation, Universal Music & Video Distribution, Inc., and Polygram Group Distribution, Inc., No. 97 Civ. 7764 LMM, filed on October 21, 1997 in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York; Nathan Muchnick, Inc., et al., v. Sony Music Entertainment, Inc., Polygram Group Distribution, Inc., Bertelsmann Music Group, Inc., Universal Music & Video Distribution, Inc. (formerly known as UNI Distribution Corp.), Warner Elektra Atlantic Corporation, and EMI Music Distribution, Inc., Capitol Records, Inc., No. 98 Civ. 0612, filed on January 28, 1998 in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York. The Digital Distribution, Chandu Dani, and Third Street Jazz matters had been set for trial on February 15, 2000. The trial date has been vacated and no new trial has been set.

On February 17, 1998, a purported consumer class action was filed in the Circuit Court for Cocke County, Tennessee, Civil Action NO., 24855 II, entitled Doris D; Ottinger, et al., V. EMI Music Distribution, Inc., Sony Music Entertainment, Inc., Warner Elektra Atlantic Corp., Universal Music & Video Distribution, Inc. (formerly known as UNI Distribution Corp.), Bertelsmann Music Group, Inc., and PolyGram Group Distribution, Inc. A motion to dismiss was filed on May 11, 1998 but was denied. The trial date of July 2, 2001 was vacated, and no new trial date has been set. In addition, a motion to limit the case to the residents of one state (Tennessee), rather than 17 has been filed. That motion was set for hearing March 30 and was granted. The judge set a date for a July hearing on the question of whether class certification is appropriate.

On or about July 25, 1996, Universal Music & Video Distribution, Inc. and PolyGram Group Distribution, Inc., or PGDI, were served with an antitrust civil investigation demand from the Office of the Attorney General of the State of Florida that calls for the production of documents in connection with an investigation to determine whether there "is, has been or may be" a "conspiracy to fix the prices" of compact discs or conduct consisting of "unfair methods of competition" or "unfair trade practices" in the sale and marketing of compact discs. No allegations of unlawful conduct have been made against Universal Musical & Video Distribution, Inc. or UMVD.

By letter dated April 11, 1997, the Federal Trade Commission, or FTC, advised Universal Music and Video Distribution Corp. (formerly Universal Music & Video Distribution, Inc.), or UMVD, and PGDI that it is conducting a preliminary investigation to determine whether minimum advertised pricing (MAP) policy used by major record distributors constitutes an unfair method of competition in violation of Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act. UMVD and PGDI received a subpoena dated September 19, 1997 for the production of documents. No allegations of unlawful conduct have been made against UMVD or PGDI. On May 1, 2000 UMVD and UMG Recordings, Inc., or UMGR, have agreed that (1) for seven years they shall not make the receipt of any cooperative advertising funds for their prerecorded music product contingent upon the price or price level at which such product is advertised or promoted, (2) for twenty years they shall not make the receipt of any cooperative advertising funds for their prerecorded music product contingent upon the price or price level at which such product is advertised or promoted where the dealer does not seek any contribution from UMVD or UMGR for the cost of the advertisement or promotion, and (3) for five years they shall not announce resale or minimum advertised prices of their prerecorded music product and unilaterally terminate those who fail to comply because of such failure.

Following a change to Australian copyright law in 1998 to permit parallel import of CD's into Australia, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission, or ACCC, commenced proceedings against Universal Music Australia Pty Limited (formerly PolyGram Pty Limited), alleging violations of the Australian Trade Practices Act, the statute which governs competition law in Australia. The ACCC alleges that Universal took steps to restrict parallel imports into Australia. Separate proceedings making similar allegations have also been commenced against another record company in Australia. The hearings began in April 2001. The case has been adjourned and is to resume in September 2001.

In May, June, and July of 2000, ninety-four purported consumer class action law suits were filed in various state and federal courts across the country against UMVD, UMGR and PGDI, as well as Sony Music Entertainment Inc., Time Warner Inc., Bertelsmann Music Group, and Capitol Records Inc. (along with companies affiliated with these defendants). Certain recorded music retailers are also named as defendants in some of these actions. Plaintiffs in each of these actions allege that the defendants violated the federal and/or state antitrust laws and unfair competition laws by conspiring to fix the wholesale and/or retail prices of compact discs. Plaintiffs in each of these actions further allege that the purported conspiracy was related in some fashion to the minimum advertised price policies adopted by each of the record distributor defendants, including UMVD and PGDI. Plaintiffs in these cases seek treble damages and/or restitution as well as attorney's fees and costs. With respect to the federal cases, there is currently pending before the Judicial Panel for Multi-District Litigation a motion to consolidate and transfer. The Judicial Panel heard the motion on September 22, 2000 and subsequently ruled that the federal cases should be consolidated in Portland, Maine. With respect to the eighteen state cases pending in California, on September 11, 2000, the Court ordered that these cases be coordinated for pretrial proceedings. With respect to the five state cases pending in Florida, on August 31, 2000, the Circuit Court of the 11th Judicial Circuit dismissed them with leave to amend for failure to state a claim upon which relief may be granted.

In addition to the consumer actions, on August 8, 2000, the Attorneys General for 42 states and territories filed parens patriae action in the federal district court in the Southern District of New York against several recorded music companies, including UMVD and UMGR. The Attorneys General brought this suit on behalf of consumers in their respective states or territories, and they allege that the defendants violated the federal and state antitrust laws and unfair competition laws by conspiring to fix the retail prices of compact discs. The Attorneys General seek treble damages, civil penalties, attorney's fees, and costs.

In January 2001, the European Commission served an Article 11 letter on each of the major record companies including Universal Music International Limited investigating the relationship between the record companies and retailers in four key European territories (France, Germany, the United Kingdom and Spain). Universal Music International Limited submitted its written reply to the inquiries on March 9, 2001 and responded to further inquiries in relation to all European Economic Area Member states on June 1, 2001. Universal awaits a response from the Commission.

In February 2001, the Office of Fair Trading in the UK, or OFT, submitted a request for information to each of the major UK record companies including Universal Music (UK) Limited relating to the record companies' policies in respect of parallel imports of CD's into the UK. Universal responded to a detailed inquiry on February 23, 2001. On June 4, 2001, Universal received a request for further information from the OFT and is in the process of responding to this request.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

In April 2001, Universal Music International Limited received an Article 11 letter from the European Commission requesting certain information in relation to the pressplay joint venture between UMG Duet Holdings, Inc. and SMEI Duet Holdings, Inc. Universal Music International Limited responded to the inquiry on May 8, 2001. The Commission has since sent a subsequent response to which Universal Music International Limited will respond.

On December 4, 2000, Destileria Serralles, Inc., or Serralles, commenced a litigation against JES and Seagram in Puerto Rico Superior Court seeking declaratory judgment and injunctive relief relating to whether a right of first refusal over certain Captain Morgan trademarks owned by JES contained in a supply agreement between Serralles and JES would be triggered by the sale of Seagram's Spirits and Wine business. JES and Seagram removed the case to the United States District Court for the District of Puerto Rico and answered the complaint and filed a motion for summary judgment. On December 27, 2000, Serralles filed a request for expedited discovery and to postpone adjudication of JES and Seagram's motion for summary judgment. On February 8, 2001, Serralles filed a request for 30 days notice of the closing of the sale of Seagram's Spirits and Wine business. The court required Seagram only to notify Serralles when all regulatory approvals are obtained. On April 23, 2001 the Court ordered that the parties engage in limited expedited discovery for a period of 30 days and that Serralles respond in 30 days to the motion by JES and Seagram for summary judgment. That period of discovery is now completed, Serralles filed its opposition to the summary judgment motion and JES and Seagram filed a reply submission. The summary judgment motion is currently pending for decision. On June 27, 2001, Serralles filed a motion seeking a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction, temporarily enjoining JES and Seagram from taking certain actions pending the outcome of the case. JES and Seagram are opposing that motion. However, the motion does not seek to enjoin the sale of Seagram's Spirits and Wine business or any portion thereof. Vivendi Universal believes this litigation is without merit and is defending it vigorously.

EXCHANGE CONTROLS

The French commercial code currently does not limit the right of nonresidents of France or non-French persons to own and vote shares. However, nonresidents of France must file an administrative notice with French authorities in connection with the acquisition of a controlling interest in Vivendi Universal. Under existing administrative rulings, ownership of 20% or more of Vivendi Universal's share capital or voting rights is regarded as a controlling interest, but a lower percentage might be held to be a controlling interest in some circumstances depending upon factors such as:

- the acquiring party's intentions; and
- the acquiring party's ability to elect directors, and financial reliance by Vivendi Universal on the acquiring party.

French exchange control regulations currently do not limit the amount of payments that Vivendi Universal may remit to nonresidents of France. Laws and regulations concerning foreign exchange controls do require, however, that all payments or transfers of funds made by a French resident to a nonresident be handled by an accredited intermediary. In France, all registered banks and most credit establishments are accredited intermediaries.

TAXATION

On August 31, 1994, the United States and France entered into the Convention Between the United States of America and France for the Avoidance of

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Double Taxation and the Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with Respect to Taxes on Income and Capital, or the Treaty. The following is a general summary of the principal tax effects that may apply to you as a holder of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or ADSs for purposes of U.S. federal income tax and French tax, if all of the following apply to you:

- you own, directly or indirectly, less than 10% of its share capital;
- you are:
 - an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States for United States federal income tax purposes;
 - a corporation or other entity taxable as a corporation that is created or organized in or under the laws of the United States or any political subdivision thereof;
 - an estate, the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source; or

- a trust, if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over its administration and one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control all of the substantial decisions of the trust;
- you are entitled to the benefits of the Treaty under the "Limitations of Benefits" article of the Treaty;
- you hold your Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or ADSs as capital assets; and
- your functional currency is the U.S. dollar.

This summary is based in part upon the representations of the depository, and the assumption that each obligation in the deposit agreement and any related agreement will be performed in accordance with its terms. In general, and taking into account these assumptions, holders of ADSs will be treated as the owners of the ordinary shares represented by such ADSs, and exchanges of ordinary shares for ADSs, and ADSs for ordinary shares, will not be subject to United States federal income or French tax.

YOU ARE STRONGLY URGED TO CONSULT YOUR OWN TAX ADVISOR REGARDING THE CONSEQUENCES TO YOU OF ACQUIRING, OWNING OR DISPOSING OF VIVENDI UNIVERSAL ORDINARY SHARES OR ADSS, RATHER THAN RELYING ON THIS SUMMARY. The summary may not apply to you or may not completely or accurately describe tax consequences to you. For example, special rules may apply to U.S. expatriates, insurance companies, tax-exempt organizations, financial institutions, persons subject to the alternative minimum tax, securities broker-dealers, traders in securities that elect to mark-to-market and persons holding their ordinary shares or ADSs as parties to a conversion transaction, among others. Those special rules are not discussed in this annual report. The summary is based on the laws, conventions and treaties in force as of the date of this annual report, all of which are subject to changes, possibly with retroactive effect. Also, this summary does not discuss any tax rules other than U.S. federal income tax and French tax rules. Further, the U.S. and French tax authorities and courts are not bound by this summary and may disagree with its conclusions.

TAXATION OF DIVIDENDS

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Withholding Tax and Avoir Fiscal

Vivendi Universal will withhold tax from your dividend at the reduced rate of 15%, provided that you have complied with the following procedures:

- You must complete French Treasury Form RF1 A EU-No. 5052, "Application for Refund", and send it to the French tax authorities before the date of payment of the dividend. If you are not an individual, you must also send the French tax authorities an affidavit attesting that you are the beneficial owner of all the rights attached to the full ownership of the ordinary shares or ADSs, including, among other things, the dividend rights, at the Centre des Impots des Non Residents, 9 rue d'Uzes, 75094 Paris Cedex 2, France.
- If you cannot complete Form RF1 A EU-No. 5052 before the date of payment of the dividend, you may complete a simplified certificate and send it to the French tax authorities. This certificate must state that:
 - you are a resident of the United States for purposes of the Treaty;
 - your ownership of Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or ADSs is not effectively connected with a permanent establishment or a fixed base in France;
 - you own all the rights attached to the full ownership of the ordinary shares or ADSs, including, among other things, the dividend rights;
 - you meet all the requirements of the Treaty for the reduced rate of withholding tax; and
 - you claim the reduced rate of withholding tax.

If you have not completed Form RF1 A EU-No. 5052 or the simplified certificate before the dividend payment date, Vivendi Universal will deduct French withholding tax at the rate of 25%. In that case, you may claim a refund of the excess withholding tax by completing and providing the French tax authorities with Form RF1 A EU-No. 5052 before December 31 of the calendar year following the year during which the dividend is paid.

The Application for Refund, together with instructions, can be obtained from the U.S. Internal Revenue Service or from the Centre des Impots des Non Residents upon request. After completing it, you send it to the Centre des Impots des Non Residents.

Under the Treaty, you may be entitled, in certain circumstances, to a French tax credit called the avoir fiscal. Effective January 1, 2001, under French law, a resident of France is entitled to an avoir fiscal or a tax credit, in respect of a dividend received from a French corporation equal to 50% of the amount of the dividend for individuals, 50% for companies owning more than 5% of the Company's capital and 25% for other shareholders (15% for such other shareholders who will use the avoir fiscal as of January 1, 2002). You may be entitled to a payment equal to the avoir fiscal, less a 15% withholding tax, if any one of the following applies to you:

- you are an individual or other non-corporate holder that is a resident of the United States for purposes of the Treaty;

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

- you are a U.S. corporation, other than a regulated investment company that owns less than 10% of Vivendi Universal share capital;
- you are a U.S. corporation that is a regulated investment company and that owns, directly or indirectly, less than 10% of the share capital of the Company, provided that less than 20% of your ordinary shares or ADSs are beneficially owned by persons who are neither citizens nor residents of the United States; or
- you are a partnership or trust that is a resident of the United States for purposes of the Treaty, but only to the extent that your partners, beneficiaries or grantors would qualify as eligible under the first or second points on this list and are subject to U.S. income tax with respect to such dividends and payment of the avoir fiscal.

If you are eligible, you may claim the avoir fiscal by completing Form RF1 A EU-No. 5052 and sending it to the French tax authorities at the Centre des Impôts des Non Residents before December 31 of the year following the year in which the dividend is paid. As noted below, you will not receive this payment until after January 15 of the calendar year following the year in which the dividend was paid. To receive the payment, you must submit a claim to the French tax authorities and attest that you are subject to U.S. federal income taxes on the payment of the avoir fiscal and the related dividend. For partnerships or trusts, the partners, beneficiaries or grantors, as applicable, must make this attestation.

Specific rules apply to the following:

- tax-exempt U.S. pension funds, which include the exempt pension funds established and managed in order to pay retirement benefits subject to the provisions of Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (qualified retirement plans), Section 403 of the Internal Revenue Code (tax deferred annuity contracts) or Section 457 of the Internal Revenue Code (deferred compensation plans); and
- various other tax-exempt entities, including certain state-owned institutions, not-for-profit organizations and individuals (with respect to dividends they beneficially own and that are derived from an individual retirement account).

Entities in these two categories are eligible for a reduced withholding tax rate of 15% on dividends, subject to the same withholding tax filing requirements as eligible U.S. holders, except that they may have to supply additional documentation evidencing their entitlement to these benefits. These entities are not entitled to the full avoir fiscal. They may claim a partial avoir fiscal equal to 30/85 of the gross avoir fiscal, provided that they own, directly or indirectly, less than 10% of the company's capital and that they satisfy the filing formalities specified in Internal Revenue Service regulations.

The avoir fiscal or partial avoir fiscal and any French withholding tax refund are generally expected to be paid within 12 months after the holder of ordinary shares or ADSs files Form RF1 A EU-No. 5052.

However, they will not be paid before January 15 following the end of the calendar year in which the dividend is paid.

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the gross amount of a dividend and any avoir fiscal, including any French withholding tax, will be included in your gross income as dividend income when payment is actually or constructively received by the shareholder in the case of ordinary shares or the depositary in the case of ADSs, to the extent they are paid out of Vivendi Universal's current or accumulated earnings and profits as calculated for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Dividends paid by Vivendi Universal will not give rise to any U.S. dividends received deduction. Dividends will generally constitute foreign source "passive" income for foreign tax credit purposes. For recipients predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, insurance, financing or similar business, dividends paid by Vivendi Universal will generally constitute foreign source "financial services" income for foreign tax credit purposes.

Also for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the amount of any dividend paid in euros or French francs, including any French withholding taxes, will be equal to the U.S. dollar value of the euros or French francs on the date the dividend is included in income, regardless of whether the payment is in fact converted into U.S. dollars. You will generally be required to recognize U.S. source ordinary income or loss when you sell or dispose of euros or French francs. You may also be required to recognize foreign currency gain or loss if you receive a refund under the Treaty of tax withheld in excess of the Treaty rate. This foreign currency gain or loss will generally be U.S. source ordinary income or loss.

To the extent that any dividends paid exceed Vivendi Universal's current and accumulated earnings and profits as calculated for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the distribution will be treated as follows:

- first, as a tax-free return of capital, which will cause a reduction in the adjusted tax basis of your ordinary shares or ADSs in the company. This adjustment will increase the amount of gain, or decrease the amount of loss, that you will recognize if you later dispose of those ordinary shares or ADSs; and
- second, the balance of the dividend in excess of the adjusted tax basis in your ordinary shares or ADSs will be taxed as capital gain recognized on a sale or exchange.

French withholding tax imposed on the dividends you receive and on any avoir fiscal at 15% under the Treaty is treated as payment of a foreign income tax. You may take this amount as a credit against your U.S. federal income tax liability, subject to specific conditions and limitations.

THE PRECOMPTE

A French company must pay an equalization tax known as the precompte to the French tax authorities if it distributes dividends out of:

- profits that have not been taxed at the ordinary corporate income tax rate, or
- profits that have been earned and taxed more than five years before the distribution.

The amount of the precompte is 50% of the net dividends before withholding tax.

If you are not entitled to the full avoir fiscal, as described above, you may generally obtain a refund from the French tax authorities of any precompte paid by Vivendi Universal with respect to dividends distributed to you. Under the Treaty, the amount of the precompte refunded to U.S. residents is reduced by the 15% withholding tax applied to dividends and by the partial avoir fiscal, if any. You are entitled to a refund of any precompte that Vivendi Universal actually pays in cash, but not to any precompte that Vivendi Universal pays by offsetting French and/or foreign tax credits. To apply for a refund of the precompte, you should file French Treasury Form RF1 B EU-No. 5053 before the end of the year following the year in which the dividend was paid. The form and its instructions are available from the Internal Revenue Service in the United States or from the Centre des Impôts des Non Résidents.

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the amount of the precompte will be included in your gross income as dividend income in the year you receive it. It will generally constitute foreign source passive income for foreign tax credit purposes. For recipients predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, insurance, financing or similar business, the precompte will generally constitute foreign source financial services income for foreign tax credit purposes. The amount of any precompte paid in euros or French francs, including any French withholding taxes, will be equal to the U.S. dollar value of the euros or French francs on the date the precompte is included in income, regardless of whether the payment is in fact converted into U.S. dollars. You will generally be required to recognize a U.S. source ordinary income or loss when you sell or dispose of the euros or French francs.

TAXATION OF CAPITAL GAINS

If you are a resident of the United States for purposes of the Treaty, you will not be subject to French tax on any capital gain if you sell or exchange your ordinary shares or ADSs, unless you have a permanent establishment or fixed base in France and the ordinary shares or ADSs you sold or exchanged were part of the business property of that permanent establishment or fixed base. Special rules apply to individuals who are residents of more than one country.

In general, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, you will recognize capital gain or loss if you sell or exchange your ordinary shares or ADSs. Any gain or loss will generally be U.S. source gain or loss. If you are an individual, any capital gain will generally be subject to U.S. federal income tax at preferential rates if you meet the specified minimum holding periods.

PASSIVE FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANY RULES

Vivendi Universal believes that it will not be treated as a passive foreign investment company, or PFIC, for U.S. federal income tax purposes for the current taxable year or for future taxable years. However, an actual determination of PFIC status is fundamentally factual in nature and cannot be made until the close of the applicable taxable year. Vivendi Universal will be a PFIC for any taxable year in which either:

- 75% or more of Vivendi Universal's gross income is passive income; or
- its assets that produce passive income or that are held for the production of passive income amount to at least 50% of the value of its total assets on average.

For purposes of this test, Vivendi Universal will be treated as directly owning its proportionate share of the assets, and directly receiving its proportionate share of the gross income, of each corporation in which it owns, directly or indirectly, at least 25% of the value of the shares of such corporation.

If Vivendi Universal were to become a PFIC, the tax applicable to distributions on Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or ADSs and any gains you realize when you dispose of the ordinary shares or ADSs may be less favorable to you. You should consult your own tax advisors regarding the PFIC rules and their effect on you if you purchase Vivendi Universal ordinary shares or ADSs.

FRENCH ESTATE AND GIFT TAXES

Under The Convention Between the United States of America and the French Republic for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and the Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with Respect to Taxes on Estates, Inheritance and Gifts of November 24, 1978, if you transfer your ordinary shares or ADSs by gift or if they are transferred by reason of your death, that transfer will be subject to French gift or inheritance tax only if one of the following applies:

- you are domiciled in France at the time of making the gift, or at the time of your death; or
- you used the shares in conducting a business through a permanent establishment or fixed base in France, or you held the ordinary shares or ADSs for that use.

FRENCH WEALTH TAX

The French wealth tax does not generally apply to Vivendi Universal's ordinary shares or ADSs if the holder is a resident of the United States for purposes of the Treaty.

UNITED STATES INFORMATION REPORTING AND BACKUP WITHHOLDING

Dividend payments on the ordinary shares or ADSs and proceeds from the sale, exchange or other disposition of the ordinary shares or ADSs may be subject to information reporting to the Internal Revenue Service and possible U.S. backup withholding. U.S. federal backup withholding generally is imposed, at a maximum rate of 31%, on specified payments to persons that fail to furnish required information. Backup withholding will not apply to a holder who furnishes a correct taxpayer identification number or certificate of foreign status and makes any other required certification, or who is otherwise exempt from backup withholding. Any U.S. persons required to establish their exempt status generally must file Internal Revenue Service Form W-9, entitled Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification. Finalized Treasury regulations have generally expanded the circumstances under which information reporting and backup withholding may apply.

Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Amounts withheld as backup withholding may be credited against your U.S. federal income tax liability. You may obtain a refund of any excess amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules by filing the appropriate claim for refund with the Internal Revenue Service and furnishing any required information.

OPERATING AND FINANCIAL REVIEW AND PROSPECTS

The following discussion of Vivendi Universal's operations should be read in conjunction with its financial statements and related notes included elsewhere in this document. The following discussion contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties, including, but not limited to, those described under "Risk Factors". Vivendi Universal's results may differ materially from those anticipated in the forward-looking statements.

Since the introduction of the euro on January 1, 1999, Vivendi Universal's functional and reporting currency has been the euro. Accordingly, Vivendi Universal prepared its 2000 and 1999 consolidated financial statements in euros. The consolidated financial statements for prior years have been prepared in French francs and have been restated in euros for each period presented using the official fixed exchange rate E1 = FF 6.55957. Therefore, the consolidated financial statements for prior years depict the same trends that would have been presented had they been presented in French francs. However, because they were originally prepared in French francs, they are not necessarily comparable to financial statements of a company which originally prepared its financial statements in a European currency other than the French franc and restated them in euros. (see Note 2 to Vivendi Universal's consolidated financial statements).

OVERVIEW

Vivendi Universal was created through the merger of Vivendi, Seagram and Canal Plus that was completed in December 2000. Vivendi Universal operates in two global core businesses: Media and Communications, and Environmental Services. The Media and Communications business is divided into five business segments: Music, Publishing and TV & Film, which constitute its content businesses, and Telecoms and Internet, which constitute its access businesses. Integration and partnering of the Media and Communications business segments enables Vivendi Universal to provide a diverse array of entertainment and information content to an international customer and subscriber base over wired and wireless access devices using cable, Internet, satellite and broadcast networks.

Content

manufactures, sells and distributes video products in the United States and internationally, and licenses music copyrights.

- The Publishing business is one of Europe's leading publishers of information providing content across multiple platforms, including print, multimedia, on the wired Internet and to PDAs via WAP technology. The Publishing business is a content leader in five markets: education, games, healthcare information, local services and business and general information.
- The TV & Film business produces and distributes motion picture, television and home video/DVD products worldwide, operates and has ownership interests in a number of cable and pay TV channels, engages in the licensing of merchandising and film property rights and operates theme parks and retail stores around the world.

Access

- The Telecoms business provides a broad range of telecommunications services, including mobile and fixed telephony, Internet access and data services and transmission, principally in Europe.
- The Internet business manages the strategic Internet initiatives and new online ventures for Vivendi Universal. Utilizing advanced digital distribution technology, the Internet business develops e-commerce, e-services and thematic portals that offer access to the Internet via a variety of devices, including mobile phones, PDAs, interactive TV and computers.

Vivendi Environnement, a 63% effectively owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal, operates the Environmental Services business, with operations around the globe. Vivendi Environnement provides environmental management services, including as water treatment and system operation, waste management, energy services and transportation services, to a wide range of public authorities and industrial, commercial and residential customers.

SIGNIFICANT TRANSACTIONS

During the last year, Vivendi Universal entered into several significant transactions that have realigned its businesses and have impacted the comparability of its financial statements.

Merger of Vivendi, Seagram and Canal Plus

On December 8, 2000, Vivendi, Seagram and Canal Plus completed a series of transactions in which the three companies combined to create Vivendi Universal. The terms of the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger included:

- The merger of Vivendi into its wholly owned subsidiary Vivendi Universal.
- Vivendi Universal's combination, through its subsidiaries, with Seagram in accordance with a plan of arrangement under Canadian law. In Vivendi Universal's combination with Seagram, holders of Seagram common shares (other than those exercising dissenters' rights) received .80 Vivendi Universal American Depositary Shares (ADSs), or .80 non-voting exchangeable shares of Vivendi Universal's Canadian subsidiary Vivendi Universal Exchangeco Inc. (exchangeable shares) and an equal number of related voting rights in Vivendi Universal, for each Seagram common share held.
- In connection with the business combination of Vivendi Universal and Seagram, Vivendi entered into a series of transactions involving Canal Plus, an entity approximately 49% owned by Vivendi before the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger and included in its consolidated financial statements. Vivendi Universal acquired all the businesses of Canal Plus other than the French premium pay television channel business, which was subject to a French law that prohibits any person from owning more than 49% of a French television broadcaster. Canal Plus shareholders received two Vivendi Universal ordinary shares for each Canal Plus ordinary share they held and retained their existing shares in Canal Plus, which retained the French premium pay television channel business. Vivendi Universal remains a 49% shareholder in Canal Plus and continues to consolidate it.

In connection with the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger, on December 19, 2000, Vivendi Universal entered into an agreement with Diageo plc and Pernod Ricard S.A. to sell its spirits and wine business for $8.15 billion, an amount that is expected to result in approximate after-tax proceeds of $7.7 billion. The sale is expected to close during 2001 and is subject to regulatory approvals and customary closing conditions. It accounts for the spirits and wine business net operations as an exceptional item in the income statement and the expected proceeds from the sale as an investment on the balance sheet.

In connection with the European Commission's approval of the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger pursuant to the relevant European merger regulations, Vivendi Universal committed to divest almost all of its stake in British Sky Broadcasting Group (BSkyB), the leading pay television broadcasting service in the United Kingdom and Ireland, within a period of two years from the completion of the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Purchase of Interest in Maroc Telecom

In December 2000, Vivendi Universal announced that it had acquired a 35% stake in Moroccan telecommunications operator Maroc Telecom for approximately E2.3 billion. Maroc Telecom, which operates fixed-line and mobile telephone networks in Morocco, is estimated to have generated revenue of approximately E1.3 billion in 2000. In cooperation with Maroc Telecom, Vivendi Universal intends to contribute its telecoms experience to the modernization of the telecommunications industry in Morocco.

Disposition of Sithe

In December 2000, Vivendi Universal, along with other shareholders of Sithe Energies, Inc. finalized the sale of 49.9% of its stake in Sithe to Exelon (Fossil) Holdings, Inc., for approximately $696 million. The net proceeds of the transaction to Vivendi Universal were approximately $475 million. Following the transaction, Exelon is the controlling shareholder of Sithe; Vivendi Universal retains an interest of approximately 34%. For a period of three years beginning in 2002, Vivendi Universal can put to Exelon, or Exelon can call from Vivendi Universal, Vivendi Universal's remaining interest. As a result of the transaction, it ceased to consolidate Sithe's results of operations for accounting purposes effective December 31, 2000. In April 2000, Sithe sold 21 independent power production plants to Reliant Energy Power Generation for E2.13 billion. This transaction generated a capital gain of E415 million.

Disposition of Non-Core Construction and Real Estate Businesses

As part of its strategy of focusing on its core Media and Communications and Environmental Services businesses, Vivendi Universal has decided to withdraw from its non-core construction and real estate businesses. In order to facilitate this withdrawal, it restructured Compagnie Generale d'Immobilier et de Services, its wholly owned real estate subsidiary, into two principal groups of companies: Nexity and Vivendi Valorisation. In July 2000, Vivendi Universal sold 100% of Nexity to a group of investors and to Nexity's senior management for E42 million, an amount that approximated book value of these operations. Vivendi Valorisation holds its remaining property assets, which consist primarily of investments arising out of past property development projects. These assets are managed by Nexity pending their sale. In February 2000, Vivendi Universal reduced its interest in Vinci (Europe's leading construction company) from 49.3% to 16.9%, receiving in exchange E572 million, which resulted in a capital gain of approximately E374 million. Subsequently, Vinci merged with the construction company, Groupe GTM, which reduced its interest in the combined entity to 8.67%. As a result of these transactions Vivendi Universal ceased to consolidate Vinci's results effective July 1, 2000. Vivendi Universal has committed not to engage in further sales of Vinci shares until 2001, except to Vinci itself. Vivendi Universal intends to dispose of its remaining stake in 2001.

Lagardere Alliance

In July 2000, pursuant to an alliance between Canal Plus and Lagardere, a French media company, Lagardere acquired a 34% stake in CanalSatellite and a 27.4% stake in MultiThematiques. Canal Plus reduced its stake in MultiThematiques to 27.4%. Canal Plus and Lagardere also set up three joint ventures. The first, 51% owned by Lagardere and 49% by Canal Plus, will own and operate existing theme channels and intends to create others. The second, 51% owned by Lagardere and 49% by CanalSatellite, will oversee interactive services for new channels jointly created by CanalSatellite and

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Lagardere. The third, a 50/50 joint venture between Lagardere and MultiThematiques, will create and distribute new theme-based channels based on Lagardere's international brands such as Elle.

Expansion of Vizzavi

In May 2000, Vivendi Universal signed an agreement with Vodafone pursuant to which it will participate in a venture to operate and promote Vizzavi, a multi-access Internet portal that provides web-based communications services, e-commerce and entertainment in a user-friendly, integrated package that is accessible from mobile telephones, personal data appliances, televisions and PCs. Vizzavi was introduced in France in June 2000. Together with Vodafone, Vivendi Universal plans to introduce it in a number of European countries by the end of 2001.

Other Acquisitions

In addition to the above, Vivendi Universal invested approximately E3 billion in the acquisition of other companies during 2000. This amount corresponds to the cash and non-cash investments made by it and does not take into account cash held by the acquired companies. The most significant acquisitions in the period can be categorized as follows:

- Internet -- E780.1 million, principally used to acquire i-France for E149.3 million and Scoot for E443.4 million;
- Telecoms -- E441.5 million relating to the acquisition of United Telecom Investment in Hungary for E130.3 million, Kencell in Kenya for E35.9 million, Xfera in Spain for E96.2 million and Vendi Telecom Espana SL for E90.2 million;
- TV & Film -- E520.0 million in connection with financing the development of subsidiaries, including CANAL+ Belgium, Eurosport and Sogecable;
- Publishing -- E219.1 million, including E93.3 million in Staywell, a medical publishing company;
- Environmental Services -- E920.3 million, including E700.6 million dedicated to international expansion; and
- Other of E123.2 million.

Formation/IPO of Vivendi Environnement

Vivendi Environnement was formed at the end of 1999. It brought together the majority of Vivendi Universal's water, waste management, energy services and transportation businesses, as well as its interest in FCC. Vivendi Environnement's formation was achieved by either the contribution of existing businesses and companies or the purchase of shares. Generale des Eaux, Dalkia and Companie Generale d'Entreprises Automobiles were transferred at book value in accordance with tax provisions applicable to certain mergers. US Filter and Vivendi Universal's interest in FCC were acquired by Vivendi Environnement in December 1999. In July 2000, Vivendi Environnement sold approximately 37% of its shares to the French public and to institutional investors in France and elsewhere in an initial public offering. Vivendi Universal currently holds an effective 63% interest in Vivendi Environnement, and intends to maintain majority control at this level for the long term.

COMPARABILITY

Basis of Presentation

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

The discussion presented below includes an analysis of total Vivendi Universal and business segment results prepared in accordance with French GAAP, which differs in certain significant respects from U.S. GAAP.

For the years ended December 31, 2000, 1999 and 1998, Vivendi Universal had a net income under U.S. GAAP of E1,907.8 million, E246.1 million and E565.2 million, respectively, compared to E2,229.0 million, E1,431.4 million and E1,120.8 million under French GAAP. Under U.S. GAAP, shareholders' equity was E64,729.4 million and E16,954.5 million for 2000 and 1999, respectively, compared to E56,671.1 million and E10,892.2 million under French GAAP.

The most significant reconciling item relates to business combination accounting as described in Note 16 to Vivendi Universal's consolidated financial statements. Under French GAAP, goodwill may be recorded as a reduction of shareholders' equity when the acquisition has been paid for with equity securities, whereas goodwill is recognized as an asset under U.S. GAAP. Significant mergers that do not meet the U.S. GAAP criteria for pooling have been accounted for in Vivendi Universal's consolidated financial statements using a method pursuant to which goodwill is computed as the difference between the consideration paid and the net historical book value acquired. For U.S. GAAP purposes, these transactions are considered purchases.

Business combination reconciling items have the following impact on equity and net income presented in Vivendi Universal's consolidated financial statements prepared under French GAAP:

- an increase of its equity by E8,782.6 million and E7,876.3 million for the years ended December 31, 2000 and 1999, respectively, and
- a decrease in its net income by E263.4 million, E1,052.7 million and E191.0 million for the years ended December 31, 2000, 1999 and 1998.

Other significant items in reconciling French GAAP and U.S. GAAP, as they apply to the company, are described in Note 16 to Vivendi Universal's consolidated financial statements.

Change in Accounting Principles

As of January 1, 2000, the following new accounting principles were adopted:

- Revenue and expenses of subsidiaries financial statements denominated in a currency different from euros, which were previously translated at the year end exchange rate, are now translated at the average exchange rate during the period. The cumulative effect of this change in accounting principle would have decreased net income as of December 31, 1999 by E16.3 million.
- Gains on foreign currency transactions, which were previously deferred, are now recorded in current period earnings. The cumulative effect of this change in accounting principle would have increased net income as of December 31, 1999 by E107.4 million.
- Subscriber acquisition costs, which were previously spread over 12 months from the date the line was put into service, are now charged to expense. The cumulative effect of this change in accounting principle would have decreased net income as of December 31, 1999 by E87.7 million.
- Sports broadcasting rights acquired by Canal Plus are now capitalized as intangible assets and are amortized over the period of the agreement. The cumulative effect of this change had no impact on net income in 2000 and 1999. Total assets increased by E2.0 billion (most of which related to intangible assets) and total liabilities and shareholders' equity increased by the same amount.

In order to facilitate comparability of financial statements, Vivendi Universal has presented the 1999 financial statements on a restated basis. See "Consolidated Financial Statements of Vivendi Universal -- Note 2 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies" for a description of some of the policies used in preparing its financial statements.

Pro Forma

To further enhance comparability, financial information for 2000 and 1999 is also presented on a pro forma basis which illustrates the effect of the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger, the consolidation of CANAL+ on a twelve month basis in both periods and the divestiture of Vinci, as if the transactions had occurred at the beginning of 1999. Vivendi Universal believes that pro forma results represent meaningful comparative information for assessing earnings trends because the pro forma results include comparable operations in each year presented. The discussion of the Telecoms, Internet and Environmental Services businesses do not include pro forma comparisons, since the pro forma adjustments did not impact those segments. The pro forma results are not necessarily indicative of the combined results that would have occurred had the events actually occurred at the beginning of 1999. Vivendi Universal believes this information will help to better understand its business results.

2000 Versus 1999 (Restated)

The actual 2000 results discussed below include the results of Seagram's operations for the twenty-three day period since the completion of the merger on December 8, 2000. The spirits and wine operations have been presented on a single line as a component of exceptional items.

Revenue

Vivendi Universal's consolidated revenue totaled E41.8 billion in 2000 with Media and Communications and Environmental Services accounting for E40.1 billion, a global increase of 37% over 1999. Almost 20% of the revenue growth resulted from acquisitions and the impact of consolidating the results of CANAL+ for the full twelve-month period in 2000 (compared to three months in 1999), 3.7% resulted from favorable foreign currency exchange rates and 13.6% was due to internal growth (growth on a comparable basis at constant exchange rates excluding the impact of acquisitions and dispositions).

Vivendi Universal's Media and Communications businesses earned revenue of E13.6 billion in 2000, an increase of 63% over 1999, primarily due to the consolidation of CANAL+, as discussed above. Revenue from Universal Studios and Universal Music Group for the twenty-three day period included in the above was E0.2 and E0.5 billion, respectively. Internal growth in Vivendi Universal's Media and Communications businesses was 19% with growth in all business segments. The Media and Communications businesses represented 33% of Vivendi Universal's revenue in 2000, compared to 20% in 1999.

Vivendi Universal's Environmental Services businesses generated revenue of E26.5 billion in 2000, an increase of 26% compared to 1999. The increase was the result of internal growth of 11% and the full-year effect of acquisitions made in 1999, principally US Filter which was consolidated for twelve months in 2000 compared to eight months in 1999. Internal growth was generated by new contracts in the water, waste management and transportation divisions, increases in volumes and the price of paper in the waste management division and cogeneration facilities in France combined with expansion in Northern and Eastern Europe in the energy division. The Environmental Services businesses represented 63% of Vivendi Universal's revenue, compared to 51% in 1999.

Revenue from non-core businesses declined to E1.7 billion in 2000 from E11.6 billion in 1999, reflecting Vivendi Universal's withdrawal from construction and real estate operations. The disposition of Vinci and Nexity, with revenue of E8.8 and E1.5 billion respectively in 1999, account for the revenue decline. Of the E1.7 billion in revenue from non-core businesses, E1.4 billion were earned by Sithe, in which Vivendi Universal now has a reduced interest.

In 2000, E21.2 billion or 51% of total revenue was generated in France, compared to E23.6 billion or 58% in 1999. The revenue decline in France and corresponding growth outside France reflected the impact of Vivendi Universal's acquisitions and dispositions, discussed above. Of the revenue generated outside of France, E5.6 billion was earned in the "euro zone" (includes 10 countries in Western Europe) and E4.8 billion was earned in European countries outside the euro zone, including E3.0 billion in the United Kingdom. In the Americas, revenue increased 52% to E8.5 billion, in Asia/Pacific, revenue reached E1.3 billion, including E0.5 billion in Australia, an increase of 64%. In emerging markets, revenue was approximately E0.5 billion.

Operating Income

Operating income was E2.6 billion in 2000, a 40% increase over 1999. Vivendi Universal's Media and Communications businesses generated operating income of E612.1 million, before holding and corporate expenses, more than triple that of 1999. Including holding and corporate expenses, Media and Communications operating income was E417.5 million, representing 16% of Vivendi Universal's total operating income. This growth came primarily from its Telecoms business. This increase was primarily a consequence of the increased profitability of its French mobile business, which had operating income of E659.9 million, up from E185 million in 1999. In addition, Cegetel's fixed telephony business start-up losses were reduced, from E206.3 million in 1999 to E148.9 in 2000.

Operating income generated by Vivendi Universal's Environmental Services businesses reached E1.9 billion in 2000, up from E1.5 billion in 1999. This 28% increase is attributable primarily to Vivendi Water and Onyx. Internal growth, primarily resulting from new environmental contracts, was 10%. Vivendi Universal's Environmental Services businesses contributed almost 74% to its operating income in 2000, compared to 81% in 1999. Operating income from non-core businesses, principally in construction and real estate amounted to E257.4 million in 2000 versus E351.3 million in 1999.

