What will I be voting on?

At the Meeting, shareholders will vote on:

We urge you to vote by proxy even if you plan to attend the Meeting so that we will know as soon as possible that enough shares will be present for us to hold the Meeting.

Table of Contents

What are the voting procedures?

The Company's state of incorporation is Virginia. Under Virginia law and the Company's bylaws, directors are elected by a plurality of votes cast by the shares entitled to vote at a meeting at which a quorum is present. This means that the 11 nominees for election as directors who receive the greatest number of votes cast at the Meeting will be elected. A withheld vote will not have any effect on the outcome of the election for directors.

For all other proposals, the affirmative vote of the majority of shares represented at the Meeting and entitled to vote will be required for approval. While abstentions and broker non-votes (arising from the lack of instructions from beneficial owners) are considered present for purposes of determining whether a quorum is present, they are not considered to be voting for or against any proposal and will have no effect on the outcome of any proposal.

How do I vote?

You can vote either in person at the Meeting or by proxy without attending the Meeting. The shares represented by a properly executed proxy will be voted as you direct.

To vote by proxy, you must do one of the following:

Fill out your Proxy Card, date and sign it, and return it by mail,

Vote by telephone using the instructions on your Proxy Card, or Vote by Internet using the instructions on your Proxy Card.

If you want to vote in person at the Meeting, and you hold your CSX stock in street name (that is, through a securities broker), you must obtain a proxy from your bank or broker and bring that proxy to the Meeting.

Can I change my vote?

Yes. A proxy may be revoked by a shareholder any time before it is voted by written notice delivered to the CSX Corporate Secretary, by timely receipt of a later signed proxy (including an Internet or telephone vote), or by voting in person at the Meeting.

What if I don't vote for some of the matters listed on my Proxy Card?

If you return a signed Proxy Card without indicating your vote, your shares will be voted for the nominees for director listed on the card, for Ernst and Young LLP as independent certified public accountants for 2004, and against the three shareholder proposals regarding executive compensation, poison pill provisions and severance agreements.

How are votes tabulated?

Votes are tabulated by inspectors of election designated by the Corporate Secretary.

Who pays for soliciting proxies?

The cost of soliciting proxies is being paid by CSX. In addition to solicitation by mail, officers and regular employees of CSX, for no additional compensation, may request the return of proxies by personal conversations or by telephone or telecopy. It also is expected that, for a fee of $12,500 plus reimbursement of certain out-of-pocket expenses, additional solicitation will be made by personal interview, telephone or telecopy under the direction of the proxy solicitation firm of MacKenzie Partners, Inc., 105 Madison Avenue, New York, New York 10016.

Table of Contents

Could other matters be decided at the Meeting?

What is the deadline for consideration of shareholder proposals for the 2005 Annual Meeting?

A shareholder who wants to submit a proposal to be included in the Proxy Statement for the 2005 Annual Meeting of Shareholders must send it to the principal executive offices of CSX so that it is received on or before November 22, 2004.

A shareholder who wants to submit a proposal that will not be in the proxy statement but will be considered at the 2005 Annual Meeting, pursuant to our bylaws, must send it to the principal executive offices of CSX so that it is received on or before January 21, 2005. The proxies named by the Board with respect to the 2005 Annual Meeting shall have discretionary voting authority with respect to any shareholder proposals received after January 21, 2005.

Does the Board of Directors consider director nominees recommended by shareholders?

Yes, the Governance Committee of the Board will review recommendations as to possible nominees received from shareholders and other qualified sources. Shareholder recommendations should be in writing addressed to the Chair of the Governance Committee, CSX Corporation, 500 Water Street, C160, Jacksonville, Florida, 32202, and should include a statement about the qualifications and experience of the proposed nominee, as discussed further below under Item 1 Election of Directors Committees of the Board Governance.

What happens if the Meeting is postponed or adjourned?

Your proxy will still be good and may be voted at the postponed or adjourned meeting. You will still be able to change or revoke your proxy until it is voted.

Do I need a ticket to attend the Meeting?

Yes, you will be issued an admission ticket at the Shareholder Registration Desk at the Meeting. If you hold your shares in your name, please be prepared to provide proper identification, such as a driver's license. He is a director of Ashland, Inc. He has been a director of CSX since April 2002 and is Chair of the Board's Executive Committee.

Director Independence

The Board evaluated the conduct of each of its directors and their independence. The Board concluded that each director acted in the interests of shareholders and the corporation. In addition, the Board has determined that nine of the 11 nominees for election as directors are independent under the listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange. In making this determination, the Board considered transactions or relationships, if any, between each director or his or her immediate family and the Company or its subsidiaries, as well as the listing standards. The purpose of this review was to determine whether any such relationships or transactions were material and thus inconsistent with a determination that the director is independent.

In connection with its deliberations, the Board specifically considered the relationship between the Company and Georgia Power Company, a producer of electric power and subsidiary of the Southern Company. Mr. Ratcliffe, a director and a nominee, currently is the Chief Executive Officer of Georgia Power. CSX Transportation delivers coal to generating plants operated by Georgia Power. In April 2004, Mr. Ratcliffe is expected to resign as Chief Executive Officer of Georgia Power to become President of the Southern Company. Revenue received from Georgia Power and Southern Company does not constitute a material part of the Company's or Southern Company's gross revenues.

As a result of its review, the Board affirmatively determined, based on its understanding of any relationships or transactions, that the following director nominees are independent: Drs. Bailey, Richardson, and Royal, and Messrs. Kelly, Kunisch, Morcott, Ratcliffe, Rice, and Shepard.

Principles of Corporate Governance

The Board is committed to governance principles and practices that facilitate fulfilling its fiduciary duties to shareholders and to the Company. The Board has adopted Corporate Governance Guidelines that reflect the high standards that those who deal with the Company as employees, investors, clients, customers, vendors or in other capacities can and should expect. Other key corporate governance principles observed by the Board and the Company include:

Nomination of a slate of directors for election to the Company's Board that is substantially independent, as that term is defined in applicable laws and stock exchange listing standards.

Establishment of qualification guidelines for candidates for director and review of each director's performance and continuing qualification for Board membership.

Table of Contents

Membership of the Governance, Compensation and Audit Committees comprised of independent directors.

Authority for each Board committee to retain outside, independent advisors and consultants when appropriate.

Adoption of a Code of Ethics, meeting applicable rules and regulations, that covers all directors, officers and employees of CSX, including the Company's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer and Controller.

