Notes to Interim Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

June 30, 2014
(Unaudited)

Note 1-Organization and Business

uSell.com, Inc., through our wholly-owned subsidiaries (collectively, "uSell," "Company," "we," "us," and/or "our"), is a technology based company focused on creating an online marketplace where sellers can sell small consumer electronics to professional buyers using an ecommerce website-based platform. Through participation in the uSell marketplace, our buyers can acquire high volumes of inventory in a cost effective manner, while minimizing the investment and risk associated with creating and running their own branded advertising campaigns.

We utilize consumer oriented advertising efforts, such as direct response television commercials, and various forms of Internet advertising to attract sellers to our website. We facilitate transactions by developing technology and logistics systems that seamlessly move product from sellers' homes to buyers' warehouses. We also provide our buyers with value added services, such as shipping kit fulfillments, check processing and analytics.

Reverse Stock Split

On January 21, 2014, we effected a 1-for-15 reverse stock split of our common stock ("Reverse Split"). As a result of the Reverse Split, every fifteen shares of our common stock were combined into one share of common stock.
Immediately after the January 21, 2014 effective date, we had 4,907,462 shares of common stock outstanding. All share and per share amounts have been retroactively restated to reflect the Reverse Split. The authorized number of shares of our common stock and the par value remained the same. The Reverse Split did not affect the shares of preferred stock outstanding, however it did affect the number of common stock shares issuable to holders upon conversion.

Note 2-Going Concern

Edgar Filing: usell.com, Inc. - Form 10-Q
As reflected in the accompanying financial statements, the Company had a net loss of approximately $$ 4,152,000$ and net cash and cash equivalents used in operations of approximately $$ 964,000$ for the six months ended June 30, 2014. The Company has an accumulated deficit of approximately $$ 48,906,000$ and a working capital deficit of approximately $$ 256,000$ at June 30, 2014. The Company does not yet have a history of financial stability. Historically, the principal source of liquidity has been the issuance of debt and equity securities. These factors raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. These financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recovery of the recorded assets or the classification of the liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent on management's plans, which include further implementation of its business plan and continuing to raise funds through debt and/or equity raises.

As discussed in Note 11, on August 11, 2014, the Company's Registration Statement on Form S-1/A registering up to $$ 5,000,000$ of units comprised of common stock and warrants went effective. We anticipate closing on the sale of $$ 4.65$ million shortly after the filing of this report. Assuming the Company closes this offering, management expects that the going concern treatment will no longer be relevant, although no assurances can be given.

Note 3-Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") for interim financial information and pursuant to the instructions to Form 10-Q and Article 8 of Regulation S-X of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). Certain information or footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP have been condensed or omitted, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the SEC for interim financial reporting. Accordingly, they do not include all the information and footnotes necessary for a comprehensive presentation of financial position, results of operations, or cash flows. It is our opinion, however, that the accompanying unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements include all adjustments, consisting of a normal recurring nature, which are necessary for a fair presentation of the financial position, operating results and cash flows for the periods presented.

Notes to Interim Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

(Unaudited)

The accompanying unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013 as filed with the SEC, which contains the audited financial statements and notes thereto, together with Management's Discussion and Analysis, for the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2012. The financial information as of December 31, 2013 is derived from the audited financial statements presented in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013. The interim results for the three and six months ended June 30, 2014 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the year ending December 31, 2014 or for any future interim periods.

Principles of Consolidation

The accompanying unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of uSell and its wholly-owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period.

Making estimates requires management to exercise significant judgment. It is at least reasonably possible that the estimate of the effect of a condition, situation or set of circumstances that existed at the date of the unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements, which management considered in formulating its estimate, could change in the near term due to one or more future confirming events. Accordingly, the actual results could differ significantly from our estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

All highly liquid investments with an original maturity of 90 days or less when purchased are considered to be cash equivalents. Cash equivalents are stated at cost, which approximates market value. Cash equivalents generally consist of money market accounts.

We minimize credit risk associated with cash by periodically evaluating the credit quality of our primary financial institution. At times, our cash may be uninsured or exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") insurance limit.

Accounts Receivable and Other Receivables

Accounts receivable and other receivables represent obligations from our buyers. We periodically evaluate the collectability of our accounts receivable and other receivables and consider the need to record an allowance for doubtful accounts based upon historical collection experience and specific information. Actual amounts could vary from the recorded estimates. Our allowance for doubtful accounts was $$ 12,335$ and $$ 3,500$ at June 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively.

Intangible Assets

Our intangible assets pertain to capitalized software costs and our website domain address. We capitalize costs related to software developed or obtained for internal use when management commits to funding the project, the project completes the preliminary project stage and the software will be used to perform the function intended. Capitalization of such costs ceases when the project is substantially complete and ready for its intended use.