On a pro forma basis, operating income increased 68% to E3.1 billion and EBITDA increased 48% to E7.2 billion in 2000. These results reflect the strong performance and growth in all business units with the exception of Internet, in which development costs related to business expansion continued to have a negative impact on earnings.

Financial Expense/Income

Vivendi Universal's net financial expense increased significantly in 2000 to E632.9 million primarily due to increased financing costs associated with its acquisitions. In addition to E1,288.4 million of financing costs, 2000 net financial expense included E684.8 million of capital gains on the sale of portfolio investments, primarily the sale of Alcatel and treasury shares and E91.7 million of financial provisions. In 1999, its net financial expense was comprised of E871.9 million in financing costs, E450.6 million of capital gains, E163.0 million of financial provisions and E235.6 million of foreign exchange gains. Its average cost of debt in 2000 was 5.15% compared to 5.13% in 1999.

Exceptional Items

In 2000, Vivendi Universal recorded net exceptional income of E2.9 billion, compared to net exceptional expense of E0.8 billion in 1999. Significant items included in the 2000 net exceptional income were:

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

- a net gain of E779.6 million on the dilution of Vivendi Universal's interest in Vivendi Environnement due to the IPO of that subsidiary;
- E2,997 million in capital gains and gains on the dilution of Vivendi Universal's interests in other companies, including Dalkia (E734.6 million), Vinci (E549.3 million), BSkyB (E473.4 million), CanalSatellite/MultiThematiques (E408.1 million) and Sithe/GPU (E371.9 million)
- E270.9 million in restructuring costs including, E146.7 million for Vivendi Universal's Publishing business and E124.2 million for its Environmental Services business.

Goodwill Amortization

Goodwill amortization increased five percent to E634.2 million in 2000, primarily due to the inclusion of twenty-three days of goodwill amortization related to the merger with Seagram and Canal Plus, partially offset by the impact of dispositions.

Income Taxes

Vivendi Universal's income and deferred tax provision was E1 billion in 2000, compared to a tax benefit of E946.1 million in 1999. The year-on-year variance primarily results from a revaluation of tax loss carry forwards in 1999 of approximately E1 billion. Excluding exceptional items and goodwill amortization, Vivendi Universal's effective tax rate in 2000 was 33.7%.

Equity in Earnings of Affiliates

The equity in earnings of affiliates decreased to a loss of E306.3 million in 2000 from income of E32.9 million in 1999. The decrease is primarily due to increased losses from TV & Film affiliates of E109.2 million in 2000 compared to E20 million in 1999 and BSkyB of E118.9 million in 2000 compared to E13.7 million in 1999, combined with losses of E125.1 million from new Internet affiliates, most of which did not exist in 1999.

Net Income

Net income of E2.3 billion or E3.6 per basic share was earned in 2000, compared with net income of E1.4 billion or E2.7 per basic share in 1999.

1999 Versus 1998

Revenue

Vivendi Universal's consolidated revenue increased to E41.6 billion in 1999 from E31.7 billion in 1998. Of this 31.2% increase, 19.6% resulted from acquisitions, primarily of US Filter, Superior Services and

Havas Interactive, and the full year effect of Vivendi Universal's earlier acquisition of FCC. A further 9.7% was due to internal growth, principally in the Telecoms business. The impact of changes in exchange rates, particularly in the U.S. dollar/euro exchange rate, accounted for the remaining two percent.

In 1999, Vivendi Universal's Media and Communications businesses earned revenue of E8.6 billion compared to E5.9 billion in 1998. Of this 44% increase, 23% was the result of internal growth in the Telecoms segment, caused primarily by a significant increase in demand for Vivendi Universal's mobile telephony services. The remaining 21% resulted from acquisitions, principally of Havas Interactive, Medi-Media and Canal Plus, in which Vivendi Universal acquired an additional 15% ownership interest in September 1999. The Media and Communications businesses represented 21% of Vivendi Universal's revenue in 1999, compared to 19% in 1998.

Vivendi Universal's Environmental Services businesses generated revenue of E22.4 billion in 1999, compared to E16 billion in 1998. Of this 40% increase, 29% was attributable to external growth, principally Vivendi Universal's acquisitions of US Filter and Superior Services. Approximately eight percent was due to internal growth, which resulted primarily from the new contracts won during this period and from the full year impact of contracts won in the preceding years. The Environmental Services businesses represented 54% of its revenue, compared to 50.5% in 1998. Revenue from non-core businesses, principally in construction and real estate amounted to E10.6 billion in 1999 versus E9.7 billion in 1998.

Geographically, revenue generated in France totaled E23.8 billion, an increase of 11%, 10% of which came from internal growth. The majority of the growth was in Telecoms due the continued strong performance of Vivendi Universal's French telecommunications operations. Of the total revenue, 57% was generated in France in 1999 compared to 67% in 1998. Revenue generated outside France increased 73% to E17.8 billion in 1999, primarily as a result of Vivendi Universal's acquisitions discussed above. Internal growth, principally due to the impact of new environmental contracts, accounted for the remainder, or 10%. In total, business outside France represented 43% of its total revenue, compared to 33% in 1998. Of the revenue generated outside of France, E5.9 billion was earned in the euro zone, an increase of 46.7% and E4.9 billion was earned in European countries outside the euro zone, an increase of 29%, of which the United Kingdom accounted for E3.5 billion. In the Americas, revenue increased almost fourfold to E5.6 billion, in Asia/Pacific, revenue reached E0.8 billion, including E0.3 billion in Australia, an increase of 71%. In emerging markets, revenue was approximately E1 billion.

Operating Income

Operating income was E2.28 billion in 1999, a 71.3% increase over 1998, of which 33.5% was due to internal growth. The increase in operating income reflected a 1.3% improvement in operating margin and the impact of the acquisitions described above. The improved operating margin reflected internal growth in revenue of 9.7% compared to an 8.6% increase in operating expenses. Operating income generated by Media and Communications businesses, before holding and corporate expenses, doubled to E551.6 million (including internal growth of a factor of 2.4), representing 24% of Vivendi Universal's total operating income, compared to less than 20% in 1998. This growth came primarily from its Telecoms business, where operating income rose from E22.5 million to E350.6 million. This increase was primarily a consequence of the increased profitability of its French mobile business, which had operating income of E581 million, up from E291 million in 1998, and improved its operating margin to 16% from 11% in 1998. In addition, Cegetel's fixed telephony business start-up losses were materially reduced, from E264 million in 1998 to E215 in 1999. Finally, the Publishing business generated a 40% increase in operating income, a gain that resulted equally from the integration of its acquisitions and from an improvement in Havas' profitability. These increases were partially offset by CANAL+'s operating loss of E92.8 million, and by start-up losses of E50.8 million generated by its Internet businesses.

Operating income generated by Vivendi Universal's Environmental Services businesses reached E1.7 billion in 1999, up from E1.1 billion in 1998. This

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

54.4% increase is attributable primarily to the consolidation of US Filter, which contributed approximately E339.1 million to Vivendi Universal's 1999 operating income. Internal growth, primarily resulting from new environmental contracts such as those described above, was 9.8%. Vivendi Universal's Environmental Services businesses contributed 73% to its operating income in 1999, compared to slightly over 80% in 1998. Operating income from non-core businesses, principally in construction and real estate amounted to E225.8 million in 1999 versus an operating loss of E113.4 million in 1998.

Financial Expense/Income

Vivendi Universal's net financial expense was E220.1 million in 1999 compared to net financial income of E9.3 million in 1998. This decline was primarily due to an increase of E463.9 million in its financing costs, which grew as a result of its 1999 acquisitions. As a result of a hedging policy that was implemented at the end of 1998, its average cost of debt fell from 5.45% to 5.13% between 1998 and 1999 in spite of rising interest rates. Allowances for financial provisions were E162.9 million in 1999, down from E298 million in 1998. This decrease was caused principally by lower allowances for financial risks due to the cancelation of certain real estate risks. It recognized E450.6 million in capital gains in 1999 (down from E553.2 million in 1998), primarily in connection with the sale of portfolio securities, including the sale of treasury shares and shares of Alcatel and Saint-Gobain. In 1999, it recorded a E102.6 million exchange profit primarily as a result of the increase in the value of the U.S. dollar against the euro, compared to a loss of E10.4 million in 1998.

Exceptional Items

In 1999, Vivendi Universal recorded a net exceptional loss of E837.8 million, compared to a E249.3 million profit in 1998. Significant items included in the 1999 net exceptional loss were:

- capital gains of E650.8 million (E575.4 million re: Havas' billboard advertising business sale, E275.2 million re: the sale of Vivendi Universal's 18.7% interest in Audiofina and E148.7 million re: the sale of 9% of Havas Advertising), partially offset by a pre-tax capital loss of E386.7 million incurred in connection with the sale of CGIS's real estate assets;
- exceptional charges of E1.42 billion, of which almost E800 million consisted of provisions related to real estate assets, (particularly the multi-year construction programs which were revalued to facilitate the process of selling them) and E318.5 million consisted of provisions related to the accelerated write-off of CANAL+ digital set-top boxes (which must be replaced sooner than expected by a new generation of equipment made necessary by the development of multi-access portals); and
- E95.1 million in restructuring expenses, net of allowances and releases, of which related primarily to the construction, water, and energy services.

Goodwill Amortization

Goodwill amortization increased significantly in 1999. This increase is due primarily to strategic acquisitions, particularly of US Filter (goodwill amortization of E30 million) and Havas Interactive (goodwill amortization of E28 million) as well as from Vivendi Environnement (goodwill amortization of E45 million). As a result of the US Filter acquisition, and as part as of the restructuring of its activities in the United States, Vivendi Universal wrote down the goodwill related to Aqua Alliance (E92 million) and its subsidiaries (E90 million).

Income Taxes

Vivendi Universal's income taxes and deferred tax result for 1999 is a profit of E0.8 billion, compared to an expense of E90 million in 1998. The E0.8 billion profit is due to the fact that it recognized in 1999 a deferred tax asset of E1 billion.

157

Equity in Earnings of Affiliates

Vivendi Universal's share in the net income of affiliated companies accounted for by the equity method amounted to E32.9 million in 1999, compared with E42.5 million in 1998. As in 1998, this category consisted primarily of net income generated by Cofiroute (E26 million compared with E21.4 million in 1998), Havas Advertising (E11.3 million compared with E13.6 million in 1998) and General Utilities' U.K. subsidiaries (E21.3 million compared with E17.4 million in 1998). CANAL+, which was fully consolidated during the last quarter of 1999, was accounted for using the equity method for the first nine months of 1999. CANAL+ and its subsidiaries contributed a negative E20 million to Vivendi Universal's net income, compared with a negative E9.6 million in 1998. BSkyB contributed negative income of E13.7 million.

Net Income

Vivendi Universal's consolidated net income rose 27.7% to E1,431.4 million in 1999. This corresponds to net earnings per share of E2.7, as compared with E2.5 in 1998, a 10% increase.

Music

The Music business is conducted through Universal Music Group, which develops, acquires, produces, markets and distributes recorded music through a network of subsidiaries, joint ventures and licensees in 63 countries around the world. Universal Music Group also manufactures, sells and distributes music videos in the United States and internationally, licenses music copyrights and publishes music. Universal Music Group's record labels include A&M, Barclay,

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Blue Thumb, Decca/London, Def Jam, Deutsche Grammophon, Geffen, GRP, Impulse, Interscope, Island, Jimmy and Doug's Farmclub.com, MCA, MCA Nashville, Mercury, Mercury Nashville, Motown, Philips, Polydor, Universal and Verve. Universal Music Group owns the most extensive music catalog in the industry and is at the forefront of the development of new methods to distribute, market, sell, program and syndicate music and music-related programming by exploiting the potential of new technological platforms, that will allow the music business to be conducted over the Internet, cellular networks, cable and satellite.

2000 Versus 1999

Actual. The actual 2000 results include twenty-three days of Universal Music Group operations since the completion of the merger on December 8, 2000. Revenue for that period was E494.6 million, EBITDA and operating income were E94.2 million and E85.5 million, respectively.

Pro forma. Revenue increased almost 16% to E6.6 billion in calendar year 2000. Excluding the impact of favorable foreign exchange, revenue would have increased five percent. In 2000, 67 albums reached worldwide sales in excess of one million units and 5 albums sold over five million units. Major album sales included those by Eminem, Limp Bizkit, U2, Bon Jovi, Nelly, Dr. Dre, 3 Doors Down, Sisqo, Sting, Texas, Ronan Keating and Aqua, among others. Vivendi Universal continues to hold strong chart positions in all music genres and major markets, including the United States, United Kingdom, France, Germany and Brazil. Internationally, it continues to maintain a strong local repertoire presence. In calendar 2000, revenue generated in North America accounted for 44% of the total music revenue. The European market accounted for 39%, Asia Pacific contributed 13% and Latin America accounted for the remaining four percent. Operating income increased 42% and EBITDA increased 38%, or 24% on a constant exchange rate basis, reflecting strong performances in North America and Europe and worldwide cost savings achieved from the integration of PolyGram, partially offset by investments in Vivendi Universal's electronic business initiatives and weaker results in Latin America.

Vivendi Universal believes that emerging technologies will be strategically important to the future of the music business. Evolving technology allows current customers to sample and purchase music in more and different ways, and it exposes potential consumers to music they otherwise would not know exists. Through a variety of independent initiatives and strategic alliances, it continues to invest resources in the technology and electronic commerce areas that will allow the music business to be conducted over the Internet, cellular networks, cable, satellite, wireless broadband and future networks. Its investments and initiatives include the Bluematter(TM) music format, the DataPlay physical format, InterTrust Technologies, Jimmy and Doug's Farm Club, GetMusic (Vivendi Universal's joint venture with BMG Entertainment) as well as its joint venture with Sony Music Entertainment to develop and launch pressplay, an online subscription-based music service.

Publishing

Vivendi Universal Publishing (formerly Havas) focuses on worldwide multi-platform content (press, publishing, multimedia and trade fairs) in five divisions -- games, education, health, information and literature. The games division is No. 1 worldwide in online games and No. 2 worldwide in PC-based games. The education division is one of the world leaders in its field and the European leader in PC-based educational CD-ROMs. Its market segments are school textbooks, youth, adult training and reference books. The divisions brands include Larousse, Nathan, Anaya and Coktel (Adibou). The health division provides professionals with regularly updated, top quality information. The information division has three branches: B2B, general information and local information. The literature division is a French market leader in general literature with well-known publishing houses including, Robert Laffont, Plon-Perrin and Les Presses-Solar-Belfond. Vivendi Universal Publishing is focused on developing interactive and digital content within all its divisions.

Actual. Revenue generated by Vivendi Universal's Publishing businesses totaled E3.5 billion in 2000, an increase of eight percent over 1999, approximately five percent of which was from internal growth. Internal revenue growth at its games division was 27%, primarily due to the worldwide success of Diablo II, which has sold over three million copies since its launch in 2000. The education division, with revenue of approximately E1.0 billion in 2000, had a successful year in textbooks (partly due to the turnaround of Anaya in Spain) but faced a weak market for educational CD-ROM sales, primarily in the U.S. Revenue generated by the health division at E419 million, increased in excess of 90% compared to 1999, due in part to the integration of Staywell-3V, a leading provider of consumer health information. Internal revenue growth in the health division was six percent. The information division contributed revenue in excess of E1.2 billion, an increase of six percent compared to 1999, reflecting the outstanding advertising market for B2B and consumer magazines. The literature division (excluding France Loisirs) performed well with revenue of E184 million, up 10% from 1999. Revenue generated outside France accounted for 46% of the Publishing businesses compared to 40% in 1999. Operating income for Vivendi Universal's Publishing businesses was E344.7 million in 2000. Excluding the amortization of Havas Interactive acquired software, operating income was E381 million, eight percent higher than 1999.

Pro forma. Pro forma EBITDA increased 20%, of which seven percent was from internal growth. In 2000, Universal Interactive Games, which is included in the pro forma results, included revenue of E60 million or slightly below two percent of the total business, and operating income was E37 million. In 1999, Universal Interactive Games revenue was E74 million and operating income was E32 million.

1999 Versus 1998

Revenue generated by the Publishing businesses increased 15% to E3.3 billion in 1999, primarily due to the acquisition of Havas Interactive, which contributed revenue of E536 million. Internal revenue growth was three percent. Revenue generated by the Business and Professional division was E1.3 billion, up nine percent from 1998, primarily due to the advertising market for professional publications in France and in the United Kingdom and the integration of MediMedia, the world leader in drug information, for six months. Revenue generated by the General Public division was E1.5 billion, up 60% on 1998, primarily due to the integration of Havas Interactive. Of the Publishing businesses total revenue, 17% was generated by electronic media (mostly educational and game CD-ROMs) compared to five percent in 1998. Geographically, 40% of the revenue was generated outside France, compared to 27% in 1998. The Publishing businesses contributed E354.5 million to operating income in 1999, an increase of E102.3 million from 1998, primarily due to acquisitions described above. Internal growth was three percent resulting largely from productivity enhancements in Vivendi Universal's French operations.

TV & Film

Vivendi Universal's TV & Film businesses are a major global player in film and television production and distribution, pay television channels and services, digital television technology, Internet content and themed entertainment. The TV & Film businesses own the world's second-largest film and television library, totaling more than 8,600 feature films and more than 30,000 hours of TV programs. The TV business is comprised of CANAL+ and Universal Television and Networks Group. CANAL+ is the leading European producer and operator of pay television premium and theme channels, the number one in Europe in digital television and also is an international provider of digital TV solutions. Universal Television and Networks Group is a global television sales, networks and production operation, with customers in over 180 countries. The Film business is comprised of Universal Pictures and StudioCanal which produce and distribute motion picture, television and home video/DVD, products worldwide and engage in the licensing of merchandising and film property rights. Universal Studios Recreation Group operates the themed entertainment business, which is a natural extension of the core TV & Film businesses. Its "Universal Studios" destination resorts, theme parks and entertainment centers provide exciting and compelling attractions to visitors around the world.

Through Universal Studios, Vivendi Universal has an effective 43% equity interest in USA Networks, Inc., which is focused on the new convergence of entertainment, information and direct selling. Formed in February 1998, the company is organized into three distinct but interrelated units: entertainment, electronic retailing and information and services.

Actual. Revenue from the TV & Film segment totaled E4.2 billion in 2000, of which E3.8 billion was generated by CANAL+ and E0.2 billion was generated by Universal Studios in the twenty-three day period following the merger. Revenue growth for CANAL+ was 17%, with 13% growth in pay TV. All divisions contributed to the revenue growth. Of the total TV & Film revenue, E2.7 billion were generated in France and E1.5 billion were generated outside France. At December 31, 2000, CANAL+ had 15.3 million subscriptions, an increase of nine percent over the prior year. The number of digital subscribers increased 32% in 2000, to 5.3 million. In spite of increased subscriptions and digital subscribers and several hits from StudioCanal, the CANAL+ operating loss increased to E98 million in 2000 from a E22 million loss in 1999 on a full year basis. The increased loss was primarily due to investment in the Italian pay television market, sports rights and competition in Europe, which increased expenses aimed at reinforcing subscriber loyalty and the move towards digitalization. This was partly offset by positive operating results at StudioCanal and CanalSatellite.

Pro forma. Pro forma results include the operations of Universal Studios on a twelve-month calendar year basis and the consolidation of CANAL+ for twelve months in 1999. Pro forma EBITDA more than doubled to E770.9 million, on revenue of E8.8 billion, largely due to strong box office performance at Universal Studios and a solid subscriber base in the pay television market. The performance of Universal Studios improved year-on-year. In 2000, revenue increased 23% (six percent on a constant rate basis) to E4.7 billion, operating income was E7 million, an increase of E282 million, and EBITDA was E241 million, an increase of E337 million. These results reflect improvements in both the filmed entertainment and recreation and other businesses. Within the filmed entertainment business, revenue increased 22% (five percent on a constant rate basis), and EBITDA was E70 million, an improvement of E281 million compared to 1999. These results primarily reflect the solid performance of the motion picture business in 2000. The theatrical success of Dr. Seuss' How The Grinch Stole Christmas, Gladiator, Meet the Parents, Erin Brockovich and Nutty Professor II: The Klumps, combined with strong DVD and video sales of The Mummy, Notting Hill and American Pie resulted in improved earnings. Additionally, the development of programs designed to manage production, marketing, participation and overhead and development costs also contributed to filmed entertainment results. Results of the television and networks business also improved in 2000, primarily due to improved operating performance for channels launched in prior years and higher international earnings on USA Networks product, partially offset by lower library sales. Within the recreation and other business, revenue increased 26% (eight percent on a constant rate basis), and EBITDA increased to E171 million an improvement of E56 million compared to 1999. These results reflect improved earnings at Universal Studios Hollywood principally due to the opening of the CityWalk expansion in April 2000, increased management fees and earnings generated from the expansion of Universal Orlando and increased retail sales at Spencer Gifts.

Vivendi Universal's TV & Film businesses contributed E1.15 billion to total revenue in 1999 compared to E0.2 billion in 1998. The significant increase was primarily due to the E951 million contribution from CANAL+ for the three-month period starting October 1, 1999. Prior to that date, the results of CANAL+ were accounted for using the equity method, however, after acquiring the 15% interest held by Richemont, the results of CANAL+ were fully consolidated. Vivendi Universal's TV & Film businesses incurred an operating loss of E102.7 million in 1999, compared to a E4.7 million loss in 1998. The increased loss was due to the negative contribution of E92.8 million from CANAL+ for the fourth quarter.

Telecoms

Through Cegetel and VTI, Vivendi Universal provides a broad range of telecommunications services, including fixed and mobile telephony, Internet access and data services and transmission. Vivendi Universal currently owns, directly and indirectly, 44% of Cegetel's outstanding equity. The results of Cegetel are consolidated because, through a shareholders' agreement, Vivendi Universal has a majority of the shareholder voting rights and thus effective control. With 15% of the French telecommunications market at the end of 2000, Cegetel is the leading private full-service telecoms operator in France. Cegetel offers mobile telephone services through its subsidiary SFR, long distance and international fixed telephone services through Cegetel 7 and various telecommunications services to business customers through Cegetel Entreprises. VTI, a wholly owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal, develops its telecommunications activities outside France. At the end of 2000, VTI was operating in Spain, Monaco, Poland, Hungary, Kosovo, Egypt, Morocco and Kenya.

The Telecoms business generated revenue of E5.3 billion in 2000, an increase of 35%, of which approximately 32% was generated from internal growth. Cegetel's revenue increased to E5.1 billion in 2000, compared with E3.9 billion in 1999, an increase of approximately 31%. This growth was linked to the continuing development of SFR, whose revenue increased by 31% to E4.6 billion in 2000, due to a 38% increase in the user base, from 7.3 million customers at the end of 1999 to 10.1 million at the end of 2000, which represented 35% of the French mobile telephone market. The volume increase was in line with the French mobile market growth, where penetration grew from 34% at the end of 1999 to 49% at the end of 2000. Monthly average usage per customer increased from 240 minutes in 1999 to 290 minutes in 2000. SFR's revenue growth was achieved despite a 15% decrease of the average revenue per user, from E53 to E45, which resulted primarily from increased share of prepaid customers in the customer base, a general trend of the French market, such customers representing significantly lower bills than postpaid customers. Prepaid customers accounted for 43% of SFR's total customer base at the end of 2000, versus 33% at the end of 1999. Additionally, SFR's revenue suffered from the decrease in incoming calls from fixed lines, which represented 30% of total incoming calls in 2000 versus 37% in 1999, and from the full year effect over 2000 of fixed-to-mobile rates' reduction decided in September 1999 at the request of the ART, the French telecommunications regulator. Revenue would have been even higher in 2000 had certain mobile-to-mobile contracts not been deferred until 2001. Vivendi Universal's fixed telephony business revenue increased 43% to E455 million in 2000, compared to E318 million in 1999. Cegetel 7's revenue increased by 35% to E193 million. This growth is mainly due to an increase of the user base, including over 800,000 new clients and reaching 2.4 million lines at the end of 2000 versus 1.5 million lines at the end of 1999. Cegetel 7 has reached a market share of approximately nine percent at the end of 2000. Cegetel Entreprises' revenue increased by 50% to E262 million due, on the one hand, to the significant growth of voice traffic (increase of 37% to 1.4 billion minutes), mitigated by significant price pressure on voice products. On the other hand, Cegetel developed its data transmission services, which represented 40% of 2000 revenue compared to 35% in 1999, reflecting 62% growth.

Operating income in 2000 was E486.1 million versus a operating loss of E60.4 million in 1999. The 1999 restated operating income reflects the adoption of a new accounting method related to mobile customers acquisition costs. These costs, which were previously capitalized and depreciated over 12 months, are now directly recorded as expenses. SFR's operating income increased to E634 million in 2000 from E54 million in 1999. This performance resulted both from a slight reduction in acquisition costs per user and from the scale effect linked to the increased customer base. Cegetel 7 incurred an operating loss of E59 million in 2000, stable versus 1999, as a decrease in tariffs was balanced by an increase in the client base and cost savings. Cegetel Entreprises' operating loss decreased from E148 million in 1999 to E89 million in 2000, due to increased revenue, a cost control program put in place in early 1999 and network restructuring.

Telecoms consolidated EBITDA grew significantly on a pro forma basis, from E494 million in 1999 to E1.3 billion in 2000. The EBITDA from SFR's mobile unit grew 100% to E1.2 billion, whereas the fixed activities of Cegetel 7 and Cegetel Entreprises both significantly reduced their EBITDA loss by 40% from E143 million in 1999 to E86 million in 2000.

In 1999, the Telecoms businesses generated revenue of E4.1 billion, an increase of 43% compared to 1998, primarily due to the operations of Cegetel. Cegetel's revenue increased by 42% to E4.0 billion. This growth was due in part to the performance of SFR, whose revenue increased by 37% to E3.7 billion in 1999, largely as a result of a 73% increase in its user base, from 4.3 million customers at the end of 1998 to 7.3 million at the end of 1999. The volume increase was in line with the French mobile market growth, where penetration grew from 19% at the end of 1998 to 34% at the end of 1999. Monthly usage per customer increased from 210 minutes in 1998 to 240 minutes in 1999. Cegetel's growth was partially offset by a 16% decrease in its average revenue per customer, from E63 to E53, which resulted primarily from lowered prices. Price declines were caused by intense competition in the French market and by the increased popularity of prepaid, rather than contract, arrangements. Prepaid customers represented 33% of SFR's total customer base at the end of 1999, up from 15% at the end of 1998. Prepaid customers generated average monthly revenue of E23, compared to E59 for the average contract customer. Moreover, SFR suffered from an increase in non-revenue generating mobile-to-mobile calls, and from a 20% decline in fixed-to-mobile rates implemented in September 1999 at the request of the ART. Vivendi Universal's fixed telephony business revenue more than doubled to E318 million in 1999, compared to E147 million in 1998. Cegetel 7's revenue almost tripled to E143 million. This growth is due largely to a 700,000 increase in Cegetel 7's subscriber base, from 400,000 in 1998 to 1.1 million in 1999 (traffic tripled to 1.6 billion minutes as well), partially offset by an average 25% price decrease, principally the result of the intense competition in this segment of the French telecommunications market. Cegetel 7 was able to win a market share of approximately seven percent in 1999, half of the market share relinquished by France Telecom to its competitors. Cegetel Entreprises' revenue doubled to E175 million, coming from a sharp increase in traffic (which almost quadrupled to 1.1 billion minutes), mitigated by significant price pressure on voice products.

Operating income for Vivendi Universal's telecommunications businesses increased to E350.6 million from E22.5 million in 1998. Cegetel accounted for E366 million of the 1999 total, having contributed E27 million in 1998. Cegetel's contribution was partially offset by a E15 million operating loss generated by the international operations of VTI. Within Cegetel, SFR's operating income doubled to E550 million, due to the decline in the average cost per marginal mobile phone user, explained above, which resulted in an improvement in operating margin from 11% to 16%. Cegetel 7's operating loss significantly decreased to E58 million, compared to a E102 million loss in 1998, due to a leaner cost structure and a 30% drop in customer acquisition and customer care costs. Cegetel Entreprises' operating loss decreased from E193 million to E148 million in 1999, due to a cost control program put in place in early 1999 and network restructuring. These efforts were partially offset by continued high interconnection costs to France Telecom's network.

Internet

The Internet business is conducted through Vivendi Universal Net which brings together all of Vivendi Universal's Internet ventures alongside Internet-related technological, investment and business development activities. Vivendi Universal Net is an investor, incubator, technical service provider and site operator that develops online content, technologies, brands and subscriber bases in collaboration with all the other Media and Communications businesses. Its focus is on selective investments, the strong internal growth of its subsidiaries and the development of applications that are not dependent on advertising as a revenue stream. Vivendi Universal Net's interactive operating strategy allows it to identify and develop synergies throughout the company and to benefit from economies of scale.

2000 Versus 1999 (Restated)

During 2000, many new Internet operations were launched or acquired including, Ad-2One, an online advertising agency and i-France, a multiservice portal that serves six European countries. Revenue in 2000 increased to E47.8 million, primarily as a result of these new businesses. The operating loss incurred in 2000 was E193.6 million, primarily due to start-up and development costs and marketing expenses. The planned European expansion of Ad-2One combined with new development in the Education portal and Enablers will continue to have a negative impact on earnings in 2001, however, the first launched vertical portals such as Flipside and Bonjour are expected to break even by the end of 2001.

1999 Versus 1998

Vivendi Universal's Internet businesses expanded rapidly in 1999, however, revenue was insignificant as many operations were in the developmental stage. Due primarily to marketing costs and the undeveloped nature of the Internet industry in general, these businesses generated an operating loss of E50.8 million in 1999 compared to a loss of E6.4 million in 1998. The year-on-year increase resulted from additional development costs for new operations.

Environmental Services

Vivendi Universal's Environmental Services businesses are primarily operated through Vivendi Environnement, a 63% effectively owned subsidiary. Vivendi Environnement is a worldwide leader in environmental services, with operations around the globe. It provides integrated services in four principal sectors, including water treatment and systems operation (Vivendi Water), waste management (Onyx), energy services (Dalkia) and transportation services (Connex), to a wide range of public authorities and industrial, commercial and residential customers. Vivendi Environnement also holds a 49% interest in and joint control of the holding company that owns FCC, one of the largest public companies in Spain, that operates in the construction, public works and environmental services sectors. Vivendi Environnement has been listed on the Paris Bourse since July 2000.

2000 Versus 1999 (Restated)

Environmental Services' total revenue for 2000 was E26.5 billion, an increase of 26% compared with 1999. Ten percent of the Environmental Services' revenue growth resulted from the full-year impact of acquisitions made in 1999, principally US Filter in water and Superior Services in waste management. Five percent resulted from favorable currency exchange rates and 11% was the result of internal growth. Revenue from Vivendi Environnement's water business was E12.9 billion, an increase of 23%, including 10% internal growth. Internal growth was generated by new contracts outside France and the steady development of waterworks in France. Revenue from Vivendi Environnement's waste management business was E5.3 billion, an increase of over 50% from 1999, of which internal growth was in excess of 13%. Internal growth resulted from a number of new contracts and increases in volumes and the price of paper. In the energy business, revenue increased 14% in 2000 to E3.2 billion, including almost 10% internal growth generated by cogeneration facilities in France and expansion in Northern and Eastern Europe. The transportation business generated revenue of E3.1 billion in 2000, up 29% from 1999, including internal growth of 13%, which resulted primarily from the development of the Stockholm and Melbourne contracts outside France and urban contracts within France. FCC generated revenue of in excess of E4 billion in 2000, E2 billion of which was contributed to Vivendi Environnement's consolidated revenue, reflecting its 49% interest. Revenue generated outside of France represented E15.4 billion, approximately 58% of the total.

Operating income generated by Environmental Services businesses increased by 28% to E1.9 billion in 2000. Twelve percent of the operating income growth resulted from 2000 acquisitions and full-year impact of the 1999 acquisitions, primarily US Filter and Superior Services. Six percent resulted from favorable currency exchange rates and 10% was the result of internal growth, principally in the water, energy and transportation divisions. Operating income generated by Vivendi Environnement's water division increased 35%, including over 11% from internal growth. Internal growth resulted from new contracts acquired outside France, steady activities in the United States and the benefits of a cost management policy. The waste management division generated operating income of E399 million, an increase of almost 45% over 1999, primarily as a result of acquisitions. Operating income from the energy business increased approximately 13% to E191 million in 2000. The internal growth was 15.9%. The transportation division generated operating income of E108 million in 2000, an increase of in excess of 14% over 1999, due to the favorable evolution of Stockholm and British contracts. FCC, generated an operating income of E208 million, an increase of 12% from 1999.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

1999 Versus 1998

Total revenue in Vivendi Universal's Environmental Services sector amounted to E22.4 billion in 1999, representing an increase of 40% over 1998, of which 29% was due to acquisitions, 7.7% to internal growth and the remainder due to the effect of changes in currency exchange rates, particularly the U.S. dollar/euro. Revenue from Vivendi Environnement's water business was E10.7 billion, an increase of 59% from 1998, primarily due to the acquisition of US Filter, which contributed E3.6 billion between May and December 1999. Internal revenue growth in the water business was approximately five percent. Revenue from Vivendi Environnement's waste management business was E3.5 billion, an increase of 24% from 1998, including internal growth in excess of nine percent, which resulted from a number of new contracts. Within the energy business, services revenue (Dalkia) increased five percent in 1999 to E2.8 billion, of which four percent was due to internal growth reflecting the ramp-up of cogeneration contracts in France and Eastern Europe. The transportation business generated revenue of E2.5 billion in revenue in 1999, up 23% from 1998, of which internal growth was 15%, resulting primarily from new contracts such as the Stockholm metro contract and the Melbourne contract. FCC generated revenue of almost E4 billion in 1999, E1.9 billion of which was contributed to Vivendi Environnement's consolidated revenue, reflecting its 49% interest. Geographically, revenue generated in France increased six percent to E9.9 billion. Outside France, revenue increased 88% to E12.5 billion, or 55% of the total revenue of the division.

Operating income from Vivendi Universal's Environmental Services businesses increased by 54% to E1.7 billion in 1999. This increase is primarily attributable to the acquisitions of US Filter, Superior Services, hazardous waste-related assets from Waste Management and Vivendi Universal's interest in FCC. Internal growth was 10%, an increase attributable primarily to new contracts in the water, waste management and transportation segments. The water business contributed operating income of E793 million in 1999, an increase of 96%, largely due to US Filter. The performance was also improved due to continued cost cutting efforts in the French water business. Operating margin in the water business increased from six percent in 1998 to seven percent in 1999. Within the energy business operating income increased 25% to E170 million in 1999, including 22% from internal growth. In the waste management business, operating income totaled E277.7 million, an increase of 23%, primarily due to the acquisition of Superior Services and Waste Management, which contributed E25 million and E13 million, respectively, to Vivendi Universal's operating income. Internal growth was 11%. The transportation business generated operating income of E96.1 million, an increase of 28% from 1998 (including 20% internal growth), primarily resulting from increased passenger traffic in the United Kingdom, which led to higher productivity in its operations there. FCC's contribution to Vivendi Universal's operating income was E190.5 million in 1999, compared to E74.5 million for the second half of 1998. Operating income for the same period in 1999 was E104 million.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Cash flows

Vivendi Universal satisfied its needs for working capital, expenditures and acquisitions over the last three years primarily through a combination of cash generated from operations, cash received from the issue of debt in the capital markets and committed bank facilities and disposition of non-core assets and businesses.

Net cash flow from operating activities reflects funds generated from operations and changes in operating assets and liabilities. Net cash flow from operating activities was E2.5 billion in 2000, an improvement of E1.7 billion over 1999. The improvement was mainly due to an increase in earnings primarily generated by Vivendi Universal's Telecoms, Publishing and Environmental Services businesses. Vivendi Universal expects operating cash flow to increase as a result of the continuing development of its Media and Communications businesses and from a reduction in interest costs resulting from planned disposals. In addition, Vivendi Universal expects the array of Seagram content assets to increase demand for its access services, and therefore to increase the net cash generated by its access operations. Also, it believes that Seagram's businesses -- particularly its recorded music business -- will generate strong cash flow, consistent with their historical performance.

Net cash flow from investing activities consists of acquisitions and divestitures of intangible and tangible assets, acquisitions of businesses, investments in companies accounted for using the equity method and net differences of other investments and marketable securities. Net cash used in investing activities was E1.5 billion in 2000 compared to E12.9 billion in 1999. The significant decrease primarily reflects fewer strategic acquisitions paid for in cash in 2000 compared to 1999. Purchase of investments were E3.1 billion in 2000, E8.8 billion lower than in 1999. Capital expenditures were E5.8 billion in 2000, E0.7 billion higher than 1999. Proceeds from the disposal of investments and fixed assets were E6.9 billion in 2000 compared to E4.5 billion in 1999, mainly attributable to the divestiture of non-core real estate, construction assets and GPU power generation plants.

Net cash flow used for financing activities was E0.6 billion in 2000 compared to net cash provided by financing activities of E13.7 billion in 1999. The year-on-year variance was primarily due to the merger with Seagram and Canal Plus. In July 2000, the sale of 37% of Vivendi Environnement through an IPO contributed to an increase in financing transactions of E3.8 billion.

Net cash flow from operating activities was E1.4 billion in 1999 compared to E2.9 billion in 1998. The decrease from 1998 to 1999 was mainly due to rising debt costs and sales of real estate assets, which more than offset increases in cash generated by Vivendi Universal's Telecoms, TV & Film and Publishing businesses.

Net cash used in investing activities was E13.6 billion in 1999 compared to E2.9 billion in 1998. The significant increase in 1999 primarily reflects several strategic acquisitions, including US Filter, Superior Services, Havas Interactive, Elektrim, Medimedia and Sogeparc (representing, in the aggregate, a total cash investment of E12 billion). An additional E5.7 billion was invested in property and equipment, an increase of 44% over 1998, principally to finance Sithe's acquisition of GPU power generation plants and to strengthen Cegetel's mobile telephony network. These investments more than offset the E2.9 billion generated through the 1999 real estate sales, the billboard advertising sale, the Audiofina sale, the Havas Advertising sale and sales of shares and marketable securities.

Net cash flow provided by financing activities was E13.7 billion in 1999 compared to E0.2 billion in 1998. The significant increase in 1999 was primarily due to increased proceeds from the issuance of common stock (principally in connection with the US Filter acquisition), the issuance of two series of convertible bonds that together generated proceeds in excess of E4.5 billion and additional credit facilities of approximately E6.0 billion.

In connection with the sale of the spirits and wine business, Seagram and Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, Inc. (or JES) have recently completed tender offers and consent solicitations for all of their outstanding debt securities that would have otherwise matured between April 2001 and December 2038 (excluding the Adjustable Conversion-rate Equity Security Units (ACES)), representing an aggregate of $6.175 billion principal amount of securities. Seagram and JES purchased an aggregate of approximately $6 billion of securities pursuant to these tender offers and consent solicitations. The aggregate purchase price, dealer management fees and solicitation fees paid in relation to these tender offers and consent solicitations totaled approximately $6.6 billion. On March 8, 2001, Vivendi Universal successfully completed an exchange offer and consent solicitation for 97.9% of the ACES, representing a principal amount of approximately $1 billion, issued by The Seagram Company Ltd. Vivendi Universal arranged certain bridge financing facilities with various financial institutions to provide funding for the tender offers and consent solicitations. Vivendi Universal intends to repay amounts drawn under these bridge financing facilities from the proceeds of the sale of the spirits and wine business.

Vivendi Universal expects that it will be able to satisfy its cash requirements for the next 12 months without raising additional funds. As for its Media and Communications businesses, and the company as a whole, it expects cash flow from operations, combined with proceeds from disposals of non-core assets, to meet its need for liquidity. Cash flow from these sources, however, may not be sufficient to finance capital expenditures in Vivendi Universal's Telecoms and Internet segments, in which case it may incur some additional debt, likely in the form of bank loans.

