On November 2, 2004, the Registrant issued to PICO Holdings, Inc., the holder of a majority of the outstanding common stock of the Registrant (PICO), a Secured Convertible Promissory Note with a maximum principal amount of $1,500,000, which may from time to time be drawn-upon by the Registrant (the Note). Principal amounts outstanding will accrue interest at a rate of 8% per annum and such amounts, together with all accrued and unpaid interest, will be due and payable on November 1, 2005.

The Note is secured by a pledge of all personal property of the Registrant. The Note includes customary covenants, including covenants limiting repayment of other indebtedness, dispositions, changes in business, mergers & acquisitions, incurrence of indebtedness, encumbrances, distributions, and investments. In addition, the Note includes customary events of default, including payment failure, failure to otherwise perform under the Note, the occurrence of certain insolvency or bankruptcy events, loss, damage or sale of collateral outside the ordinary course, the creation of liens other than permitted liens, cross-default and certain judgments against the registrant.

PICO has the right at any time to convert all or any part of amounts outstanding under the Note into the common stock of the Registrant at a conversion price per share that is equal to the lower of (1) the price per share of the Registrant's common stock on the date of PICO's election to exercise its conversion right and (2) $3.00, subject to the limitation that no more than an aggregate of 586,000 shares of the Registrant's common stock may be issued in connection with one or more conversions of amounts outstanding under the Note.

On November 2, 2004, the Registrant issued to PICO 25,000 shares of its common stock as a commitment fee in connection with the issuance of the Note (the Commitment Fee).
