WARREN EAST TO JOIN BT BOARD

Warren East, former CEO of ARM Holdings plc, is to join the BT Board as a non-executive director. His appointment takes effect from 1 February 2014.

During Warren's career with ARM he led the creation of its Design Consulting and Development Tools business units, and on ARM becoming a public company in 1998 he took up the role of vice president of Business Operations. Warren was appointed chief executive officer in 2001 and over the last 12 years ARM has matured into the world's leading semiconductor IP licensing company.

Prior to joining ARM, Warren spent 11 years at Texas Instruments where he worked on applications and chip design for microcontrollers, analogue telephone devices and local area networks. Warren is currently a non-executive director of Dyson, Micron Technology Inc and De La Rue plc.

In welcoming the appointment, BT's Chairman, Sir Michael Rake, said: "I am delighted that Warren will be joining BT. He brings with him in-depth experience of the technology industry which will be a real asset to the Board.

Warren added: "I'm really pleased to be joining BT at such an exciting time in its strategy execution and look forward to the opportunities ahead."

Warren East biography

From 2001 to 2013, Warren East was chief executive officer of ARM Holdings plc, having joined the company in 1994 as general manager, design consulting business unit. Warren was vice president business operations from 1998 to 2000, when he was appointed chief operating officer.

Edgar Filing: BT GROUP PLC - Form 6-K

From 1983 to 1994, Warren was at Texas Instruments (Semiconductors) where he worked on applications and chip design for microcontrollers, analogue telephone devices and local area networks. Contributions included the design of very low power dialler chips and low system cost integrated analogue voice circuits for telephones, PC modems and LAN adapter system designs. Later he took up responsibility for the marketing of TI's semiconductor devices that can be programmed after manufacturing in Europe.

After graduating Warren worked at DataType Limited (terminal design & manufacture) as a Design Engineer working on oscillator subsystems for VDUs, RF Emissions measurements and standards compliance.

Warren is a non-executive director of Dyson and Micron Technology Inc and Senior Independent Director & Chairman Audit Committee of De La Rue plc.

Warren is a Fellow of the Royal Academy of Engineering and of the Institution of Engineering and Technology, and a Distinguished Fellow of the British Computer Society. He has an MBA from Cranfield University and a degree in Engineering Science from Oxford University.

Warren lives in Cambridgeshire with his wife and has three children.