CSX's Corporate Governance Guidelines and Code of Ethics and the charters of the Governance, Compensation, Audit, Finance and Public Affairs Committees are available on the Company's Internet website (www.csx.com). Shareholders may also request a free copy of any of these documents by writing to CSX Corporation, Office of the Corporate Secretary, 500 Water Street, C160, Jacksonville, Florida 32202.

Any waivers of or changes to the Code of Ethics that apply to our directors or executive officers will be disclosed on CSX's Internet website (www.csx.com).

Shareholders who wish to communicate with the Board generally, or with a particular director, may forward correspondence to CSX Corporation, Office of the Corporate Secretary, 500 Water Street, C160, Jacksonville, Florida 32202.

Pursuant to procedures established by the non-management directors of the Board, the Office of the Corporate Secretary will forward appropriate correspondence to the Board or a particular director. Appropriate correspondence generally includes any legitimate, non-harassing inquiries or statements. Interested parties who wish to communicate directly with non-management directors may forward correspondence to Presiding Director, CSX Board of Directors, CSX Corporation, 500 Water Street, C160, Jacksonville, Florida 32202.

Meetings of the Board and Executive Sessions

During 2003, there were eight meetings of the Board. Except for Mr. Bruce C. Gottwald, who is not standing for re-election as a director, each director attended 75 percent or more of the meetings of the Board and the meetings of the committees on which he or she served.

The non-management directors meet alone in executive session at each Board meeting. Non-management directors are all those who are not Company officers and may include directors, if any, who are not independent under New York Stock Exchange guidelines. These executive sessions are chaired by a presiding director who is an independent director selected annually by the Governance Committee. Mr. Kunisch currently serves as the presiding director. In addition, the independent directors have periodic dinner meetings without management in connection with regularly scheduled Board meetings.

While the Company does not have a formal policy regarding director attendance at Annual Meetings, the Company encourages directors to attend the Annual Meeting. Eleven directors attended the 2003 Annual Meeting.

Committees of the Board

Much of the Board's work is conducted through the committees described below. The role and jurisdiction of each committee is set forth in written charters, and the appropriateness of the committee structure is reviewed regularly. The biographical information in Election of Directors includes committee memberships currently held by each nominee.

Executive

The Executive Committee meets only on call and has authority to act for the Board on most matters during the intervals between Board meetings. The Executive Committee has six members, consisting of the Chairman of the Board and the chairs of each of the five substantive committees. The Committee held no meetings in 2003.

Audit

The Audit Committee selects the independent certified public accountants and submits its choice to the shareholders for ratification. Its primary functions include oversight of the integrity of the Company's financial statements, the Company's compliance with legal and regulatory requirements, the independent auditors' qualifications and independence, and the performance of the independent auditors and the Company's internal audit function.

Specifically, the Committee retains, appoints, oversees and determines compensation of the Company's independent auditors, reviews the scope and methodology of the independent auditors' proposed audits, reviews the Company's financial statements, and monitors the Company's internal control over financial reporting by, among other things, discussing certain aspects thereof with the independent auditors and management. In addition, the Committee pre-approves all audit and non-audit services to be provided by the independent auditors as discussed under Fees Paid to the Independent Certified Public Accountants' Pre-Approval Policies and Procedures. Finally, the Committee maintains procedures for the receipt and treatment of complaints regarding the Company's accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters. The Audit Committee charter is attached as Appendix A to this Proxy Statement.

The Audit Committee has four members, each of whom the Board has determined to be independent pursuant to the independence standards promulgated by the New York Stock Exchange and the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). The Committee held eight meetings in 2003.

The Board has determined that the Company has at least one audit committee financial expert, as that term is defined by SEC rules and regulations, serving on the Audit Committee. Mr. Kelly is the Committee's financial expert and is independent pursuant to the standards promulgated by the New York Stock Exchange and the SEC. Please refer to the Report of the Audit Committee below for additional information regarding the Audit Committee.

Compensation

The primary functions of the Compensation Committee are to (i) establish the Company's compensation philosophy, (ii) review and approve corporate goals and objectives relevant to compensation and benefits for the Chief Executive Officer, evaluate the Chief Executive Officer's performance in light of those goals and objectives and, either as a committee or together with the other independent directors, as directed by the Board, set the level of compensation of the Chief Executive Officer based on such evaluation, (iii) review and recommend approval of non-CEO compensation and Company compensation plans, including certain benefits for key employees as determined by this Committee from time to time, and (iv) establish performance objectives for certain executives, and certify the attainment of those objectives in connection with the payment of performance-based compensation within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code Section 162(m). In addition, the Committee monitors the administration of certain executive compensation and benefit programs.

The Compensation Committee has four members, all of whom are outside directors within the meaning of regulations promulgated pursuant to Internal Revenue Code Section 162(m) and are independent pursuant to the independence standards promulgated by the New York Stock Exchange. The Committee held six meetings in 2003. Please refer to the Report of the Compensation Committee on Executive Compensation below for additional information regarding the functions and operations of the Compensation Committee.

Finance

The Finance Committee provides general oversight and review of financial matters affecting the Corporation, including the monitoring of corporate debt, cash flow, and the funding and administration of certain tax-qualified retirement plans of the Company. This five-member Committee held five meetings in 2003.

Governance

The Governance Committee of the Board, formerly the Nominating and Organization Committee, identifies individuals qualified to become board members and recommends candidates for election to the Board. In addition, the Committee develops criteria regarding director qualification and reviews and recommends changes in Board composition, committee structure, and director compensation. The Committee develops, recommends and monitors corporate governance principles and conducts regular evaluations of director performance and of the effectiveness of the Board as a working group. The Governance Committee also reviews significant changes in corporate structure, succession in senior management, and other internal matters of broad corporate importance. The Governance Committee charter is attached as Appendix B to this Proxy Statement.

The Committee has four members. Following the Meeting, the Committee will be composed solely of independent directors pursuant to the independence standards promulgated by the New York Stock Exchange. The Committee held six meetings in 2003.

The Governance Committee generally identifies nominees for directors based upon outside research and suggestions from directors and officers of the Company. The Committee will also consider persons recommended by shareholders of the Company in selecting director nominees. Potential nominees suggested by shareholders will be evaluated by the Committee on the same basis as individuals identified directly by the Committee or from other sources. As a group, the Board is expected to represent a broad diversity of experience in business matters and to be able to assess and evaluate the role and policies of the Company in the face of changing conditions in the economy, regulatory environment and customer expectations. While there is not a formal list of qualifications, nominees for Board membership are expected to be prominent individuals with demonstrated leadership ability and to possess outstanding integrity, values and judgment. Nominees must be willing to devote the substantial time required to carry out the duties and responsibilities of directors. In addition, each Board member is expected to represent the broad interests of the Company and its shareholders as a group, and not any particular constituency. The Committee uses these and other relevant criteria to evaluate potential nominees.