We periodically review the carrying values of our long-lived assets when events or changes in circumstances indicate that it is more likely than not that their carrying values may exceed their fair values, and record an impairment charge when considered necessary. When circumstances indicate that an impairment of value may have occurred, we test such assets for recoverability by comparing the estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to result from the use of such assets and their eventual disposition to their carrying amounts. If the undiscounted future cash flows are less that the carrying amount of the asset, an impairment loss, measured as the excess of the carrying amount of the asset over its estimated fair value, is recognized. Fair value, for purposes of calculating impairment, is measured based on estimated future cash flows, discounted at a market rate of interest.

uSell.com, Inc. and Subsidiaries

Notes to Interim Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

June 30, 2014
(Unaudited)

Convertible Instruments

We review all of our convertible instruments for the existence of an embedded conversion feature which may require bifurcation, if certain criteria are met. These criteria include circumstances in which:
a) The economic characteristics and risks of the embedded derivative instrument are not clearly and closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract,

The hybrid instrument that embodies both the embedded derivative instrument and the host contract is not b) remeasured at fair value under otherwise applicable GAAP with changes in fair value reported in earnings as they occur, and

A separate instrument with the same terms as the embedded derivative instrument would be considered a derivative ${ }^{\text {c) }}$ instrument subject to certain requirements (except for when the host instrument is deemed to be conventional).

A bifurcated derivative financial instrument may be required to be recorded at fair value and adjusted to market at each reporting period end date. In addition, we may be required to classify certain stock equivalents issued in connection with the underlying debt instrument as derivative liabilities.

For convertible instruments that we have determined should not be bifurcated from their host instruments, we record discounts to convertible notes for the intrinsic value of conversion options embedded in debt instruments based upon the differences between the fair value of the underlying common stock at the commitment date of the note transaction and the effective conversion price embedded in the note. Debt discounts under these arrangements are amortized over the term of the related debt to their earliest date of redemption. Also when necessary, we record deemed dividends for the intrinsic value of conversion options embedded in preferred shares based upon the differences between the fair value of the underlying common stock at the commitment date of the financing transaction and the effective conversion price embedded in the preferred shares.

Finally, if necessary, we will determine the existence of liquidated damage provisions. Liquidated damage provisions are not marked to market, but evaluated based upon the probability that a related liability should be recorded.

Common Stock Purchase Warrants and Derivative Financial Instruments

We review any common stock purchase warrants and other freestanding derivative financial instruments at each balance sheet date and classify them on our balance sheet as:
a) Equity if they (i) require physical settlement or net-share settlement, or (ii) give us a choice of net-cash settlement ${ }^{\text {a) }}$ or settlement in our own shares (physical settlement or net-share settlement), or Assets or liabilities if they (i) require net-cash settlement (including a requirement to net cash settle the contract if

b) an event occurs and if that event is outside our control), or (ii) give the counterparty a choice of net-cash settlement or settlement in shares (physical settlement or net-share settlement).

We assess classification of our common stock purchase warrants and other freestanding derivatives at each reporting date to determine whether a change in classification between assets and liabilities is required.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized when all of the following conditions exist: (1) persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, (2) delivery has occurred, (3) the sales price is fixed or determinable, and (4) collectability is reasonably assured.

Seller Electronics Referrals

Sellers responding to our advertising campaigns go to our website where they can search for the items they wish to sell using a streamlined point and click interface. Once they have identified their device, they are asked a single question to describe the condition of the device. At this point, they are presented with the "best match," or uSell's recommended offer from one of our buyers. We offer this recommendation based on both the price offered by the buyer relative to other buyers and the quality of ratings of the buyer relative to other buyers. The seller may choose to view a larger list of offers from all buyers interested in purchasing their device. During 2013, and into 2014, we earned up front "lead fees" from buyers when sellers accepted offers on our website and filled out a form to request a free shipping kit. This fee was received regardless of whether the sellers ultimately sent in their devices to the buyers. We recognized revenue upon online acceptance of the buyer's offer by the seller. We record payments received from buyers in advance of offer acceptance as deferred revenue at the time payment is received.

Edgar Filing: usell.com, Inc. - Form 10-Q

uSell.com, Inc. and Subsidiaries

Notes to Interim Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

(Unaudited)

During 2013, our buyers paid fees based on the demand for the individual item which the seller was seeking to sell. Fees were not based on the value of the item sold. For instance, an iPhone might have had a higher fee than an Android, even if that particular Android had a higher offer price to the seller.

Beginning in February 2014, we started a transition of our business model, which was phased in over the subsequent six weeks. Under the new model, buyers pay us a commission only when they pay the seller for a received device and we recognize revenue upon payment to the seller.

Fulfillment Revenue

In December 2012, we began to offer fulfillment services on behalf of our buyers for the items sold by sellers. We act as the agent in these transactions, passing orders booked by our buyers to our fulfillment vendors, who then assemble the kits and mail them directly to the sellers. We earn a standard fee from our buyers and recognize revenue upon shipment of the kits to the sellers. We evaluated the presentation of revenue on a gross versus net basis and determined that since we perform as an agent without assuming the risks and rewards of ownership of the goods, revenue should be reported on a net basis.

Advertising Revenue

Advertising revenues primarily come from payments for text-based sponsored links and display advertisements. Generally, our advertisers pay us on a cost per click, or CPC basis, which means advertisers pay us only when someone clicks on one of their advertisements, or on a cost per thousand impression basis, or CPM. Paying on a CPM basis means that advertisers pay us based on the number of times their advertisements appear on our websites or mobile applications.

Cost of Revenue

Our cost of revenue consists primarily of costs to maintain our website, including amortization expense on our technology platform software.

Advertising

Advertising costs are expensed as they are incurred and are included in sales and marketing expenses. Advertising expense amounted to $$ 1,604,443$ and $$ 1,052,949$ for the three months ended June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, and $$ 2,665,412$ and $$ 1,890,796$ for the six months ended June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

Share-Based Payment Arrangements

We account for stock options in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 718: Compensation Stock Compensation ("ASC 718"). ASC 718 requires generally that all equity awards be accounted for at their "fair value." This fair value is measured on the grant date for stock-settled awards, and at subsequent exercise or settlement for cash-settled awards. Fair value is equal to the underlying value of the stock for "full-value" awards such as restricted stock and performance shares, and estimated using an option-pricing model with traditional inputs for "appreciation" awards such as stock options and stock appreciation rights.

