INTRODUCTION

This section describes the purpose of this Proxy Statement, who can vote, and how to vote.

PURPOSE. The Board of Directors of Brown-Forman Corporation is sending you this Proxy Statement to solicit proxies for use at the Annual Stockholders Meeting, which will be held Thursday, July 24, 2003, at 9:30 A.M. Louisville (Eastern Daylight) time at our corporate offices, 850 Dixie Highway, Louisville, Kentucky. The Board requests you to sign and return the enclosed Proxy Card.

Beginning on June 30, 2003, we will solicit proxies by mail. In addition, our employees may solicit proxies by mail, phone, fax, the Internet or in person. We will pay all solicitation costs. We will reimburse banks, brokers, nominees, and other fiduciaries for their reasonable charges and expenses incurred in forwarding our proxy materials to their principals.

VOTING STOCK. We have two classes of common stock, Class A and Class B. Only holders of Class A Common Stock may vote. As of the close of the record date, June 16, 2003, we had outstanding 28,420,535 shares of Class A Common Stock.

VOTING RIGHTS. If you were a Class A stockholder on June 16, 2003, and the books of our transfer agent reflect your stock ownership, you may cast one vote for each share recorded in your name. You may vote your shares either in person or by proxy. To vote by proxy, please mark, date, sign, and mail the Proxy Card enclosed with this Proxy Statement.

Giving a proxy will not affect your right to vote your shares if you attend the meeting and want to vote in person. You may revoke a proxy at any time before it is voted by sending our Secretary written notice of your revocation. We will vote all shares represented by effective proxies in accordance with the terms stated in the proxy.

A quorum to conduct business at the meeting consists of a majority of the outstanding Class A shares. To be elected, a director must receive a majority of the votes present at a meeting at which there is a quorum. Likewise, a majority of the shares represented at the meeting must approve any other matters brought to a vote at the meeting. We will count shares voted as abstaining as present for purposes of determining the number of shares represented at the meeting, but as votes withheld in the election of a director or on any other matter coming before the meeting. If a broker holding your shares in a street name indicates to us on a Proxy Card that he or she lacks discretionary authority to vote your shares, we will not consider your shares as present or voting for any purpose.

At the Annual Meeting, you and our other shareholders will elect eleven directors. All of our directors are standing for re-election. The persons named as proxies will vote the enclosed proxy FOR the election of all nominees below, unless you direct them on the Proxy Card to withhold your vote as to all or some of the nominees. If any nominee becomes unable to serve before the meeting, the persons named as proxies may vote for a substitute.

Table of Contents

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

This section describes our corporate governance practices in light of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 and the Corporate Governance Rules of the New York Stock Exchange.

THE CHANGING ENVIRONMENT OF CORPORATE GOVERNANCE.

Last year saw unfortunate and highly publicized failures of corporate governance and accounting oversight at several major companies. Both Congress and the New York Stock Exchange adopted new rules designed to prevent such failures in the future.

Corporate governance is extremely important at Brown-Forman. This company is controlled by the Brown family, and four generations of the family have helped manage it. We believe our employees have great pride in the company which is an extra incentive to avoid the kind of corporate corruption that has been in the headlines because they do not want to tarnish the company's name. We believe we have a Board of Directors and a management team committed to high ethical standards and full and accurate financial reporting. We have developed and use an effective quarterly financial review process so that our CEO and CFO can certify our financial reports with confidence. We believe that we have an effective corporate compliance program. Still, we continue to review and revise our practices to address both the changing regulatory scheme and to adopt what we believe are best practices. To that end, in some instances we are voluntarily complying with rules that technically are not yet effective.

WHAT ARE THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF OUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS?

Our Board of Directors is responsible for approving the strategic direction of our business as recommended by our CEO and management team. The Board regularly reviews our financial results, the strategic direction of our various business units and authorizes acquisitions and major capital investments. In the past year, the Board has spent considerable time reviewing plans for succession of our senior management. Through the Compensation Committee, the Board's independent directors review and approve compensation for senior management. The Board Audit Committee, which is also composed of independent directors, retains the independent auditor, reviews quarterly financial results and oversees our internal audit function and compliance program.

The Board plans to conduct a self-evaluation of its performance during the coming year and also to institute meetings of non-management directors. The Board has the power to hire independent advisors, including attorneys and accountants, as it deems appropriate.

