Re: Unaudited Third Quarter 2007 Financial Statements

Overview of Third-Quarter 2007 Financial Results

For the seventh consecutive quarter, CBOE achieved year-over-year double-digit increases in revenues and earnings, driven by record levels of trading volume during the quarter. For the third quarter ended September 30, 2007, CBOE's net income was $22.7 million, more than double the net income of $9.1 million reported in last year's third quarter.

Edgar Filing: CBOE Holdings, Inc. - Form 425

(in thousands)	3Q2007	3Q2006	chg	% chg
Revenues	$ 96,790	$ 63,425	$ 33,365	53%

Gross revenues for the third quarter of 2007 were $96.8 million, an increase of $33.4 million, or 53 percent. This increase reflects higher transaction fees generated by strong growth in contracts traded. Total contracts traded during the quarter reached 260 million, up 62 percent from the same period last year. CBOE's average daily volume of options contracts set a new high of 4.1 million contracts for the quarter, up 62 percent compared with last year's third quarter average of 2.5 million contracts. In addition, the transaction fee per contract increased to $0.290 for the third quarter 2007 from $0.282 in last year's comparable period.

Collectively, the other revenue categories accounted for $2.9 million of the $33.4 million increase in revenues.

Focus on Operating Efficiencies

Total expenses for the third quarter were up $8.5 million, or 18 percent, from the prior year. The increase was primarily related to employee costs, royalty fees and loss from investment in affiliates. Employee costs were up $1.8 million, primarily due to severance expenses incurred relating to CBOE's restructuring and cost reduction initiatives outlined earlier this year. There were no severance expenses in last year's third quarter. The growth in royalty fees of $2.2 million is directly related to higher volumes in licensed products. The $3.9 million increase in the net loss from investment in affiliates was primarily due to a $3.8 million charge taken to write-off an equity investment in HedgeStreet. The remaining $100 thousand relates to CBOE's equity investment in OneChicago.

During the third quarter we continued to execute on our expense reduction initiatives aimed at enhancing operating efficiencies, as evidenced by our operating margin expansion. CBOE's operating margin, representing income before taxes divided by total revenues, increased to 42.5 percent for the quarter compared with 25.7 percent for the same period last year. Strong revenue growth combined with tighter expense controls drove the margin expansion.

Year-to-date 2007 Financial Overview

For the first nine months of 2007, CBOE has more than doubled its income before taxes, dramatically increased its operating margin and exceeded the full-year 2006 trading volume. Through September 30, 2007, CBOE reported net income of $59.0 million and revenues of $259.3 million. Gross revenues grew by 34 percent while income before taxes increased 115 percent.

(in thousands)	YTD 2007	YTD 2006	chg	% chg
Revenues	$259,253	$193,085	$66,168	34%
Expenses	$155,578	$144,771	$10,807	7%
Income Before Taxes	$103,675	$48,314	$55,361	115%
Operating Margin	40.0%	25.0%
Net Income	$58,967	$28,323	$30,644	108%
Contracts Traded Per Day	3,668	2,650	1,018	38%

The growth in revenues was driven by higher trading volumes. The average daily volume of contracts traded through the third quarter increased 38 percent to 3.7 million contracts compared with 2.6 million in the same period in 2006. Total contracts traded through September 2007 of 686.0 million have already exceeded the total number of contracts traded for the full-year 2006 of 674.7 million. Additionally, the transaction fee per contract increased to $0.290 through the first nine months of 2007 from $0.280 in last year's comparable period.

Year-to-date, CBOE continued to deliver further operating margin improvement through strong top-line growth and focused expense management. The operating margin increased to 40 percent, 15 percentage points higher than the comparable prior year period. Year-to-date, our bottom-line results show a significant improvement of $30.6 million, an increase of 108 percent compared with the same period last year.

Consolidated Balance Sheets

Working capital (current assets minus current liabilities) increased by $27.2 million to $150.1 million during the third quarter of 2007. As of September 30, 2007, cash and investments were $156.3 million, up $24.8 million from June 30, 2007. The growth in revenues net of cash expenses and capital expenditures drove these increases.

For the third quarter of 2007, capital expenditures were $5.7 million, the majority of which was related to systems hardware and capitalized software. Free cash flow, another measure of liquidity, defined as net cash provided by operating activities less capital expenditures, was $23.7 million in the third quarter of 2007.