Costs equal to these fair values are recognized ratably over the requisite service period based on the number of awards that are expected to vest, or in the period of grant for awards that vest immediately and have no future service condition. For awards that vest over time, cumulative adjustments in later periods are recorded to the extent actual forfeitures differ from our initial estimates: previously recognized compensation cost is reversed if the service or performance conditions are not satisfied and the award is forfeited. The expense resulting from share-based payments is recorded in general and administrative expense for the three and six months ended June 30, 2014 and 2013.

Subsequent modifications to outstanding awards result in incremental cost if the fair value is increased as a result of the modification. Thus, a value-for-value stock option repricing or exchange of awards in conjunction with an equity restructuring does not result in additional compensation cost.

Net Loss per Share

Basic loss per share ("EPS") is computed by dividing net loss available to common stockholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period, excluding the effects of any potentially dilutive securities. Diluted EPS gives effect to all dilutive potential of shares of common stock outstanding during the period including stock options or warrants, using the treasury stock method (by using the average stock price for the period to determine the number of shares assumed to be purchased from the exercise of stock options or warrants) and convertible debt or convertible preferred stock, using the if-converted method. Diluted EPS excludes all dilutive potential of shares of common stock if their effect is anti-dilutive.

The computation of basic and diluted loss per share at June 30, 2014 and 2013 excludes the common stock equivalents of the following potentially dilutive securities because their inclusion would be anti-dilutive:

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2013, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued ASU, No. 2013-11, "Presentation of an Unrecognized Tax Benefit When a Net Operating Loss Carryforward, a Similar Tax Loss, or a Tax Credit Carryforward Exists" ("ASU 2013-11"). ASU 2013-11 provides explicit guidance on the financial statement presentation of an unrecognized tax benefit when a net operating loss carryforward, a similar tax loss, or a tax credit carryforward exists. The guidance is effective prospectively for fiscal years, and interim periods within those years, beginning after December 15, 2013, with an option for early adoption. The adoption of this standard did not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU No. 2014-09, "Revenue from Contracts with Customers" (ASU 201-09). ASU 201-09 provides guidance for revenue recognition and affects any entity that either enters into contracts with customers to transfer goods or services or enters into contracts for the transfer of nonfinancial assets and supersedes the revenue recognition requirements in Topic 605, "Revenue Recognition," and most industry-specific guidance. The core principle of ASU 2014-09 is the recognition of revenue when a company transfers promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. ASU 2014-09 defines a five-step process to achieve this core principle and, in doing so, companies will need to use more judgment and make more estimates than under the current guidance. These may include identifying performance obligations in the contract, estimating the amount of variable consideration to include in the transaction price and allocating the transaction price to each separate performance obligation. ASU 2014-09 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2016 and interim periods therein, using either of the following transition methods: (i) a full retrospective approach reflecting the application of the standard in each prior reporting period with the option to elect certain practical expedients, or (ii) a retrospective approach with the cumulative effect of initially adopting ASU 2014-09 recognized at the date of adoption (which includes additional footnote disclosures). Early adoption is not permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the method and impact the adoption of ASU 2014-09 will have on the Company's consolidated financial statements and disclosures.

In June 2014, the FASB issued ASU No. 2014-12, "Compensation - Stock Compensation" (Topic 718): Accounting for Share-Based Payments When the Terms of an Award Provide That a Performance Target Could be Achieved after the Requisite Service Period ("ASU 2014-12"). ASU 2014-12 affects entities that grant their employees share-based payments in which terms of the award provide that a performance target that affects vesting could be achieved after the requisite service period. The amendments in ASU 2014-12 require that a performance target that affects vesting and that could be achieved after the requisite service period be treated as a performance condition. ASU 2014-12 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2015. Early adoption is permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the method and impact the adoption of ASU 2014-12 will have on the Company's consolidated financial statements and disclosures.

Note 4 - Fair Value

The fair value of our financial assets and liabilities reflects our estimate of amounts that we would have received in connection with the sale of the assets or paid in connection with the transfer of the liabilities in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. In connection with measuring the fair value of our assets and liabilities, we seek to maximize the use of observable inputs (market data obtained from independent sources) and to minimize the use of unobservable inputs (internal assumptions about how market participants would price assets and liabilities). The following fair value hierarchy is used to classify assets and liabilities based on the observable inputs and unobservable inputs used in order to value the assets and liabilities:

Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. An active market for an asset or Level 1: liability is a market in which transactions for the asset or liability occur with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.

Level 2 :

Observable inputs other than Level 1 inputs. Examples of Level 2 inputs include quoted prices in active markets for similar assets or liabilities and quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in markets that are not active.

Level Unobservable inputs based on our assessment of the assumptions that market participants would use in 3: pricing the asset or liability.

