ANGLOGOLD ASHANTI SELLS LA RESCATADA EXPLORATION PROJECT

AngloGold Ashanti Ltd. (“AngloGold Ashanti”) has concluded an agreement for the disposal of its La Rescatada Project (“La Rescatada”) to Aruntani SAC (“Aruntani”), a local Peruvian corporation, for a total consideration of US$12.5 million. In addition, AngloGold Ashanti has retained an option to repurchase 60% of the project should reserves in excess of 2 million ounces be identified within the next three years.

La Rescatada is located approximately 800km south-east of the city of Lima in the Department of Puno, Peru. High sulphidation epithermal style gold and silver mineralisation was first discovered by AngloGold Ashanti at La Rescatada in August 2000. Intensive drilling was carried out in the district and the company subsequently concluded that La Rescatada did not meet its criteria for further investment. Oxide resources are estimated to contain approximately 500 000 ounces of gold with upside potential. The project was put out to tender in late 2004 and following a formal adjudication process, the Aruntani bid succeeded. Commenting on the transaction, Roberto Carvalho Silva, Chief Operating Officer International for AngloGold Ashanti, said: “Despite its relative size, La Rescatada is a good project and Aruntani is well positioned to take it to production.”