Shareholders who wish to recommend a director nominee must do so in accordance with the Company's bylaws. In general, written notice of a proposed shareholder nomination must be delivered to the Company at least 60 days but no more than 90 days before the Annual Meeting. Nominations must be accompanied by a description of the proposed nominee's qualifications and experience and his or her consent to serve if elected. Such recommendations must also indicate the nominating shareholder's name and address and the class and number of shares that he or she owns.

Public Affairs

The Public Affairs Committee reviews and makes recommendations concerning the Company's practices and programs designed to address important public policy issues that may impact the Company, its shareholders, and the general public. This five-member Committee held three meetings during 2003.

Directors Compensation

General

During 2003, non-employee directors received an annual retainer of $40,000, at least 40 percent of which was paid in CSX stock under the CSX Corporation Stock Plan for Directors. The Chair of each Board committee received an additional annual retainer of $5,000. Each non-employee director also received a grant of 2,000 shares of CSX stock, which in 2003 had a market value of $67,620 based on an average price per share of $33.81 on the date of grant. Non-employee directors also received $1,000 for each Board and committee meeting attended. Directors also are eligible to receive other compensation and benefits as discussed below.

In December 2003, the Board approved changes to the outside directors' compensation and benefits program. In doing so, the Board considered information received from two outside compensation consultants. In general, the changes increase base compensation, eliminate meeting fees and reduce certain benefit programs for outside directors.

Beginning in 2004, in addition to the benefits described below, directors who are not CSX employees will receive the following fees:

Annual Board retainer fee	$	75,000
Annual Audit Committee Chair fee	$	15,000
Annual Committee (other than Audit) Chair fee	$	10,000
Audit Committee membership fee	$	5,000
Annual Stock Grant		2,500 shares

Stock Plan for Directors

Because CSX directors want their compensation to be tied to shareholder interests, non-employee directors must participate in the CSX Corporation Stock Plan for Directors (the Stock Plan). Under the Stock Plan, as amended effective January 1, 2004, directors will be paid not less than 50 percent of their annual retainers in CSX stock and may elect to receive their entire retainers in stock. Payments made in stock under the Stock Plan, including direct grants, can be deferred for income tax purposes into a deferred compensation plan.

Deferred Compensation Plans

Each non-employee director may participate in the deferred compensation plan (Deferred Compensation Plan), under which he or she can defer all or a portion of cash compensation paid by CSX until he or she ceases to be a director and has reached age 65, after which he or she will be paid in installments over a period not to exceed 15 years. Amounts so deferred may be credited at each director's election to an Interest Account, a CSX Phantom Stock Account, or both. The Interest Account accrues interest, compounded quarterly, at rates that, effective as of January 1, 2004, are set at the annual rate of 10-year U.S. Treasury bonds as of the first business day of October. For 2004, the applicable interest rate is 3.93 percent. An Enhanced Interest Account, into which deferrals could be directed in 1989 and 1990, accrues interest, effective January 1, 2004, at the same rate as the Interest Account. Participants in the Enhanced Interest Account also are covered by an additional $10,000 death benefit. The Interest Account and the Enhanced Interest Account accrued interest at higher than market rates in 2003, compounded quarterly for the Interest Account and compounded annually for the Enhanced Interest Account. The balances in the Phantom Stock Accounts represent cash balances equal to the value of CSX stock, including reinvested dividends, which would have been in the account had the deferred cash compensation actually been used to purchase CSX stock.

The Deferred Compensation Plan provides that if the Board determines that a change of control of CSX, as defined in the Plan, has occurred, Plan participants will receive a lump sum cash payment equal to the balance credited to their accounts. The Stock Plan provides that upon a change of control, the shares held in trust will be distributed unless the participant has elected to remain in the Plan. Amounts sufficient to pay any undistributed payments pursuant to the Deferred Compensation Plan and the Stock Plan upon a change of control will be placed in a trust until distributed under the terms of the plans and the participants' distribution elections. The trust will be subject to claims of creditors of CSX Corporation. Directors may elect, within a specified period of time prior to any change of control event, to continue participation in the Deferred Compensation Plan as if a change of control had not occurred. The election can be revoked even after a change of control occurs, subject to a five-percent penalty on distribution.

The 2002 Director Deferred Compensation Plan (2002 Plan) was adopted in 2002 to replace the Deferred Compensation Plan. The 2002 Plan permits directors to elect to defer cash compensation to be invested in an Interest Account or in a Phantom Stock Account and contains provisions similar to the Deferred Compensation Plan with respect to distribution of deferred amounts upon retirement and Change in Control. The 2002 Plan permits a participant to change his or her distribution election until 30 days following retirement as a director. Directors who previously participated in the Deferred Compensation Plan could make a one-time election to participate in the 2002 Plan.

Charitable Gift Plan

Current CSX directors participate in the CSX Directors Charitable Gift Plan (Gift Plan) which is partially funded by company-owned life insurance on the lives of certain participants. Beginning in 2004, new directors who join the Board will not participate in the Gift Plan. Under the Gift Plan, if a director serves for five consecutive years, the Company will make contributions totaling $1 million on his or her behalf to charitable institutions designated by that participant. Contributions to designated charities are made in installments, with $100,000 payable upon the director s retirement and the balance payable in installments of $100,000 per year, commencing at the time of the participant s death. During 2003, CSX made contributions totaling $200,000 to three charitable organizations on behalf of Messrs. Snow and Hall, both of whom retired in 2003.

Matching Gift Plan and Other Benefits

Directors, and directors retired less than two years, also may participate in the CSX Directors Matching Gift Program (Matching Gift Program). The Company will match $2 for every $1 that a director contributes to organizations that qualify for support under guidelines established by CSX up to a maximum annual CSX contribution of $50,000 per director.

During 2003, forty-eight charitable organizations received contributions totaling $578,558 as part of the Matching Gift Program. The underlying amounts varied by director, but did not exceed $50,000 on behalf of any director.

The Company makes available to directors personal excess liability insurance at no expense to the directors. Directors have traditionally had access to participate in the CSX Comprehensive Medical Plan (Medical Plan). Beginning January 1, 2004, no additional directors will be allowed to participate in the Medical Plan. In addition, directors are entitled to certain discounts when visiting the company-owned resort. Directors who retired before January 1, 2004, are entitled to this discount until December 31, 2005. During 2003, the value of the medical insurance, excess liability insurance and discounts described above, including reimbursement of certain related taxes, varied by director but did not exceed $38,000 for any director.