Capital resources

Vivendi Universal meets its long-term financing needs through the issuance of bonds and convertible debt and adapt to changes in these needs through the issuance of commercial paper and through short-term credit facilities. As at December 31, 2000, its material capital resources included, E56.7 billion in total shareholders' equity (up from E10.8 billion in 1999), E23.8 billion in long-term debt (up from E19.1 billion in 1999) and E14.9 billion in short-term debt (versus E15 billion in 1999). Vivendi Universal's net financial debt at December 31, 2000 was E25.5 billion, of which E13.1 billion relates to its Environmental Services businesses. The net financial debt was 91% denominated in euros with an average interest cost of 4.82% versus 4.1% in 1999. The remaining balance of the net financial debt was denominated in U.S. dollars, pounds sterling and Australian dollars with an average interest rate of 7.12%, 7.32% and 6.72%, respectively. Altogether, the average cost of debt in 2000 was 5.15% versus 5.13% in 1999. The maturity profile of the E23.8 billion in long-term debt is: E7.3 billion will mature in one to two years, E12.6 billion will mature in more than two years but less than five years, and E3.9 billion will mature in more than five years. Vivendi Universal expects to accelerate the retirement of the Media and Communications businesses net financial debt with the anticipated proceeds from the sale of Seagram's spirits and wine operations, completion of the ACES exchange offer and sale of its investment in BSkyB. Its ratio of net financial debt to shareholders' equity and minority interest was 38% in 2000 (versus 153% in 1999).

Capital Expenditures

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Vivendi Universal's total capital expenditures for 2000 were E5.8 billion, compared to E5.1 billion in 1999. Its 2000 capital expenditures were primarily in connection with its Telecoms (E1.1 billion), TV & Film (E0.8 billion) and Environmental Services (E2.6 billion) businesses. In addition, it invested E32.5 billion in the acquisition of other companies in 2000, principally related to the merger of Vivendi, Seagram and Canal Plus (a non-cash transaction of E29.5 billion).

Capital expenditures are expected to remain at similar levels over the next years in order to maintain existing facilities, continue research and development and promote the launch of new products and services.

Vivendi Universal believes its access to external capital resources together with internally generated liquidity will be sufficient to satisfy existing commitments and plans, and to provide adequate financial flexibility. Vivendi Universal expects to fund future capital requirements of its content business from future cash flows generated by operations. Regarding Vivendi Universal's Telecoms and Internet businesses, it expects to fund its future substantial capital expenditure requirements (including its E4.95 billion bid for a UMTS license in France) through additional incurrence of debt. Vivendi Universal expects that Vivendi Environnement will finance its capital requirements from its net cash flows and existing external financing and, if necessary, a moderate increase in indebtedness.

EFFECT OF INFLATION

Inflation did not have a material effect on Vivendi Universal's revenue or income from continuing operations in the 1998-2000 period.

UPDATE ON INTEGRATION AND SYNERGIES

Integration and cost-savings initiatives, along with the identification of revenue- and EBITDA-generating opportunities, are proceeding well. Cost-saving initiatives are well under way across all businesses and major progress has been made in the first three months since the creation of Vivendi Universal toward achieving the company's 2002 target of E420 million. Cost-savings have resulted from consolidations in headquarters operations, real estate, logistics, IT (Information Technology) and procurement. Additional cost savings are expected in all these areas. Identification of revenue synergies are well advanced and poised for delivery in 2002. Those synergies are projected to contribute E1 billion to the revenue line, resulting in an annual EBITDA contribution of E220 million. Synergies identified cut across the company's content and access business units.

OTHER MATTERS AND RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

SFR Submits Application for UMTS License

On January 30, 2001, SFR, an indirect subsidiary of Vivendi Universal, officially submitted its application for a license to provide third generation UMTS mobile telephony services in France. UMTS is a high-speed standard for mobile telephony that would allow Vivendi Universal, through SFR, to provide an extensive range of new services, including video telephony and high-speed access to the Internet and to corporate intranets. The licenses are expected to be awarded in 2002. The fee for each license is currently expected to be E4.95 billion, with payments spread over a 15-year period. The French government may be considering proposals to alter the terms of the license awards.

CANAL+'s Sale of Its Stake in Eurosport

On January 31, 2001, CANAL+ announced that it had sold its 49.5% interest in European sports channel Eurosport International and its 39% interest in

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Eurosport France to TF1. Proceeds from the sale amounted to E303.5 million for CANAL+ and E345 million for Vivendi Universal as its subsidiary Havas Image also sold its interest in Eurosport France. CANAL+ will remain a distribution channel for

168

Eurosport. CANAL+ had acquired its interest in Eurosport International and Eurosport France from ESPN in May 2000.

Convertible Bond Issuance

On February 2, 2001, Vivendi Universal placed E457 million principal amount of bonds exchangeable for shares of Vinci, a company in which Vivendi Universal has an 8.67% stake. The 1% five-year bonds were issued at a price of E77.35, a 30% premium to Vinci's then-current stock price. Each bond is exchangeable for one Vinci share. On February 5, 2001, the lead manager for the bonds, which managed the offering of the bonds, exercised its over-allotment option to purchase E70 million additional principal amount of the bonds, thus increasing the overall amount of the issuance to E527 million. Conversion of all the bonds into Vinci shares would result in the elimination of Vivendi Universal's stake in Vinci.

Acquisition of Uproar Inc.

On February 5, 2001, Flipside Inc., a subsidiary of Vivendi Universal's Publishing business, and Uproar Inc., a leading interactive entertainment company, announced that they had entered into a definitive merger agreement pursuant to which Flipside would acquire all of the outstanding stock of Uproar for $3 per share, or a total consideration of $140 million. The transaction has been approved by the Boards of both companies and will make the combined entity an overall leader in interactive games on the Internet.

Exchangeable Bond Issuance

On February 8, 2001, Vivendi Universal placed E1.809 billion principal amount of bonds exchangeable into Vivendi Environnement stock on a one for one basis. The bonds correspond to 9.3% of the capital stock of Vivendi Environnement. The 2%, five year bonds were issued at a price of E55.90, a 30% premium over the previous day's weighted-average price. Excluding, the 9.3% now allocated to the exchangeable bonds, Vivendi Universal holds 63% of Vivendi Environnement, and intends to maintain its majority control at this level for the long term.

Disposition of AOL CompuServe France

In March 2001, Vivendi Universal finalized the terms of the disposition of its interest in AOL CompuServe France.

Acquisition of EMusic.com

On April 6, 2001, Vivendi Universal entered into an agreement to acquire all of the outstanding shares of EMusic.com Inc. pursuant to a cash tender offer at $.57 per share. The acquisition was completed on June 14, 2001.

Acquisition of MP3.com

On May 20, 2001, Vivendi Universal announced that it had reached an agreement in principal to acquire MP3.com, Inc. for $372 million in a combined cash and stock transaction. The acquisition is subject to customary closing conditions, including regulatory approval.

Acquisition of Houghton Mifflin Company

On June 1, 2001, Vivendi Universal announced that it had reached an agreement in principal to acquire Houghton Mifflin through a cash tender offer for all of Houghton Mifflin's common stock at a price of $60 per share. The total consideration approximates $2.2 billion, including the assumption of Houghton Mifflin's average net debt of $500 million. The acquisition is subject to normal customary closing conditions, including regulatory approval.

Sale of Loews Cineplex

On June 28, 2001, Universal Studios and USIBV sold their interests to Goldman, Sachs & Co. for an aggregate purchase price of $1.00. Vivendi Universal intends to use the tax loss from the sale to offset gains on other capital transactions.

Cancellation of shares

On June 28, 2001, the Vivendi Universal board authorized the cancellation of 22 million shares, reducing the number of outstanding shares by approximately 2%.

TRENDS

Vivendi Universal believes that it can continue to achieve substantial growth in 2001 and beyond. The key industry factors that will enable it to sustain significant internal growth in its two core businesses are:

- In the Media and Communications division, continuing advances in technology and growth in the mobile telephony sector, particularly in mobile data and wireless internet services, as well as increasing demand for multimedia services, which it intends to exploit by leveraging Vivendi Universal's key content assets, including those it acquired in the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger.
- In the Environmental Services division, the acceleration of the trend towards privatization in the municipal market. Vivendi Universal believes that the percentage of the worldwide operating and management, or O&M, water market that is privatized will continue to grow. Similarly, although only a very small portion of the O&M industrial water market is privatized today, it is growing rapidly. It anticipates similar growth trends in its other environmental businesses.

The factors that may cause its expectations not to be realized include, but are not limited to, those described in "Risk Factors".

FINANCIAL OUTLOOK

The strong results that Vivendi Universal generated in 2000, combined with its unique combination of content and distribution assets provide a solid foundation for growth in 2001. For its Media and Communications businesses, revenue growth (excluding Universal Studios Group Filmed Entertainment) is targeted to be 10% and EBITDA growth is targeted to be 35% for the period 2000-2002.

Compensation of Directors and Senior Managers

The aggregate amount of compensation that Vivendi Universal paid to its directors, officers and senior managers, which included approximately 30 persons in all, for services to the company and its subsidiaries during the 2000 fiscal year was 10.32 million euros.

The aggregate amount that Vivendi Universal set aside or accrued to provide pension, retirement or similar benefits for its senior managers as a group, which included 11 persons in all, was approximately E1.358 million during the 2000 fiscal year. Except as described below, none of these persons is party to a service contract with Vivendi Universal pursuant to which he or she will receive material employment termination benefits. In 2000, it awarded these persons options to purchase 2,904,000 Vivendi Universal ordinary shares and options to purchase 1,535,000 Vivendi Universal ADSs (of which 520,000 options are based on an award made in 2000 by Seagram). The options on ordinary shares had an average exercise price of E88.12 and an average expiration date of September 30, 2008. The options on ADSs had an average exercise price of $70.83 and an average expiration date of July 14, 2009.

In respect of Seagram's fiscal year ended June 30, 2000, Edgar M. Bronfman received total compensation, including salary, bonus and other compensation, of $2,439,744. In respect of the same period, Edgar Bronfman, Jr. received compensation, including salary, bonus and other compensation of $7,046,431 and options for 650,000 Seagram common shares. These options have been converted into options for 520,000 Vivendi Universal ADSs, have an exercise price of $76.80 and expire on February 14, 2010. Of these options, 260,000 are currently exercisable, and the other 260,000 options become exercisable in equal installments over a three year period beginning on February 15, 2001. The other former Seagram directors on Vivendi Universal's board, Richard H. Brown, Marie-Josée Kravis and Samuel Minzberg, received compensation from Seagram in respect of acting as directors during Seagram's fiscal year ended June 30, 2000. Non-employee directors of Seagram received a retainer of $42,500 per year plus a fee of $1,500 for each board and committee meeting attended and were reimbursed for travel expenses incurred in connection with meetings attended. In addition, Marie-Josée Kravis received an additional $7,500 per year for acting as Chairman of Seagram's Human Resources Committee. Under The Seagram Company Ltd. Stock Plan for Non-Employee Directors, each non-employee director received at least 50% of his or her retainer in Seagram common shares or share equivalents and could elect to receive his or her entire retainer in that form. Non-employee directors could also receive their fees for attending board and committee meetings in Seagram common shares or share equivalents. Seagram did not set aside or accrue any material amounts to provide pension, retirement or similar benefits for Edgar Bronfman, Edgar Bronfman, Jr., Richard H. Brown, Marie-Josée Kravis or Samuel Minzberg in respect of Seagram's fiscal year ended June 30, 2000.

Bonus compensation paid to Edgar M. Bronfman and Edgar Bronfman, Jr. in respect of Seagram's fiscal year ended June 30, 2000 was paid, in each case, under Seagram's Senior Executive Short-Term Incentive Plan or Seagram's Management Incentive Plan. For the 2000 fiscal year, target awards for executive officers under both plans were based upon Seagram or its applicable operating unit achieving prescribed objectives for earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization. Awards under the Senior Executive Short-Term Incentive Plan could be reduced for any reason, including the assessment by the Human Resources Committee of Seagram's board of directors of the individual executive's performance or of the financial performance of Seagram or its operating units. Management Incentive Plan awards could be reduced or increased based on an assessment of the individual executive's performance.

As previously disclosed by Vivendi Universal, the fixed component of the remuneration of the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer in 2000 was 1.075 million euros gross, and 329,000 euros net after income tax and social charges. The amount of the variable component of the Chairman's remuneration will be set following approval of the financial statements at the Vivendi Universal shareholders' meeting. It could total a maximum amount of 3.2 million euros gross, and 1.1 million euros net after income tax and social charges.

The Governance Agreement

Vivendi Universal is a party to a governance agreement with certain former Seagram shareholders that are members or affiliates of the Bronfman family, or the Bronfman shareholders. In addition to the provisions described below, the governance agreement restricts the transfer of Vivendi Universal shares held by the Bronfman shareholders and contains other provisions relating to the ownership, holding, transfer and registration of Vivendi Universal shares. See also "Major Shareholders and Related Party Transactions -- Related Party Transactions -- Share Purchase From Members of the Bronfman Family".

Designees to Vivendi Universal's Board of Directors

Under the governance agreement, Vivendi Universal has elected to, and is required to use best efforts to, cause the continuation for a four-year term on its board of directors of four former members of Seagram's board of directors. Two of the four designees are parties to the governance agreement (Edgar M. Bronfman and Edgar Bronfman, Jr.), and the remaining two designees (Richard H. Brown and Samuel Minzberg) are unaffiliated with the Bronfman family (the non-Bronfman designees). Vivendi Universal's board of directors consists of 19 members. The number of directors will be reduced to 18 by January 1, 2003, subject to French law as it relates to employee shareholder representatives on the board.

Following the expiration of the initial four-year period, and for so long as the Bronfman shareholders continue beneficially to own the applicable percentage of the number of Vivendi Universal voting securities (as described below) owned by them immediately following the effective time of the arrangement, Vivendi Universal will use its best efforts to cause the election of the number of individuals designated by the Bronfman shareholders indicated below:

PERCENTAGE OF INITIAL INVESTMENT	NUMBER OF BRONFMAN DESIGNEES
more than 75%.....	3
more than 50% but less than or equal to 75%.....	2
more than 25% but less than or equal to 50%.....	1

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

After the initial four-year term, the renomination of the non-Bronfman designees will be Vivendi Universal's discretion.

Vivendi Universal voting securities are securities that generally entitle the holder to vote for members of Vivendi Universal's board of directors, or securities issued in substitution for such securities, including Vivendi Universal ordinary shares, Vivendi Universal ADSs and exchangeable shares.

Designees to the Committees of Vivendi Universal's Board of Directors

For so long as either (1) the Bronfman shareholders have the right to designate at least two members of Vivendi Universal's board of directors or (2) the Bronfman shareholders are collectively the largest holders of Vivendi Universal voting securities other than Vivendi Universal and its affiliates, Vivendi Universal must:

- appoint and maintain a designee of the Bronfman shareholders as the chairman of the compensation committee of its board of directors;
- cause the chairman of the compensation committee to be appointed and maintained as a member of the nominating committee of its board of directors;
- cause the nominating committee to be responsible for proposing the nomination of all directors, other than the Bronfman designees;
- cause a designee of the Bronfman shareholders to be appointed and maintained as a member of the audit committee of its board of directors; and
- cause a designee of the Bronfman shareholders to be appointed and maintained as a member of any subsequently formed executive or similar committee if the failure of the Bronfman shareholders to participate would be inconsistent with the purposes of the board and committee participation rights described above.

Stock Option Plans

Two stock option plans were introduced in fiscal 2000, the first in May 2000, and the second in December 2000 following the merger of Vivendi, Seagram and Canal Plus. The two plans involved a total of 13,670,458 options, or 1.3% of Vivendi Universal's capital stock at the date of the merger. Under the plans, 1,047 optionees were granted 2,783,560 options to purchase stock at a non-discounted exercise price of 111.44 euros, and 3,681 optionees were granted 10,886,898 options to purchase stock at a non-discounted exercise price of 78.64 euros or 67.85 U.S. dollars for options to purchase ADSs. The allocation of stock options is made on the basis of three criteria: level of responsibility, performance, and identification of high-potential managers or those who have carried out significant business operations.

Following the merger of Vivendi, Seagram and Canal Plus, Vivendi Universal also introduced an exceptional performance-related stock option plan in December 2000, known as the "out-performance" plan. The plan involved a maximum of 5,200,000 options (drawn from treasury stock) granted to Vivendi Universal's 91 principal managers. The stock options were granted at a non-discounted exercise price of 78.64 euros or 67.85 U.S. dollars for options to purchase ADSs. The accelerated exercise of these options is tied to Vivendi Universal outperforming the MSCI Media index.

RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

Share Purchase from Members of the Bronfman Family

On May 29, 2001, Vivendi Universal acquired an aggregate of 16,900,000 ADSs from entities related to the Bronfman family. The purchase price for these acquisitions was 74.9228 euros per ADS for 15,400,000 of the ADSs it purchased and 76.9414 euros per ADS for 1,500,000 of the ADSs it purchased. In connection with these sales, each of the sellers (other than a charitable foundation) agreed with the company that, from May 29, 2001 until December 31, 2001, it will not sell or otherwise transfer any ADSs that it holds (whether by actual disposition or effective economic disposition due to cash settlement or otherwise), subject to certain specified exceptions.

Esther Koplowitz and Fomento De Construcciones y Contratas economic effect of the transaction retroactive to July 1, 1998. Ms. Koplowitz owns the remaining 51% of the holding company.

The same month, Vivendi and Ms. Koplowitz signed a shareholders' agreement providing for shared control of the economic activity of the holding company, FCC and FCC's subsidiaries (the FCC group). Specifically, the agreement provides that Vivendi and Ms. Koplowitz are to be equally represented in the main executive bodies of the FCC group, which include the board of directors and executive committees of FCC and its subsidiaries.

At the same time, Vivendi entered into an option agreement under which Ms. Koplowitz has an option to sell to Vivendi, at any time between April 18, 2000 and October 6, 2008, her 51% interest in the holding company at a price based on the average market value of FCC's shares during the three months preceding the exercise of the option, up to seven times FCC's EBITDA or 29.5 times FCC's earnings per share for the previous year, whichever is lower.

Claridge Inc.

For the period July 1, 1998 through April 30, 2001, Claridge Inc. reimbursed a subsidiary of Seagram for the use of aircraft owned by such subsidiary in the amount of $438,293. The payment represented Claridge's pro rata share of the applicable operating expenses of the aircraft. For the same period, Seagram paid or accrued rent and reimbursed expenses to Claridge in the amount of 1,047,072 Canadian dollars for the use by Seagram of office and parking space and secretarial services. Bronfman is among the directors and officers of Claridge.

The Andrea & Charles Bronfman Philanthropies, Inc.

Frank Alcock

Since the beginning of Seagram's last fiscal year, Frank Alcock, the father-in-law of Edgar Bronfman, Jr., has provided consulting services to affiliates of Seagram for $6,250 per month.

USA Networks, Inc.

Universal Studios holds an effective 43% interest in USA Networks for the period ended May 31, 2001 through its ownership of common stock and class B common stock of USA Networks and shares of USANi LLC, a subsidiary of USA Networks, which Universal Studios can exchange for common stock and class B common stock of USA Networks. Universal Studios is party to a governance agreement among USA Networks, Universal Studios, Liberty Media and Barry Diller. The governance agreement:

- limits Universal Studios from acquiring additional equity securities of USA Networks;
- restricts Universal Studios from transferring USA Networks securities;
- provides for representation by Universal Studios and Liberty Media on USA Networks' board of directors; and
- lists fundamental actions that require the consent of Universal Studios, Liberty Media and Mr. Diller before USA Networks can take those actions.

In addition, Universal Studios has entered into a stockholders' agreement among Universal Studios, Liberty Media, Mr. Diller, USA Networks and Seagram. The stockholders' agreement:

- governs the acquisition of additional USA Networks securities by Liberty Media;
- restricts the transfer of shares; and
- generally grants Mr. Diller voting control over all of the USA Networks capital stock owned by Universal Studios and Liberty Media except with respect to the fundamental actions discussed above.

Universal Studios is also party to a spin-off agreement among Universal Studios, Liberty Media and USA Networks providing for interim management arrangements in the event that Mr. Diller ceases to be chief executive officer of USA Networks or becomes disabled. In addition, Universal Studios has entered into agreements with USA Networks providing for various ongoing business arrangements, including:

- an international distribution agreement granting Universal Studios the right to distribute internationally, programs produced by USA Networks for a fee;
- a domestic distribution agreement granting USA Networks the right to distribute specific Universal Studios programming, including Universal Studios' library of television programs, for a fee; and
- a transition services agreement and agreements relating to merchandising, music administration and music publishing, home video distribution, the use by USA Networks of Universal Studios' studio facilities and certain other matters.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

The parties negotiated these ongoing arrangements, which contain normal business terms and conditions, on an arms' length basis. Under the agreement governing Universal Studios' investment in USA Networks, at various times since March 1998 Universal Studios and Liberty Media have exercised their pre-emptive rights to purchase additional shares of USANi LLC shares following issuances of common stock by USA Networks. Universal Studios and Liberty Media may continue to exercise these pre-emptive rights from time to time in the future.

Mr. Diller is the chairman of the board and chief executive officer of USA Networks and, based on the information as of January 31, 2000 set forth in the proxy statement of USA Networks dated March 6, 2000, owns or has the right to vote, pursuant to the stockholders agreement, approximately 14% of the outstanding USA Networks common stock and 100% of the outstanding USA Networks class B common stock and has approximately 75% of the outstanding total voting power of USA Networks common stock and USA Networks class B common stock.

On May 28, 1999, USA Networks acquired from Universal Studios Holding I Corp. all of the capital stock of PolyGram Filmed Entertainment, Inc., or PFE, including the domestic motion picture and home video distribution organization conducted as PolyGram Films, PolyGram Video, PolyGram Filmed Entertainment Canada, Gramercy Pictures, Interscope Communications and Propaganda Films.

Universal Studios acquired PFE in December 1998 as part of Seagram's approximately $10.6 billion acquisition of PolyGram. At the time of the sale of PFE to USA Networks, USA Networks agreed to pay or assume certain liabilities relating to the acquired businesses, and Universal Studios and USA Networks entered into agreements providing for various ongoing business arrangements between Universal Studios and USA Networks, including, among others:

- a domestic theatrical distribution agreement, pursuant to which USA Networks made a $200 million interest bearing loan to Universal Studios' parent which is due in approximately eight years unless repaid earlier from receipts arising from distribution of specified motion pictures which USA Networks has the exclusive right to distribute theatrically, on television and on video in the United States and Canada for a fee;
- an ancillary services agreement, pursuant to which the parties will provide certain customary transitional services to each other during the six months following the closing;

- a videogram fulfillment agreement, pursuant to which Universal Studios or one of its affiliates will provide certain "pick, pack and ship" and related fulfillment services in the United States and Canada with respect to videos containing motion pictures of USA Networks; and
- a music administration agreement, pursuant to which, subject to certain specified exceptions, USA Networks appointed Universal-MCA Music Publishing to be the exclusive administrator for 15 years of USA Networks' interest in certain music publishing rights to music compositions owned or controlled by USA Networks which are written for or used in motion pictures and videos following the closing.

These arrangements were negotiated by the parties on an arms' length basis and contain customary business terms and conditions. In the ordinary course of business, and otherwise from time to time, Seagram and Vivendi Universal may enter into other agreements with USANi and its subsidiaries.

On June 28, 2001, the Vivendi Universal board authorized an increase of 11,448,920 shares in connection with exercises of options and warrants for ordinary shares. On the same date, the Vivendi Universal board authorized the cancelation of 22,000,000 treasury shares and 10,301,924 ordinary shares originally set aside to satisfy exchange rights in connection with the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger, reducing overall the number of outstanding shares by approximately 2%.

QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

As a result of Vivendi Universal's global operating and financing activities, it is subject to various market risks relating to fluctuations in interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates and equity market risks relating to investment securities. It follows a centrally managed risk management policy approved by its board of directors.

EXPOSURE TO INTEREST RATE RISK

As part of this policy, Vivendi Universal uses derivative financial instruments to manage interest rate risk, primarily related to long-term debt, and foreign currency risk associated with foreign denominated assets. It generally does not use derivative or other financial instruments for trading purposes. As a result of Vivendi Universal's regular borrowing activities, its operating results are exposed to fluctuations in interest rates. Vivendi Universal has short-term and long-term debt with both fixed and variable interest rates. Short-term debt is primarily comprised of notes payable to banks and bank lines of credit used to finance working capital requirements. Short-term investments are primarily comprised of cash and equivalents and marketable securities. Long-term debt represents publicly held unsecured notes and debentures and certain notes payable to banks used to finance long-term investments such as business acquisitions. Derivative financial instruments used to manage interest rate risk relating to long-term debt include interest rate swaps and caps. A hypothetical increase in average market rates of one percent over the year 2001 would result in a decrease (before taxes) in Vivendi Universal's annual net income of approximately E170 million.

Exposure to Equity Market Risk

Vivendi Universal's exposure to equity markets risk relates primarily to its investments in the marketable securities of unconsolidated entities and derivative equity instruments. It generally does not use derivative financial instruments to limit its exposure to equity market risk. A hypothetical decrease of 10% of overall portfolio share prices in 2001 would result in a decrease in its equity market portfolio of E869.3 million.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

To the Shareholders of Vivendi Universal:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheet of Vivendi Universal (the successor company to Vivendi S.A. -- see Note 1) and subsidiaries (together the "Company"), as of December 31, 2000 and December 31, 1999 and the related consolidated statements of income, changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for the years then ended, expressed in Euros. We have also audited the information presented in Note 16, which includes the approximate effect of the differences between accounting principles generally accepted in France and the United States on the consolidated net income and shareholders' equity of the Company as of December 31, 2000, 1999 and 1998 and for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. Barbier Frinault & Cie did not audit the financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 1998. Those statements were audited by RSM Salustro Reydel whose report has been furnished to Barbier Frinault & Cie and whose opinion, insofar as it relates to amounts included in Note 16 that are based on accounting principles generally accepted in France, is based on that report.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in France and the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts (including the conversion of certain financial information to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States) and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statements presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Vivendi Universal and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2000 and 1999 and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in France and the information with respect to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States as of and for the years ended December 31, 2000, 1999 and 1998 set forth in the Note 16.

The accounting practices of the Company used in preparing the accompanying financial statements vary in certain respects from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. A description of the significant differences between the Company's accounting practices and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States and the approximate effect of those differences on consolidated net income and shareholders' equity for the three years ended December 31, 2000 is set forth in Note 16 to the consolidated financial statements.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

To the Shareholders of Vivendi:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheet of Vivendi and subsidiaries (together "the Company") as of December 31, 1998 and the related consolidated statement of income, change in shareholders' equity and cash flow for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in France which are substantially similar to those generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Vivendi and subsidiaries as of December 31, 1998, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in France.

VIVENDI UNIVERSAL

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1 DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Vivendi Universal, also referred to herein as the company, is a societe anonyme organized under the laws of France. Vivendi Universal was created through the merger of Vivendi, The Seagram Company Ltd. and Canal Plus, also referred to herein as the Seagram/Canal Plus merger, that was completed in December 2000, and is the successor company to Vivendi. The company operates in two global core businesses: Media and Communications and Environmental Services. The Media and Communications business is divided into five business segments: Music, Publishing, and TV & Film, which constitute its content businesses, and Telecoms and Internet, which constitute its access businesses. Integration and partnering of the Media and Communications business segments enables Vivendi Universal to provide a diverse array of entertainment and information content to an international customer and subscriber base over wired and wireless access devices using cable, Internet, satellite and broadcast networks.

Content

- The Music business is conducted through Universal Music Group, which produces, markets and distributes recorded music throughout the world in all major genres. Universal Music Group also manufactures, sells and distributes video products in the United States and internationally, and licenses music copyrights.
- The Publishing business is Europe's premier publisher of information providing content across multiple platforms, including print, multimedia, on the wired Internet and to personal data appliances (PDAs) via wireless application protocol (WAP) technology. The Publishing business is a content leader in five core markets: education, games, healthcare information, local services, and business and general information.
- The TV & Film business produces and distributes motion picture, television and home video/DVD products worldwide, operates and has ownership interests in a number of cable and pay television channels, engages in the licensing of merchandising and film property rights and operates theme parks and retail stores around the world.

Access

- The Telecoms business provides a broad range of telecommunications services, including mobile and fixed telephony, Internet access and data services and transmission, principally in Europe.
- The Internet business manages the strategic Internet initiatives and new online ventures for Vivendi Universal. Utilizing advanced digital distribution technology, the Internet business develops e-commerce, e-services and thematic portals that offer access to the Internet via a variety of devices, including mobile phones, PDAs, interactive TV and computers.

Vivendi Environnement, a 63 percent effectively-owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal, operates the Environmental Services business, with operations around the globe. Vivendi Environnement provides environmental management services, including water treatment and system operation, waste management, energy services and transportation services, to a wide range of public authorities and industrial, commercial and residential customers.

NOTE 2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation Vivendi Universal has prepared its consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in France (French GAAP). The financial statements of foreign subsidiaries have, when necessary, been adjusted to comply with French GAAP. French GAAP differs in certain respects from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (U.S. GAAP). A description of these differences and their effects on net income and shareholders' equity is discussed in Note 16. The consolidated financial statements are presented in French GAAP format and incorporate certain modifications and additional disclosures designed to conform more closely to U.S. GAAP financial statements.

Principles of Consolidation and Accounting for Investments The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Vivendi Universal and its subsidiaries. All companies in which Vivendi Universal has legal or effective control are consolidated. The Company consolidates Cegetel and Canal Plus, in which it owns less than 50% of the voting shares. The Company has a direct and indirect ownership interest in Cegetel totaling 44%. Cegetel is consolidated because, through a shareholders agreement, the Company has a majority of the shareholder voting rights. The Company has a 49% direct ownership interest in Canal Plus. With respect to Canal Plus, the Company's control is derived from the facts that (i) Vivendi Universal has a majority of the Board of Directors, and (ii) the operational risks and rewards of Canal Plus are borne by Vivendi Universal. In addition, the Company only consolidates the subsidiary if no other shareholder or group of shareholders exercise substantive participating rights, which would allow those shareholders to veto or block decisions taken by the Company. The Company uses the equity method of accounting for its investments in certain subsidiaries in which it owns less than 20% of the voting shares. In these situations, the Company exercises significant influence over the operating and financial decisions of the subsidiary either (a) through a disproportionate representation on the subsidiary's Board of Directors, e.g., the percentage of directors appointed to the board by the Company is greater than the percentage of its shareholding interest and those directors allow the Company to exercise significant influence, and (b) because there is no other shareholder with a majority voting ownership in the subsidiary, which is a consideration under French accounting principles to determine whether significant influence exists, or (c) because the Company exercises substantive participating rights, through shareholders agreements, that allow the Company to veto or block decisions taken by the subsidiary board. Significant investments in which Vivendi Universal has 20% to 50% ownership or otherwise exercises significant influence are accounted for under the equity method. The proportionate method of consolidation is used for investments in jointly controlled companies, where Vivendi Universal and outside shareholders have agreed to exercise joint control over significant financial and operational policies. For such entities, the Company records its proportionate interest in the balance sheet and income statement accounts. All other investments in affiliates which are not consolidated are accounted for at cost. Subsidiaries acquired are included in the consolidated financial statements as of the acquisition date. All material intercompany transactions have been eliminated. In the case of proportionally consolidated companies, intercompany transactions are eliminated on the basis of Vivendi Universal's interest in the company involved.

Use of Estimates The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make informed estimates, assumptions and judgments, with consideration given to materiality, that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. For example, estimates are used in management's forecast of anticipated revenues in the TV & Film and Music businesses and in determining valuation allowances for long-lived assets and uncollectible accounts receivable, pension liabilities and deferred taxes. Actual results could differ significantly from these estimates.

Foreign Currency Translation

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Introduction of the euro -- Since the introduction of the euro on January 1, 1999, the functional and reporting currency of Vivendi Universal has been the euro. Prior to this date, the functional and reporting currency of the Company was the French franc. Periods prior to January 1, 1999, have been restated from French francs into euros using the official fixed exchange rate of E1 = FF 6.55957. The restated financial statements depict the same trends as the financial statements previously prepared using the French franc. The restated financial statements will not be comparable to financial statements of other companies that report in euros and have restated prior periods from currencies other than the French franc.

Translation of foreign subsidiaries' financial statements -- Financial statements of foreign subsidiaries whose functional currency is not the euro are translated into euros at applicable exchange rates. All assets and liability accounts are translated at the appropriate year-end exchange rate and all income and expense accounts are translated at the average exchange rate for the year. The resulting translation gains and losses are recorded in retained earnings. For subsidiaries operating in highly inflationary economies, the financial statements are translated into the stable currency of a country that has a similar economy. Related translation gains or losses are recorded in current period earnings. These financial statements are then translated from the stable currency into euros at the applicable exchange rates, and related translation gains or losses are recorded in retained earnings. Financial statements of subsidiaries located in countries that adopted the euro as their official currency are translated from the former national currencies to the euro at the official fixed exchange rates that were established on January 1, 1999, and are no longer subject to fluctuation.

Foreign currency transactions -- Foreign currency transactions are converted into euros at the exchange rate on the transaction date. The resulting exchange losses are recorded in the current period earnings. Exchange gains or losses on borrowings denominated in foreign currencies that qualify as hedges of net investments in foreign subsidiaries are recorded in retained earnings.

Revenue Recognition Revenue is recorded when title passes to the customer or when services are rendered in accordance with contracts. Title passes to the customer when goods are shipped. Revenues relating to specific business segments are discussed in applicable sections of this footnote.

Goodwill and Business Combinations All business combinations are accounted for as purchases or mergers. Under the purchase accounting method, assets acquired and liabilities assumed are recorded at fair value. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of net assets acquired, if any, is capitalized as goodwill and amortized over the estimated period of benefit on a straight-line basis. The amortization periods for goodwill range from 7 to 40 years in its Media and Communications businesses and from 20 to 40 years in its Environmental Services businesses.

Certain significant acquisitions have been accounted for as mergers as permitted under French GAAP. Under this method, the assets and liabilities of the acquired company are accounted for at historical cost. Goodwill corresponds to the difference between the value of shares issued and the equity of ownership interests acquired, valued at historical cost.

In accordance with French GAAP, for transactions where acquisitions are completed through issuance of capital, the portion of goodwill attributable to such proceeds may be charged to shareholders' equity, up to the amount of the related share premium.

Other Intangible Assets Market share and editorial resources are not amortized (see accounting policies specific to the Media and Communications sector).

Start-up costs relating to the implementation of new activities including pre-operating costs and film development rights, are amortized over their estimated useful life.

Property, Plant and Equipment Property, plant and equipment are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method, generally over the useful lives of 20 - 50 years for buildings and 3 - 15 years for equipment and machinery.

Assets financed by leasing contracts that include a purchase option (known in France as "credit-bail") are capitalized and amortized over the shorter of the lease term or the estimated useful lives of the assets. Amortization expense on assets acquired under such leases is included with depreciation and amortization expense.

Valuation of Long-Lived Assets The carrying value of long-lived assets, including goodwill and other intangible assets, is reviewed on a regular basis for the existence of facts or circumstances, both internally and externally, that may suggest impairment. Should impairment be indicated, a valuation allowance is established, based on estimated fair value.

Financial Assets

Investments accounted for using the cost method -- Investments in unconsolidated affiliates are carried at cost. Any negative difference between carrying value and fair value that is determined to be other than temporary is reserved.

Portfolio investments held as fixed assets -- Portfolio and other investments include unlisted and listed equity securities of unconsolidated subsidiaries and long-term loans that are recorded at cost. When fair value is less than cost and is determined to be other than temporary, a valuation allowance may be provided. Estimated fair value is determined on the basis of Vivendi Universal's share of the equity of the companies concerned, adjusted to market value in the case of listed securities, and of their earnings growth prospects.

Inventories and Work-In-Progress The Company values inventories according to the provisions of the French Commercial Code, either on a first-in-first-out or a weighted average cost basis. Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value.

Deferred Taxes Deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences, net tax operating loss carryforwards and tax credit carryforwards. Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are recorded at their estimated net realizable value. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted for the effects of changes in tax laws and rates on the enactment date.

Cash, Cash Equivalents and Marketable Securities Cash and cash equivalents include all cash balances and short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less at the time of purchase and are stated at cost which approximates their fair value.

Marketable securities include Vivendi Universal treasury shares and other highly liquid investments. Vivendi Universal treasury shares are classified as marketable securities when they are acquired in open market transactions or in connection with stock options granted to directors and employees. Treasury shares held for other reasons are recorded as an offset to shareholders' equity. Marketable securities are carried at cost, and a valuation allowance is provided if the fair value is less than the carrying value.

Pension Plans Vivendi Universal has several pension plans that cover substantially all employees. Vivendi Universal determines its pension obligations using the projected unit credit method. This method considers the probability of personnel remaining with Vivendi Universal until retirement, the foreseeable changes in future compensation, and the appropriate discount rate for each country in which Vivendi Universal maintains a pension plan. This results in the recognition of pension-related assets or liabilities, and the recognition of the related net expenses over the estimated term of service of the employees.

Vivendi Universal's employees in France and most other European countries are eligible for severance pay pursuant to applicable law immediately upon termination. Vivendi Universal reserves for such employees' termination liabilities using the projected unit credit method.

Stock Based Compensation Vivendi Universal has adopted stock option incentive plans that grant options on its common shares to certain directors, officers and other managers. The purpose of these stock option plans is to align the interest of management with the interest of shareholders by providing certain officers and other key employees with additional incentives to increase the Company's performance on a long-term basis. Shareholders' equity is credited for the cumulative strike price to reflect the issuance of shares upon the exercise of options. Treasury shares that are held by the Company to fulfill its obligations under stock options granted have been recorded in the balance sheet as marketable securities and are carried at the lower of their historical cost or fair value. Vivendi Universal recognizes any resulting holding gain or loss in the period that the shares are sold to the plan.

The Company also maintains employee stock purchase plans that allow substantially all full-time employees of Vivendi Universal and certain of its subsidiaries to purchase shares of Vivendi Universal. Shares purchased by employees under these plans are subject to certain restrictions over the sale or transfer of the shares by employees for a five-year period.

Derivative Financial Instruments The Company manages certain of its financial risks by using derivative financial instruments that qualify as hedges.

The Company primarily uses interest rate swaps and caps to manage interest rate risks relating to its funding costs. The goal of these swaps is, depending on the circumstances involved, to modify from fixed to floating rates and from floating to fixed as well as to modify the underlying index on floating rate debt. The goal of the interest caps is to limit the upside risk relating to floating rate debt. Interest rate swaps that modify borrowings or designated assets are accounted for on an accrual basis. Premiums paid for interest rate caps are expensed as incurred.

The Company uses currency swaps and forward exchange contracts to manage its foreign currency risk. Forward exchange contracts are used to hedge firm and anticipated transactions relating to assets denominated in foreign currencies. Currency rate swaps are used to modify the interest rate and currency of foreign denominated debt. Gains and losses arising from the change in the fair value of currency instruments that qualify for hedge accounting treatment are deferred until related gains or losses on hedged items are realized.

Other derivative financial instruments are used by the Company to hedge a part of public debt with principal repayment terms based on the value of Vivendi Universal stock. These instruments effectively modify the principal terms to a fixed amount and the rates to floating rates.

Any financial instruments that do not qualify as hedges for financial reporting purposes are recorded at the lower of cost or fair value in other current assets or liabilities and the profit or loss relating to the periodic change in fair value is recorded as income or expense in the current period.

Research and Development The Research and Development costs are expensed as incurred.

Accounting for Internal Use Software Direct internal and external costs incurred to develop computer software for internal use are capitalized during the application development stage and otherwise expensed. Such costs are amortized over their useful life. Policies applied by specific sectors are discussed in applicable sections of this Note.

Accounting for Costs of Computer Software to be Sold, Leased, or Otherwise Marketed All costs incurred to establish the technological feasibility of a computer software product to be sold, leased, or otherwise marketed are research and development costs. Such costs are charged as expenses as they are incurred. The technological feasibility of a computer software product is established when the Company has completed all planning, designing, coding, and testing activities that are necessary to establish that the product can be produced to meet its design specifications. The period between establishing the technological feasibility and the generation of a working model of the software to be marketed is not material. Therefore, the Company expenses all costs relating to external use software.

Advertising Costs The cost of advertising is expensed as incurred. However, certain costs specifically related to the change of the Company's corporate name have been capitalized and amortized over 3 years.

Earnings Per Share Earnings per share is based on net income after taxes divided by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding.