Table of Contents

MEETINGS OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS AND THE AUDIT AND COMPENSATION COMMITTEES.

The Board met six times during fiscal 2003. Each director attended all meetings with one exception, where one director was unable to attend one meeting. All Audit and Compensation Committee members attended all of their respective Committee meetings.

CHANGES IN OUR BOARD IN FISCAL 2003.

In November 2002, Ina Brown Bond and Matthew R. Simmons were named to the Board of Directors. Jerry E. Abramson, a director since 1999, resigned in December 2002 after being elected the Mayor of Louisville.

WE ARE A FAMILY CONTROLLED COMPANY.

The Brown family (the descendants of George Garvin Brown, our founder) owns approximately 74% of our Class A voting stock and thus controls the company. Being a controlled company puts us in a different class than most New York Stock Exchange (the Exchange) listed companies. For instance, the Exchange now requires that companies listed on it have a majority of independent directors on their boards of directors. There is also a requirement for companies to have a nominating committee composed exclusively of independent directors. These rules would make no sense for Brown-Forman, as they would have the effect of disenfranchising the family that controls the company. The Exchange has recognized this distinction and has created a category for controlled companies, where the requirements for a majority of independent directors, a nominating committee and certain other requirements are eliminated. The Board has determined that Brown-Forman meets this controlled company definition. Four out of our eleven directors qualify as independent. We have no nominating committee.

Brown-Forman is still required to have only independent directors (non-employees with no business or family connection) on its Audit and Compensation Committees, and we meet those requirements.

MANDATORY RETIREMENT FOR OUR DIRECTORS.

Our By-laws provide that directors can serve on the Board through their 70th year. The Board has the discretion, however, to extend the service of a director through his or her 72nd year, if it finds that such service would be of significant benefit to Brown-Forman. The Board must make this decision without the participation of the director involved and upon approval of two-thirds of the remaining Board members.

OTHER BOARD OBLIGATIONS.

We disclose elsewhere in this Proxy Statement the other boards on which our directors serve. Two of the three members of our Audit Committee serve on the audit committees of other companies. The Board has found that their service on other audit committees does not impair their ability to serve on our Audit Committee. Should a situation arise where such board or committee service affects the ability of a director to serve Brown-Forman, the Board will review the situation.

Table of Contents

OUR STOCK OPTION PLANS.

We maintain an Omnibus Compensation Plan for our employees and a Non-Employee Director Compensation Plan for our non-employee directors. Both of these plans provide for stock option awards that are disclosed each year in the Proxy Statement. One element of the recent corporate scandals has been the repricing of options to allow executives to benefit even as the stock price has fallen. We have never repriced options. Another element of the corporate governance debate has been the accounting disclosure of the effect of options and whether they should be expensed when granted. We do not currently expense our options, although we are watching to see if this becomes the norm for most reporting companies.

HOW CAN YOU COMMUNICATE WITH OUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS?

If you wish to contact any of our Directors, you may write to him or her in care of our Corporate Secretary, Michael B. Crutcher, at 850 Dixie Highway, Louisville, Kentucky 40210, or by e-mail at Michael_Crutcher@B-F.com. If you wish to contact the chairperson of any of the Committees of our Board of Directors, you may write to that chairperson in care of Mr. Crutcher.

Table of ContentsSTOCK OWNERSHIP

This section describes (a) people who own beneficially 5% or more of our voting stock and (b) how much stock our directors and executive officers own. Under the SEC's definition of beneficial ownership, some shares are shown as owned by more than one person and are therefore counted more than once.

VOTING STOCK OWNED BY BENEFICIAL OWNERS. This table shows each beneficial owner of more than 5% of our Class A Common Stock, our only class of voting stock, as of April 30, 2003. The Securities and Exchange Commission defines beneficial ownership to include shares over which a person has sole or shared voting or investment power, as well as all shares underlying options that are exercisable within sixty days. Under this definition, beneficial owners may or may not receive any economic benefit (such as receiving either dividends or sale proceeds) from the shares attributed to them. Using this definition, some shares shown below are owned by more than one person. Some beneficial owners share voting and investment powers as members of advisory committees of certain trusts of which corporate fiduciaries are the trustees. Counting each share only once, the aggregate number of shares of Class A Common Stock beneficially owned by the people in this table is 20,927,987 shares, or 73.6% of the outstanding shares of that class.