Certain Relationships and Related Transactions

Robert L. Burrus, Jr., a director of the Company, is a partner in and Chairman of McGuireWoods LLP, a law firm that regularly provides legal services to the Company and its subsidiaries and that the Company expects it will retain to provide legal services in 2004. In addition, Mr. Burrus has an adult son, Peter T. Burrus, who is Division Manager of the Chicago Division of CSX Transportation, having started with the Company as a management trainee in 1990.

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

The Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires the Company s executive officers and directors, and any persons owning more than 10 percent of a class of the Company s stock, to file certain reports of ownership and changes in ownership with the SEC. Based solely on its review of the copies of Forms 3, 4 and 5 received by it, the Company believes that, with two exceptions, the Company s executive officers and directors complied with the SEC s reporting requirements with respect to transactions during fiscal 2003. The acquisition of 22 shares of phantom stock by Robert J. Haulter in July 2003 was reported on a late-filed Form 4 in August 2003. The acquisition of a total of 76 shares of phantom stock by Oscar Munoz in June and July 2003 was reported on a late-filed Form 4 in August 2003.

Retirement benefits from qualified and non-qualified non-contributory pension plans (Pension Plans) of CSX and certain of its subsidiaries are based on both length of service and compensation. The compensation covered by the Pension Plans is compensation paid by CSX or its subsidiaries to a participant on a regular monthly or annual salary basis, and bonuses or similar awards for personal services rendered in a position that is not under the scope of a labor agreement. Compensation items listed in the Summary Compensation Table covered by the Pension Plans are base salary and bonus. The average compensation during the five consecutive years of highest pay covered by the Pension Plans for Mr. Ward was $630,385.

The benefits are computed at the time of retirement under a defined benefit formula based on years of service and average salary and bonus for the highest 60 consecutive covered months of service. The formula also takes into account retirement benefits under the Social Security Act and Railroad Retirement Act attributable to service by the participant for the employer. The Pension Plans provide for retirement from active employment commencing at age 60 without diminution of benefits. Retirement from active employment beginning at age 55 is permitted with reduced pension payments. Certain participants in the Pension Plans may be eligible to receive an additional year of unfunded credit for each year of actual service beginning at age 45 and, in certain instances, such credit for periods prior to employment by CSX or its subsidiaries, with a 44-year maximum of total service.

The Pension Plans permit the Chief Executive Officer and a limited number of other key executives named by him to take the unfunded portion of their pensions in a lump sum payment. The amount of the payment is calculated on an actuarial present value, using an interest rate set periodically by the Finance Committee, which currently is five percent. Mr. Snow, who retired from the Company effective February 3, 2003, was granted his non-qualified pension benefit in a lump sum (see Employment, Change of Control and Similar Agreements).

As of December 2003, the individuals named in the Summary Compensation Table had the following credited years of service: Mr. Ward, 26 years; Mr. Grassi, 39 years; Mr. Giftos, 41 years; Mr. Fogarty, 39 years; Mr. Snow, 44 years; Mr. Goodwin, 44 years.

The amounts in the table have not been restricted to those within the maximum annual retirement benefit that is currently permissible under the Internal Revenue Code, which is $160,000 for 2004. Also, in calculating a participant's benefit, annual compensation in excess of a limit set annually by the Secretary of the Treasury may not be considered. That limit is $200,000 for 2004. Pension amounts in excess of such limitations are payable from the non-qualified Special and Supplemental Plans, which are not funded.

Employees who become eligible to participate in the Pension Plans on or after January 1, 2003, will accrue benefits using a cash balance formula. Cash balance benefits are based on a formula using age and years of service. Interest is credited on a monthly basis using the 10-year treasury bond rate. Vested balances are payable in a lump sum or annuity upon termination of employment or retirement.

Employment, Change of Control and Similar Agreements

The Company has entered into change of control employment agreements (the Employment Agreements) with certain executives, including Messrs. Ward, Munoz, Giftos, and Fogarty. The Employment Agreements generally provide that if the executive is terminated other than for cause within three years after a change of control of the Company, or if the executive terminates employment for good reason within such three-year period or voluntarily during the 30-day period following the six-month anniversary of the change of control (or, in the case of a change of control transaction subject to Surface Transportation Board review, following the 12-month anniversary of the approval of the transaction by the Surface Transportation Board), the executive is entitled to receive severance benefits. Severance benefits include a lump sum severance payment equal to three times the sum of the executive's base salary and highest annual bonus for the three years preceding the change of control (or, if higher, the most recently established target bonus), together with certain other payments and benefits, including a prorated bonus for the year of termination; the present value of additional pension benefits the executive would have earned if employment had continued for three more years and all benefits had vested; continuation of employee welfare benefits for three years; an additional payment to make the executive whole for certain excise taxes imposed on certain change of control payments, if any; the right to receive the Black-Scholes value of options that terminate unexercised; and the right to up to $20,000 of outplacement services.

In 1995, the Company entered into a similar agreement (the 1995 Agreement) with Mr. Grassi, former President and Chief Executive Officer of CSX World Terminals LLC. Upon the Company's sale of the international container shipping business in 1999, and before becoming eligible for benefits under the 1995 Agreement, Mr. Grassi entered into a second agreement whereby he deferred his ability to receive the benefits until his retirement from CSX. Upon his retirement from CSX, the Company agreed to pay Mr. Grassi an amount equal to three times the sum of his base salary and highest annual bonus for the three years preceding the change in control (or, if higher, the highest annual bonus for the three years that will precede retirement), together with certain other payments and benefits, including a bonus for the year of retirement paid at the same rate as the highest bonus described above, the present value of additional pension benefits the executive would have earned if employment had continued for three more years and all benefits had vested, and continuation of employee welfare benefits for himself and his spouse for three years. In January 2003, the Company entered into a further agreement with Mr. Grassi in which the Company agreed to define highest annual bonus as the highest annual bonus received in the preceding five years. Upon his retirement in December 2003, Mr. Grassi received $3,857,000, which constituted his payment under the 1995 Agreement.

The Company and its former Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Snow, entered into an employment agreement (the JWS Agreement) in 2001. The JWS Agreement provided Mr. Snow with an annual salary, a bonus opportunity, a one-time grant of stock options and shares of restricted stock, each as disclosed in the tables of the Company's Proxy Statements, a continuation of his employee benefits during his employment, an extension of his perquisites while serving as Chairman of the Board, and a life insurance policy. Mr. Snow also would have been afforded benefits comparable to those offered to other senior executive officers upon a change in control. In connection with Mr. Snow's retirement from the Company, Mr. Snow waived all future payments and perquisites payable under the JWS Agreement.