Accounting Policies Specific to the Media & Communications Businesses

TV & Film segment -- Revenue from broadcast advertising is recognized when commercials are aired. Revenue from television subscription services related to cable and satellite programming services is recognized as the services are provided. Revenue from the theatrical distribution of motion pictures is recognized when the motion pictures are exhibited.

Film and television rights are stated at the lower of cost, less accumulated amortization, or net realizable value. Television broadcast programming licenses and rights and related liabilities are recorded at the contractual price when the screening certificate is obtained or from the signature date of the contract, if later. Films and television production costs are expensed based on the ratio of the current period's gross revenues to estimated total gross revenues from all sources on an individual production basis. Revenue estimates are reviewed periodically and amortization is adjusted accordingly. Film costs, net of amortization, are classified as other intangible assets.

Television network and station rights for theatrical movies and other long-term programming are charged to expense primarily on the usage of programs. Multi-year sports rights are charged to expense over the term of the contract.

Estimates of total gross revenues and costs can change significantly due to a variety of factors, including the level of market acceptance of the film and television products, advertising rates and subscriber fees. Accordingly, revenue and cost estimates are reviewed periodically and the related asset amortization is adjusted prospectively, if necessary. Such adjustments could have a material effect on results of operations in future periods.

In order to effectively manage its capital needs and costs in the film business, Vivendi Universal may utilize a variety of arrangements, including co-production, insurance, contingent profit participation and the sale of certain distribution rights. In connection with its review of capital needs and costs, the Company has entered into an agreement with an independent third-party to sell substantially all completed feature films produced over the period 1997 - 2000. Films under the agreement are sold at its cost and no revenue or expense from the initial sale of the films is recognized. The company distributes these films and maintains an option to reacquire the films at fair value, based on a formula considering the remaining estimated total gross revenues, net of costs, at the time of reacquisition. No films have been reacquired as of December 31, 2000. Following the sale to the third-party, Vivendi Universal accrues participations due to the third-party in the same manner that the company has historically amortized film costs under Financial Accounting Standard (SFAS) No. 53, Financial Reporting by Producers and Distributors of Motion Picture Films. As a distributor, the company has recorded, in its statement of income, the revenues received from and operating expenses related to the films in all markets where Vivendi Universal bears financial risk for film performance, and, in interest, net and other expense, certain other costs relating to the agreement.

Revenues at theme parks are recognized at the time of visitor attendance. Revenues for retail operations are recognized at point-of-sale.

Publishing segment -- Revenue in the publishing segment is comprised of magazine advertising revenue which is earned when the advertisement runs and publication subscription revenue which is recognized over the term of the subscription on a straight-line basis. In addition, revenue in this segment is generated from book and software sales which is recognized when legal title to goods transfers upon shipment to the retailer.

Music segment -- Revenues from the sale of recorded music, net of a provision for estimated returns and allowances, are recognized upon shipment to third parties. Advances to established recording artists and direct costs associated with the creation of record masters are capitalized and are charged to expense as the related royalties are earned, or when the amounts are determined to be unrecoverable. The advances are expensed when past performance or current popularity does not provide a sound basis for estimating that the advance will be recovered from future royalties.

Telecoms segment -- Revenue from the telecommunication segment are recognized when the services are provided. Telecommunication subscription revenue fees are deferred and recognized over the contract term, generally 12 months. Prepaid telecommunication fees are deferred and recognized when minutes are used.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Discounts granted to customers represent mobile purchase incentives (service credit for twelve months) and discounts on packs (mobile granted access to Societe Francaise du Radiotelephone (or SFR) flat-rate tariff including connection). These discounts are treated as a reduction in revenue, and are spread over twelve months from the date the line is put into service.

Internet segment -- Website development costs are expensed as incurred.

Accounting Policies Specific to the Environmental Services Business

Public Service Contracts -- Vivendi Universal holds public service contracts according to which the company is granted the obligation to manage and maintain facilities owned and financed by local authorities. Revenue relating to these contracts is recognized when services are rendered.

Facilities operated by the company are generally financed by local authorities and remain their property throughout the contract period. Individual facilities financed by the Company as a consequence of specific contractual terms are recorded as fixed assets and depreciated to their estimated residual value, if any, on the shorter of their economic useful lives or the contract's term. Whenever the contract's term is shorter than the economic useful life of the asset, such depreciation is classified as a liability as a financial depreciation.

Vivendi Universal generally assumes a contractual obligation to maintain and repair facilities managed through public service contracts. Corresponding repair and maintenance costs are expensed as incurred, except for some investments in joint ventures where these costs are accrued in advance.

Fees incurred to obtain a contract and paid upfront are capitalized and amortized on a straight line basis over the duration of the contract.

Landfill Capitalization and Depletion

Landfill sites are carried at cost and amortized ratably using the units of production method over the estimated useful life of the site as the airspace of the landfill is consumed. Landfill costs include capitalized engineering and other professional fees paid to third parties incurred to obtain a disposal facility permit. When the company determines that the facility cannot be developed or the likelihood of grant of the permit cannot be determined before its final authorization, as it is the case in France and the United Kingdom, these costs are expensed as incurred.

Landfill Closure and Post-closure Costs

Vivendi Universal has financial obligations relating to closure and post-closure costs and the remediation of disposal facilities it operates or for which it is otherwise responsible.

Landfill final closure and post-closure accruals consider estimates for costs of the final cap and cover for the site, methane gas control, leachate management, groundwater monitoring, and other monitoring and maintenance to be incurred after the site discontinues accepting waste. The company accrues a reserve for these estimated future costs pro rata over the estimated useful life of the sites.

Accruals for environmental remediation obligations are recognized when such costs are probable and reasonably estimable.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

These liabilities are classified as reserves and allowances.

Change in Accounting Principles

NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS IN FRANCE

A new set of accounting standards set forth by the "Comite de la Reglementation Comptable" in April 1999, covering the consolidation methodologies applicable to consolidated financial statements, is effective for fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2000. Accordingly, Vivendi Universal adopted the following new principles for fiscal year 2000:

- Revenues and expenses of subsidiaries' financial statements denominated in a currency different from euros, which were previously translated at the year-end exchange rate, are now translated at the average exchange rate during the period. The cumulative effect of this change in accounting principle would have decreased net income as of December 31, 1999 by E16.3 million.

209

- Gains on foreign currency transactions, which were previously deferred, are now recorded in current period earnings. The cumulative effect of this change in accounting principle would have increased net income as of December 31, 1999 by E107.4 million.

OTHER CHANGES

In addition, as of January 1, 2000, Vivendi Universal adopted the following new accounting principles in order to more closely align the company's accounting policies to U.S. GAAP:

- Subscriber acquisition costs, which were previously spread over 12 months from the date the line was put into service, are now charged to expense. The cumulative effect of this change in accounting principle would have decreased net income as of December 31, 1999 by E87.7 million.
- Broadcasting rights acquired by Canal Plus are now capitalized as intangible assets and are amortized over the period of the agreement. The cumulative effect of this change had no impact on net income in 2000 and 1999. Total assets increased by E2.0 billion (most of which related to intangible assets) and total liabilities and shareholders' equity increased by the same amount.

Restated 1999 financial statements have been presented in order to facilitate comparability of annual financial statements.

Reclassifications Certain prior period amounts in the financial statement notes have been reclassified to conform with the current year presentation.

NOTE 3 SIGNIFICANT TRANSACTIONS/BUSINESS COMBINATIONS

MERGER OF VIVENDI, SEAGRAM AND CANAL PLUS

On December 8, 2000, Vivendi, Seagram and Canal Plus completed a series of transactions in which the three companies combined to create Vivendi Universal. The terms of the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger included:

- Vivendi Universal's combination, through its subsidiaries, with Seagram in accordance with a plan of arrangement under Canadian law. In Vivendi

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Universal's combination with Seagram, holders of Seagram common shares (other than those exercising dissenters' rights) received 0.80 Vivendi Universal American Depositary Shares (ADSs), or a combination of 0.80 non-voting exchangeable shares of Vivendi Universal's Canadian subsidiary Vivendi Universal Exchangeco (exchangeable shares) and an equal number of related voting rights in Vivendi Universal, for each Seagram common share held.

- Vivendi merger with Canal Plus: Canal Plus shareholders received two Vivendi Universal ordinary shares for each Canal Plus ordinary share they held and kept their existing shares in Canal Plus, which retained the French premium pay television channel business.
- Vivendi Universal accounted for the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger using the purchase method of accounting for business combinations.

Seagram

Goodwill is the excess of purchase price over the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed, and is amortized on a straight-line basis over a 40-year period.

Accrual for Exit Activities In connection with the integration of Vivendi, Seagram and Canal Plus, management developed a formal exit activity plan that was committed to by management and communicated to employees shortly after the merger was consummated. The accrual for exit activities consists principally of facility elimination costs, including leasehold termination payments and incremental facility closure costs, contract terminations, relocation costs and the severance of approximately 100 employees, related to the acquired companies.

The sale is expected to close during 2001 and is subject to regulatory approvals and customary closing conditions. There is no assurance that such conditions will be satisfied. NOTE 9 BENEFIT PLANS

In accordance with the laws and practices of each country, the Company participates in employee benefit pension plans offering death and disability healthcare, retirement and special termination benefits. These plans provide various benefits including flat payments per year of service and final pay plans that are integrated with local social security and multi-employer plans.

Most of the pension plans are funded with investments made in various instruments such as insurance contracts and equity and debt investment securities. These pension plans do not hold investments in the Company's shares.

For defined contribution plans and multi-employer plans, the Company records expense equal to the contributions paid. For defined benefit pension plans, accruals and prepaid expenses are determined using the projected unit credit method.

Special termination benefits are recorded on an accrual basis at the time the offer is accepted by the employees or their representatives.

NOTE 10 FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND COUNTERPARTY RISKS

The Company uses various financial derivative instruments to manage its exposure to fluctuations in interest rates and foreign currency rates.

The Company does not participate in any third-party default, which could have a significant impact on its financial position and the results of its transactions.

NOTE 11 FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

SFAS No 107 and No 119, issued by the FASB, require the disclosure of the estimated fair value of all financial instruments other than specified items such as lease contracts, subsidiary and affiliate investments and employers' pension and benefit obligations. Except for publicly traded equity and marketable securities for which market prices were used, these values have been estimated for the majority of Vivendi Universal's financial instruments. Accordingly, fair values are based on estimated values using various valuation techniques, such as present value of future cash-flows. However, methods and assumptions followed to disclose data presented herein are inherently judgmental and involve various limitations.

As a consequence, the use of different estimations, methodologies and assumptions may have a material effect on the estimated value amounts.

The methodologies used are as follows:

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS, ACCOUNTS AND NOTES RECEIVABLE, BANK OVERDRAFTS, SHORT-TERM BORROWINGS, ACCOUNTS AND NOTES PAYABLE.

The carrying amounts reflected in the consolidated statements are reasonable estimates of the fair-value because of the relatively short period of time between the origination of the instruments and their expected realization.

INVESTMENTS.

Estimated fair values for publicly traded equity securities are based on quoted market prices as of December 31, 2000 and 1999. For other investments for which there are no quoted price, a reasonable estimate of fair value could not be made without incurring excessive costs.

LOANS AND ADVANCES.

The fair values for loans have been determined by discounting the estimated future cash flows, using the zero coupon interest rate curves at year end taking into account a spread that corresponds to the average risk classification of Vivendi Universal. Loans to subsidiaries excluded from consolidation are not fair valued.

LONG-TERM DEBT, CURRENT PORTION OF LONG-TERM DEBT, LONG-TERM INTEREST RATE AND FOREIGN CURRENCY SWAPS.

The fair values of these financial instruments were determined by estimating future cash flows on a borrowing-by-borrowing basis and discounting these future cash flows using the zero coupon interest rate curves at year end and taking into account a spread that corresponds to the average risk classification of the Company.

All issue swaps (long-term interest rate and foreign currency swaps) specifically hedge debenture loans. They were concluded under International Swap and Derivative Association (ISDA) agreements, in order to create long-term debt in US dollars on a Libor basis. Fair values of these swaps have to be considered together with the fair values of hedged debenture loans, as set forth below. Also, some long-term interest rate swaps were concluded to modify partially the interest rate exposure. The corresponding fair value is set forth below and should be considered together with the fair value of the long-term debt.

BANK GUARANTEES.

These instruments were fair valued based on average fees currently charged for similar agreements, taking into accounts the average risk classification of Vivendi Universal.

225

Other off-balance sheet financial instruments:

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

The fair value of the interest rate swaps is calculated by discounting future cash flows on the basis of the zero coupon interest rate curves existing at year end.

Forward exchange transactions (forward exchange rates and currency swaps) are valued on the basis of a comparison of the forward rates negotiated with the rates in effect on the financial markets at year end for similar maturities.

Vivendi Universal had E4.78 billion in financial commitments on December 31, 2000. These included guarantees, collateral and other signature commitments.

The main ones are:

- E940 million surety contract applied to the Xfera joint venture which obtained a third generation UMTS mobile telecommunications license in Spain and in which Vivendi Universal has a 31% equity stake;
- Two guarantees capped at E250 million each extended when the group sold its hotel business to a consortium composed of Accor, Blackstone and Colony, and sold several office towers and housing complexes to Unibail;
- Under the Berlin water contract, Vivendi Universal may be obliged to pay approximately E613 million to previous land owners, no indemnified by the Berlin government, who present claims for payments.

Vivendi Universal has given specific guarantees that cover both prepayments received by the company and performance obligations relating to construction contracts of Vivendi Universal. These guarantees typically represent 20-30% of the value of a contract, and in some cases can be 100% of the contract amount.

Contingent liabilities in the real estate segment consist of pledges in the amounts of E189.5 million, E211 million and E188 million, and guarantees to banks in the amounts of E99.5 million, E52 million and E72 million as at December 31, 2000, 1999 and 1998, respectively.

Capital leases and other long term leases

Vivendi Universal finances certain operating assets and investment properties through capital leases (including a purchase option (known in France as "credit bail")). Minimum future payments under these capital lease obligations at December 31, 2000 and December 31, 1999 represent E842 million and E1.1 billion.

In addition, the disposal of three office buildings in April 1996 was accompanied by a 30-year lease back arrangement effective upon completion of the building. In 1996, three buildings were sold in Berlin. The transaction comprises lease back arrangements for periods ranging from ten to thirty years. The annual rental charge is E28.4 million. The difference between Vivendi Universal's rental obligation under the leases and the market rent is reserved when unfavorable.

Other commitments

Vivendi Universal has entered into a contract to purchase exclusive broadcasting rights for films and sporting events, under various agreements expiring through 2009. As described in Note 2, under certain public service contracts, it has assumed fees obligation with local authorities. At December 31, 2000, the minimum future payments of these other commitments are summarized as follows:

Litigation

Vivendi Universal is subject to various litigation in the normal course of business. Although it is not possible to predict the outcome of such litigation with certainty, based on the facts known to the company and after consultation with counsel, management believes that such litigation will not have a material adverse effect on the company's financial position or results of operations.

Environmental matters

Vivendi Universal's operations are subject to evolving and increasingly stringent environmental regulations in a number of jurisdictions. Vivendi Universal's operations are covered by insurance policies. At December 31, 2000, there are no significant environmental losses.

NOTE 13 SEGMENT INFORMATION

Vivendi Universal operates in two global core businesses: Media and Communications and Environmental Services. These businesses are divided into six reportable segments: Music, Publishing, TV & Film, Telecoms, Internet and Environmental Services. Each reportable segment defined by Vivendi Universal is a strategic business unit that offers different products and services that are marketed through different channels. Segments are managed separately because of their unique customers, technology, marketing and distribution requirements. The company evaluates the performance of its segments and allocates resources to them based on several performance measures, including EBITDA. As defined by the company, EBITDA consists of operating income before amortization and depreciation, expenses of replacement and repair of installation and equipment owned by local authorities. EBITDA should not be considered an alternative to operating or net income as an indicator of Vivendi Universal's performance or as an alternative to cash flows from operating activities as a measure of liquidity, in each case determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. In addition, EBITDA may not be strictly comparable to similarly titled measures widely used in the United States or reported by other companies. There are no intersegment revenues; however, corporate headquarters allocates a portion of its costs to each of its operating segments. Vivendi Universal does not allocate interest income, interest expense, income taxes or unusual items to segments.

amortized over the term of the contracts.

Trademarks, market share and editorial resources mostly relate to environmental services, publishing and audiovisual activities other than Universal Studios Group, in the amounts of E2,477.5 million, E1,747 million, and E1,067.7 million, respectively, at December 31, 2000 and E2,378 million, E1,726.4 million and E1,067.7 million, respectively, at December 31, 1999. The carrying value of market share is reviewed for realization each year on the same basis of criteria used to assess its initial value, such as the market position, net sales, and gross operating surplus or deficit. If the review indicates an other than temporary reduction in value, a valuation allowance is recorded.

Changes in consolidation in 2000 primarily result from the impact of Vivendi Environnement's IPO and the Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger, respectively E2,914.9 million and E2,415.0 million. The Vivendi/Seagram/Canal Plus merger led to a reduction in minority interests by E(416) million. Sithe partial disposition also reduces minority interests by E(303.7) million. Lastly Cegetel's change in accounting method related to mobile customers acquisition costs has lead to a decrease of E(296.8) millions on minority interests.

Changes in consolidation in 1999 primarily result from the impact of the consolidation of Canal Plus beginning in October 1999 of E784.9 million, from the impact of the increase in Sithe's capital issued to third parties of E173.0 million, and the impact of the acquisition of Berliner Wasser Betriebe of E545.8 million, whose consolidated financial statements included minority interests.

NOTE 16 SUPPLEMENTAL DISCLOSURES

The following information has been prepared to present supplemental disclosures required under U.S. GAAP and SEC regulations applicable to Vivendi Universal.

NOTE 16A SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCES BETWEEN ACCOUNTING POLICIES GENERALLY ACCEPTED IN THE UNITED STATES AND FRANCE

The consolidated financial statements of Vivendi Universal have been prepared in accordance with French GAAP, which differs in certain significant respects from U.S. GAAP. The principal differences between French GAAP and U.S. GAAP as they relate to Vivendi Universal are discussed in further detail below.

Use of the Proportionate Consolidation Method Under French GAAP, it is appropriate to use the proportionate consolidation method for subsidiaries over which Vivendi Universal and other shareholders have agreed to exercise joint control over significant financial and operating policies. Under the proportionate consolidation method, the company recognizes the assets, liabilities, equity, revenue and expenses of subsidiaries to the extent of its interest in the company ownership.

Under U.S. GAAP, when Vivendi Universal controls a subsidiary based on majority ownership or voting or other rights, the subsidiary is fully consolidated. When it does not exercise control over a subsidiary, but has significant influence over the entity, the company uses the equity method to account for its investment.

This difference in accounting policy has no effect on either net income or shareholders' equity.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Use of Equity Method Under French GAAP, there are several criteria to be met which result in the presumption that equity accounting should be used. For investments under 20%, equity accounting is followed if the investor is determined to have significant influence due to the relative level of ownership, board of directors representation, and other contractual relationships; another consideration is the level of ownership by others in the investee. In determining its significant influence in such subsidiaries, Vivendi Universal applies the criteria described in Note 2.

Under U.S. GAAP, equity accounting is generally required when an investor's ownership interest is equal to or greater than 20% of the investee's total voting securities. In unusual situations where the ownership interest is less than 20%, equity accounting may be appropriate if significant influence exists as the result of other contractual relationships and board representation.

Business Combinations -- Goodwill Certain acquisitions, notably Havas and Pathe, have been accounted for as mergers as permitted under French GAAP. Under this method, assets and liabilities of the acquired company are accounted for at historical cost. Any difference between the value of shares issued in such a merger and the fair value of net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. Prior to fiscal year 2000, in certain other instances, where the acquisition paid for in equity securities of the company, the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of assets acquired may have been recorded as a reduction of shareholders' equity. Under French GAAP, business trademarks acquired in a purchase business combination and recognized for their fair value as intangible assets are not required to be amortized. The Havas and Pathe acquisitions did not meet the criteria for pooling in the U.S. and, therefore, were accounted for as purchase business combinations. Accordingly, the assets acquired and liabilities assumed are recorded at fair value, with the excess of consideration paid over the fair value of net assets acquired being accounted for as goodwill. Trademarks acquired in purchase business combination are amortized over their estimated useful life. In addition, under U.S. GAAP, goodwill must be shown as an asset and amortized over its useful life not to exceed 40 years.

Intangible Assets Under French GAAP, certain costs such as start-up and certain types of advertising costs, are capitalized and amortized over their useful lives or the duration of the contract, if applicable.

Under U.S. GAAP, start-up and advertising costs are charged to expense in the period they are incurred.

Lease Contracts Vivendi Universal recognizes assets and debts corresponding to certain types of lease contracts including a purchase option (known in France as "credit-bail"). Under French GAAP, lease payments corresponding to all other types of loans are expensed as incurred.

Under U.S. GAAP, leases are classified as capital or operating leases. Leases that meet the criteria of capital leases are recognized as assets with a corresponding amount presented as debt on the balance sheet. Recorded assets are depreciated over their estimated useful lives.

Impairment/Real Estate Operations French GAAP requires the carrying value of such assets to be reviewed for impairment but does not provide a methodology as detailed as under U.S. GAAP. The resulting impairment, if any, is recorded as a reserve which may be reversed in later periods if there is a recovery in the value of the assets.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

Under U.S. GAAP, assets to be reviewed for impairment are grouped at an appropriate level when groups of assets generate joint cash flows. U.S. GAAP also requires that assets are classified as either held for use or to be disposed, with the appropriate accounting based on this classification. An asset held for use is evaluated for impairment when events and circumstances indicate that the assets might be impaired and the undiscounted cash flows estimated to be generated by those assets are less than the carrying amount of those assets. Assets determined to be impaired are valued at fair value. The resulting impairment, if any, is recorded as a reduction of the asset carrying value, and may not be reversed in a later period.

Vivendi Universal's impairment of long-lived assets primarily relates to its real estate assets. During 1990 to 1996, the company disposed of certain real estate properties in which it maintained a continued involvement.

In the French GAAP financial statements, these transactions were treated as sales and therefore removed from the balance sheet, and the profit and loss included in net income. Provisions relating to the sale arrangements were provided as necessary.

The transactions do not meet the sales criteria under U.S. GAAP and therefore are considered as financial arrangements. The related real estate assets which, would have been recorded under U.S. GAAP must also be considered for impairment. Accordingly, sales provisions were reversed.

Impairment/Decoders Replacement Under U.S. GAAP, changes in lives of long-term assets held for use are reflected prospectively over the revised life of the asset. Under French GAAP, for significant changes in lives, a write-down is recorded currently as an expense.

Public Service Contracts

Under French GAAP, a few consolidated subsidiaries, being generally jointly controlled, apply the accrue in advance method to account for repair costs.

Under U.S. GAAP, Vivendi Universal applies the expensed as incurred method for maintenance and repair expenditures Under French GAAP, payments specifically related to the remaining debt service on facilities are capitalized and charged to income on a straight-line basis over the contract period. The difference between cash payments and the expense recorded is capitalized as a prepaid expense.

Under U.S. GAAP, the present value of the obligation corresponding to debt service payments is recognized as a liability.

Financial Instruments

Equity Securities

Under French GAAP, investments in debt and non-consolidated equity securities are recorded at acquisition cost and an allowance is provided if management deems that there has been an other-than-temporary decline in fair value. Unrealized gains and temporary unrealized losses are not recognized.

Under U.S. GAAP, investments in debt and equity securities are classified into three categories and accounted for as follows: Debt securities that Vivendi Universal has the intention and ability to hold to maturity are carried at cost and classified as "held-to-maturity". Debt and equity securities that are acquired and held principally for the purpose of sale in the near term are classified as "trading securities" and are reported at fair value, with unrealized gains and losses included in earnings. All other investment securities not otherwise classified as either "held-to-maturity" or "trading" are classified as "available-for-sale" securities and reported at fair value, with unrealized gains and losses excluded from earnings and reported in shareholders' equity.

F-42

Treasury Shares

Under French GAAP, shares of Vivendi Universal's own stock owned by the company and its subsidiaries are recorded as marketable securities in the consolidated financial statements if those shares are acquired to stabilize the market price or in connection with stock options granted to directors and employees.

Under U.S. GAAP, treasury shares are recorded as a reduction of shareholders' equity. Profit and loss on the disposal of treasury shares is recognized as an adjustment to shareholders' equity.

Derivative Financial Instruments

Under French GAAP, the criteria for hedge accounting for derivative financial instruments does not require documentation of specific designation to the hedged item, nor the documentation of ongoing effectiveness of the hedge relationship. Derivative financial instruments that meet hedge criteria under French GAAP are not recorded on the consolidated balance sheet. The impact of the derivative financial instruments on the statement of income is recorded upon settlement or the payment or receipt of cash.

Under U.S. GAAP, derivative financial instruments for which the company has not specifically designated or has not assessed effectiveness do not meet hedge accounting criteria. Such instruments are recorded on the consolidated balance sheet at fair value and related changes in fair value are recognized in current period net income.

During 1998, in connection with the acquisition of 49% of the Spanish holding company that owns 56.5% of FCC, Vivendi Universal has granted an option to the primary shareholder of that holding company. This option grants the primary shareholder the right to sell to the company, at any time between April 18, 2000 and October 6, 2008, her remaining 51% in the holding company at a price based on the average market value of FCC's shares during the three months preceding the exercise of the option. Under French GAAP, the option is not recorded in the financial statements until it is exercised. Under U.S. GAAP, a liability is recorded equal to the fair value of the put option and changes in the fair value of the option are recorded as a charge to current period earnings.

Stock-Based Compensation Under French GAAP, common shares issued upon the exercise of options or upon shares granted to employees and directors are recorded as an increase to share capital at the cumulative exercise price. Vivendi Universal shares sold to employees through qualified employee stock purchase plans are reclassified from marketable securities to share capital. The difference between the carrying value of the treasury shares and the strike price is accrued for.

Under U.S. GAAP plans that grant or sell common shares to employees are qualified as compensatory if such plans are not open to substantially all employees and do not require the employee to make a reasonable investment in the shares, usually defined as no less than 85% of the market value at the grant date. If a plan is deemed to be compensatory, the entire compensation cost arising from such plans is recognized as of the grant date. If a plan is not compensatory, its cost i) is recognized over the vesting period when the plan is a stock option plan or, ii) is not expensed when the plan is a stock purchase plan.

Pension Plans Under French GAAP, Vivendi Universal records since January 1998 its pension obligations, covering all eligible employees, using the projected unit credit method.

Under U.S. GAAP, the projected unit credit method is required to be applied as of January 1, 1989. The transition obligation or fund excess determined as of January 1, 1989 is amortized over the average remaining service period of the population that was covered under the plan at that date.

Under French GAAP, postretirement benefits other than pensions are recorded as expense when amounts are paid.

Under U.S. GAAP, Vivendi Universal must recognize an obligation for amounts to be paid under postretirement plans, other than pensions. A postretirement transition obligation may be determined as of January 1, 1995 and amortized over the average remaining service period of employees covered by the plan. Current period charges are based on estimated future payments to expected retirees.

New Accounting Pronouncements in the United States

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" was issued in June 1998 and requires companies to recognize all derivative instruments as assets or liabilities in the balance sheet and to measure those instruments at fair value. SFAS No. 137 extends the effective date to all fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2000. Vivendi Universal is currently evaluating the impact of adopting SFAS No. 133 on its financial statements.

Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101, issued in December 1999, summarizes certain of the Staff's views in applying generally accepted accounting principles to revenue recognition in financial statements. The application of this bulletin does not have material effect on the company's policies or result of operations.

In June of 2000, the Accounting Standards Executive Committee (AcSEC) of the AICPA issued SOP 00-2 "Accounting by Producers or Distributors of Films" and the FASB issued FASB Statement No. 139 "Recission of FASB Statement No. 53 and amendments to FASB Statements Nos. 63, 89 and 121". These statements establish new accounting and reporting standards for all producers and distributors that own or hold the rights to distribute or exploit films. The statement of position provides that the cumulative effect of changes in accounting principles caused by adoption of the provisions of the statement of position should be included in the determination of net income in conformity with Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 20, "Accounting Changes". The statements are simultaneously effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2000. Management does not believe that the adoption of this statement could have a material impact on the company's results of operations and financial position.

Basic and diluted earnings per share

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

For U.S. GAAP purposes, basic earnings per share is computed in the same manner as earnings per share under French GAAP by dividing net income by the weighted average number of shares outstanding. Diluted earnings per share reflects the potential dilution that would occur if all securities and other contracts to issue ordinary shares were exercised or converted (see Note 6). Net income represents the earnings of Vivendi Universal after minority interest. The computation of diluted earnings per share is as follows:

format consistent with U.S. GAAP, Vivendi Universal has reflected the financial statement impact of those reconciling differences between French GAAP and U.S. GAAP presented in Note 16A and Note 16B.

Operating income

Under French GAAP, goodwill amortization is excluded from operating income, while under U.S. GAAP, it is included as a component of operating income. In addition, French GAAP defines exceptional items in a manner that differs from the definition of extraordinary items under U.S. GAAP. As a consequence, items classified as exceptional for French GAAP purposes have been reclassified to the appropriate income statement captions determined under U.S. GAAP. With the exception of gains and losses on sales of shares of affiliated companies, exceptional items relating to the operations of the group have been included in the determination of operating income.

Other income

Capital gains or losses on sale of consolidated entities or equity affiliates are considered for French GAAP purposes as extraordinary income, whereas they are classified for U.S. GAAP purposes as other income (loss).

The concept of comprehensive income does not exist under French GAAP. In U.S. GAAP, SFAS 130, "Reporting comprehensive income", defines comprehensive income to include, net of tax impact:

- unrealized gains and losses on investment securities classified as "available for sale";
- foreign currency translation adjustments.

NOTE 16E STOCK BASED COMPENSATION

STOCK BASED COMPENSATION

Vivendi Stock option plans

Beginning in 1997, Vivendi adopted stock options plans that are settled in its own shares. Under Vivendi Universal's "classic" plans prior to December 31, 1999, options were granted to employees at a strike price discounted 12.5% to 20% from the fair market value of the stock at the date of grant.

For plans adopted prior to January 1, 1997, options that are exercised are settled through the issuance of new shares. These options are granted with a contractual life of eight to ten years and vest over a two year period from the date of grant. For plans adopted in 1998 and later, options that are exercised are settled with treasury shares. These options vest over a three or five year period and are valid up to eight years from the date of grant.

Prior to the creation of Vivendi Universal, Vivendi adopted two fixed major stock options plans in 2000, which grant options to a limited number of senior managers. One of them replaces a stock option plan adopted by CANAL+ in 2000.

242

No compensation expense has been recorded in connection with the stock options granted by Vivendi under French GAAP. Under U.S. GAAP, the compensation cost recorded by the Company is respectively E85.8 million and E8.6 million for the years ended December 31, 1999 and 2000. A gain of E9.5 million has been recorded in 2000 in connection with a variable stock-option plan adopted in 1999 against a cost of E38.6 million in 1999.

CANAL+ has adopted several fixed stock option plans that are settled in its own shares. Options granted under most of these plans are granted to employees at a strike price with a discount between 0% and 10% from the fair market value of the shares at the grant date.

Outstanding options at December 4, 2000 are settled with CANAL+ treasury shares. These options vest in a graduated manner over five years and are valid up to five years from the date of the grant. CANAL+ manages its exposure to the price risk associated with the shares required to settle the options through the issuance of put and call options settled in its own stock.

No compensation expense has been recorded in connection with the stock options granted by CANAL+ under French GAAP. Under U.S. GAAP, the compensation cost recorded by Vivendi Universal is respectively E1.9 million and E1.5 million for the years ended December 31, 1999 and 2000.

Vivendi Universal stock option plans

Since its creation, Vivendi Universal has adopted two fixed stock option plans that grant options to a limited number of senior managers. Under these plans, the stock price is not discounted from the fair market value of the stock on the date of grant. The options are granted with a contractual life of eight years. Under the first plan, one third of the options will vest each of the next three years. Under the second one, the options vest after three years but the exercise date depends on the performance of Vivendi Universal stock against the performance of the MSC Media Index. No compensation cost has been recorded with these plans under U.S. GAAP.

As of December 8, 2000, the stock options of CANAL+ stock options plans were replaced by two stock option plans of Vivendi Universal (Strike divided by two and same maturity and vesting period). The following table presents the evolution of CANAL+ and Vivendi Universal stock options plans together.

Havas Interactive and Medi-Media stock option plans

The stock option plans adopted by Havas Interactive on July 1, 1999 and the stock option plans of Medi-Media were canceled in 2000 and exchanged against options from the stock option plan adopted by Vivendi Universal on December 11, 2000.

Vivendi Environnement stock option plans

In July 2000, Vivendi Environnement granted 780,000 stock options on Vivendi Environnement shares to its top management. The number of options to be exercised depends of the performance of Vivendi Environnement. The strike is E32.5. The compensation cost of this variable stock options plan recorded in 2000 is E1.9 million.

Seagram stock option plans

At December 7, 2000 there were 39,999,747 Seagram stock options which were converted on December 8, 2000 into 32,061,549 Vivendi Universal stock options. Compensation cost attributable to stock option and similar plans is recognized based on the difference, if any, between the quoted market price of Vivendi Universal's common shares on the date of grant over the exercise price of the option. The company does not issue options at prices below market value at date of grant. There is no compensation cost associated with Seagram stock option plans.

EMPLOYEE STOCK PURCHASE PLANS

Vivendi Universal maintains savings plans that allow substantially all full time employees of Vivendi Universal and its subsidiaries to purchase shares of Vivendi Universal. The shares were sold to employees at a discount of 20% from the average market price of Vivendi Universal stock over the last 20 business days prior to the date of authorization by the management committee. Shares purchased by employees under these plans are subject to certain restrictions over the sale or transfer of the shares by employees. The compensation cost recorded by the company for the year ended December 31, 2000 is E85.9 million.

Vivendi Universal maintains a leveraged stock purchase plan named Pegasus, which is available exclusively to the employees of the group's non-French subsidiaries. At the end of a five-year period, the employees are given assurance that they will receive the maximum amount of either their personal contribution plus 6 times the performance of the Vivendi Universal share or their personal contribution plus interest of five percent per year compounded annually. The risk carried by Vivendi Universal is hedged through a trustee based in Jersey by Societe Generale. The guarantee was paid through a reserved capital increase with elimination of the preferential subscription rights (decision of the Board of Directors of October 4, 1999). 6,000,000 shares were issued in February 2000 with a value of E56.7 each, whereas the market value of the Vivendi Universal share was around E110. The issue price corresponds in fact to a 20% discount as compared to the average of the 20 opening stock market prices prior to the meeting of the Board of Directors of October 4, 1999. The compensation cost recorded by the company for the year ended December 31, 2000 is E9.8 million.

Shares sold to employee stock purchase plans are as follows:

Under U.S. GAAP, the total compensation cost recorded by the company for period ended December 31, 2000 and 1999 is respectively E95.7 million and E160.8 million.

Annual cost under French GAAP was E37.9 million and E80.9 million for the years ended December 31, 2000 and 1999, respectively. The difference between these amounts and the annual cost under U.S. GAAP primarily results from the amortization of the initial transition liability and of actuarial gains and losses. In addition, certain companies do not recognize the excess funding.

As previously discussed, Vivendi Universal has grown through significant acquisitions in the past several years. As a result of these acquisitions and the need to streamline and integrate the resulting operating entities, the company's various business segments have implemented various restructuring plans, primarily related to the consolidation of facilities. As a result, Vivendi Universal has incurred significant costs associated with the elimination of such facilities and related reductions in employee headcount. These costs include amounts associated with employee termination and early retirement programs, asset divestitures, and costs associated with lease and other contract terminations. These plans are generally completed within one year of initiation.

In addition to restructuring plans initiated by Vivendi Universal, certain of the acquired businesses had initiated and were executing restructuring plans at the time of acquisition. The company evaluated these restructuring plans at the time of acquisition to determine whether such plans were consistent with its integration strategy. If consistent, such reserves were established through purchase accounting and have been reflected as "Change in scope of consolidation" in the table above. A description of the company's various restructuring plans by business segment is detailed below.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

(a) Publishing

Following the acquisitions of Grupo Anaya in September 1998 and Medi-Media in August 1999, Vivendi Universal respectively established a termination plan involving approximately 240 employees and a restructuring plan associated with severance costs related to the termination of approximately 40 employees, respectively.

The continuation of these plans in 2000 led to accumulated expenses of E12.6 million.

In fiscal year 2000, the following plans have been implemented:

- HII is involved in a down sizing plan as well as in a process of reorganization of shared services and a reallocation of business. As of December 31, 2000, these plans involve the termination of approximately 570 employees which amounts to E23.6. Other related projects will generate E6 million of expenses.
- The Education segment is involved in several plans which total E22.0 million, including E17.5 million allocated to the termination of approximately 210 employees. The major plans concern the downsizing of the French structure, the reorganization of the supply chain in Brazil and Spain, and the closure of a site in Belgium.

- The Information segment is in the process of reorganizing its back office department, mainly through mutualization and reallocation of services. The expenses of this plan amount to E14 million and will lead to the termination of approximately 220 employees.
- The Services department will close down a logistic site. This plan will lead to the termination of 117 employees for E7.0 million. Other costs associated to this closure will amount to E1 million.
- The headquarters is also involved in a restructuring plan that will lead to the termination of 17 employees. The expenses of this plan amount to E2 million.

(b) Environmental Services

Beginning in 1997, the Group implemented a three-year restructuring plan associated with its water businesses located in France. The primary purpose of the restructuring plan is to consolidate individual facilities originally established with the sole purpose of administrating municipal water service contracts. The costs associated with the plan relate primarily to lease termination and other costs to exit facilities. The plan will result in a restructuring of the Group's existing operating structure from 334 local units, 86 intermediary levels and 31 regional agencies to 140 local units, 50 business units and 10 regional agencies. As previously discussed, the Group acquired US Filter in April 1999. In conjunction with the acquisition, the Group evaluated US Filter's ongoing restructuring plans. This evaluation resulted in the continuation of certain restructuring efforts and the implementation of additional restructuring plans to streamline United States Filter Corporation's resulting manufacturing and production base and to redesign its distribution network. The revised restructuring plans identified certain manufacturing facilities, distribution sites, sales and administration offices, retail outlets and related assets that became redundant or non-strategic upon consummation of the transaction. The costs associated with the plan totaled E109.4 million and are reflected in "Change in scope of consolidation". The costs originally consisted of E54.2 million in severance and employee termination costs related to a reduction of the combined workforce of 1,465 employees (189 management employees, 456 administrative employees, 684 manufacturing employees and 136 sales employees), and E55.1 million in facility exit costs, including asset write-downs, lease terminations and other exit costs. During 1999, the Group incurred costs of E31.6 million in connection with the plan, including E11.7 million in severance payments in connection with the termination of approximately 350 employees and E19.9 million in facility exit costs. As of December 31, 1999, a total accrual of approximately E77.7 million remained, consisting of E42.5 million in severance and employee termination accruals and E35.2 million in other restructuring costs (primarily attributable to facility consolidation). During 2000 the Group used E9.5 million for various severance programs. At December 31, 2000, E33 million remained, mainly related to several European severance programs which due to local social regulations require extended periods to complete. As the severance programs will be completed the Group anticipates the closure of several facilities and believes that the remaining E48.6 million will be utilized as the consolidations are completed.

(c) Telecoms

In December 1997, SFR decided to discontinue mobile telephone service operations utilizing analog technology. In connection with this decision, a reserve of approximately E60.0 million was provided in 1997, in connection with the phasing out of the subscriber base and associated technology. This plan is almost completed at December 31, 2000. The remaining reserves of E8.6 million relate to other technological changes accrued during the previous years.

(d) Non-core

Beginning in 1996, Vivendi Universal recorded provisions for restructuring plans, in the amount of E48.3 million, consisting of severance and employee termination costs. These plans were executed in 1997, resulting in a headcount reduction of 1,566 employees (259 management employees and 1,307 construction employees).

During 1997, it established additional restructuring plans, primarily related to planned employee reduction, in the amount of E64.5 million. These plans consisted of accruals associated with the termination of 2,106 employees (483 management employees and 1,623 construction employees).