The following are the major categories of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis at June 30 , 2014 and December 31, 2013, using quoted prices in active markets for identical assets (Level 1); significant other observable inputs (Level 2); and significant unobservable inputs (Level 3):

We determined the estimated fair value amounts using available market information and appropriate methodologies. The estimates presented are not necessarily indicative of the amounts that we could realize in a current market exchange. The use of different market assumptions and/or estimation methodologies may have a material effect on the estimated fair value amounts. We have based these fair value estimates on pertinent information available as of the respective balance sheet dates and have determined that, as of such dates, the carrying value of all financial instruments approximates fair value.

Note 5 - Other Receivables

During the year ended December 31, 2013, the Company received two promissory notes from two buyers, whereby certain accounts receivable due to the Company were converted into promissory notes. One of the promissory notes, dated February 27, 2013 for $$ 65,771$, required weekly payments of $$ 1,028$, including interest, had a stated interest rate of $5 \%$ per year, and was due on June 4,2014 . The Company agreed to settle the outstanding balance with the buyer for $$ 15,000$. Accordingly, the Company recorded other receivables in the amount of $$ 15,000$ at December 31, 2013, representing the balance owed on this note. The Company received the payment on this note in January 2014. The second promissory note, dated February 14,2013 , as amended on May 8,2013 , requires weekly payments of $$ 500$, has no stated interest rate and is due to be repaid on July 30, 2014. Based upon the uncertainty of the collectability of this amount, the Company has recorded an allowance for doubtful accounts on the entire balance due of $$ 8,835$ as of June 30, 2014.

Our intangible assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of two to three years. Amortization expense amounted to $$ 132,033$ and $$ 74,285$ for the three months ended June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, and $$ 253,542$ and $$ 142,070$ for the six months ended June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

Future annual estimated amortization expense is summarized as follows:

| Years ending December 31, |  |
| :--- | :---: |
| 2014 (remaining six months) | $$ 282,898$ |
| 2015 | 392,531 |
| 2016 | 142,698 |
| 2017 | 36,051 |
|  | $$ 854,178$ |

Note 7 - Convertible Notes

During the year ended December 31, 2013, we borrowed $$ 1,220,000$ and issued convertible notes payable (the "Convertible Notes") which we used for working capital purposes. The Convertible Notes were convertible at $$ 3.00$ per share, after giving effect to the Reverse Split as defined in Note 1, due two years from the date of the investment and bore interest of $5 \%$ per annum payable in common stock upon maturity or conversion. The Convertible Notes automatically converted if the Company consummated (i) a financing of at least $$ 1$ million in which it issued common stock or common stock equivalents for a price greater than $$ 3.75$ per share or (ii) a change of control transaction whereby a majority of the Company's outstanding voting stock was sold or there was a sale of substantially all of the Company's assets, or (iii) the closing price of the Company's common stock was more than $$ 4.50$ for 10 consecutive trading days. Additionally, investors had price protection on future non-exempted issuances at a price lower than $$ 3.00$ per share of common stock or common stock equivalent.

At the time of the issuances, we determined that the price protection feature on the Convertible Notes constituted a derivative liability and estimated the fair value of such liability to be $$ 1,244,351$ using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. We recorded the fair value of the liability of $$ 1,244,351$ as a derivative liability since the price protection feature of the Convertible Notes represented a variable conversion feature. Of this amount, we recorded $$ 1,182,856$ as a discount to the Convertible Notes and $$ 61,495$ as derivative expense.

During the year ended December 31, 2013, we issued 33,514 shares of our common stock in connection with the conversion of $$ 100,000$ of Convertible Notes, along with accrued interest of $$ 541$.

In February 2014, holders of $$ 820,000$ Convertible Notes converted their principal, plus accrued interest of $$ 21,294$, into 280,427 shares of common stock. In addition, in February 2014, a holder of a $$ 300,000$ Convertible Note converted his note, plus accrued interest of $$ 9,698$, into 103,232 shares of newly designated Series E Preferred Stock (see Note 8 ). On the date of conversion, we determined the fair value of the derivative liability to be $$ 1,682,507$ using the Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following assumptions:

| Risk-free interest rate | 0.22 | $\%$ |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| Expected dividend yield | 0.0 | $\%$ |
| Expected volatility | 239.41 | $\%$ |
| Expected term | $1.35-1.77$ years |  |

We recorded an expense of $$ 681,122$ during the six months ended June 30,2014 , representing the net change in the fair value of the derivative liability pertaining to the Convertible Notes through the date of conversion and, as the derivative liability is eliminated upon conversion, recorded $$ 1,682,507$ as additional paid in capital.

We evaluated the conversion of the $$ 300,000$ Convertible Note into the Series E Preferred Stock using the applicable guidance in ASC 470-20, "Debt with Conversion and Other Options," whereby if a convertible instrument is converted to equity securities of the debtor pursuant to an inducement offer, the debtor shall recognize an expense equal to the fair value of all securities and other consideration transferred in the transaction in excess of the fair value of securities issuable pursuant to the original conversion terms. No gain or loss was recognized by the Company upon the conversion of the Convertible Notes into the Series E Preferred Stock since the fair value of the securities transferred was determined to be equal to the fair value of the securities issuable pursuant to the original conversion terms.

During the six months ended June 30, 2014, accretion of the remaining discount amounted to $$ 873,872$. Contractual interest expense on the Convertible Notes amounted to $$ 8,745$ for the six months ended June 30, 2014.

The fair value of the common stock on the date of grant is $$ 4.55$ per share, based upon our closing market price on the date of grant. The aggregate grant date fair value of the award amounts to $$ 664,300$, which is being recognized as compensation expense over the vesting period. We recorded $$ 27,679$ of compensation expense during the six months ended June 30 , 2014 with respect to this award.