As reported in the 2003 Proxy Statement, at the time of Mr. Snow's retirement in early February 2003, the Company delivered to him (i) cash to satisfy the Company's contractual obligation with respect to the insurance policy, (ii) certain deferred cash compensation, (iii) deferred stock accrued during Mr. Snow's tenure, and (iv) a lump sum payment of the non-qualified portion of his pension based on the actuarial present value of the unfunded pension benefit. Mr. Snow continues to receive the qualified portion of his pension benefits and other deferred cash compensation accrued during his tenure in accordance with the terms of applicable plans.

In 2001, the Company and Mr. Ward entered into a five-year employment agreement, which included the award of 165,000 shares of restricted stock to Mr. Ward as an incentive to remain with the Company. The stock award vests on the fifth anniversary of the grant. If Mr. Ward voluntarily terminates his employment with the Company prior to the end of the five years, the shares will be forfeited. Generally, if the Company elects to terminate Mr. Ward's employment for reasons other than for cause, Mr. Ward dies or becomes disabled, or Mr. Ward terminates his employment for good reason within five years of the grant, the Company will remove the restrictions on a prorated portion of the restricted shares and pay Mr. Ward the salary and one-half of the target annual incentive otherwise payable for the balance of the agreement.

In 2002, the Company and Mr. Ward entered into an agreement that addresses the disparity in retirement and spousal benefits between Social Security and Railroad Retirement benefits resulting from the Company's transfer of Mr. Ward's employment with CSX Transportation, Inc. to CSX Corporation in 2002. The CSX Pension Plan, a defined benefit plan under Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, generally provides for a make-up benefit for employees faced with the prospect of lower government-sponsored retirement and spousal benefits on account of a transfer from CSX Transportation to an affiliated entity covered by Social Security, offset by the amount of employment tax the participant would have saved as a result of the lower tax rate under Social Security. However, the make-up benefit under the CSX Pension Plan does not cover the entire difference. In order to put Mr. Ward in the same position as he would have been had he not been transferred to CSX Corporation, the agreement provides for the Company to perform a calculation of pension benefits at the time of Mr. Ward's retirement, comparing it to what he would have received absent the transfer. This amount will be discounted to account for the fact that Mr. Ward would have paid less employment tax under Social Security than under Railroad Retirement.

In April 2003, the Company and Mr. Munoz entered into a two-year employment agreement that provides an annual base salary of $500,000 with an annual bonus opportunity of $450,000. In addition, Mr. Munoz was provided with an initial stock option grant of 125,000 shares, which vest ratably over five years, as well as 25,000 shares of restricted stock that vest over four years. Mr. Munoz was also provided with a signing bonus in the amount of $250,000, with one half payable in May 2003 and the balance in May 2004, provided Mr. Munoz remains employed by the Company. Mr. Munoz was also provided with relocation assistance with respect to the relocation to Jacksonville of himself and his family. The agreement further provides that if Mr. Munoz's employment is terminated by the Company other than for cause or disability on or before May 5, 2006, Mr. Munoz will be paid a severance benefit equal to two times the sum of his annual base salary plus bonus for the year of termination, and any unvested options will then vest immediately. If Mr. Munoz's employment is terminated other than for cause or disability from May 6, 2006, through May 6, 2008, Mr. Munoz will be paid a severance benefit equal to two times his then annual base salary and any unvested options will then vest immediately. If Mr. Munoz's employment is terminated after May 6, 2008, Mr. Munoz will receive a lump sum severance benefit in the amount equal to his then annual base salary. In the event that the termination of employment is on account of a change in control, the Employment Agreement will supersede this agreement.

In February 2004, the Company entered into a retirement and separation agreement with Mr. Giftos. The agreement provides that Mr. Giftos will receive separation payments in the amount of $375,000 over twelve months, or in a single sum, as elected by Mr. Giftos. The agreement further provides that Mr. Giftos will receive a special retirement allowance under the Special Retirement Plan of CSX Corporation and Affiliated Corporations to include constructive service of 44 years, and the early reduction factor for age 58 at the time of commencement in calculating his pension benefits. The agreement further provides that Mr. Giftos will receive reimbursement (or the Company will pay) for certain catastrophic medical expenses incurred by his spouse and which are not otherwise covered by the CSX Comprehensive Medical Plan.

Mr. Goodwin retired in May 2003 pursuant to a retirement agreement. Mr. Goodwin agreed to provide certain consulting services to the Company with respect to projects with certain affiliates of the Company for the year following his retirement.

Mr. Fogarty is a party to an agreement regarding his employment with the Company dated October 2001. The agreement sets forth certain responsibilities in Mr. Fogarty's role as Executive Vice President and provides that he will be employed in some capacity through May 2005. The Company is updating the terms of his agreement to reflect his current responsibilities and position as President and Chief Executive Officer of CSX World Terminals, LLC.

REPORT OF THE COMPENSATION COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

This report describes the philosophy, objectives and components of the Company's executive officer compensation program and the manner in which compensation determinations for 2003 were made for the Company's Chief Executive Officer during that period, Mr. Michael J. Ward, and the other executive officers.

The Compensation Committee (the Committee) of the Company's Board is composed of the directors named below, none of whom is an officer or employee of the Company, and all of whom are outside directors within the meaning of Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code and independent pursuant to the independence standards promulgated by the New York Stock Exchange. The Committee is responsible for setting and administering the Company's compensation philosophy, objectives and policies, and for establishing and administering compensation plans and programs for executive officers of the Company. During 2003, based on recommendations of the Committee, the Board was responsible for approving the compensation for the Chief Executive Officer.

Overall Compensation Philosophy and Objectives

The Company's executive compensation programs are designed to provide competitive annual and long-term compensation and to encourage executive officers to focus on maximizing shareholder value through superior performance. The programs are based on the philosophy that the financial interests of the Company's executive officers should be aligned closely with those of its shareholders and that overall compensation should be linked to the short-term and long-term performance of the Company, of individual business units of the Company, and of the individual executive officer. Accordingly, the Company's executive compensation programs are structured and administered applying the following principles:

Competitiveness. Consistent with the Company's performance, total compensation for executive officers is targeted to produce pay competitive with the total compensation paid by a comparison group of companies that compete for executives of similar talent, including several direct competitors. The Committee believes that providing competitive total compensation opportunities for executive officers is an important element in the Company's ability to attract and retain motivated and effective executives.