SECTION 16(a) BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP REPORTING COMPLIANCE. Executive officers, directors, and beneficial owners of more than 10% of our Class A Common Stock must file reports of changes in ownership of our stock pursuant to Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. We have reviewed the reports and written representations we received from these persons. Based solely on that review, we believe that during fiscal 2003 these persons reported all transactions on a timely basis, except as follows: the spouse of director and 10% beneficial owner Ina Brown Bond purchased 568 shares of Class B common stock at a per share price of $69.7952 on October 4, 2002, and no Form 4 was filed on this transaction until November 25, 2002; director Matthew R. Simmons purchased 900 shares of Class A common stock at a per share price of $76.60 on March 28, 2003, and no Form 4 was filed on this transaction until April 2, 2003.

AUDIT COMMITTEE

This section is a report from the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors. It explains the role of the Audit Committee and sets forth the fees paid to our independent auditor.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

Composition. The Audit Committee consists of three independent directors. The Board has determined that each Committee member meets the Securities and Exchange Commission's standard and the current and proposed New York Stock Exchange (the Exchange) standards to be considered an independent director. The Board has also determined that each member is financially literate and has financial management expertise as those terms are defined by the Exchange. Two of our Audit Committee members also sit on the audit committees of other companies. Our Board has determined that their service on other audit committees does not impair their ability to sit on our Audit Committee.

Function. The Committee has a Charter, which was amended by the Board on March 27, 2003. The Charter describes what the Committee does and meets the standards of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the rules as currently proposed by the Exchange. Under the amended Charter, the Committee retained PricewaterhouseCoopers (the independent auditor) to perform the audit. The independent auditor now reports directly to the Committee. The Audit Committee also has authority to retain independent legal, accounting or other advisors at our expense. You can find a copy of the Audit Committee Charter attached to this proxy statement as Attachment A.

As described more fully in its Charter, the Committee monitors and oversees the financial reporting process, the system of internal controls, the audit process, and the Company's program for legal and regulatory compliance. To place the Committee's role in perspective, management is responsible for the Company's internal controls, the financial reporting process, and the Company's compliance. The independent auditor is responsible for performing an audit of the Company's financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and issuing a report on its audit. The Committee reviews the work of management and the independent auditor on behalf of the Board of Directors.

The Committee also considers reports from the Company's internal audit department, which investigates the adequacy of internal financial controls. The Committee reviews reports from the Company's legal department on compliance with the Company's internal Code of Conduct and with laws and regulations.

The Committee met five times during the year, during which the committee members had discussions with management and on three occasions with the independent auditors. Management has represented to the Committee that the Company's consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Committee discussed those statements with management and the independent auditors, including discussions with the independent auditors in executive session with representatives of management excluded.

The Committee discussed with the independent auditors matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61 (Communication with Audit Committees) and No. 90 (Audit Committee Communications). The independent auditors gave to the Committee the written disclosures required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees). The Committee discussed with the independent auditors their independence and ability to conduct the audit. The Audit Committee has determined that the provision of the non-audit services described below is compatible with maintaining auditor independence.

Senior Financial Officer Code of Conduct. Our Board has adopted a Code of Ethics for Senior Financial Officers, a copy of which is available without charge upon request (please see the "Whom May I Call" information at page 2 in the Questions and Answers section).

FEES PAID TO INDEPENDENT AUDITOR

provided by PricewaterhouseCoopers. The non-audit services approved by the Audit Committee were also reviewed to ensure compatibility with maintaining the auditor's independence.

Effective January 2003, the Audit Committee implemented pre-approval policies and procedures related to the provision of both audit and non-audit services. Under these procedures, the Audit Committee pre-approves both the type of service to be provided by PricewaterhouseCoopers and their estimated fees. In addition, the Committee must pre-approve PricewaterhouseCoopers rendering personal financial and tax advice to any of the Company's Designated Executive Officers. During the approval process, the Audit Committee considers the impact of the types of services on the independence of the auditor. The services and fees must be deemed compatible with the maintenance of the auditor's independence, including compliance with SEC rules and regulations. Throughout the year, the Audit Committee will review any revisions to the estimates of audit and non-audit fees initially approved.

