Credit Agreement

Table of Contents

Item 2.03. Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation.

On October 31, 2005, Johnson Controls, Inc. (the Company) entered into a Credit Agreement, dated as of such day, among the Company, certain wholly owned subsidiaries of the Company, the financial institutions party thereto and Citibank, N.A., as administrative agent for the lenders (the Credit Agreement). The Company intends to use the revolving credit facility to provide a liquidity backstop for commercial paper that the Company may issue to fund its pending acquisition of York International, Inc. The facility is available for general corporate purposes.

The Credit Agreement provides for a revolving credit facility that matures on the earlier of (i) 364 days after the effective date of the Credit Agreement and (ii) December 28, 2006. The initial maximum aggregate amount of availability under the revolving credit facility is $2.8 billion, of which the entire amount is currently undrawn and will be available at the Company's election.

The aggregate commitments of the lenders under the Credit Agreement will be reduced automatically in the event that the Company or any of its subsidiaries at any time, or from time to time, after the date of the Credit Agreement receives any net cash proceeds of any issuance by the Company or any of its subsidiaries of long-term debt securities in a capital markets transaction. The reduction will be in an amount equal to the largest multiple of $5,000,000 that does not exceed the amount of such net cash proceeds.

The Company may borrow, repay and reborrow amounts under the Credit Agreement from time to time until the maturity of the revolving credit facility. Voluntary prepayments and commitment reductions under the Credit Agreement are permitted at any time without fee upon proper notice.

The Company will guarantee the obligations of certain of its wholly owned subsidiaries under the Credit Agreement to the extent such subsidiaries borrow directly under the Credit Agreement. All borrowings under the Credit Agreement are unsecured.

The facility fee and the interest rate margin for outstanding amounts fluctuate based upon the Company's long-term credit rating in effect from time to time, and the Company believes they reflect market rates.

The Credit Agreement contains various restrictions and covenants applicable to the Company and certain of its subsidiaries. The Credit Agreement does not contain a restriction specifically limiting the Company's ability to pay dividends on its common stock. The Credit Agreement also contains customary events of default. If an event of default under the Credit Agreement occurs and is continuing, then the lenders may declare any outstanding obligations under the Credit Agreement to be immediately due and payable.

The description of the Credit Agreement set forth above is qualified by reference to the Credit Agreement filed herewith as Exhibit 4.1 and incorporated herein by reference.