In determining executive officer compensation for 2003, the Committee used market data regarding the compensation paid for similar positions by other large companies with annual revenues ranging from $6 billion to $10 billion, as provided through a survey conducted by a nationally recognized independent compensation consulting firm. These comparison companies included a broad cross-section of companies that can be expected to compete directly with the Company for employees, investors and business, and do not focus specifically on companies that form the Dow Jones U.S. Transportation Average (depicted in the Five-Year Cumulative Comparison Graph included in this Proxy Statement). Because the job market for the Company's executives is not limited to the Company's industry, and because the Company's most direct competitors for executive talent are not necessarily all of the companies that would be included in a peer group established to compare shareholder returns, the comparison group is not the same as the peer group index in the Five-Year Cumulative Comparison Graph included in this Proxy Statement.

Performance-Based. A substantial portion of the total compensation package for executive officers is at risk and consists of performance-based cash and equity incentives that link executive compensation to Company financial and non-financial results, and individual performance. Performance incentives provide rewards for achieving strategic, operating and financial results, motivating executive officers and encouraging a dedicated focus on building value for shareholders over time.

Aligned with Interests of Shareholders. A significant portion of each executive officer's total compensation is linked directly to the achievement of specific, measurable performance results that are intended to create both short-term and long-term value for CSX shareholders. In addition, executive officers are expected to acquire and hold significant amounts of the Company's stock.

Components of Compensation

The total compensation package for executive officers during 2003 was composed of three key elements: (a) base salary; (b) short-term incentives; and (c) long-term incentives.

In establishing and administering each of these components, the Committee considers: (1) current market data regarding the compensation paid for similar positions by the comparison companies, and (2) achievement against Company financial and non-financial objectives, and individual performance objectives that are established for each performance period by the Committee. The Committee's intent is to provide total compensation packages for executive officers approximating the 65th percentile of the total compensation paid for similar positions by the comparison companies, when competitive performance results are achieved. The Company's total compensation components are described below.

Base Salary

The Committee determines a salary for each executive officer and certain other executive officers based upon the Committee's assessment of the individual's performance and contribution to the Company's objective performance goals. Base salaries for 2003 generally were targeted to be at the 50th percentile of salaries paid for similar positions by the comparison companies. Base salaries of executive officers are reviewed in February of each year with adjustments, if any, based upon the then-current market data for the comparison companies, individual executive performance and the executive's contributions to the Company.

Short-Term Incentives

The short-term compensation incentives available for executive officers of the Company are composed of annual cash incentive bonuses and, in certain circumstances, additional discretionary cash bonuses in recognition of exceptional strategic contributions and performance. These short-term incentives are established and awarded with the objective of bringing total annual cash compensation (base salary plus bonus) to approximately the 75th percentile of the comparison companies, assuming achievement of competitive performance levels.

Executive officers, including the Chief Executive Officer, are awarded annual cash incentive bonuses under the Company's shareholder-approved Senior Executive Incentive Plan (SEIP) based on Company operating income results. The Committee has the authority, in its sole discretion, to make adjustments to bonus awards under the SEIP to reflect (1) the impact of unplanned events; (2) performance below other financial or strategic objectives (including earnings per share, the Company's operating ratio, operating income and cash available to the Company, and the performance of the Company's subsidiaries); and (3) an executive's individual performance based on such factors as the Committee deems appropriate.

For 2003, the formula for annual cash incentive payout was based upon operating income and strategic initiatives, with a minimal threshold of operating income performance required for a payout. Based on 2003 operating income, CSX Corporation and CSX Transportation did not meet this minimum threshold. CSX World Terminals LLC, achieved most of its financial performance targets, but did not achieve all of its strategic business objectives. Accordingly, the Committee approved incentive payments including $270,000 for Mr. Grassi. In each instance, the Committee exercised its discretion under the SEIP to make downward adjustments, reducing the annual cash incentive bonuses otherwise payable under the SEIP.

Other executive officers and key employees of the Company are awarded annual cash incentive bonuses under the Company's Management Incentive Compensation Plan (MICP). Awards are based on the Committee's evaluation of the achievement of operating income targets and strategic initiatives, along with an evaluation of the executive's performance and such other objective measures as the Committee deems appropriate. For 2003, executive officers for CSX Corporation and CSX Transportation did not receive awards, as the companies did not meet the minimum threshold for financial performance. Executives for CSX World Terminals LLC each received a cash incentive bonus under the MICP.

Table of Contents*Long-Term Incentives*

For 2003, the long-term compensation incentives available for executive officers of the Company were composed primarily of equity-based incentive awards. These long-term incentives are established and awarded with the objective of having Total Direct Compensation (base salary plus short-term incentives plus long-term incentives) to approximately the 65th percentile of the comparison companies, assuming achievement of competitive performance levels. In 2003, awards granted under the CSX Omnibus Incentive Plan (the COIP) included stock options and restricted stock. The primary form of long-term incentive compensation provided to the executive officers is non-qualified stock options, where the executive only gains from the award when all shareholders gain from increased stock price.

In 2003, the long-term incentive compensation opportunity granted to each executive officer, including the Chief Executive Officer, was based upon individual executive performance and impact on the Company and competitive market grant levels for similar positions made by the comparison companies. The stock option awards help link the long-term interests of executive officers with those of shareholders. In aligning the interests of executives with those of shareholders, the Committee is also aware of the potential impact of options awards on future equity appreciation.

In 2003, the Committee approved the grant of stock options, based on the criteria described above, to Mr. Ward, as set forth in Option/SAR Grants in Last Fiscal Year. The Compensation Committee concluded that the stock option grants were appropriate for the purpose of ensuring executive officer retention, and in line with the compensation philosophy of the Company.

In December 2003, the Compensation Committee recommended, and in February 2004 the Board approved, a new long-term incentive program, administered under the COIP, to be effective in 2004. This program is intended to enhance the linkage of executive compensation with increased stock price. It will put emphasis toward factors more directly within management control. The new program is consistent with the compensation philosophy and objectives outlined above, including maintaining Total Direct Compensation at the 65th percentile of targeted comparison companies.

The new long-term incentive program provides executives with rewards based upon performance against a two-year cumulative Modified Cash Flow performance target. This performance measure has a high correlation to stock price. For executive officers, including the Chief Executive Officer, the Compensation Committee may also modify the award based on achievement of operating ratio targets and decrease the award based upon the completion of key strategic objectives. For all participants, the grants will be in the form of Performance Units. These Performance Units will be paid one-half in cash and one-half in performance shares, and grants will vest in accordance with the achievement of the above-mentioned performance criteria.