Total unrecognized compensation expense related to unvested stock awards and unvested restricted stock units at June 30 , 2014 amounts to $$ 2,465,120$ and is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of 4.1 years.

A summary of the restricted stock award activity for the six months ended June 30, 2014 is as follows:

|  | Number of  Shares |
| :--- | :--- |
| Unvested Outstanding at December 31, 2013 | 248,941 |
| Granted | 483,000 |
| Vested | $(52,612$ ) |
| Unvested Outstanding at June 30, 2014 | 679,329 |

We anticipate closing on the sale of $$ 4.65$ million shortly after the filing of this report.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

The following discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with our unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements and related notes appearing elsewhere in this report on Form 10-Q. In addition to historical information, this discussion and analysis contains forward-looking statements that involve risks, uncertainties, and assumptions. Our actual results may differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including but not limited to those set forth under "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, as filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission, or the SEC, on March 28, 2014, and the Prospectus dated August 11, 2014.

Company Overview

uSell.com, Inc. is a technology based company focused on creating an online marketplace where sellers interested in selling small consumer electronics, through an ecommerce website-based service, can:
-Find cash offers for their items based on the make, model, and condition of each item; -Efficiently compare offers for those items from a marketplace of professional buyers, - Review satisfaction ratings and customer reviews of each buyer,

- Determine the offer they wish to accept, -Immediately complete their transaction on our website with the buyer of their choice, -Ship their device for free using either a prepaid shipping kit or shipping label; and -Track the progress of their order online from initiation to final payment for their device.

Our business model is similar to successful ecommerce websites such as Amazon (www.amazon.com) and eBay (www.ebay.com). These companies leverage the power of a specialized network of merchants to (i) offer competitive pricing to the customer, (ii) assist the customer in deciding who to transact with by providing relevant information about each merchant, and (iii) provide fulfillment services to facilitate transactions. However, while websites like Amazon and eBay enable individual buyers to purchase goods by leveraging a network of professional sellers, uSell enables individual sellers to sell goods by leveraging a network of professional buyers.

We utilize consumer oriented advertising efforts, such as direct response television commercials and various forms of Internet advertising, to attract sellers to our website. Effective consumer oriented advertising requires significant expertise and up-front capital to efficiently create, produce, edit and air the advertising campaigns. Ineffective advertisements can result in significant costs that do not generate revenue sufficient to cover costs.

We work with professional, wholesale buyers and provide them with a low risk, cost-efficient way to acquire inventory that they can then resell through various means. Through participation in the uSell marketplace, our buyers can benefit from the high volume response rates to our national television advertising and broad-based Internet advertising campaigns, while minimizing the investment and risk associated with creating and running their own branded advertising campaigns. Additionally, we provide our buyers with value added services such as shipping kit fulfillment, check processing, and analytics.

When sellers enter information about the devices they intend to sell on our website, they are presented with offers from our buyers that are interested in purchasing these items. Until late March 2014, uSell earned up front "lead fees" from buyers when sellers accepted offers on our website and filled out a form to request a free shipping kit. This fee was received regardless of whether these sellers ultimately sent in their devices to the buyers.

By late March 2014, we completed a material change to our business model. We began implementing this change in early February, and phased it in over the subsequent four to six weeks. Under the new model, buyers pay us a commission only when they pay the seller for a received device. We believe that this model accomplishes the following:
lowers risk for our buyers;
provides buyers with a more competitive device acquisition cost;
allows buyers to offer higher prices to sellers; increases our conversion rates and throughput; and increases our revenues and cash flows.

The new business model and pricing is designed so that our marketplace business is only successful when our sellers and buyers are successful.

Key Business Metrics

Our management periodically reviews certain key business metrics for operational planning purposes and to evaluate the effectiveness of our operational strategies, and allocation of resources. These key business metrics include:

Gross Merchandise Value. Gross Merchandise Value, or GMV, is the total value of all successfully closed transactions on our platform during the applicable period. It is the value of all merchandise that buyers purchase through the platform plus any associated fees, including check processing fees and gross shipping and handling fees. A portion of the merchandise value is paid to sellers and a portion is paid to us. GMV is measured when sellers are paid. Accordingly, GMV is not a meaningful measure for the three months ended March 31, 2014, as this represents the transition period of our new business model, the effects of which were not fully measurable until late April 2014.

Orders Placed. Orders Placed represents the number of transactions in a given period from which sellers have placed orders which have not been completed, which we refer to as "Orders Completed" (defined below). Orders Placed is a leading indicator of what future GMV will be less breakage (orders where the seller does not send their device to the buyer) and it provides an additional measurement of the volume of activity flowing through our marketplace.

Orders Completed. Orders Completed represents the number of transactions in a given period from which sellers and buyers have completed a transaction and we have received payment from buyers.

Our corporate headquarters are located at 33 East $33^{\text {rd }}$ Street, New York, New York 10016 and our phone number is (212) 213-6805. Our website can be found at www.uSell.com. The information on our website is not incorporated in this report.