During 1997, Vivendi Universal incurred charges of E31.6 million in connection with these plans, which resulted in a reduction of the workforce of 1,028 employees (210 management employees and 818 construction employees). The remaining portion of these plans were executed in 1998, resulting in charges of E31.7 million and a 1,078 decrease in the number of employees (273 management employees and 805 construction employees).

In 1998, Vivendi Universal's management continued the review of its activities and internal organization, a review that prompted the implementation of additional restructuring plans. These plans resulted in an accrual of E61.0 million and consisted of severance and employee termination costs for 1,939 employees (194 management employees and 1,745 construction employees). During this period, the company incurred costs associated with such plans in an amount of E18.6 million for a total of 591 employees (59 management employees and 532 construction employees). The remaining portion of the plan was executed in 1999 for a total cost of E42.1 million.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

In 1999, Vivendi Universal established a restructuring plan as a result of a general decline in construction demand in markets serviced by its German subsidiaries. Additionally, it implemented plans in its civil engineering entities to adapt the business to new technology, including digital technology related to electrical contracting. These plans resulted in an accrual of E44.5 million, in connection with a workforce reduction of 1,460 employees (277 management employees and 1,183 workers). During 1999, it incurred E8.8 million in connection with such plans and reduced its number of employees by 288 (49 management employees and 239 construction employees).

In 2000, Vivendi Universal reduced its Non-Core provision to ME1.4 mainly due to the disposal of Vinci. The construction segment has been deconsolidated at the beginning of 2000 following the Vinci/GTM operation.

(e) TV & Films:

CANAL+ was first consolidated with Vivendi Universal in December 8, 2000. The E20 million of restructuring costs mainly concern future expenses planned for the maintenance of terminal equipment and other materials (E15 million), and a reserve due to future costs concerning the reparation of defective Thomson digital decoder delivered in 1996 (E2 million).

MP3.COM, INC.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS DECEMBER 31, 2000

1. THE COMPANY AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Company

MP3.com, Inc. ("MP3.com") has pioneered a revolutionary approach to the promotion and distribution of music. The MP3.com web site is a premier online music destination featuring, representing one of the largest catalogs of digital music available on the Internet today. MP3.com uses the Internet and file formats that make music files smaller to enable this growing number of artists to broadly distribute and promote their music and to enable consumers around the world to conveniently access this continually expanding music catalog. Consumers can search for, listen to and download music free of charge on the MP3.com web site. In addition to the wide variety of music distributed by artists through the MP3.com web site, consumers have a substantial amount of music already in their personal music collections that they want to access, manage and listen to in a variety of ways.

MP3.com shares are traded on the Nasdaq National Market System under the symbol "MPPP". MP3.com was incorporated in the state of Delaware on March 17, 1998 and commenced operations on that date. MP3.com is headquartered in San Diego, California.

Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of MP3.com and its wholly-owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated. The equity and net income or loss attributable to the minority stockholder interests, which relate to MP3.com's subsidiaries, are shown separately in the consolidated balance sheets and consolidated statements of operations, respectively. Investments in entities in which MP3.com can exercise significant influence, but less than majority owned and not otherwise controlled by MP3.com, are accounted for under the equity method. Under the equity method of accounting, MP3.com's share of the investee's earnings or losses are included in the consolidated statements of operations as "Minority interest in losses of an unconsolidated subsidiary". All other investments, for which MP3.com does not have the ability to exercise significant influence or for which there is not a readily determinable market value, are accounted for under the cost method of accounting. Dividends and other distributions of earnings from investees, if any, are included in income when paid.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expense during the reporting period. Examples include provisions for returns, bad debts, valuation of privately-held strategic investments, the ultimate realizability of the prepaid multimedia content royalties and the litigation and copyright matters charge and reserve. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Concentration of Credit Risks

Financial instruments that potentially subject MP3.com to significant concentration of credit risk consist primarily of cash, cash equivalents, short-term and strategic investments, and accounts receivable. Substantially all of MP3.com's cash, cash equivalents, and short-term investments are managed by three financial institutions. Accounts receivable are typically unsecured and are derived from revenues earned from customers primarily located in the United States and France. MP3.com maintains reserves for potential credit losses.

MP3.COM, INC.

One customer accounted for 50.4% of total net revenues for the year ended December 31, 2000. One customer accounted for 21.3% of total net revenues for the year ended December 31, 1999. Three customers accounted for 19.0%, 12.2%, and 10.3%, respectively, of total net revenues for the period from March 17,

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

1998 (inception) to December 31, 1998. Additionally, MP3.com obtains a significant percentage of its revenues by providing various advertising products to Internet and high technology companies.

Cash and Cash Equivalents, Short and Long-Term Investments

MP3.com invests its excess cash in debt instruments of the U.S. Government and its agencies, and in high-quality corporate issuers. All highly liquid instruments with an original maturity of three months or less are considered cash equivalents, and those with original maturities greater than three months on the date of purchase are considered short-term investments.

MP3.com's short-term investments in marketable securities are classified as available-for-sale and are reported at fair value, with unrealized gains and losses, recorded in stockholders' equity as a separate component of comprehensive income. Realized gains or losses and permanent declines in value, if any, on available-for-sale securities are reported in other income or expense as incurred. As of December 31, 2000 and 1999, MP3.com recorded net unrealized (losses) gains, net of income taxes, of approximately $(12,000) and $1,454,000, respectively.

MP3.com also invests in equity instruments of privately-held Internet and other technology companies for strategic business purposes. These investments are included in strategic investments and are accounted for under the cost method when ownership is less than 20%. For these investments, MP3.com's policy is to regularly review the underlying operating performance, cash flow forecasts, and recent private equity transactions in assessing the carrying values. MP3.com assesses and records impairment losses in these long term investments when events and circumstances indicate that such assets might be impaired. For the year ended December 31, 2000, MP3.com has recorded impairment losses of approximately $40,300,000 related to these strategic investments.

Restricted Cash

The restricted cash balance of $30,000,000 as of December 31, 2000 represents cash equivalents held in escrow. This restriction will expire in February 2001 unless MP3.com is proven financially insolvent. The cash equivalents are recorded at market value, which approximates cost. During the escrow period, a third party earns the interest from the escrow funds.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

MP3.com's financial instruments include cash and cash equivalents, short-term investments, accounts receivable, unbilled receivables, accounts payable, deferred revenues, accrued expenses and a line of credit. Cash equivalents and short-term investments are stated at fair value, based on quoted market prices. The estimated value of all other financial instruments at December 31, 2000 and 1999 was not materially different from the values presented in the respective balance sheets.

Computer Software for Internal Use

MP3.com does not sell or license the rights to future use of its software; accordingly, software development costs, consisting of internally developed software and web site development costs, are accounted for in accordance with Statement of Position ("SOP") 98-1, "Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software Developed or Obtained for Internal Use". In accordance with SOP 98-1, internal and external costs incurred to develop internal-use computer software during the application development stage are capitalized. Application development stage costs generally include software configuration, coding, installation and testing. Costs of significant upgrades and enhancements that result in additional functionality are also capitalized. Costs incurred for maintenance and minor upgrades and enhancements are expensed as incurred. Capitalized internal-use software development costs are included in property and equipment and are amortized on a straight-line basis over the useful lives of the related software application of up to three years. The estimated useful lives are based on planned or expected significant modification or replacement of software applications, in response to the rapid rate of change in the Internet industry and technology in general. MP3.com capitalized $1,566,000 and $410,000 of software development costs for the years ended December 31, 2000 and 1999, respectively. Depreciation associated with the capitalized software development costs totaled $422,000, $48,000 and zero for the years ended December 31, 2000 and 1999 and for the period from March 17, 1998 (inception) to December 31, 1998, respectively.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

MP3.COM, INC.

Depreciation and Amortization

Property and equipment is stated at historical cost and depreciated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of 2 to 5 years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of their estimated useful lives, generally five years, or the lease term. Acquired music catalog is stated at historical cost and amortized using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of 15 years.

Prepaid Multimedia Content Royalties

MP3.com has obtained multimedia content licenses for the future use of both video and audio music content from certain major recording companies. These licensing agreements provide a non-refundable prepaid royalty for a fixed term ranging from 3 to 10 years. MP3.com has capitalized the cost of these prepaid royalty arrangements for both the video and music licenses. MP3.com has recorded amortization expense at the greater of straight-line amortization or units of measure to cost of revenues for music content, and will begin to record expense for the video licenses upon both the receipt of the video content and MP3.com's use of the video content on the same basis as the music content. Periodically, MP3.com will assess these assets for impairment.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

MP3.com evaluates the recoverability of its long-lived assets in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of". SFAS 121 requires recognition of impairment of long-lived assets in the event the net book value of these assets exceeds the future undiscounted cash flows attributable to these assets. MP3.com assesses potential impairments to its long-lived assets when there is evidence that events or changes in circumstances have made recovery of the asset's carrying value unlikely. Should an impairment exist, the impairment loss would be measured based on the excess of the carrying value of the asset over the asset's fair value or discounted estimates of future cash flows. MP3.com has identified no such impairment losses as of December 31, 2000. All of MP3.com's long-lived assets are located in the United States.

Revenue Recognition

MP3.com recognizes revenue pursuant to Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101 "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements". Accordingly, revenue is recognized when all four of the following criteria are met: (i) persuasive evidence that arrangement exists; (ii) delivery of the products and/or services has occurred; (iii) the selling price is both fixed and determinable; and (iv) collectibility is reasonably probable.

MP3.COM, INC.

MP3.com's revenues are derived from online advertising, offline advertising and electronic commerce. Online advertising revenues primarily consist of banner, button, portal and sponsorship advertisements on MP3.com's web site in addition to advertisements placed in e-mail and greeting card campaigns. Banner, button, portal, e-mail and greeting card advertisements are impression based, requiring the advertisement to be displayed or delivered a minimum number of times over the contract period. Sponsorship advertising contracts generally involve static advertisements, whereby the advertisement is continually displayed on a specified area of the MP3.com web site during the contract period. Impression based contract revenues are recognized as the impression is displayed on the MP3.com web site or delivered via e-mail or greeting card to the intended addressee. In these circumstances, MP3.com recognizes revenues as impressions are delivered. To the extent minimum guaranteed impressions are not met, MP3.com defers recognition of the corresponding revenues until the remaining guaranteed impressions are delivered. Sponsorship advertisement contract revenues are generally recognized evenly over the period in which the advertisement is displayed.

Offline advertising revenues primarily consist of advertising sponsorships of free CD products, sweepstakes, contests and special events. Free CD product revenue is recognized upon the shipment of each CD to the registered recipient. Contest and sweepstakes revenue is recognized upon determination and notification of the contest winner. Special event revenue is recognized on the date the event occurs.

Electronic commerce revenues primarily consist of online sales of DAM CDs and other music-related merchandise. Revenue derived from the sale of DAM CDs and music-related merchandise is recognized upon shipment at the total sales price. The portion of the sales price payable to artists as royalties is expensed to cost of revenues and accrued at the time revenue is recorded.

Deferred revenue represents payments or billings in excess of revenue recognized. Unbilled receivables represent revenues recognized in excess of payments or billings.

Pursuant to SAB No. 101, MP3.com recognizes revenue for multiple element arrangements by the four criteria mentioned above. Additionally, MP3.com values each element of the arrangement by using a three-month rolling average for identical or very similar products sold over the last three months for cash. In the event there is a discount or premium to the historical three-month average cash selling prices, the resulting discount or premium is allocated to each element on a pro-rata basis. MP3.com was required to adopt SAB No. 101 during the fourth quarter of 2000. There was no financial statement (including recording revenues gross versus net) effect to the adoption of SAB No. 101.

MP3.com has entered into marketing and promotion arrangements and recognized revenue with certain parties where MP3.com has also made a strategic investment. MP3.com accounts for these arrangements under Accounting Principal Board No. 29 "Accounting for Nonmonetary Transactions" ("APB No. 29"). Under APB No. 29, the fair value of the exchange is based upon the lower of the products historically sold for cash as outlined under SAB 101 or the valuation ascribed in the strategic investment. Additionally, there must be no major uncertainties as to the realizability of the strategic investment's value. Further, all of the conditions to revenue recognition as they relate to SAB 101 must be met before revenue is ultimately recorded. During the years ended December 31, 2000 and 1999, MP3.com recognized $8,351,000 and $869,000, respectively, of revenue in connection with strategic investments.

Engineering and Product Development Costs

Advertising Costs

MP3.com recognizes advertising expenses in accordance with Statement of Position ("SOP") 93-7 "Reporting on Advertising Costs". As such, MP3.com expenses the costs of producing advertisements at the time the respective advertisement is first used. MP3.com does not incur any direct-response advertising costs. Advertising expense totaled approximately $4,300,000, $2,000,000 and $10,000 for the years ended December 31, 2000, 1999 and for the period from March 17, 1998 (inception) to December 31, 1998, respectively.

Stock-Based Compensation

MP3.com accounts for stock-based employee compensation arrangements in accordance with the provisions of Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees" and complies with the disclosure provisions of SFAS 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation". Under APB 25, compensation cost is recognized over the vesting period based on the excess, if any, on the date of grant of the deemed fair value of MP3.com's stock over the employee's exercise price. When the exercise price of the employee stock option is less than the fair value price of the underlying stock on the grant date, deferred stock compensation is recognized and amortized to expense in accordance with FASB Interpretation No. 28 over the vesting period of the individual options, generally four years. Deferred compensation for options granted to non-employees has been determined in accordance with SFAS No. 123 and Emerging Issues Task Force 96-18, "Accounting for Equity Instruments that are Issued to Other Than Employees for Acquiring, or in Conjunction with Selling, Goods or Services" ("EITF 96-18"). Accordingly, deferred compensation is determined using the fair value of the consideration received or the fair value of the equity instruments issued, whichever is more reliably measured. Deferred charges for options granted to non-employees are periodically remeasured as the underlying options vest. MP3.com has recorded amortization of deferred compensation corresponding to the grants of stock options to employees and consultants of $8,975,000, $20,029,000 and $550,000 during the years ended December 31, 2000, 1999 and for the period from March 17, 1998 (inception) to December 31, 1998, respectively.

Net Loss Per Share

MP3.com computes net loss per share following SFAS No. 128, "Earnings Per Share" and SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 98. Under the provisions of SFAS No. 128, basic net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss available to common stockholders for the period by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss for the period by the weighted average number of common and common equivalent shares outstanding during the period. Common equivalent shares, composed of unvested restricted common shares and incremental common shares issuable upon the exercise of stock options, are included in diluted net loss per share to the extent these shares are dilutive. Common equivalent shares are not included in the computation of dilutive net loss per share for the years ended December 31, 2000, 1999 and for the period from March 17, 1998 (inception) to December 31, 1998, because the effect would be anti-dilutive.

Under the provisions of SAB 98, common shares issued for nominal consideration, if any, would be included in the per share calculations as if they were outstanding for all periods presented. No common shares have been issued for nominal consideration.

Comprehensive Income

MP3.com has adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 130, "Reporting Comprehensive Income". SFAS No. 130 establishes standards for reporting comprehensive income and its components in financial statements. Comprehensive income, as defined, includes all changes in equity (net assets) during a period from non-owner sources. Net loss and other comprehensive loss, including foreign currency translation adjustments, and unrealized gains and losses on investments shall be reported, net of their related tax effect, to arrive at comprehensive loss. There were no differences between MP3.com's net loss and its total comprehensive loss for the year ended December 31, 2000 and 1999, except for net unrealized gains and losses on investments of approximately $(1,466,000) and $1,454,000, respectively.

Segment Information

MP3.com adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 131, "Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information". SFAS 131 requires public companies to report financial and descriptive information about their reportable operating segments. MP3.com identifies its operating segments based on how management internally evaluates separate financial information, business activities and management responsibility. MP3.com believes it operates in a single business segment. Through December 31, 2000, there have been insignificant foreign operations.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In June 1999, the FASB issued Statement No. 137, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities -- Deferral of Effective Date of FASB Statement No. 133" ("SFAS No. 137"). The Statement defers for one year the effective date of FASB Statement No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" ("SFAS No. 133"). SFAS No. 137 now will apply to all fiscal quarters of all fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2000. In June 1998, the FASB issued Statement No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities". SFAS No. 133 requires

MP3.com to recognize all derivatives on the balance sheet at fair value. Derivatives that are not hedges must be adjusted to fair value through income. If the derivative is a hedge, depending on the nature of the hedge, changes in the fair value of derivatives will either be offset against the change in fair value of the hedged assets, liabilities, or firm commitments through earnings or recognized in other comprehensive income until the hedged item is recognized in earnings. The ineffective portion of a derivative's change in fair value will be immediately recognized in earnings. As of December 31, 2000, MP3.com did not hold any derivative instruments, except a warrant which had a full impairment reserve, or conduct any hedging activities. Therefore, there is no anticipated impact to the consolidated financial statements for the adoption of SFAS No. 133 and 137.

MP3.com holds a warrant in a publicly traded company. At December 31, 1999, the warrant was classified as available-for-sale marketable securities and reported at fair value with unrealized gains recorded in stockholders' equity as comprehensive income. As of December 31, 1999, the fair value of the warrant was determined using the Black-Scholes model based on the following assumptions:

During the year ended December 31, 2000, MP3.com fully reserved for the impairment of the warrant as the decline in the stock price was determined to be other than temporary.

The contractual maturities of debt securities classified as available-for-sale as of December 31, 2000 and 1999 are as follows (in thousands):

Realized gains and losses were immaterial to MP3.com's financial results for the years ended December 31, 2000 and 1999.

Investments in Strategic Investments and Joint Venture

Investments in joint ventures and other companies that MP3.com does not control but has the ability to exercise significant influence over operating and financial policies are accounted for by the equity method. Equity method investments are stated at their cost of acquisition adjusted for MP3.com's equity in undistributed net income (loss) since the date of acquisition. Investments that the MP3.com does not control and does not have the ability to exercise significant influence over operating and financial policies are accounted for by the cost method. Cost method investments are carried at their cost of acquisition. Cost method investments in publicly traded companies or securities are subsequently marked to market with unrealized gains and losses, net of income taxes, reported as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) within stockholders' equity in the balance sheets.

During the year ended December 31, 2000 and 1999, MP3.com purchased a number of investments focused on establishing strategic business relationships. These investments provided MP3.com with equity ownership interests in Internet and other technology-based companies in exchange for $39,700,000 and $25,300,000 in cash, respectively.

Subsequent to an investment purchase, MP3.com evaluates whether subsequent events and circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of such investment is impaired. If a decline in fair value of the investment below its cost basis is judged to be other than temporary, the investment is considered to be impaired, and the carrying amount of the investment is written down to fair value as a new cost basis. The new cost basis is not changed for subsequent recovery, if any, in the fair value of the investment. MP3.com's future results of operations for a quarter or a year could be materially affected by a future write down in the carrying amount of these investments to recognize an impairment loss due to an other than temporary decline in the value of these investments. As of December 31, 2000, such impairments have occurred resulting in impairment losses of approximately $40,300,000.

4. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

On January 25, 1999, MP3.com loaned one of its executive officers $260,000 which was used to exercise an option to purchase 2,437,500 shares of common stock that was granted to him under the Company's 1998 Equity Incentive Plan. The loan, as amended, is a full recourse note secured by 187,500 shares of MP3.com's common stock that bears interest at 4.64% and is due in January 2003. During the year ended December 31, 1999, payments totaling approximately $2,000 were made to repay an amount equal to the par value of the shares purchased. No payments were received during the year ended December 31, 2000.

During the years ended December 31, 2000 (until his resignation as of October 19, 2000) and 1999, the Chairman of Gateway, Inc. ("Gateway") held a seat on the Board of Directors of MP3.com. During this same period of time, MP3.com purchased approximately $628,000 and $510,000 of computers and computer related equipment from Gateway, respectively.

In October 2000, MP3.com entered into a three year consulting agreement with a member of the Board of Directors. In connection with the consulting agreement, this member will receive an annual consulting fee of $450,000 payable monthly and an option to purchase 125,000 shares of MP3.com common stock at the fair market value of MP3.com's common stock price on the grant date. The option was issued pursuant to MP3.com's Amended and Restated 1998 Equity Incentive Plan. The options vested 25% immediately with the remaining shares vesting in four quarterly increments over the course of one year. See Note 7 for the accounting of the stock option.

In October and November 2000, MP3.com's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer issued an option on shares he directly owns to certain executive officers of MP3.com to purchase an aggregate of 2,500,000 shares of MP3.com common stock. The options are fully vested, have a term of five years and were issued at a discount from fair market value of the MP3.com common stock price on the grant date. See Note 7 for the accounting for these stock options.

5. ACQUISITION

In April 2000, MP3.com agreed to purchase 53.5% of mp3radio.com, a joint venture with Cox Interactive Media, Inc. that it did not own. MP3.com paid approximately $4,000,000 in cash, received tangible net assets of $47,000 and assumed liabilities of $231,000. During the transition period ending June 30, 2000, the costs of relocating the joint venture's operations to San Diego were shared pro rata based upon the parties' existing ownership percentages and included in minority interest in losses of an unconsolidated subsidiary. The acquisition was completed during the third quarter of 2000 and was accounted for under the purchase method of accounting. The excess purchase price over fair value of net assets acquired was generally allocated to assembled work force; URLs, trademarks and trade names; radio station agreements; and goodwill. The excess purchase price over fair value of the assets acquired of approximately $4,000,000 will be amortized over the following periods using the straight-line

Upon the closing of MP3.com's initial public offering, all 12,871,681 shares of the Series A, B, and C Convertible Preferred Stock converted into 19,307,516 shares of common stock.

The Founders Plan reserved 3,071,250 shares of common stock for grants to founders of MP3.com. The Incentive Plan reserved 22,500,000 shares, as amended, of common stock for granting to employees and non-employees of MP3.com. Grants under the Incentive Plan generally vest over four years with 25% of the shares vesting on the first anniversary of the grant and 1/36 of the remaining shares vesting in equal installments monthly for the following 36 months.

The 2000 Plan contains the same provisions as the Incentive Plan with the exception that the grant of common shares are nonstatutory stock options to employees of MP3.com and no more than 40% of the shares reserved under the 2000 Plan may be granted to existing executive officers of MP3.com. The 2000 Plan reserved 1,100,000 shares of common stock for grant.

In October and November 2000, MP3.com's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer issued an option on shares he directly owns to certain executive officers of MP3.com to purchase an aggregate of 2,500,000 shares of MP3.com common stock. The options are fully vested, have a term of five years and were issued at a discount from fair market value of the MP3.com common stock price on the grant date. Pursuant to Interpretation No. 1 to Accounting Principles Board No. 25, MP3.com has accounted for these stock options as if MP3.com had granted them. Therefore, MP3.com has recognized the intrinsic value of approximately $3,031,000, the difference between the exercise price and the fair market value of MP3.com common stock on the grant date as stock-based compensation during the year ended December 31, 2000.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

In October 2000, MP3.com entered into a three year consulting agreement with a member of the board of directors. In connection with the consulting agreement, the director also received an option to purchase 125,000 shares of MP3.com common stock at the fair market value of MP3.com common stock price on the grant date. The option was issued pursuant to MP3.com's Amended and Restated 1998 Equity Incentive Plan. The option vested 25% immediately with the remaining shares vesting in four quarterly increments. MP3.com accounts for the option pursuant to SFAS 123 and EITF 96-18. SFAS 123 and EITF 96-18 requires that the compensation amount should be measured at the end of each period for the fair value that vests during the given period. Changes in the quoted market value should be reflected as an adjustment of the compensation expense in the periods which the changes occur. During the year ended December 31, 2000, MP3.com recognized approximately $77,000 in stock-based compensation associated to these options granted to the director.

Employee Stock Purchase Plan

In May 1999, MP3.com's Board of Directors adopted the Employee Stock Purchase Plan (the "Purchase Plan"), which provides for the issuance of a maximum of 300,000 shares of common stock. Eligible employees can have up to 15% of their earnings withheld, up to certain maximums, to be used to purchase shares of MP3.com's common stock on every January 31 and July 31. The price of the common stock purchased under the Purchase Plan will be equal to 85% of the lower of the fair market value of the common stock on the commencement date of the offering period or the specified purchase date. There were approximately 97,000 and zero shares purchased under the Purchase Plan during the year ended December 31, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

Warrants for Common Stock

In May 2000, in connection with a legal consulting agreement, MP3.com issued a five year warrant for the purchase of 75,000 shares of common stock. As of the date of grant, the warrant was fully vested and non-forfeitable and provided for an exercise price of $13.45 per share. The warrant is deemed to have a fair value of approximately $794,000 using the Black-Scholes method of valuation. The $794,000 was

In December 2000, MP3.com issued three warrants for the purchase of an aggregate of 2,400,000 shares of common stock. As of the date of grant, each warrant is fully vested and non-forfeitable. 8. INCOME TAXES

MP3.com accounts for income taxes following the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes", under which the liability method is used to calculate deferred income taxes. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the differences between financial reporting and income tax basis of assets and liabilities and are measured using the enacted tax rates and laws that will be in effect when the differences are expected to reverse.

9. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

Copyright Litigation

Major Label Lawsuits. On January 21, 2000, ten major recording companies filed a copyright infringement lawsuit against MP3.com, Inc. in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York (the "Major Label Lawsuit"). The complaint alleged that MP3.com, in connection with certain content available in its My.MP3 service, made unauthorized copies of tens of thousands of audio CDs in violation of the Copyright Act. On April 28, 2000, the court granted plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment and held that MP3.com was liable for infringing plaintiffs' copyrights, and the litigation proceeded with discovery on the issues of willfulness and damages. On May 10, 2000, MP3.com disabled all content within the My.MP3 service except as expressly authorized by the copyright holders.

Between June and August 2000, MP3.com entered into settlement and license agreements with Warner Music Group, BMG Entertainment, Sony Music, and Capitol Records, Inc. (EMI), which together represented eight of the ten major recording companies that filed the Major Label Lawsuit. The settlement agreements provide for a settlement amount to be paid in cash by MP3.com in exchange for a release from the settling plaintiffs and their affiliated entities (as defined in the settlement agreements) of all claims related to the lawsuit and the My.MP3 service. "Most-favored-nation" provisions in these settlement agreements require additional settlement amounts to be paid under certain circumstances.

As a result of these settlements, the Major Label Lawsuit was limited to a dispute with UMG Recordings, Inc., which represented two of the original plaintiffs. A trial in the case was held from August 28 through September 6, 2000 on the issues of willfulness and damages. After hearing evidence, the court ruled on September 6, 2000 that MP3.com had willfully infringed UMG's copyrights and awarded damages to UMG in an amount of $25,000 per CD. The Court then scheduled a period to allow MP3.com to conduct discovery concerning the certificates of registration for which plaintiffs sought damages. On November 16, 2000, UMG made a motion for entry of judgment in the amount of

$53,400,000 in statutory damages, costs, and attorneys' fees, which MP3.com did not oppose. As a result, a judgment in that amount was entered.

MP3.com has also entered into a license agreement with UMG. Subject to certain affirmative obligations of MP3.com and other terms and conditions regarding the implementation of the My.MP3 service, MP3.com is permitted to utilize the recordings owned by Warner Music Group, BMG Entertainment, Sony Music, EMI, and UMG as part of the My.MP3 service. The license agreements have terms of approximately three to ten years, and provide for payment of a one-time fee each time a licensor's recording is added to a separate My.MP3 account. These licenses also provide for on-going royalty payments based on the greater of (i) a specified percentage of net revenues generated from or in connection with the My.MP3 service or (ii) a specified amount accrued each time a licensor's recording is streamed from My.MP3. Although MP3.com has obtained license agreements permitting the use of recordings from BMG Entertainment, Warner Music Group, Sony Music, UMG, EMI, and certain other independent labels, there can be no guarantee that MP3.com will be able to secure similar license agreements from any other recording company.

Other Record Label Lawsuits. Over the course of 2000 and 2001, some other entities filed lawsuits against MP3.com based on the same set of allegations as the Major Label Lawsuit. These include: Tee Vee Toons, Inc.; Zomba Recording Corp. (the "Zomba case"); Koch Entertainment and Velvel Records LLC (the "Koch case"); EMusic.com, Inc., Fuel 2000 Records, Spinart, Inc., Gig Records, Fearless Records, and Invisible Records (the "EMusic case"); and Unity Entertainment Corporation (the "Unity" case). Additionally, several independent labels have sent MP3.com demand letters alleging similar claims.

A jury trial in the Tee Vee Toons case commenced on March 26, 2001. Prior to trial, in reliance on the Court's rulings in the Major Label Lawsuit, the issues of infringement, fair use, and willfulness were adjudicated against MP3.com. As a result, the jury trial was limited to the issue of damages. The trial concluded on April 6, 2001. The jury considered 145 copyright certificates and returned a verdict which the Court tabulated as totaling $292,968. Subsequently, two jurors contacted the Court to inform it that the verdict decided upon by the jurors contained discrepancies. The Court interviewed all the jurors and set a briefing schedule on the issue of the jury's verdict. On June 19, 2001, the Court declared a mistrial, and set a new trial date of November 5, 2001. On June 26, 2001, MP3.com filed a motion to certify the ruling to the Court of Appeals pursuant to 28 U.S. C. sec. 1292(b). Tee Vee Toons' response papers were filed on June 29, 2001.

Discovery in the Zomba case closed June 4, 2001. The final pre-trial conference is scheduled for July 13, 2001, and the case is set for trial on September 5, 2001. Like the Tee Vee Toons case, the trial in the Zomba case will be limited to only the issue of damages. The Koch case has been settled and the case is now closed. The complaint in the EMusic case was filed on December 14, 2000. MP3.com's response to the complaint was filed on February 8, 2001. On June 20, 2001, MP3.com and EMusic filed a stipulation of dismissal of their claims against each other without prejudice. Plaintiffs' counsel has indicated that they intend to file a motion to withdraw as counsel to the remaining plaintiffs. It is unclear who will represent these plaintiffs if that motion is granted. The Unity case, which purports to be brought on behalf of Unity, an independent record company whose works were allegedly used in the My.MP3 service, and all other similarly situated entities or individuals, was filed on November 7, 2000. MP3.com, Inc. answered the Complaint on January 16, 2001. On April 16, 2001, the Court entered an order denying plaintiffs' motion for class certification without prejudice to a renewal of the motion within 45 days. Unity did not renew its motion within the 45 day deadline. Thus, the case may proceed as an individual action only based on the Unity sound recordings allegedly infringed by MP3.com.

Publisher Lawsuits. On March 14, 2000, two large music publishing companies, MPL Communications, Inc. and Peer International Corporation, with the assistance of The Harry Fox Agency, Inc. ("HFA"), filed a copyright infringement lawsuit against MP3.com in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York (the "MPL/Peer case"). The complaint alleged that MP3.com, in connection with its My.MP3 service, made unauthorized copies of audio CDs containing plaintiffs' copyrighted works in violation of the Copyright Act, and that MP3.com, in connection with the streaming of audio content to users of the My.MP3 service, continued to make unauthorized digital phonorecords in violation of the Copyright Act. The complaint further alleged that MP3.com's actions constituted unauthorized copying and willful infringement of plaintiffs' copyrights. Plaintiffs sought damages (including statutory damages of up to $150,000 per violation) and injunctive relief prohibiting MP3.com from operating its My.MP3 service or any other service that uses unauthorized reproductions of plaintiffs' copyrighted works.

On October 17, 2000, MP3.com, the National Music Publishers' Association, Inc., and its licensing subsidiary, HFA, entered into a preliminary agreement to be approved by individual HFA music publisher-principals for settlement and use of musical compositions on the My.MP3 service for a three year term. As a result, MPL and Peer settled the MPL/Peer case with MP3.com, and a stipulation of dismissal with prejudice was subsequently signed by the parties on December 28, 2000 and entered by the Court on January 2, 2001.

The three-year licensing arrangement provided that MP3.com would pay up to $30,000,000 to HFA for the benefit of up to 25,000 music publishers and their songwriter partners, to be allocated to two equal funds. One fund was used to pay HFA publisher-principals for past uses of music on the My.MP3 service, in exchange for a release from HFA publisher-principals and their affiliated entities of all claims related to those asserted in the MPL/Peer case and the use of their compositions on the My.MP3 service. The other fund provides advance payments toward royalties earned under the prospective license. The terms of the prospective license call for a payment of one-quarter cent each time a song is streamed on demand to a customer from his or her My.MP3 locker, along with a one-time fee per track added to the My.MP3 service. The preliminary agreement with HFA was finalized on February 28, 2001. Approximately 78% of the publisher-principals HFA represents accepted and are bound by the settlement agreement and approximately 90% accepted and are bound by the licensing agreement. In April 2001, HFA refunded to MP3.com approximately $4,600,000 pursuant to the agreement, representing approximately $3,200,000 and $1,400,000 for the proportion of HFA publisher-principals that did not settle or license content to MP3.com, respectively.

Zomba Enterprises, Inc. has filed its own music publishing case against MP3.com making allegations like those set forth in the MPL/Peer case. In the second quarter of 2001, similar publisher lawsuits were filed by Randy Newman, Tom Waits, and Ann and Nancy Wilson (the "Newman case") and Major Bob Music, Inc., Rio Bravo Music, Inc., Castle Bound Music Inc., Dream Catcher Music, Inc., and Moon Catcher Music, Inc (the "Major Bob case"). The Newman case was filed on May 7, 2001 in the United States District Court for the Central District of California. MP3.com filed its answer to the complaint on June 15, 2001. The Major Bob case was filed on May 14, 2001. MP3.com filed its answer to the complaint on June 28, 2001. The individual officers and directors of MP3.com who are also named as defendants have not yet responded to the complaint. Additionally, several other publishers, not affiliated with HFA, have sent MP3.com demand letters alleging similar claims. In view of the Court's rulings in the Tee Vee Toons and Zomba cases, there is a substantial risk that the issues of infringement, fair use, and willfulness may be adjudicated against MP3.com in any and all publisher cases. This would mean that MP3.com would only be able to litigate the issue of damages.

Artists' Class Action. On April 12, 2000, several artists filed a class action lawsuit in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York against MP3.com and several major recording companies that claimed to own copyrights in sound recordings featuring the artists. The complaint alleged that the recording company defendants in the Major Label Lawsuit claimed rights in plaintiffs' recordings that they did not possess. In particular, the complaint alleged that the recording company defendants did not possess any copyright protections with respect to plaintiffs' pre-1972 published and pre-1978 unpublished recordings, did not possess the right to digitally transmit plaintiffs' pre-1996 recordings over the Internet, and did not possess the right to control the conversion of plaintiffs' recordings into mp3 files. The complaint further alleged that MP3.com has used the names and likenesses of plaintiffs without their consent or authorization and in a deceptive manner, in violation of the federal Lanham Act, the New York Civil Rights Law, and unspecified unfair competition and misappropriation laws. In their prayer for relief, plaintiffs asked to have their class action certified, to be awarded unspecified damages and attorneys' fees, to have the defendants enjoined from using plaintiffs' names and likenesses to promote downloading music over the Internet, and to receive declaratory relief regarding plaintiffs' rights in their pre- and post-1972 recordings. On August 28, 2000, the Court issued an oral ruling dismissing all claims against MP3.com. On December 7, 2000, judgment was entered dismissing, with prejudice, the federal claims against the defendants. All state claims were dismissed for lack of an independently sufficient jurisdictional basis. Plaintiffs filed a Notice of Appeal on January 5, 2001. Briefing on the appeal concluded June 11, 2001. Oral argument on the appeal has not yet been scheduled but is anticipated to occur after October 21, 2001.

Copyright Settlement Discussions; Charge to Operations. MP3.com has pursued and continues to actively pursue settlement discussions with the various plaintiffs and claimants in the cases and disputes discussed above. The decision whether to enter into settlement and/or license agreements with each party will be based upon a number of factors related to both the lawsuits and MP3.com's business in general. MP3.com cannot guarantee that it will be able to enter into any additional settlement agreements on terms favorable to MP3.com, if at all, or that any settlement or license agreement will prove beneficial to its business or stockholders. During the year ended December 31, 2000, MP3.com recorded a charge for litigation and copyright matters of $170,000,000. The charge for litigation and copyright matters represented its estimate of the total costs to be incurred only in connection with the resolution of the various litigation and copyright matters associated with the My.MP3 service, including the lawsuits filed by major recording companies and other parties. Copyright issues associated with the My.MP3 service also include but are not limited to publishing rights, non-major label content, and legal and advisory fees. This charge did not reflect or include any amounts paid or payable in connection with forward-looking licenses to use music recordings or compositions in connection with the My.MP3 service. This charge reflects management's expectations as of the date of this filing, and is based on currently available information as well as significant assumptions made by management regarding the various litigation and copyright matters. Cash payments for the settlements and judgments discussed above and other payments have reduced the cumulative amount reserved as a result of this charge to approximately $43,000,000 as of December 31, 2000. MP3.com cannot guarantee that future events or results will conform to its expectations or assumptions regarding the various litigation and copyright matters. If these expectations and significant assumptions prove to be erroneous in light of future events, the actual amounts incurred by MP3.com to resolve all copyright matters related to the My.MP3 service could be materially different than those recorded as of December 31, 2000, and could far exceed the resources and market capitalization of MP3.com.

Class Action and Derivative Lawsuits

MP3.com and certain of its employees, officers, and directors have been named as defendants in several lawsuits alleging violations of the federal securities laws. The complaints, which were filed between September 19, 2000 and November 15, 2000 in the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, each purport to be brought on behalf of a class of stockholders. The complaints allege that MP3.com and the other defendants violated the federal securities laws by issuing materially false and misleading statements and failing to disclose material information regarding its My.MP3 service and the litigation surrounding the service. Between September 14, 2000 and October 26, 2000, certain stockholders of MP3.com filed shareholder derivative suits against MP3.com and certain of its employees, officers, and directors in the Superior Court of the State of California, County of San Diego. These complaints allege various statutory and common law claims relating to the My.MP3 service, including breach of fiduciary duty, abuse of control, constructive fraud, gross mismanagement, unjust enrichment, and waste of corporate assets. MP3.com did not record a change related to these claims during the year ended December 31, 2000.

MP3.com and the representatives of the various plaintiffs for both the class action lawsuits and derivative lawsuit executed Stipulations of Settlement dated as of March 20, 2001 ("Stipulations"). Under the terms of the Stipulations, the defendants, while continuing to deny all liability, have paid into an escrow account $35,000,000 and agreed to issue 2.5 million shares of MP3.com common stock which MP3.com valued at $5,391,000, in exchange for complete dismissals and releases of all claims with prejudice. The escrow amount and the 2.5 million shares of common stock will be governed by the Stipulations. The distribution of the escrow amount and the 2.5 million shares will not occur prior to March 31, 2002, except under certain circumstances, including the sale or other acquisition of MP3.com prior to the distribution of the 2.5 million shares of common stock, in which case the stock will be treated equally with all other outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock. In addition, under the Stipulations, MP3.com agreed to institute certain corporate governance enhancements. On June 29, 2001, the State Superior Court issued final approval of the settlement of the derivative cases. A final approval hearing is scheduled in Federal District Court on July 11, 2001 (class action).

Charge Related to Class Action and Derivative Lawsuits. Subsequent to December 31, 2000, in light of the settlements of the class action and derivative lawsuits, MP3.com recorded a charge of $41,428,000. The charge includes the cash paid into the escrow account, the value of the 2.5 million shares of common stock to be issued, and other legal costs. While the charge of $41,428,000 excludes any potential recovery from its insurance carriers, MP3.com is seeking to recover from its carriers the full amount of the settlement together with its legal expenses. National Union has agreed to pay its policy limit of $5,000,000 towards the securities case, but such amount has not yet been paid. Prior to receiving payment from National Union, MP3.com is required to provide certain releases. Currently, MP3.com is reviewing those releases. If MP3.com receives insurance proceeds, MP3.com will record the recovery as a gain in the statement of operations caption "Charge related to class action and derivative lawsuits".

IPO Allocation Cases.

During May and June 2001, MP3.com and certain of its current and former directors and officers were named defendants in seven similar class actions pending in federal district court in the Southern District of New York. The complaints allege that the prospectus and registration statement in MP3.com's initial public offering contained materially false and misleading statements related to underwriting fees, commissions and other economic benefits connected with the offering, including alleged tie-in arrangements between the underwriters and their customers. The complaints allege causes of action under Sections 11, 12(2) and 15 of the Securities Act of 1933, as well as Sections 10(b) and 20(a) and Rule 10b-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Similar cases have been filed against a number of other companies and their underwriters. There has been no activity in any of these cases to date.