Stock Ownership Guidelines

In addition to long-term awards, the Committee believes that to link the interests of executive officers to those of the Company's shareholders, it is also necessary that executive officers own a significant amount of the Company's stock. The Committee has established the following formal stock ownership guidelines. These guidelines are generally at or above the stock ownership guidelines of the comparison companies.

Position	Minimum Aggregate Value Equivalent
Chief Executive Officer	6 times base salary
Executive Vice Presidents	4 times base salary
Senior Vice Presidents	3 times base salary
Vice Presidents and Equivalent	1 times base salary
Assistant Vice Presidents and Equivalent	0.5 times base salary

2003 Compensation for the Chief Executive Officer

Mr. Ward is the Company's Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Ward's performance was reviewed by the Committee in 2003 and discussed with the non-employee directors of the Company.

It has been past practice to pay the Chief Executive Officer and other executives in line with the payment guideline of the annual incentive compensation program of the Company. Under this program, Mr. Ward was entitled to a target annual bonus opportunity of 120 percent of salary if earnings were met, or $950,000. Using the same performance and other factors on which awards were made to other executive officers and pursuant to the executive compensation strategy described earlier in this report and Proxy Statement, the Committee awarded Mr. Ward no annual cash incentive bonus. Mr. Ward was generally eligible to participate in the same compensation plans available to other executive officers of the Company.

Policy on Deductibility of Compensation

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code imposes a $1 million limit on the amount that the Company may deduct for compensation paid to the Chief Executive Officer or any other executive officer who is employed on the last day of the year. However, performance-based compensation, paid pursuant to a plan that has been approved by shareholders, is excluded from the $1 million limit if, among other requirements, the compensation is payable only upon attainment of pre-established objective performance goals and the Board committee that establishes such goals consists only of outside directors (as defined for purposes of Section 162(m)). The SEIP and the COIP have been approved by the shareholders of the Company.

The Committee and the Board have considered these requirements. While the tax impact of any compensation arrangement is one factor to be considered, such impact is evaluated by the Committee and the Board in light of the Company's overall compensation philosophy and objectives. The Company's compensation program for executive officers has both objective and discretionary elements. Generally, the Committee wishes to maximize the Company's federal income tax deductions for compensation expense and has, therefore, structured the short-term and long-term incentive elements of executive compensation to meet the requirements for deductibility under Section 162(m). However, the Committee and the Board believe that there are circumstances where the provision of compensation that is not fully deductible may be more consistent with the compensation philosophy and objectives of the Company and/or may be in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders. The Committee's ability to exercise discretion and to retain flexibility in this regard may, in certain circumstances, outweigh the advantages of qualifying all compensation as deductible under Section 162(m).

The Committee believes that the compensation of executive officers has been appropriately structured and administered so that a substantial component of total compensation is dependent upon, and directly related to, the Company's performance and total returns to its shareholders.

SHAREHOLDER PROPOSALS

Items 3, 4 and 5 have been proposed by individual shareholders. For the reasons set forth below, the Board of Directors recommends a vote AGAINST Items 3, 4 and 5. Shareholders should be aware that, even if approved, their proposals are not binding on the Board. Although the Board will consider the shareholders' wishes as expressed at the Annual Meeting, one or more of the proposals might not be implemented if the Board, in its business judgment and the exercise of its fiduciary duties, concludes that implementation is not in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders.

Promptly upon receiving an oral or written request from a shareholder, the Company will provide to such shareholder the names, addresses, and number of shares held by each of the shareholders who have made the following shareholder proposals. Requests for this information should be directed to CSX Corporation, Office of the Corporate Secretary, 500 Water Street, C160, Jacksonville, Florida 32202, (904) 366-4247.

ITEM 3: SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL REGARDING EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The following shareholder proposal has been submitted to the Company:

Management and Directors are requested to consider discontinuing all rights, options, SARs, and possible severance payments to top 5 of Management after expiration of existing plans or commitments. This does not apply to plans for lesser Managers or employees whom are offered reasonable employee options or bonuses.

REASONING:

The product, its advertising, and its acceptance usually govern earnings.

When Management is hired for their position at a good salary, they are expected to earn it, and not have to be paid more when and if they do. Excess wealth passed on may make heirs non-workers, or non-achievers and of little use in our society.

Think about it! Vote YES for this proposal, it is your gain.

Thank you, and please vote YES for this Proposal.

CSX MANAGEMENT RESPONSE

The Board of Directors believes that a balanced approach to executive compensation involving a combination of base salary, annual incentives and long-term incentives including stock options, as discussed further in the Report of the Compensation Committee on Executive Compensation, best serves the interests of shareholders because the compensation of Company executives and, in particular, senior management, is closely tied to the Company's performance. All compensation agreements with senior executives are reviewed and approved by the Compensation Committee. The Compensation Committee is comprised entirely of independent directors.

The Board of Directors believes that the proposal set forth above, if implemented, would put the Company at a competitive disadvantage in attracting, retaining and rewarding qualified executives. The proposal, if implemented, would limit the Compensation Committee's flexibility to design employment and incentive arrangements that address the specific facts and circumstances of each executive's situation. The Board believes that in order for the Company to attract and retain qualified executives, it must have the flexibility to tailor compensation packages, including options, stock appreciation rights and severance arrangements, to meet the needs of the Company and its executives. Further, the Board believes that it should offer comprehensive compensation packages that are competitive with those of companies with which the Company competes for executive talent. If this proposal was implemented, the Company would not be able to offer compensation agreements similar to those offered by competitors who would not be burdened by the limitations imposed by this proposal.

For the foregoing reasons, the Board of Directors recommends a vote AGAINST Item 3.

ITEM 4: SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL REGARDING POISON PILL PROVISIONS

The following shareholder proposal has been submitted to the Company:

Shareholders request that our Directors increase shareholder voting rights and submit the adoption, maintenance or extension of any poison pill to a shareholder vote as a separate ballot item as soon as may be practical. Also once this proposal is adopted, any dilution or removal of this proposal is requested to be submitted to a shareholder vote as a separate ballot item at the earliest possible shareholder election. Directors have the flexibility of discretion accordingly in scheduling the earliest shareholder vote and in responding to shareholder votes.