Critical Accounting Policies

In response to financial reporting release FR-60, Cautionary Advice Regarding Disclosure About Critical Accounting Policies, from the SEC, we have selected our more subjective accounting estimation processes for purposes of explaining the methodology used in calculating the estimate, in addition to the inherent uncertainties pertaining to the estimate and the possible effects on the our financial condition. The accounting estimates involve certain assumptions that, if incorrect, could have a material adverse impact on our results of operations and financial condition. Our more significant accounting policies can be found in Note 3 of our unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements found elsewhere in this report and in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013, as filed with the SEC. There have been no material changes to our Critical Accounting Policies during the period covered by this report, other than as disclosed in Note 3, "Revenue Recognition".

Results of Operations

2014 Highlights

We completed a material change to our business model during the first quarter of 2014, which positively impacted our revenues and cash flows during the second quarter of 2014. Additionally, we noted the following:

- Decreased our working capital deficit from $($ 1,269,000)$ on December 31, 2013 to $($ 256,000)$ on June 30, 2014. Went from a stockholders' deficit of ( $$ 666,000$ ) on December 31, 2013 to stockholders' equity of $$ 809,000$ on June 30, 2014.
Increased our revenues from $$ 2,271,000$ for the six months ended June 30,2013 to $$ 2,715,000$ for the six months ended June 30, 2014.
Decreased our cash used in operations from $($ 1,222,000)$ for the six months ended June 30, 2013 to $($ 964,000)$ for the six months ended June 30, 2014.
Increased prices offered to sellers, leading to higher conversion rates and throughput, during the six months ended June 30, 2014, compared to the six months ended December 31, 2013.

Increased our Orders Placed, a leading indicator of throughput, from 147,343 for the six months ended June 30, 2013 to 230,897 for the six months ended June 30, 2014.
Increased our Orders Completed from 62,106 for the six months ended June 30, 2013 to 109,089 for the six months ended June 30, 2014.
Processed $$ 5,780,877$ in GMV for the quarter ended June 30, 2014. Please note that we have not tracked this metric - prior to the second quarter of 2014. In the future we plan on comparing GMV on a year over year basis to properly account for seasonality.

Revenue by Type

The following table breaks down our revenue by type:

|  | Three Months Ended June 30, |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | 2014 |  | 2013 |  |
| Seller Electronics Referrals | $1,509,547 | 88 \% | $1,136,325 |  |
| Fulfillment Revenue | 93,869 | 6 \% | 41,399 | $3 \%$ |

| Other Revenue | 25,116 | 1 \% | 1,915 |  |
|  | $1,709,250 | 100\% | $1,224,340 | 100\% |
|  | Six Months Ended June 30, |  |  |  |
| Seller Electronics Referrals | $2,360,579 | 87 \% | $2,148,383 | $95 \%$ |
| Fulfillment Revenue | 138,830 | 5 \% | 67,342 | $3 \%$ |
| Advertising Revenue | 154,061 | 6 \% | 53,097 | $2 \%$ |
| Other Revenue | 61,779 | 2 \% | 1,916 | 0 \% |
|  | $2,715,249 | 100\% | $2,270,738 | 100\% |

Seller Electronics Referral. Before March 2014, uSell earned up front "lead fees" from buyers when sellers accepted offers on our website and filled out a form to request a free shipping kit. This fee was received regardless of whether these sellers ultimately sent in their devices to the buyers. Buyers treated these lead fees as a marketing expense, and had to consider historical data on "send in rates" when setting pricing on the website. uSell recognized the related revenue upon the sellers' acceptance of an offer and submission of the form on the website.

Beginning in February 2014 and for the subsequent six weeks, we phased in a major change to our business model. Under the new model, we eliminated the upfront lead fees to buyers and began charging transactional fees when buyers pay sellers for received devices. Whereas prior to the change, we recognized revenue upon acceptance of an offer and submission of the form on our website, we now recognize revenue upon payment to the seller. This aligns our incentives with sellers and reduces risk for buyers. It also creates a material change in our timing of revenue recognition, as sellers typically receive payment 2-5 weeks after placing orders on the website, depending on when they send in their devices. The impact of the change on our timing of revenue recognition significantly affected our revenues during the three months ended March 31, 2014, and continued to impact revenues through late April 2014. Notwithstanding the lag in the timing of our revenue recognition during this transitional period, revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2014 were higher, compared to revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013. We believe this increase is primarily attributable to the successful transition to our new business model, as well as our increased investment in our marketing and advertising campaigns.

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2014, we saw an increase in several of our marketplace metrics. Most notably, we have seen meaningful increases in prices offered to sellers, conversion rates, and throughput as compared to the three months ended December 31, 2013. Since the change, the average price offered to sellers on our top 100 SKUs has increased by nearly $20 \%$. This increase in pricing has resulted in our conversion rate jumping by more than $100 \%$. As conversion has increased, so has throughput, as measured by Orders Placed on the website. We generated over 54,000 Orders Placed in the month of June, approximately 47,000 Orders Placed in May and approximately 45,000 Orders Placed in April. Orders Placed during the quarter ended June 30, 2014 totaled 146,000, compared to 85,000 Orders Placed during the quarter ended March 31, 2014 (the quarter in which the shift in our business model took place). This equates to over $70 \%$ growth quarter over quarter. We are using Orders Placed as a leading indicator of both GMV and Orders Completed, since these metrics can only be reliably measured on a 5-6 week lag. In the future, we will use both GMV and Orders Completed to measure throughput. Orders Completed is a pure measure of throughput, while GMV also takes into account the average value per device sold.

The full impact of the increase in throughput will not be entirely realized in the short term. We have identified a strong correlation between increases in throughput and organic customer demand in the form of repeat and word of mouth traffic. Growth in these free traffic sources is a key driver of future growth and profitability. Therefore, we anticipate further positive long-term impacts as a result of the change in our business model.