Conclusion. Based on the foregoing, we recommended to the Board of Directors that the Company's audited financial statements be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ending April 30, 2003.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

This section is a report from the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors. The report explains our compensation philosophy, how compensation decisions are made for our most senior executives, and how we comply with Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code (which governs our ability to deduct the compensation of our most highly paid officers).

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT

Function and Philosophy. The Compensation Committee consists of three non-employee directors, each of whom qualifies as an independent director under the standards of the New York Stock Exchange. The Committee sets the overall direction for the Company's pay programs for all salaried employees: first, to offer sufficient compensation to attract, motivate, and retain high-quality talent; and second, to tie bonus achievement to the Company's successful financial performance. The Committee sets compensation at levels that are somewhat above the mid-market level for companies our size to attract and retain the type of executives who will provide the strong leadership our Company needs for success.

The Compensation Committee, in cooperation with the Management Compensation Review Committee, applies this philosophy to the Company's nine senior executives, who are referred to as Executive Officers. The Executive Officer group is divided into two subgroups:

the Chairman/CEO, Owsley Brown II, and President William M. Street, and seven other Executive Officers.

The Compensation Committee sets the salaries and sets and administers short term and long term bonus for Mr. Brown and Mr. Street. For the seven other Executive Officers for whom responsibilities are shared between the Compensation Committee and the Management Compensation Review Committee, the Compensation Committee acts as the final authority to set and administer the short term and long term bonus.

The Committee met twice in fiscal 2003 for these purposes.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Street. The Committee sets salary and bonus targets based in part on what the market is paying top executives at surveyed companies. The Committee reviews survey data compiled by Hay Management Consultants, Hewitt Associates, and Towers Perrin. These surveys include salary and bonus data from such companies as H. J. Heinz, Hershey Foods Corporation, Fortune Brands, and Wm. Wrigley Corporation.

Table of Contents

The compensation mix of Mr. Brown and Mr. Street consists of salary (31%), annual bonus (24%), and long term compensation (45%). In considering this mix, the Committee takes into account the considerable personal holdings of Brown-Forman stock by Mr. Brown and Mr. Street. Salaries are set with respect to the market data. The Committee develops performance targets for annual and long term bonuses based on Business Value Added (BVA), which is the Company's after-tax income in excess of our estimate of the Company's cost of capital. Long term compensation consists of cash, which is paid based upon reaching BVA goals over three years, and stock options, which vest after three years and are exercisable within ten years. These stock options are issued in modest numbers, by the standards we see in listed companies, under a plan that was approved by shareholders and requires stock option exercises to be satisfied through open market purchases.

Other Executive Officers. The Committee set the short and long term bonuses as well as bonus performance targets for the Company's seven other Executive Officers for fiscal 2003, in each case after reviewing the salary and bonus recommendations of the Management Compensation Review Committee based on survey data appropriate to these positions.

Compliance with Tax Law Limits on Deductibility of Compensation. Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code limits to $1 million the amount of annual compensation an employer may deduct when paid to a Named Executive Officer (those Executive Officers shown on the Summary Compensation Table). The law does, however, allow employers to deduct compensation over $1 million if it is performance based and paid under a formal compensation plan that meets the Code's requirements. The Company took appropriate steps in setting goals under the Company's Omnibus Compensation Plan to assure the deductibility of all compensation paid to Named Executive Officers. The Committee expects the Company to be able to deduct all fiscal 2003 compensation.

Charter. The Board of Directors has adopted a Compensation Committee Charter, a copy of which is attached to the Proxy Statement as Attachment B. The Charter requires, among other things, that each Committee member be completely independent of management, that the Committee is empowered to hire its own advisors, and that the Committee will conduct an annual evaluation of its own performance.

Conclusion. The Committee believes that its overall executive compensation program has been successful in providing competitive compensation to attract and retain highly qualified executives, while at the same time encouraging a high level of performance which creates additional shareholder value.

Explanatory Notes:

We award up to 50% of long term bonus compensation as stock options, with the balance in cash to be paid at the end of each three-year performance period (it will then appear on this table as a long term compensation payout). Stock option values can increase or decrease; the present values (as of the grant date) of the stock option awards in the Long Term Compensation Awards column appear in the table on page 17.