We as shareholders voted in support of this topic:

Year	Rate of Support
2002	62%
2003	74% Up 12%

This percentage is based on yes and no votes cast. I believe this level of shareholder support is more impressive because the 74% support followed our Directors' objection to the proposal. I believe that there is a greater tendency for shareholders, who more closely follow our company, to vote in favor of this proposal topic. I do not see how our Directors object to this proposal because it gives our Directors the flexibility to ignore our shareholder vote if our Directors seriously believes they have a good reason. This topic also won an overall 60% yes-vote at 79 companies in 2003.

Shareholders' Central Role

Putting poison pills to a vote is a way of affirming the central role that shareholders should play in the life of a corporation. An anti-democratic scheme to flood the market with diluted stock is not a reason that a tender offer for our stock should fail.

The key negative of poison pills is that pills can preserve management deadwood instead of protecting investors.

The Potential of a Tender Offer Can Motivate Our Directors

Hectoring directors to act more independently is a poor substitute for the bracing possibility that shareholders could turn on a dime and sell the company out from under its present management.

Akin to a Dictator

Poison pills are akin to a dictator who says, "Give up more of your freedom and I'll take care of you."

I believe our board may be tempted to partially implement this proposal to gain points in the new corporate governance scoring systems. I do not believe that a partial implementation, which could still allow our directors to give us a poison pill on short notice, would be a substitute for complete implementation.

Council of Institutional Investors Recommendation

The Council of Institutional Investors www.cii.org, an organization of 130 pension funds investing $2 trillion, called for shareholder approval of poison pills. Based on the 60% overall yes-vote in 2003 many shareholders believe companies should allow their shareholders a vote.

CSX MANAGEMENT RESPONSE

Poison pills are also referred to as shareholders' rights plans. In October 2003, the Board of Directors accelerated the expiration of rights associated with and terminated the CSX Shareholders' Rights Plan. The Board of Directors does not currently intend to reinstate a shareholders' rights plan, but the Board believes it is in the best interest of CSX and its shareholders to have the flexibility to do so in the appropriate circumstance.

Generally, a shareholders' rights plan is designed to protect shareholders of CSX in the event of a hostile take-over bid by giving the Board an opportunity to negotiate on behalf of the shareholders. Essentially, such a plan would provide that if anyone acquires more than a certain percentage of the Company's shares without Board approval, the other shareholders will be given the opportunity to purchase additional shares at a greatly reduced price. The practical effect is to give anyone seeking to acquire control of CSX a strong incentive to deal with the Board so that the Board can insist that the price paid to the CSX shareholders is fair and adequately represents its true value. Such a plan would also provide the Board with additional time to properly evaluate any potential offer or pursue a potentially superior alternative.

Requiring shareholder approval of a shareholders' rights plan would deny the Board the speed and flexibility it would need to respond to a hostile bid and could prove detrimental to shareholders. Moreover, if the Board determines that it is appropriate to adopt a shareholders' rights plan, implementation of the proposal would require the Company either to incur significant expense to convene a special shareholders' meeting for the sole purpose of approving a shareholders' rights plan or place the Company and its shareholders at risk by waiting for the next Annual Meeting to approve such a plan, during which time the protections of a shareholders' rights plan would be unavailable.

For the foregoing reasons, the Board of Directors recommends a vote AGAINST Item 4.

ITEM 5: SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL REGARDING SEVERANCE AGREEMENTS

The following shareholder proposal has been submitted to the Company:

The shareholders of CSX Corporation (CSX) urge the Board of Directors to seek shareholder approval for future severance agreements with senior executives that provide benefits in an amount exceeding 2.99 times the sum of the executive's base salary plus bonus. Future severance agreements include employment agreements containing severance provisions; retirement agreements; change in control agreements; and agreements renewing, modifying or extending existing such agreements. Benefits include lump-sum cash payments (including payments in lieu of medical and other benefits) and the estimated present value of periodic retirement payments, fringe benefits and consulting fees (including reimbursable expenses) to be paid to the executive.

SUPPORTING STATEMENT

CSX has entered into a series of severance agreements, commonly known as golden parachutes, that provide cash compensation to its most senior executives if they are terminated or leave the Company in certain situations after a change in control of the Company. These agreements generally permit covered executives to recover three times the sum of their base pay plus the highest annual bonus for the past three years, plus certain additional benefits.

Severance agreements may be appropriate in some circumstances. Nonetheless, we believe that the potential cost of such agreements entitles shareholders to be heard when a company contemplates paying out at least three times the amount of an executive's salary and bonus.

A shareholder approval requirement may induce restraint when parties negotiate such agreements. Moreover, if a change in control situation does occur, the reason may be that executives have not managed the company in ways that maximize shareholder value, a factor that argues against overly generous severance pay or at least in favor of shareholders having a say on compensation in that situation.

As it may not always be practical to obtain prior shareholder approval, CSX should have the option, in implementing this proposal, to seek approval after the material terms of the agreement are reached. Institutional investors such as the California Public Employees Retirement System recommend shareholder approval of these types of agreements in its proxy voting guidelines. The Council of Institutional Investors favors shareholder approval if the amount payable exceeds 200% of the senior executives' annual base salary.

We urge shareholders to vote FOR this proposal.

CSX MANAGEMENT RESPONSE

The Board of Directors believes that the proposal set forth above, if implemented, could put the Company at a competitive disadvantage in attracting, retaining and rewarding qualified executives. The proposal, if implemented, would limit the Board's flexibility to design employment arrangements that address the specific facts and circumstances of each executive's, or potential executive's, situation. The Board believes that in order for the Company to retain its executives and recruit other qualified executives, it must have the flexibility to tailor compensation packages, including severance arrangements, to meet the needs of the Company, the executives and prospective executives, and be able to offer severance agreements similar to those offered by competitors for executive talent who would not be burdened by the limitations imposed by this proposal. In addition, the Company must be able to provide competitive incentives to ensure that key executives remain with the Company. All compensation agreements with senior executives are reviewed and approved by the Compensation Committee. The Compensation Committee is comprised entirely of independent directors.

Implementing the proposal could cause the Company to choose between incurring the time and expense of convening a special shareholders meeting for the sole purpose of voting on a particular type of severance agreement, or delaying the finalization of the agreement until after its approval at the next annual meeting of shareholders. In either case, this could cause the Company to be at a competitive disadvantage in attracting qualified executives who do not want to be subject to the delay and uncertainty created by this shareholder approval provision. The Board believes that the added expense of seeking shareholder approval or the possible harm to the Company and its shareholders that could result from a potentially lengthy delay in finalizing a future severance agreement outweighs any benefits to shareholders that might result from implementation of the proposal.

For the foregoing reasons, the Board of Directors recommends a vote AGAINST Item 5.