Other Litigation

MP3.com is also involved in other legal matters and claims of various types, and from time to time MP3.com may also be involved in litigation relating to claims arising out of its operations in the normal course of business.

F-85

MP3.COM, INC.

In particular, the music industry in the United States is generally regarded as extremely litigious in nature compared to other industries. As a result, in the future MP3.com may be engaged in litigation with others in the music industry, including those entities with whom MP3.com has ongoing license arrangements. For example, some of the major recording companies that settled their portion of the Major Label Lawsuit with MP3.com have asserted in writing that they believe the amount paid by MP3.com to UMG in satisfaction of the Court's judgment, together with the concurrent issuance of warrants to UMG, triggered additional payments to them under the "most favored nations" clause in their settlement agreement with MP3.com. Although MP3.com does not believe they are entitled to any such additional payments, there can be no assurances that MP3.com will be successful in ultimately concluding this particular matter in an amicable fashion, or defending any resulting lawsuit. As a result, MP3.com may be forced to defend one or more lawsuits on this and other issues in the future, and in fact may be involved in a number of litigation proceedings with the same group of related plaintiffs. MP3.com has not recorded any charge related to any claims for additional "most favored nations" payments as of December 31, 2000.

There can be no assurances that MP3.com will be successful in ultimately defending any of these lawsuits, and MP3.com may be required to pay license fees or substantial damages, including statutory, punitive, or other damages that far exceed the resources and overall market capitalization of MP3.com, in which event MP3.com might have to significantly limit or terminate its business operations, particularly because MP3.com's business is not yet profitable. At the rate of $25,000 per work (which is the per CD amount of statutory damages awarded by the court in the Major Label Lawsuit), MP3.com's aggregate potential liability resulting from all of its copyright litigation proceedings could exceed one billion dollars. If successful, any one of these lawsuits could seriously harm MP3.com's business by forcing MP3.com to cease providing services to its consumers or requiring MP3.com to pay monetary damages. Even if unsuccessful, these lawsuits still can harm MP3.com's business severely by damaging its reputation, requiring MP3.com to incur legal costs, lowering MP3.com's stock price and public demand for MP3.com's stock, and diverting management's attention away from MP3.com's primary business activities in general.

10. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

In April 2001, MP3.com loaned its chief executive officer approximately $4,820,000. The loan is secured by no less than 19,700,000 shares of MP3.com Common Stock held by the officer and certain other assets, and accrues interest at 6.75%. Principal and interest are due in April 2002 or earlier if there is a change of control of MP3.com, such as the merger discussed below.

In May 2000, MP3.com entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "Merger Agreement") with Vivendi Universal, a societe anonyme organized under the laws of France ("Vivendi Universal"), and Metronome Acquisition Sub Inc., a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal ("Sub"). Pursuant to the Merger Agreement, MP3.com will be merged with and into Sub (the "Merger"), with Sub continuing as the surviving corporation and as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal. At the effective time of the Merger, each issued and outstanding share of common stock of MP3.com will be converted into, at the option of the holder thereof, the right to receive either (i) $5 in cash, or (ii) a number of Vivendi Universal shares (in the form of American Depositary Receipts) having a value of $5, subject to aggregate transaction consideration caps of 50% cash consideration and 50% share consideration, which may result in proration. The Merger has been structured as a reorganization under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, that is planned to be tax-free to MP3.com stockholders to the extent they receive Vivendi Universal shares.

The Board of Directors of MP3.com has unanimously approved the Merger. In addition, stockholders of MP3.com who beneficially own in the aggregate over approximately 50% of MP3.com common stock entered into a Stockholder Agreement dated May 20, 2001, pursuant to which these stockholders have agreed to vote their shares in favor of the Merger and against competing proposal. The Merger is subject to approval by MP3.com's stockholders, the expiration or early termination of the applicable waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended, and other customary closing conditions. The Merger is anticipated to close during the third quarter of 2001.

MP3.COM, INC. NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED) MARCH 31, 2001

NOTE 1 -- THE COMPANY AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Company

MP3.com, Inc. ("MP3.com") has created a unique and robust technology infrastructure designed to facilitate the storage, management, promotion, and delivery of digital music. As a Music Service Provider (MSP), the company is dedicated to providing consumers access to music when they want it, where they want it, using any web-enabled device. The Company's web site hosts large catalogs of digital music available on the Internet. Dedicated to growing the digital music space, the Company's products and services include on-demand Subscription Music Channels, an innovative Business Music Services program, a Radio Services program and others. Additionally, through the Company's MSP technology initiative and its Music InterOperating System, MP3.com is partnering with a variety of forward-looking businesses to expand its digital music strategy.

MP3.com shares of Common Stock are listed for trading on the Nasdaq National Market System under the symbol "MP3". MP3.com was incorporated in the state of Delaware on March 17, 1998 and commenced operations on that date. MP3.com is headquartered in San Diego, California.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements as of March 31, 2001 and for the three months ended March 31, 2001 and 2000 are unaudited and have been prepared by MP3.com pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). The unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the same basis as the audited consolidated financial statements and, in the opinion of management, include all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments, necessary to state fairly the financial information included, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles have been omitted pursuant to such SEC rules and regulations. The consolidated results of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2001 are not necessarily indicative of the results which may be reported for any other interim period or for the year ending December 31,

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

2001. Certain prior period amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current period presentation.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of MP3.com and its wholly-owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated. The equity and net income or loss attributable to the minority stockholder interests which relate to MP3.com's subsidiaries are shown separately in the consolidated balance sheets and consolidated statements of operations, respectively. Investments in entities over which MP3.com can exercise significant influence, but which are less than majority owned and not otherwise controlled by MP3.com, are accounted for under the equity method. Under the equity method of accounting, MP3.com's share of the investee's earnings or losses are included in consolidated statements of operations as "Minority interest in losses of an unconsolidated subsidiary". All other investments, either in entities over which MP3.com does not have the ability to exercise significant influence or for which there is not a readily determinable market value, are accounted for under the cost method of accounting. Dividends and other distributions of earnings from investees, if any, are included in income when declared.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of

assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Examples include provisions for returns, bad debts, valuation of privately held strategic investments, the ultimate realizability of the prepaid multimedia content royalties, the reserve for litigation and copyright matters and the charge and reserve for class action and derivative lawsuits. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Net Loss Per Share

MP3.com computes net loss per share following SFAS No. 128 "Earnings Per Share" and SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 98 ("SAB 98"). Under the provisions of SFAS No. 128, basic net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss available to common stockholders for the period by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss for the period by the weighted average number of common and common equivalent shares outstanding during the period. Common equivalent shares, composed of unvested restricted common shares, incremental common shares issuable upon the exercise of stock options, and common shares issuable upon the exercise of warrants for common stock, are included in diluted net loss per share to the extent these shares are dilutive. Common equivalent shares are not included in the computation of dilutive net loss per share for the three months ended March 31, 2001 and 2000 because the effect would be anti-dilutive.

Under the provisions of SAB 98, common shares issued for nominal consideration, if any, would be included in the per share calculations as if they were outstanding for all periods presented. No common shares have been issued for nominal consideration.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

The following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted net loss per share as follows (in thousands, except share and per share data):

	THREE MONTHS ENDED
	MARCH 31, 2001	MARCH 31, 2000
Numerator:
Net loss.....	$ (46,128)	$ (18,137)
Denominator:
Weighted average shares outstanding.....	68,615,000	67,811,000
Weighted average unvested common shares subject to repurchase agreements.....	(1,686,000)	(3,183,000)
Denominator for basic and diluted calculation.....	66,929,000	64,628,000
Net loss per share:
Basic and diluted.....	$ (0.69)	$ (0.28)

Diluted common stock equivalents include common stock options, warrants for common stock as if converted and restricted stock that has not yet fully vested. Potentially dilutive securities totaled approximately 2,635,000 and 9,753,000 common shares as of March 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively, and were excluded from historical diluted earnings per share because of their anti-dilutive effect.

Comprehensive Income

MP3.com has adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 130, "Reporting Comprehensive Income". SFAS No. 130 establishes standards for reporting comprehensive income and its components in consolidated financial statements. Comprehensive income includes all changes in equity (net assets) during a period from non-owner sources. Net loss and other comprehensive loss, including foreign currency translation adjustments, and unrealized gains and losses on investments shall be reported, net of their related tax effect, to arrive at comprehensive loss. There was no difference between MP3.com's net loss and its total comprehensive loss for the three months ended March 31, 2001 and 2000, except for unrealized losses on investments of approximately $1,000 and $5,773,000, respectively.

Segment Information

MP3.com has adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 131, "Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information". SFAS 131 requires public companies to report financial and descriptive information about their reportable operating segments. MP3.com identifies its operating segments based on how management internally evaluates separate financial information, business activities and management responsibility. MP3.com believes it operates in a single business segment. Through March 31, 2001, MP3.com has had insignificant foreign operations.

Copyright Litigation

Major Label Lawsuits. On January 21, 2000, ten major recording companies filed a copyright infringement lawsuit against MP3.com, Inc. in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York (the "Major Label Lawsuit"). The complaint alleged that MP3.com, in connection with certain content available in its My.MP3 service, made unauthorized copies of tens of thousands of audio CDs in violation of the Copyright Act. On April 28, 2000, the court granted plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment and held that MP3.com was liable for infringing plaintiffs' copyrights, and the litigation proceeded with discovery on the issues of willfulness and damages. On May 10, 2000, MP3.com disabled all content within the My.MP3 service except as expressly authorized by the copyright holders.

Between June and August 2000, MP3.com entered into settlement and license agreements with Warner Music Group, BMG Entertainment, Sony Music, and Capitol Records, Inc. (EMI), which together represented eight of the ten major recording companies that filed the Major Label Lawsuit. The settlement agreements provide for a settlement amount to be paid in cash by MP3.com in exchange for a release from the settling plaintiffs and their affiliated entities (as defined in the settlement agreements) of all claims related to the lawsuit and the My.MP3 service. "Most-favored-nation" provisions in these settlement agreements require additional settlement amounts to be paid under certain circumstances.

As a result of these settlements, the Major Label Lawsuit was limited to a dispute with UMG Recordings, Inc., which represented two of the original plaintiffs. A trial in the case was held from August 28 through September 6, 2000 on the issues of willfulness and damages. After hearing evidence, the court ruled on September 6, 2000 that MP3.com had willfully infringed UMG's copyrights and awarded damages to UMG in an amount of $25,000 per CD. The Court then scheduled a period to allow MP3.com to conduct discovery concerning the certificates of registration for which plaintiffs sought damages. On November 16, 2000, UMG made a motion for entry of judgment in the amount of not oppose. As a result, a judgment in that amount was entered.

MP3.com has also entered into a license agreement with UMG. Subject to certain affirmative obligations of MP3.com and other terms and conditions regarding the implementation of the My.MP3 service, MP3.com is permitted to utilize the recordings owned by Warner Music Group, BMG Entertainment, Sony Music, EMI, and UMG as part of the My.MP3 service. The license agreements have terms of approximately three to ten years, and provide for payment of a one-time fee each time a licensor's recording is added to a separate My.MP3 account. These licenses also provide for on-going royalty payments based on the greater of (i) a specified percentage of net revenues generated from or in connection with the My.MP3 service or (ii) a specified amount accrued each time a licensor's recording is streamed from My.MP3. Although MP3.com has obtained license agreements permitting the use of recordings from BMG Entertainment, Warner Music Group, Sony Music, UMG, EMI, and certain other independent labels, there can be no guarantee that MP3.com will be able to secure similar license agreements from any other recording company.

Other Record Label Lawsuits. Over the course of 2000 and 2001, some other entities filed lawsuits against MP3.com based on the same set of allegations as the Major Label Lawsuit. These include: Tee Vee Toons, Inc.; Zomba Recording Corp. (the "Zomba case"); Koch Entertainment and Velvel Records LLC (the "Koch case"); EMusic.com, Inc., Fuel 2000 Records, Spinart, Inc., Gig Records, Fearless Records, and Invisible Records (the "EMusic case"); and Unity Entertainment Corporation (the "Unity" case). Additionally, several independent labels have sent MP3.com demand letters alleging similar claims.

A jury trial in the Tee Vee Toons case commenced on March 26, 2001. Prior to trial, in reliance on the Court's rulings in the Major Label Lawsuit, the issues of infringement, fair use, and willfulness were adjudicated against MP3.com. As a result, the jury trial was limited to the issue of damages. The trial concluded on April 6, 2001. The jury considered 145 copyright certificates and returned a verdict which the Court tabulated as totaling $292,968. Subsequently, two jurors contacted the Court to inform it that the verdict decided upon by the jurors contained discrepancies. The Court interviewed all the jurors and set a briefing schedule on the issue of the jury's verdict. On June 19, 2001, the Court declared a mistrial, and set a new trial date of November 5, 2001. On June 26, 2001, MP3.com filed a motion to certify the ruling to the Court of Appeals pursuant to 28 U.S. C. sec. 1292(b). Tee Vee Toons' response papers were filed on June 29, 2001.

Discovery in the Zomba case closed June 4, 2001. The final pre-trial conference is scheduled for July 13, 2001, and the case is set for trial on September 5, 2001. Like the Tee Vee Toons case, the trial in the Zomba case will be limited to only the issue of damages. The Koch case has been settled and the case is now closed. The complaint in the EMusic case was filed on December 14, 2000. MP3.com's response to the complaint was filed on February 8, 2001. On June 20, 2001, MP3.com and EMusic filed a stipulation of dismissal of their claims against each other without prejudice. Plaintiffs' counsel has indicated that they intend to file a motion to withdraw as counsel to the remaining plaintiffs. It is unclear who will represent these plaintiffs if that motion is granted. The Unity case, which purports to be brought on behalf of Unity, an independent record company whose works were allegedly used in the My.MP3 service, and all other similarly situated entities or individuals, was filed on November 7, 2000. MP3.com, Inc. answered the Complaint on January 16, 2001. On April 16, 2001, the Court entered an order denying plaintiffs' motion for class certification without prejudice to a renewal of the motion within 45 days. Unity did not renew its motion within the 45 day deadline. Thus, the case may proceed as an individual action only based on the Unity sound recordings allegedly infringed by MP3.com.

Publisher Lawsuits. On March 14, 2000, two large music publishing companies, MPL Communications, Inc. and Peer International Corporation, with the assistance of The Harry Fox Agency, Inc. ("HFA"), filed a copyright infringement lawsuit against MP3.com in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York (the "MPL/Peer case"). The complaint alleged that MP3.com, in connection with its My.MP3 service, made unauthorized copies of audio CDs containing plaintiffs' copyrighted works in violation of the Copyright Act, and that MP3.com, in connection with the streaming of audio content to users of the My.MP3 service, continued to make unauthorized digital phonorecords in violation of the Copyright Act. The complaint further alleged that MP3.com's actions constituted unauthorized copying and willful infringement of plaintiffs' copyrights. Plaintiffs sought damages (including statutory damages of up to $150,000 per violation) and injunctive relief prohibiting MP3.com from operating its My.MP3 service or any other service that uses unauthorized reproductions of plaintiffs' copyrighted works.

On October 17, 2000, MP3.com, the National Music Publishers' Association, Inc., and its licensing subsidiary, HFA, entered into a preliminary agreement to be approved by individual HFA music publisher-principals for settlement and use of musical compositions on the My.MP3 service for a three year term. As a result, MPL and Peer settled the MPL/Peer case with MP3.com, and a stipulation of dismissal with prejudice was subsequently signed by the parties on December 28, 2000 and entered by the Court on January 2, 2001.

The three-year licensing arrangement provided that MP3.com would pay up to $30,000,000 to HFA for the benefit of up to 25,000 music publishers and their songwriter partners, to be allocated to two equal funds. One fund was used to pay HFA publisher-principals for past uses of music on the My.MP3 service, in exchange for a release from HFA publisher-principals and their affiliated entities of all claims related to those asserted in the MPL/Peer case and the use of their compositions on the My.MP3 service. The other fund provides advance payments toward royalties earned under the prospective license. The terms of the prospective license call for a payment of one-quarter cent each time a song is streamed on demand to a customer from his or her My.MP3 locker, along with a one-time fee per track added to the My.MP3 service. The preliminary agreement with HFA was finalized on February 28, 2001. Approximately 78% of the publisher-principals HFA represents accepted and are bound by the settlement agreement and approximately 90% accepted and are bound by the licensing agreement. In April 2001, HFA refunded to MP3.com approximately $4,600,000 pursuant to the agreement, representing approximately $3,200,000 and $1,400,000 for the proportion of HFA publisher-principals that did not settle or license content to MP3.com, respectively.

Zomba Enterprises, Inc. has filed its own music publishing case against MP3.com making allegations like those set forth in the MPL/Peer case. In the second quarter of 2001, similar publisher lawsuits were filed by Randy Newman, Tom Waits, and Ann and Nancy Wilson (the "Newman case") and Major Bob Music, Inc., Rio Bravo Music, Inc., Castle Bound Music Inc., Dream Catcher Music, Inc., and Moon Catcher Music, Inc (the "Major Bob case"). The Newman case was filed on May 7, 2001 in the United States District Court for the Central District of California. MP3.com filed its answer to the complaint on June 15, 2001. The Major Bob case was filed on May 14, 2001. MP3.com filed its answer to the complaint on June 28, 2001. The individual officers and directors of MP3.com who are also named as defendants have not yet responded to the complaint. Additionally, several other publishers, not affiliated with HFA, have sent MP3.com demand letters alleging similar claims. In view of the Court's rulings in the Tee Vee Toons and Zomba cases, there is a substantial risk that the issues of infringement, fair use, and willfulness may be adjudicated against MP3.com in any and all publisher cases. This would mean that MP3.com would only be able to litigate the issue of damages.

Artists' Class Action. On April 12, 2000, several artists filed a class action lawsuit in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York against MP3.com and several major recording companies that claimed to own copyrights in sound recordings featuring the artists. The complaint alleged that the recording company defendants in the Major Label Lawsuit claimed rights in plaintiffs' recordings that they did not possess. In particular, the complaint alleged that the recording company defendants did not possess any copyright protections with respect to plaintiffs' pre-1972 published and pre-1978 unpublished recordings, did not possess the right to digitally transmit plaintiffs' pre-1996 recordings over the Internet, and did not possess the right to control the conversion of plaintiffs' recordings into mp3 files. The complaint further alleged that MP3.com has used the names and likenesses of plaintiffs without their consent or authorization and in a deceptive manner, in violation of the federal Lanham Act, the New York Civil Rights Law, and unspecified unfair competition and misappropriation laws. In their prayer for relief, plaintiffs asked to have their class action certified, to be awarded unspecified damages and attorneys' fees, to have the defendants enjoined from using plaintiffs' names and likenesses to promote downloading music over the Internet, and to receive declaratory relief regarding plaintiffs' rights in their pre- and post-1972 recordings. On August 28, 2000, the Court issued an oral ruling dismissing all claims against MP3.com. On December 7, 2000, judgment was entered dismissing, with prejudice, the federal claims against the defendants. All state claims were dismissed for lack of an independently sufficient jurisdictional basis. Plaintiffs filed a Notice of Appeal on January 5, 2001. Briefing on the appeal concluded June 11, 2001. Oral argument on the appeal has not yet been scheduled but is anticipated to occur after October 21, 2001.

Copyright Settlement Discussions; Charge to Operations. MP3.com has pursued and continues to actively pursue settlement discussions with the various plaintiffs and claimants in the cases and disputes discussed above. The decision whether to enter into settlement and/or license agreements with each party will be based upon a number of factors related to both the lawsuits and MP3.com's business in general. MP3.com cannot guarantee that it will be able to enter into any additional settlement agreements on terms favorable to MP3.com, if at all, or that any settlement or license agreement will prove beneficial to its business or stockholders. During the year ended December 31, 2000, MP3.com recorded a charge for litigation and copyright matters of $170,000,000. The charge for litigation and copyright matters represented MP3.com's estimate of the total costs to be incurred only in connection with the resolution of the various litigation and copyright matters associated with the My.MP3 service, including the lawsuits filed by major recording companies and other parties. Copyright issues associated with the My.MP3 service also include but are not limited to publishing rights, non-major label content, and legal and advisory fees. This charge did not reflect or include any amounts paid or payable in connection with forward-looking licenses to use music recordings or compositions in connection with the My.MP3 service. This charge reflects management's expectations as of the date of this filing, and is based on currently available information as well as significant assumptions made by management regarding the various litigation and copyright matters. Cash payments for the settlements and judgments discussed above and other payments have reduced the cumulative amount reserved as a result of this charge to $43,400,000 as of March 31, 2001. MP3.com cannot guarantee that future events or results will conform to its expectations or assumptions regarding the various litigation and copyright matters. If these expectations and significant assumptions prove to be erroneous in light of future events, the actual amounts incurred by MP3.com to resolve all copyright matters related to the My.MP3 service could be materially different than those recorded as of March 31, 2001, and could far exceed the resources and market capitalization of MP3.com.

Class Action and Derivative Lawsuits

MP3.com and certain of its employees, officers, and directors have been named as defendants in several lawsuits alleging violations of the federal securities laws. The complaints, which were filed between September 19, 2000 and November 15, 2000 in the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, each purport to be brought on behalf of a class of stockholders. The complaints allege that MP3.com and the other defendants violated the federal securities laws by issuing materially false and misleading statements and failing to disclose material information regarding its My.MP3 service and the litigation surrounding the service. Between September 14, 2000 and October 26, 2000, certain stockholders of MP3.com filed shareholder derivative suits against MP3.com and certain of its employees, officers, and directors in the Superior Court of the State of California, County of San Diego. These complaints allege various statutory and common law claims relating to the My.MP3 service, including breach of fiduciary duty, abuse of control, constructive fraud, gross mismanagement, unjust enrichment, and waste of corporate assets.

MP3.com and the representatives of the various plaintiffs for both the class action lawsuits and derivative lawsuit executed Stipulations of Settlement dated as of March 20, 2001 ("Stipulations"). Under the terms of the Stipulations, the defendants, while continuing to deny all liability, have paid into an escrow account $35,000,000 and agreed to issue 2.5 million shares of MP3.com common stock which MP3.com valued at $5,391,000, in exchange for complete dismissals and releases of all claims with prejudice. The escrow amount and the 2.5 million shares of common stock will be governed by the Stipulations. The distribution of the escrow amount and the 2.5 million shares will not occur prior to March 31, 2002, except under certain circumstances, including the sale or other acquisition of MP3.com prior to the distribution of the 2.5 million shares of common stock, in which case the stock will be treated equally with all other outstanding shares of MP3.com common stock. In addition, under the Stipulations, MP3.com agreed to institute certain corporate governance enhancements. On June 29, 2001, the State Superior Court issued final approval of the settlement of the derivative cases. A final approval hearing is scheduled in Federal District Court on July 11, 2001 (class action).

Charge Related to Class Action and Derivative Lawsuits. In light of the settlements of the class action and derivative lawsuits, MP3.com has recorded a charge of $41,428,000 during the three months ended March 31, 2001. The charge includes the cash paid into the escrow account, the value of the 2.5 million shares of common stock to be issued, and other legal costs. While the charge of $41,428,000 excludes any potential recovery from its insurance carriers, MP3.com is seeking to recover from its carriers the full amount of the settlement together with its legal expenses. National Union has agreed to pay its policy limit of $5,000,000 towards the securities case, but such amount has not yet been paid. Prior to receiving payment from National Union, MP3.com is required to provide certain releases. Currently, MP3.com is reviewing those releases. If MP3.com receives insurance proceeds, MP3.com will record the recovery as a gain in the statement of operations caption "Charge related to class action and derivative lawsuits".

IPO Allocation Cases.

During May and June 2001, MP3.com and certain of its current and former directors and officers were named defendants in seven similar class actions pending in federal district court in the Southern District of New York. The complaints allege that the prospectus and registration statement in MP3.com's initial public offering contained materially false and misleading statements related to underwriting fees, commissions and other economic benefits connected with the offering, including alleged tie-in arrangements between the underwriters and their customers. The complaints allege causes of action under Sections 11, 12(2) and 15 of the Securities Act of 1933, as well as Sections 10(b) and 20(a) and Rule 10b-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Similar cases have been filed against a number of other companies and their underwriters. There has been no activity in any of these cases to date.

Other Litigation

MP3.com is also involved in other legal matters and claims of various types, and from time to time we may also be involved in litigation relating to claims arising out of its operations in the normal course of business.

In particular, the music industry in the United States is generally regarded as extremely litigious in nature compared to other industries. As a result, in the future MP3.com may be engaged in litigation with others in the music industry, including those entities with whom MP3.com has ongoing license arrangements. For example, some of the major recording companies that settled their portion of the Major Label Lawsuit with MP3.com have asserted in writing that they believe the amount paid by MP3.com to

UMG in satisfaction of the Court's judgment, together with the concurrent issuance of warrants to UMG, triggered additional payments to them under the "most favored nations" clause in their settlement agreement with MP3.com. Although MP3.com does not believe they are entitled to any such additional payments, there can be no assurances that MP3.com will be successful in ultimately concluding this particular matter in an amicable fashion, or defending any resulting lawsuit. As a result, MP3.com may be forced to defend one or more lawsuits on this and other issues in the future, and in fact may be involved in a number of litigation proceedings with the same group of related plaintiffs. MP3.com has not recorded any charge related to any claims for additional "most favored nations" payments as of March 31, 2001.

There can be no assurances that MP3.com will be successful in ultimately defending any of these lawsuits, and MP3.com may be required to pay license fees or substantial damages, including statutory, punitive, or other damages that far exceed the resources and overall market capitalization of MP3.com, in which event MP3.com might have to significantly limit or terminate our business operations, particularly because MP3.com's business is not yet profitable. At the rate of $25,000 per work (which is the per CD amount of statutory damages awarded by the court in the Major Label Lawsuit), MP3.com's aggregate potential liability resulting from all of its copyright litigation proceedings could exceed one billion dollars. If successful, any one of these lawsuits could seriously harm MP3.com's business by forcing MP3.com to cease providing services to its consumers or requiring MP3.com to pay monetary damages. Even if unsuccessful, these lawsuits still can harm MP3.com's business severely by damaging its reputation, requiring MP3.com to incur legal costs, lowering MP3.com's stock price and public demand for MP3.com's stock, and diverting management's attention away from MP3.com's primary business activities in general.

NOTE 3 -- RECENT EVENTS

In April 2001, MP3.com loaned its chief executive officer approximately $4,820,000. The loan is secured by no less than 19,700,000 shares of MP3.com Common Stock held by the officer and certain other assets, and accrues interest at 6.75%. Principal and interest are due in April 2002 or earlier if there is a change of control of MP3.com, such as the merger discussed below.

In May 2000, MP3.com entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "Merger Agreement") with Vivendi Universal, a societe anonyme organized under the laws of France ("Vivendi Universal"), and Metronome Acquisition Sub Inc., a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal ("Sub"). Pursuant to the Merger Agreement, MP3.com will be merged with and into Sub (the "Merger"), with Sub continuing as the surviving corporation and as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Vivendi Universal. At the effective time of the Merger, each issued and outstanding share of common stock of MP3.com will be converted into, at the option of the holder thereof, the right to receive either (i) $5 in cash, or (ii) a number of Vivendi Universal shares (in the form of American Depositary Receipts) having a value of $5, subject to aggregate transaction consideration caps of 50% cash consideration and 50% share consideration, which may result in proration. The Merger has been structured as a reorganization under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, that is planned to be tax-free to MP3.com stockholders to the extent they receive Vivendi Universal shares.

The Board of Directors of MP3.com has unanimously approved the Merger. In addition, stockholders of MP3.com who beneficially own in the aggregate over approximately 50% of MP3.com common stock entered into a Stockholder Agreement dated May 20, 2001, pursuant to which these stockholders have agreed to vote their shares in favor of the Merger and against competing proposal. The Merger is subject to approval by MP3.com's stockholders, the expiration or early termination of the applicable waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended, and other customary closing conditions. The Merger is anticipated to close during the third quarter of 2001.

AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF MERGER (this "Agreement") dated as of May 20, 2001, among VIVENDI UNIVERSAL, a societe anonyme organized under the laws of France ("Parent"), METRONOME ACQUISITION SUB INC., a Delaware corporation and a wholly owned subsidiary of Parent ("Sub"), and MP3.COM, INC., a Delaware corporation (the "Company").

WHEREAS the respective Boards of Directors of Parent, Sub and the Company

have approved, and the Boards of Directors of Sub and the Company have declared advisable, this Agreement and the merger of the Company with and into Sub (the "Merger"), upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, whereby each issued and outstanding share of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of the Company (the "Company Common Stock"), other than shares owned by Parent, Sub or the Company, or any wholly owned subsidiary of Parent, Sub or the Company, will be converted into, at the option of the holder thereof (upon the terms and subject to the limitations set forth herein), either (i) the right to receive ordinary shares, nominal value E5.50 per share, of Parent (the "Parent Shares"), which shares will be issued in the form of American depositary shares representing Parent Shares, each American depositary share representing one Parent Share (the "Parent ADSs"), or (ii) the right to receive cash;

WHEREAS simultaneously with the execution and delivery of this Agreement and as a condition and inducement to the willingness of Parent and Sub to enter into this Agreement, Parent and certain principal stockholders of the Company (collectively, the "Company Stockholders") are entering into an agreement (the "Stockholder Agreement") pursuant to which the Company Stockholders will agree to vote to adopt and approve this Agreement and to take certain other actions in furtherance of the Merger upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Stockholder Agreement;

WHEREAS simultaneously with the execution of this Agreement and as a condition and inducement to the willingness of Parent and Sub to enter into this Agreement, Parent, the Company and those employees of the Company identified on Schedule A have entered into employment agreements, conditioned on the consummation of the Merger (each, an "Employment Agreement"), pursuant to which Parent has agreed to employ such individuals following the Effective Time and such individuals have agreed to certain modifications to the terms of their Stock Options and to be subject to certain non-compete and non-solicitation obligations, in each case upon the terms and conditions set forth in the applicable Employment Agreement;

WHEREAS for U.S. Federal income tax purposes, it is intended that (a) the Merger will qualify as a reorganization under the provisions of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder and (b) this Agreement constitutes a plan of reorganization; and

WHEREAS Parent, Sub and the Company desire to make certain representations, warranties, covenants and agreements in connection with the Merger and also to prescribe various conditions to the Merger.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements contained in this Agreement, the parties agree as follows:

EFFECT OF THE MERGER ON THE CAPITAL STOCK OF THE CONSTITUENT CORPORATIONS; EXCHANGE OF CERTIFICATES

SECTION 2.01. Effect on Capital Stock. At the Effective Time, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of the holder of any shares of Company Common Stock or any shares of capital stock of Sub:

(a) Capital Stock of Sub. Each issued and outstanding share of common stock of Sub shall remain outstanding as one fully paid and nonassessable share of common stock of the Surviving Corporation.

(b) Cancellation of Treasury Stock and Parent-Owned Stock. Each share of Company Common Stock that is owned by the Company, as treasury stock, Parent or Sub, or any wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, Parent or Sub, immediately prior to the Effective Time shall automatically be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist, and no consideration shall be delivered or deliverable in exchange therefor.

(c) Conversion of Company Common Stock. Except as otherwise provided in Section 2.05 and subject to Sections 2.01(d) and 2.03(e), each share of Company Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (other than shares to be canceled in accordance with Section 2.01(b)) shall be converted into the right to receive, at the election of the holder thereof, one of the following (as adjusted pursuant to Section 2.05, the "Merger Consideration"):

(i) for each such share of Company Common Stock with respect to which an election to receive Parent Shares has been effectively made, and not revoked or lost, pursuant to Section 2.04 (a "Share Election"), the right to receive a number of fully paid and nonassessable Parent Shares equal to the Exchange Ratio (the "Share Consideration"); and

(ii) for each such share of Company Common Stock with respect to which an election to receive cash has been effectively made, and not revoked or lost, pursuant to Section 2.04 (a "Cash Election"), and for each such share of Company Common Stock with respect to which a Cash Election is deemed to have been made pursuant to Section 2.04(d), the right to receive $5.00 in cash (the "Cash Consideration").

The Parent Shares to be issued in the Merger shall be registered in the name of The Bank of New York, as depositary (the "Depositary") under the Deposit Agreement dated as of April 19, 1995, as amended and restated as of September 11, 2000 and as further amended and restated as of December 8, 2000, among Parent, The Bank of New York, a New York banking corporation, and all owners and beneficial owners from time to time of the American depositary receipts issued thereunder (the "Deposit Agreement"), and then delivered in the form of Parent ADSs, and such Parent ADSs shall be issued in accordance with the Deposit Agreement. At the Effective Time, all such shares of Company Common Stock shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be canceled and shall cease to exist, and each holder of a certificate or certificates that immediately prior to the Effective Time represented any such shares of Company Common Stock (the "Certificates") shall cease to have any rights with respect thereto, except the right to receive the Merger Consideration, certain dividends or other distributions in accordance with Section 2.03(c) and cash in lieu of any fractional Parent ADS in accordance with Section 2.03(e) upon the surrender of such certificate in accordance with Section 2.03(b), without interest. "Exchange Ratio" means the quotient (rounded to the fourth decimal place) obtained by dividing $5.00 by the Average Closing Price. "Average Closing Price" means an amount equal to the average per share closing price of Parent ADSs on the New York Stock Exchange (the "NYSE"), as reported in The Wall Street Journal, Northeastern edition (or, if not reported therein in another authoritative source selected by Parent and reasonably acceptable to the Company), for the five consecutive trading days ending on the trading day immediately preceding the date on which the Stockholders Meeting occurs.

(d) Appraisal Rights. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, shares ("Appraisal Shares") of Company Common Stock that are outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time and that are held by any person who is entitled to demand and properly demands appraisal of such Appraisal Shares pursuant to, and who complies in all respects with, Section 262 of the DGCL ("Section 262") shall not be converted into Merger Consideration as provided in Section 2.01(c), but rather the holders of Appraisal Shares shall be entitled to payment of the fair market value of such Appraisal Shares in accordance with Section 262; provided, however, that if any such holder shall fail to perfect or otherwise shall waive, withdraw or lose the right to appraisal under Section 262, then the right of such holder to be paid the fair value of such holder's Appraisal Shares shall cease and such Appraisal Shares shall be deemed to have been converted as of the Effective Time into, and to have become exchangeable solely for the right to receive, the Merger Consideration as provided in Section 2.01(c) and in accordance with 2.04(d). The Company shall serve prompt notice to Parent of any demands received by the Company for appraisal of any shares of Company Common Stock, and Parent shall have the right to participate in and direct all negotiations and proceedings with respect to such demands. Prior to the Effective Time, the Company shall not, without the prior written consent of Parent, make any payment with respect to, or settle or offer to settle, any such demands, or agree to do any of the foregoing.

SECTION 2.02. Anti-Dilution Provisions. In the event Parent changes (or establishes a record date for changing) the number of Parent Shares issued and outstanding prior to the Effective Time as a result of a stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, subdivision, reclassification, combination, exchange of shares or similar transaction with respect to the outstanding Parent Shares and the record date therefor shall be prior to the Effective Time, the Exchange Ratio shall be proportionately adjusted to reflect such stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, subdivision, reclassification, combination, exchange of shares or similar transaction.

SECTION 2.03. Exchange of Certificates. (a) Exchange Agent. As of the Effective Time, Parent shall provide, or cause the Surviving Corporation to provide, to the Depositary the Parent Shares being issued in the form of Parent ADSs in accordance with this Article II, and the Depositary shall deposit with such bank or trust company as may be designated by Parent and reasonably acceptable to the Company (the "Exchange Agent"), for the benefit of the holders of shares of Company Common Stock, for exchange in accordance with this Article II, through the Exchange Agent, receipts issued in accordance with the Deposit Agreement evidencing the Parent ADSs issuable pursuant to Section 2.01 in exchange for outstanding shares of Company Common Stock, and Parent shall take all steps necessary to enable and cause the Surviving Corporation to provide to the Exchange Agent, on a timely basis, as and when needed after the Effective Time, cash necessary to pay for the shares of Company Common Stock converted into the right to receive cash pursuant to Section 2.01 (such receipts evidencing Parent ADSs and cash, together with any dividends or other distributions with respect thereto in accordance with Section 2.03(c) and any cash in lieu of any fractional Parent ADS in accordance with Section 2.03(e), being hereinafter referred to as the "Exchange Fund"). At the time of such deposit, Parent shall irrevocably instruct the Exchange Agent to deliver the Exchange Fund to the Company's stockholders after the Effective Time in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Section 2.03, subject to Sections 2.03(f) and 2.03(g).

(b) Exchange Procedures. As soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Time, the Exchange Agent shall mail to each holder of record of a Certificate whose shares were converted into the right to receive the applicable Merger Consideration pursuant to Section 2.01, (i) a form of letter of transmittal (which shall specify that delivery shall be effected, and risk of loss and title to the Certificates shall pass, only upon delivery of the Certificates to the Exchange Agent and shall be in customary form and have such other provisions as Parent may reasonably specify) and (ii) instructions for use in surrendering the Certificates in exchange for the applicable Merger Consideration with respect thereto. Upon surrender of a Certificate for cancelation to the Exchange Agent, together with such letter of transmittal, duly completed and validly executed, and such other documents as may reasonably be required by the Exchange Agent, the holder of such Certificate shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor a receipt evidencing that number of whole Parent ADSs (together with cash in lieu of any fractional Parent ADS in accordance with Section 2.03(e)), if any, and the amount of cash, if any, that the aggregate number of shares of Company Common Stock previously represented by such Certificate shall have been converted pursuant to Section 2.01 into the right to receive, together with certain dividends or other distributions in accordance with Section 2.02(c), and the Certificate so surrendered shall forthwith be canceled. In the event of a transfer of ownership of Company Common Stock that is not registered in the transfer records of the Company, a receipt evidencing the proper number of Parent ADSs may be issued and/or the proper amount of cash may be paid, as appropriate, in exchange therefor to a person other than the person in whose name the Certificate so surrendered is registered if such Certificate shall be properly endorsed or otherwise be in proper form for transfer and the person requesting such issuance shall pay any transfer or other taxes required by reason of the issuance of Parent ADSs to a person other than the registered holder of such Certificate or establish to the satisfaction of Parent that such tax has been paid or is not applicable. Until surrendered as contemplated by this Section 2.03(b), each Certificate shall be deemed at any time after the Effective Time to represent only the right to receive upon such surrender the Merger Consideration that the holder thereof has the right to receive pursuant to the provisions of this Article II, certain dividends or other distributions in accordance with Section 2.03(c) and cash in lieu of any fractional Parent ADS in accordance with Section 2.03(e). No interest shall be paid or will accrue on any cash payable upon surrender of any Certificate.

(c) Distributions with Respect to Unexchanged Shares. No dividends or other distributions declared or made with respect to Parent Shares with a record date after the Effective Time shall be paid to the holder of any unsurrendered Certificate with respect to the Parent ADSs represented thereby, if any, and all such dividends and other distributions shall be paid by Parent to the Exchange Agent and shall be included in the Exchange Fund, until the surrender of such Certificate in accordance with this Article II. Subject to the effect of applicable escheat or similar laws, following surrender of any such Certificate there shall be paid to the holder of the receipt evidencing whole Parent ADSs issued in exchange therefor, without interest, (i) at the time of such surrender, the amount of dividends or other distributions with a record date after the Effective Time theretofore paid with respect to such whole Parent ADSs and (ii) at the appropriate payment date, the amount of dividends or other distributions with a record date after the Effective Time but prior to such surrender and with a payment date subsequent to such surrender payable with respect to such whole Parent ADSs.

(d) No Further Ownership Rights in Company Common Stock. All receipts evidencing Parent ADSs issued and cash paid upon the surrender for exchange of Certificates in accordance with the terms of this Article II (including any dividends or other distributions paid pursuant to Section 2.03(c) and any cash in lieu of any fractional Parent ADS paid pursuant to Section 2.03(e)) shall be deemed to have been issued and paid in full satisfaction of all rights pertaining to the shares of Company Common Stock formerly represented by such Certificates, subject, however, to the Surviving Corporation's obligation to pay any dividends or make any other distributions with a record date prior to the Effective Time which may have been declared or made by the Company with respect to such shares of Company Common Stock which remain unpaid at the Effective

Time. At the close of business on the day on which the Effective Time occurs, the stock transfer books of the Company shall be closed, and there shall be no further registration of transfers on the stock transfer books of the Surviving Corporation of the shares of Company Common Stock that were outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time. If, after the Effective Time, Certificates are presented to the Surviving Corporation or the Exchange Agent for transfer or any other reason, they shall be canceled and exchanged as provided in this Article II.