- (1) Represents cash payments under the annual incentive plan.
- (2) Our annual bonus plans reward growth over the prior year. In fiscal 2002, there was no growth at the corporate level; therefore, neither Mr. Brown nor Mr. Street received an annual bonus for their corporate roles. However, because Mr. Street devoted at least half of his time to his position as CEO of the beverage segment, he received a portion of his bonus for the growth of that unit during a difficult fiscal 2002.
- (3) Represents cash payments under the long term incentive plan and value realized by exercise of stock options.
- (4) Represents our contributions to the Savings Plan, our payment of group term life insurance premiums on behalf of the Named Executive Officers, and moving expenses for Ms. Wood in fiscal 2002.

Table of ContentsOPTION GRANTS UNDER THE OMNIBUS COMPENSATION PLAN.

The Omnibus Compensation Plan covers both short term and long term bonuses. Stock options awarded in fiscal 2003 under this plan are described below.

We grant options with an exercise price of the fair market value of the underlying stock on the date of grant. Generally, options become exercisable three years after grant and must be exercised within ten years of grant. This year, we granted options for approximately 370,000 shares of our stock for long term bonus awards to management participants. As required by the Omnibus Compensation Plan, we will buy all shares needed to exercise these options. The table below summarizes the grants to the Named Executive Officers.

Name	Number of shares of	Percent of total options granted to employees in fiscal year	Per share exercise price	Expiration date	Present Value as of grant date*
	Class B Common Stock underlying options granted
Brown	39,636	11%	64.22	April 30, 2012	631,000
Street	15,914	4%	64.22	April 30, 2012	253,350
Wood	11,006	3%	64.22	April 30, 2012	175,200
Krangel	5,604	2%	64.22	April 30, 2012	89,200
Crutcher	4,914	1%	64.22	April 30, 2012	78,220

* We used the Black-Scholes option pricing model to determine present value. We assumed a risk-free interest rate of 4.9% and option life of six years (to allow for voluntary early exercises and exercises that may accelerate as a result of disability, termination, retirement, or death), stock price volatility of 25%, and a yield of 2.2%.

AGGREGATED OPTION VALUES AT END OF FISCAL 2003.

The following table summarizes all option grants that have been made to the Named Executive Officers through and including fiscal 2003.

Name	Number of shares acquired in fiscal 2003 by option exercise	Value realized in fiscal 2003 by option exercise	Number of shares underlying unexercised options		Value of unexercised options at end of fiscal year*
			Exercisable May 1, 2002	Unexercisable	Exercisable May 1, 2003	Unexercisable
Brown	0	0	149,660	71,199	$ 3,780,192	$ 744,985

Crutcher	0	0	16,156	9,076	350,171	92,248

* This value is the total difference between the outstanding options exercise price and $76.54, the closing price of our Class B Common Stock on April 30, 2003.

Table of ContentsRETIREMENT PLAN DESCRIPTIONS

This section describes retirement and savings plans for our executives.

Our executives participate in several different retirement and savings plans:

(1) Retirement Plans: We maintain both tax-qualified retirement plans and non-qualified supplemental excess retirement plans. Most salaried employees participate in the Salaried Employees Retirement Plan. This plan provides monthly retirement benefits based on age at retirement, years of service and the average of the five highest consecutive years' compensation during the final ten years of employment. Retirement benefits are not offset by Social Security benefits and are normally payable at age 65. A participant's interest in plan benefits vests after five years of service. The following table shows the estimated annual benefits (straight life annuity) payable upon retirement at normal retirement age to participants at specified levels of compensation and years of service:

Average Annual Highest 5 Consecutive Years' Compensation During Final 10 Years	Years of Service Classification
	10 Years	20 Years	30 Years
$ 400,000	$ 68,021	$ 136,043	$ 204,064
$ 800,000	$ 138,021	$ 276,043	$ 414,064
$ 1,200,000	$ 208,021	$ 416,043	$ 624,064
$ 1,600,000	$ 278,021	$ 556,043	$ 834,064
$ 2,000,000	$ 348,021	$ 696,043	$ 1,044,064

For example, an executive retiring at age 65 with 10 years of service whose average annual compensation for the five highest of the executive's ten years of service was $400,000, would receive an estimated $68,021 annually for the remainder of the executive's life.

