TELEFONICA CHILE REPORTS MORE THAN 156,000 PAY TV CLIENTS AND LAUNCHES IPTV

Santiago, Chile June 15, 2007

- Compania de Telecomunicaciones de Chile S.A. (NYSE: CTC) (Telefonica Chile or the Company) announces the launch of its IPTV service on June 14, 2007 and reports that, as of May 31, 2007, it had more than 150,000 satellite TV clients.

Satellite TV

Telefonica Chile has just celebrated the one-year anniversary of its pay TV operations, and as of May 31, 2007, the Company had 156,547 clients, growing 66% with respect to December 2006. In only 12 months of operations, the Company has achieved 14% market share in this business.

The Company has added TV clients throughout the country. Of these, 25% reside in the Northern Zone, 58% in the Metropolitan Zone, and 17% in the Southern Zone.

Telefonica Chile's entry into the television industry generated a surge of activity in the market as a whole, and as a result, in 2006 the pay TV market grew 17%, almost six times the average annual growth rate for 2001-2005. In addition, market penetration increased to 26% as of May 31, 2007, as compared to 22% as of December 31, 2005.

In order to obtain such growth, the Company implemented a strategy based on the bundling of pay TV with voice and broadband services, through its "Duo" and "Trio" plans, and the creation of a flexible content offering, allowing clients to customize these plans. Bundling and flexibility are part of the Company's commercial innovation strategy, and these diverse plans allow clients to select content based on what their interests are and how much they want to pay.

IPTV Launch

Telefonica Chile hopes to continue to surprise the market in the coming months, with the beginning of its television over broadband (IPTV) service, launched on June 14, 2007. Telefonica Chile is the first company in Latin America to use IP technology to provide television services.

The Company will deploy this new project gradually, and initially it will be provided to a limited number of clients. The service will be offered in specific sectors of Santiago, where Telefonica Chile's network has the necessary technological infrastructure.

IPTV will complement the Company's flexible digital TV offering. The service will include interactive features, such as VOD (video on demand), allowing clients to enjoy an extensive range of movies, television series and audiovisual material through a virtual library that will initially contain more than 200 hours of content and will be expanded and updated regularly.

Furthermore, the IPTV service will deliver a high-quality, 100% digital image with next-generation video compression standards (MPEG4). The high commercial demand associated with IPTV will be handled by a new, exclusive customer service platform, to ensure client satisfaction.

Compania de Telecomunicaciones de Chile S.A., the first South American company to list shares on the New York Stock Exchange, is a leading telecommunications enterprise in Chile, providing local telephony, broadband and pay TV services, as well as domestic and international long distance services throughout the country. Additionally, the Company provides equipment marketing, data transmission, and value-added services for its corporate communications clients.