Fulfillment Revenue. Our fulfillment services offered on behalf of our buyers for items sold by sellers was fully implemented in March 2013. Accordingly, the six months ended June 30, 2013 does not reflect normalized fulfillment revenue, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2014. Additionally, due to the increased number of Orders Completed resulting from the implementation of our new business model, we had a corresponding increase in fulfillment services revenue during the six months ended June 30, 2014, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2013.

Advertising Revenue. We generate advertising revenues from text-based sponsored links and display advertisements. Advertising services was implemented in June 2013 and, accordingly, the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 does not reflect normalized advertising revenue, compared to the three months ended June 30, 2014.

Other Revenue. Other revenue during the three and six months ended June 30, 2014 mainly represents fees earned for the development and hosting of the trade-in platform related to our Staples contract.

Cost of Revenue

Our cost of revenue for generating leads for our buyers consists primarily of costs to maintain our website, including amortization expense on our technology platform software.

Sales and Marketing Expenses

The following table compares our revenue to the amount of sales and marketing expenses for the corresponding periods.

|  | Three Months Ended June 30, |  | Six Months Ended June 30, |  |  |  |
| :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |
|  | 2014 | 2013 | 2014 | 2013 |  |  |
|  | $$ 1,709,250$ | $$ 1,224,340$ | $$ 2,715,249$ | $$ 2,270,738$ |  |  |
| Revenue | $$ 1,640,107$ | $$ 1,083,436$ | $$ 2,725,546$ | $$ 1,955,076$ |  |  |
| Sales and Marketing Expenses | $$ 6$ | $\% 8$ | $\%$ | 100 | $\%$ | 86 |

Our sales and marketing expenses represent one of our most significant costs, amounting to $96 \%$ and $88 \%$ of revenue for the three months ended June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, and $100 \%$ and $86 \%$ for the six months ended June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively. Advertising and marketing costs as a percentage of revenue were impacted by the transition of our business model from earning up front lead fees to earning revenue upon payment to the seller. Under the new model, revenue lags marketing expense by $5-6$ weeks. During periods of marketing expansion, the mismatch in timing of marketing expense and revenue recognition increases marketing costs as a percent of revenue.

We utilize direct response advertising and marketing campaigns, including television, print and Internet to attract visitors to our website. Our sales and marketing costs include production costs to produce and edit advertisements as well as the costs to run them. We manage our advertising and marketing campaigns, and make allocation decisions, by measuring their effectiveness based on a variety of metrics, including response rates, conversion rates and average revenue statistics. The nature of our direct response advertising and marketing campaigns generally yields a strong correlation between our level of spending on sales and marketing and our revenue. Hence, as we increase our advertising and marketing budgets, we anticipate that our revenue will grow accordingly.

Factors such as the time of year and significant local or nationally televised events can influence the effectiveness of our advertising campaigns. Our marketing spending will continue to vary during 2014 as we add new partners and increase our conversion rates and throughput. As we continue to invest in and improve our infrastructure, we believe it will improve our efficiency and expand the buyers on our site; this will allow us to increase our marketing spend and, accordingly, increase our revenues. During the six months ended June 30, 2014, as part of our initiative to increase revenues, we increased spending on marketing and advertising in order to further accelerate our revenue growth. However, because of revenue and cash flow timing under our new business model, we experienced a short-term increase in our sales and marketing expense, with a corresponding short-term lag in the recognition of the related revenues. Under our new business model, we will experience a short-term increase in our cash burn in periods of accelerated marketing spend.

General and Administrative Expenses

General and administrative expenses include professional fees for technology, legal and accounting services, as well as consulting and internal personnel costs for our back office support functions. Our general and administrative expenses for the three and six months ended June 30, 2014 were impacted by non-cash compensation expense pertaining to share grants and option grants for services.

Excluding non-cash compensation expense, our general and administrative expenses for the three and six months ended June 30, 2014 remained relatively consistent compared to the three and six months ended June 30, 2013. Non-cash compensation amounted to $$ 495,000$ and $$ 481,000$ for the three months ended June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, and $$ 812,000$ and $$ 1,420,000$ for the six months ended June 30, 3014 and 2013, respectively

Other Income (Expense)

Other income (expense) during the six months ended June 30, 2014 resulted primarily from the conversion of our Convertible Notes in February 2014. As a result of the conversion, the remaining unamortized discount of $$ 874,000$, as well as the remaining unamortized balance of debt issue costs of $$ 9,000$, was recognized as non-cash interest expense. Additionally, we recorded approximately $$ 9,000$ of contractual interest expense and approximately $$ 681,000$ of derivative expense related to the change in the market value of the derivative liability on our Convertible Notes through the date of conversion.

Other income (expense) during the six months ended June 30, 2013 includes approximately $$ 48,000$ of income due to the change in the market value of the derivative liability pertaining to our 2011 Series A preferred stock ("2011 Series A"). In March 2013, all 177,906 shares of outstanding 2011 Series A were converted into common stock and this derivative liability was eliminated.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We utilize direct response advertising and marketing campaigns, including television, print and Internet to attract sellers to our website where we help them monetize household items, such as small consumer electronics that they are no longer using. These advertising and marketing campaigns are our most significant use of cash from operations. Payment policies for these campaigns vary by advertising medium and by vendor. Payment terms vary as well, but in general payment for our advertisements is due within two-weeks or less of when the advertisement airs. Other significant uses of cash include production costs to create our advertisements, salary expense for our employees, and professional fees.