Federal tax law limits the benefits that we might otherwise pay to key employees under qualified plans such as the Salaried Employees Retirement Plan. Therefore, for certain key employees, we also maintain a non-qualified Supplemental Excess Retirement Plan (SERP). The SERP provides retirement benefits to make up the difference between a participant's accrued benefit calculated under the Salaried Employees Retirement Plan and the ceiling imposed by federal tax law. SERP participants may choose to get a discounted current cash payment instead of a SERP retirement benefit. The SERP also provides supplemental retirement benefits for certain key employees who join us in mid-career, subject to special vesting requirements.

For the Named Executive Officers, covered compensation for fiscal 2003 for these plans and service credited as of April 30, 2003, were as follows: Owsley Brown II, $904,600 and 30 years; William M. Street, $876,413 and 30 years; Phoebe A. Wood, $623,793 and 2 years; Stanley A. Krangel, $427,500 and 7 years; and Michael B. Crutcher, $513,566 and 14 years.

(2) Savings Plan: Subject to a maximum the IRS sets annually ($12,000 for calendar 2003), most participants in our Savings Plan may contribute between 1% and 50% of their compensation to their Savings Plan accounts. Our match of participants' contributions is currently 5% (on the first 5% of the employee's contribution), and vests fully after four years of service.

DIRECTOR COMPENSATION

This section describes how we compensate our directors.

Directors who are not employees are paid an annual retainer of $25,000, payable in six installments over the year. A director may elect to receive the retainer, or part of it, in stock options of equivalent value in lieu of cash. Under the Non-Employee Director Compensation Plan, each non-employee director receives options for $25,000 worth of Class B Common Stock.¹ For fiscal 2003, each non-employee director received options on 1,571 shares with a per share exercise price of $64.22.

In addition to the retainer, non-employee directors receive a meeting fee of $3,500 per Board meeting attended in person (or $2,000 if attended by conference telephone call.) A committee member receives $3,000 per committee meeting attended in person (or $2,000 if attended by conference telephone call). A committee chairman receives an additional fee of $1,500 for chairing the committee meeting.

On behalf of the Audit Committee, its Chairman conducts a quarterly review of the company's financial statements with the independent auditor. For each review he receives a $1,500 fee.

We reimburse all directors for reasonable and necessary expenses they incur in performing their duties as directors, and provide an additional travel allowance to directors who must travel to Board meetings from outside the United States.

We do not pay our two employee directors (Mr. Brown and Mr. Street) any additional compensation for serving on our Board or any of its committees.

FIVE-YEAR PERFORMANCE GRAPH

This chart shows how Brown-Forman Class B Common Stock has performed against three stock indexes over the last five years.

This graph compares the cumulative total stockholder return on our Class B Common Stock against three indexes which include that stock: the Standard & Poor's 500 Stock Index, the Dow Jones Consumer Non-Cyclical Index (110 companies) and the Dow Jones Food and Beverage Makers Index (38 companies). As a diversified producer of both beverage alcohol products and consumer durables including china, crystal, luggage, and silverware, our business does not fit easily into specific industry indexes. We included the Dow Jones Consumer Non-Cyclical Index as a diversified index, even though portions of our business are cyclical. The Dow Jones Food and Beverage Index provides you with the opportunity to compare our performance against the performance of other producers of consumer branded products (e.g., Campbell Soup, Hershey Foods Corp., PepsiCo). Overall, we believe it is best to compare the cumulative total stockholder return on our Class B Common Stock not to a single index, but rather to trends shown by a review of several indexes.

These numbers assume that $100 was invested in our Class B stock and in a hypothetical stock fund consisting of all the shares in the comparative index on April 30, 1998. It also assumes that, for such investments, all quarterly dividends were reinvested at the average of the closing stock prices at the beginning and end of the quarter. The cumulative returns shown on the graph represent the value that these investments would have had on April 30 in the years since 1998.

On an annual basis, the Committee reviews and approves goals and objectives relevant to the compensation of the Company's Designated Executive Officers (other than the Chief Executive Officer), evaluating those officers' performance in light of those goals and objectives, and determining such officers' compensation based on this evaluation.

The Committee reviews and reports to the Board for its consideration any cash or equity incentive compensation plans applicable to the Company's executives.

The Committee receives and reviews recommendations from the Management Compensation Review Committee for director compensation, and then submits those recommendations to the Board for approval.