(e) No Fractional Shares. (i) No certificates or scrip representing, or receipts evidencing, fractional Parent ADSs shall be issued upon the surrender for exchange of Certificates, no dividend or distribution with respect to Parent Shares shall relate to such fractional shares interests and such fractional share interests shall not entitle the owner thereof to vote or to any rights of a stockholder of Parent.

(ii) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, each holder of shares of Company Common Stock exchanged pursuant to the Merger who would otherwise have been entitled to receive a fraction of a Parent ADS (after taking into account all such shares held by such holder) shall receive, in lieu thereof, cash (without interest) in an amount, less the amount of any withholding taxes that may be required thereon, equal to such fractional part of a Parent ADS (rounded to the fourth decimal place) multiplied by the Average Closing Price.

(f) Termination of Exchange Fund. Any portion of the Exchange Fund that remains undistributed to the holders of the Certificates for 12 months after the Effective Time shall be delivered to Parent, upon demand, and any holders of the Certificates who have not theretofore complied with this Article II shall thereafter look only to Parent for, and, subject to Section 2.03(g), Parent shall remain liable for, payment of their claim for the Merger Consideration, certain dividends and other distributions in accordance with Section 2.03(c) and any cash in lieu of any fractional Parent ADS in accordance with Section 2.03(e).

(g) No Liability. None of Parent, Sub, the Company or the Exchange Agent shall be liable to any person in respect of any receipts evidencing Parent ADSs (or any dividends or distributions with respect thereto) or cash from the Exchange Fund, in each case delivered to a public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar law. If any Certificate shall not have been surrendered prior to three years after the Effective Time (or immediately prior to such earlier date on which any amounts payable pursuant to this Article II would otherwise escheat to or become the property of any Governmental Entity), any such amounts shall, to the extent permitted by applicable law, become the property of the Surviving Corporation, free and clear of all claims or interest of any person previously entitled thereto.

(h) Investment of Exchange Fund. The Exchange Agent shall invest any cash included in the Exchange Fund, as directed by Parent, on a daily basis; provided that no such investment or loss thereon shall affect the amounts payable to the Company's stockholders pursuant to this Article II. Any interest and other income resulting from such investments shall be the property of, and shall be paid to, Parent, and Parent shall be responsible for paying all taxes with respect to such interest and other income.

(i) Lost Certificates. If any Certificate shall have been lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the person claiming such Certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and, if required by Parent, the posting by such person of a bond in such reasonable amount as Parent may direct as indemnity against any claim that may be made against it with respect to such Certificate, the Exchange Agent shall issue in exchange for such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate the applicable Merger Consideration with respect thereto, certain dividends and other distributions in accordance with Section 2.03(c) and any cash in lieu of any fractional Parent ADS in accordance with Section 2.03(e).

(j) Withholding Rights. Parent, Sub or the Exchange Agent shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from the consideration otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement to any holder of shares of Company Common Stock such amounts as Parent, Sub or the Exchange Agent is required to deduct and withhold with respect to the making of such payment under the Code, or any provision of state, local or foreign tax law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld and paid over to the appropriate taxing authority by Parent, Sub or the Exchange Agent, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been paid to the holder of the shares of Company Common Stock in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made by Parent, Sub or the Exchange Agent.

SECTION 2.04. Elections. (a) Each person who, on or prior to the Election Date referred to in Section 2.04(b), is a record holder of shares of Company Common Stock (which for this purpose shall be deemed to include an authorized representative of the persons entitled to receive the 2,500,000 shares of Company Common Stock reserved for issuance pursuant to the Stipulation of Settlement in the Company's class action and derivative lawsuits) shall be entitled, with respect to all or any portion of such shares, to make an unconditional Share Election or an unconditional Cash Election, in each case specifying that number of shares of Company Common Stock such holder desires to have converted into the Share Consideration and that number of shares of Company Common Stock such holder desires to have converted into the Cash Consideration, as applicable, on or prior to such Election Date, on the basis hereinafter set forth.

(b) Parent shall prepare a form of election, which form shall be subject to the reasonable approval of the Company (the "Form of Election") and shall be mailed with the Proxy Statement to the record holders of Company Common Stock as of the record date for the Stockholders Meeting, which Form of Election shall be used by each record holder of shares of Company Common Stock who wishes to elect to receive the Share Consideration or the Cash Consideration, as applicable, for any or all shares of Company Common Stock held by such holder. The Company shall use all reasonable efforts to make the Form of Election and the Proxy Statement available to all persons who become record holders of Company Common Stock during the period between such record date and the Election Date and to the authorized representative of the persons entitled to receive the 2,500,000 shares of Company Common Stock reserved for issuance pursuant to the Stipulation of Settlement in the Company's class action and derivative lawsuits. Any such holder's (and such authorized representative's) election to receive the Share Consideration or the Cash Consideration, as applicable, shall have been properly made only if the Exchange Agent shall have received at its designated office, by 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the business day immediately preceding the date of the Stockholders Meeting (the "Election Date"), a Form of Election properly completed and signed and (other than in the case of such authorized representative) accompanied by Certificates for the shares of Company Common Stock to which such Form of Election relates, duly endorsed in blank or otherwise in a form acceptable for transfer on the books of the Company (or accompanied by an appropriate guarantee of delivery of such Certificates as set forth in such Form of Election from a firm that is a member of a registered national securities exchange or of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. or a commercial bank or trust company having an office or correspondent in the United States).

(c) Any Form of Election may be revoked, by the stockholder who submitted such Form of Election to the Exchange Agent, only by written notice received by the Exchange Agent (i) prior to 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Election Date or (ii) after such time, if (and only to the extent that) the Exchange Agent is legally required to permit revocations and only if the Effective Time shall not have occurred prior to such date. In addition, all Forms of Election shall automatically be revoked if the Exchange Agent is notified in writing by Parent and the Company that the Merger has been abandoned. If a Form of Election is revoked, the Certificate or Certificates (or guarantees of delivery, as appropriate) for the shares of Company Common Stock to which such Form of Election relates shall be promptly returned to the stockholder that submitted the same to the Exchange Agent.

(d) The determination of the Exchange Agent in its sole discretion shall be binding as to whether or not elections to receive the Share Consideration or the Cash Consideration have been properly made or revoked pursuant to this Section 2.04 with respect to shares of Company Common Stock and when elections and revocations were received by it. If no Form of Election is received with respect to shares of Company Common Stock, or if the Exchange Agent determines that any election to receive the Share Consideration was not properly made with respect to shares of Company Common Stock, the holder of such shares shall be treated by the Exchange Agent as having submitted a Cash Election with respect to such shares and, subject to Section 2.05, such shares shall be converted at the Effective Time into the right to receive the Cash Consideration. The Exchange Agent shall also make all computations as to the proration contemplated by Section 2.05, and absent manifest error any such computation shall be conclusive and binding on the holders of shares of Company Common Stock. The Exchange Agent may, with the mutual agreement of Parent and the Company, make such rules as are consistent with this Section 2.04 for the implementation of the elections provided for herein as shall be necessary or desirable fully to effect such elections and the provisions of this Section 2.04.

SECTION 2.05. Proration. (a) As is more fully set forth below, the maximum aggregate number of Parent Shares to be issued to holders of Company Common Stock pursuant to this Article II (the "Share Cap") shall be equal to that number of Parent Shares having a value (calculated based on the Average Closing Price) equal to the product of (x) 0.5 and (y) the aggregate Merger Consideration (calculated by multiplying the aggregate number of outstanding shares of Company Common Stock as of the Effective Time (excluding any shares of Company Common Stock to be canceled pursuant to Section 2.01(b)) by the Cash Consideration).

(b) As is more fully set forth below, the maximum aggregate amount of cash to be paid to holders of Company Common Stock pursuant to this Article II (the "Cash Cap") shall be equal to the product of (x) 0.5 and (y) the aggregate Merger Consideration (calculated by multiplying the aggregate number of outstanding shares of Company Common Stock as of the Effective Time (excluding any shares of Company Common Stock to be canceled pursuant to Section 2.01(b)) by the Cash Consideration).

(c) In the event that the aggregate number of Parent Shares subject to Share Elections received by the Exchange Agent (the "Requested Share Amount") exceeds the Share Cap, each holder of Company Common Stock that has made a Share Election shall receive, for each share of Company Common Stock for which a Share Election has been made, (x) a number of Parent Shares (in the form of Parent ADSs) equal to the product of the Exchange Ratio and the Share Proration Factor

(such product, the "Prorated Share Amount") and (y) cash in an amount equal to the product of (A) the Exchange Ratio minus the Prorated Share Amount and (B) the Average Closing Price. The "Share Proration Factor" shall be a fraction, the numerator of which is the Share Cap and the denominator of which is the Requested Share Amount.

(d) In the event that the aggregate amount of cash subject to Cash Elections received (or deemed to have been received in accordance with Section 2.04(d)) by the Exchange Agent (the "Requested Cash Amount") exceeds the Cash Cap, each holder making a Cash Election (and each holder who is deemed to have made a Cash Election pursuant to Section 2.04(d)) shall receive, for each share of Company Common Stock with respect to which a Cash Election has been made, (x) cash in an amount equal to the product of the Cash Consideration and a fraction, the numerator of which is the Cash Cap and the denominator of which is the Requested Cash Amount (such product, the "Prorated Cash Amount") and (y) a number of Parent Shares (in the form of Parent ADSs) equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is equal to the Cash Consideration minus the Prorated Cash Amount and the denominator of which is the Average Closing Price.

ARTICLE III

REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

SECTION 3.01. Representations and Warranties of the Company. Except as set forth on the disclosure schedule (each section of which qualifies the correspondingly numbered representation and warranty or covenant to the extent specified therein and such other representations and warranties or covenants to the extent a matter in such section is disclosed in such a way as to make its relevance to the information called for by such other representation and warranty or covenant reasonably apparent) delivered by the Company to Parent prior to the execution of this Agreement (the "Company Disclosure Schedule"), the Company represents and warrants to Parent and Sub as follows:

(a) Organization, Standing and Corporate Power. The Company and each of its subsidiaries is a corporation or other legal entity duly organized, validly existing and in good standing (with respect to jurisdictions which recognize such concept) under the laws of the jurisdiction in which it is organized and has the requisite corporate or other power, as the case may be, and authority to carry on its business as now being conducted. The Company and each of its subsidiaries is duly qualified or licensed to do business and is in good standing (with respect to jurisdictions which recognize such concept) in each jurisdiction in which the nature of its business or the ownership, leasing or operation of its assets makes such qualification or licensing necessary, except for those jurisdictions where the failure to be so qualified or licensed or to be in good standing individually or in the aggregate has not had and could not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company. The Company has made available to Parent prior to the execution of this Agreement complete and correct copies of its certificate of incorporation and by-laws, as amended to the date of this Agreement.

(b) Subsidiaries. Section 3.01(b) of the Company Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true and complete list of each of the Company's subsidiaries. All the outstanding shares of capital stock of, or other equity interests in, each subsidiary of the Company have been validly issued, are fully paid and nonassessable and are owned directly or indirectly by the Company, free and clear of all pledges, claims, liens, charges, encumbrances, mortgages and security interests of any kind or nature whatsoever (collectively,

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

"Liens") and free of any restriction on the right to vote, sell or otherwise dispose of such capital stock or other ownership interests except restrictions under applicable law.

(c) Capital Structure. The authorized capital stock of the Company consists of 300,000,000 shares of Company Common Stock and 15,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share (the "Company Preferred Stock"). A-I-8 reserved for issuance upon the exercise of the warrants (the "Warrants") subject to the warrant agreements listed in Section 3.01(c) of the Company Disclosure Schedule; and (vii) 2,500,000 shares of Company Common Stock were reserved for issuance pursuant to the Stipulation of Settlement in the Company's class action and derivative lawsuits. No shares of Company Common Stock are owned by any subsidiary of the Company. Except as set forth above and except for shares of Company Common Stock issued upon the exercise of Stock Options or Warrants referenced above subsequent to the close of business on May 17, 2001 and prior to the date of this Agreement, as of the date of this Agreement no shares of capital stock or other voting securities of the Company were issued, reserved for issuance or outstanding. There are no outstanding stock appreciation rights ("SARs") or rights (other than the Stock Options and purchase rights under the ESPP) to receive shares of Company Common Stock on a deferred basis or other rights that are linked to the value of shares of Company Common Stock granted under the Company Stock Plans or otherwise. Section 3.01(c) of the Company Disclosure Schedule sets forth a complete and correct list, as of May 17, 2001, of each holder of outstanding stock options or other rights to purchase or receive Company Common Stock granted under the Company Stock Plans or otherwise (collectively, the "Stock Options") and the Warrants, the number of shares of Company Common Stock subject to each such Stock Option and Warrant, the name of the Company Stock Plan pursuant to which such Stock Options were granted, the grant dates, expiration dates and exercise prices of such Stock Options and Warrants and the dates on which such Stock Options and Warrants become vested. The Company is not a party to any voting agreement with respect to the voting of any such securities. As of the date of this Agreement, the Subject Shares (as such term is defined in the Stockholder Agreement) represent more than 50% of the shares of Company Common Stock outstanding. Section 3.01(c) of the Company Disclosure Schedule sets forth a complete and correct list of all securities or other beneficial ownership interests in any other entity beneficially owned, directly or indirectly, by the Company, other than the capital stock of, or other equity interests in, its subsidiaries.

As of their respective dates, the Company SEC Documents complied in all material respects with the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act") or the Exchange Act, as the case may be, and the rules and regulations of the SEC promulgated thereunder applicable to such Company SEC Documents, and none of the Company SEC Documents when filed contained any untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. Except (i) as reflected in the most recent financial statements contained in the Company Filed SEC Documents or in the notes thereto or (ii) for liabilities incurred in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries has any liabilities or obligations of any nature (whether accrued, absolute, contingent or otherwise) which, individually or in the aggregate, have had or could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company.

(f) Information Supplied. (i) None of the information supplied or to be supplied by the Company specifically for inclusion or incorporation by reference in (i) the registration statement on Form F-4 to be filed with the SEC by Parent in connection with the issuance of Parent Shares in the Merger (the "Form F-4") will, at the time the Form F-4 is filed with the SEC, at any time it is amended or supplemented and at the time it becomes effective under the Securities Act, contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading or (ii) the Proxy Statement will, at the date it is first mailed to the Company's stockholders or at the time of the Stockholders Meeting, contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading. The Proxy Statement will comply as to form in all material respects with the requirements of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder. No representation or warranty is made by the Company with respect to statements made or incorporated by reference in the Proxy Statement based on information supplied by Parent specifically for inclusion or incorporation by reference in the Proxy Statement.

(g) Absence of Certain Changes or Events. Except for liabilities incurred in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby and except as disclosed in the Company SEC Documents filed and publicly available prior to the date of this Agreement (the "Company Filed SEC Documents"), since the date of the most recent audited financial statements included in the Company Filed SEC Documents, the Company and its subsidiaries have conducted their business only in the ordinary course, and since such date there has not been (1) any material adverse change with respect to the Company, (2) any declaration, setting aside or payment of any dividend or other distribution (whether in cash, stock or property) with respect to any of the Company's capital stock, (3) any split, combination or reclassification of any of the Company's capital stock or any issuance or the authorization of any issuance of any other securities in respect of, in lieu of or in substitution for shares of the Company's capital stock, (4) (A) any granting by the Company or any of its subsidiaries to any current or former director, consultant, executive officer or other employee of the Company or its subsidiaries of any increase in compensation, bonus or other benefits, except for normal increases in cash compensation and the granting of Stock Options, in each case prior to the date of this Agreement in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice, or as was required under employment agreements in effect as of the date of the most recent audited financial statements included in the Company Filed SEC Documents, (B) any granting by the Company or any of its subsidiaries to any such current or former director, consultant, executive officer or employee of any increase in severance or termination pay, except as was required under employment agreements in effect as of the date of the most recent audited financial statements included in the Company Filed SEC Documents, (C) any entry by the Company or any of its subsidiaries into, or any amendment of, any

The Company, its subsidiaries and each Benefit Plan are in compliance in all material respects with the applicable provisions of ERISA and the Code, and all other applicable laws, including laws of foreign jurisdictions. All Pension Plans intended to be tax-qualified have either received a favorable determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service to the effect that such Pension Plans are qualified and exempt from Federal income taxes under Sections 401(a) and 501(a), respectively, of the Code, or the remedial amendment period under Section 401(b) of the Code has not expired, and no such determination letter has been revoked nor, to the knowledge of the Company, has revocation been threatened, nor has any event occurred since the date of its most recent determination letter, application therefor or Pension Plan's adoption that would adversely affect its qualification or materially increase its costs. All Pension Plans required to have been approved by any foreign Governmental Entity have been so approved; no such approval has been revoked (or, to the knowledge of the Company, has revocation been threatened) nor has any event occurred since the date of the most recent approval or application therefor relating to any such Pension Plan that would materially affect any such approval relating thereto or materially increase the costs relating thereto. The Company has delivered to Parent a true and complete copy of the most recent determination letter received with respect to each Pension Plan, as well as a true and complete copy of each pending application for a determination letter, if any.

notice of, and to the knowledge of the Company, there are no investigations by any Governmental Entity with respect to, termination proceedings or other claims (except claims for benefits payable in the normal operation of the Benefit Plans), suits or proceedings against or involving any Benefit Plan or asserting any rights or claims to benefits under any Benefit Plan that could give rise to any liability, and, to the knowledge of the Company, there are not any facts that could give rise to any liability in the event of any such investigation, claim, suit or proceeding.

For purposes of this Agreement, "Non-Litigation Liabilities" means all liabilities of the Company and its subsidiaries of a type that would be disclosed in consolidated financial statements of the Company prepared in accordance with GAAP, other than (i) liabilities pertaining to the line item "Reserve for litigation and copyright matters" (or any similar line item) on any condensed consolidated balance sheet of the Company or the related notes thereto and (ii) liabilities of a type described in Section 5.11(b).

(b) Advice of Changes; Filings. The Company and Parent shall promptly advise the other party orally and in writing to the extent it has knowledge of (i) any representation or warranty made by it (and, in the case of Parent, made by Sub) contained in this Agreement that is qualified as to materiality becoming untrue or inaccurate in any respect or any such representation or warranty that is not so qualified becoming untrue or inaccurate in any material respect, (ii) the failure by it (and, in the case of Parent, by Sub) to comply with or satisfy in any material respect any covenant, condition or agreement to be complied with or satisfied by it under this Agreement and (iii) any change or event having, or which could reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on such party or on the ability of the conditions set forth in Article VI to be satisfied; provided, however, that no such notification shall affect the representations, warranties, covenants or agreements of the parties (or remedies with respect thereto) or the conditions to the obligations of the parties under this Agreement. The Company and Parent shall promptly provide the other copies of all filings made by such party with any Governmental Entity in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, other than the portions of such filings that include confidential information not directly related to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

SECTION 4.02. No Solicitation by the Company. (a) The Company shall not, nor shall it permit any of its subsidiaries to, nor shall it authorize or permit any of its or any of its subsidiaries' directors, officers or employees or any investment banker, financial advisor, attorney, accountant or other representative retained by it or any of its subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly through another person, (i) solicit, initiate or encourage (including by way of furnishing information), or take any other action intended to, or which could reasonably be expected to, facilitate, any inquiries or the making of any proposal that constitutes, or could reasonably be expected to lead to, any Takeover Proposal or (ii) enter into, continue or otherwise participate in any discussions or negotiations regarding, or furnish to any person any information with respect to, or otherwise cooperate in any way with, any Takeover Proposal. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that, notwithstanding compliance with the preceding sentence, the Company receives a bona fide written Takeover Proposal that the Board of Directors of the Company determines in good faith (after consultation with outside counsel and a financial advisor of nationally recognized reputation) constitutes or is reasonably likely to lead to a Superior Proposal, the Company may, to the extent that the Board of Directors of the Company determines in good faith (after consultation with outside counsel) that it is required to do so in order to comply with its fiduciary duties, participate in discussions or negotiations regarding such Takeover Proposal in order to inform itself in a manner required to comply with its fiduciary duties with respect to such Takeover Proposal so that it may make any determination permitted pursuant to Section 4.02(b)(i) and meet its fiduciary duties of full disclosure to the stockholders of the Company. In such event, the Company shall, (i) no less than 48 hours prior to participating in any such discussions or negotiations, inform Parent of the material terms and conditions of such Takeover Proposal, including the identity of the person making such Takeover Proposal, (ii) promptly inform Parent of the substance of any discussions or negotiations relating to such Superior Proposal and (iii) promptly keep Parent fully informed of the status, including any change to the details of, any such Takeover Proposal. Without limiting the foregoing, it is understood that any violation in any material respect of the restrictions set forth in the first sentence of this Section 4.02(a) by any director, officer or employee of the Company or any of its subsidiaries or any investment banker, financial advisor, attorney, accountant or other representative of the Company or any of its subsidiaries shall be deemed to be a breach of this Section 4.02(a) by the Company.

For purposes of this Agreement, "Superior Proposal" means any offer not solicited by the Company made by a third party to consummate a tender offer, exchange offer, merger, consolidation, share exchange or similar transaction which would result in such third party (or its shareholders) owning, directly or indirectly, 50% or more of the shares of Company Common Stock then outstanding (or of the surviving entity in a merger) or 50% or more of the assets of the Company and its subsidiaries and otherwise on terms which the Board of Directors of the Company determines in good faith (following receipt of the advice of a financial advisor of nationally recognized reputation) to be more favorable to the Company's stockholders from a financial point of view than the Merger.

For purposes of this Agreement, "Takeover Proposal" means any inquiry, proposal or offer from any person relating to any direct or indirect acquisition or purchase of 20% or more of the assets of the Company and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or 20% or more of any class or series of equity securities of the Company or any of its subsidiaries, any tender offer or exchange offer that if consummated would result in any person beneficially owning 20% or more of any class or series of equity securities of the Company or any of its subsidiaries, or any merger, consolidation, share exchange, business combination, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction involving the Company or any of its subsidiaries pursuant to which any person (or its shareholders) would beneficially own 20% or more of any class or series of equity securities of the Company (or any resulting parent or surviving entity), other than the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(b) Neither the Company nor the Board of Directors of the Company nor any committee thereof shall (i) withdraw or modify, or propose to withdraw or modify, in a manner adverse to Parent, the approval or recommendation by such Board of Directors or such committee of the Merger or this Agreement, except to the extent that such Board of Directors determines in good faith (after consultation with outside counsel) that it is required to do so in order to comply with its fiduciary duties, (ii) approve or recommend, or propose to approve or recommend, any Takeover Proposal or (iii) approve or recommend, or propose to approve or recommend, or execute or enter into, any letter of intent, memorandum of understanding, agreement in principle, merger agreement, acquisition agreement, option agreement, joint venture agreement, partnership agreement or other similar agreement or propose or agree to do any of the foregoing constituting or related to, or which is intended to or could reasonably be expected to lead to, any Takeover Proposal.

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

(c) In addition to the obligations of the Company set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Section 4.02, the Company shall immediately (and no later than 48 hours) advise Parent orally and in writing of any request for information or of any inquiry with respect to a Takeover Proposal, the material terms and conditions of such request, inquiry or Takeover Proposal and the identity of the person making such request, inquiry or Takeover Proposal. The Company shall promptly keep Parent informed of the status and details (including amendments or changes or proposed amendments or changes) of any such request, inquiry or Takeover Proposal.

(d) Nothing contained in this Section 4.02 shall prohibit the Company from taking and disclosing to its stockholders a position contemplated by Rule 14d-9 or 14e-2 promulgated under the Exchange Act or from making any disclosure to the Company's stockholders if, in the good faith judgment of the Board of Directors of the Company, after consultation with outside counsel, failure so to disclose would be inconsistent with its obligations under applicable law; provided, however, that, subject to Section 4.02(b)(i), neither the Company nor its Board of Directors nor any committee thereof shall withdraw or modify, or propose to withdraw or modify, its position with respect to this Agreement or the Merger or approve or recommend, or propose to approve or recommend, a Takeover Proposal.

The Company will use all reasonable efforts to cause the Proxy Statement to be mailed to the Company's stockholders as promptly as practicable after the Form F-4 is declared effective under the Securities Act. Parent shall also take any action (other than qualifying to do business in any jurisdiction in which it is not now so qualified or to file a general consent to service of process) required to be taken under any applicable state securities laws in connection with the issuance of Parent Shares in the Merger, and the Company shall furnish all information concerning the Company and the holders of Company Common Stock as may be reasonably requested in connection with any such action and the preparation, filing and distribution of the Proxy Statement. No filing of, or amendment or supplement to, or correspondence to the SEC or its staff with respect to, the Form F-4 will be made by Parent, or the Proxy Statement will be made by the Company, without providing the other party a reasonable opportunity to review and comment thereon. Parent will advise the Company, promptly after it receives notice thereof, of the time when the Form F-4 has become effective or any supplement or amendment has been filed, the issuance of any stop order, the suspension of the qualification of the Parent Shares issuable in connection with the Merger for offering or sale in any jurisdiction, or any request by the SEC for amendment of the Form F-4 or comments thereon and responses thereto or requests by the SEC for additional information. The Company will advise Parent, promptly after it receives notice thereof, of any request by the SEC for the amendment of the Proxy Statement or comments thereon and responses thereto or requests by the SEC for additional information. If at any time prior to the Effective Time any information relating to the Company or Parent, or any of their respective affiliates, officers or directors, should be discovered by the Company or Parent which should be set forth in an amendment or supplement to any of the Form F-4 or the Proxy Statement, so that any of such documents would not include any misstatement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, the party which discovers such information shall promptly notify the other parties hereto and an appropriate amendment or supplement describing such information shall be promptly filed with the SEC and, to the extent required by law, disseminated to the stockholders of the Company.

(b) The Company shall, as soon as practicable following the date of this Agreement, establish a record date (which will be as soon as practicable following the date of this Agreement) for, duly call, give notice of, convene and hold a meeting of its stockholders (the "Stockholders Meeting") solely for the purpose of obtaining the Stockholder Approval. The Company shall cause the Stockholders Meeting to be held as promptly as practicable after the date of this Agreement. Subject to Section 4.02(b)(i), the Company shall, through its Board of Directors, recommend to its stockholders that they adopt this Agreement and shall include such recommendation in the Proxy Statement. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Company agrees that its obligations pursuant to this Section 5.01(b) shall not be affected by (i) the commencement, public proposal, public disclosure or communication to the Company or any other person of any Takeover Proposal or (ii) the withdrawal or modification by the Board of Directors of the Company or any committee thereof of such Board of Directors' or such committee's approval or recommendation of the Merger or this Agreement.

SECTION 5.02. Access to Information; Confidentiality. Upon reasonable notice and subject to the Confidentiality Agreement dated as of March 14, 2001, between Parent and the Company (the "Confidentiality Agreement"), the Company shall, and shall cause each of its subsidiaries to, afford to Parent and to its officers, employees, accountants, counsel, financial advisors and other representatives (including insurance providers and consultants), reasonable access during normal business hours during the period prior to the Effective Time to all its properties, books, contracts, commitments, personnel and records (including electronic databases) and, during such period, the Company shall, and shall cause each of its subsidiaries to, furnish promptly to Parent (a) a copy of each report, schedule, form, statement and other document filed by it during such period pursuant to the requirements of Federal or state securities laws and (b) all other information concerning its business, properties and personnel as Parent may reasonably request (including the Company's outside accountants' work papers). The Company shall not be required to provide access to or disclose information where such access or disclosure would contravene any law, rule, regulation, order or decree of any Governmental Entity. No review pursuant to this Section 5.02 shall have an effect for the purpose of determining the accuracy of any representation or warranty given by the Company to Parent and Sub. Parent will hold, and will cause its officers, employees, accountants, counsel, financial advisors and other representatives and affiliates to hold, any nonpublic information in accordance with the terms of the Confidentiality Agreement.

SECTION 5.03. Reasonable Efforts. (a) Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, each of the parties agrees to use reasonable efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, and to assist and cooperate with the other parties in doing, all things necessary, proper or advisable to consummate and make effective, in the most expeditious manner practicable, the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Stockholder Agreement, including using reasonable efforts to accomplish the following: (i) the taking of all reasonable acts necessary to cause the conditions to Closing to be satisfied as promptly as practicable; (ii) the obtaining of all necessary actions or nonactions, waivers, consents and approvals from Governmental Entities and the making of all necessary registrations and filings (including filings with Governmental Entities, including under the HSR Act) and the taking of all steps as may be necessary to obtain an approval or waiver from, or to avoid an action or proceeding by, any Governmental Entity; (iii) the obtaining of all necessary consents, approvals or waivers from third parties; (iv) the defending of any lawsuits or other legal proceedings, whether judicial or administrative, challenging this Agreement or the Stockholder Agreement or the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Stockholder Agreement, including seeking to have any stay or temporary restraining order entered by any court or other Governmental Entity vacated or reversed; and (v) the execution and delivery of any additional instruments necessary to consummate the transactions contemplated by, and to fully carry out the purposes of, this Agreement and the Stockholder Agreement; provided, however, that Parent will not be required to agree to, or proffer to, (i) divest or hold separate, or enter into any licensing or similar arrangement with respect to, any assets (whether tangible or intangible) or any of Parent's, the Company's or any of their respective affiliates' businesses or (ii) cease to conduct business or operations in any jurisdiction in which Parent, the Company or any of their respective subsidiaries conducts business or operations as of the date of this Agreement.

(b) In connection with and without limiting the foregoing, the Company and its Board of Directors shall (i) take all action necessary to ensure that no state takeover statute or similar statute or regulation is or becomes applicable to the Merger, this Agreement, the Stockholder Agreement or any of the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Stockholder Agreement and (ii) if any state takeover statute or similar statute or regulation becomes applicable to the Merger, this Agreement, the Stockholder Agreement or any other transaction contemplated by this Agreement or the Stockholder Agreement, take all action necessary to ensure that the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Stockholder Agreement may be consummated as promptly as practicable on the terms contemplated by this Agreement and the Stockholder Agreement and otherwise to minimize the effect of such statute or regulation on the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Stockholder Agreement.

SECTION 5.04. Stock Options. (a) As soon as practicable following the date of this Agreement, the Board of Directors of the Company (or, if appropriate, any committee thereof administering the Stock Plans) shall adopt such resolutions or take such other actions as may be required to effect the following:

(i) adjust the terms of all outstanding Stock Options granted under the Company Stock Plans, whether vested or unvested, as necessary to provide that, at the Effective Time, each Stock Option outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be amended and converted into an option to acquire, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable under such Stock Option, the number of Parent Shares (rounded down to the nearest whole share) equal to (A) the number of shares of Company Common Stock subject to such Stock Option immediately prior to the Effective Time multiplied by (B) the Exchange Ratio, at an exercise price per Parent Share (rounded up to the nearest whole cent) equal to (x) the exercise price per share of Company Common Stock otherwise purchasable pursuant to such Stock Option immediately prior to the Effective Time divided by (y) the Exchange Ratio (each, as so adjusted, an "Adjusted Option"); and

(ii) make such other changes to the Company Stock Plans as the Company and Parent may agree are appropriate to give effect to the Merger.

(b) The adjustments provided in this Section 5.04 with respect to any Stock Option to which Section 421(a) of the Code applies shall be and are intended to be effected in a manner which is consistent with Section 424(a) of the Code. As soon as practicable after the Effective Time, Parent shall deliver to the holders of Stock Options appropriate notices setting forth such holders' rights pursuant to the respective Company Stock Plans and the agreements evidencing the grants of such Stock Options and that such Stock Options and agreements shall be assumed by Parent and shall continue in effect on the same terms and conditions (subject to the adjustments required by this Section 5.04 after giving effect to the Merger).

(c) A holder of an Adjusted Option may exercise such Adjusted Option in whole or in part in accordance with its terms by following procedures to be communicated by Parent with the notice contemplated by Section 5.04(b), together with the consideration therefor and the Federal withholding tax information, if any, required in accordance with the related Company Stock Plan or Stock Option Agreement.

(d) Except to the extent required under the respective terms of the Stock Options, all restrictions or limitations on transfer and vesting with respect to Stock Options awarded under the Company Stock Plans or any other plan, program or arrangement of the Company or any of its subsidiaries, to the extent that such restrictions or limitations shall not have already lapsed, and all other terms thereof, shall remain in full force and effect with respect to such options after giving effect to the Merger and the assumption by Parent as set forth above.

(e) Prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall take all necessary action to assume as of the Effective Time all obligations undertaken by Parent under this Section 5.04, including the reservation, issuance and listing of a number of Parent ADSs at least equal to the number of Parent Shares subject to the Adjusted Options. No later than one business day after the Effective Time, Parent shall prepare and file with the SEC a registration statement on Form S-8 (or another appropriate form) registering a number of Parent ADSs representing the number of Parent Shares subject to the Adjusted Options and shall maintain the effectiveness of such registration statement (and maintain the current status of the prospectus contained therein) for so long as such Adjusted Options remain outstanding. The Company shall cooperate with, and assist Parent in the preparation of, such registration statement.

SECTION 5.05. Employee Matters. (a) For a period ending not earlier than December 31, 2002, employees of the Company and its subsidiaries who continue their employment after the Effective Time (the "Affected Employees") shall receive employee benefits that are substantially comparable in the aggregate to the employee benefits provided to the Affected Employees immediately prior to the Effective Time; provided, that neither Parent nor the Surviving Corporation shall have any obligation to issue, or adopt any plans or arrangements providing for the issuance of, shares of capital stock, warrants, options, SARs or other rights in respect of any shares of capital stock of any entity or any securities convertible or exchangeable into such shares pursuant to any such plans or arrangements; provided, further, that no plans or arrangements of the Company or any of its subsidiaries providing for such issuance shall be taken into account in determining whether employee benefits are substantially comparable in the aggregate. Affected Employees shall be given credit under each employee benefit plan, program, policy or arrangement of Parent or any of its affiliates in which the Affected Employees are eligible to participate for all service with the Company or any predecessor employer (to the extent such credit was given by the Company) for purposes of eligibility, vesting, severance and vacation entitlement.

(b) With respect to the ESPP, the Company shall take all actions necessary to provide that (i) no offerings that would commence on a date following the date of this Agreement shall be permitted, (ii) with respect any offering thereunder that is in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time, each participant's accumulated payroll deductions shall be used to purchase shares of Company Common Stock immediately prior to the Effective Time in accordance with the terms of the ESPP and (iii) the ESPP shall terminate at the Effective Time.

(c) Parent and the Company agree to implement the arrangements described in Section 5.05(c) of the Company Disclosure Schedule. In addition, Parent agrees that, if it offers a one-year written employment agreement to any employee of the Company or the Surviving Corporation, such employment agreement will be in the form previously agreed to by Parent and the Company.

(d) Nothing contained in this Section 5.05 or elsewhere in this Agreement shall be construed to prevent the termination of employment of any individual Company Employee or any change in the employee benefits available to any individual Company Employee or the amendment or termination of any particular Benefit Plan or Benefit Agreement to the extent permitted by its terms as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time.

SECTION 5.06. Indemnification, Exculpation and Insurance. (a) Parent agrees that all rights to indemnification and exculpation from liabilities for acts or omissions occurring at or prior to the Effective Time now existing in favor of the current or former directors or officers of the Company and its subsidiaries as provided in their respective articles of organization or by-laws (or comparable organizational documents) and any indemnification agreements of the Company (as each is in effect on the date hereof), the existence of which does not constitute a breach of this Agreement, shall be assumed by the Surviving Corporation in the Merger, without further action, as of the Effective Time and shall survive the Merger and shall continue in full force and effect in accordance with their terms, and Parent shall cause the Surviving Corporation to honor all such rights.

(b) In the event that the Surviving Corporation or any of its successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other person and is not the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) transfers or conveys all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any person, or Parent otherwise dissolves the Surviving Corporation, then, and in each such case, Parent shall cause proper provision to be made so that the successors and assigns of the Surviving Corporation assume the obligations set forth in this Section 5.06.

(c) The Surviving Corporation shall, at its option, for a period of not less than six years after the Effective Time, either (i) maintain the Company's current directors' and officers' liability insurance covering acts or omissions occurring at or prior to the Effective Time ("D&O Insurance") with respect to those persons who are currently covered by the Company's directors' and officers' liability insurance policy on terms with respect to such coverage and amount no less favorable than those of such policy in effect on the date hereof or (ii) cause to be provided coverage no less favorable to such directors or officers, as the case may be, than the D&O Insurance, in each case so long as the annual premium therefor would not be in excess of 200% of the last annual premium paid for the D&O Insurance prior to the date of this Agreement (such 200% amount the "Maximum Premium"); provided that if the annual premium for such coverage exceeds the Maximum Premium, Parent shall be obligated to obtain a policy with the greatest coverage available for a cost not exceeding the Maximum Premium. If the existing or substituted directors' and officers' liability insurance expires, is terminated or canceled during such six-year period, the Surviving Corporation will obtain as much D&O Insurance as can be obtained for the remainder of such period for an annualized premium not in excess of the Maximum Premium. The Company represents that the Maximum Premium is $3,874,800.

(d) The provisions of this Section 5.06 (i) are intended to be for the benefit of, and will be enforceable by, each indemnified party, his or her heirs and his or her representatives and (ii) are in addition to, and not in substitution for, any other rights to indemnification or contribution that any such person may have by contract or otherwise.

SECTION 5.07. Fees and Expenses. All fees and expenses incurred in connection with the Merger, this Agreement, the Stockholder Agreement and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Stockholder Agreement shall be paid by the party incurring such fees or expenses, whether or not the Merger is consummated, except that each of Parent and the Company shall bear and pay one-half of the costs and expenses incurred in connection with the filing, printing and mailing of the Form F-4 and the Proxy Statement (including SEC filing fees).

SECTION 5.08. Public Announcements. Parent and the Company will consult with each other before issuing, and provide each other the opportunity to review, comment upon and concur with, any press release or other public statements with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including the Merger and the Stockholder Agreement, and shall not issue any such press release or make any such public statement prior to such consultation, except as either party may determine is required by applicable law, the SEC or any similar foreign regulatory authority, court process or by obligations pursuant to any listing or similar foreign regulatory authority or quotation agreement with any national securities exchange or national trading system. The parties agree that the initial press release to be issued with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Stockholder Agreement shall be in the form heretofore agreed to by the parties.

SECTION 5.09. Affiliates. The Company shall deliver to Parent at least 15 days prior to the Closing Date a letter identifying all persons who are, at the time this Agreement is submitted for adoption by the stockholders of the Company, "affiliates" of the Company for purposes of Rule 145 under the Securities Act. The Company shall use reasonable efforts to cause each such person who makes or proposes to make a Share Election to deliver to Parent prior to the Closing Date a written agreement substantially in the form attached as Exhibit A hereto.

SECTION 5.10. NYSE Listing. Parent shall use reasonable efforts to cause the Parent ADSs issuable in the Merger and issuable upon exercise of the Adjusted Options to be approved for listing on the NYSE, subject to official notice of issuance, as promptly as practicable after the date hereof, and in any event prior to the Closing Date.

SECTION 5.11. Litigation. (a) The Company shall give Parent the opportunity to participate in the defense or settlement of any litigation against the Company and/or its directors relating to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Stockholder Agreement, and no such settlement shall be agreed to without Parent's prior written consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(b) The Company shall keep Parent fully informed of the status and details of any discussions, negotiations or litigation relating to any of the matters set forth in Section 3.01(h) of the Company Disclosure Schedule (and shall promptly provide Parent with copies of any relevant documents or materials related thereto), and shall give Parent and its counsel the opportunity to participate in any such discussions or negotiations and in the defense of any litigation in respect of any such matters. The Company shall also inform Parent promptly of the commencement of any suit, action or proceeding (whether or not relating to any matter set forth in Section 3.01(h) of the Company Disclosure Schedule) against the Company, and of the assertion or threatened assertion of any claim against, or demand made upon, the Company by any person (and promptly provide Parent with copies of all complaints, briefs, claims, demands, correspondence and other documents relating thereto), shall keep Parent fully informed of the status and details of all such litigation claims and demands and of any settlement discussions or negotiations relating thereto and shall give Parent the opportunity to participate in the defense thereof and in any such discussions or negotiations. The Company shall not enter into any agreement that has the effect of settling, releasing or otherwise disposing of any such litigation, claim or demand (or enter into any licensing agreement relating thereto) without Parent's prior written consent.