Under our new business model, we typically collect cash receipts from buyers on the uSell marketplace within five days of when buyers receive devices. This time period may be longer in the case when the device received is either a different device or is in a different condition than what the seller represented when completing the sign-up on our website. In those instances, a re-quote process occurs. A new offer is made to the seller, which the seller may either accept or reject. If the re-quote offer is accepted, we typically collect the corresponding cash receipts within five days from the day the offer was accepted. If the re-quote is rejected, the device is sent back to the seller and no cash receipts are received. The re-quote process occurs on approximately $30 \%$ of devices received and approximately $75 \%$ of re-quotes are accepted.

Cash Flows from Operating Activities

We used approximately $$ 964,000$ of cash in operating activities during the six months ended June 30, 2014, a decrease from approximately $$ 1,222,000$ of cash used in operating activities during the six months ended June 30 , 2013. Our net loss during the six months ended June 30, 2014 of approximately $$ 4.2$ million was mainly offset by approximately $$ 874,000$ from the amortization of remaining debt discount on our Convertible Notes, $$ 812,000$ of stock-based compensation, $$ 681,000$ from the change in the market value of the derivative liability pertaining to our Convertible Notes and $$ 256,000$ of depreciation and amortization. Changes in working capital provided approximately $$ 556,000$ of cash during the six months ended June 30, 2014. During the six months ended June 30, 2013, we had a net loss of approximately $$ 2.7$ million, which was mainly offset by approximately $$ 1,420,000$ of stock-based compensation and $$ 145,000$ of depreciation and amortization. Changes in working capital used approximately $$ 29,000$ of cash during the six months ended June 30, 2013.

Cash Flows from Investing Activities

During the six months ended June 30, 2014, we capitalized approximately $$ 301,000$ of website development costs, compared to approximately $$ 155,000$ in 2013 . We currently do not have any capital obligations or commitments that will require a significant amount of capital.

Cash Flows from Financing Activities

During the six months ended June 30, 2014, our financing activities generated approximately $$ 1.8$ million in proceeds from the private placement offering of our common stock. In addition, we received proceeds of $$ 300,000$ from the sale of our Convertible Series A Preferred Stock and $$ 12,000$ from the exercise of warrants. Proceeds from our financing activities were partially offset by approximately $$ 275,000$ of offering costs paid. We did not generate any cash flows from financing activities during the three months ended March 31, 2013.

Liquidity

We do not yet have a sustained history of financial stability. Historically, our principal source of liquidity has been the issuances of debt and equity securities (including to related parties), including preferred stock, common stock and various debt financing transactions. As we continue to invest in and improve our infrastructure, we believe it will improve our efficiency and expand the number of buyers on our site; which will allow us to increase our marketing spend and, accordingly, increase our revenues.

In February and March 2014, we issued a total of 591,666 shares of common stock to several investors in exchange for net proceeds of $$ 1,700,000$. In addition, in January 2014, we issued a total of 100,000 shares of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock in exchange for $$ 300,000$.

If we raise at least $$ 4.65$ million in our proposed public offering, we will have enough capital to sustain our current operations for at least 12 months. If we do not raise any capital in this proposed public offering (which is being conducted on a best-efforts basis), we expect that we will have enough cash to sustain operations at the present level for approximately five months.

Our average monthly cash burn rate was approximately $$ 142,000$ (excluding deferred offering costs) for the three months ended June 30, 2014 and approximately $$ 300,000$ for the three months ended March 31, 2014. Management believes this amount will continue to improve under our new business model, although this expectation is based in part on preliminary results and analysis of our new business model.

We intend to use a portion of the proceeds from our proposed public offering for marketing, improvements in our platform technology and working capital. Management may decide, from time to time, to increase spending on marketing and advertising in order to accelerate our revenue growth. However, because of revenue recognition and cash flow timing under our new business model, we will see a short-term increase in our cash burn in periods of accelerated marketing spend.

There can be no assurance that the plans and actions proposed by management will be successful, that we will generate profitability and positive cash flows in the future, that our diversification and expansion plans will not require substantial amounts of capital beyond our current capabilities, or that the proposed public offering will close. If it does not close, we may be required to seek additional funding sources in the future or effectuate plans to conserve liquidity. If additional sources of funds are needed to continue operations, future efforts to raise additional funds may not be successful or they may not be available on acceptable terms, if at all.

Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This report includes forward-looking statements including statements regarding liquidity, anticipated revenues, effect on our results of operations from our new pricing model and cash flows.

The words "believe," "may," "estimate," "continue," "anticipate," "intend," "should," "plan," "could," "target," "potential," "i "expect" and similar expressions, as they relate to us, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. We have based these forward-looking statements largely on our current expectations and projections about future events and financial trends that we believe may affect our financial condition, results of operations, business strategy and financial needs.

The results anticipated by any or all of these forward-looking statements might not occur. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ from those in the forward-looking statements include providing consumers with a sufficient number of partners that furnish offers on our sites, the effectiveness of our advertising campaigns, failure to close our proposed public offering, and the willingness of people to use us to help them monetize and recycle their small consumer electronic items. Further information on our risk factors is contained in our filings with the SEC, including our Prospectus dated August 11, 2014. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as the result of new information, future events or otherwise.
