The following communication was posted on the Rockwell Collins Online / UTC Acquisition internal website on January 11, 2018.

Rockwell Collins' shareowners approve proposed acquisition by UTC - In a special meeting held today in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Rockwell Collins' shareowners overwhelmingly approved the proposed acquisition of our company by United Technologies Corp. (UTC). More than 96 percent of all votes cast, representing more than 72 percent of all shares of common stock outstanding on the record date for the special meeting, were in favor of the transaction. On September 4, 2017, we announced the agreement between the two companies for UTC to acquire Rockwell Collins. Today marks a major step forward in completing the transaction. Since both Rockwell Collins and UTC are global companies, regulatory approvals are still needed in several jurisdictions before the deal can close, which is expected to be by the third quarter of the calendar year.

Once the proposed transaction closes, Rockwell Collins will combine with UTC Aerospace Systems, creating Collins Aerospace. Collins Aerospace will join UTC's three other businesses: Pratt & Whitney, Otis and UTC Climate, Controls & Security.

"Shareowners have made clear their support for this acquisition, bringing it one step closer to reality," said Kelly Ortberg, Chairman, President and CEO. "As Collins Aerospace, we'll be a stronger company, with attractive aerospace product and service portfolios, and ultimately, better positioned for long-term success."

Additional Information