SECTION 5.12. Tax Treatment. Each of Parent and the Company shall use reasonable efforts to cause the Merger to qualify as a reorganization under the provisions of Section 368(a) of the Code and to obtain the tax opinions referred to in Sections 6.02(c) and 6.03(c), including the execution of the letters of representation referred to therein. Neither Parent nor the Surviving Corporation shall take any action after the Effective Time that is reasonably likely to prevent the Merger from qualifying as a reorganization under the provisions of Section 368(a) of the Code.

SECTION 5.13. Stockholder Agreement Legend. The Company will inscribe upon any certificate representing Subject Shares (as defined in the Stockholder Agreement) tendered by the Company Stockholders in connection with any proposed transfer of any Subject Shares by the Company Stockholders in accordance with the terms of the Stockholder Agreement the following legend: "THE COPIES OF SUCH AGREEMENT MAY BE OBTAINED AT THE PRINCIPAL EXECUTIVE OFFICES OF MP3.COM, INC."; and the Company will return such certificate containing such inscription to the Company Stockholders within three business days following the Company's receipt thereof.

SECTION 5.14. Termination of Agreements. The Company shall cause all provisions of all purchase agreements, stockholder agreements, registration rights agreements, investors' rights agreements, co-sale agreements, rights of first refusal and similar agreements between any stockholder of the Company and the Company to terminate and be of no further force and effect upon consummation of the Merger. A list of all of such agreements is set forth in Section 5.14 of the Company Disclosure Schedule.

SECTION 5.15. Resignation of Directors of the Company. Prior to the Effective Time, the Company shall cause each member of its Board of Directors to execute and deliver a letter effectuating his or her resignation as a director of such Board effective immediately prior to the Effective Time.

SECTION 6.03. Conditions to Obligations of the Company. The obligation of the Company to effect the Merger is further subject to satisfaction or waiver of the following conditions:

(a) Representations and Warranties. Each of the representations and warranties of Parent and Sub contained in this Agreement, disregarding all qualifications and exceptions contained therein relating to materiality or material adverse effect, shall be true and correct as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing Date as though made on the Closing Date (except to the extent such representations and warranties expressly speak as of an earlier date, in which case as of such earlier date), except to the extent that the facts or matters as to which such representations and warranties are not so true and correct as of such dates, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and could not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on Parent. The Company shall have received a certificate signed on behalf of Parent by an authorized signatory of Parent to such effect.

(b) Performance of Obligations of Parent and Sub. Parent and Sub shall have performed in all material respects all obligations required to be performed by them under this Agreement at or prior to the Closing Date. The Company shall have received a certificate signed on behalf of Parent by an authorized signatory of Parent to such effect.

(c) Tax Opinion. The Company shall have received from Ernst & Young LLP, tax advisors to the Company, an opinion dated as of the Closing Date, stating that the Merger will qualify for U.S. Federal income tax purposes as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. The issuance of such opinion shall be conditioned upon the receipt by such tax advisor of customary representation letters from each of the Company and Parent, in each case, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to such tax advisor.

SECTION 6.04. Frustration of Closing Conditions. None of Parent, Sub or the Company may rely on the failure of any condition set forth in Section 6.01, 6.02 or 6.03, as the case may be, to be satisfied if such failure was caused by such party's failure to use reasonable efforts to consummate the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Stockholder Agreement, as required by and subject to Section 5.03.

ARTICLE VII

TERMINATION, AMENDMENT AND WAIVER

SECTION 7.01. Termination. This Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Effective Time, whether before or after receipt of the Stockholder Approval:

Edgar Filing: VIVENDI UNIVERSAL - Form F-4

(a) by mutual written consent of Parent and the Company;

(b) by either Parent or the Company:

(i) if the Merger shall not have been consummated by November 30, 2001; provided, however, that the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 7.01(b)(i) shall not be available to any party whose failure to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement results in the failure of the Merger to be consummated by such time;

(ii) if the Stockholder Approval shall not have been obtained at the Stockholders Meeting duly convened therefor or at any adjournment or postponement thereof; or

(iii) if any Restraint having any of the effects set forth in Section 6.01(c) shall be in effect and shall have become final and nonappealable; provided that the party seeking to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 7.01(b)(iii) shall have used reasonable efforts to prevent the entry of and to remove such Restraint;

(c) by Parent, if the Company shall have breached or failed to perform in any material respect any of its representations, warranties, covenants or other agreements contained in this Agreement, which breach or failure to perform (A) would give rise to the failure of a condition set forth in Section 6.02(a) or (b), and (B) is incapable of being or has not been cured by the Company within 30 calendar days after giving written notice to the Company of such breach or failure to perform; or

(d) by the Company, if Parent shall have breached or failed to perform in any material respect any of its representations, warranties, covenants or other agreements contained in this Agreement, which breach or failure to perform (A) would give rise to the failure of a condition set forth in Section 6.03(a) or (b), and (B) is incapable of being or has not been cured by Parent within 30 calendar days after giving written notice to Parent of such breach or failure to perform.

SECTION 7.02. Effect of Termination. In the event of termination of this Agreement by either the Company or Parent as provided in Section 7.01, this Agreement shall forthwith become void and have no effect, without any liability or obligation on the part of Parent or the Company, other than the provisions of Section 3.01(o), the last sentence of Section 5.02, Section 5.07, this Section 7.02 and Article VIII, which provisions survive such termination, and except to the extent that such termination results from the willful and material breach by a party of any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement.

SECTION 7.03. Amendment. This Agreement may be amended by the parties at any time prior to the Effective Time; provided, however, that after the Stockholder Approval has been obtained, there shall not be made any amendment that by law requires further approval by the stockholders of the Company without the further approval of such stockholders. This Agreement may not be amended except by an instrument in writing signed on behalf of each of the parties.

SECTION 7.04. Extension; Waiver. At any time prior to the Effective Time, a party may (a) extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other parties, (b) waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties of the other parties contained in this Agreement or in any document delivered pursuant to this Agreement or (c) subject to the proviso to the first sentence of Section 7.03, waive compliance by the other party with any of the agreements or conditions contained in this Agreement. Any agreement on the part of a party to any such extension or waiver shall be valid only if set forth in an instrument in writing signed on behalf of such party. The failure of any party to this Agreement to assert any of its rights under this Agreement or otherwise shall not constitute a waiver of such rights.

A-I-35

SECTION 7.05. Procedure for Termination, Amendment, Extension or Waiver. A termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 7.01, an amendment of this Agreement pursuant to Section 7.03 or an extension or waiver pursuant to Section 7.04 shall, in order to be effective, require, in the case of Parent or the Company, action by its Board of Directors or, except with respect to a termination of this Agreement, the duly authorized committee of its Board of Directors to the extent permitted by law.

The words "hereof", "herein" and "hereunder" and words of similar import when used in this Agreement shall refer to this Agreement as a whole and not to any particular provision of this Agreement. All terms defined in this Agreement shall have the defined meanings when used in any certificate or other document made or delivered pursuant hereto unless otherwise defined therein. The definitions contained in this Agreement are applicable to the singular as well as the plural forms of such terms and to the masculine as well as to the feminine and neuter genders

This Agreement (including the documents and instruments referred to herein), the Stockholder Agreement and the Confidentiality Agreement (a) constitute the entire agreement, and supersede all prior agreements and understandings, both written and oral, among the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement and (b) except for the provisions of Article II and Section 5.06, are not intended to confer upon any person other than the parties any rights or remedies.

SECTION 8.07. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflict of laws thereof.

SECTION 8.08. Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations under this Agreement shall be assigned, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise by any of the parties hereto without the prior written consent of the other parties. Subject to the preceding two sentences, this Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by, the parties and their respective successors and assigns.

EXHIBIT A

FORM OF AFFILIATE LETTER

Dear Sirs:

The undersigned, a holder of shares of common stock, par value $0.001 per share ("Company Common Stock"), of MP3.com, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), is entitled to receive in connection with the merger (the "Merger") of the Company with and into a subsidiary of Parent, a societe anonyme organized under the laws of France ("Parent"), securities of Parent, as the parent of the surviving corporation in the Merger (the "Parent Securities"). The undersigned acknowledges that the undersigned may be deemed an "affiliate" of the Company within the meaning of Rule 145 ("Rule 145") promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act") by the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), although nothing contained herein should be construed as an admission of such fact.

If in fact the undersigned were an affiliate under the Securities Act, the undersigned's ability to sell, assign or transfer the Parent Securities received by the undersigned in exchange for any shares of Company Common Stock in connection with the Merger may be restricted unless such transaction is registered under the Securities Act or an exemption from such registration is available. The undersigned understands that such exemptions are limited and the undersigned has obtained or will obtain advice of counsel as to the nature and conditions of such exemptions, including information with respect to the applicability to the sale of such securities of Rules 144 and 145(d) promulgated under the Securities Act. The undersigned understands that Parent will not be required to maintain the effectiveness of any registration statement under the Securities Act for the purposes of resale of Parent Securities by the undersigned.

The undersigned hereby represents to and covenants with Parent that the undersigned will not sell, assign or transfer any of the Parent Securities received by the undersigned in exchange for shares of Company Common Stock in connection with the Merger except (i) pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act, (ii) in conformity with the volume and other limitations of Rule 145 or (iii) in a transaction which, in the opinion of counsel to Parent or the undersigned reasonably acceptable to Parent or as described in a "no-action" or interpretive letter from the Staff of the SEC specifically issued with respect to a transaction to be engaged in by the undersigned, is not required to be registered under the Securities Act.

In the event of a sale or other disposition by the undersigned of Parent Securities pursuant to Rule 145, the undersigned will supply Parent with evidence of compliance with such Rule, in the form of a letter in the form of Annex I hereto or the opinion of counsel or no-action letter referred to above. The undersigned understands that Parent may instruct its transfer agent to withhold the transfer of any Parent Securities disposed of by the undersigned, but that (provided such transfer is not prohibited by any other provision of this letter agreement) upon receipt of such evidence of compliance, Parent shall cause the transfer agent to effectuate the transfer of the Parent Securities sold as indicated in such letter.

Parent covenants that it will take all such actions as may be reasonably available to it to permit the sale or other disposition of Parent Securities by the undersigned under Rule 145 in accordance with the terms thereof.

The undersigned acknowledges and agrees that the legends set forth below will be placed on certificates representing Parent Securities received by the undersigned in connection with the Merger or held by a transferee thereof, which legends will be removed by delivery of substitute certificates upon receipt of an opinion in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Parent from independent counsel reasonably satisfactory to Parent to the effect that such legends are no longer required for purposes of the Securities Act.

There will be placed on the certificates for Parent Securities issued to the undersigned, or any substitutions therefor, a legend stating in substance:

"The shares represented by this certificate were issued in a transaction to which Rule 145 promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act") applies. The shares have not been acquired by the holder with a view to, or for resale in connection with, any distribution thereof within the meaning of the Securities Act. The shares may not be sold, pledged or otherwise transferred except (i) pursuant to an effective registration under the Securities Act, (ii) in conformity with the volume and other limitations of Rule 145 or (iii) in accordance with an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act".

The undersigned acknowledges that (i) the undersigned has carefully read this letter and understands the requirements hereof and the limitations imposed upon the distribution, sale, transfer or other disposition of Parent Securities and (ii) the receipt by Parent of this letter is an inducement to Parent's obligations to consummate the Merger.

Very truly yours,

Dated:

With respect to each Stockholder that is a natural person and whose Subject Shares constitute community property or otherwise need spousal or other approval for this Agreement to be legal, valid and binding, this Agreement has been duly authorized, executed and delivered by, and constitutes a valid and binding agreement of, such Stockholder's spouse, enforceable against such spouse in accordance with its terms.

(b) The Subject Shares. The Stockholder is the record and beneficial owner of, or is the trustee of a trust that is the record holder of, and whose beneficiaries are the beneficial owners of, and has good and marketable title to, the Subject Shares set forth opposite his, her or its name on Schedule A attached hereto, free and clear of any Liens. The

Stockholder does not own, of record or beneficially, any shares of capital stock of the Company other than the Subject Shares set forth opposite his, her or its name on Schedule A attached hereto. The Stockholder has the sole right to vote such Subject Shares, and except as contemplated by this Agreement, none of such Subject Shares is subject to any voting trust or other agreement, arrangement or restriction with respect to the voting of such Subject Shares.

SECTION 2. Representations and Warranties of Parent. Parent hereby represents and warrants to each Stockholder as follows: Parent has all requisite corporate power and authority to enter into this Agreement and to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. The execution and delivery by Parent of this Agreement and consummation by Parent of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of Parent and no other corporate proceedings on the part of Parent are necessary to authorize this Agreement or to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Parent has duly executed and delivered this Agreement, and, assuming this Agreement constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of each of the other parties hereto, this Agreement constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of Parent, enforceable against Parent in accordance with its terms. The execution and delivery by Parent of this Agreement do not, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and compliance by Parent with the provisions of this Agreement will not, conflict with, or result in any violation or breach of, or default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under, or give rise to a right of termination, cancellation or acceleration of any obligation or to loss of a benefit under, or result in the creation of any Lien upon any of the properties or assets of Parent under, (i) the Restated Corporate Statutes of Parent, (ii) any Contract to which Parent is a party or otherwise applicable to Parent or the properties or assets of Parent or (iii) subject to the governmental filings and other matters referred to in the following sentence, any Judgment or Applicable Law, in each case applicable to Parent or the properties or assets of Parent. No Consent of, action by or in respect of, or registration, declaration or filing with, any Governmental Entity is required to be obtained or made by or with respect to Parent in connection with the execution and delivery of this Agreement by Parent or the consummation by Parent of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, other than such reports under Sections 13(d) and 16 of the Exchange Act as may be required in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

SECTION 3. Covenants of Each Stockholder. Each Stockholder, severally and not jointly, covenants and agrees as follows:

(a) (1) At any meeting (whether annual or special and whether or not an adjourned or postponed meeting) of the stockholders of the Company called to seek the Stockholder Approval or in any other circumstances upon which a vote, consent or other approval (including by written consent) with respect to the Merger Agreement, the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement is sought, the Stockholder shall, including by executing a written consent solicitation if requested by Parent, vote (or cause to be voted) the Subject Shares of the Stockholder in favor of adoption of the Merger Agreement and approval of the Merger and any other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement.

(2) The Stockholder hereby irrevocably grants to, and appoints, Parent and George E. Bushnell III, Philippe Germond and Gerard Ries, or any of them, and any individual designated in writing by any of them, and each of them individually, as the Stockholder's proxy and attorney-in-fact (with full power of substitution), for and in the name, place and stead of the Stockholder, to vote the Subject Shares of the Stockholder, or grant a consent or approval in respect of the Subject Shares of the Stockholder (i) in favor of adoption of the Merger Agreement and approval of the Merger and any other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, (ii) against any Takeover Proposal and (iii) against any amendment of the Company's certificate of incorporation or by-laws or other proposal or transaction involving the Company or any of its subsidiaries, which amendment or other proposal or transaction would in any manner impede, frustrate, prevent or nullify any provision of the Merger Agreement, the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement or change in any manner the voting rights of any class of capital stock of the Company. The Stockholder understands and acknowledges that Parent is entering into the Merger Agreement in reliance upon the Stockholder's execution and delivery of this Agreement. The Stockholder hereby affirms that the irrevocable proxy set forth in this Section 3(a)(2) is given in connection with the execution of the Merger Agreement, and that such irrevocable proxy is given to secure the performance of the duties of the Stockholder under this Agreement. The Stockholder hereby further affirms that the irrevocable proxy is coupled with an interest and may under no circumstances be revoked. The Stockholder hereby ratifies and confirms all that such irrevocable proxy may lawfully do or cause to be done by virtue hereof. Such irrevocable proxy is executed and intended to be irrevocable in accordance with the provisions of Section 212(e) of the DGCL. The irrevocable proxy granted hereunder shall automatically terminate upon the termination of Sections 3(a) and 3(b) in accordance with Section 4.

(b) At any meeting (whether annual or special and whether or not an adjourned or postponed meeting) of stockholders of the Company or at any adjournment thereof or in any other circumstances upon which the Stockholder's vote, consent or other approval is sought (in the Stockholder's capacity as a stockholder of the Company), the Stockholder shall vote (or cause to be voted) the Subject Shares of the Stockholder against (i) any Takeover Proposal and (ii) any amendment of the Company's certificate of incorporation or by-laws or other proposal or transaction involving the Company or any of its subsidiaries, which amendment or other proposal or transaction would in any manner impede, frustrate, prevent or nullify any provision of the Merger Agreement, the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement or change in any manner the voting rights of any class of capital stock of the Company. The Stockholder shall not commit or agree to take any action inconsistent with the foregoing.

(c) Other than pursuant to this Agreement, the Stockholder shall not (i) sell, transfer, pledge, assign or otherwise dispose of (including by gift) (collectively, "Transfer"), or enter into any Contract, option or other arrangement (including any profit sharing arrangement) with respect to the Transfer of, any Subject Shares (or any options to acquire shares of Company Common Stock) to any person other than pursuant to the Merger or (ii) enter into any voting arrangement, whether by proxy, voting agreement or otherwise, with respect to any Subject Shares and shall not commit or agree to take any of the foregoing actions.

(d) The Stockholder shall not, nor shall it authorize or permit any employee or affiliate of, or any investment banker, financial advisor, attorney, accountant or other representative of, the Stockholder to, directly or indirectly through another person, (i) solicit, initiate or encourage (including by way of furnishing information), or take any other action intended to, or which could reasonably be expected to, facilitate, any inquiries or the making of any proposal that constitutes, or could reasonably be expected to lead to, any Takeover Proposal or (ii) enter into, continue or otherwise participate in any discussions or negotiations regarding, or furnish to any person (other than Parent and any of its affiliates and representatives) any information with respect to, or otherwise cooperate in any way with, any Takeover Proposal. The Stockholder promptly shall advise Parent orally and in writing of any Takeover Proposal or inquiry made to the Stockholder with respect to or that could reasonably be expected to lead to any Takeover Proposal.

(e) The Stockholder shall use all reasonable efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, and to assist and cooperate with the other parties in doing, all things necessary, proper or advisable to consummate and make effective, in the most expeditious manner practicable, the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement. The Stockholder shall not issue any press release or make any other public statement with respect to the Merger Agreement, the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement without the prior written consent of Parent, except as may be required by Applicable Law.

(f) The Stockholder hereby consents to and approves the actions taken by the Board of Directors of the Company in approving the Merger Agreement and this Agreement, the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement. The Stockholder hereby waives, and agrees not to exercise or assert, any appraisal rights under Section 262 in connection with the Merger.

(g) If, at the time the Merger Agreement is submitted for adoption by the stockholders of the Company, the Stockholder is an "affiliate" of the Company for purposes of Rule 145 under the Securities Act and has made or proposes to make a Share Election, the Stockholder shall deliver to Parent prior to the Closing a written agreement substantially in the form attached as Exhibit A to the Merger Agreement.

SECTION 4. Termination. This Agreement shall terminate upon the earliest of (i) the Effective Time and (ii) the termination of the Merger Agreement in accordance with its terms.

SECTION 5. Additional Matters. (a) Each Stockholder shall, from time to time, execute and deliver, or cause to be executed and delivered, such additional or further consents, documents and other instruments as Parent may reasonably request for the purpose of effectively carrying out the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(b) No person executing this Agreement who is or becomes during the term hereof a director or officer of the Company makes any agreement or understanding herein in his or her capacity as such a director or officer of the Company. Each Stockholder signs solely in his, her or its capacity as the record holder and beneficial owner of, or the trustee of a trust whose beneficiaries are the beneficial owners of, such Stockholder's Subject Shares and nothing herein shall limit or affect any actions taken by any Stockholder in his or her capacity as an officer or director of the Company.

SECTION 6. General Provisions.

(a) Amendments. This Agreement may not be amended except by an instrument in writing signed by each of the parties hereto.

(b) Notice. All notices and other communications hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed given if delivered personally or sent by overnight courier (providing proof of delivery) to Parent in accordance with Section 8.02 of the Merger Agreement and to the Stockholders at their respective addresses set forth on Schedule A hereto (or at such other address for a party as shall be specified by like notice).

(c) Interpretation. When a reference is made in this Agreement to Sections, such reference shall be to a Section to this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. The headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. Wherever the words "include", "includes" or "including" are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation".

(d) Severability. If any term or other provision of this Agreement is invalid, illegal or incapable of being enforced by any rule of law, or public policy, all other conditions and provisions of this Agreement shall nevertheless remain in full force and effect. Upon such determination that any term or other provision is invalid, illegal or incapable of being enforced, the parties hereto shall negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the parties as closely as possible to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law in an acceptable manner to the end that transactions contemplated hereby are fulfilled to the extent possible.

(e) Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement. This Agreement shall become effective against Parent when one or more counterparts have been signed by Parent and delivered to each Stockholder. This Agreement shall become effective against any Stockholder when one or more counterparts have been executed by such Stockholder and delivered to Parent. Each party need not sign the same counterpart.

(f) Entire Agreement; No Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement (including the documents and instruments referred to herein) (i) constitutes the entire agreement and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, both written and oral, among the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and (ii) is not intended to confer upon any person other than the parties hereto any rights or remedies hereunder.

(g) Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of law thereof.

(h) Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations under this Agreement shall be assigned, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise, by Parent without the prior written consent of each Stockholder (except that Parent may assign, in its sole discretion, any or all of its rights, interests and obligations hereunder, to any direct or indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Parent) or by any Stockholder without the prior written consent of Parent, and any purported assignment without such consent shall be void. Subject to the preceding sentences, this Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by, the parties and their respective successors and assigns.

(i) Enforcement. The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur and that the parties would not have any adequate remedy at law in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that the parties will be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement in any Federal court located in the State of Delaware or in any Delaware state court, the foregoing being in addition to any other remedy to which they are entitled at law or in equity. In addition, each of the parties hereto (i) consents to submit itself to the personal jurisdiction of any Federal court located in the State of Delaware or any Delaware state court in the event any dispute arises out of this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, (ii) agrees that it will not attempt to deny or defeat such personal jurisdiction by motion or other request for leave from any such court, (iii) agrees that it will not bring any action relating to this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement in any court other than a Federal court sitting in the State of Delaware or any Delaware state court and (iv) waives any right to trial by jury with respect to any claim or proceeding related to or arising out of this Agreement or any transaction contemplated by this Agreement.

(j) Agent for Service of Process. Each Stockholder hereby appoints CorpAmerica, Inc., with offices on the date hereof at 30 Old Rudnick Lane, City of Dover, County of Kent, Delaware 19901, as its authorized agent (the "Authorized Agent"), upon whom process may be served in any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or relating to this Agreement or any transaction contemplated by this Agreement that may be instituted in any court described in Section 6(i)(i). Each Stockholder agrees to take any and all action at no cost to such Stockholder, including the filing of any and all documents, that may be reasonably necessary to establish and continue such appointment in full force and effect as aforesaid. Each Stockholder agrees that service of process upon the Authorized Agent shall be, in every respect, effective service of process upon such Stockholder.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, each party has duly executed this Agreement, all as of the date first written above.

ANNEX C

[LETTERHEAD OF CREDIT SUISSE FIRST BOSTON CORPORATION]

May 20, 2001

Board of Directors
MP3.com, Inc.
4790 Eastgate Mall
San Diego, California 92121
Members of the Board:

You have asked us to advise you with respect to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the holders of the common stock of MP3.com, Inc. ("MP3.com") of the Merger Consideration (as defined below) set forth in the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of May 20, 2001 (the "Merger Agreement"), by and among Vivendi Universal ("Vivendi"), Metronome Acquisition Sub Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Vivendi ("Merger Sub"), and MP3.com. The Agreement provides for, among other things, the merger of MP3.com with and into Merger Sub (the "Merger") pursuant to which Merger Sub will be the surviving corporation and each outstanding share of the common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of MP3.com ("MP3.com Common Stock") will be converted into the right to receive, at the election of the holder thereof and subject to certain procedures and limitations set forth in the Merger Agreement as to which we express no opinion, (i) $5.00 in cash (the "Cash Consideration") or (ii) that number of ordinary shares, nominal value E5.50 per share, of Vivendi ("Vivendi Ordinary Shares") (such Vivendi Ordinary Shares to be delivered in the form of American depository shares representing Vivendi Ordinary Shares ("Vivendi ADSs" and, together with the Vivendi Ordinary Shares, the "Vivendi Shares")) equal to the quotient obtained by dividing $5.00 by the average per share closing price of Vivendi ADSs on the New York Stock Exchange for the five consecutive trading days ending on the trading day immediately preceding the date of the Stockholders Meeting (as defined in the Merger Agreement) (the "Stock Consideration" and, together with the Cash Consideration, as appropriate, the "Merger Consideration"). We understand that each Vivendi ADS represents the right to receive one Vivendi Ordinary Share.

In arriving at our opinion, we have reviewed the Merger Agreement and certain related documents, as well as certain publicly available business and financial information relating to MP3.com and Vivendi. We also have reviewed certain other information relating to MP3.com and Vivendi provided to or discussed with us by MP3.com and Vivendi, including publicly available financial forecasts for MP3.com and Vivendi, and have met with the managements of MP3.com and Vivendi to discuss the businesses and prospects of MP3.com and Vivendi. We also have considered certain financial and stock market data of MP3.com and Vivendi and we have compared those data with similar data for publicly held companies in businesses similar to MP3.com and Vivendi, and we have considered, to the extent publicly available, the financial terms of certain other business combinations and other transactions which have been announced or effected. We also considered such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations and financial, economic and market criteria which we deemed relevant, including the potential impact on MP3.com of pending and future copyright infringement litigation and related claims.

In connection with our review, we have not assumed any responsibility for independent verification of any of the foregoing information and have relied on such information being complete and accurate in all material respects. With respect to the publicly available financial forecasts for MP3.com and Vivendi referred to above, we have reviewed and discussed such forecasts with the managements of MP3.com and Vivendi and have been advised, and have assumed, that such forecasts represent reasonable estimates and judgments as to the future financial performance of MP3.com and Vivendi. We also have assumed, with your consent, that the Merger will be treated as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes. We have not been requested to

Board of Directors
MP3.com, Inc.

make, and have not made, an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets or liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of MP3.com or Vivendi, nor have we been furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals. Our opinion is necessarily based upon information available to us, and financial, economic, market and other conditions as they exist and can be evaluated, on the date hereof. We are not expressing any opinion as to what the value of Vivendi ADSs actually will be when issued pursuant to the Merger or the prices at which Vivendi Shares will trade at any time. In connection with our engagement, we were not requested to, and did not, solicit third party indications of interest in the possible acquisition of all or a part of MP3.com. Our opinion does not address the relative merits of the Merger as compared to other business strategies that might be available to MP3.com, nor does it address the underlying business decision of MP3.com to proceed with the Merger.

We have acted as financial advisor to MP3.com in connection with the Merger and will receive a fee for our services, a significant portion of which is contingent upon the consummation of the Merger. We also will receive a fee upon delivery of this opinion. We and our affiliates have in the past provided financial services to MP3.com and Vivendi unrelated to the proposed Merger, for which services we have received compensation. In the ordinary course of business, we and our affiliates may actively trade the securities of MP3.com and Vivendi for our own and such affiliates' accounts and for the accounts of customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold long or short positions in such securities.

It is understood that this letter is for the information of the Board of Directors of MP3.com in connection with its evaluation of the Merger and does not constitute a recommendation to any stockholder as to the form of the Merger Consideration such stockholder should elect to receive or as to how such stockholder should vote or act on any other matter relating to the Merger.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, it is our opinion that, as of the date hereof, the Merger Consideration is fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of MP3.com Common Stock.

Very truly yours,

SECTION 262 OF DELAWARE GENERAL CORPORATION LAW

APPRAISAL RIGHTS

(a) Any stockholder of a corporation of this State who holds shares of stock on the date of the making of a demand pursuant to subsection (d) of this section with respect to such shares, who continuously holds such shares through the effective date of the merger or consolidation, who has otherwise complied with subsection (d) of this section and who has neither voted in favor of the merger or consolidation nor consented thereto in writing pursuant to sec.228 of this title shall be entitled to an appraisal by the Court of Chancery of the fair value of the stockholder's shares of stock under the circumstances described in subsections (b) and (c) of this section. As used in this section, the word "stockholder" means a holder of record of stock in a stock corporation and also a member of record of a nonstock corporation; the words "stock" and "share" mean and include what is ordinarily meant by those words and also membership or membership interest of a member of a nonstock corporation; and the words "depository receipt" mean a receipt or other instrument issued by a depository representing an interest in one or more shares, or fractions thereof, solely of stock of a corporation, which stock is deposited with the depository.

(b) Appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation in a merger or consolidation to be effected pursuant to sec.251 (other than a merger effected pursuant to sec.251(g) of this title), sec.252, sec.254, sec.257, sec.258, sec.263 or sec.264 of this title:

(1) Provided, however, that no appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock, which stock, or depository receipts in respect thereof, at the record date fixed to determine the stockholders entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the meeting of stockholders to act upon the agreement of merger or consolidation, were either (i) listed on a national securities exchange or designated as a national market system security on an interdealer quotation system by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. or (ii) held of record by more than 2,000 holders; and further provided that no appraisal rights shall be available for any shares of stock of the constituent corporation surviving a merger if the merger did not require for its approval the vote of the stockholders of the surviving corporation as provided in subsection (f) of sec.251 of this title.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1) of this subsection, appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation if the holders thereof are required by the terms of an agreement of merger or consolidation pursuant to sections 251, 252, 254, 257, 258, 263 and 264 of this title to accept for such stock anything except:

a. Shares of stock of the corporation surviving or resulting from such merger or consolidation, or depository receipts in respect thereof;

b. Shares of stock of any other corporation, or depository receipts in respect thereof, which shares of stock (or depository receipts in respect thereof) or depository receipts at the effective date of the merger or consolidation will be either listed on a national securities exchange or designated as a national market system security on an interdealer quotation system by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. or held of record by more than 2,000 holders;

c. Cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing subparagraphs a. and b. of this paragraph; or

d. Any combination of the shares of stock, depository receipts and cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing subparagraphs a., b. and c. of this paragraph.

(3) In the event all of the stock of a subsidiary Delaware corporation party to a merger effected under sec.253 of this title is not owned by the parent corporation immediately prior to the merger, appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of the subsidiary Delaware corporation.

(c) Any corporation may provide in its certificate of incorporation that appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of its stock as a result of an amendment to its certificate of incorporation, any merger or consolidation in which the corporation is a constituent corporation or the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the corporation. If the certificate of incorporation contains such a provision, the procedures of this section, including those set forth in subsections (d) and (e) of this section, shall apply as nearly as is practicable.

(d) Appraisal rights shall be perfected as follows:

(1) If a proposed merger or consolidation for which appraisal rights are provided under this section is to be submitted for approval at a meeting of stockholders, the corporation, not less than 20 days prior to the meeting, shall notify each of its stockholders who was such on the record date for such meeting with respect to shares for which appraisal rights are available pursuant to subsection (b) or (c) hereof that appraisal rights are available for any or all of the shares of the constituent corporations, and shall include in such notice a copy of this section. Each stockholder electing to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares shall deliver to the corporation, before the taking of the vote on the merger or consolidation, a written demand for appraisal of such stockholder's shares. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares. A proxy or vote against the merger or consolidation shall not constitute such a demand. A stockholder electing to take such action must do so by a separate written demand as herein provided. Within 10 days after the effective date of such merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation shall notify each stockholder of each constituent corporation who has complied with this subsection and has not voted in favor of or consented to the merger or consolidation of the date that the merger or consolidation has become effective; or

(2) If the merger or consolidation was approved pursuant to sec.228 or sec.253 of this title, each constituent corporation, either before the effective date of the merger or consolidation or within ten days thereafter, shall notify each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation who are entitled to appraisal rights of the approval of the merger or consolidation and that appraisal rights are available for any or all shares of such class or series of stock of such constituent corporation, and shall include in such notice a copy of this section; provided that, if the notice is given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, such notice shall be given by the surviving or resulting corporation to all such holders of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation that are entitled to appraisal rights. Such notice may, and, if given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, shall, also notify such stockholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation. Any stockholder entitled to appraisal rights may, within 20 days after the date of mailing of such notice, demand in writing from the surviving or resulting corporation the appraisal of such holder's shares. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such holder's shares. If such notice did not notify stockholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation, either (i) each such constituent corporation shall send a second notice before the effective date of the merger or consolidation notifying each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation that are entitled to appraisal rights of the effective date of the merger or consolidation or (ii) the surviving or resulting corporation shall send such a second notice to all such holders on or within 10 days after such effective date; provided, however, that if such second notice is sent more than 20 days following the sending of the first notice, such second notice need only be sent to each stockholder who is entitled to appraisal rights and who has demanded appraisal of such holder's shares in accordance with this subsection. An affidavit of the secretary or assistant secretary or of the transfer agent of the corporation that is required to give either notice that such notice has been given shall, in the absence of fraud, be prima facie evidence of the facts stated, therein. For purposes of determining the stockholders entitled to receive either notice, each constituent corporation may fix, in advance, a record date that shall be not more than 10 days prior to the date the notice is given, provided, that if the notice is given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the record date shall be such effective date. If no record date is fixed and the notice is given prior to the effective date, the record date shall be the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the notice is given.

(e) Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation or any stockholder who has complied with subsections (a) and (d) hereof and who is otherwise entitled to appraisal rights, may file a petition in the Court of Chancery demanding a determination of the value of the stock of all such stockholders. Notwithstanding the foregoing, at any time within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any stockholder shall have the right to withdraw such stockholder's demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger or consolidation. Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any stockholder who has complied with the requirements of subsections (a) and (d) hereof, upon written request, shall be entitled to receive from the corporation surviving the merger or resulting from the consolidation a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares not voted in favor of the merger or consolidation and with respect to which demands for appraisal have been received and the aggregate number of holders of such shares. Such written statement shall be mailed to the stockholder within 10 days after such stockholder's written request for such a statement is received by the surviving or resulting corporation or within 10 days after expiration of the period for delivery of demands for appraisal under subsection (d) hereof, whichever is later.

(f) Upon the filing of any such petition by a stockholder, service of a copy thereof shall be made upon the surviving or resulting corporation, which shall within 20 days after such service file in the office of the Register in Chancery in which the petition was filed a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all stockholders who have demanded payment for their shares and with whom agreements as to the value of their shares have not been reached by the surviving or resulting corporation. If the petition shall be filed by the surviving or resulting corporation, the petition shall be accompanied by such a duly verified list. The Register in Chancery, if so ordered by the Court, shall give notice of the time and place fixed for the hearing of such petition by registered or certified mail to the surviving or resulting corporation and to the stockholders shown on the list at the addresses therein stated. Such notice shall also be given by 1 or more publications at least 1 week before the day of the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Wilmington, Delaware or such publication as the Court deems advisable. The forms of the notices by mail and by publication shall be approved by the Court, and the costs thereof shall be borne by the surviving or resulting corporation.

(g) At the hearing on such petition, the Court shall determine the stockholders who have complied with this section and who have become entitled to appraisal rights. The Court may require the stockholders who have demanded an appraisal for their shares and who hold stock represented by certificates to submit their certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery for notation thereon of the pendency of the appraisal proceedings; and if any stockholder fails to comply with such direction, the Court may dismiss the proceedings as to such stockholder.

(h) After determining the stockholders entitled to an appraisal, the Court shall appraise the shares, determining their fair value exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger or consolidation, together with a fair rate of interest, if any, to be paid upon the amount determined to be the fair value. In determining such fair value, the Court shall take into account all relevant factors. In determining the fair rate of interest, the Court may consider all relevant factors, including the rate of interest which the surviving or resulting corporation would have had to pay to borrow money during the pendency of the proceeding. Upon application by the surviving or resulting corporation or by any stockholder entitled to participate in the appraisal proceeding, the Court may, in its discretion, permit discovery or other pretrial proceedings and may proceed to trial upon the appraisal prior to the final determination of the stockholder entitled to an appraisal. Any stockholder whose name appears on the list filed by the surviving or resulting corporation pursuant to subsection (f) of this section and who has submitted such stockholder's certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery, if such is required, may participate fully in all proceedings until it is finally determined that such stockholder is not entitled to appraisal rights under this section.

(i) The Court shall direct the payment of the fair value of the shares, together with interest, if any, by the surviving or resulting corporation to the stockholders entitled thereto. Interest may be simple or compound, as the Court may direct. Payment shall be so made to each such stockholder, in the case of holders of uncertificated stock forthwith, and the case of holders of shares represented by certificates upon the surrender to the corporation of the certificates representing such stock. The Court's decree may be enforced as other decrees in the Court of Chancery may be enforced, whether such surviving or resulting corporation be a corporation of this State or of any state.

(j) The costs of the proceeding may be determined by the Court and taxed upon the parties as the Court deems equitable in the circumstances. Upon application of a stockholder, the Court may order all or a portion of the expenses incurred by any stockholder in connection with the appraisal proceeding, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees and the fees and expenses of experts, to be charged pro rata against the value of all the shares entitled to an appraisal.

(k) From and after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, no stockholder who has demanded appraisal rights as provided in subsection (d) of this section shall be entitled to vote such stock for any purpose or to received payment of dividends or other distributions on the stock (except dividends or other distributions payable to stockholders of record at a date which is prior to the effective date of the merger or consolidation); provided, however, that if no petition for an appraisal shall be filed within the time provided in subsection (e) of this section, or if such stockholder shall deliver to the surviving or resulting corporation a written withdrawal of such stockholder's demand for an appraisal and an acceptance of the merger or consolidation, either within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation as provided in subsection (e) of this section or thereafter with the written approval of the corporation, then the right of such stockholder to an appraisal shall cease. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no appraisal proceeding in the Court of Chancery shall be dismissed as to any stockholder without the approval of the Court, and such approval may be conditioned upon such terms as the Court deems just.

(l) The shares of the surviving or resulting corporation to which the shares of such objecting stockholders would have been converted had they assented to the merger or consolidation shall have the status of authorized and unissued shares of the surviving or resulting corporation.

ITEM 20. INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

The French commercial code prohibits provisions of statuts that limit the liability of directors. The French commercial code also prohibits a company from indemnifying its directors against liability. However, if a director is sued by a third party and ultimately prevails in the litigation on all counts, but is nevertheless required to bear attorneys' fees and costs, the company may reimburse those fees and costs pursuant to an indemnification arrangement with the director.

ITEM 22. UNDERTAKINGS

(a) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:

(1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this registration statement:

(i) To include any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933;

(ii) To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the registration statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of prospectus filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than a 20% change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the "Calculation of Registration Fee" table in the effective registration statement; and

(iii) To include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the registration statement or any material change to such information in the registration statement.

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) To remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.

(b) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each filing of the registrant's annual report pursuant to Section 13(a) or Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (and, where applicable, each filing of an employee benefit plan's annual report pursuant to Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) that is incorporated by reference in the registration statement shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(c) (1) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes as follows: that prior to any public reoffering of the securities registered hereunder through use of a prospectus which is a part of this registration statement, by any person or party who is deemed to be an underwriter within the meaning of Rule 145(c), the issuer undertakes that such reoffering prospectus will contain the information called for by the applicable registration form with respect to reofferings by persons who may be deemed underwriters, in addition to the information called for by the other Items of the applicable form.

(2) The registrant undertakes that every prospectus (i) that is filed pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) immediately preceding, or (ii) that purports to meet the requirements of Section 10(a) (3) of the Securities Act of 1933 and is used in connection with an offering of securities subject to Rule 415, will be filed as a part of an amendment to the registration statement and will not be used until such amendment is effective, and that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(d) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

(e) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes (i) to respond to requests for information that is incorporated by reference into the prospectus pursuant to Items 4, 10(b), 11 or 13 of this Form, within one business day of receipt of such request, and to send the incorporated documents by first class mail or other equally prompt means and (ii) to arrange or provide for a facility in the U.S. for the purpose of responding to such requests. The undertaking in subparagraph (i) above includes information contained in documents filed subsequent to the effective date of the registration statement through the date of responding to the request.

(f) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to supply by means of a post-effective amendment all information concerning a transaction and the company being acquired involved therein, that was not the subject of and included in the registration statement when it became effective.
